WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

By G. E. GROOMBRIDGE

PAPER COLLECTION

There will be a paper collection within the next three weeks, definite date not known, but it will give you all a better chance to clean up those wrappings off your Christmas parcels. Every member of the scout movement wished to thank you for your kindness and patience and assure you that this time it will be a sure thing.

RETURNED HOME

Called at St. Joseph's last week to visit our friend Ken Jakins, Skipper of Lakefield Sea Scouts only to learn that he had sailed for home. Trust that you are feeling better Ken.

ST. JOHN'S

Another member was accepted in the Scout Jungle last week as Ken Murduff made his promise to Akela before the council rock to do his best in his duty to God and the Queen, in keeping the laws of the jungle. Skipper G. held the interest of the boys in a rousing story also led in the sing-song. The Green Six came through to take the lead in the intersix competition and will be awarded the honor pennant at the coming Christmas party. The party will start at 6 o'clock with the boys meeting in the upper hall. David Irwin and Jerry Sedgwick passed knots; Bill Davidson, highway code; Tommy Lewis and Henry Langley, skipping; George Boucher, fire lighting; David Irwin and George Boucher, message; Ken Collins, George Boucher, compass; Bob Cumpsty, somersault; Leslie Crump, signalling. The following boys were presented with their first stars: Ken Collins, Bob Wagster, Bill Davidson, Don Sherk.

REGISTRATION

Only five groups have completed their registration today. This delay is dangerous. To protect your Cubs, Scouts and Rovers you must register at once or risk losing out on our insurance, badges and other benefits.

ST. LUKE'S

Ron Worboy led the opening Grand Howl at the council rock at which Bob Kent was made welcome as a new chum and presented with his white neckerchief. A game preceded test work on various phases of Cubbing with the Red Flower giving some of the boys the opportunity of demonstrating their talents in skits, the final touch being a story by Bagheera. The results of test work shows Ron James passing in cleanliness and growing things; Bob Macdonald, first aid; Jim Wyatt, highway code, compass; Neil Roberts, cleaning boots; Jack Steen, growing things and cleanliness; Randy Bradshaw, growing things; Arthur McNabb, law and promise; Don Morrison, homecraft; Doug Pammett, time, and the final being the presentation to Ray Baptie with the Guide Badge.

SACRED HEART

The Troop witnessed a Going Up Ceremony in which three members of the pack left the Jungle Trail and accompanied by Akela travelled to the Scout Trail where they were met by and introduced to Scouter Austin Morris who escorted them to the Troop and introduced them to their new friends and companions, of the road ahead. These lads were Michael Collins, Bobby Tevins and Paul Clancy. Patrol instruction was followed by a rooster fight with neither patrol giving much ground. The invested Scouts were under Scouter Morris assisted by Skipper G. studied some of the 2nd class work whilst the other boys were under the direction of the ASM and Akela Hatton. Another game of fox and hounds preceded the camp fire program. On Thursday the group will hold a Christmas party.

ALL SAINTS'

This week the Wolf Patrol won the honor pennant as the leading patrol for points in the patrol competition in a meeting where progress was recorded in the passing of tests. However last Saturday the troop enjoyed a grand hike to help get the Out in Scouting.

MARK ST.

Terry Bell and Kirk Van Allen were invested into the World Brotherhood of Scouting as they became full fledged Cubs at the council rock.

Special Cub sweater crests were presented to Sixers Arnold Allan, Don Munro and Ken Pomeroy for various accomplishments in Cubbing progress. The games for the evening were under Jim Reid and Bruce Cullen of the Red Six. Lee Brown and Ron Humphries completed tests for their first star. Proficiency badges were presented to Ken Pomeroy and Don Munro the first named receiving his teamplayers badge and Don his collectors badge.

KIBBLEWHITE ROVER SCOUTS

Last Saturday evening the Crew held its annual meeting and banquet in their Rover Den in Jackson's Park, 23 members and guests in attendance. Our guests were Canon Walter Gilling of St. Luke's Church; the Rev. Maurice Poole of All Saints' Church and our Group Chaplain, District Commissioner Dr. Gordon R. Langley, Assistant District Commissioner Earle Westman, Mr. Max Wilson, vice chairman of All Saints' group committee, Patrol Leader Jack Morton, All Saints' Scouts Court of Honor, Akela oTm Payton, Lakefield Sea Scout Group, Scouter L. Peter Dominik, Official Member Ontario Rover Round Table, and Skipper G. Groombridge; also Rover Citizens Gerry Hatton, Jack White, George Brook, Wally Booth, Harry Wooden.

Mr. Poole opened the evening with a prayer of thanksgiving and grace. The guest speaker for the evening was Canon Gilling who gave us a talk entitled "Aim High." Canon Gilling pointed out that these words are found in the first part of B.P.'s book "Rovering to Success." In his challenge to Scouting as a whole and to our crew Canon Gilling urged that we get away from being mediocre, and aim to be first class in all things, that Rovers can do a lot to help Canada from becoming a mediocre nation by achieving a higher quality of workmanship and citizenship by aiming high ourselves and helping others along the path.

Dr. G. R. Langley was made an honorary member of the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite Rover Scout Crew, an honor which is not easily gained. Peter Dominik offered the Crew a combination radio and phonograph player, something the Crew can really use. Thank you Peter for this wonderful donation toward refurnishing our den.

Retiring Rover Mate Gerry Hatton, chairman of the evening then turned the program over to Skipper Art Rose who conducted the installation of officers as follows, Rover Mate, Dave Hatton; assistant Rover Mate and treasurer, Kelvin Johnson; quartermaster and librarian, Ken White; keeper of the door, Len Foskett; historian and log keeper, Ron Hatton; scribe, Darrell Lipsett; social convener, Rolly Brier.

Camera operator Squire Lipsett then showed two films, Three Bears Go Camping and the Call of the Kawarthas.

One point of interest was recorded at this meeting. It was just 16 years to the day when our Skipper was invested into Rovering in the old Central Crew and the then Skipper Dr. G. R. Langley and George Brook, who was also present was the one who presented Skipper for this ceremony.

Sunday afternoon and evening found several of the boys enjoying the hut as of old and until after Christmas we intend to relax but in the New Year we will settle down to a real year of Rovering.

All the gang is reminded of Saturday evening, December 20. The Crew would like to see all its members, including citizen Rovers, out on that night complete with wives and girl friends to accept the invitation to the home of Rover Citizen George Brook in an evening of old fashioned carol and song singing.

Drummond's Poetry Topic At WI Meeting

ROSENEATH (ENS). — Poems of William Henry Drummond were the subject of the address presented by the Rev. J. R. Wheeler, pastor of Roseneath United Church, as guest speaker at the Christmas meeting of Roseneath Women's Institute. He concluded his addrdess by reciting one of the author's poems, "Napoleon Going to Court His Girl." The speaker was introduced and thanked by Mrs. Fred Murphy.

The meeting was held in the township hall with Mrs. Frank Adams as hostess. The first vice-president, Mrs. Fred Murphy, presided, with Mrs. Edgar Carew as pianist. A welcome was extended to the president, Mrs. Harold Taylor, who has spent the past two months in England. In replying to the ovation given her, Mrs. Taylor told of the rationing in England of meat, eggs and butter and of the heavy tax rate there. Speaking of her trip, she praised the work of the Salvation Army in assisting the newcomers to Canada.

The secretay-treasurer, Mrs. Bart Thackeray reported a balance on hand of $108. Mrs. Alfred Pringle, good cheer convener, reported 23 persons remembered during the month.

The business part of the meeting was as follows:

A large parcel of used clothing had been donated by the members and sent to the Salvation Army in Cobourg On motion, it was decided we send $10.00 to the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto. It was decided to pack Christmas boxes for the ill, the aged, and the shut-ins of the community on December 20 at the home of Mrs. Bart Thackeray.

Mrs. Alfred Pringle, branch convener of community activities, was in charge of the Christmas program. First she displayed scrap books and Christmas boxes to be sent to the Hospital for Sick Children. Following are the program numbers: The Rev. J. N. Lovelace, pastor of Alderville United Church, gave a Christmas message; Christmas carols were sung, a vocal quartette by Misses Nelda Brown, Donna McGrath, Mary Coyle and Nancy Carew, with Miss Betty Carew piano accompanist; Christmas recitations were given by Helen Sandercock, Lucille Robins, Audrey Derry and Larry Robins; Misses Donna Pringle and Shirley Rosebush presented a humorous skit entitled "Safety Pins." Mrs. Ernest Burrison conducted a quiz on Christmas carols, won by Mrs. John Beatty's group.

There was an exchange of Christmas gifts among the members and visitors, numbering upwards of 50 persons.

Failed To Tell Corporal Rail Fare Paid

SUDBURY—Korean war veteran Cpl. Ken McOrmond will get his Military Medal after all—and along with it his fare to Toronto, free hotel accommodation and $10 spending money.

He explained today that the Army had forgotten to inform him that his fare would be paid. Last Friday, when Cpl. McOrmond and his mother Mrs. Annie McOrmond went to the station to buy their rail tickets to attend the Queen's Park investiture, they decided that the return fare for two—44.95—was too much to pay.

"I am just a working man," said 29-year-old Cpl. McOrmond today "and I thought it would mean paying the fare, the hotel bill and taking time off from work as well. Both mother and I were very disappointed, naturally, but we decided it would be better not to go."

Today the veteran heard over the radio that the Army was sorry he had not been informed that his fare and hotel would be paid.

"I would have liked to meet some of the other RCR's who were decorated in Korea because I knew some of them," said Cpl. McOrmond. He added he did not know when or where the next investiture will be. The Army has not officially informed him yet, but he hopes that he will hear soon.

McOrmond, who now works for a chemical concern in Sudbury, won the Military Medal for his bravery on March 19 this year when he continually subjected himself to enemy fire after the sergeant of his section of the patrol was wounded. McOrmond took command and led his men clear of the enemy fire.

Indian Faster Dies, Strikes Follow

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Violent demonstrations and a general strike swept the south Indian city of Vijaywada today following the death Monday night of Potti Sriramulu, a social worker who went on a "fast unto death" for the formation of a separate state.

Looters raided the railroad station.

Sriramulu, who fasted for 58 days, wanted immediate creation of a separate state for the Telugu-speaking areas of Madras state, with Madras as the capital.

Vijaywada is one of the main centres of a 40-year agitation for separation.

In New Delhi about 40 opposition members, including Communists and right-wing Hindu groups, walked out of the federal House of the People when deputy speaker Ananthasayanam Ayyangar ended discussions of a statement by Prime Minister Nehru on Sriramulu's death.

DEEPLY REGRETTED

Nehru said "all of us deeply regret" that the fast undertaken by Sriramulu should have ended in his death, and added that whoever was prepared to inflict suffering on himself for a cause which he had espoused was entitled to respect.

Nehru said the government was prepared to proceed with the constitution of the new state but the city of Madras could not be included in it. He intimated steps may soon be taken by the government.

Telugu is one of the languages of the Dravidian peoples, among the oldest races of India. It now is spread widely throughout eastern central India among about 20,000,000 people.

Patient Races Death For Visit With Wife

SAN FRANCISCO (CP) — A 46-year-old Englishman, bedridden by a disease doctors say is incurable, is on his way home by plane—racing time and death to spend his last Christmas with his wife and three children in Worthing, about 50 miles from London.

Charles Cassidy, a carpenter, left his family a year ago to make a new home in Australia. But then he was stricken and was unable to send for them. After doctors reported he had only a few weeks to live, the St. Vincent de Paul Society of Sydney helped him arrange air transportation home.

Chicken Pie Supper Given Sunday School

BETHANY (ENS)—The senior members of St. Paul's Anglican Sunday School entertained the junior scholars on Friday evening with a chicken pie supper and Christmas party. After the supper hour, games were played. Miss Leora Smith gave a reading "The New Hat". Carols were sung and a very happy time was had by everyone. Santa Claus made his first appearance in the village for this season and with the air of local helpers distributed a gift to every child from the well-laden Christmas tree.

FOR SHOOTING?—NATO commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and Mrs. Ridgway gaze with amazement at an ancient, ornate cannon at the Palazzo Ducale,, in Venice, Italy. The cannon, a Middle Ages ancestor of today's sleek, deadly engines of war, is on display in the castle's museum. General Ridgway visited the palace during a troop-inspection tour of Northern Italy.

Gruesome Story Of Nazi War Experiments

METZ, France (AP) — A gruesome story of wartime Nazi experiments with poison gases and typhus turned loose on human guinea-pigs unfolded here today at the military court trial of six German doctors, four of them being tried in absentia.

All are accused of poisoning prisoners of war by inhuman applications of mustard and carbony, chlordide gas and typhus virus.

The defendants present in the courtroom were Dr. Eugen Haagen 52-year-old former member of the German central committee for the fight against cancer and onetime yellow fever researcher at New York's Rockefeller Institute, and Dr. Otto Bickenbach, 48, former Heidelberg University professor.

The four other defendants have not been located and are presumed in hiding. They are Prof. August Hurt, 52, onetime director of Berlin's Institute of Anatomy; Dr. Helmuth Ruh, 49; Dr. Otto Bong, 48, and Dr. Helmuth Graefe, 38.

The investigation that led to the trial began after the liberation of Strasbourg, in November, 1944, when 17 bodies or parts of bodies were found preserved in a huge vat of formaldehyde at the Institute of Anatomy there.

Waterloo Gives Mayor $500 Pay Boost

WATERLOO (CP) — Waterloo city council was in a give-away mood Monday night.

It increased Mayor Donald Roberts' remuneration from $1,000 to $1,500 annually, retroactive to last Jan. 1, over the mayor's objection.

At the same time, councillors delayed any action on boosting their own pay. At present they get $300 a year. It has been proposed that they receive $10 each a meeting.

Council also authorized a $10 Christmas bonus to all permanent civic employees. Those with fewer than six months' service will get $5 and temporary employees will also receive $5 each.

2,500 Union Members Threaten Stoppage

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que. (CP) Approximately 2,500 union members decided unanimously Monday night to resort to a general work stoppage, if called upon, in protest against provincial police methods in handling the Louiseville strike.

The protest, in the form of a resolution drawn up by the executive of the central council, will be sent to Premier Duplessis. It was adopted by members of unions affiliated with the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor in this district.

The resolution asked for the immediate withdrawal of provincial police from Louiseville, scene of clashes last week between police and striking textile workers, and the immediate intervention of Mr. Duplessis to bring about settlement of the nine-month strike.

Hunted On Preserve

For hunting on the Peterborough crown game preserve, Amos Bennett, R.R. 2 Lakefield, was fined $50 and $2.50 costs today in magistrate's court. He entered a written plea of guilty. His gun was also confiscated.

Extend Scope Of Workmen's Compensation

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario industries employing one or more persons will be eligible for Workmen's Compensation Board benefits after Jan. 1, 1953, chairman E. E. Sparrow said today.

The benefits — unlimited medical, rehabilitation and compensation aids for accidents suffered at work — will be available to such groups as bushworkers, prospectors, window cleaners and blacksmiths. Farmers will not be covered automatically but may apply for coverage. Domestic servants will not be covered.

Mr. Sparrow said several thousand more workmen will be eligible for protection than in the past. Benefits were previously available only to industries employing at least four or six persons. In these, 1,250,000 persons were eligible for aid.

Mr. Sparrow said employers may also be covered at a stated salary between $1,200 and $4,000 a year.

The board, a non-profit organization, provides benefits at cost. An injured workman may appeal the board's award. He cannot bring suit against his employer.

Attack On Karsh Said Blow National Unity

OTTAWA (CP)— George McIlraith, parliamentary assistant to Trade Minister Howe, Monday said in the Commons the description of Yousuf Karsh as a "foreigner" and "doubtful Canadian" strikes at the roots of national unity.

He said W. Chester S. McLure (PC Queens) had no right to attack Mr. Karsh with those words or on grounds that he came to Canada from another country.

Mr. McIlraith was referring to a speech by Mr. McLure Friday night in which the Prince Edward Island member objected to Mr. Karsh's statements in a recent issue of Maclean's magazine.

Mr. McIlraith said Mr. Karsh is one of his constituents in Ottawa West. Mr. Karsh became a Canadian citizen as soon as possible after his arrival as an immigrant in 1924. He established a business in Ottawa and built up a world-wide reputation.

He said immigration is necessary to the development of Canada. But immigrants must never be made to feel they are second, third or fourth class citizens.

Child's Hobby Horse Listed In Petawawa Report

OTTAWA (CP) — A child's ornate hobby horse which arrived in the Petawawa camp home of a high-ranking officer two Christmases ago was mentioned in the Currie report tabled Monday in the Commons.

The report recalled an Ottawa Citizen story last June 17 which said a hobby horse was built in Camp Borden by members of the Royal Canadian Engineers as a Christmas present for the son of an unidentified "top-ranking officer."

Dobbin, the story said, "was made of solid mahogany and, with its Roy Rogers trimmings, was valued at close to $400."

The Currie report did not identify the officer, but said the army materials which went into the horse were paid for by the officer. It added: "The wages of the workmen employed were not."

Two days after The Citizen's June 17 story, the paper carried a reply from army headquarters here which said the story was "ridiculous." The army said only $9.50 worth of army equipment had gone into the horse, which certainly was not made of solid mahogany.

It had been made at the suggestion of an officer's batman, headquarters said, when the officer was at central command headquarters in Oakville, Ont., in 1950. The officer agreed to let his batman make the horse as a gift for his son and heard no more about it until it was delivered.

New System Of Electric Type-Setting

NEW YORK (CP)—The Wall Street Journal's engineering laboratories have developed a new system of remote-control electric typesetting, it was announced Monday.

Bernard Kilgore, president of Dow Jones and Co., Inc., publishers of the Journal, said the new machines will be introduced in the publication's New York and Chicago printing plants next year.

He said it would be some time before the "electro-typesetters" could be made generally available to the publishing industry.

The new method uses the same type of perforated tape employed in the teletypesetter method of setting type, now coming into wide use by newspapers and news services.

Under this method, news is transmitted from a central point on a teletype machine and received simultaneously at numerous points in the form of perforated tape.

This tape is fed into a device attached to the line-casting machine, previously operated by a keyboard.

In both teletypesetting and electro-typesetting, six mechanical fingers "feel" the perforations in the tape to determine what letters or figures will be actuated on the line-casting machine.

In the teletypesetting method, the intermediate operation between the "feeling" and linecasting is mechanical.

ELECTRONIC METHOD

In the electro-typesetting method this operation is electronic. The device fits over keyboard of the line-casting machine and can be swung aside to permit manual operation.

In the teletypesetter, the actuating device fits underneath the keyboard and if manual operation is desired, a lever disconnects the device.

Kilgore said the electro-typesetter is the invention of Joseph J. Ackell, business manager and research director of the Wall Street Journal.

Allow More Pilgrims To Visit Bethlehem

JERUSALEM (CP)—For the first time in four years, appreciable numbers of pilgrims this year will be allowed to journey from Jerusalem to Bethlehem to pay homage on the site where Christ was born.

Only the privileged few, consular officials and United Nations personnel will, however, be able to take the traditional Old Road which crosses the Arab-Jewish armistice lines. The rest will have to make a 15-mile detour by the Old City and the New Road.

But it will be the first time since Jerusalem was divided that the gates between the Old City and the New have been opened to allow pilgrims to pass.

Plainville News

A White Gift service was observed during the Sunday School services Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Fred Bowman, superintendent of Special Services, presided, and the prepared Order of Service was followed. Others assisting in the program were Earl Joice, Ted Manley and Edwin Cole. The pupils of the Beginners, Primary and Intermediate classes with their teachers carried up their white parcels and laid them in a white basket and gifts of money were given from the Victor and Adult classes. These gifts were later dedicated during the regular church service by the minister, Rev. A. Y. Robertson.

Mission Band was held in the basement during the church service, with Mrs. Frank Westington and Mrs. Ewart King in charge.

Misses Marian and Margaret McKinley, Peterborough, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke McKinley.

Mr. Jim Buttars returned to Cobourg Hospital this week. He had been home for a few days.

Mr. Edgar Brisbin is in a Toronto hospital where he underwent an operation on his eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Jibb and children were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Buttars.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Woodley and family, Peterborough, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Allan Dines.

Headed Liberal Ass'n

AURORA (CP)—Mrs. Lorne C. Lee, 49, a former president of the Ontario Women's Liberal Association, died in hospital Sunday following a heart attack. Mrs. Lee, active in both provincial and municial politics, is survived by her husband and two sons.

Shot Three Times Near Small Hotel

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Edgar Frendo, 36, of Detroit, was shot three times Monday night near a small hotel between Amherstburg and Harrow, about 18 miles south of here.

He was brought to hospital here where authorities said his condition is serious. Police said Frendo was shot in the left cheek, in the left arm and in the neck.

Police said Frendo told them he was shot by a man he knew. They said the two men and another man left Windsor earlier in the evening to go to a party in Harrow.

Urges Province Help Ease Tax

TORONTO (CP)—Real progress in easing the municipal tax load can only be achieved if the province "recognizes its responsibilities" and takes over some of the burdens borne by the municipal taxpayer, Farquhar Oliver said Monday night.

In an address prepared for broadcast in the free-time "Provincial Affairs" series over a provincial network of the CBC, the Ontario leader of the Liberal party said that a solution to the problem does not lie in the creation of new tax fields in which the municipalities could operate.

The province, Mr. Oliver suggested, should take over full cost of welfare services.

As for education "a much larger share of the cost should be borne by the people generally because the problem will not be solved by increasing grants-in-aid."

Won't Lay Charge In Child Selling

SARNIA (CP)—Crown Attorney S. A. K. Logan said Monday his office will not lay a charge against Mrs. Ladislav Pilous, recently accused of trying to sell her five-year-old son for $1,000.

He said there still is a possibility the mother could be charged under a section of the Children's Protective Act by the Children's Aid Society.

A. P. Bates, children's aid superintendent, said:

"The case still is under consideraiton by our office, but I have nothing to say beyond that."

The boy has been placed in a foster home under supervision of the society until the investigation is completed.

The mother denied she had tried to sell the boy and said the accusation arose from a misunderstanding.

Assigned To Europe

TORONTO (CP)—Two Salvation Army officers, the first to be assigned to work among Canadian troops in Europe, left Halifax for Germany Saturday. They are Capt. and Mrs. Arthur Hopkinson, from Winnipeg. The couple will work exclusively with Canadian personnel under the auspices of the British Salvation Army's Red Shield services.

Had your aluminum today?

CHANCES are you have, because practically everything we eat—grains, vegetables, meat, milk, eggs—contains aluminum. This is not surprising, since one-eighth of the earth's crust is aluminum.

Aluminum is most readily available commercially, however, in the form of bauxite ore. Alcan ships this ore from South America to feed its pot lines at Arvida, Isle Maligne, Shawinigan Falls and Beauharnois, P. Que. When the huge new Kitimat development is completed in B.C., refined ore will be shipped up the West Coast from South American or other abundant sources. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

STRIKERS IN COURT—Strikers arrested in a clash with provincial police at Louiseville, Que., appear in court at Three Rivers, Que. Sixteen were charged with violating provisions of the Riot Act—which was read during the disturbance—and two others faced charges of disturbing the peace. A number of strikers at the Associated Textiles plant were injured and one man shot by a provincial policeman during the altercation.

'New' Patricias Light Infantry Clash With Chinese

IN KOREA (CP)—The "new" Patricias had a brisk clash with the Chinese on their first fighting patrol the night of Dec. 6. They killed at least five Reds, wounded at least two.

(This dispatch reports in detail an action first mentioned by Boss in a Dec. 7 story. At that time censorship prevented him identifying the unit or the individual soldiers involved.)

The 3rd battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry relieved the 1st battalion here in early November.

Two weeks later it was first committed to the Korean front in a counter-attack after Britain's Black Watch had a bitter battle with Chinese who briefly over-ran its positions. The Patricias reoccupied the lost ground.

ALREADY WON

The battle already had been won by the Black Watch. Reports of that action, implying that the Patricias fought "ferociously" with fists, knives, bayonets and grenades embarrassed the regiment. They remained in the line four days.

Committed later with the Canadian brigade, their own brigadier, M. P. Bogert of Ottawa, allowed them to feel out the ground ahead of them for several nights before allotting them a major mission. The battalion held a series of ridges, including the famous Hook hill. The nearest Chinese outposts were on hills a bare 500 yards across a narrow valley.

Lieut. R. J. Campbell of Saskatoon led the unit's first fighting patrol. Its aim was to blow up a Chinese bunker-outpost on a ridge-top 450 yards from the Hook.

Said Lieut. William Beeman of Portsmouth, Ont., battalion headquarters officer:

"They crossed the valley quietly, hearing and seeing nothing until they reached the top of the ridge on the other side. The bunker they were after was some distance along its crest."

SAW EIGHT MEN

Silently the men worked their way along the crest, led by Cpl. F. G. Kincaid of Penticton, B.C.

In a narrow trench ahead they saw eight men silhouetted in the moonlight. Said Cpl. M. E. McAllister of Broadlands, Que., leading the section following:

"The Chinese were so surprised when they saw us that they just froze. You could see their jaws drop in the moonlight. We were just 10 feet away from them. Then Brown (a private not further identified) opened up on them with his Bren gun. Three of them were able to duck away but three, at least, were cut down there."

The eight men in the trench were either killed or wounded or ran away. Two men coming up from behind were shot dead.

Asks Two On Board Not Councillors

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Alderman Archie Munro, one of city council's representatives on the board of directors of East Windsor Hospital, said Monday he will ask early in the new year that council appoint two board members who are not members of city council.

Representatives for 1953 will be appointed early in January.

One recommendation included in the 50,000-word report filed recently by commissioner Gordon L. Fraser following a lengthy probe into hospital management was that the present board dissolve itself and a new board be appointed.

Shopping Centre Will Be Built

KITCHENER (CP)—A $3,000,000 shopping centre is due to be built in Kitchener, it was reported Monday. Construction will begin in February on 1,000 feet of street frohtage.

The buildings will be at least two storeys in height with offices on the second floor and stores on the main floor.

All available land on the street now has been optioned by a Toronto syndicate in negotiation with Belmont Buildings Limited.

Plan Monument To King

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—The Niagara parks commission has decided to erect a monument to the late King George VI, who visited here with the Queen in June, 1939. The location and design will be decided by the commissioners after a special committee reports early next year.

Traffic Death Remand

GUELPH (CP)—Charles A. Shultis, 32, of nearby Acton was remanded Monday to Dec. 22 on charges of dangerous driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident. Shultis was charged in the traffic death of Jan Sloot, 11, who was struck and killed Dec. 6 by an automobile which police said did not stop.

Sees Canada As Land Of Opportunity

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Items from the mail:

The current monthly letter of the Royal Bank of Canada says "Canada is a land of opportunity for individuals and organizations who have a forward look and are not afraid to work."

"The people who come here do not come empty - handed. They brought, in the way of money capital, $60,000,000 in 1951. In addition, they brought skills, and they brought themselves and their dependents to feed and clothe and house. There were 194,000 new Canadians admitted in 1951. . . .

"Canada is first in production of nickel, newsprint, asbestos, and platinum. She is the world's second largest producer of gold, aluminum wood pulp and hydro - electric power. She is third in zinc, silver and uranium; and fourth in copper and lead."

BIG APPETITES

American Can Company reports from Hamilton that Canada's very young folk ate (including what they spilled on their bibs) $7,500,000 worth of canned baby food in 1951. The company adds: "Canada's output of canned baby food has increased from 7,476,000 cans in 1940 to 117,464,000 cans, or by about 15 times in volume." New babies in Canada in 1951 totalled 379,422.

British American Oil Co., Ltd., announces that crude oil now is moving through the new 1,056-mile Platte pipe line, connecting the Big Horn and Wind river basin oilfields of northern Wyoming and the Denver-Julesburg basin of Colorado with the large refining centre at Wood River, Illinois. The $60,000,000 line, with a daily capacity of 150,000 barrels, is owned by British American and four United States oil companies.

Warwick Native Dies

DETROIT (CP)—Dr. William A. Fenner, 71, native of Warwick, 23 miles east of Sarnia, died Sunday following a brief illness.

You can't buy a better truck to save your money!

• Your savings begin the minute you buy a Chevrolet truck. For most Chevrolet trucks list for less than any other make with comparable specifications capable of handling the same payloads.

But that's only the beginning. You save on the job—day in and day out—in fuel, maintenance and repairs. For Chevrolet trucks are the only trucks with all the 19 great features that add up to more rugged performance and more reliable operation at less cost.

And when the time comes to trade, the record shows that over the years Chevrolet trucks traditionally bring a higher percentage of their original cost than any other make!

For your every trucking need, be sure to see your Chevrolet dealer—and save.

Over the years
first choice of Canada's truck buyers

It's a fact! For years Chevrolet trucks have been the choice of more users than any other make! Here's long-term leadership built on solid value and quality at lower cost.

19 great features that mean finer performance at lower cost

VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE: The right power for your job—plus economy in the Loadmaster or the Thriftmaster engine.

BLUE-FLAME COMBUSTION: High efficiency combustion chamber squeezes all available power from fuel.

POWER-JET CARBURETION: Meters the flow of fuel to meet exact requirements of engine load and speed with 2-way controlled ignition.

FULL-LENGTH-JACKET WATER COOLING: Water jackets completely surround each cylinder for more complete cooling.

SYNCHRO-MESH TRANSMISSION: Quick, quiet, safe shifting—eliminates "double-clutching."

DIAPHRAGM SPRING CLUTCH: One single-disc spring provides positive engagement, reduces wear.

HYPOID REAR AXLE: Lowers tooth pressures, stronger tooth section gives extra durability.

STRADDLE-MOUNTED PINION: Maintains better gear alignment, better tooth contact on medium- and heavy-duty models.

SINGLE-UNIT REAR AXLE HOUSING: No bolts, no joints; tubular beam construction to withstand heavy loads.

FULL SIZE REAR AXLE INSPECTION PLATE: Saves time and trouble on inspections during regular maintenance.

SPLINED AXLE-TO-HUB CONNECTION: Driving splines mate directly with wheel hubs on heavy-duty models. No bolts to loosen or permit oil leaks.

BALL-GEAR STEERING: Free rolling steel balls between worm and nut cut friction, save wear.

"TWIN-ACTION" HEAVY-DUTY REAR BRAKES: Two cylinders in each brake for safer, more positive braking.

"TORQUE-ACTION" LIGHT-DUTY BRAKES: Make full use of truck momentum for greater stopping power.

BONDED BRAKE LININGS: Riveted linings on light- and medium-duty models nearly double lining life.

BATTLESHIP CAB CONSTRUCTION: Each cab is a double walled, all-welded steel unit of great strength.

FLEXI-MOUNTED CAB: Minimizes vibration and driver fatigue.

HEAVY-DUTY CHANNEL TYPE FRAME: Deep channel-section side rails give maximum rigidity.

ROOMY 3-MAN COMFORT: Wide, deep and roomy, side to side, top to bottom, front to rear describes Chevrolet cabs built to accommodate 3 men with ease. Double deck spring seats for extra comfort, less fatigue.

Canadian Troops In Kure, Wide-Open City Of Sin, Causes Authorities Alarm

(Kure, Japan, is headquarters for the British Commonwealth forces in Korea. Reports of a "reign of terror" by the troops—particularly the Canadians—have been published in the Japanese press. The Canadian Press assigned Bill Boss, its staff writer with the Canadian forces in Korea to investigate the stories, and this article is the first of four in which he gives his findings. All facts contained in the series have been approved for publication by United Nations censors in Japan.)

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Kure, Japan (CP) — Canadian authorities are alarmed at the behavior of Canadian troops in this wide-open city of sin.

Canadians comprise less than 1-tenth of the military personnel permanently stationed in this city smaller than Hamilton, Ont. They are blamed for two-fifths of the crimes charged against the military in what has been described in Japanese papers as a "reign of terror."

But the "reign of terror" is not of Canadian, or even of military making.

It is created by the Japanese themselves.

CRIME RAMPANT

Since April 28 when sovereignty was restored to Japan, more than 3,000 serious crimes have been committed in the city. Murders of Japanese have been at a rate of 30 a year. There is an average of one assault case a day and 10 armed robberies—almost 120 times as many robberies annually as in Tokyo which has a population of 8,000,000.

Military and civil police have joined forces to restore order. Three-man police bodyguards have been offered any civilian who volunteers useful information.

But even the official Japanese police figures show Commonwealth soldiers committed only 239 of the 3,061 crimes between April 28 and Nov. 15. Of the 239, the Japanese report, only 97 were by Canadians and the proportion of Canadian crimes is dropping sharply.

All the rest have been committed by Japanese.

FACTS CONCEALED

This information has been concealed. Commonwealth military police have not dug it out and Commonwealth diplomats have not had it.

When the Japanese press blamed the "reign of terror" on Commonwealth troops, the Japanese foreign office also was exploiting Commonwealth crime—to justify its demand for jurisdiction over all United Nations troops in the country except United States soldiers. That would mean that Canadian and other Commonwealth offenders would be tried in Japanese courts and punished in Japanese prisons.

Kure is on the inland sea; an 18-hour, 555-mile train trip southwest of Tokyo. With its satellite city of Hiromachi it has a population of 193,000—down more than 75,000 since 1944 when it had three huge arsenals and was an important naval base. It was a major Allied bombing target.

During the occupation and since the peace treaty, its warlike industries have been outlawed. Now most of the city lives off spending by the troops stationed at Kure and in transit to and from Korea.

COMMONWEALTH BASE

Kure has the headquarters and base installations for British Commonwealth Forces in Korea. The permanent Commonwealth population is about 4,000 staff and 2,000 reinforcements. The total static Canadian population is about 600.

It is headquarters of the 25th Canadian reinforcement group, No. 2 Canadian administration unit, a Canadian hospital, Canadian line-of-communication and a postal wing.

Authorities say the 600 Canadians with jobs in Kure have been well-behaved—that it's the final fling of troops on the way home that has given Canadien service men a bad name.

Before I left Tokyo, a Canadian diplomat told me that at the peak an average of 40 Canadians a week offended against Japanese civilians seriously enough to require legal action.

"For a long time, people here considered us a rowdy crowd of over-paid, over-sexed soldiers," said Col. Willis Moogk of Ottawa, colonel in charge of administration for the 25th Canadian brigade at Kure.

CRIME FIGURES

"At one time we had higher figures in crime and venereal disease in the Canadian army than all the rest, with only one-third the number of people the others had."

The situation is better now. Commonwealth records list 526 Canadian offences in August when total offences by Commonwealth troops were 1,088—about 48 per cent Canadian. In September, there were 304 Canadian offences in a total of 1,033—about 29 per cent. In October, there were 231 Canadian offences in 682—about 34 per cent.

Those figures look worse than they really are, for most of the Canadian offences were strictly military.

NINE COURTS-MARTIAL

Nine Canadians have been tried by court-martial since May. Seven were convicted, four for robbery with violence, one for assault occasioning bodily harm, one for shopbreaking and one for stealing. One was acquitted of rape, the only case of its type, and one of robbery.

In other cases referred to the Canadian authorities by the Japanese, the charges were not supported by evidence or were reduced and the soldiers tried summarily on less serious indictments. Most offences were settled out of court.

No Canadian has been charged with murder in Kure which had 25 to Nov. 15 this year.

Working behind the scenes to keep Canadian offences from the police blotter is Maj. Roy Brown of Moncton, N.B., assistant judge-advocate-general for Canadians in the Far East. During the August crime wave he handled 35 cases a week. His current average is eight a week. If he hears of a case in time he usually manages a financia settlement.

The settlement, deducted from the soldier's paybook, coupled with an apology from the soldier, usually closes the matter.

"LETTING OFF STEAM"

What sort of trouble do Canadians get into in Kure?

Most of it springs from "letting off steam" without regard to the bill and annoyance at the size of the bill when it comes.

"Property damage" occurs when a tipsy soldier, haggling over his bill, sweeps a couple of glasses to the floor. Canadians push their fists through taxi windows arguing with drivers they suspect of over-charging.

"Assault" frequently occurs when a soldier, having had enough beer with a tavern "hostess," grabs her arm to push her away as she tries to detain him.

Second Pipeline Opened In 1953

SARNIA (CP)—A second pipeline from Sarnia to Toronto is scheduled to open in the fall of 1953, an oil company executive said Monday by telephone from Toronto. Initially it is expected to carry 10,000 to 15,000 barrels a day.

Robert G. Dunlop of Philadelphia, president of the Sun Oil Company, made the statement. He said opening of the new line is scheduled to coincide with completion of the Sun Oil refinery at Sarnia.

The first pipeline between the two cities was completed this fall with an initial capacity of 39,000 barrels a day.

The new line will transport chiefly gasoline and No. 1 and No. 2 fuel oils.

Storms Taper Off In Northern U.S.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Heavy localized snow storms that struck western and northern New York during the week-end tapered off Monday, leaving up to 16 inches of snow in the Buffalo area and 20 inches at Ogdensburg. Five upstate deaths were attributed to the weather.

Buffalo airport, closed Sunday, was back in normal operation late Monday.

TIRED OUT by too much excitement, a youngster sleeps just where it overcame her at a Christmas party for children of the Protestant Haven orphanage in Chicago. Telephone operators of the Chicago toll office gave the party which resulted in this study of contrasts in activity.

Predict Sugar Cane Produces Pulp Supply

ROME (AP)—Straw, bamboo and sugar-cane bagasse can produce enough paper pulp to meet the rising world demand for paper and newsprints, experts predicted here Monday night.

The report was made after a two-week consultation by pulp and paper experts from many countries meeting here at headquarters of the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations.

The announcement added that not only is a pulp industry based on these unconventional raw materials a feasible commercial venture, but that appropriate processes exist for pulping all of them.

Soldiers Help Locate Radiation

CHALK RIVER (CP) — Army radiation detection men are helping to locate the excessive radiation which escaped last Friday from the reactor at Canada's big atomic energy plant here. They are also getting some welcome training.

Dr. A. J. Cipriani, in charge of decontamination following Friday's radio-active "burst," said that four officers and eight men of the army's No. 1 radiation detection unit at Kingston arrived Monday.

The men, who were trained here for use in the event of atomic attack on Canada, will map the radiation which fell on the ground after escaping from the reactor's stack.

Gunman, Manager Wounded; Foil Bank Holdup

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. (CP)—Formal charges are expected to be laid today against a man RCMP say wounded a bank manager in a robbery attempt and was subdued by a posse's gunfire after a chase into the wilds. Both the suspect and his alleged victim are recovering in hospital here.

A slug tore into the alleged desperado's chest and Leonard Hellyer, manager of the Williams Lake branch of the Bank of Commerce, suffered a flesh wound in the thigh.

RCMP said placing of formal charges was delayed by the problem of identifying the man in custody. They said he was carrying another man's papers, but they expect to find out shortly through fingerprints who he is.

The 10 hours of violent excitement started shortly after midnight Tuesday when Hellyer, working late, was about to enter his car in front of the bank.

ANNOUNCES PLANS

A man approached him, asked for and received a lift. After the manager had started the car, the man pulled a gun and told him he was going to rob the bank.

When they arrived back at the bank a second time, after a first try was thwarted by the presence of persons on the street, the bandit fired one shot to intimidate the manager and took his wallet.

"We entered the bank," the manager said, "and he ordered me to unlock the vault."

The manager said he was unlocking the outer door of the vault when the bank accountant, Donald Mars, and a friend, seeing the front door open, came in to investigate.

WOUNDS MANAGER

"Put 'em high," the gunman shouted as he ordered Heilyer to front of the building. He then fired, wounding the manager, and fled.

Ten hours later, and 12 miles away from this Cariboo cattle town, the chase reached a climax. The man, leaving a clear trail as he dashed through a fresh fall of snow, was surrounded and told to surrender.

When the desperado opened fire, police retaliated. He fell with a bullet in his chest.

Storm Damages Crack U.S. Liner In Britain Area

LONDON (AP) — The crack new American liner United States was damaged and other shipping imperiled today by furious winds buffeting the British Isles. There were gusts of more than 100 miles an hour.

The United States had just pulled away from the Southampton dock on a homeward voyage to New York when a gale caught her broadside and drove her back to the quay.

The port side of the ship's bridge jammed in between two high dockside cranes denting the bridge work and scraping paint off the observation deck.

The liner quickly worked loose and tugs resumed trying to get her out to sea. After an hour of tricky manoeuvring in the gale - force gusts, it was decided to wait until the wind died down. The liner was tied up at dockside and the 600 passengers aboard were told that sailing would be delayed.

The 5-636-ton Swedish vessel Laponia radioed today she had picked up six of the crew of the 247-ton Dutch ship Spica. They had drifted all night in an open lifeboat after their boat sank 180 miles east of Glasgow.

Lifeboats and tugs rushed to Lamlash, Isle of Arran, off the west coast of Scotland, where the gale drove the 1,837-ton Finnish ship Solbritt on the rocks. She was refloated at midday.

Another victim of the gale was the East German trawler Kuehlengsburg, driven aground at Keso, in the Baltic Bornholm islands. Three men were rescued by breeches buoy.

Inland, fierce gusts of wind bowled over pedestrians, sent hats flying and scattered chimney pots, slates and trees in many areas.

Road and rail services in Denmark were dislocated. Torrential rain over Paris and most of France flooded the Garonne river in the southwest, threatening the town of Bordeaux. Liverpool was the worst hit city in England. Gusts of up to 105 miles an hour were recorded.

Widow Identifies Holdup Man

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Doris Hurd, widow of a jeweller slain Dec. 9 during a holdup of his shop here, has identified Maurice (Digger) O'Dell as the man who shot her husband, it was reported today.

The Buffalo Courier-Express said Mrs. Hurd went to Hamilton, Ont., Tuesday night and picked out O'Dell and Walter F. Griffin, 28, from a police line-up.

Mrs. Hurd was in the jewelry shop when it was held up. She previously had identified the pair from rogues gallery photos

The newspaper said she identified 27-year-old O'Dell as the man who shot her husband, and Griffen as one of the two other men sought in connection with the holdup of Donald F. Hurd's store.

O'Dell and Griffen are being held in Hamilton on charges of murder and armed robbery based on information in detention warrants. A third warrant is out for the arrest of Ralph J. Grubisch, about 30, of Kitchener, Ont., in connection with the robbery of about $50,000 worth of gems from the Hurd jewelry shop here.

Detective Rejects Bribe Of $10,000

NEW YORK (AP) — A detective told the New York state crime commission today that he rejected a bribe offered by a member of the International Longshoremens' Association (AFL) to "lay off the boys" on the Jersey City waterfront.

John Waldron said the bribe was offered him in November, 1951, by a man named Johnnie Alu. The bribe — starting with $10,000 for three Jersey City detectives—was intended to put 10 policemen on a stevedoring firm's payroll, Waldron testified.

Waldron took the witness stand as the crime commission's probe of racketeering in the world's largest port kept its spotlight focussed on Jersey City for the second day.

Waldron said Alu made the offer when police were investigating a bombing on the Jersey City waterfront in March, 1951. The bombing injured five union officials, including Barney Brown, whose name has figured prominently in the commission hearings.

Catch Lunatic Near Palace

LONDON (AP)—An alert police dog nabbed a demented man early today as he invaded Buckingham Palace grounds.

Guards said the dog, Bruce, grabbed the man, 27, just as he dropped over a brick wall bordering the north side of the palace grounds. Bruce's handler responded to the dog's barking and took the man into custody.

A doctor who examined the intruder at a police station said the man was of unsound mind. He was taken to hospital for further observation.

It was the second lunatic invasion of the Queen's garden in two months. In October a young Irishman—later found insane—climbed the wall and dropped into the arms of a waiting policeman.

Woman 75 Beaten, Robbed Of $600

TORONTO (CP) — Masked prowlers early today beat a 75-year-old woman into unconsciousness and robbed her of $600 she kept in her nightdress.

The victim, Mrs. Molly Katz, a grocery store owner, heard noises in the shop below her living quarters. She went downstairs and was met by two masked men who struck her twice on the head with an iron bar.

Mrs. Katz was knocked out by the blows. When she revived and tried to call police she found the telephone wires cut. Bleeding from a cut in the head, she ran outside and shouted for help. A passerby called police and Mrs. Katz was taken to hospital. Her condition is serious.

The thieves apparently were looking for two cigar boxes in which Mrs. Katz normally kept money, when she came downstairs.

PM Says Report Changes Defence Dept. Suggestion

Not All Proposals Accepted By Inquiry Firm

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent disclosed today that an advance draft copy of the Currie report was handed to the defence department and that some changes suggested there were incorporated in the final report. He expressed surprise that the Currie accounting firm of Montreal had taken this step but said it was done simply to make sure that the facts were right in view of criminal proceedings arising from the Camp Petawawa thefts.

He read into the Commons record a series of changes suggested by the department's deputy minister, C. M. Drury, and said some were accepted by the Currie firm and some weren't.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, pointed out that Mr. St. Laurent had not mentioned one change which appeared in a copy of the report which the CCF recently produced in the House.

In the CCF copy of the report, there was criticism of people "at or near the top" in the defence department for indifference to administration and a haste-before-cast psychology. In the report tabled in the Commons, the reference was to "higher-ups."

NO EXPLANATION

Mr. St. Laurent said the deputy minister had had no discussions with the Currie representative about the wording on that page and that "I have no explanation" of the alleged difference "nor has the department."

He was asked whether Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds, chief of the general staff, saw the draft copy and said he doesn't know but will inquire.

Mr. St. Laurent went on to say that it should be noted that the period covered by the report was during a time when Gen. Simonds was not responsible. Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes then was chief of the general staff.

It was a period when Korean and Atlantic Pact commitments kept Gen. Foulkes out of the country a great deal of the time and it was eventually decided to make him chairman of the chiefs of staff and let him concentrate on international matters.

MAKING INQUIRIES

At one point, Mr. St. Laurent called on the CCF to explain how it came into possession of what that party called a copy of the Currie report. He said the government is continuing to make inquiries to try to find out how this happened but the CCF could clear the matter up much more quickly.

Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre), who first exposed the fact the CCF had a copy which differed from that tabled, said he would discuss the question with

Indo-China War Grave As Korea Says NATO

PARIS (AP) — The North Atlantic Treaty Organization declared today that the French fight against the Communist-led Vietminh in Indo-China is as important to the West as the Korean war.

There was no indication that NATO was planning any collective action in Indo-China. But a resolution passed at today's council of foreign ministers declared that "resistance of the free nations in resistance to direct or indirect aggression in any part of the world is an essential contribution to the common security of the Free World."

The resolution added: "The resistance of the free nations in south-east Asia, as in Korea, is in the fullest harmony with the aims and ideals of the Atlantic community."

Both Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and Jean le Tourneau, French minister for overseas territories, had appealed to the Western allies for as much material and financial support as possible in the war against the Vietminh.

The United States and Britain are aiding France — the U. S. with money and arms and with naval support.

The council also heard Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain say Britain, the U. S. and France are still ready to meet with Russia to plan free all-German elections.

Eden recalled that Russia has made no final reply in the lengthy exchange this year over unification of Germany.

The ministers, who will end their meeting Thursday, also passed a resolution urging European countries to take quick action toward ratification of the treaty which would bring Western Germany's armed forces into the defence of non-Communist Europe.

The ministers failed to take any action on the 428 million dollar military building program urged by the military men of NATO so construction of airports, naval works and other installations could get under way in the spring.

Rail Presidents To Meet Union Leaders

MONTREAL (CP) — The presidents of the two major railways will meet with top brotherhood leaders Thursday in connection with the current series of negotiations.

A spokesman for the companies said the meeting is at the request of Frank Hall, general chairman of the negotiating committee for the 17 brotherhoods involved in the negotiations.

The presidents—Donald Gordon Canadian National Railways and W. A. Mather of Canadian Pacific Railway — will meet in the CPR's board room with Mr. Hall "and a couple of other labor representatives."

The spokesman made no reference to any significance that might be attached to attendance at the meeting by the two presidents.

The current closed meetings between representatives of the railway companies and the brotherhoods have been in progress since last week. They began following arrangements made by Labor Minister Gregg and have dealt with the reports of a federal conciliation board.

The majority report awarded the 144,000 non-operating railwaymen an average increase of 16 cents an hour. The minority report set 26. The unions had asked for 45 cents.

The majority report was accepted by the railways and rejected by the unions. Last week the railways announced they were putting into effect the recommended increase in the majority report as of Dec. 1.

Talks Fail To End Iranian Oil Crisis

PARIS (AP) — British-American talks to break the Iranian oil deadlock ended without "any sort of solution in sight," official American and British sources reported tonight.

What amounted to a final effort by President Truman's administration to settle the 20-month-long dispute appeared to have ended in failure.

Drop Yule Mail Save Plane

OTTAWA (CP)—Eight bags of Christmas mail to Canadian soldiers in Korea have been lost—dumped between Japan and Korea to protect passengers in a Commonwealth plane. The post office department announced Tuesday that nine bags of Canadian mail were in cargo jettisoned by the plane, flying to Commonwealth divisional headquarters in Korea. One of the Canadian bags was recovered and a search is being made for the others but there is a "strong possibility" that they are lost, the post office said. It was understood the mishap occurred Nov. 27 when the DC-3 aircraft, with both passengers and cargo aboard, had trouble maintaining altitude after the take-off in Japan.

It was understood the mishap occurred Nov. 27 when the DC-3 aircraft, with both passengers and cargo aboard, had trouble maintaining altitude after the take-off in Japan.

Rather than risk lives, the pilot decided to dump out the postal freight. Some of the bags dropped on land and others in the Japanese sea. The lightened plane reached Korea safely.

A sad Christmas was indicated for some of Canada's 25th brigade in Korea. Postal authorities believe the bags contained a big proportion of first-class Christmas mail.

The letters were those mailed in Canada in time to reach the army post office in Vancouver on or about Nov. 22, the department said.

It was the first loss of Canadian mail for the troops since the Korean war began some 30 months ago.

Postal authorities were unsure how many letters and packages were in the lost bags. A mailbag in Canada normally carries about 3,000 letters, and on that basis the loss could be about 25,000 letters or small packages.

Authorities suggested some of the lost mail may be recovered, as was the case in some similar mishaps during the Second World War. But they added that Canadians who sent letters to soldiers in Korea sometime during the third week of November might well write the letters again.

Czech Premier Admits Revolt Due To Shortages

VIENNA (AP)—Czechoslovakia's premier admitted today there is "discontent and rebellion" in the country, and indicated that the Communist regime has not yet been able to bring popular defiance under control. This admission was published in Rude Pravo, official Czechoslovak Communist newspaper. Premier Antonin Zapotocky was quoted as blaming the rebellion on shortages of food and coal.

The Communist president, Klement Gottwald, previously admitted that the production of milk, eggs and farm goods in Czechoslovakia has fallen lower than it was in 1947, before the Communists seized power.

The admissions lent weight to Western reports that the Soviet Union's industrial demands on Czechoslovakia have been severely milking the country and producing chaotic conditions. The production of heavy industry goods for Russia has cost the satellite country heavily, pushing down its former high standard of living. There have been reports of open "hunger demonstrations" in defiance of Communist police.

Zapotocky's admission came in an address to miners in Kladno. He said:

COLD AND HUNGER

"People complain among other things that they cannot buy coal for the winter and that their food rations are insufficient. We cannot provide for the people with coal that is required for our industrial plan and the plants lack hundreds of thousands of tons of coal.

'Among the people there is discontent and rebellion, but against this rebellion there is no help. It can only be eliminated by fulfilment of the plan. . .

"People say that although we have done away with capitalist profit, we have replaced it with profits for the state through the exploitation of human labor and that there is no difference."

Tito Breaks With Vatican

BELGRADE (AP) — Premier Tito's government today broke off diplomatic relations with the Vatican as a follow-up to the naming of Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac to the college of cardinals

Ales Bebler, deputy foreign minister, informed a Vatican diplomat, Msgr. Silvio di Oddi, of the action. Monsiegnor di Oddi said he had no comment. He has been serving as charge d'affaires here in the absence of the American Archbishop Joseph P. Hurley, the Vatican minister to Belgrade.

Marshal Tito, in a speech Tuesday to workers in a factory near Belgrade, accused the Vatican of hostile activity against Yugoslavia. Tito also threatened to call off a projected visit to London, because of British charges of religious persecution here.

The furor was touched off by British newspaper reports quoting Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Britain's archbishop of Canterbury, as saying that Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden would urge Tito to ease up on religious persecution when the Yugoslav leader visits Britain next March.

Tito, speaking before a crowd of about 15,000 in a small factory town Tuesday night, said that the charges of religious persecution were inspired by the Vatican. He declared he would not go to Britain unless at least half the British people want him to come.

"I am not going to England to make concessions," he said. "There will be no discussion of our internal affairs."

NOT SURPRISED

VATICAN CITY (Reuters) — Highly-placed Vatican sources today expressed "sorrow but not surprise" at Yugoslavia's severance of diplomatic relations with the holy see.

Relations between Belgrade and the Vatican, never cordial at the best of times, deteriorated sharply after the Pope announced last month that he had elevated Yugoslav Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac to cardinal.

Red Guards Overwhelmed

BERLIN (Reuters) — A crowd of about 100 East Germans lost patience with the Communist zonal regulations today and marched across into Western Berlin.

Armed guards were overwhelmed. There was some scuffling, eye-witnesses said, but the guards did not fire their machine-guns, at the crowd.

The easterners said they wanted to come to West Berlin to work. Border restrictions, recently tightened by the Communists, meant they would have to go far out of their way.

They pushed up the crossbar and marched across into the U. S. zone in southwest Berlin.

City Snowed In

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (Reuters)—Snowdrifts nine feet deep sealed up roads in this industrial city, Tuesday following Britain's worst pre-Christmas snowfall in 27 years. Nearly 1,000 men with 200 trucks and 25 giant snow-plows worked to clear the snow and ice.

Premiers To Meet

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Churchill announced today that a meeting of the Commonwealth prime ministers will be held in London immediately after the Coronation next June 2.

Mexico Hangover Cure Close Bars 3 Days

TAMPICO, Mex. (AP) — This oil port's workers had pockets full of Christmas money today but precious little yuletide spirits to buy with it — the bars are closed for three days.

Authorities took the step in hopes of reducing hangovers and resultant absences from work among employees of the government's oil monopoly, Petroleos Mexicanos. The workers now are collecting a Christmas fund and bonus.

A large share of the Christmas money in previous years has been spent on drink. This year's payments in the Tampico area amount to $2,550,000 — a lot of hangovers.

Driver Charged After 5 Crashes

TORONTO (CP)—A chase which sent one man to hospital and caused damage to five cars resulted Tuesday night when a woman was reported to have fallen or been thrown from a car in central Toronto.

A passing motorist told police he saw Theresa Powers fall from a car which turned into the path of a vehicle driven by Verdan la Fortune. La Fortune pursued the car but lost it. It was reported again it hit two parked cars then rammed a third into a passing truck.

Robert Lilley, 23, of Toronto, was charged with careless driving. Hospital authorities said his injuries and those of Miss Powers were not serious.

Ordain Atomic Scientist As Episcopal Minister

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Dr. William G. Pollard, atomic scientist and executive director of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, was ordained into the ministry of the Episcopal Church today.

But Pollard pointed out in advance of the ceremony that his decision to enter the ministry had nothing to do with any sense of guilt over the atomic bomb. He will continue his nuclear research.

Pollard's four sons also participated in the ceremony at St. Stephen's church where the scientist is a parishioner. Grosvenor, 18, and Frank, 11, served as crucifers, and Lewis, 16, and James, 13, as acolytes.

Pollard who worked on the atomic bomb project during the Second World War, said many persons assumed erroneously that he had "been driven into the ministry through a sense of guilt or disillusionment."

DISMISSES RUMORS

Others assumed "that I have become convinced that Christianity offers the best of several possible solutions to mankind's problems."

He said neither of these explanations is "at all close."

"I do believe deeply that the dominant secular humanist tone of our current culture is profoundly false and a mortal sin against God.

"But I cannot believe that my taking holy orders will alone materially change this condition, and such convictions are certainly not the cause of my action."

Favorite McCarthy Target

Say Lattimore Lied To Senate Red Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Owen Lattimore will get a chance to reply formally Friday to an indictment charging that he lied under oath when he said he had never been a sympathizer or promoter of communism or Red interests.

Lattimore has said "I am, of course, innocent," of the charges in the indictment, returned late Tuesday by a federal grand jury here. He is the controversial Far East affairs specialist and occasional state department consultant often accused by Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep. Wis.).

The indictment accused Lattimore of perjury on seven points during his testimony before the Senate internal security sub-committee last spring. The indictment termed all seven points "material."

Lattimore is to be arraigned Friday and trial date may be set then.

McCarthy in 1950 called Lattimore "the top Soviet espionage agent in America."

PIRITED REPLY

"Pure moonshine," replied Lattimore, 52-year-old director of the Walter Hines Page school of international relations at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

The university president, Dr. Detlev Bronk, announced that Lattimore has been given a leave of absence, with pay, "until a federal court shall have passed upon the charges."

Senator Arthur Watkins (Rep. Utah) commented that Lattimore's indictment "vindicated the judgment" of the internal security subcommittee, of which he is a member. The sub-committee recommended last July that the justice department lay before a grand jury the question of whether Lattimore committed perjury.

The seven-count indictment grew out of Lattimore's testimony before the sub-committee during its long investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations, a privately-financed research organization.

PROTESTS INNOCENCE

The sub-committee said Lattimore, long a prominent figure in IPR affairs, "was, from some time beginning in the 1930s, a conscious articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy."

Protesting his innocence, Lattimore said:

"That innocence should have to be so long defended against such vengeful harassment as I have been subjected to for three years, is something that can be better commented on by others than by myself. . ."

Demand Cabinet Held Responsible For Army Scandal

OTTAWA (CP)—A storm of parliamentary condemnation has swept down on the cabinet as result of the Currie report. Dipping deep into its spectacular findings, one opposition member after another threw them across the floor of the Commons Tuesday and said the cabinet and only the cabinet must accept responsibility.

The report said there was "a general breakdown" of control in the army works service which is responsible for an investment of $750,000,000 in buildings and plant, and made other sweeping allegations.

The Progressive Conservatives demanded the resignation of Defence Minister Claxton and called for a full-scale inquiry into the entire defence department. A CCF member used the report as one reason for arguing for an early election.

Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) even suggested the resignation of Prime Minister St. Laurent.

URGES CRACKDOWN

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, joined the call for Mr. Claxton's scalp, said "perhaps there are others who also ought to resign," and advised the government to "crack down hard" on those responsible for the faults discovered, including people "at the top."

The cabinet sent Justice Minister Garson in at night to ask members to reserve judgment until the Commons defence expenditures committee has had a chance to make a thorough investigation of the report. Acting Defence Minister Campney is to supplement his statement today.

Mr. Garson said 14 prosecutions have been launched as a result of the Petawawa thefts which provoked the Currie inquiry and that there have been 11 convictions. He said the thefts are attributable to "human frailty" rather than to the Army accounting system and said judgment on the system should be suspended pending the committee study, expected early next year.

DENY EARLY ELECTION

There have been reports in parliamentary corridors that Mr. Claxton will be asked to return early from the Paris Atlantic pact meeting to reply to the opposition charges.

However, Prime Minister St. Laurent, asked by a reporter outside the House about the rumors, said the early recalling of Mr. Claxton hasn't been considered.

The defence department said the minister is due back Saturday. It has been hoped to end the pre-Christmas sittings of the House by Thursday.

In the minister's absence, one of Parliament's roughest battles in recent years has boiled up and his name is in the thick of it.

Several Progressive Conservative members, led by Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East), a wartime artillery colonel, Tuesday demanded that Mr. Claxton resign because, they said, full responsibility for the breakdown rests on his shoulders. Col. Harkness accused the minister of dereliction of duty.

WITHDRAWS REMARK

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, contended that Mr. Claxton has forfeited the right to have his word accepted by the House because of alleged differences between things the minister has said and things in the Currie report. He withdrew this remark on the instructions of Speaker Ross Macdonald but argued that "the facts speak for themselves."

One private Liberal member discussed the report. F. G. Robertson (L—Northumberland), a squadron leader in the medical branch of the RCAF in the last war, said persons in the defence department guilty of "disgraceful conduct" should be "ruthlessly punished."

He was sure the government would see that they were. It should not be forgotten that it was the government that launched the Currie investigation and that most of those guilty already were prosecuted.

The day was a tense one.

In the midst of the battling, a battle made strange by the fact that the government was letting the opposition do almost all the talking, the Commons found itself voting on a Social Credit amendment which mounted to a motion of want-of-confidence in the government.

The Conservatives sided with the Liberals to crush the amendment to the policy-setting throne speech by a vote of 118 to 20. Mr. Drew had explained earlier that his party could not vote for the amendment because it was founded on "disastrous" Social Credit theories.

Mr. Drew joined other members of his party in accusing the government of planning to try to throw the blame for unsatisfactory conditions on the army general staff. The government was looking for a scapegoat.

The blame rested in one place, on Mr. Claxton and the cabinet as a whole. The "pompous facade" with which the government had so long covered the defence effort had been torn away.

The Currie report indicated plainly that the situation demands a full-fledged and independent inquiry and he suggested that it should be made by the same George S. Currie accounting firm of Montreal which investigated the army works services. The inquiry should cover the whole question of organization and accounting in the defence department.

QUESTIONS DELAY

Mr. Drew noted that the Currie report was dated Nov. 26 and not tabled in the Commons until Monday, Dec. 15, a week after the government says the defence department received it.

He would like to know, he said, what happened to the report between Nov. 26 and Dec. 15 and he requested a government reply to CCF statements that it was changed. He said Mr. Claxton, in replying to questions in the weeks before the report was tabled, stated that no interim report had been received.

Yet the Currie report said "interim suggestions made by me during the investigations have already been seized on and important reforms are already being carried out." This, said Mr. Drew, raises the question whether any member can again accept Mr. Claxton's word.

Mr. Wright accused the government of being "more interested in protecting the people they are investigating than in protecting the people's money." He said this was borne out by tabling of a memo by Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds, chief of the general staff, in which exception was taken to some phases of the Currie report.

The government had put irregularities down as petty pilfering. They were far more serious. And there was no excuse at all for the fact that army auditors' warnings of unsatisfactory conditions were ignored time and again.

Mr. Fleming suggested that the government might try to make a scapegoat out of Mr. Currie, but that would be "biting off a great deal more than they can chew."

Earlier statements by Mr. St. Laurent had indicated his belief that the government should not be held responsible for the Petawawa thefts.

NEEDS LESSON

"Well," said Mr. Fleming, "if that is all the prime minister has learned about the essense of responsible government, then it is high time he made way for somebody who does understand those elementary principles."

At the night session, Hazen Argue (CCF—Assiniboia) said he was amazed at the contents of the report and that if the defence department had been doing its job the irregularities could not have occurred. For that and other reasons, he urged the calling of an election as soon as possible.

Mr. Low expressed concern on three aspects of the report: its substantiation of past warnings that there should be safeguards against dishonesty and graft it in the defence program; indications that officials in responsible positions have winked at wrongdoings; and the "shocking revelation" that there were two differing copies of the report.

The government should now "crack down hard" on those responsible for the irregularities "and it must not overlook those in the top positions, for they are guilty, no doubt about that."

Mr. Garson spoke only briefly on the Currie affair. He said the evidence that came out in the Petawawa trials established clearly that, whatever the merits or demerits of the Army's accounting system, the conditions at Petawawa indicate that what happened was not attributable to the system but to human frailty by those who occupied senior positions in the Army works company.

(Two engineer officers were among those prosecuted, one a major, the other a captain.)

These men were determined to advance their own ends through circumvention of regulations and falsification of records. In any large organization such as the Army, it was necessary to delegate authority and rely on human honesty. No system could prevent dishonesty.

It behooved all members in a case such as this to withhold judgment until the defence committee had a chance to study whether the system was bad.

Would Abolish Separate Schools Senator Says

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator R. B. Horner (PC—Saskatchewan) suggested Tuesday in the Senate that the solution to high taxation is abolition of separate schools.

Senator Horner said during the throne speech debate that "if we could agree to send our children to one school, without the cost of maintaining separate schools, a huge saving at the municipal level would result."

"Further, it would demonstrate to the world an example of unity in Canada."

He said children attend school only six hours a day, five days a week. At other times "surely enough religion could be taught."

SEE EXAMPLES

"We see in other countries of the world examples of the government being controlled by the church. Indeed, the Russian revolution was to some extent brought about by interference by the church. . . .

"I feel quite keenly about this subject. . .I feel that the time will come when the change I suggest will take place."

He said he had watched bitterness grow as a result of children's attending different schools.

"As far as my religious beliefs go, I am not concerned, as to where my children attend school.

"I think that the fact that some are bitterly opposed to one school is an admission of weakness on their part.

Senator Horner said he still believes that the baby bonus "was a vicious political move at that time."

He said the measure did nothing to solve the problem of juvenile crime. And all old-age pensions accomplished was to lead people to desert the principle to honor their parents and "shove them out on an old-age pension."

Jury Decides Footman Insane

MANCHESTER, Eng. (CP)—Guilty but insane was the verdict Tuesday in the case of a snub-nosed young footman who wounded the Countess of Derby, 32, and killed two butlers with a sub-machine-gun in the Derbys' country mansion last Oct. 9.

The footman, Harold Winstanley, 19, was sentenced to an indefinite term in the Broadmoor prison for the criminally insane at the close of a one-day trial. The jury gave its verdict without retiring.

Winstanley pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity. Defence lawyer Rose Helbron made much of testimony, by other servants who witnessed the shootings, that the footman had a "mad look" in his eyes. The butlers he killed were Walter Stallard and Douglas Stuart.

Ends Canadian Tour

MONTREAL (CP)—Lord Provost James Miller of Edinburgh left Canada for home by air Tuesday after a three-week, 12,000-mile goodwill tour of Eastern Canada and the United States. Before his departure he said business people he had met during the tour were interested in Scottish goods but he believed more should be done to emphasize the goods were of Scottish origin.

IKE ARRIVES HOME—Behind a battery of microphones, President-elect Dwight Eisenhower waves to welcoming crowds at LaGuardia airport in New York upon his return from Korea. The 40,000-mile trip took him fifteen days. He said troops in Korea were doing "just fine."

Bush Pilot Said Missing

WINNIPEG (CP)—A light aircraft carrying a bush pilot on a short flight in the Northwest Territories Tuesday night was reported three days overdue at its blizzard-swept destination, 375 miles northwest of Churchill, Man.

The RCAF said a search will be launched as soon as weather clears enough to permit planes to land at Churchill.

The pilot is Gunnar Laurell, a veteran of the Swedish Air Force, now working for Arctic Wings of Churchill. He took off from a nickel mining development at Ferguson Lake Saturday on a 125-mile flight to Baker Lake.

Minister Dies In Saskatoon, Served In City

Rev. Dr. William M. Mackay, 81, of Weston, Ont., who died in Saskatoon Monday night, was assistant at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Peterborough during the ministry of Rev. Dr. Torrance nearly 50 years ago.

In that association and service he was also minister at Knox Church which was then virtually a mission of St. Paul's in the Presbyterian communion. That charge was in the first years of Knox when its congregation worshipped in the building on the church property on Reid St. which is now used for congregational meetings. Mr. Herb J. McCannan, now one of the elder members of Knox, said today that he remembered the Rev. Dr. Mackay quite well as a young minister.

The Rev. Dr. Mackay was graduated from the University of Toronto and received his degree in theology from Knox College in 1906. His pastorates included Peterborough, Harriston, Weston, Sault Ste. Marie and Agincourt. He was for 20 years missionary for Northern Ontario and Manitoba in the Presbyterian Church in Canada. He leaves his wife and one son, the Rev. Eoin Mackay, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Saskatoon, with whom he was visiting.

Funeral services will be at Weston on Friday.

his leader, M. J. Coldwell—he is sick—and see whether any further CCF statement could be made.

Mr. St. Laurent said he is curious about when the final copy of the Currie report was completed and signed because it was dated Nov. 26 but didn't come to the department until Dec. 8. However, he felt it would "be improper for me" to take the question up with Mr. Currie because "I don't want to interfere" in any way.

DOESN'T KNOW

It was Mr. Knowles who asked whether it is customary to refer advance reports of this kind to the government department under investigation.

Mr. St. Laurent said he couldn't say. He had never been an investigator. But he was quite surprised to find that it had been done in this case. It was a consequence of the fact that much of the factual material the Currie representatives got had come from the department. It was not illogical that they would want to make a last check of them before closing out the inquiry.

Mr. St. Laurent said Mr. Drury had informed defence minister Claxton that the Currie firm had suggested that the department look over an advance copy of the report and that Mr. Claxton had agreed to this but had told Mr. Drury to be careful to confine any suggestions purely to facts.

DID GET COPY

He recalled that when the CCF asked Monday whether any other copies but the final one had come to the department he had replied that to his knowledge they had not. That was the information he then had. However, he had since discovered that one draft copy did go to Mr. Drury Nov. 27.

Mr. Drury had informed Mr. Claxton that he had it but the minister said he didn't want to see it. On Dec. 1, Mr. Drury saw a Currie representative.

That was the day, the Prime Minister recalled, that Mr. Drew asked Mr. Claxton in the Commons about the tabling of the report and the minister had said he hadn't been in touch with the Currie firm but his deputy had and it was expected the report would be available in a week or two.

Mr. Claxton had also said there was no interim report.

Mr. St. Laurent said Mr. Claxton knew there was a draft and that a final report was expected to come in a week or two. He had informed the House when the report was expected.

EIGHT ERRORS

Mr. St. Laurent listed eight "apparent errors in fact" which Mr. Drury had drawn to the attention of the Currie firm. Some were accepted, some weren't.

It had been pointed out that the department had explained that a dam built at Petawawa for $3,000 to $4,000 had been built for a fire-fighting reservoir. The firm had "apparently not been impressed." The report said use of the dam "is not clear"

The department had pointed out that the ornate rocking horse built for an officer's child by a soldier on army time was not built at Petawawa. This was not accepted either, apparently because the Currie representative said the man who received the horse as a gift was stationed in Petawawa.

In another case, the Currie firm agreed to drop a reference to the construction of a $1,700 cottage at Petawawa when it was pointed out that a corporal had been charged in court over that incident and had been acquitted.

In other cases, figures were changes and tenses changed.

NOT CHANGED

However, a section dealing with the theft of 12,000 bags of cement had not been changed even though the department told the firm that investigation had cut the estimate down to 2,000 to 3,000 bags" which unusual."

Mr. St. Laurent said only the one draft copy of the report came to Mr. Drury and that it remained with him until it was returned to the Currie firm. In the meantime, it would seem to be indicated that come from the department.

The Prime Minister, replying to a question from Mr. Knowles, said he understands Mr. Drury discussed one question arising from the draft with the army adjutant-general. The discussion concerned investigations started into the Petawawa irregularities before the anonymous letter which the Currie report says started the whole investigation.

When Howard Green (PC-Vancouver-Quadra) asked if Mr. St. Laurent considers it proper for a department under investigation to have a chance to examine a report before it is final, the Prime Minister said he wasn't going to discuss the question of propriety.

He said both the report and the Simonds memo taking exceptions to part of it should be examined by the Commons defence committee might be called before it to testify.

The committee will not sit until after the Christmas recess.

NOT INFORMED

In reply to further questions from George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, the Prime Minister said he does not know if the draft report was discussed with Gen. Simonds.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC (PC-Nanaimo) wanted to know if Mr. Currie and the chief of the general staff would be called before the parliamentary defence committee.

Mr. St. Laurent replied he knew little of army regulations and the army set-up, but he imagined the committee would want to call Mr. Currie and perhaps Gen. Simonds.

"I would be surprised if the chief of the general staff would not be anxious to go before the committee," he added.

Obituary

MRS. WILLIAM J. NISBETT

NORWOOD (ENS) — Resident of Harvey township nearly all her life and organist of Knox Presbyterian Church, Lakehurst, for 20 years, Mrs. William Joseph Nisbett died Tuesday at the age of 74 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clare Telford, RR 3, Norwood.

Mrs. Nisbett was born in Otonabee township, daughter of the late Archibald Wilson and Anne Stephenson. Her maiden name was Annie Isobel Wilson. When she was just six weeks old, the family moved to Harvey township, and she spent the rest of her life there until a year and a half ago when she went to live with her daughter, Mrs. Clare Telford in Asphodel township.

Mrs. Nisbett was educated at SS 2, Harvey and was a member of Knox Presbyterian Church, Lakehurst and its organist for 20 years as well as being a member of the Lakehurst WMS.

Her husband died 10 years ago. She is survived by a daughter Mrs. Clare Telford (Clara), one sister, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, RR 3, Norwood and two brothers, James Wilson of Keene and David Wilson, RR 4, Peterborough.

The funeral service will be held Thursday at three p.m. at Knox Presbyterian Church in Lakehurst. Burial will be in Lakehurst cemetery. The body is resting at the home of her daughter.

Prices Still Weak On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP) — Prices continued weak in listless early afternoon stock market trading today, with only industrials making even a small gain.

Western oils recovered from early weakness as Britalta and Albermont gained. Mid-Continent and Roxana traded actively for small gains while Western Leaseholds slipped. A list of small losses outnumbered gains, but leading issues rose.

Industrials traded lightly with manufacturing companies, miscellaneous issues and utilities leading the upward groups. Retail stores and papers slipped.

Holding companies held firm in golds but other groups slipped in light trading. Powell Rouyn gained strength in juniors while New Dickenson traded lower. Bevcourt and Heath, both prospects, dropped pennies. Ventures led the holding companies gains.

Higher-priced base metals mixed and others followed. United Asbestos and Osisko made good gains in active trading. Estella and Bellekeno also added pennies but East Sullivan slipped.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP) — The American dollar was at a discount of 2¼ per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Tuesday's noon rate was 97 cents. The pound sterling was 2.73, against 2.71 15-16 Tuesday.

Bus In River, Driver Saves 14 Passengers

FORT ERIE, Ont. (CP) — A 42-year-old Gray Coach driver herded 14 screaming passengers to safety here Tuesday when his 12-ton bus crashed into the swirling Niagara river.

William Ackroyd kiked out the windshield to free the passengers when his vehicle, previously identified as a Canada Coach Line Bus, went out of control on the Niagara parkway, smashed into a tree, rolled on its side and slithered into three feet of water, jamming the emergency exit door on the under side.

EVERYONE SCREAMING

"Everyone forgot the children and were screaming and shouting," said a passenger, Mrs. Yvonne Ackroyd of Toronto. "Until the bus driver smashed the windshield they were all scrambling over each other," she said.

Another eight yards from where the bus stopped, the water drops to a depth of 35 feet.

Three passengers required hospital treatment. Rozanne Dumitrie, 23, of Toronto suffered broken ribs. Paul Bajko, 30, of Milligan College, Tenn., suffered cuts to the left ear and his 6½- months-old daughter, Yvonne, suffered head injuries and bruises.

Four other passengers were slightly injured. The bus was eastbound from Buffalo to Toronto.

Hear Simonds May Resign

TORONTO (CP)—The Telegram said Tuesday in a dispatch from Ottawa that Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds is threatening to resign as chief of the Canadian Army general staff over the Currie report on defence spending.

"Gen. Simonds was closeted for several hours this morning with ranking defence department officials," the story said. "He is reported to have told some fellow officers that he will resign unless the government acts quickly to absolve him from all blame in connection with yesterday's disclosures of inefficiency and waste in the handling of defence spending."

Canada Grants U.S. Lease

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada is granting a 20-year lease to the United States on a 7,000-acre stretch of the big Goose Bay, Nfld. Airport to enable the U.S. to erect new air force facilities, the government announced today.

Canada honored the pre-Confederation 99-year leases the U.S. holds on four military bases in Newfoundland but this is believed to be the first time she has otherwise leased part of her soil to a foreign power for defense purposes.

Immigration Minister Harris, acting external affairs minister, tabled in the Commons an exchange of notes between the two governments picturing this as another piece of co-operation under the North Atlantic Treaty.

It was disclosed recently that Canada has authorized the U.S. to base fighter squadrons at Goose Bay from time to time.

The note made clear that the overall command of the joint base —the RCAF is there, too—will continue to be in Canadian hands and that the laws of Canada will be in force throughout the base.

They indicate that the U.S. plans a full-fledged modern airport there with radar and other devices. Mr. Harris said that the lease "is to enable the USAF to replace wartime construction and to construct additional facilities."

The Goose Bay Airport was built in 1942 by Canada "as a stepping-stone along the North Atlantic and Arctic airways," Mr. Harris said. Since the war, it has been used to supply northern weather stations and for search and rescue work.

Television Sets Presented To Two Homes

Three telegision sets have been presented to the House of Providence and the Anson House by the Peterborough Lions Club. This is the club's second major project this year.

This summer the club built a wading pool at the McKellar tot-lot for small children, shortly after completing payments on the club pool at Riverside Park. Since then the club has concentrated on raising funds for social work in the city.

The money for the various projects, especially the TV sets, was raised through the August carnival and the bi-monthly bingos, conducted by the club at the Brock Street Arena.

This week two TV sets were officially presented to the Anson House, to chairman of the board James Hamilton. Two sets were necessary at the Anson House because the men and women are segregated, one set being required for each sitting room.

The sets have been installed already and are working. There is some interference believed caused by the nearby power house. Club officials are checking on the interference to provide better reception.

Only one TV set was required at the House of Providence where the official presentation was made to Sister Ursuline, superintendent. There the set has been installed in one of the corridors and chairs will be arranged for all to watch the programs.

Reception at the House of Providence is good. Tuesday afternoon when the Lions Club members visited the people there, the set was receiving programs from four channels, including the test signal from Toronto's CBLT.

ELDERLY PEOPLE at the Anson House and House of Providence will be spending their time inside for a while. For this week the Lions Club presented both homes with TV sets. Geddes Harper, club president (left, top photo), officially presents the TV set to James Hamilton, chairman of the Anson House board. Club members Herb Jamieson, Tom Doughty and George Murray chat with Sisters Ursuline, superintendent of the House of Providence (lower photo) about the excellent reception there. The sets were bought with proceeds from the club carnival and bi-monthly bingos—(Examiner Staff Photos).

Town Planning Conference Set For January

LINDSAY — (ENS)— Lindsay will be the site next month of a six-county conference on town planning, according to information read last night at the final meeting for 1952 of the Lindsay council.

Clerk W. R. Allely read a letter from the Provincial Department of Planning and Development in which Lindsay was requested to be host for a conference, starting Jan. 17, of county and provincial officials from Northumberland, Durham, Peterborough, Ontario, Haliburton and Victoria counties. Mr. Allely told council that approximately 150 guests would be expected, and many outstanding speakers would be present.

Industrial commissioner Dan McQuarrie will be chairman of the committee set up by council to take care of the arrangements for the conference. Other members will be Mayor Charles Lamb, Alderman Stevens, Baker and McQuarrie, the only members of this years aldermanic section who will return next year.

Last nights meeting brought congratulations to the members of council from Mayor Lamb and town clerk Allely.

Mayor Lamb congratulated the council as a whole and extended condolences to Alderman Peirce, Cote and Burrows, who were defeated in this year's election. Reeve Butler, returned for another term, referring to the recount in this years mayoral race, commented "not only has Mayor Lamb been elected twice this year, but he has also proved to be a winner at curling."

Members of council were unanimous in their approval of the work of the town clerk Allely and extended their thanks for the work he has done.

Charge Smuggling

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist press in East Germany today accused the "American secret service" of sending pistols, ammunition and other equipment to their agents in the Soviet zone under the guise of Christmas gifts.

U.S. Says Jap Leftist Writer Accused Of Spying Asks Shelter

TOKYO (AP) — The United States told Japan Monday that leftist writer Wataru Kaji was involved in a Communist spy ring and appealed to U.S. authorities for shelter from his Communist bosses, a highly-reliable source said today.

The source reported:

The American note to the Japanese foreign office said Maji was lying when he told Parliament he was held illegally by American counter - intelligence agents for more than a year.

The note also told of American efforts to smash a Communist spy ring operating in Japan since at least 1951.

The note was delivered to the foreign office in response to questions about Kaji's allegations. Both American embassy and Japanese officials refused to discuss the note.

A foreign office spokesman told a press conference Tuesday that Japanese police were investigating the spy ring.

A Japanese radio operator has been arrested for broadcasting illegal messages to Vladivostok and North Korea. He said he sent them for the Communists only after sbowing them to U.S. authorities.

A member of the Soviet mission in Japan was involved in the ring, Japanese newspapers reported.

Kaji was reported to be a close associate of the No. 2 Japanese Communist, Sanzo Nozaka.

The source said the American note made these points:

Kaji's story was an attempt to convince his Communist bosses he was held under duress. Actually he was not.

American agents discovered while investigating the spy ring that espionage headquarters communicated with its agents through Japanese intermediaries. U. S. agents laid a trap and caught Kaji. Kaji admitted being a Communist intelligence officer and said his life was in danger because he had confessed. He pleaded for refuge because of fear of his Communist bosses and because he was ill of tuberculosis and needed treatment.

Kaji was offered shelter and medical care. He was released prior to April 28, when the peace treaty went into effect.

Deny Claxton Plans To Return Early

PARIS (Reuters) — An official of the Canadian delegation to the North Atlantic council meeting today denied reports that Defence Minister Brooke Claxton intended returning home early to answer charges arising out of the Currie report of a "general breakdown of control" in the army works service.

He said Claxton would stay in Paris until the end of the meeting, expected Thursday, as planned, and then fly back to Canada.

The minister refused to comment on the Currie report alleging irregularities in the stores branch of the army. He has seen the document.

He had not heard of demands for his resignation in connection with the charges.

Niagara Firm Gets Conestoga Contract

KITCHENER (CP)—H. G. Acres and Company of Niagara Falls Tuesday night were named engineers for the $5,000,000 Conestogo dam contract.

William Philp, chairman of the Grand river conservation commission, said work on the dam near Glen Allan, about 20 miles northwest of here, could start by May 1.

The dam is designed to curb spring flooding of the Conestoga river, a tributary of the Grand River. It will create a lake six miles long.

Admits Morals Charge

COBOURG (ENS)—Appearing in police court charged with carnal knowledge of a 14-year-old girl Harold Landon, 40-year-old construction worker of Ida pleaded guilty and was remanded until Friday for sentence. The initial investigation was carried out by Peterborough provincial police. Statement was taken by Prov. Const. Lyle Erskine of Cobourg. No other evidence was given in court.

Rescue Trapped Man

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Manuel Martinez, 38, was rescued Tuesday after being trapped for four days beneath a load of steel in a railroad freight car. The station master heard Martinez' cries for help and called firemen. Martinez said he climbed aboard the car Saturday. When the train started to move, the jolt shifted the load, and a heavy steel sheet pinned his hips against the side of the car.

Couple Arraigned For Having Ore

BERLIN (AP) — A West German couple today was arraigned before a United States high commission court on charges of illegal possession of about six pounds of high-grade uranium ore.

Helmut Goeltzer, 40, and Gisela Nitzke, 24, were jailed for trial next month.

The prosecution charged Goeltzer tried to sell the uranium ore to the Max Planck Institute, a scientific research organization in West Berlin, for 65,000 marks ($15,500). The origin of the uranium ore was not disclosed.

Explosion In House Six Children Burned

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Six children were burned to death and their parents and sister were severely burned after an explosion and fire destroyed their three-room house early today.

The dead, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Bryant, are Ruth Ann, 9; Patsy, 8; Billie, 6; Ronnie, 4; Jean, 2 and Johnny, 9 months.

Deputy sheriff Johnny Hardin said the fire and explosion apparently occurred when the father used kerosene to start a fire.

Mountbatten In Command

The capacities and personality of Lord Mountbatten have already been notably demonstrated in difficult positions where he was both leader and mediator. We think, for instance, of his superb statesmanship in India, as last Viceroy. Again Mountbatten is called to high position in which national interests and prejudices abound, and yet where decisive leadership is required. His appointment to command NATO naval forces in the Mediterranean ends a dispute between Britain and the United States. Britain has traditionally ruled the Mediterranean waves, but the United States now has the greatest fleets. The American acceptance of Mountbatten shows respect for and confidence in him personally, if not in the British naval tradition and command. But the appointment is also a compromise. The powerful U.S. Sixth Fleet, based on Naples, will be outside his command and remain under the American Admiral Robert B. Carney. This feat of division has been achieved on the fiction that the Sixth Fleet is a fleet for support of land operations in southern Europe. Thus the American Carney and the British Mountbatten are equal in status and both report directly to General Ridgway. Should active NATO operations ever begin, that fiction of separate naval roles will be speedily dispelled.

* * *

Conflicting national claims to command have always disturbed allied harmony. Haig's biography, recently published, clearly reveals his resentment of Foch, who was Generalissimo over all Allied land forces in the last years of the Great War. Haig felt that the British forces did most of the work of winning the war, that Foch was incapable and a blunderer to be spurned as well as scorned, and that no British general should have to knuckle under to a French general. Lloyd George played international politics and appeased French pride (as well as playing off Haig, whom he did not like) by concurring in the Foch appointment as supreme commander. In these appointments to supreme commands, the weight of the national arms, not the skill of the commander, decides who shall be supreme. Hence Eisenhower during the war and now Ridgway are supreme commanders, because the U.S. has the guns, the men, the ships and the money; in other words, the power. Hence Admiral Mountbatten is not supreme on the Mediterranean. The U.S. is not going to let its great Sixth Fleet get out of American hands.

A Huff Against The Tobacco Industry

The Ontario air is being rent by pleas, the Ottawa sanctums by prayers, from the tobacco industry. The geeing and hawing is coming from two directions: tobacco growers whose markets have been curtailed, they say, and who want retail prices reduced so more Canadians will smoke more of their weed, and the manufacturers, who want the tax reduced, so more people will smoke more of their reefers.

The petitions and charges have reached as far as the land of wheat and oil, where people grow what they consider to be wholesome food on good soil, and whose purses are sufficiently oiled that they do not need to worry whether cigarettes are 30 or 39 cents a package. From this detached prairie comes the voice of the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix, making a case so violently that we pause between our puffs.

The Star-Phoenix's sensibilities are so numbed by "repeated onslaughts upon the public purse made by special interest of one kind or another" that it cannot "absorb without a struggle the growing demands of the Canadian tobacco industry for government intervention to protect it against falling export markets." The Star-Phoenix's struggle is voiced in these heated words:

> We have paid for the past thirty years an exorbitant and entirely unjustified ransom to an industry which economically does not deserve to survive in Canada at all. We have contributed to raising the value of rather poor farm land from a few dollars an acre to four or five hundred dollars an acre. Successive governments have engineered the tariff so that Britain bought a large part of our production despite the fact that were it not for the Imperial preferences, she could have saved millions of dollars by buying elsewhere. Then, to add insult to injury, the taxmen linking arms with this elaborately protected industry have heaped tax upon tax until they have turned millions of Canadians into smugglers or supporters of smugglers.

We do not particularly like its smug slander of our tobacco-growing Ontario soil. Admittedly, it is not our best soil, but who is a Saskatoon paper to exalt by inference its own puny wheat-growing earth over Ontario's rich loam, producing twice as much wheat to the acre as Saskatchewan clay and sand? But we shall walk gently over this ground, and ask if the Star-Phoenix has forgotten the millions of dollars which western wheat farmers have got out of Ottawa in the past thirty years, the subsidies in bad crop times, the floor prices in good crop years?

The Saskatchewan newspaper tries to draw a line between protecting a healthy industry "like wheat farming" against short term reverses and government intervention to protect "an artificial industry which has never been healthy." The line cannot be drawn straight, even by the Star-Phoenix. What is so naturally healthy about wheat growing in the Palliser triangle? Why is Ottawa pouring millions into irrigation and damming rivers in the West? We suspect that the Western wheat industry is, in many spots, even in Saskatchewan, more artificial than the Ontario tobacco industry. At least, tobacco grows naturally in rather poor, dry soils. Saskatchewan should try it. Maybe the Ottawa subsidies paid on Western wheat could then be reduced.

No Tears For Suchan and Jackson

Suchan and Jackson were hanged by the neck early yesterday morning until they were dead. They were gangsters and murderers. That was why they were legally killed. Society rid itself of them, according to its own laws. They had a fair trial, their appeals were carefully and judiciously considered. There was not a shadow of doubt that they were guilty of the murder for which they were hanged. Yet hundreds of sobsisters and sentimental cretins petitioned for clemency or pardon for no good reason at all except their own lack of brains or fortitude of soul.

We can respect objections to the hangings based on matters of principle. Many Canadians do not believe in capital punishment and resent being party, however remotely, to a death sentence. We can understand objections on the grounds of inhumanity. Some people allege that hanging is state sadism and cruel, and urge that the electric chair or a firing squad replace the hangman's noose, as providing a quicker and kinder death. The sobbers, telegraph senders and petition signers to whom we refer are the ululating dupes of their own emotional shallowness. Their hearts, worn on the sleeve, jump to a great gob of sniffle out of their sleezy noses at every drop of a pin on a flea as well as the drop of a gallows' trap. Flabby-souled, sieve-minded, and chicken-hearted, they make us sick.

Christmas Upside Down

At three o'clock yesterday afternoon the sun shone bright, the sky was blue and puffed with white clouds, water ran in rills from sidewalks, the light on walls was luminous, and the lawns looked as if new green were appearing in patches. Such an April scene is remarkable only because yesterday was December 16th, in Ontario, and not in Tasmania. However, as in Tasmania, Peterborough people are going about their preparations for Christmas, but with the reasonable expectation that Christmas weather will not be precisely like the December summer of the Antipodes, and that there may, indeed, be snow and a snap in the air to whet appetites for the turkey and plum pudding.

Despite the lack of snow, the city streets are looking jolly, and even pretty. Evergreen trees decorate down-town lamp posts (suspended in the air in as an unnatural a condition as 150-pound angels with wings only a foot long) and the gay and neat streamers of red and green lights again arch the streets. The Salvation Army has dispersed its bands into squads which patrol the neighbourhoods with "Good King Wen las" and the little red collection pots. Christmas Eve is only a week away; it at least is not upside down, even if the weather is.

President Elected Monday

On Monday the United States elected a new President. The hullaballoo was stupendous, the excitement intense—you could have heard a pin drop if there hadn't been so much noise from Christmas shoppers. On Monday the Electoral College met, in 48 states. The gentlemen who met were authorized on November 4th, by sixty million Americans, to vote for the man whom they thought best for President. So on Monday the Electoral College chose a new President. Who is he? Ah! that's a secret. These gentlemen voted (as is becoming in a democracy) in secret; the decision of the Electoral College has been sealed in 48 envelopes and sent to the President of the United States Senate. On January 6th he will open these envelopes and tell an expectant world who has been elected President of the United States of America. As we were bowled over on Monday by the thrilling election across the border, so we are now prostrate with excitement until those envelopes are opened on January 6th and we learn the great news—the name of the next President of the U.S.

Everybody knows that money talks, but you will notice that it is very careful not to give itself away.

Christmas Grab - Bag

WHAT PEOPLE WORE, by Douglas Gorsline (Macmillan)

HERE IS A BOOK which every school should have in its library, which no Little Theatre that thinks well of itself should be without, and that nobody with even a sluggish interest in social history can afford to miss. Is substitle is "A Visual History of Dress from Ancient Times to 20th Century America", and it consists largely of pictures; there are 1,800 drawings and 12 plates in colour in the book. The drawings are from pictures illustrating contemporary dress, but they have the clarity which a book on costume should always try to provide.

Books about costume are usually of two kinds: they are illustrated with photographs of portraits, statuary and other source material, and thus they are as authentic as possible; however, such photographs cannot always give the detail which makes it possible for a modern designer and dressmaker to reproduce the costume effectively. The other kind of costume book is illustrated with drawings, and the value of the book varies with the skill and intention of the artist; if he wants to make pretty pictures, the book will have all the faults and none of the virtues of the previous, photographically-illustrated, sort; if he is not a skillful draughtsman he will unconsciously make all costumes of all periods bear a resemblance to one another which is unwarranted. The illustrator of the book under review, Douglas Gorsline, has capably managed to avoid this fault, by relying to an unusual degree on photographs and statuary for models for his drawings; his contribution is one of clarification.

All general costume books cover the same ground, but pages 181 to 248 of this book deal comprehensively with American clothing from 1840 to the present day, and this survey is invaluable. Here we see the clothing of the Wild West, not as Hollywood sees it, but as it was seen by travelling photographers and newspaper illustrators. A good book on this period, at a reasonable price, has long been needed, and Mr. Gorsline has filled that need. "The Showing-Up of Blanco Posnet" need never be presented in anything but authentic dress again, if the producer wants to be realistic.

A word about the use of this book as an accompaniment to history studies. I have never understood how children are expected to form any coherent and intelligent idea of historical eras and characters, if they do not know in what clothing they should imagine, them. Nor can a child appreciate "Ivanhoe" or "Pride and Prejudice" if it recognizes no difference between the garb of King Richard and that of Mr. Darcy. There are millions of children who have not a clue to the fascinating mysteries of historical dress, and whose minds are, to that extent, deprived of a richness which lies readily to hand. Give them this book. Give it to them at school, or at home. They need it to clothe the characters of their imagination.

SCIENTISM, MAN AND RELIGION, by D. R. G. Owen (Ryerson Press)

DR. OWEN IS A PROFESSOR of ethics and philosophy in Trinity College, Toronto. This book, an outgrowth of lectures on religious knowledge to first year students at Trinity is a wide-ranging scholarly examination of the old dichotomy between science and religion as it affects man and society. The author is particularly concerned with what he calls "scientism".

Acknowledging that "scientific progress is one of the unquestionable achievements of modern age", he calls attention to the limitations of the scientific method, to the incapability of science to deal with the human spirit and with values. Even if our knowledge of natural laws were one day complete "we should still be finite creatures, subject to the limitations of space and time, able to make use of the known laws of the universe but not to claim exemption from their operation". These limitations apply to physical sciences, the social sciences and psychology. In the two latter "scientism" is most pervasive and likely to be most misleading.

What is "scientism?" "Science . . . because of its accomplishments, has acquired tremendous prestige and has risen in spite of itself to a position of predominant authority in our age. As a result of this exaltation, science, in some quarters, has come to be worshipped as omniscient, omnipotent, and the bearer of man's salvation. Such an attitude to science is, of course, entirely unscientific. It must be carefully distinguished from science proper. We may call it scientism or scientolotry".

Dr. Owen identifies this false philosophy or idolatry from the eighteenth century to the present, in Hobbes, Comte, Marx (materialism and communism); in Rousseau, Freud, Nazis (naturalism and Nazism), and in Locke, Hume, pragmatism and bourgeois society (empiricism and capitalism).

This is a sincere and reasonable dissertation, and readable, despite an addiction to terms belonging to philosophic systematizers. The challenge of scientism which usurps the prestige, omniscience and omnipotence of religion, understandably excites a churchman who is both learned and religious; perhaps that is why relatively few pages are given to religion, the third part of its title. Whether it convinces depends on the reader's willingness to accept the basic premise of man having a soul and his life having a supra-universal significance.

A BOY IN THE HOUSE, by Mazo de la Roche (Macmillan)

AFTER SO MANY NOVELS about the Whiteoaks family, it is good to have this example of Miss de la Roche's great skill as a story-teller, to reassure us that her talent has not been subsumed in the demands of that vast work. This is a long short-story of atmosphere and suspense, admirably worked out.

The narration is by an author, Lindley, who takes apartments in an old house owned by two elderly sisters of decayed fortunes, Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Dove. Lindley's mind is occupied with the book he is writing, and what he sees of their lives is at those moments when they are living most intensely. To comfort their loneliness, the old ladies adopt an orphan boy of fourteen; Eddy is to live with them as a combination of servant and pet. He is lame, of an appealing nature, but of a warped mind, and he treasures two things—a sailor's knife which his father gave him, and the memory of seeing a woman ripped with a knife by her sailor husband when he found her with a lover.

The climax of the book is when Lindley finds Miss Dove murdered in the garden, with Eddy and Mrs. Morton present. Eddy suggests that Mrs. Morton did it, and offers to take the blame, as a child is not likely to be hanged. We never really learn which of them did the deed, but Lindley promises to help Eddy when he is released from the reformatory.

It is a measure of the author's skill that she presents this story, as a complete and satisfactory action, in 124 pages, having established her four characters firmly, and created an atmosphere in which what happens seems not only credible, but inevitable. The scene of the story is Canada. Canadian literature could well use many more stories of this high quality.

STABS IN THE BACK, by Vicky, (British Book Service)

VICKY IS THE HUNGARIAN cartoonist whose comment on politics and current affairs appear in the London News Chronicle; this book comprises some of his best work, and is introduced by his editor, R. J. Cruikshank. It is a book which Canadians who aspire to be political cartoonists should peruse, ponder, and peruse again. Vicky is not only a brilliant draughtsman—there are plenty of brilliant draughtsmen working for advertising agencies—but he is also a wit and a philosopher. He is also something of a chameleon, for he seems to be able to draw in imitation of the style of any artist of the past, when he wants to achieve a special effect by doing so.

In Canada we have no political cartoonist of any stature except Robert Lapalme, and he will not quit his native Quebec. Most of our self-styled cartoonists cannot even draw a likeness, and their Howes and Drews and Frosts and Coldwells are so alike that they have to be labelled so that we may recognize them. They are barren of ideas.

Like all but a few cartoonists in the U.S., their highest comic flight is a picture of one politician kicking another politician in the pants. They are illiterate. They lack fantasy. They are not like Vicky. Pictures cannot be explained in words. Look in Vicky's book and you will see what I mean.

FABLES FOR OUR TIME, by James Thurber (Musson Books)

THIS IS A WELCOME and timely reprint of a book Thurber produced in 1940, and which has in the interval become a minor classic of humour. The device of re-writing familiar fables, with comic surprise endings is a familiar one, and many a hack has attempted it; it is the measure of Thurber's mastery that he has succeeded fully. The trick is, of course, to write a new ending to the fable which will bear re-reading; that is where the many fail, and that is where Thurber shows his quality. He writes new fables which echo with memories of familiar fables, and they are so good that Aesop would have been proud to own them if Aesop had a sense of humour—which does not appear to have been the case.

As well as the fables, there are nine familiar poems, illustrated in Thurber's rude and powerful style. This book would make an admirable Christmas present for a friend with a sense of humour.

Letters To The Editor

EAST CITY FLOODS

Sir: A short time ago I suggested that a drain be constructed running parallel with the canal on the east side and emptying in the canal south of the Liftlock to stop the flood which occurs every spring. On Nov. 30 Mr. Cranley of 266 Euclid Avenue, and I viewed the proposition from different angles and came to the conclusion it is impracticable.

His worship the mayor and city engineer, after discussing the proposition with the board of works, reached the same conclusion. I admit I was wrong, but it is an ill wind that does not do someone some good, and this has brought the situation as it exists more to a chance of getting action.

Mrs. Cranley pulled two of her children to safety, although one child would have drowned if Mrs. Cranley had failed to reach the child. A matter of seconds too late would have been the loss of her child.

I have now decided the most practical way is to continue the culvert, which is under the canal, through to the river. It would pass through Mr. J. Parnell's and Mr. Hunter's property, cross Euclid Avenue and save building a new bridge crossing over property to Caddy Street and on through to the river in a southwesterly direction.

If this had been done, the cost of constructing the Caddy St. bridge could have been reduced.

However, this has been built and I hope it will be as easy to get the other work done.

We take pride when we speak of our beautiful buildings and other accomplishments, but the east ward has to have the one scar which it carried for nearly 50 years.

How will we balance the cost of this construction with the loss of children if they are drowned?

There is property which cannot be built on when we have the floods, which would soon be built on and improved.

There is time to include the cost of this work in estimates for 1953, or at least enough voted to build part of it.

If this is not done I will come to the conclusion the City Council does not consider it our responsibility, and the Federal government should be asked to accept responsibility for conditions as they exist, and I am not so sure that the Provincial Health Department would not wish to stop the unhealthy condition which exists in contaminated waters which constitutes the floods.

Sincerely yours,
MAURICE B. KETCHESON.

STRAW AND CAMEL'S BACK

Sir: Relative to the decision of the Police Commission as told in your columns of Friday, December 12, to create three "new positions" within the police department (purposely to increase salaries in two of the three instances), I feel that the commission are hasty to hear the words of commendation from the chief of police, but reluctant to see the immediate and potential additional burden on the taxpayers.

Insofar as personalities appear in the news article, it would not be unfair to mention one of them here for purposes of illustration. To quote the chief of police as per your report: "Clarke has shown himself to be a very capable officer and has been instrumental in cleaning up several cases in the city and vicinity of late."

True, good for Clarke, that's his job, and for such reasons was taken from the constables' ranks and made a detective (with increase of pay at that time as well, I presume).

Can "new positions" be found for school teachers, firemen or boards of works employees, etc., if they see fit to go about their work with reasonable zeal and fidelity?

I am not driving at Clarke. I too think he's doing a good job, but that's the work he set out to do, not only as a detective, but from the day he was sworn in as a police constable in 1937—15 years ago (which isn't extremely long ago).

A basic pay of $67.31 per week (plus clothing allowance, and I presume cost of living bonus), is quite a tidy sum for "cleaning up several cases in the city and vicinity of late."

This city of Peterborough still hasn't reached a population of 40,000, and is not comparable in size to a metropolis like Toronto. Therefore, let us not swell our vests until we grow a lot more. When this happens we will have a much larger number of taxpayers who at that time might be the better enabled to pay such salaries and create "new positions" in all civic departments where servants of the city are employed.

I, Mr. Editor, am one of those taxpayers who feels that items such as mentioned above will become the "straw that broke the camel's back," and for this reason am making an exception to my own rule and expressing myself through your columns.

TAXPAYER.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum . . . And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people. Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat, up and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.

And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, That God hath visited his people . . . And in the same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight. (Luke 7: 1, 11-16, 21.)

Britain Girded As Never Before In Her Peacetime History '53 Approaches

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—With more than 1,200,000 men and women under arms backed up by a civilian force of some 1,500,000 on armament production, Britain faces the new year girded as never before in her peacetime history.

In an effort to forestall the possibility of war, Britons have dug deeply into dwindling resources and steeled themselves to continued austerity. But they face 1953 with a low conviction that they and their allies finally are strong enough to deal with any attack that might be launched against them.

Prime Minister Churchill recently gave added fillip to the belief that the danger of a head-on clash with Soviet Russia and her Communist satellites was receding, by scaling down Britain's huge budget earmarked for defence.

ORIGINAL PROGRAM

Original plans, drawn up in 1951 by the former Socialist government, called for a three-year spending program of some $13,600,000,000. This was subsequently stretched to cover a period of four years because of the country's financial plight.

Effective next year the government has decided to peg defence production at an annual expenditure of about $1,680,000,000. This, the prime minister said, was done not only to safeguard the nation's solvency but to halt production of weapons and equipment being superseded by new and better types.

The latest reduction, Mr. Churchill explained, in no way implied any weakening of the country's resolve to defend itself or fulfil its obligations to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In fact, he made it known there was no immediate hope of cutting down the strength of Britain's forces. If she were to do so, instead of setting an example to the Western continental powers, he said it might bring about an almost complete collapse of NATO.

HUGE ARMS OUTLAY

During the fiscal year ending next April 30, Britain is committed to an arms outlay of nearly $3,769,920,000, distributed among the three services as follows: army, $1,460,200,000; navy, $1,000,440,000; air force, $1,309,280,000.

This represents approximately 12.8 per cent of the nation's gross annual income, and a higher percentage of defence outlay than any other European member of the Western treaty set-up.

Any modifications of plans agreed upon at the recent NATO meetings in Paris will be announced in a government White Paper next February. But under the current program Britain eventually will be able to muster peacetime strength of 22 divisions for policing services abroad and duty at home, a considerable proportion armored.

Western Europe is also assured of a mighty bulwark of defence in the British Navy.

ADVANCED AIRCRAFT

In the air Britain has given super-priority to production of the more advanced types of aircraft, many still on the secret list. And operating with the expanding RAF are fully-trained United States and Canadian squadrons.

Special tribute to the efficiency of Canada's No. 1 fighter wing, based at North Luffenham in Rutlandshire, was paid by Mr. Churchill during a visit early in December by Defence Minister Brooke Claxton:

"Keep that wonderful wing of yours at North Luffenham forever" Mr. Churchill pleaded.

On the home front a strong fighting force is being mobilized as a precaution against possible invasion by air. Behind this force are the home guards as well as a highly-trained civil defence service.

Because of world commitments Britain has decided to retain the period of two years' national service.

Dr. Jordan Says

Excessive Fluids Are Removed In Treating Edema, Or Dropsy

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Whenever an excessive amount of fluid accumulates in the tissues, doctors call the condition edema and almost everyone else calls it dropsy.

The most common places for edema to develop are the feet (where the circulation has to work against gravity), the inside of the abdominal cavity, and the soft tissues just under the eyes. The reason is that fluid gathers more easily and can be carried off less promptly from these particular parts.

The presence of edema fluid is not a disease in itself. Dropsical fluid can accumulate and can be kept in the tissues for any one of a number of different reasons. Sometimes true disease is not present at all—as on a hot day when swelling often takes place in the feet and hands of a normal person.

One of the most common causes of edema is heart disease. When the heart is unable to do its full job of keeping the circulation going in a normal manner, slowing of the blood occurs. If this slowing is too great the blood is not pumped through the kidneys fast enough and therefore some of the fluids which should be eliminated from the body through the urine is retained.

In some cases of Bright's disease, or chronic nephritis, the kidneys themselves are not able to filter out fluid from the blood as they should. In this case, too, the fluid is simply not eliminated and is kept in the body.

There are other conditions which may produce dropsical accumulation of fluid, but probably the most common are the two mentioned. In all cases, therefore, when dropsy develops, it is important to find out what is causing it and to remove or remedy the cause whenever possible.

This cannot always be done and in such cases complicated measures are necessary. These may include special diets or medicines which alter the chemical substances in the blood so that more fluid can be carried off.

DRUGS INCREASE SECRETION

In some cases of dropsy is is possible to give drugs which are called diuretics. Diuretics have the ability, at least temporarily, to increase the secretion of fluid through the kidneys and its passage in the urine.

Sometimes excessive fluid can be taken off by puncturing the place where it has accumulated and allowing it to drain out. If fluid has collected inside the abdominal cavity it may be removed from time to time through a needle. In all cases of dropsy, therefore, the measures used must be adapted to the individual circumstances.

Toronto Officer On NATO Staff

FONTAINEBLEAU, France — Sqn. Ldr. Neale Harris, 36, of Toronto, has begun his new duties in logistics planning at headquarters of Allied Air Forces Central Europe, a six-nation tactical air force in which Canada is strongly represented.

Logistics at AAFCE, concerned with building up NATO air strength in Western Europe, is headed by another Canadian, Air Vice Marshal John L. Plant of Vancouver.

There are about 75 RCAF officers and airmen on duty at AAFCE headquarters, and one of the "shooting" organizations under AAFCE is a Canadian air division of F—86's being established in the vicinity of Metz, France. In AAFCE, Canadians work side by side with Americans, Belgians, Dutchmen, Englishmen and Frenchmen.

Harris, whose last duty was with the Air Material Command at Ottawa, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Harris of 3 Indian Valley Cres., Toronto. He recently completed an advanced course in logistics at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama.

Harris, who has been in service 12½ years, was accompanied to France by his wife, Mona, and two children, Mark, 9 and Holly, 6. They have established their home in Bois le Roi, a small city in the forest of Fontainebleau. AAFCE is 36 miles southeast of Paris on the Seine.

There are 24 Ontario people at AAFCE headquarters now, including the following six from Toronto: Grop Capt. Cavendish Carling-Kelly, Wing Cmdr. William H. Sweatman, Squ. Ldr. Earle, F. Monkman, FO Robert H. Mitchell, Cpl. Herbert S. Robar and Catherine E. McDonald.

Farm Organizations Told Responsibilities

ILDERTON (CP)—If agriculture becomes a "tragedy" for the producer it will be because farm organizations have failed in their job, Lawrence Kerr of Chatham said Tuesday night.

The Kent county farmer spoke at the annual meeting of the Middlesex crop improvement association.

Agriculture was becoming more complicated all the time Rising costs made farm management increasingly essential; innovations should be eyed carefully from the size of the farm business and their efficiency in livestock production, crop yield and labor efficiency before being adopted "holusbolus."

Uphold Plebiscite On Beverage Room

TEESWATER (CP)—The results of a plebiscite approving men's beverage rooms were upheld here Tuesday but the decision to allow women's beverage rooms was reversed.

A petition submitted a month ago asked for investigation of a vote held Sept. 4 which approved both by the required 60 per cent majority. The investigation by judge A. S. P. Burney of Owen Sound resulted in 15 votes being disallowed.

Teeswater is 35 miles south of Owen Sound.

TABLE TENNIS: THE SERVE

1 Ball should be hit to bounce on your side of the table first and then on opponent's side. Ball must be hit from behind the table, not from a position over the table surface. Serving hand must be open and flat as fingers hold the ball for serve.

2 Keep control of your serve by bouncing ball near the end of the table on your side. Bouncing ball too near the net will result in too many netted balls and lost points. Keep serve low.

3 Rules prohibit finger spins and rubbing ball against face of racket when serving. Use a forward stroke on a vertical plane for best control. Practise change of pace and positioning by getting your service under complete control.

Yes, it's "know-how" that counts in table tennis as in every sport — "know-how" that sets one performer above another. Learn the correct form — the "know-how" — then practise until you have mastered it and you'll get more fun and enjoyment out of your sports and game.

NOT A MAZURKA — It is Canadien Butch Bouchard coming to grips with Chicago's Bill Gardsby. This was the start of the embroglio which saw Butch win a clear-cut decision. He is trying to pull Gadsby's sweater over his head, in which he succeeded. The Canadiens won both the fight and the game.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Goal judges in hockey and lacrosse today receive some measure of protection from angry players and fans by being encased in a wire cage off the arena surface but directly behind the goal. There your judge calmly surveys the scene and flashes his light when a goal is scored. It was not always thus, and even today some rural rinks have goal judges heavily attired and waving a handkerchief to signify a score. Not so very long ago this was a common sight at all OHA games here and elsewhere. If a rink was dimly lit or smoke filled, folks at one end had a hard time trying to see if at the far end a more-or-less white hanky was being waved for a score.

* * * * * *

Not only did the goal judge of that time have a cold chore, he actually had a dangerous occupation. Had to duck high shots, step nimbly away from flashing sticks when play swirled back of a net, and indeed he often bore skate scars through a season. Nor was it unknown for an angry player—feeling his side had been gypped on a score—to plot harm for the luckless goal judge and get him "accidentally" ere the game ended. Ah, well, things are different here today. Frank Whatman is local goal judge at OHA and OLA tilts, and no player or fan clips him. He calls them properly for one thing. For another, he has a protective cage. Also, he's a big, husky fellow.

Selke Prizes These Sticks

Frank Selke of Montreal Canadiens possesses many of the most prized NHL sticks, and they're on display in the Forum of the French-Canadian metropolis. Among the sticks shown are the ones with which Rocket Richard scored his 200th and 300th goals, the hickory used for Chuck Conacher's 225th marker, those used for high scoring marks by Toe Blake, Lorne Carr, Sweeney Schriner, Syl Apps, Busher Jackson, Bill Mosienko, Woody Dumart, Milt Schmidt and Max Bentley. He also has the last stick used by Irvin (Ace) Bailey the night in Boston when the former Petes' senior star was injured so badly that he never played for the Leafs again, nor any other team.

* * * * * *

A lot of the high-priced hockey sticks this season are strictly light kindling wood. Every game sees a bunch of 'em broken. Wonder why. Junior puckists perhaps lay on the gad harder than older players in their stream-lined style of play, and they break more than their share of sticks. Speaking of juniors, our Oddfellows are at home tonight in OHA action as Lindsay comes here. And Belleville Hawklets have a postponed fixture here Friday night 'gainst the IOOF-ers to wind up a busy week for Doug Mortimer's young hustlers. Links are shooting for top spot in the group now and stepping fast. After Friday, there'll be no more OHA play here till well after Christmas.

* * * * * *

Lindsay Upsets the Links

The scrappy Scugog squad upset Oddfellows 6-3 last eve in Lindsay in a bruising battle, and the IOOF players didn't like it a bit. There'll be no love lost when these teams tangle at Civic this gloaming. The reverse lost ground for the Links in the keen race. Belleville trounced Oshawa Bees 9-3 the other night, and it was only the second loss so far for the Motor City pack. Kingston also trimmed Cobourg Jays 11-3. These results have changed the group standings around quite a bit in less than a week. Belleville are well out in front with 14 points, Kingston took over second slot with nine, IOOF and Lindsay now being tied for third with eight points each. Oshawa has five and Cobourg two.

* * * * * *

Ontario Minor Hockey Association will sponsor a puck meeting here Friday for managers, coaches, referees and other officials interested in the PMHA. It's Dec. 19 at 7.45 p.m. in Confederation School, open to all interested. Local managers are advised by Al Watkins to return their completed insurance forms right away to PMHA secretary Bill Dawson, so that they may be forwarded to the provincial body, thereby giving players the earliest possible protection. The premium is only a buck a season for each member, and you can't get accident insurance any cheaper than that. OMHA is kicking in, too, to provide the low premium for minor hockeyists.

Dealing 'Em Off the Cuff

Alex Duff, organizer and coach of Toronto Dolphinets Swim Club—well known here—died yesterday in Toronto....No. 2 Peterborough team won the annual E. Ont. B'nai B'rith bowling tourney held here....Three pro mat bouts on tap tonight at the Brock, headed by Flan and Brazil vs. the Texans in a team event....Prince of Wales juniors won 4-0 from May's, as Wilton James counted three of the markers....Red Sullivan is now tied for the AHL scoring leadership with Guyle Fielder, both having 31 points; Ike Hildebrand has 28....PMHA tilts tomorrow, starting at six: Bantam Aces vs. Shamrocks; midget Aces vs. Wolves; juvenile Marines vs. Havelock; Norwood vs. midget Shamrocks Aces vs. juvenile Shamrocks next night it's Swartz bantams vs. Trojans....Minor hockey contests next week will all be staged Monday evening in Civic Arena as Thursday is Christmas Day....Gaye Stewart has played for every NHL club but Boston....Petes play in Belleville on Friday and then have a layoff of more than a week....Passing Note: Women have sharper shopping elbows than men.

BOWLING TROPHY WINNERS—No. 2 team of Peterborough captured the Calvert Trophy last weekend at the fourth annual Eastern Ontario B'nai B'rith five-pin bowling tournament here. The competition drew three teams from Kingston, three from Peterborough, two from Oshawa and a Belleville entry. Peterborough has won it the last four years. Shown above are, left to right: Irv Cipin, Ben Abramsky, Phil Holland (No. 2 captain), Aaron Black and Art Goodier, who presented the trophy. Team members not in the picture are Ben Swartz and Joe Rogow. The winners rolled 3,350 pinnage. Dave Tobe, of Belleville, had high three of 742 and Joe Sugarman of Kingston top single of 279. Peterborough No. 3 team finished second and Kingston third.

Lindsay Juniors Beat IOOF By 6-3 In Rough Fray To Gain A Third-Place Tie

LINDSAY (ENS)—Lindsay juniors continued their winning ways here last night at the expense of the Triple Links from Peterborough, winning one of the wildest, weirdest hockey games seen here in some time, 6-3, to climb back into a third-place tie with the Links in the OHA junior "B" group standing. Referee Red Walsh of Toronto handed out a total of 106 minutes in penalties in the rough-house contest, including 25 minors, four majors, one misconduct and three match misconducts, following a late-game donnybrook that started in the Peterborough end and ended up in a fight near the Links' bench.

The game did little credit to either club, but there was one consoling fact, in case any of the fans went away with a bitter taste about the future of hockey. When the kids got down to cases, they provided the crowd one of the best for a junior game here this year, with good hockey.

PLAYERS MISSING

Lindsay went into the game with three regulars missing due to exams. Jack Graham, Ron and Garf Teel didn't start, and their places on the forward lines were filled by subs and defencemen. Coach Sixty Coombs juggled his lineup often, with only 13 men dressed, but Link mentor Doug Mortimer had almost as hard a time keeping track of his team members, when the third period penalty parade began.

The Petes went into a 1-0 lead in the last second of the first period, when Coyle coasted in on the boards, and caught the short side to put the puck behind Reg Traux. The opening frame was the most peaceful, if nothing else, with only five minors being called, three to the Links, two to Lindsay. The hockey was rough and neither team had any wide-open chances until Coyle's tally.

In th second, Clare Ferguson put the Link two up, scoring on a ganging play, and pushing a high screened shot behind Traux. Less than a minute later, Lindsay scored its first goal, Art Traux pulling the string on a pass-out from Tommy Hutton to cut the Link's margin.

Penalty time keeper Owen Johnston began to get practice for the third period, as the checks and tempers got rougher. Crawford of the home club, and Gar-Diner, of the Links, were chased and Coyle scored his second goal unassisted, on a long shot, that Traux got a glove on but couldn't hold, half a minute later. Lindsay began to press, and Bill Burns, a defenceman playing at centre, took a pass from Hal Williams, skated over the blue line, circled the net and tucked the puck behind Delahaye. Sixteen seconds later Hanley scored on a pass-out in front of the Pete's net, to tie the count and little more than a minute from the end of the period, Bill Williams scored what proved to be the winning goal from a faceoff in the Links' end, after Hutton and Sullivan had been chased.

A MAD PERIOD

The mad third period saw the local juniors score two more goals both off the stick of centreman Tommy Hutton within a minute after the half-way mark in the frame. The penalty lineup proved almost more interesting to the the fans, however, as referee Walsh tooted his whistle fast and often until the penalty box contained more players, at most times, than did the ice.

Robinson started the parade, early in the period, followed by Hutton, for tripping, and, less than a minute later, when Coyle, called for crossing-checking, tried to start something with Packer he was sent off for the rest of the game.

Packer took the same trip, when he objected too strenuously to a holding penalty. Coach Mortimer apparently couldn't decide who to send on at this turn of events, and the Links were called for delaying the game, Smith serving the penalty. Crawford, of Lindsay, Wilson of the Links, Twist and O'Neil, together, and Hutton again, followed next before the battle royal broke out in the Links' end. Bill Williams was originally called for high-sticking, but didn't stop at the whistle, and continued on into a flying tackle at Wilson. The two began slugging, and then Delahaye got into the act, taking on Bill Burns of the locals. When the air cleared Williams had a minor, a major for fighting and a match misconduct. Delahaye was assessed a major and misconduct and Burns and Wilson majors for fighting. That was not the end, however. Half a minute later, goalie Truax of Lindsay, not to be outdone by Delahaye, held Twist, and garnered the final minor of the game.

Lineups:

Peterborough: Goal, Delahaye; defence, Byrne, Sullivan; centre, Robinson; wings, Smith, Floyd; subs, Wilson, Twist, Coyle, Ferguson, McCracken, Doris, Gardner, Snape.

Lindsay: Goal, R. Traux; defence, Bill Williams, O'Neil; centre, Hutton; wings, A. Traux, Packer; subs, McGill, Crawford, Burns, Cochrane, Gibson, H. Williams, Hadley.

First Period

RED ON TOP—George (Red) Sullivan of Hershey is tied with Guyle Fielder of St. Louis at 31 points each for the scoring leadership of the American Hockey League. The redheaded Peterborough hustler is property of Boston Bruins of the NHL.

Barons Edge Hershey 3-2

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Cleveland Barons tightened their hold on first place in the American Hockey League Tuesday night by defeating Hershey Bears 3-2.

Vic Lynn sent an easy shot into the Bears' net late in the final period to give the Barons a much-needed victory.

Ike Hildebrand and Lorne Ferguson scored in the opener to leave it all even at the bell. Jack Gordon gave the Barons a lead in the second until Dunc Fisher of the Bears slammed a backhander into the net.

Greenshirts Make Last Trade Of Season

KITCHENER (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo Greenshirts, the traders of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A League, have made their last swap of the season.

Shortly before the midnight deadline Dec. 15, defenceman Bob McCord was shipped to Montreal Canadien juniors in return for centre Marc Boileau. This fills a Canadien gap in defence personnel and gives Kitchener a badly-needed forward.

Both players will return to their original clubs at the end of this season. Each has another year left in junior hockey.

Bilts Finally Find Another Defenceman

GALT (CP)—Guelph Biltmores of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series have finally found another defenceman.

Galt Black Hawks Tuesday announced a deal with the Bilts whereby Art White will join the Memorial Cup champions in return for left-winger Frank Bettiol and an unstated amount of cash.

The OHA junior trading deadline was midnight Dec. 15.

The Biltmores have been seeking defence reinforcements since they lost Harry Howell to their parent New York Rangers of the National Hockey League.

Maroons Release 3 Players To Pool

CHATHAM (CP)—Chatham Maroons have released three players to the Ontario Hockey Association Big Seven Senior A player pool, player manager Jack Stewart announced Tuesday.

Forwards Earl Towers, Paul Sironen and Art Skov have been released to the pool, an arrangement among the Big Seven teams giving them first chance at signing the players before they get their outright release.

Guy Cellotto, another forward, will drop back to Wallaceburg-Chatham Combines, a Junior B club.

Two Horses Share Honors At Dufferin

TORONTO (CP) — Lynchburg Lady and Lady Normby Tuesday defeated a field of BB class pacers to share the honors in the featured seventh race at Dufferin Park. Each won a heat.

Lynchburg Lady, owned by J. Smith of Ottawa and driven by Wilmer Hillock, won the first heat with speed to spare.

Lady Normby, owned by J. Geisel of Hanover and driven by Roland Armstrong, won the second heat going away.

Laurel Key, owned by Edward Jones of Oswego, N.Y., and driven by Ken Russell, and Hillcrest Adam, owned by W. Sharpe of Oshawa and driven by Dave Dowson, divided the secondary feature.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

Tonight the curlers can take a night off. The figure skaters will have the use of the ice this evening — while upstairs we have the annual euchre party and the turkey draw.

Today the fourth main point regarding stone delivery:

THE FORWARD SWING

At the top of the back-swing, the rock should be hanging like a pendulum from your fingers. As you bring your right arm forward, turn the wrist (for in-turn or for out-turn) so that the handle is turning when you let go the rock. If you neglect to do this, you will find that you have to turn the handle after the rock is on the ice. This tends to cause a push delivery, or causes the twist you gave the handle to change direction of the rock. Remember these two things:

1—Keep the right arm straight. Do not allow it to bend at the elbow or you will get a hook delivery.

2—Keep the rock ahead of your body when it hits the ice, or you will get a push delivery.

Uses Bare Foot To Kick Pigskin

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP)—Huntsville's Hornets depend upon the good right toe—and they do mean toe—of O'Neil McCaffety as they rumble on toward a Texas schoolboy football championship.

McCaffety is the boy who boots points after touchdown and field goals barefooted. With shoes on he can't kick a lick, but just watch him put that bare big toe ino the pigskin when the chips are down.

McCaffety can't do anything else for the Huntsville high school team because of burns suffered during the summer when his hand came in contact with a live wire. Skin had to be grafted from the boy's stomach and he was ordered not ot play football this year.

It was quite a blow. But McCaffety thought of one way he could help the team—he could kick the ball.

And so he talked the coach into letting him try the extra points. He has booted 19 points after touchdown in 25 tries along with two field goals.

Freddie Herman Fights To Unpopular Draw

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Freddie (Babe) Herman of Los Angeles fought world lightweight champion Jimmy Carter to an unpopular draw in a 10-round non-title fight Tuesday night.

Referee John Bassanelli and Judge Billy Burke called the fight a draw, overruling Judge Fred Bottaro who gave the bout to Herman.

Herman, who weighed in at 139 pounds, built up a lead in early rounds, but Carter, 136¼, staged his usual strong finish.

There were no knockdowns.

Barrie Nips Greenshirts In 5-3 Victory

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Barrie Flyers, the second-hand team of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A League, are on the march.

Coach Hap Emms of the Flyers made a series of deals for slightly used hockey players (still in A-1 condition) pay off by moving into second place Tuesday night with a 5-3 victory over Kitchener-Waterloo Greenshirts in Kitchener.

Orv Tessier, traded to Barrie by Kitchener only last week, set up four goals for the Flyers. Tony Poeta, acquired from Galt Black Hawks, scored twice.

St. Catharines Teepees kept Guelph Biltmores in a bad slump by defeating the Bilts 5-3. Oshawa Generals battled to an overtime tie in their first game of an interlocking schedule tour as Montreal Royals matched them 3-3. The Quebec junior league leaders, Montreal Canadiens, shut out Three Rivers Reds 7-0.

MOVE UP

Barrie moved one point up on Toronto St. Michael's and within six points of the top-place Toronto Marlboros. Besides Poeta, Barrie scorers were Jean Martan with two and Doug Mohns with one. Graham Joyce scored two Kitchener tallies and set up John Ford for the third.

Bill Tonegusso, a Guelph boy and veteran of two years with the Biltmore junior B team, scored his first goal in A competition at St. Catharines. Other Guelph goals were by Jim Connelly who notched two. Brian Cullen blasted home two for St. Catharines as did big Hank Ciesla. Bill Haas added another.

Montreal Royals scored two fast ones in the third period to force a tie with Oshawa. Bob Mader, Jack Armstrong and Fred Etcher were Oshawa marksmen. Claude Beaupre, Miller and Bowman did the scoring for Royals.

It was an all-Canadien night in the other Quebec game. Claude Vinet scored twice for the winners, as did Claude Provost. Others were by Les Lilley, Gordie Hollingworth and Dennis Boucher.

Total Points For Rams' Stars

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Deacon Dan Towler and Norman Van Brocklin, two reasons why the surging Los Angeles Rams tied for the National Football League's National Conference crown, are the NFL's running and passing kings.

Towler, the bulky Negro battering ram, gained 894 yards on 156 attempts for an average of 5.7 yards to finish ahead of Eddie Price of New York Giants. Price totalled 748 yards on 183 attempts and a 4.1 average.

Van Brocklin edged out Green Bay's Tobin Rote for 1952 air laurels. The Los Angeles ace had an average 8.47 to Rote's 8.08.

Van Brocklin completed 113 passes of 295 for 1,736 yards and 14 touchdowns. Rote threw 157, clicked with 82 for 1,268 yards and 13 touchdowns.

SKY-HI LEE, shown above, who clashes with Johnny Barend in the semi-final bout of tonight's mat card at the Brock. Feature match is a tag team battle between the Canadian and Texas champions, Lou Plummer and Dick Raines against Bobo Brazil and Pat Flanagan. It will be Plummer and Raines first defence of the Canadian title which they wrested from Watson and Flanagan last week. Man Mountain Dean Jr. and Jim Coffield are in the opener.

Sudbury Whips North Bay; Owen Sound Bests Kitchener

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Sault Ste. Marie (Ont.) Greyhounds were so busy firing their coach and quieting the resulting squabble Tuesday night they hardly noticed Sudbury Wolves pull up to share first place with them.

Don Grosso, the coach who led the Greyhounds to three straight Northern Ontario Hockey Association championships, was given his notice by the executive. The same evening Sudbury whipped North Bay Trappers 6-1 to tie the Hounds for first place.

In the Ontario Hockey Association, Owen Sound Mercurys moved within three points of the leading Stratford Indians by sliding past Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen 2-0. It was Bobby Gillson's first shutout and he earned it by stopping 31 shots compared to 18 stops by Keith Woodall in the Kitchener goal.

Marty Burton scored two for Sudbury. Andy Milne, Mauno Kauppi, Gordie Heale, and Rolly McLenahan notched the other four. George Gosselin scored for North Bay.

Doug Gillespie and Buck Forslund were the Owen Sound marksmen in the other game of the evening.

Take Grey Cup Films To Japan, Korea

TORONTO (CP)—Three Canadian Red Cross workers will carry Grey Cup films to Japan and Korea.

The three girls are flying to the Orient for a year's duty in veterans' hospitals in Japan and Korea. With them are going movies of Canada's 1952 football final.

Lise Laurendeau, Ina McGregor and Naomi Griffin will take the pictures to Tokyo first where they will be shown in a veterans' hospital this week-end.

Moore Favored To Take Maxim

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Old man Archie Moore, fulfilling a youthful ambition at 36, ends a 10-year trail to the championship ring tonight in his 15-round title bout with light heavyweight champion Joe Maxim.

This is a chance of a lifetime for Moore, and it almost took the St. Louis Negro a lifetime to gain it. For almost a decade Archie has been brushed off by light heavyweight champions — A sad fate for an 18-year-old beginner who had planned to get a title chance and retire at 25.

Despite the time lag, now that Moore has the opportunity he's favored to take the 175-pound crown from Maxim, a 30-year-old gent from Cleveland. The odds give Moore the edge at 8 to 5.

A crowd of about 14,000 fans is expected to pay about $80,000 to see the International Boxing Club's attraction at the Arena. The 9 p.m. CST bout will be telecast and broadcast (CBS) nationally with only the St. Louis area blacked out.

Jeffords To Receive Annual Turf Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter M. Jeffords, prominent in racing and breeding since 1918, will receive the New York Turf Writers' annual award for outstanding services to the sport during the last year.

In the annual writers' poll, Eric Guerin, who was astride unbeaten Native Dancer in all his races, was named the leading jockey over Eddie Arcaro and the sensational young apprentice, Tony DeSpirto.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt was rated the leading breeder, and Bill Winfrey, the Vanderbilt trainer, led by a wide margin in his specialty, for their part in the brillant career of Native Dancer.

Jeffords, breeder of One Count, was given the main award in recognition of his many activties in racing.

The Thoroughbred Racing Association named Native Dancer the No. 1 race horse in the U.S. for 1952—first two-year-old ever chosen American champion.

Rangers Deserve Reward For Efforts To Snatch Win

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The luckless New York Rangers may look hopelessly buried in the National Hockey League cellar, but the team itself isn't yet ready to hang out the black crepe. Coach Bill Cook and General Manager Frank Boucher can't be criticized for lack of trying to get the club the help it needs.

They've been moving players back and forth from their farm clubs—Saskatoon Quakers of the Western Hockey League and Guelph Biltmores of the Ontario junior A circuit—and if there's reward for effort they may hit on the right combination yet.

The latest chattel called to lend aid is Ian Mackintosh, forward from Vancouver Canucks of the western circuit. The Rangers figure they'll have a lot more scoring punch with him and George Senick, the Western League's leading scorer who was rounded up last week from Saskatoon.

COME CLOSE

The New Yorkers, who have won only three of their 27 games so far, have come close in many encounters and with a bit of extra scoring power the outcome could have been different.

The Rangers, 13 points back of the fifth-place Toronto Maple Leafs tonight will be trying for their first win against Boston Bruins in the only game scheduled. They take on Lynn Patrick's club in New York and it will be tough to stop the Bruins, who are gunning for second place.

The Bruins can shoot from fourth place into the runner-up spot with a win. They are a point behind Chicago and Montreal, tied for second place behind Detroit with 31 points each. The Red Wings are on top by three points, but so tightly bunched are the top five clubs only seven points separate them.

All six teams will see action Thursday night with Toronto at Detroit, New York at Montreal and Boston at Chicago.

DROP BRIBE PROBE

VANCOUVER (CP) —Superintendent L. M. Munn of the Vancouver police criminal investigation branch Tuesday called off investigations into the bribe offer which was reported made to city professional boxer Sonny Jones. "There is no evidence and no proof," he said, "and there will be no prosecution."

Witness Acts Said No Help Keeping Peace

OTTAWA (CP)—Counsel for the Quebec attorney-general's department said Tuesday in the Supreme Court of Canada that certain practices of Witnesses of Jehovah are inconsistent with peace and safety of the province.

Emery Beaulieu of Montreal said some of the practices of the Witnesses constitute an excess of liberty. These practices made them exceptions to provisions of the freedom of worship statute.

Mr. Beaulieu referred particularly to the Witnesses' practice of distributing Bible tracts in the streets. These tracts could contain statements that were offensive to the majority of the people of Quebec.

HOLDING HEARINGS

Mr. Beaulieu spoke during a hearing on the validity of a Quebec City bylaw prohibiting distribution of pamphlets or literature without a permit from the chief of police.

Counsel for the Witnesses has argued that the bylaw is invalid because it interferes with freedom of religion. Counsel has said that Witnesses believe it their duty to spread the gospel. One of the means they use is to hand out Bible tracts on the streets.

The Witnesses have asked the court to declare that they constitute a religious denomination, entitled to the same freedoms as other denominations.

Mr. Beaulieu is to continue his arguments today.

$100 Minimum Suggested For Utilities

A $100 minimum pension was urged on the utilities commission Tuesday in a letter from the union representing utilities employees.

The suggested minimum was an aside in a letter which dealt with the case of an employee who will retire at the end of this year, having reached the compulsory retirement age of 65.

The letter referred to other employees who had been retained beyond the age of 65, and mentioned that the worker in question had requested not to be retired.

$40 MINIMUM

Present minimum under the agreement the commission has with the union is $40. The employee mentioned had been slated to receive a $37.50 monthly pension and the commission voted to increase this to $40.

Utilities manager Ross Dobbin pointed out that the employee was entitled to a "burned-out" army pension which would bring his total pension to $100 monthly.

He also mentioned that the worker was incapacitated, and that the men who had been kept on beyond retirement age were able to give a day's work for a day's pay.

RCAF Starts Annual Job Of Playing Santa Claus

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCAF this week takes over its annual job of playing Santa Claus to Canada's isolated arctic weathermen in Santa's back yard.

Some 3,000 pounds of Christmas parcels and mail have been assembled at Fort Churchill, Man., and Goose Bay, Labrador, waiting for an all - clear signal from the weather men before the bundles are flown to the remote detachments.

News and gifts from home will be dropped to men at such places as Resolution Island off the southeast end of Baffin Island; Nottingham Island at the entrance to Hudson Bay, and the Mould Bay station on Prince Patrick Island in the West Arctic 300 miles north of the mainland.

Farthest north is Alert, on the north end of Ellesmere Island, the most distant of Canadian possessions. It is more than 2,500 miles north of Montreal and less than 600 miles from the north pole.

Preparations started in October when the transport department, which operates the weather stations, told families of men there to send parcels and mail to the RCAF by mid-November

These were parcelled in special heavy canvas containers used for air drops. Although some supplies are parachuted, most are pushed out the aircraft door to the snow some 50 feet below.

At the weather stations, men of the detachment and Eskimos who live nearby line up oil drums to mark the drop zone. Fires are lit in the drums to guide the planes, for arctic days in December provide roughly only two hours of twilight.

Mayor Refused CNE Figures

TORONTO (CP)—Mayor Lamport told city council Tuesday the Canadian National Exhibition refused to disclose to him the operating profit resulting from his 1952 reform campaign.

He was supporting a new contract between the city and the fair management which was adopted by council. It provides that the CNE receive its $32,000,000 assets in order to operate year round, pay both maintenance and operating costs and undertake all debt charges. The latter amount to about $3,945,000.

Mayor Lamport said the improvements resulting from his reforms campaign this year might amount to $300,000

Killed By Car

TORONTO (CP)—A woman was fatally injured in suburban Toronto township Tuesday night when she was struck by an auto as she darted out into a stream of traffic. Police tentatively identified her as Mrs. Carol Curnew, 70, of Lakeview. They said a car driven by Alexander MacDonald, 48, of suburban York township, struck her.

Fewer Live Births

TORONTO (CP)—There were 400 fewer live births in Ontario during November than in the same month last year, provincial statistics released Tuesday showed. Statistics for the month, with last year's figures in brackets: Births 9,549, (9,949), marriages 3,497 (3,496), deaths 3,560 (3,816), stillbirths 181 (166).

Against Synthetics

BROCKVILLE (CP)—Colin Rogers, a vice-president of the Ontario Whole Milk Producers' League, said Monday night that if the government allows vegetable oils to be imported, the whole dairy industry will be demoralized. The Brockville Whole Milk Producers' Association which he was addressing approved a resolution asking the government to ban the addition of synthetics to dairy products.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

OFF BOXING DAY

The Utilities Commission Tuesday decided their staff would not work on Boxing Day.

POLLED 343

Lakefield's reeve Elwood H. Northey polled a total of 343, just 37 behind reeve-elect W. C. Grant, not 243 as mistakenly reported.

LAST PUC MEETING

Last meeting of the Utilities Commission will be held Dec. 30, it was decided at Tuesday's meeting. Most of the business done at the final 1952 meeting will consist of signing cheques and passing accounts.

SIGNS OF WINTER

A CNR freight train brought more snow, by depth, into the city than the recent snowfall. There were roughly 30 cars to the freight, all of them baretopped but one, which carried about two feet of snow on its roof. Probably a car from the north migrating to warmer climates.

P-C NOMINATION MEETING

President of the National Progressive-Conservative Association George Knowlan, QC (Annapolis-Queens, N.S.) will be the guest speaker at the nomination meeting of the party in Peterborough on February 23. The meeting will be held at the Canadian Legion Hall. Present Peterborough member Gordon K. Fraser says he will run again if he is nominated.

Car Skids, Two Hit; Woman Slightly Hurt

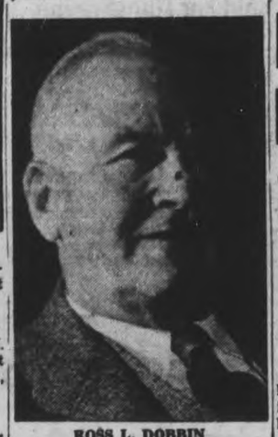
One woman suffered minor bruises and an injured wrist Tuesday evening in a collision at George and Sherbrooke Sts.

Mrs. Martha Thompson, 476 Driscoll Terrace, was driving east on Sherbrooke St., and crossing George St. with the traffic light in her favor. A northbound auto driven by Douglas A. Abraham, 486 Cameron St. ,tried to stop, but hit the right side of the Thompson car.

Mrs. Hugh Davies, 476 Driscoll Terrace, a passenger in the Thompson car, was thrown against the right rear door, suffering a bruised right arm and injured wrist. Cyril Thompson, Mrs. Thompson's husband and a passenger in the front seat, was unhurt as was his wife.

Constable John Wilson witnessed the accident and said that the light changed against Abraham just as he was about to cross Sherbrooke St. Skid marks from the Abraham car stretched back from beyond the sidewalk line to the centre of the intersection.

Damage was not extensive to either car.



ROSS L. DOBBIN

Ross L. Dobbin Resigns Utilities Head

Utilities manager Ross Dobbin offered his resignation Tuesday to the Utilities Commission.

Mr. Dobbin, who has been named president of the Engineering Institute of Canada, said his appointment to that post forced his resignation. He would not be able to devote his full time to his job.

Mr. Dobbin's resignation was accepted with regret by the commission and with congratulations for his selection as president of the Engineering Institute.

EFFECTIVE APRIL

The resignation becomes effective April 1, 1953, and from then until the end of the year he will continue as consulting engineer at half-salary. His pension, based on the scheme started in 1928, will be $150 monthly.

Commissioner Dr. Gordon R. Langley expressed surprise at the small size of Mr. Dobbin's pension. He felt that the time had come for the commission's pension scheme to be revised.

Said Dr. Langley: "This demonstrates that our pension scheme isn't right, and that we should study it with a view to making changes".

The commissioner felt that a pension scheme, to be adequate, should be based on the employee's earnings for the 10 years prior to his severing employment.

Text of the official resolution accepting Mr. Dobbin's resignation was:

"The commission feels the honor at the appointment of its manager, Mr. Ross Dobbin, to the presidency of the Engineering Institute of Canada and send him their congratulations, accepting his resignation as of April 1, 1953, and retaining him as consulting engineer for the balance of that year on half-salary."

Street Collisions

Four cars were damaged Tuesday afternoon in two separate accidents, neither serious.

Cars driven by Leland Rose, 279 Sherbrooke St., and Mrs. Alta Whitfield, RR 5, collided at Aylmer and Townsend Sts. Constable Gerald Emmons investigated.

In the other crash, cars driven by W. A. Jones, 634 George St., and F. J. Smith, 128 Park St., collided at Park Place and Sherbrooke St. Constable Eldon McDonald investigated.

Hydro Rates May Jump 12 Per Cent

Increase Expected Next March Average 40c Monthly

Utilities commissioners Tuesday hinted at a possible 12 per cent. increase in hydro power costs to householders.

Actual figures of the increases, which will take effect probably in March, 1953, were not released, and will not be until next year. But chairman G. S. Matthews said it would be about 12 per cent.—40 cents a month to the average consumer.

The commission, on a resolution sponsored by Mr. Matthews, agreed to postpone application of the new and higher rates until the 1952 financial statement was complete and had been studied. This would be in March.

The increases, announced by the hydro this fall, are mostly caused by the increased cost of producing electricity. Use of steam turbines, coal powered, has stepped up the cost by great amounts.

Utilities manager Ross Dobbin said the Hydro-Eelectric Power Commission has asked that the rates be applied soon. He was instructed to tell the senior commission that they would take effect in Peterborough about March.

COULD LOSE

Commissioner Dr. G. R. Langley asked for a financial statement showing income to the end of November this year, and one showing the income that might have been had the new rates been in effect this year.

Mr. Matthews asked Mr. Dobbin if he knew how much the commission would lose if the new rates were not applied. The manager estimated about $35,000 to $40,000.

The increase Mr. Matthews mentioned would be more than two per cent. less than the increase in rural hydro, which will amount to about 14.8 per cent on an average.

Ganaraska Authority Buys 1,350 Acres

The Ganaraska River Conservation Authority now has a total forest area of 5,850 acres following a recent additional purchase of 1,350 acres of sub-marginal farm land. Much of this latest acquisition is covered with farm woodlot and requires no planting.

To date 2,200,000 trees have been planted in the Ganaraska Forest, and it is planned to plant an additional 400,000 trees during the coming spring.

The Authority is now over one-third of their way to its objective of a 20,000-acre forest as planned when the Authority was formed in 1946.

WORK ON THE NEW FOUR-STOREY wing at Mount St. Joseph Convent is going forward according to schedule, both owners and contractors say. The $120,000 addition will house a complete new kitchen and store rooms, administrative offices and sleeping accommodation for 25 members of the order. The sod-turning ceremony took place at the end of September and the building is expected to be ready for use by mid-spring.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Appointed Director Of Church Plan

MONTREAL (CP) — Rev. Dr. G A. Little of Toronto, has been appointed director of the United Church Observer every family plan, Rev. Dr. C. H. Dickinson of Toronto, book steward, announced today.

He will have the task of stepping up circulation of the United Church Observer from 50,000 to 300,000 copies in two years to reach every family of the United Church in Canada.

Dr. Little has been editor-in-chief of the United Church's Sunday school publications for 30 years.

Plan Murray Street

OSHAWA (CP) — Oshawa will name a street in honor of Philip Murray, the late head of the CIO.

Planning officials, representing the city's 12,000 trade union members, said they wished "to honor a great labor statesman."

BLOCKED GEORGE ST.

City council recently decided not to place traffic lights at Water and Simcoe Streets. Early Saturday afternoon one line of cars on Simcoe St. extended from Water St. westerly across George St. Stream of traffic on Water St. prevented the east bound Simcoe St. cars from moving.

Ottawa Offering $99,000 For Either Gannon's Project

Federal Department of Transport is willing to contribute $99,000 toward the cost of building a swing section for navigation in a new Gannon's Narrows bridge or causeway, according to a statement from Senator W. A. Fraser in a letter to Arthur H. Lewis, president of the Peterborough Liberal Association.

PREFER HIGH LEVEL

Before Senator Fraser's statement there was some doubt among county officials on whether or not the Department was willing to pay the $99,000 toward either a swing-span or a high-level bridge. Departmental officials had said they preferred the high-level bridge plan.

Before the plan for replacing the present floating bridge can go ahead the parties concerned must decide on what structure they want to span the 1,600-foot narrows.

Both federal and provincial authorities have said that it must be a local decision.

"As far as the county is concerned we asked for a swing-span but the Department of Transport favored a high-level bridge," said Warden Dick Stewart. "This is a more costly undertaking than the construction of the Chemong Causeway and we feel that the $99,000 is not sufficient no matter which is built."

Senator Fraser's affirmation referred to a clipping from the Examiner of December 5 regarding the county project of a causeway at the Narrows and the comment of Hon. George H. Doucett, Provincial Minister of Highways, on his recent visit to representatives of the county council.

Mr. Doucett said, as reported by the Examiner, that there was no immediate assistance on a Gannon's Narrows project partly because no local decision had been arrived at as to the type of highway crossing.

It has become stalled on the Federal level," Mr. Doucett said, and proposed that there should be decision locally on what was best and most economical, "and put it up to the engineers." He agreed that the floating bridge had served its purpose and day.

(It is not correct that Mr. Doucett said that the project "has become stalled at the federal level." This was a misreading of the news report. What he did say was: "I feel they (i.e. the Department of Transport) owe something. There is a responsibility there, belonging to the government . . . If they are going to tell you what they want in the way of construction they should contribute something to it.")

As to Federal participation, Senator Fraser has written J. D. Kean, county engineer and road superintendent: "I think that I should correct probably what is an erorneous impression, in view of the fact that my name was mentioned."

Preliminary Hearing Begins In Charge Of Murder Against Gale Knott, 21

Crown Introduces Knife As Type Wielded In Stabbing of Wesley Taylor Pathologist Believes Heavier Blade Used

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw today entered a jackknife as an exhibit in the preliminary hearing against 21-year-old Gale Knott, Curve Lake Indian charged with the murder of Wesley Taylor, 26. Mr. Bradshaw obtained testimony to the effect that the knife was similar to the one Knott had been seen with the afternoon before the stabbing. The crown said that there would be no attempt made to link the knife entered as an exhibit with the weapon used to kill Taylor. Entry of the jackknife, which has a four-inch blade, was merely to show that Knott had possessed a similar knife.

Dr. C. B. Waite, district provincial pathologist, examined the blade of the knife and said he had thought the wound in Taylor's chest had been caused by a broader blade with a more pronounced curve. He said he would have picked a hunting knife as the fatal weapon.

Defence counsel W. J. Arthur Fair objected to the knife being entered as an exhibit, and until evidence was given of Knott's possessing a similar knife, he asked that the handle of the knife be shielded from view and that only the blade be shown.

SEEN TOGETHER

Closest evidence linking Taylor and Knott came from Mrs. Stella Johnston, who lives on the reserve. She said she had seen the two together, walking on the main road of the Curve Lake reserve.

This was about 8 p.m., she said, and the two seemed very happy; Mrs. Johnston said she thought they had been drinking. They were walking down the road with their arms around each other.

The next evidence locating Taylor came from John Taylor, brother of the dead man. He said that sometime after 10 p.m. when he went to bed, he heard a voice call out, outside the house of Mrs. Susie Knott, where he lives. Mrs. Knott is the accused's mother.

'Later he heard the voice call again and, donning his clothes, he went out to the back of the house. There he found his brother lying on his side. He took him inside, changed his rain-soaked clothes for dryones, and arranged for a car to take him to a doctor.

The morning's evidence left a blank between 8 p.m. and the time Taylor was found, as to the whereabouts of Taylor and Knott.

In the afternoon hearing, the crown attorney planned to introduce a statement taken from Knott by provincial police. The statement is partly oral and partly written.

The witness who pointed out a similarity between the knife entered by the crown and the one Knott had had the afternoon before the stabbing was 14-year-old Larry Taylor, a brother-in-law of Knott.

The boy said the knives were

Family Awarded $2,000 In Son's Death

In a supreme Court judgment Mr. Justice Danis has awarded damages of $2,000 to the Sanderson family of Smith township in an action brought against Gladys Long, 44, of Lindsay.

Ten-year-old David Sanderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sanderson, was struck down and killed by a car driven by Miss Long as he pushed his bicycle along the side of the highway on June 9, 1951. The accident occurred a little more than a mile and a half north of the city.

David was allegedly struck by the car and tossed onto a rock, 22 feet east of the highway. He died almost immediately.

CONVICTED

Thirteen months ago Miss Long was tried in Supreme Court here and she was convicted of dangerous driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident. She was not present at the civil action on Tuesday.

The Sandersons—including Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson and the five children—sued under a section of the Fatal Accidents Act. It was argued by plaintiffs' counsel, Alex L. Elliott, QC., that as the heirs-at-law they had suffered a pecuniary loss in the 10-year-old boy's death.

Evidence indicated that he was a great help around his father's farm and his death was a pecuniary loss for the members of the family.

Witnesses who attended the previous trials of Miss Long in Peterborough once again connected the Lindsay woman with the fatality. And Mr. Justice Danis found her negligent.

Her counsel was W. Donald Bark of Toronto.

Judgment was $1,250 to Mr. Sanderson; $250 to Mrs. Sanderson; and $100 each to be paid into court for the five Sanderson children.

City Put On Paper

1,055 Pieces Of Property Change Hands In Year

Peterborough property transfers for the assessment year ending Sept. 30, 1952, were 1,055 compared with the 1,146 for the corresponding twelve months from Oct. 1, 1950, to Sept. 30, 1951. The decrease was 91.

This is one of the details of information in the annual report which Assessment Commissioner J. E. Davis presented to the council Monday afternoon.

Total sales of realty transferred during the year ending Sept. 30 last, amounted to $5,739,140.

The assessed value of that property totalled $1,912,835.

Percentage of assessed value to sales, 33.33 per cent.

Presumably those 1,055 properties comprising the year's transfers are typical of Peterborough lands and buildings, especially in the residential bracket. In that assumption it appears the typical average properties are assessed at one-third of their real value.

The Davis' summary includes numeration of the citizens on the basis of Church affiliation which the commissioner comments "is not to be taken as a religious census. In compiling this statement, all occupants are classified according to the religion of the householder".

Of the population of 38,288, the largest denomination is United Church, 13,003, whose adherents and members are most numerous in the south ward with 2,881, slightly more than their 2,828 in the north ward.

Other religious denominational totals are: Roman Catholic 8,798; Church of England 8,430; Presbyterian 3,207; Baptist 1,850 and Salvation Army 658.

Penticostal 350; Gospel Hall 256; Jews 233; Church of the Open Bible 184; Apostolic 140.

Free Methodist 78; Christian Missionary Alliance 78; Christian Science 31; Assembly Hall 13; miscellaneous (Protestant) 959.

Totals by wards: South 8,861; North 7,880; West 7,591; Claraday 6,161; Ashburnham 5,819; Centre 2,156.

12,948 UNDER 20 YEARS

Population in age groups, figures to which school trustees will probably give some special attention are, in totals:—

Age 3 and under, 2,974; 4 years old 996; five 972; six to seven 1,492; eight to nine 1,371; ten to thirteen 2,232; fourteen 521; fifteen 449; sixteen to nineteen 1,941; 20 to 50 years 20,605; 65 to 69 years 1,229; 70 and over 2,132. Total 38,268.

Number of children under ten years of age, 7,805; and total number of persons under 20 years 12,948.

One in every three persons in Peterborough is under 20 years of age.

ASSESSED VALUES

The assessment which has been prepared for the 1953 taxation is shown in the following totals:

Assessment of land $8,744,967 an increase of $82,384, over last year's $8,662,583.

Buildings: $34,989,930, an increase of $2,012,650, over the previous $34,989,930.

Totol: $43,734,897, an increase of $2,095,034 over the previous $41,-630,034.

Total real property exempt from taxation: $6,819,935; an increase of $388,485 over the previous year's $6,430,550.

Leaving as total taxable property, land and buildings, $36,915,-862, an increase of $1,706,549 over the previous $36,915,862.

Business assessment: $5,482,040, an increase of $173,840, over the previous $5,308,200.

(If the tax rate were 60 mills next year, business would pay approximately $10,430.40 more than this year.)

Totol assessment (add total real property including exemptions, and business) . . . $49,216,937; an increase of $2,268,874 over the previous $46,948,063.

Population of 38,268, according to the assessment staff's count, is 1,076 more than the 37,182 as compiled in 1951.

Taxable increase for 1953 is: realty $1,706,549, plus business $173, 840, amounting to $1,880,389.

EXEMPTED PROPERTIES

Exempted properties, in their respective classifications, are: churches $1,089,975; schools $1,-444,155; dominion government property $849,130; provincial government $330; Cemeteries $63,750; Hydro-Electric Power Commission $205,500, Peterborough Utilities Commission $251,850.

Hospitals and charitable institutions, etc., $1,842,710; county property, $148,950. Totol $6,819.035.

These properties are exempted by statute and are liable only for ocal improvement charges and also the garbage collection rate.

CHURCH ASSESSMENT

Trinity United is shown as most valuable of the church properties at $138,440; St. Peter's Cathedral $101,500; George St. United $100,-000; Pentecostal Church $75,090; Immaculate Conception $66,820; St. Andrew's $66,100; Sacred Heart $65,390; St. Paul's $65,300; St. John's Anglican $51,000.

In the school exemptions, Collegiate Institute is at the top with $385,000; Prince of Wales $173,750; Pentecostal Bible College $172,-150; Normal School $76,755; Queen Mary $153,150; St. John's R.C. $64,900. All the others are listed.

Largest assessed property of the federal government is the armouries at $455,600; and $200,000 in Claraday ward is for locks and dams.

In the Utilities Commission bracket are Aylmer St. substation $114,915; poles, wires, etc. $80,000; gas works $45,200.

Hospitals and charitable institutions are headed by Peterborough Civic Hospital assessed at $1,025,-250; St. Joseph's $463,755; YMCA $132,750; YWCA $85,000, House of Providence $38,800 and Anson House $32,750.

Teacher Resigns Lakefield School

LAKEFIELD—(ENS)— The resignation of Mrs. Althea Wilcox was received and accepted with regret by the Lakefield Public School board at their December meeting. The chairman, Albert G. Buchanan was in the chair and all members but one present.

Principal E. G. Sloan reported attendance for the month of November as 336 pupils, a percentage of 94.24. He also reported on supply teachers hired for the month. Mr. Sloan was authorized to make arrangements with the Recreation Committee up to $150. for 30 hours use of the rink for the school pupils.

Mrs. E. O'Donnell will be allowed an extra $2. per day for teaching from December 1, due to taking a class for the month of December.

Mr. G. Buchanan, chairman of the board for the past two years, who is not seeking re-election this year, thanked the members for their co-operation. Mrs. Harold Wilford also stated that she had enjoyed the associations with the board during her term of being a trustee.

The finance committee recommended payment of accounts totalling $496.83.

STUMPER GOES LICKETY-CLUMP— Most puppies tear through the house lickety-split when romping and playing, but "Stumper" goes lickety-clump. The young Dachshund, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lewandowski, of Milwaukee, lost his left front paw shortly after birth, and was fitted with a wooden leg. The one he wears now is a de luxe production, with a sponge-rubber tip, to keep Stumper from skidding on those fast turns.

Quebec Man Convicted Of Slaying

SWEETSBURG, Que. (CP)—Kenneth Ford, 36-year-old paymaster for a textile company near this eastern townships community, was convicted Tuesday of the bath-tub slaying of his pregnant wife Feb. 8 last and was sentenced to be hanged Feb. 27.

Ford, who showed little emotion during the 14-day trial, grew pale when the jury's verdict was announced.

Asked by Mr. Justice L. P. Cliche if he had anything to say before sentence was passed, Ford did not reply.

The nude body of Ford's 28-year-old wife, injuries about the head, was found in a partly-filled bath tub in the couple's home.

Highlight of the trial was admission as evidence of a statement by Ford and produced by police. The statement described how Ford had struck his wife during a family quarrel.

Mrs. Ford had accused him of taking out another girl and he had replied that it was "not as bad as having to bring up someone else's baby," the statement said. She had struck him and "I grabbed an iron bar. . . and hit her twice on the back of the head with it."

"I did not mean to hit her so hard, but she fell into the tub full length. . ." Ford said in the statement. He then "got scared and turned on the water and ran upstairs, horrified at what I had done."

When he returned a few minutes later, Mrs. Ford's head was in the water and "she had stopped breathing."

TORONTO (CP)—The liquor control board Tuesday appealed to employers to prohibit office parties where intoxicating beverages are served during the Christmas period. The board said in a statement that serious traffic accidents often have resulted from such celebrations.

Held For Questioning In Engineer's Shooting

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Grant Farnol, 31, was picked up by police Tuesday night and held for questioning in connection with the shooting Monday night of Edgar Frendo, a 36-year-old automotive engineer from Detroit.

Frendo was shot three times. Hospital officials here say his condition is "fair."

Police said Farnol was found in bush near the scene of the shooting on a lonely road about 15 miles south of here.

Utilities Tries To Decide Cast Iron, Transite Pipe?

The argument over the relative values of transite pipe versus cast iron pipe for carrying water cropped up again at the second last meeting for 1952 of the Utilities Commission.

"A queer report" said Commissioner Dr. G. R. Langley of the letter from Gore and Storey, consulting engineers.

The report, he said, contained few facts and a large number of opinions, all favoring cast iron pipe. He felt there should be more facts on which to appraise the values of the two.

Transite, by the way, consists of asbestos fibres impregnated with cement. It is not affected by corrosive soils. On the other hand, soil in the city is non-corrosive and its effect is slight on cast iron pipe.

The major issue in considering transite pipe, the commissioners agree, is the saving that might be passed on to the taxpayers. Mr. Langley estimated it at from 10 to 15 per cent.

Utilities manager Ross Dobbin said he was sure the saving wouldn't amount to more than five per cent., if that.

"You haven't any figures on that, have you?" asked commissioner Langley.

Mr. Dobbin said he knew that installed cost would effect a saving of about five per cent., probably less. Extra labor involved because of more levelling needed brought the final cost close to that of cast iron pipe.

The manager and the commissioner disputed the relative amounts of levelling needed for cast iron pipe and transite but reached no conclusion.

Dr. Langley said there were 100,000,000 feet of transite pipe in use in the U.S.A., and 5,000,000 feet in Canada. He suggested that indicated the pipe was worthwhile.

"I'm quite open-minded on the question and prepared to be shown that cast iron pipe is better," he said.

But, he remarked, a Canadian firm of consulting engineers recommended one grade of transite for certain jobs, and a heavier grade of cast iron pipe if the latter were used. He wanted to know why that was.

Commisioner Fred Hills remarked that he was "no engineer, but I'd be in favor of sticking with cast iron pipe. We've had good results with it."

Dr. Langley agreed that the city had good results with cast iron, but commented that "while we're playing safe, we shouldn't do it to the point where it costs the citizens more than an equally satisfactory installation".

The discussion ended on Dr. Langley's suggestion to hear the views of experts on both kinds of pipe. With that evidence before them, he felt the commission could make an accurate decision.

Dead In Bathtub

Hold Up Bill For Lighting

Utilities Commission complied with a request of the city council Tuesday regarding street lighting costs.

Informed recently of an increase in street lighting costs retroactive to January of this year, the council asked that the city be allowed to pay at the old rate for the remainder of the year.

Payment would be made for the retroactive account early in 1953. The commission agreed that this would be best, since the city's budget for this year was drawn up early in the year, and no amount was set aside for possible increases in the cost of street lighting.

Dr. G. R. Langley said he thought the commission should enquire of the HEPC whether it plans to step up street lighting costs in 1953. Ross Dobbin, utilities manager, said he expected there would be an increase.

Dr. Langley said the commission should have definite word so they could inform city council, and the city could budget accordingly.

Silver Anniversary

LAKEFIELD (ENS) —Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edwards were at home to their friends on Sunday afternoon from two until six o'clock on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary.

The tea table, with its white embroidered Chinese cloth, was centred with the wedding cake on a white satin pedestal, around which were small low silver vases of white snapdragons and baby 'mums.

Tea was poured by Mrs. William Bolton, of Peterborough, aunt of Mrs. Edward's and Mrs. C. Meehan, also of Peterborough.

Those serving were: Mrs. John Meehan and Mrs. Eric Jones of Peterborough, Mrs. M. Jonhson of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Irwin Pruner, Lakefield Highway and Mrs. William Bolton of Lakefield.

Industrial Development Bank Main Backing For Many Firms

OTTAWA (CP)—Since 1945 a new type of bank in Canada has been making capital loans to industries—big and small—in an effort to help expand Canada's industries.

The bank—the Crown-owned Industrial Development Bank—made its annual report to Parliament Tuesday.

The firm has been operating without much fanfare as a supplement to the country's main lending institutions. The report highlighted some of its operations.

The report notes: "During the last two fiscal years approximately 40 per cent of the credits authorized by the bank have been in three main categories—chemicals, iron and steel products and petroleum products—which are almost entirely of a defence or defence-supporting character."

SIMILAR PROBLEMS

The Industrial Development Bank has problems much the same as commercial banks. Higher money rates during its fiscal year ending Sept. 30 last forced it to raise its interest rate on loans from a maximum of five per cent to six per cent.

Many of its loans are to marginal companies, who perhaps lack sufficient capital to attract commercial firms as good lending risks.

At Sept. 30 last, the bank had $49,604,594 in current authorized loans, and of this total $24,103,314 was in loans of more than $200,000.

But most of its loans are in smaller amounts. Of 583 current loans on Sept. 30, 246 were for amounts between $5,000 and $25,000.

Most of the loans go to the central provinces — at Sept. 30, $14,845,000 in credits was outstanding in Quebec and $8,170,000 in Ontario. British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Alberta and New Brunswick were next in order in the amounts of loans placed.

Like other banks, the Industrial Development Bank trims its sails to the current economic winds. In its 1952 fiscal year it authorized 160 applications, compared to 199 in 1951 and 189 in 1950.

Marmora CWL Holds Christmas Meeting

MARMORA (ENS)—December meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held in the Sacred Heart parish hall on Monday evening. The president, Mrs. William Shannon, welcomed the large attendance and conveyed seasonal greetings to the members.

The treasurer's report, presented by Mrs. J. O'Neill, showed finances in good condition The two social conveners, Mesdames J. H. English and K. Donaldson, reported for Marmora and Deloro respectively. Mrs. Rose Johnston, missions convener, also gave a report. The success of the recent canvass for the Catholic Register was reported by Mrs. L. P. Hughes. Mesdames W. Meehan and G. Forestell reported as sick committee for the month. Mrs. Carl Heath then presented two personally designed Christmas cards for further presentation to two sick members of the congregation.

Father O'Neill in his address included his thanks to the league for the valued continued support during the past month.

Miss Genevieve Shannon sang "Holy Night," with Mrs. Hugh Brady as accompanist. Mrs. J. Black chose "The Painter of Seville" as her topics. Mrs. Carl Heath gave a reading, "Housewife's Revelation." Christmas carols were then sung by the league, with Mrs. H. Brady at the piano. A short humorous play, "Christmas Proposal," was executed by Miss Mary Hughes and Mrs. Charles Clemens, and Mrs. Richard Moloney gave a Christmas reading.

Awaiting the arrival of Santa Claus, Mrs. Carl McCoy played Christmas songs on the piano.

Ask Ontario Set Up New Hospital Board

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—City council Tueisday nght passed a resolution requesting the provincial government to take "necessary steps" to establish a new board of directors for East Windsor Hospital.

Such action was one of several recommendations made in the report issued by commissioner Gordon L. Fraser following a recent investigation into operation and management of the hospital.

Alderman Archie Munro, a council representative on the board, made the motion after criticizing the board for its "laxity."

Would Ban Substitutes

HAMILTON (CP)—The Hamilton Milk Producers' Association decided at its annual meeting Tuesday to ask the Ontario government for legislation making the manufacture and sale of edible oil products as dairy substitutes illegal. President Gordon Callon told the meeting margarine was here to stay but the resolution is aimed at preventing the introduction of other products.

Iroquois Reloads At Port In Victoria

VICTORIA (CP)—Except to note that they had taken revenge, crew members of the battle-tested destroyer Iroquois were silent Tuesday on the action which cost Canada her first naval battle casualties of the Korean war.

Bundles of mail and freshly-cut Christmas trees were taken aboard minutes after the Iroquois docked. She will remain here until Saturday, then continue to her home port of Halifax.

The Iroquois is commanded by Cmdr. William M. Landymore of Brantford, Ont., and Ottawa.

Three men were killed and three wounded aboard the Iroquois in September when a shell from a Communist shore battery scored a direct hit on one of the destroyer's gun decks.

Jail Harry Swartz For False Statement

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Harry (Swabby) Swartz, 36, a key figure in the 1951 Fort Erie, Ont. horse race fix investigation, was in jail here Tuesday on a charge of failing to reveal a criminal record when he entered the United States.

Swartz was arraigned Tuesday before a United States commissioner. Immigration officials said he gave false and misleading statements when he entered the U.S. here Nov. 12. Bail was set at $2,500, and a hearing was set for Friday.

Last June 12 at Welland, Ont., Swartz was sentenced to serve three months imprisonment in connection with the investigation of alleged fixed races at the Fort Erie track.

Fire Burns In Mine

RHONDDA, Wales (Reuters)—About 500 mine workers were rushed to the surface Tuesday to escape a fire in the shaft of a coal mine which threatened to spread underground. Firemen fought the blaze for several hours before it was extinguished. No casualties were reported.

New Boundaries Creating Road Problems

TORONTO (CP) — Expanding boundaries of several Ontario cities this year have been responsible for new winter maintenance problems, highway department officials said Tuesday. Small sections of highways turned over to cities as a sequel to annexations are causing some concern.

An example is a portion of Highway 2 between Kingston and Cataraqui. About five miles of this highway were turned over to the city when Kingston expanded westward this year. A serious road blockade developed on that section due to the snowstorm of Dec. 14 and 15 and traffic was held up for about six hours.

The traffic delay was beyond the control of the department of highways, since the section causing the trouble now is within the city of Kingston, the department said.

To prevent repetition of such a blockade, the department says it will try to give emergency service on recently-annexed sections of highways if the cities concerned will authorize the expenditure required for use of department equipment and winter maintenance forces.

Soviet Bloc Talks Longest In UN Committees—Report

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The drive to cut down on useless talk in the United Nations assembly has revealed that the Soviet-bloc countries speak the longest—in the legal committee at least.

South African delegate A. Roberts did the research which shows that in the first seven weeks of the current session the five Soviet-bloc countries spoke a total of 1,000 minutes in the legal committee. That gives them each an average of 200 minutes or three hours and 20 minutes.

The other UN groups wind up this way: Latin-Americans 84 minutes, Arabs 73, English-speaking delegations 69, Scandinavians 43 and Asians 39.

Roberts gave the statistics to back his support of any changes which would eliminate waste of time. The committee is discussing measures to limit the duration of assembly sessions — which are growing progressively longer.

The present session began Oct. 14, is expected to suspend work Dec. 23 and resume in February. By Dec. 23 it will have been working nine weeks.

Canadian delegate Kenneth Burbridge of the department of external affairs told the committee Tuesday that in some cases the rights of debate "have been abused." He emphasized, however, that Canada would oppose any move to prevent "the free and full discussion."

Canada, meanwhile, has co-sponsored a resolution which would shift the start of assembly meetings from September to April in an attempt to get around the delay in work caused by U.S. elections.

Senate Group Rejects Wider Treason Definition

OTTAWA (CP)—A Senate committee Tuesday completed study of a revision of the Criminal Code and rejected several government proposals including a wider definition of treason.

The committee also eliminated a section grouping the RCMP with military forces, provided for appeals against a conviction for contempt of court and restored a provision for new trials when a conviction in magistrate's court is appealed.

Amendments made by the Senate banking and commerce committee to the government's proposed revision of the code were introduced in the Senate Tuesday night. If the senate approves the amended version of the bill, it will go to the Commons for further consideration.

GOVERNMENT SUGGESTION

The government's proposal for a wider definition of treason would have made it a treasonable offence for anyone to pass to another country any information that "is likely to be prejudicial to the safety or interests of Canada." Conviction would mean death or life imprisonment.

The committee voted 15 to 1 to insert the section in that part of the code dealing with aiding aliens. This carries a maximum sentence of 14 years imprisonment

Justice Minister Garson had appealed to the committee not to change the additional definition of treason.

However, Senators Arthur Roebuck (L—Ontario) and Salter Hayden (L—Ontario) sparked opposition to the definition on grounds that it does not specify the kind of information it is treasonable to pass. They also said the definition was too broad.

Bad Accident Spoils Leave

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP)—A 30-day Christmas leave came to an abrupt halt Tuesday when a Camp Shilo, Man., soldier was seriously injured in a highway accident.

Sgt. Charles Goldring, 36, his wife, Jean, and their three small children were en route to his parents' home at St. Catharines, Ont., for Christmas when their car went out of control and rolled over in a ditch two miles west of Austin, Man., midway between here and Brandon.

Sgt. Goldring was taken to Portage hospital with a possible fractured shoulder and pelvic injuries. His condition is fair.

Mrs. Goldring, Hugh, 1, Philip, 4, and Paul, 5, escaped serious injury.

Saved From Gas Fumes

OTTAWA (CP) — The timely awakening of a seven-year-old boy early Tuesday was credited with saving the lives of nine other persons when coal gas fumes spread through their suburban Eastview home. Pierre Villeneuve aroused his father, Laurent Villeneuve, 31, who put in an emergency call to the Eastview fire department. All members of the household were unconscious when firemen arrived and emergency treatment was given for 50 minutes before they were out of danger.

Bill Adopted To Make Bd. Rulings Final

QUEBEC (CP) — A government bill designed to make decisions of the Quebec labor relations board final was adopted over Liberal opposition in the Legislative Assembly Tuesday night. The vote was 56 to 19.

The Liberal opposition voted earlier for the principle of the bill, aimed at cutting down delays in union negotiations with the employers.

While supporting clauses of the bill eliminating any possible court interference with the work of labor arbitration boards, the opposition was against disallowing appeal on decisions of the labor relations board.

The bill now goes to the Legislative Council for discussion. It was the last government measure on the assembly's agenda.

The assembly also adopted a government bill to make it impossible for a member of the Legislative Council also to be a member of the Canadian Senate and a bill introduced by Hon. Wilfrid Bovey (L.-Rougemont) of the upper house that would bar from public office for life any person convicted of treason.

Fenella School Holds Christmas Concert

FENELLA (ENS)—The Fenella School held their Christmas concert in the school Monday evening, Dec. 15, with John Jewell as chairman. Program numbers included:

Recitation by Tommy Fanning; solo, Lorraine Murphy, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Down; recitation, Marie Macklin; Scotch song by the school, with Ronnie George in full Scottish uniform; piano solo, Anne Fanning; chorus by eight boys; speeches by Anne Fanning, Reg. Jewell and Carolyn George; solo by Kenneth Waldie, accompanied by Gene Waldie; Christmas chorus by the school pupils

Joyce Pollard invited Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Montgomery to the platform and Anne Fanning presented them with an electric waffle iron. "Here Comes Santa Claus" was sung as Santa came in and distributed gifts.

Truman Orders Security Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — President Truman has ordered three branches of the government to collaborate on a plan to guarantee "a maximum of security in U. S. personnel employed at the United Nations."

The directive — revealed here by Attorney-General James P. McGranery — has the approval of Senator Alexander Wiley (Rep. Wis.), who is in line to become chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee in the new Congress.

Wiley says the Truman administration "can render a service" by helping to solve the UN subversives problem before President-elect Eisenhower's inauguration Jan. 20.

McGranery announced the presidential order at a press conference Tuesday. The state and justice departments and the civil service commission were directed to work out the security plan. McGranery did not mention what the plan might consist of.

29 DISMISSED

Twenty - nine Americans have been dismissed from the UN as a result of various Communist investigations. The firings were largely for refusing to answer questions about Communist affiliations.

Spokesmen for the state and justice departments said the president's order had only laid "the ground rules" for the program and that no details had been worked out yet.

The order, McGranery said, was issued as a result of the recent recommendations of a panel of three international jurists to UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie.

The annual Christmas party of St. John's Anglican Women's Club was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William McLarnon, 671 Chamberlain St. Fifteen members were present. The evening was spent singing Christmas carols and old-time songs. Mrs. J. A. Foster played the piano. Three contests were played. The jelly bean contest was won by Mrs. R. G. Gauntlett. The tangle of movie stars contest was won by Mrs. A. Davis and the scramble song contest was won by Mrs. Gauntlett and was sung by her and Mrs. E. J. Edwards. The guest soloist was Miss Mabel McLarnon who sang "A Star was His Cradle" and "Nymphs and Shepherds." A gift was presented to Mrs. Martha Groombridge for the work she did during the year. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served by Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. J. E. Chase and Mrs. H. Howell.

500 lbs. Clothes Sent Overseas By WMS Group

The church parlor of St. Andrew's United Church was beautifully decorated Tuesday for the WMS meeting.

Mrs. A. A. Munro was in charge of the meeting and she used as her call to worship the poem, "The Inn Was Full."

The Presbyterial meeting to be held in St. James' United Church in January was announced. The report of the affiliation service of the CGIT was given as well as annual reports. The reports showed a year of great activity and inspiration.

Mrs. E. F. Reid, supply secretary, reported that about 500 pounds of clothing in good condition had been sent overseas. She also reported that $20 worth of toys had been sent to Dr. Barclay McKone at the hospital at Moosenee.

Miss Eva Preston reported for associate members.

The nominating committee's report was received and adopted. The installation of officers will take place in an evening service in January.

The devotional program from the missionary monthly for the Christmas meeting was used. Those taking part were: Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, Mrs. E. F. Reid, Mrs. F. Gillespie, Mrs. H. R. Davis.

The meeting closed with the serving of refreshments under the convenership of Mrs E. Hawley.

Couple Observe 73rd Anniversary

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William W. Lambeth are celebrating their 73rd wedding anniversary today — a little quietly. They're still a bit tuckered from observing his 101st birthday.

On that occasion, Dec. 4, all six children were on hand. There was open house. Today there would be a good dinner, at least five of the children present but otherwise "a nice quiet day," said a daughter, Ellen Lambeth.

Lambeth was a cattle rancher and later a landscape gardener. He worked in his vegetable garden through his 99th year. Now bedridden most of the time, he keeps up with current events by quizzing callers.

His wife Ellen, 94 and blind, manages to be up and around.

Scouts, Guides Given Party

The Scout Mother's Auxiliary of St. Alban's held a Christmas party for 125 scouts, cubs, guides and brownies at the Mission, Friday.

Scouter Wood acted as chairman and gave a special welcome to the parents and children. He introduced Mrs. J. Gray, president of the auxiliary and Mr. Cyril Barnes, chairman of the group committee.

Messrs. Bob Fontaine, Elmer Wood and Jack Dargany entertained with suitable songs and music followed by a scout film.

The brownie entertainment included recitations, selections on the piano accordion and a play, Magic for the Golden Bar, and Jingle Bells.

The cubs' play, Christmas Holiday, was enjoyed.

The guides' portion consisted of the Magic Will, and a song and dance, Skip To My Lou.

The Horrible Truth, and A Visitor to the Nut House, by the scouts completed the program.

Santa Claus arrived and gifts were exchanged by each company.

17 Babies Presented For Baptism

Seventeen babies were baptized on Sunday morning at a special Christmas service in St. James' United Church. The whole order of worship centred in the thought of the Babe of Bethlehem. The anthems for senior and junior choirs were: O Zion's Daughter by Hill, and Mary's Lullaby, a fourteenth century carol.

The minister, Rev. H. D. McCormack, preached a sermon entitled "A Child in the Midst." It followed the thought of Luke 2: 22-40, where Mary and Joseph brought the baby Jesus to the temple, and the Messiahship of Jesus was recognized and proclaimed by Simeon and the aged Anna.

The following parents brought their babies to the service for baptism: Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Allen, baby Lynda Marie; Mr. and Mrs. Melville L. Hunter, baby Robert Melville; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Piercy Roberts, baby Jillaine Piercy; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Allen Ball, baby Carol Ann; Mr. and Mrs. William A. Crowder, baby Daniel Russel; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cook, baby Gregory Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Gordon, baby Robert James; Mr. and Mrs. Orville E. Lunn, baby Edward Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Everitt S. Poast, baby Marion Elizabeth; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald S. Seabrook, baby Shelley Lorraine; Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Hewitt, baby Beverly Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Murphy, baby William John; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Waterman, baby Janet Helen; Mr. and Mrs. W. Melbourne Wright, baby Carol Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. King, baby Jennine Heather; Mr. and Mrs. Verne W. Pinn, baby Barry Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Archibald H. Brown, baby Dorothy Vivian.

St. James' audiorium was beautifully decorated for the Christmas season by the committee of stewards.

Mrs. E. McKinstry President Of Grace WA

A carol service opened the Grace United Church Women's Association in the church Tuesday. The program was convened by Mrs. Thomas Goudy.

The scripture, the Christmas Story, was read by Mrs. C. Wilson. Prayer and commentary were given by Mrs. Verda Montgomery. A reading, No Room in the Inn, was given by Mrs. A. Tripp.

A brief business meeting was held and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. D. L. Montgomery. A letter of Christmas greeting from Mrs. I. G. Pollock, who was unable to attend the meeting due to illness, was read.

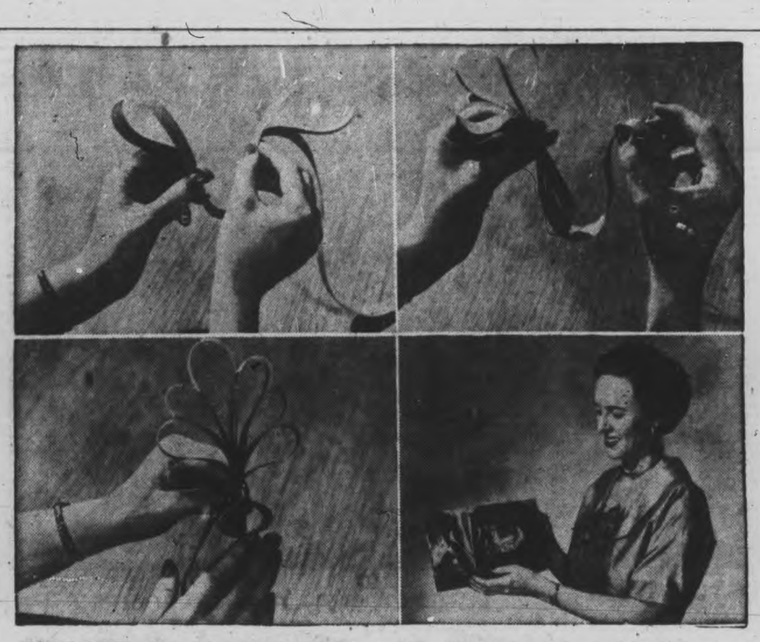
A report on the November tea was given and it was announced that 275 net proceeds had been raised. Mrs. Herbert Walker, tea convener, was congratulated. It was also announced that the Mission Band raised $31 at the tea.

The election of officers for 1953 was conducted by Mrs. W. Hargreaves. Mrs. H. Corner presented the report of the nominating committee.

The new officers are: Mrs. I. G. Pollock, honorary president; Mrs. G. Close, past president; Mrs. Eric McKinstry, president; Mrs. W. J. Waldy, 1st vice-president; Mrs. R. Knight, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. M. Beasley, secretary; Mrs. J. B. Jackson, treasurer; Mrs. A. Tripp, social convener; Mrs. Walter Page Jr., card convener; Mrs. R. Hosker, sunshine convener, Mrs. E. Partington, telephone convener; Mrs. M. Mitchell and Mrs. W. Turney, pianists; Mrs. W. H. Gerow, press secretary.

Mrs. Goudy conducted contests during the social hour. The winners were: Mrs. H. Corner, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. H. Glover, Mrs. M. Ebbitt.

Gifts were distributed. The tea room and table were decorated in the Christmas theme. Lunch was served by Mrs. C. Wilson, Mrs. V. Montgomery, Mrs. F. Sanders, Mrs. A. Tripp, Mrs. T. Hawkins, Mrs. W. Lunn and Mrs. Goudy.



TREE BOW—To make (1) (top left), hold ribbon by edge between thumb and middle finger, using index finger as a brace. Fold ribbon to make two loops so that the loop on the right is about one inch longer than the other. Keep working end of ribbon free to continue loops. (2) (Top right), make loop on right side of larger loop to match the loop on the other side. Make another loop on the left, about three-quarters of an inch shorter than the loop previously made. Make mate to this on the other side, and continue until the tree is of the right size for your package. Be sure to wind the working end of the ribbon outside of the tree trunk when making each loop. (3) (Lower left), tie narrow strip of ribbon at bottom of tree trunk. Spread trunk up and out as far as narrow ribbon to make tree base. Crease outside edges. Wrap loose ends of narrow tie around the base to make tree remain firm and tie at back with double knot. (4) (Lower right), finished tree bow on package.

Bible Class Holds Dinner

A Christmas dinner party was held by the King's Own Bible Class of St. James' United Church in the primary room of the church.

The party was convened by Mrs. L. Gibson assisted by Mrs. G. Harris and Mrs. M. Fowler. Mrs. G. Pearson was in charge of decorations and tables. Mrs. E. Downer was in charge of the Christmas tree and gifts. Mrs. Herbert Doig, pianist, played for Christmas carols. Mrs. L. Gibson was in charge of the devotional and business period.

Mrs. Hess read the scripture, Mrs. L. Bird gave a poem, Gay Christmas. Mrs. A. Post read the Christmas story. Reports were read and adopted.

Mrs. C. Murdoff read the nominating committee's report. The following are members of the 1953 executive: Mrs. A. Clarke, past president Mrs. L. Gibson, president; Mrs. A. Post, 1st vice president; Mrs. M. Fowler, 2nd vice president; Mrs. F. Turner, secretary; Mrs. G. Pearson, treasurer; Mrs. G. Harris, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. Doig, pianist; Mrs. L. Ball, sunshine convener; Mrs. K. Sloane, sewing convener, assisted by Mrs. E. Downer; Mrs. C. Murdoff, phone convener, assisted by Mrs. E. Hunter, Mrs. Morrison; Mrs. L.J. Webb Madame Year; Mrs. W. Stanbury and Mrs. W. Gilder, visiting conveners.

Mrs. Hooey moved a vote of thanks to everyone taking part.

Mrs. Ball conducted contests during the social hour. The meeting closed with the mizpah benediction.

Home and School Association News

PARKHILL SCHOOL

A record crowd attended the annual Christmas meeting of the Parkhill Home and School Association on honoring the 1952 graduating class and their parents.

A real Christmas atmosphere was created in the room by a decorated Christmas tree and Christmas motifs around the room.

The business part of the meeting presided over by Mrs. V. Ferguson, was brief because of the special program to follow. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. G. Duncan. A Christmas program put on by Miss C. Bailey's class of 37 pupils with children from units 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 taking part was excellent. The pupils enjoyed their parts so well and certainly showed that they had been well drilled.

The program opened with a welcome of "Everybody Smile on Christmas" and "The First Noel" sung by all the pupils. A recitation was given by three boys entitled "My Daddy." A Mime playlet followed entitled "The King of Hearts" in which everyone took part. A recitation entitled "Christmas is Coming" by three boys was followed by a folk dance "Pop Goes the Weasel".

To add variety to the program several intricate drills were done by girls from units 5 and 6, and another drill by girls from units 7, 8 and 9. Other recitations entitled "Santa Claus", "Don't Open Until Christmas", "December" and "The Alphabet" were very original. A pantomine of "The Natvity" was presented. A dialogue entitled "Miss Malviny Entertains Her Boy Friend" was performed by pupils of units 8 and 9. A colorful folk dance "Chimes of Dunkirk" was done by all the girls.

Miss C. Bailey presented the crests and certificates to the 1952 graduates. "The Irish Jig" and "A March" was played by The Rhythm Band. This was followed by a recitation wishing the audience "A Merry Christmas". The meeting was closed with the singing of the National Anthem. Mrs. D. Jory thanked Miss C. Bailey and praised her for the splendid work she was doing.

The 1952 graduates and Miss Bailey's class adjourned for the social part of the evening to gaily decorated tables in the school colors of blue and heliotrope and enjoyed sandwiches, milk and ice cream. A special feature was the lovely large birthday cake decorated in school colors for the graduates and those taking part in the program. Refreshments were served to the adults by Mrs. A. Lester and committee.

WOODVIEW SCHOOL

The regular monthly meeting of the Woodview Home and School Association was held at the Schoolhouse on Wednesday. Mrs. H. Burns, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Hill.

Speaker of the evening was Richard Stewart, warden of Peterborough County. He congratulated the women in forming a Home and School Association and on the appearance of the schoolhouse since they had cleaned and painted it.

Mr. Stewart gave an interesting and informative address on the various county and township rates. He gave information regarding the fire fighting equipment which he hoped may sometime be in operation in the township.

A string trio composed of Shiela Nancy and Arthur Petrie entertained with several enjoyable old time numbers.

Announcement was made that the Christmas concert would be held on Thursday, Dec. 18, and a request made for candy, nuts, etc. to fill stockings for the tree. Volunteers worked on making the stockings while lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Vote of thanks to Mr. Stewart was extended by Mrs. Ken Petrie.

Duchess Of Windsor Tops 12 Best Dressed Women

NEW YORK (AP)— The New York Dress Institute's list of best-dressed women of the world numbers 12—not the usual 10—to include two new political figures.

The additions are Mamie Eisenhower and Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, named U. S. federal security administrator by President-elect Eisenhower.

LATE STARTERS

The institute said Tuesday Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Hobby were "late starters," but came up so strongly in the voting that they tied for 11th place.

The first 10:

The Duchess of Windsor; Mrs. William Paley of New York; The Duchess of Kent; Mrs. Byron Foy of New York; Mme. Louis Arpels of Paris and New York; Marlene Dietrich; Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Jr.; Mrs. Winston Guest, the former Lucy D. Cochrane of Boston, Countess Rodolfo Crespi of Rome, the former Consuelo O'Connor; and Mme. Henri Bonnet, wife of the French ambassador to the U. S.

The Duchess of Windsor is at the top of the list for the 10th time since 1942.

DOROTHY DIX

Husband's Purse Resists Assault

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married for ten years to a man 16 years old than I. We get along fairly well—except for money. I have never gotten an allowance or any extra money, and barely enough to run the table. We have a son, and for eight years I've been busy making over discarded clothes for him. I make all my own things, but when I ask for money for material there's a big argument.

My husband makes a good salary and sees to it that he has plenty of clothes—and good ones. His excuse is that he has to go to work and must look right. I wanted to get a part-time job, but when he found out about it he was very angry. He doesn't want people to think his wife has to work. I have no close relatives and friends to turn to, so would greatly appreciate any advice you can give.

DORIS D.

ANSWER: Yours is one of the meanest, and most prevalent, problems of marriage. Some men just seem to be on the lookout for a bargain in matrimony. They acquire a wife to be housekeeper, nurse, secretary, cook, seamstress, hostess and a dozen other things, then decide she's not worth the price of a pair of stockings. Money keeps coming in, but heaven help the woman who suggests that a little of it should also go out. Only Father can spend, and how he can take care of himself.

Women come in for their share of blame, too. If they make no demands, or only weak ones, friend husband will naturally get away with everything possible. Far be it from him to be Santa Claus if the little woman will be satisfied with Scrooge. Letting a situation like this grow for ten years is overdoing meekness.

SETTLE FINANCES FIRST

While this suggestion will not help Doris, it should be brought home to every prospective bride that the time to settle the financial angle of marriage is before the wedding. No girl should marry a man unless he is willing to share with her all knowledge of his financial standing—how much he earns, what his prospects are, how much money he has in the bank (if any), how much and what kind of insurance he carries, etc. There also should be a definite understanding as to the handling of his income after the wedding bells have stilled. Of course, there's no guarantee that all premarital promises will be kept, but at least it's a step in the right direction. When it does become evident that hubby's pockets are lined with fishhooks, the bride should stand firmly on her two feet and demand an equable arrangement. This should be done, not ten years, but ten weeks later.

Since you neglected these preliminaries, Doris, you are stuck with a first-lass miser. What to do? Go ahead and take the part-time job. If he worries about his friends' opinion, fine. After all you've worried ten years about the price of shoes; let him get a few gray hairs now. When you do earn money, see that it is spent on yourself, not on him. There are a few good arguments in store, but determination works wonders—it's even been known to convert a miser.

DEAR MISS DIX: My wife is 23, I am 33, and, though I don't think I love her, I think enough of her to be glad to come home and find her there. We have a nice home and now I am trying to get into business building cabins for summer homes. My wife refuses to get out and work to help me. She thinks her housework is enough. Should I leave her and find a wife who would be more helpful?

J.C.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: From the meager information you give, I can't tell whether your wife is really shirking her duty or whether you are expecting too much of her. You don't mention children so, if your wife is childless, keping house, unless the conditions are extraordinary, should not be such a big job that she can't help out on the cabin-building project. It is also possible, however, that you expect her to combine her housework with a man-sized job in the building line. Your casual attitude toward her would lead me to suspect that you are all too ready to find fault. Make sure your cause is just before jumping to conclusions.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: We are two teen-age girls. We have been going with two nice boys for a good while. They never have told us they like us and our problem is: if they don't tell us, how will we know if they like us or not?

T.T.A.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Actions speak louder than words; if the boys didn't like you, they wouldn't take you out. Let things fall in their proper places; when it's time for them to get sentimental, they will.

Christmas Tree Mistake But Youngsters Love It

By HERB ALTSCHUL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Christmas tree is all a mistake History says so.

But children will say it's the most glorious mistake in the world. So will the Christmas tree industry which in the United States this year will sell about 32,000,000 trees for around $50,000,000.

The National Geographic Society, which reported the figures, said the $50,000,000 did not include lights and tree ornaments, which run into extra millions.

Historically, the Christmas tree has nothing to do with the religious observance of the day. Quite the contrary: it began as a pagan practice.

ALLOWED CUSTOMS

Back in the sixth century, Pope Gregory I instructed his missionaries not to destroy innocent pagan customs which were not inconsistent with church doctrine and which could be woven into the fabric of Christian ceremony.

The missionary Boniface, who went to England to preach Christianity, found the Teutons worshipping the sacred oak of Odin.

Instead of trying to destroy that practice, Boniface persuaded the Christian converts to substitute an evergreen tree for the oak and to decorate it in honor of the Christ Child. The practice stuck, particularly in the English-speaking world.

But the mass use of Christmas trees did not come into being until the new world was colonized. Here evergreens were found in abundance—fir and spruce and pine.

Christmas tree producers, located mainly in Canada and the northern United States, start work on next year's crop as soon as Christmas day has passed.

Some trees are cut, treated with special preservative and coloring materials and stored in chilled warehouses for the next season. This supply is augmented by trees cut in the fall.

WA Returns 1952 Officers

WARKWORTH —(ENS)— The Women's Association of the Oak Heights United Church held their monthly meeting on Thursday at the home of Mrs. A. P. Sayles with an attendance of 20 members and visitors and 10 children.

The president, Mrs. L. Tucker, presided. For the devotional period short readings were given by Mrs. Clarence Ferguson, Mrs. A. McMurdo, Mrs. E. Palmateer, Mrs. Archie Ferguson and Mrs. Bruce Porter. These readings were interspered with Christmas Carols sung in unison with Mrs. Clarence Ferguson, pianist.

During the business period the secretary report was given by Mrs. Jim Sayles; the treasurer's report by Mrs. Archie Ferguson. Mrs. W. H. Porter reported one card sent by the Sunshine Convener and Mrs. Clarence Ferguson reported one visit made while Mrs. Bruce Porter stated the buying committee had not purchased anything since the last meeting.

Mrs. Archie Ferguson, the program convener conducted the following program,—vocal solo by Miss Eleanor McMurdo; a reading by Mrs. A. P. Sayles; Mrs. Clarence Ferguson a piano solo and Mrs. Archie Ferguson a reading.

The Rev. A. L. Sisco conducted the election of officers which resulted in re-election of all 1952 officers. president — Mrs. L. Tucker; vice - presidents, Mrs. Jack Potter and Mrs. Douglas Langford; secretary Mrs. Alvin Pratt; assistant, Mrs. Jim Sayles; treasurer, Mrs. Archie Ferguson; sunshine convener, Mrs. W. H. Sayles; pianist, Mrs. Clarence Ferguson, program convener, Mrs. A. McMurdo, and parsonage representative, Mrs. Lawrence.

What's Right?

You notice that a married friend is paying quite a lot of attention to an attractive woman at a party.

WRONG: Later kid him about it in his wife's hearing.

RIGHT: Realize that it is never good manners to comment in front of a man's wife on the attention he has paid another woman.

THE MOVIE COLUMN:

Film Producer Retired Early, Enjoys Life

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Film producers who are working themselves into an early grave should heed the example of Albert E. Smith. He retired from movie-making 27 years ago and has been having a wonderful time ever since.

White-haired and peppery at 77, Smith is one of the remaining members of that fabulous breed of immigrant boys who struck it rich in the U.S.

It's a good idea not to ask him when he got into the movie business. He'll reply: "There wasn't any movie business when I started making movies."

That was in 1896. Smith had come to the U.S. from his native England in 1888 at the age of 13. He became interested in show business and hooked up with Stuart Blackton in a Lyceum circuit that sent out lecturers and entertainers.

ATTRACTED BY GADGET

They were attracted by Thomas Edison's new motion picture gadget. With Blackton as the artist and Smith as the mechanical mind, they formed the Vitagraph Company. It became one of the biggest names in the movie business.

In 1925 Smith sold Vitagraph to Warner Brothers and retired at the age of 50. Why did he sell out?"

"The company was not doing well," he replied. "It was an enterprise with 80 offices in this country, 20 in England and others all over the world. All the burden was on my shoulders.

"Also, I had a consultation with several doctors, including one I had grown up with. He said if I quit work I might live as long as my father, who died at 98. But if I didn't, he said he wouldn't be responsible. I had been working since I was 11, so I decided to stop and enjoy life."

Unlike many men who have led strenuous lives, Smith had no trouble adjusting to retirement. The sale left him well-fixed.

"I've never been bored," he commented. "I've got so many hobbies that I don't have the time for all of them."

He remained out of the limelight until 1948, when the Motion Picture Academy honored him for his pioneer work in the industry.

Buchanan Heads Red Cross Drive

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—Albert G. Buchanan was named chairman of the financial campaign for the Lakefield branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, at their executive meeting held Saturday afternoon in Memorial Hall. Mr. Buchanan replaces the late E. W. Bailey, who died in the spring. A committee, consisting of Mrs. W. W. Leonard, the Rev. J. A. Steed and Arthur Kingdon, will assist Mr. Buchanan.

The campaign, which is held each year in March, was discussed, and although definite plans were left to the committee's decision, it is quite probable that a "blitz" system will be used and an effort made to canvas the entire village on one evening.

The president, Mrs. Albert O'Donnell, was in the chair. The financial report was given by the treasurer, Mrs. G. E. Renwick, and the secretary's by Mrs. S. A. Grylls. Correspondence included a letter from Miss Rachael Young, director of the Children's Aid Society, thanking the branch for two layettes sent recently.

The budget for the coming year was discussed, and plans were made to send a remembrance to several people who are ill at Christmas.

Mock Duck Dish Suggested On Special-Purpose Menu

OVEN DINNER

Tomato Juice with Lemon
Mock Duck
Stuffed Baked Potatoes
Scalloped Tomatoes
Celery Curls
Strained Spiced Applesauce
Chelsea Buns Coffee

The Consumers' Section of the Department of Agriculture has some clever dieticians on their staff. Their recipe research is famous throughout Canada I notice that flank steak seems to be a favorite cut with some of them. I use flank steak too, but in a limited way I'm afraid. My favorite flank steak dish is Mock Duck and if it is baked carefully it is a great old Moore favorite It loses none of its goodness when sliced cold—if you can manage to salvage any.

Directions:

MOCK DUCK

Buy one flank steak and to make it tenderer, pound it with steak pounder until you flatten it and break up the long fibres. Spread it on board. Filling: Add to 1½ cups breadcrumbs, 1 teaspoon each chopped parsley and summer savory, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, and ½ tablespoon chopped onion sauted in 1½ tablespoons melted butter until soaked with the butter but not brown. Spread this over the prepared meat. Roll up and tie securely. Place in small roasting pan, pour around the meat 2 tablespoons drippings melted in 1 cup boiling water. Cover tightly and bake in oven of 350 deg. Fahr. until tender—time depends on age of beef—it may take 1½ or 3 hours. Uncover and baste during last ½ hour.

STUFFED BAKED POTATOES

Bake 6 medium-sized potatoes at 425 deg. Fahr. until tender—about 1 hour. Cut a slice from the top and scoop out potato. Mash and add ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-3 cup hot milk. Beat until very light. Beat stiff the white of 1 egg and fold this in. Restuff potato skins, piling filling high. Brown and reheat through in hot oven. You may omit the egg white.

SCALLOPED TOMATOES

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and add 2 cups breadcrumbs to them and stir until crumbs soak up butter. Sprinkle some of these in a buttered baking dish. Using from a 28-oz. tin put in a layer of tomatoes, dot over with butter, salt and pepper and part of 1 tablespoon grated onion and part of ½ or 1 cup finely chopped celery; sprinkle with crumbs, repeat, using all of the can of tomatoes in second layer. Finish with thick topping of crumbs. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. until bubbling and golden.

CHELSEA BUNS

Make Plain Bun Dough: One cup milk, 1-3 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lukewarm water, ½ yeast cake, 3 tablespoons soft butter, 1-3 teaspoon cinnamon, about 3 cups of bread flour. Soften the yeast in the water. Heat the milk to a little warmer than lukewarm, remove from heat and add sugar, salt, softened yeast and about 1 cup flour. Stir, cover and let rise until light in a warm place. When light add the butter, then the remaining flour sifted with the cinnamon. Knead the dough until it is elastic and squeaks. Let rise until light. To make the Chelsea part roll dough out to ½-inch thickness. Spread with mixture of 2 tablespoons softened butter, ¼ cup currants or sultanas, 1-3 cup brown sugar, 1½ teapsoons cinnamon. Roll the dough up and press edges together. Cut with sharp knife into slices 1 inch thick. Place close together in greased baking dish, have cut edges up. Let rise until light and doubled in bulk, in warm place. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 375 deg. Fahr. baking for 30 to 35 minutes in all. Wonderful with spiced applesauce.

Tiny Troublemaker Remains Still Unbeaten By Science

BY RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Science is plunging ahead in its all-out war on the violent virus, the tiny trouble-maker that causes such varied diseases as polio and the common cold

So far, the virus is still champ. It is so baffling, in fact, that nobody yet knows whether a virus is animal, vegetable, mineral or chemical; whether or not it is alive; exactly how it does its dirty work. And, certainly, nobody knows how to conquer it.

It's easy to understand how the virus continues to stump science when you consider its size. Take that old stand-by, the head of a pin, as a convenient yardstick. You can place 25,000,000 polio viruses on that pin-head without creating a parking problem.

But don't confuse viruses with bacteria. The average bacterium is a giant compared with the average virus, being more than 25 times as large. Science can see a bacterium under an ordinary microscope; it can't see most viruses. Science has learned that a bacterium is a tiny organism that takes nourishment and reproduces, like larger organisms. Science can only guess and theorize about the virus.

GET ROUGH IDEA

The electron miscrope, which bounces electrons off viruses in the same way as radar bounces radio waves off an approaching plane, gives science a rough idea of a virus' size and shape. From there on, however, it's every scientist for himself.

Some investigators think viruses are animals. Others think they're enzymes, a chemical compound, and do their mischief chemically. There are many other theories.

Besides differing from bacteria in size and, possibly, nature, viruses differ in their operational procedure. A bacterium is a happy-go-lucky devil; it prefers living tissue as a target, but it isn't too finicky about what kind. It usually attacks the substance between cells and is, therefore, an easy target for bacteria-killing drugs.

But the virus doesn't sit around waiting to be attacked. It invades the cell itself, and even seems to become a part of the cell. No drug, not even an antibiotic, can follow it that closely, and most viruses are thus unassailable by the wonder drugs.

Virologists liken these virus invasions to the invasion of a nation by an aggressor army. The virus breaks through the cell wall, then wrests control of the cell away from the former executive, the nucleus. Almost immediately, the nucleus is purged and the rest of the cell begins following the virus' directions.

VIRUS PRODUCING FACTORY

The cell may continue to function, but it begins to produce viruses instead of doing its old job. In about 15 minutes, an invading virus can transform a cell from a normal unit to a virus-producing factory. For about five minutes, it turns out new viruses: then it bursts and the new viruses are released to attack other cells.

But the virus is choosy about which cell it invades. A polio virus, for example, wouldn't be caught dead in a mouse cell; it must have a nerve cell from a human or, that failing, a monkey.

Bacteria and viruses, of course, produce different diseases. Bacteria causes scarlet fever, blood poisoning, tuberculosis, typhoid, dysentery, cholera, gonorrhea and such odds and ends as boils. Most of these can now be licked by antibiotics.

MOSTLY UNTREATABLE

Virus-caused diseases, mostly still untreatable, include rabies, yellow fever, sleeping sickness, influenza, mumps, measles, German measles, polio and the common cold—plus those mysterious "Virus X" and allied infections. Broad - spectrum antibiotics have proven somewhat effective against certain virus diseases, like smallpox and possibly virus pneumonia.

If a virus gets lost, and wanders into the wrong kind of cell, the effect can be strange. They're so built that most can only create their disease in the specific type of cell they favor.

There's one virus, called horse sleeping sickness virus, which produces a serious brain disease in both horses and men. But it hardly does any damage at all in other animals. Just the opposite is the herpes virus, which kills rabbits but usually only produces some unimportant fever blisters in man.

This one-track personality is a big stumbling-block in virus research. Ordinarily laboratory animals are not much help in the fight, because they simply cannot contract most virus diseases. The viruses of polio, measles and the common cold, for example, are strictly for men and monkeys.

Another difficulty is getting supplies of virus to use intests. The accommodating bacteria can be easily grown in test tubes, in a simple nutrient fluid. But the fussy virus refuses to cooperate; It's taken years of study to be able to produce viruses in the laboratory. And many stil lcannot be cultivated artificially.

Other peculiarities of virus make them difficult to guard against, through sanitary means. Some exist for an instant, outside the body, others not at all. They enter our system through direct contact —like a sneeze in the face—or through the bite of an insect, or in water or food or inhaled dust.

Most viruses, once in the body, go to work slowly. Measles, for example, has a 10-day incubation period, meaning that the first symptom is noted 10 days after exposure. By that time, the virus has a firm foot-hold (if viruses have feet) and that it's too late for ordinary therapy.

All in all, the virus is currently science's toughest problem.

(TOMORROW: Science vs. the polio virus.)

ELECTRON MICROSCOPE, which measures particles as small as 1/8,000,000th of an inch, bounces electrons off viruses to give science a rough idea of tiny killer's size and shape.

County Passes Fund For Rustling Victims

KITCHENER (CP) — Waterloo township council Tuesday approved a proposal to establish a fund to compensate victims of cattle rustling. The proposal was then referred to county council.

Police Chief H. J. Schedewitz said the fund would protect butchers and sales arena men as well as farmers. He said rustling victims were reluctant to give evidence because they would lose the purchase price to the owner if they found they bought stolen goods.

The 1951 Canadian census showed 152,775 Canadians who speak neither English nor French.

Say Army Dam Fishing Pond

OTTAWA (CP)—A CCF member of the Commons said Tuesday that a dam built on Tucker creek in the Petawawa military camp area was used by army officers for fishing "in the pool which just happened to be created."

Percy Wright, member of the Saskatchewan constituency of Melfort, made the reference in commenting on the Currie report on army stores irregularities.

He suggested that even Defence Minister Claxton may have fished there himself.

Mr. Wright, a former artillery officer, termed it a serious matter when the dam, costing between $3,000 and $4,000, was referred to in the Currie report as never having been authorized by army headquarters. The report said the utility of the structure "is not clear."

Dismiss Charge Against Driver

STRATFORD (CP)—A charge of dangerous driving against Charles M. Stevenson of Atwood was dismissed Tuesday for lack of evidence.

Stevenson was charged in connection with a traffic accident Oct. 15 when Allan Willet Puffer, 31, was fatally injured.

Judge H. D. Lang refused to permit Crown Attorney W. E. Goodwin to enter a statement given by Stevenson to the police on the day of the accident.

Defence counsel E. G. Thompson said that a provincial police constable, Clare Outingdyke, suggested to Stevenson the night of the accident it would be better for him to help the police.

Celebrating Transient Troops Blamed Causing Trouble For Canadian Officials

(The Canadian Press assigned Bill Boss, its staff writer with the Canadian forces in Korea, to investigate Japanese press reports of a "reign of terror" by Commonwealth and Canadian toops in Kure, Japan. He found the reports exaggerated, though Canadians have been involved in many crimes. In this story, one of a series, he describes Canadian Army action to control the crime situation.)

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Kure, Japan (CP)—The final fling before going home has got Canadians a bad name here but their reputation is improving.

The 600 Canadians with jobs in Kure are well behaved, army authorities report. They know that blotting their copy-books means a ticket to Korea.

Celebrating transients have been causing the trouble. Commonwealth and Canadian officials gave me three main reasons:

1. Too much money.
2. Drink—they can't handle much —and fast women.
3. Too much play time.

FREE SPENDERS

"Extravagant spending by chaps on their way to Canada was at the bottom of most of the trouble," said Col. Willis Moogk of Ottawa, colonel in charge of administration for the 25th Canadian brigade.

"Some fellows, including officers, blew the works. They hadn't a penny left b the time they caught the boat.

"Most offences here have been due to drunkenness—money, liquor and women. The crimes haven't been serious."

Commonwealth authorities said convalescents from Korea, awaiting posting back to units, also used to be among those in trouble.

Kure, 550 miles by train southwest of Tokyo, is a city of 193,000. It had 3,061 serious crimes between April 28 when Japanese sovereignty was restored and Nov. 15. Commonwealth soldiers committed only 239 of those crimes, of which the Canadians were responsible for 97.

The "reign of terror" is created by the Japanese themselves.

ARMY STEPS IN

But Canadian authorities, alarmed by the behavior of Canadians, clamped down on lawlessness. In August, 48 per cent of the 1,088 offences listed on the Commonwealth forces' police blotter were Canadian offences. In October, Canadians were charged with 231 offences in a total of 682.

Kure, once a major Japanese arsenal and naval port, caters to all the vices. Officers say Kure's own character and the Canadian Army's approach to conditions there were responsible for the crime situation among the troops.

It now is admitted that reinforcements for Korea waited too long in Kure. One senior officer said Kure also got "clogged" with officers and men posted back from Korea because they showed lack of ability, character or personality. Their incompetence was reflected in Kure troop discipline.

In addition, Canada at the start took no part in the broad military administration in Kure, which has the headquarters and base installations of British Commonwealth Forces in Korea.

TARDY RESPONSE

When the Canadians first were stationed at Kure in 1950, said Maj. Lex Johnson, Australian deputy assistant provost marshal, requests from BCFK for Canadian military police were ignored. Six months later 30 infantrymen from the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry came in as regimental police, but the policing of Kure was done by red-capped British provost until this year.

Now Canadian provost personnel share in patrols of the base military police company and look after their derelict fellow-countrymen.

In earlier days, Japan was an occupied country.

"Things were much more open then and many things happened which were never reported," said Maj. Johnson.

"The apparent increase in military crime is due to the fact that since April 28 the Japanese have been laying complaints. That was never done before."

UNDER OCCUPATION

Police Chief Matsuo Kirihara of the Kure municipal force told me: "The number of offences during the occupation may have been double the number since the peace treaty came into effect last April."

Noboru Isizaka, head of the newspaper Asahi Shimbun's office, said "bad conduct" by cabaret, bar and brothel operators undoubtedly contributed to the Commonwealth troops' crime record.

Brig. M. P. Bogert, commander of the 25th Canadian brigade and senior Canadian officer in the theatre, has dealt stringently with the Kure situation.

He ordered Kure cleared of all reinforcements. The policy now is that reinforcements go straight to Korea after documentation here and brush-up combat training at nearby Haramura. In all, about 600 men were moved out of Kure.

(One result is that for the first time in months all units except the 1st battalion Royal 22nd Regiment are over-strength.)

Brig. Bogert also ordered restrictions on the amount of money the troops can spend. Troops homeward bound were put on an allowance of $5 a day. Troops on leave were limited to $200 for their five days. Troops stationed in Kure may draw only one-half their basic pay plus any living or trades allowances to which they are entitled.

Finally, the brigadier raised the integrated provost strength to one officer and 52 men. More will be added.

The result is a sharp fall in number of military offences involving Canadians.

Some Ideas From Abroad For Your Christmas Menu

(By DOROTHY BARKLEY)

Have you kept to the well-tried favorites, the traditional Christmas recipes?

There are few things to which each country, in its own way, attaches more tradition than to the Christmas menu. But without breaking violently with tradtion, wouldn't something new, perhaps an idea from abroad, add spice to the occasion?

Try the cosmopolitan flavor, some of the following ideas. Be brave about your originality — stick to the original names.

ITALY

Zabaglione, an unusual sherry based drink.

For two portions you will need:
3 egg yolks
1-2 tablespoons sugar
2 half eggshellfuls sherry (or Marsala or Madeira).

Beat yolks until thick, add sugar and beat until dissolved. Measure sherry in half eggshell and warm slightly. Add to egg yolks and beat over barely simmering water until thickened and very light. Turn into serving glasses and top with a dash of cinnamon.

Another favorite of the Italian housewife is Cotoletta Alla Milanese (veal cutlets dipped in whipped eggs smothered with breadcrumbs and fried.)

FRANCE

Two suggestions from the French housewife's party fare: Marquisette and Uche aux Marrons.

For Marquisette you will need:
4 oz. ground almond
4 oz. icing or castor sugar
4 oz. grated chocolate
1 egg.

Mixed together with the egg into a thick paste. Break off pieces the size of a walnut, and roll into balls in cocoa powder. Leave to cool in a cool place for an hour or so.

And for Buche aux Marrons:
1½ lbs. chestnuts
4 oz. sugar
4 oz. chocolate
4 oz. butter (or other fat).

Boil chestnuts, peel and sieve them. Melt butter, sugar and chocolate. Mix them together with a wooden spoon, adding the chestnuts. Place mixture on a large sheet of greaseproof paper, roll it up to look like a log. Leave to cool for a day.

This recipe comes from the Lyons district. The Lyonnaise housewife decorates the log with grated nuts, marks it with a fork so that the outside resembles the bark, and serves it in slices.

DENMARK

To the Danish housewife, no Christmas dinner is complete without a goose prepared in the authentic way, and served with red cabbage and browned potatoes. Clean the goose well, and stuff generously with apples and prunes. Roast for two or three hours, according to size, leaving the oven door open for the last quarter of an hour to allow the skin to get crisp. Prepare a thin toffee from butter and sugar in a frying pan and put small boiled potatoes in; keep turning until the toffee covers each potato. The red cabbage should be cooked, for about two hours, in a special mixture consisting of two ounces of sugar, a tablespoon of vinegar, and one or two cupfuls of fruit juice.

For something a little different to round off a meal, take another leaf from the Danish housewife's cookery book and try Citronfromage. For six people you will need:
5 eggs
5 oz. sugar
1½ lemons
7 leaves of gelatine
One cupful of water
Whipped cream.

Mix the yolk of the eggs and the sugar together until almost white. Add the juice from the lemons and the melted gelatine. Whip the white of the eggs until quite stiff and add immediately after the gelatine. Turn mixture into a dish and leave to set. Decorate with whipped cream.

SCOTLAND

Culinary excerpt from Scotland goes by the name, typical enough, of Scotch Mist. For this sweet, you will need:
1 dozen macaroons
½ dozen sponze fingers
Pink and green coloring
¾ pint cream
1 liqueur glass marachino.

Crush macaroons and fingers, moisten with maraschino, add half the cream and mix into a stiff paste. Put into a glass or silver dish heaped into a pyramid. Whisk remainder with a little sugar and flavoring. Divide it, and color one-half pink, the other green. Put into a forcing bag a good tablespoonful of each color alternatively and place over the pyramid. Decorate according to taste.

HOLLAND

"Olykoex" are a festive favorite with the Dutch. Make sufficient dough for two dozen sweet rolls (normal) and enclose brandied raisins or raisins and citron in centre of each when shaping into small balls. Let them stand until light. Then, fry in hot, deep fat (360-370 degrees Fahr.) for about three minutes, drain, and roll in powdered sugar while warm. Soak in rum and serve with whipped cream.

UNITED STATES

Nuts are always a welcome addition to the party table. Try spiced nuts, the American way. Take the following ingredients:
½ lb. nuts
1 cup fine granulated sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon water
1 egg white

Sift sugar, salt and spices together three times. Add water to egg white and beat slightly. Dip nuts in egg white, then roll in sugar-spice mixture. Cover bottom of small baking pan with half of remaining sugar mixture, place nuts on top so that they do not touch each other, cover with remaining sugar mixture. Bake in very slow oven (250 deg. F.) for about 2 hours. Remove from oven and shake excess sugar from nuts.

Or perhaps you might prefer sugared nuts. Take:
2 cups shelled nuts
1 cup granulated sugar
½ cup water

Blanche nuts. Place in saucepan and keep in warm place. Combine sugar and water in another pan, stir until sugar is dissolved and boil without stirring, until a small amount of syrup forms a soft ball in cold water (236 deg. F.). Hold pan of nuts several inches above heat and shake vigorously while slowly pouring syrup over nuts. Stir nuts occasionally, then add remaining syrup, drop by drop, until all is used.

Nuts should be evenly covered with a coating of sugar. Store in closely covered tin box.

GERMANY

Here are recipes for two cakes which the German housewife traditionally bakes for Christmas:

Christmas Stollen Cake
1 lb. and 1½ oz. plain flour
2 dessertspoons baking powder
7 oz. sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon rum flavoring
Teaspoon vanilla essence
4-6 drops almond essence
Pinch grated nutmeg
Pinch ground cloves
4⅘ oz. butter
4⅘ oz. sultanas
4⅘ oz. raisins
1 7/10 oz. suet
4⅘ oz. almonds or kernels
1 2/8 oz. mixed peel
Icing sugar
8¾ oz. white (dry) cheese
Butter, for decoration

Mix flour and baking powder and sieve on to a board. Make hole in centre, and put in sugar, eggs and flavorings. Mix into a dough. On top of dough place white cheese, butter cut into pieces, finely chopped suet, sultanas, raisins, almonds and mixed cut peel. Mix to fine dough on board. Shape into a rectangle and turn one edge over to within one inch of other edge. Grease a tin and cover the grease either with flour or grease-proofed paper. Put dough on this and bake for 70-80 minutes in medium oven. When cooked, paint with melted butter and decorate with icing sugar. East as cake or current loaf.

Thick Pepper Cake
1⅘ oz. of dark treacle
4⅘ of sugar
2 tablespoons lard
1 teaspoon ground cloves
Pinch of ground ginger
Pinch of white pepper
2 1/10 oz. mixed peel
1 teaspoon almond flavoring
Lemon flavoring to taste
1 lb. and 1½ oz. plain flour
1 dessertspoon baking powder
6 tablespoons milk
Few almonds for decoration

Put treacle, sugar and lard altogether and melt. When nearly cold stir in flavorings (cinnamon, cloves, ginger, pepper, almond, lemon). Stir in flour and baking powder alternatively with milk and mixed peel to make a dough. Spread dough on to a greased baking tin with tablespoon dipped in milk. Dough should be one inch thick. Mark into oblongs with knife—do not cut—and decorate with almonds. Bake for 20-25 minutes in medium oven. This cake may be iced.

SWEDEN

What informal party table is complete without canapes? Try some of these Swedish suggestions, on small pieces of toast cut into different shapes. Shrimps and mayonnaise; caviar and leeks, ham, apple and cherries; liver pate, cucumber and olives; roasted veal, cucumber, meat-jelly and tomatoes. Decorate with parsley or dill.

And don't forget the children. Try "Creole bananas" for them. Peel bananas, divide lengthwise and cut each strip in half. Soak sections in a little rum or rum flavoring and water. Dip in thick batter, fry until golden brown, dredge with sugar to which a little vanilla powder has been added, and tickle up with a few drops of rum and sugar.

—AND NOW FOR A DRINK!

At some stage of the festivities you will need to serve a punch or fruit cup. Recipe for a tropical punch is as follows:
2 wineglasses rum
A few "petals" of thin lemon rind
1 wineglass syrup
½ pint crushed ice
A little grated nutmeg

To make syrup: take ½ pint water, ½ lb. lump sugar (or smaller quantities if desired) and flavoring essence. Dissolve sugar in water, bring to boil when dissolved, simmer for four minutes. Shake all above ingredients together and serve at once.

If you prefer a non-alcoholic drink, try snow cocktail:
4 ozs. strained grapefruit juice
4 ozs. strained orange juice
2 heaped tablespoons sugar
6 ozs. water
1 large tumbler crushed ice
2 unbeaten egg whites

Dissolve sugar in water, bring to boil, simmer for five minutes. Chill. Add fruit juices, place in a screw top jar with ice and egg whites, and shake well for five minutes. Serve.

THERE WAS AN OLD SONG which used to go, "The Head of the House Is the Cook" and no saying is more correct than during the Christmas season. It is the cook who plans and prepares the festive board. She works hours on those menus and receives the praise and the plaudits of all on Christmas Day.

Let Your Budget Be Your Guide In Selecting Gifts For Home

When making your shopping list for Christmas gifts for the homemaker, you'll find that here, your budget is really your key to the final selection!

From the wide variety of gifts for the home, electrical gifts stand at the very top.

For the woman who performs miracles in the kitchen, give appliances that take over and do the work. From combination wafflers and grills—to electric broilers and roasters—to automatic rotisseries, to electric bean pots, liquidizers, poppers, deep-fat fryers and egg cookers, there's something electrical for everyone.

Or, treat the home, to a new clock. Select a modern version that seems to have no works and casts interesting shadows on the wall . . .or an electric banjo block, or an electrified steeple clock, or a tole clock, or a tall, attention-getting Grandfather.

SURE TO PLEASE

Other gifts sure to please the home-makers' fancy are—fancy linens for the bedroom, kitchen and dining room, the bath and the many places around the house where linens show off to good advantage.

Occasional chairs, tables . . . a new rug, perhaps; pictures, mirrors, ceramic pieces for decor; new accessories in wrought iron; a period piece if she collects antiques—are but a few of the many ideas that suggest gifts for women about the home.

Or perhaps, she'll thrill to kitchen accessories — such as matched canister sets; serving pieces; cutlery; matched gadgets; rubber and plastic mats for sinks, table tops and range tops; or any of the myriad kitchen brighteners.

Or, give her a personal radio . . . sewing equipment . . . yarns to knit . . . or threads to crochet.

Whatever the particular woman's hobby or preference, the shops 'round town offer a tremendous variety of gifts keynoted to make home-makers very happy this Christmas.

"Double Life"

Look At Its Life . . . As a Chesterfield

- It has the low, sweeping lines of a modern Chesterfield—but cleverly built in arms avoid the tell-tale bed-Chesterfield look!
- Its overall length (a full 76 inches) is the same as a regular Chesterfield.
- Over 50 different striking patterns to choose from, including textured cotton repps, tapestries, tweeds . . . and wool, nylon, or cotton and rayon friezes —and in handsome decorator colours to suit every taste!
- Sleekly modern with clean functional lines, blonde hardwood tapered legs, smooth and soft T-cushion arms!

As a Chesterfield It's Superb . . . .
As a Bed It's as Comfortable as a Continental!

Confidentially, the "Sklar Liner" leads a double life—though you'd never know it! Whether it's being a bed or a Chesterfield, it's secret is well hidden—"Sklar Liner" has one of the most delightful cases of dual personality you've ever known. Strongly constructed in Canada by Canadian craftsmen, the "Sklar Liner has many outstanding features. Look them over and you'll agree—the "Sklar Liner" is as STUNNING as it is PRACTICAL.

Look At Its Life . . . As a Bed

- Converts in a "matter of seconds" to a spacious bed for two!
- Roomy sleeping surface—every inch is used because arms form part of the bed, no obstructions of head or feet when reclining.
- Nothing to move—leave end tables, lamps, or other furniture just where they are — simply fold down the "Sklar Liner" and make up a comfortable bed without effort.

Gifts For WomenIn Watches

As a Christmas gift for a woman, a watch is bound to be treasured. And this is true even if she owns one watch now.

The reason for this is that in recent years, clever design has brough women's watches into a class all their own, one in which imagination and fashion play equal parts.

A few years ago, unlatching a door with a precision timepiece would have been out of the question. This year, it's reality.

In one of the new Swiss watch designs, a quality jeweled lever watch has an attached key blank ready for filing so that it will fit any prescribed lock. It may go into a handbag, or be attached to a chain by the tiny link since the dial is well protected by a raised crystal.

Then there's a unique, self-winding pocket watch that's slung in a Paris-design leopard reticule with matching belt. The swinging motion of the reticule allows this watch to wind it self as the wearer walks. The watch also can be worn on a chain around the neck or in a suit pocket; the reticule slips off the belt and has a pin attachment to make it a lapel timepiece.

A precise and tiny watch has been fitted into a solid gold pencil that's ideal for handbag or desk. This, obviously, is the right gift for a secretary, a career woman or a traveler.

An hour-glass lapel watch for after-five wear has a one-minute supply of real sand that pours from one end of the glass container to the other and thus makes a conversation piece as well as a timepiece. It can be turned, on a swivel attached to the pin, for a repeat performance. Meanwhile, time's passing is marked accurately by the dial that's concealed in the top of the gold frame and protected by a raised crystal.

For the teen-ager, there's a watch suited for both classroom and party wear. It has a smart, square dial, a high crystal, a case in gold wire work and a hinged cover in gold grille work. It has, in short, everything a girl could want.

A second watch designed for after-five wear has a square platform crystal one-half inch high held in place by tiers of yellow gold set with sapphires. The narrow band is in dark blue leather.

Support Seaway

DETROIT (CP)—Detroit common council and the ways and means committee of Wayne county board of supervisors Tuesday pledged $25,000 in support of a campaign to get congressional approval next year of United States participation in the proposed St. Lawrence seaway project. The county pledged $15,000 as its first contribution. The city, making its third donation, pledged $10,000.

Operate On Reuther

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, 46, president of the CIO, was operated on Tuesday for the removal of his gall bladder. The United Auto Workers (CIO) issued a statement quoting the operating surgeon, Dr. H. C. Saltzstein, as saying the operation had gone "smoothly." No complications are expected, it was said.

Christmas Lost Rediscovered By Spacemen In 2152

CHRISTMAS 2152 — A new line in men's suitings in the year 2152.

By NORMAN MOSS

Once again it was Christmas Eve on earth and the spaceships were tied on their astral moorings until the day after Boxing Day. Father had slipped off to meet a friend in the "Uranium Arms"; mother was adjusting the supersonic cooker in the kitchen; grandfather was showing off some snapshots to his grandchildren. "And these," he told the children peering through stereo-tele-viewers, "are some friends of mine and myself on another Christmas Eve. It was a very important Christmas Eve—for it was the first Christmas on the new planet a long time ago—it was in the year 2152.

The snapshots showed the time-honored scene. In the background was a glittering Christmas tree. Heaped underneath were loads of gaily-covered parcels. Beside it was a sleigh, with a couple of reindeers harnessed to it. The ground was covered with snow—but that looked artificial.

The youngest of the family finally asked: "But grandpa, what were you all doing?"

PIONEERS NEVER RETURNED

Grandfather settled down into his seat, while the family gathered around him, and he said—though he couldn't remember how often he'd said it before—"Well, I'll tell you. At the time, we were up on the planet. We had come out to the new planet, your grandmother and I, as pioneers to the first colony. We left the old earth in the days of Big Brother and we never wanted to come back to it.

"On the new planet we were free—no televiews control, and no newspeak and no CBC—those were hard times—no supersonic cookers only an open radium-fire for your grandmother to cook on. But we prospered on the planet and for many years did not hear a word from old earth—not even a radio-echo. Then suddenly came great news across the ether. The old earth was looking up. Big Brother had been banished. His thought controllers had been exiled to satellites. Men on earth were searching with reverse-time detectors for ancient human customs. Probing about, backwards in time, they came across what seemed a happy scene on one day each year when millions of children laughed together. So they discovered "Christmas" again. And the Inter-Planetary Society for Human Happiness despatched "Christmas Comets" to all planetary colonies loaded with decorations, trees, instruction leaflets for making Christmas pudding.

"We had just seen on the Cosmic Radar screen that a third Christmas Comet was coming in—the crackers, the turkey ,and a box with the mysterious old long-forgotten names, 'Scotch' and 'Cognac' had arrived.

"Then a shell-shaped guided space ship appeared in the sky above the planet.

"'It's another cargo carrier from Earth,' I said, 'I'd better signal it in.'

"'Probably the tinsel,' said grandmother. 'The tinsel we need wouldn't fill a space ship,' I said.

"'Then maybe it's the Mistchas Tree.'

"'CHRIST-MAS.' We've got to learn the name correctly again!

"'Yes, Yes, you've said that before. I'll get it right next time,' said grandmother.

"'All right, now be quiet while I bring the ship in and we'll see what's in it,' I said working at the controls.

Mary, the little girl who lived next door, appeared. 'Can I come in if I stay away from the control panel?' she asked.

"'Why of course you can, darling,' said Grandmother. 'Do you want me to tell you about Mis—the big event.'

"'Everybody's telling us about it in school now,' retorted Mary.

"'Do you know when people last celebrated Christmas?' asked grandmother, almost slipping into a schoolmistress's role.

"'A hundred years ago,' answered Mary proudly.

WHAT TO DO AT CHRISTMAS

"'And do you know what we do at Christmas?'

"Mary had just learnt it all." 'We all have good will,' she replied immediately. 'We all think about the One who was born in a manger. We all give each other presents, and pretty little pictures called Christmas cards. We sing songs called carols. We are all of good cheer. Everybody ——'

"That's right, dear, you've got the ideal. Now do you know why we are bringing Christmas back?"

Decay, Wood Rot Threaten 1,500-Year-Old Cathedral

DOWNPATRICK, Northern Ireland (Reuters)—Decay and rot are threatening to destroy 1,500-year-old Down cathedral, famous shrine of Ireland's patron, St. Patrick.

The Protestant bishop of Down and Romore will launch an appeal for a £18,000 restoration fund at a special service to be held in the historic cathedral, now a Protestant church.

St. Patrick, who brought Christianity to Ireland, began his missionary work near Downpatrick.

According to tradition he founded the cathedral in the early part of the fifth century and he himself is said to be buried there.

During the 15 centuries it has existed, the cathedral has suffered frequent damage. Between 825 and 1111 it was plundered at least eight times by Danish Vikings. Later, during the Anglo-Irish wars, it was again pillaged several times.

But it still preserves some of the magnificent workmanship of the 12th and 14th centuries.

Now examination shows that the building is seriously dilapidated through age. Wood-worm has attacked roof trusses, while some of the stonework is said to be in a "perilous" condition.

Last major restoration was undertaken 160 years ago.

Since the reformation the cathedral has belonged to the Protestant Church of Ireland.

Tire Workers Get 10-Cent Raise

KITCHENER (CP)—An hourly wage increase of 10½ cents has been granted to tire factory employees of the Dominion Rubber Company. The increase brings the basic pay to $1 an hour for men and 85 cents for women.

Members of Local 80 United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America (CIO-CCL), approved the terms of a new agreement which includes amendments to the existing contract and the economic program.

Some weeks ago the workers had voted in favor of strike action after rejecting a conciliation board report.

Myths and Legends of Christmas Give Gay New Mystery To Old Festival

In the folklore of every people lie superstitions and lengeds attendant to the facets of life. In this respect, Christmas is not different — for as the festival has come to us through the ages — it has grown, and become embellished with the imagery and fancy of many peoples.

From the highlands of Scotland comes the belief that folks born on Christmas have the power to see spirits and even to command them to their bidding.

From the peasantry of France are the beliefs that Christmas Eve babies will have a "ready and facile tongue," those born on Christmas Day "will be gifted with logic," and that girls born on Christmas will "be witty, wise and virtuous."

To be either lawyer or thief is the fortune for those Christmas babies born in Silesia.

Other superstitions in conjunction with Christmas claim—if one dies on Christmas Eve, the gates of Paradise are open, and no one enters Purgatory . . . Irish legend.

Christmas baked goodies, particularly bread, are saved till sowing time in order to insure a good harvest, according to Danish belief.

Because so many of the customs attendant to the use of evergreens were so closely allied to the early pagan celebrations, high churchmen in the 5th and 6th centuries forbade their use at Christmas time.

There are many, many legends pertaining to love, connected with the observance of Christmas—in northern England a maiden places holly under her pillow with the verse, "Good St. Thomas, serve me right, and send me my true love tonight . . ."

To accept a gift of edelweiss in the Swiss Alps, is also to accept the man who offers it.

Whether believed or not, there's a host of magical beauty in the superstitions and divinations of the legends akin to the mystical magic of Christmas.

Doucett Asks Drivers Watch Yule Driving

TORONTO (CP)—Highways Minister Doucett Tuesday urged Ontario drivers and pedestrians to co-operate in preventing needless accidents during the Christmas season.

"Christmas ushers in a season of festivity and good fellowship," he said, "and it also brings a time of increased traffic dangers.

"Two years ago our worst single day for fatal traffic accidents was Dec. 23, the last shopping day before Christmas. On that Saturday, 19 persons were killed."

ISRAEL'S NEW PRESIDENT—Itzhak Ben-Zvi tips his hat to spectators lining the streets of Jerusalem during a march in the capital following weekend swearing-in ceremonies. With him are his wife, aides and mounted police, one bearing the presidential pennant. The president chose to complete the parade on foot after his car broke down.

Two Die In Crash

STONEHAM, Que. (CP)—Two men were killed Tuesday when their delivery truck crashed head-on into a bus in this small town, 20 miles north of Quebec City. The dead were identified as Harold McKee of Valcartier, Que., and A. Bergeron of Quebec, owner of the truck. No one was injured in the bus, police said.

Nova Scotia Signs Financial Agreement

HALIFAX (CP)—Premier Macdonald announced Tuesday that Nova Scotia has signed a new financial agreement with the federal government but at the same time called for a new federal-provincial conference to study revenue fields.

Announcing the new agreement under which the province will receive a guaranteed minimum payment of $15,348,220, Mr. Macdonald said:

"I do not think such agreements offer a permanent solution to our fiscal problems. Nova Scotia has consistently taken the view that the tax agreements, while lucrative for this province, are not the best system under which the federal, provincial and municipal governments could operate. . ."

Cattle-Eating Fish Common On Amazon Isle

WASHINGTON—A the mouth of the Amazon River is an island the size of Massachusetts where bats catch fish and fish eat cattle.

Marajo Island's cattle-eating fish, common to the entire Amazon Basin, are piranhas, says the National Geographic Society. A 10-inch piranha is a big one, but they travel in ferocious schools of hundreds that can strip a wounded animal or man to bare bones in a matter of minutes.

Both in Brazilian Marajo's lakes and in the Amazon itself lives the commercially important pirarucu, largest strictly fresh water fish in the world. Individuals may be 15 feet long and weigh 400 pounds.

HOUSES ON STILTS

Low Marajo, so thoroughly flooded in the rainy season that houses are built on stilts, lies between the mouths of the Amazon and Para Rivers. It has only one town, the little port of Soule. A dozen or so families, living in Belem, own and operate the ranches which give the island importance.

When Marajo is flooded—from January to July — horses cannot travel. Cowboys then use dugout canoes or oxen, whose cleft hooves do not sink too deeply into the mud, for riding herd on their part-Brahman charges. In addition to cattle, ranches run bands of dangerous Asiatic water buffalo.

A favorite cowboy sport is hunting the crocodile-like jacares or caymans with which the half-jungle, half-savannah island is infested. Killers of thousands of cattle, jacares are rounded up, lassoed, destroyed and tossed to the piranhas. Despite intensive hunting, caymans appear undiminished in numbers.

Fishing bats, with long claws that snatch their prey from the water, make up only a part of Marajo's bat population. Millions of rustling wings fill the skies at dusk. Vampires are present, some travellers report, but authorities say vampires are not a menace to people on the island.

Other strange inhabitants of Marajo are gentle boa constrictors 12 feet long, tree-dwelling anteaters, delicate spider monkeys, flying frogs—actually gliders, like so-called flying squirrels — and capybaras. The latter, largest living rodents, may grow to 4½ feet long.

Marajo is the home of jaguars, sloths, armadillos, exotic lizards and uncountable numbers of birds. There is a giant toad that eats birds.

Despite its damp, tropical setting, Marajo is cooled by sea breezes in hot weather and attracts week-enders from the Brazilian mainland. Communication with the mainland is by radio, and by small steamers or sailboats which frequently find heavy going in fierce Amazon Delta storms.

Mrs. G. Woodhouse

MARMORA (ENS)—The funeral of Mrs. Gertie Woodhouse, wife of George Woodhouse, took place on Tuesday afternoon. The service at St. Andrew's United Church at one p.m. was conducted by the Rev. K. J. Crawford, assisted by the Rev. J. F. Lane of Madoc and the Rev. W. C. Stevenson of Renfrew. The scripture readings were taken by Mr. Lane and the sermon by Mr. Stevenson, a friend of the family.

Following the service, the cortege proceeded to Yarker where burial took place in the cemetery there.

The pallbearers were Jack Hatch, Manley Lavender, Charles Lummiss, Harry Keating, W. B. Wilde and William Leonard.

ELABORATE DISPLAY

Among the more elaborate Christmas displays is that in downtown Denver, Colo., which covers two blocks and is regarded with such civic pride it is not dismantled until mid-January.

Alger Calls Off Recount Of Votes

DETROIT (CP) — Republican Fred M. Alger Jr., Tuesday night called off the recount of votes in Michigan's Nov. 4 election for governor and conceded defeat by the Democrat incumbent, G. Mennen Williams.

During the nine days since the recount began Williams had picked up a net of 1,968 votes.

"I do not believe now that a continuation of the recount is warranted."

Cairn Erected To Mark Birth Of Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP)—Three governments, federal, provincial and civic have co-operated in the erection of a cairn here to mark the birth of the province of Saskatchewan in 1905.

A recently-installed bronze plaque is the last step in commemorating the event. The plaque says:

"Across this expanse of prairie and northland, of lake, stream, and forest, drained by the Saskatchewan and Churchill rivers, the Plains Indians roamed for centuries and later were induced to trap and trade by fur companies.

"Settlers were attracted into the area known as Rupert's Land and the Northwest Territories. The latter after 1870 were ruled by a provisional council, succeeded in 1875 by the Northwest council.

"By 1888 a legislative assembly was evolved. On 4th September, 1905, the eastern portion of these territories was inaugurated on this site by Earl Grey and Sir Wilfrid Laurier as the province of Saskatchewan."

That day was a great day for Regina. Flags fluttered, bunting draped the buildings, mounted police and infantry joined in a march past.

Most of Regina's 5,000 people watched as the province's first lieutenant-governor was sworn in.

The cairn stands where the inaugural ceremony was held. And the installation of the bronze plaque was in contrast to the ceremony. City workmen fixed it in place as the busy, orderly life of the capital city of a prosperous province hummed around them.

Press Club Names Unco-operative Stars

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Hollywood Women's Press Club Tuesday named Rita Hayworth and Mario Lanza as the least co-operative stars in 1952.

Runners-up for this designation were Marlon Brando and Esther Williams.

For the first time in the 15-year history of the awards, a husband and wife were voted the most co-operative. They are Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh.

House Burned In Line Of Fire

PINCHER CREEK, Alta. (CP)—Ludger Eucher Gareau, who witnessed events in the 1885 Riel rebellion, observed his 97th birthday recently. His wife was 85 Nov. 15.

Mr. Gareau, born at St. Jacques, Que., was living at Batoche, midway between Saskatoon and Prince Albert, at the time of the Riel uprising. His house was burned down by order of General Middleton because it was in the line of fire.

A carpenter by trade, he left his native Quebec 78 years ago for Winnipeg, found his bride in St. Boniface, and drove oxen as far as Batoche Crossing for Batoche, a noted fur trader.

He built the first Roman Catholic church at Batoche. It still stands.

In 1886 Mr. and Mrs. Gareau left for the Alberta foothills in a covered wagon. The trip took 30 days. They homesteaded on Pincher creek.

Clip For Christmas
DANCING SNOWBALLS: Take any clear glass bowl or vase which is fairly high. Fill this bowl with water and add some vegetable colouring, any shade desired. Into the coloured water put one tablespoon of citric acid and two tablespoons of baking soda and stir just a little. It will fizz and then clear. Drop a handful of ordinary mothballs into the solution. The balls will be coated with little silver bubbles of water. They will begin to dance up and down in the water for several hours, which should be long enough to outlast any dinner. If they do not dance actively enough, add in a little more citric acid and baking soda. The water will fizz up for a second or two and the dancing action of the snowballs will then last much longer.
SNOW PUFFS FOR CHRISTMAS TREE: Dissolve four cups of soap flakes in one cup of warm water. Beat with a rotary beater until thick and fluffy. Spread it immediately over the limbs of your tree with your hands and sprinkle with glistening artificial snow. Then put your little coloured ornaments in the centre of the snow puffs.
FIREPROOFING CHRISTMAS TREE: Dissolve 1 cup powdered borax, ½ cup powdered boracic acid in a gallon of hot water. Put that into a fly spray and spray it on the tree.

Conservatives Advised To Ask For Files Dealing With Pitt Transfer

OTTAWA (CP) — Production Minister Howe said Tuesday it is "ridiculous" to suggest the Canadian National Railways would transfer a hotel manager simply because a government party was kept waiting more than an hour for rooms.

Mr. Howe made the statement in the Commons after J. M. Macdonnell (PC, Toronto-Greenwood) reiterated that either the government or some one speaking for the government was responsible for the demotion of Robert Pitt, former manager of the Fort Garry Hotel in Winnipeg.

Mr. Pitt was transferred to the CNR hotel in Brandon, Man., two months after Prime Minister St. Laurent visited Winnipeg.

Mr. Macdonnell said Donald Gordon, president of the CNR, and Transport Minister Chevrier, had denied that the transfer of Mr. Pitt had anything to do with the Prime Minister's visit.

Mr. Macdonnell said he did not believe the Prime Minister was responsible.

"Why keep mentioning his name then?" interjected Mr. Howe.

Mr. Macdonnell said he did not wish to imply the Prime Minister was connected with the case. But the government or some one speaking for the government was responsible.

Mr. Howe said he did not know why Mr. Pitt was transferred. He did not know that Mr. St. Laurent was in the Fort Garry Hotel for about two hours while addressing a meeting there. Mr. St. Laurent did not sleep in the hotel.

However, a government party had wired ahead for reservations at the Fort Garry at the time. When they arrived they had to wander around the lobby for one hour and 40 minutes while the rooms were made ready.

Hon. Robert Mayhew, former fisheries minister, was in the party.

Mr. Howe said members of the party had assured him they had not complained about the delay. Mr. Gordon had confirmed there were no complaints from the party

If Mr. Gordon did transfer a hotel manager because some one was kept waiting for a room he would "not be fit to hold his job."

Mr. Howe said Mr. Macdonnell owed a duty to parliament to ask for the files on Mr. Pitt and to get the facts.

Christmas Lost

"'Because of the revolution. To show that Big Brother's gone and we're human again. We did away with thought controllers. Then radio travel. Then newspeak. Then even television. Just as we brought back singing, and art, and sport, and lipstick. And now Christmas.'

"Just then John came into the room. 'We've opened the cargo carrier,' he told me. 'A lot of Christmas stuff—but no snow. I suppose we'll have to do with our own home - made snow, even though we can't get it quite white. And they've sent the reindeer!'

"'Oh yes, Earth told me they were coming. What are they like to handle?'

"'Well, they look like the things on the old Christmas cards, anyway.'

"'But why did that incredible man on Earth send them up here without degerming them?'

"'A note with the reindeer said he thought it might somehow spoil the Christmas spirit if he did.'

All I could answer was: 'Well I suppose he meant to be kind. But I don't know—when I think of the amount of stupidity on Earth, I'm very glad indeed that I'm up here. Still, you got to give them credit for trying.

"'Why are they so stupid on Earth?' John asked me.

'So I told him. They're not really SO stupid, just amateurs at some things. Living, for instance. Before the Revolution they were all conditioned to live in a certain way under the old Big Brother regime. They had to destroy that conditioning entirely. They were left with knowlege of some few things, and none at all, no experience, in others. Lost people with a lot of technical tricks, that's about all.

"'That is why we seem so much more intelligent here. Living together does not require so much intelligence when there are only a few people.'

"At this point thought began to buzz in my head and I knew it was the indigenous inhabitants trying to materialize. In those days the original Planet Natives, (a small timid people who lived a natural life-span of 850 years) had fled into the jungle of the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Dimensions. So they were invisibly all around us, the short-lived conquerors, and only materialized to shoot at us an inquisitive thought or a deep and difficult comment from their wise old brains.

"It felt as if a whole tribe were slipping down the ladder of the dimensions into my consciousness.

"'Look, inhabitants,' I said. 'If you're going to communicate, I'm very tired. I've been working hard. Please, if you're going to communicate with me, materialize into something we recognize and talk."

"'And couldn't you materialize into something really pretty,' grandmother asked, 'and not something horrid as you usually do?' A little winged cherub appeared. 'Thank you. That's better.'

"'We have been observing with some interest your preparations for the Christmas feast,' said this Cupid-without-an-arrow. 'Is it something new?'

"'Yes, my friend. I don't know how much you understand of this. It is the spirit that counts, the Christmas spirit. Earth is bringing it back in a big way, and naturally we are joining in on this outspost.'

"'The spirit. And tell me,' said the all-knowing creature, 'will the outward forms make for the Christmas spirit?'

"'Well, they help. We haven't much else to work on. There's nobody around who celebrated a Christmas,' I explained. 'Just some relics and the old stories about it.'

"'I must say that the idea rather appeals to me. I'm not sure that everyone else is catching on, although they are willing enough. It seems to me that time for good cheer is a very human thing — I mean human in the good sense, you understand.'

"'Of course,' said the wise cherub. 'Human in the good sense.'

"'Why don't some of you long-lived people materialize and join in, if you are really interested. Do you have any feelings about it?'

"'We do indeed see a certain point in your Christmas. Of all the forms of ritual that you people practise to bring you closer to one another, this seems one of the most promising. We do, we think, understand your aim,' replied the materialization from the other dimensional jungle.'

"'If you see the point of it, you might be able to help,' suggested John hopefully. 'You know, help get the others in the spirit of the thing and all that. Maybe you understand it better than we do. If you're not doing anything else, that is.'

"'We are never doing anything else.'

"Two days later, on Christmas Eve, Grandmother stood trembling with excitement while I worked my way through the silver ribbon and red and green wrapping of a package that had come across from Earth. When I saw what was in it, I shouted in excitement. 'It's a ticket! A ticket to Earth and a holiday there. Should we take it?'

"'Yes, of course, we can go back there when we like. I know, we'll go there next year — for Christmas.'

"'Next year? Oh yes,' said your grandmother reflectively. 'From now on there will be one every year. I never thought of that'."

Plan New Atomic Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Another series of atomic tests in Nevada, possibly early in 1953, was indicated Tuesday by an atomic energy commission announcement. The AEC said it was awarding the Reynolds Electrical and Engineering Company, El Paso, Tex., a contract calling for maintenance, minor construction and scientific structural services at the Nevada proving grounds beginning Jan. 1.

Have New Spray For Mosquitos

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mosquitos which have built up a resistance to death-dealing DDT face a new insect killer — EPN, the American Association of Economic Enteomologists was told today.

A one-ounce dose an acre of the insecticide, applied by plane or ground sprayer, gave almost complete kills of DDT-resistant larvae, the agriculture department reported.

If improperly used, the department warned, EPN is highly toxic to man and other warm-blooded animals. It is not likely the insecticide will be made available for use other than under rigid supervision, the department said.

TB Victim, 11 Cured In Time For Christmas

TORONTO (CP) — Fair-haired 11-year-old Antje Maas had the happiest surprise of her life when she was told she could go home to Sault Ste. Marie for Christmas.

Antje and her mother were too excited to say much on the train journey Saturday night for the girl had been in Queen Mary Hospital for Children being treated for tuberculosis at nearby Weston since July, 1951.

Her mother called at the hospital during the few days she planned to spend with her daughter before returning home for Christmas. Then Dr. Arnold Vokes told Mrs. Maas that Antje's lungs had completely cleared and she was ready for discharge.

The family came to Canada from Hamburg, Germany, and had only been here five days when Antje became seriously ill. Sault doctors suspected TB although examination before she left Germany showed no trace of it. She was rushed to Weston.

Then she was only 68 pounds; now she weighs a sturdy 94.

LEARNED ENGLISH

During her stay at Weston, Antje learned to speak English although she did not know a word when she arrived. She has done well at her studies and has passed into Grade 6. She wrote to her young brother at home in printed English, while writing to her parents in German.

Her father, Hans Maas, works at pattern-making.

Among Antje's Christmas presents will be an entire new wardrobe. She has grown out of all her old clothes, which will be sent to a small friend in Germany.

Pravda Blares PoW Killings

MOSCOW (AP) — The Communist party newspaper Pravda today printed in heavy black type a report that 82 Red prisoners had been killed in Korea's Pongam Island and again bitterly attacked United States' treatment of Chinese and North Korean war prisoners.

In a lead editorial, the newspaper charged that "American aggressors are committing crimes against the 'conscience of humanity.'"

The United Nations command on Korea announced that Allied guards last Sunday killed 82 Communists and wounded 120 others in quelling a mass breakout attempt by war prisoners at Pongman Island.

Pravda said the Pongam incident was a new "link in the monstrous chain of crimes by the American military who are following the road of Hitlerite tyranny and blood terror."

Pongam, Pravda asserted, will become a "new adjective for describing the unprecedented brutal and executionist sadism of the American invaders."

Children's Aid Helps 106 Families

Services were given to 106 families, 26 unmarried parents and 147 children by the Peterborough Children's Aid Society during November.

Miss Rachael Young, superintendent, reported at the Society's Board of Directors' meeting Wednesday afternoon that 12 new families were referred to the society during the month. They were referred by a lawyer, teacher, relative, landlady, police, other agencies and personal application.

Five children came under the supervision of the society during the month. Three of the five were made wards. Three adoptions were completed; five children were placed in boarding homes and two children were placed for adoption.

Four unmarried parents came to the attention of the society.

Staff members of the society made 361 visits during the month and held 157 office interviews.

1 Killed, 2 Hurt In Train Crash

ST. THOMAS (CP) — One man was killed and two severely injured when a westbound freight train struck a standing caboose a half-mile east of the city limits early today. Nine boxcars were pushed from the track and overturned by the impact.

Missing in the wreckage of the caboose and presumed dead is Frank J. McAteer of St. Thomas, conductor of the standing train. Severely hurt were train firemen Charles Fraser and Harold Clarke.

Railroad authorities said the moving freight on the Canadian National Railways line first struck a shunting engine, driving it through the caboose of the standing train and hurled boxcars from the track.

Authorities said the westbound train ran through an open switch onto a siding. There it smashed into the single engine and standing train.

FOUND IN WRECKAGE

McAteer's body was found in the wreckage some time after the crash. The engineer on the single engine, William Collins of London, jumped seconds before the impact. He was not hurt. Blair Clarke of St. Thomas, another fireman, suffered minor leg injuries.

Trainmen said rails made slippery with heavy frost made it difficult to stop the momentum of the westbound train.

A fire which began in the wreckage of the caboose shortly after the crash was quickly extinguished.

Conductor McAteer met the same fate as his father Bernard McAteer, a pioneer St. Thomas railroader who was killed in a similar collision years ago.

Athlete Dies Playing

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Max Hawkins, 23-year-old basketball player, dropped dead Tuesday night while playing in a YMCA game. A coroner said death apparently was from a massive cerebral haemorrhage.

Platform Breaks 2 Miners Killed

SUDBURY (CP) — Two veteran miners were killed late Tuesday when a working platform broke and hurled them 150 feet down an ore-pass at the 1,500-foot level of Falconbridge's main shaft.

George E. Black, 56, and William T. Watkins, 37, were repairing timber from a stage set up in the ore-pass. As the job neared completion a plank broke and the men fell.

Watkins' safety rope apparently broke. Fellow workmen said Black's was unfastened.

Black was a veteran of 21 years with the company, Watkins an experienced miner who joined the company two months ago.

Jap Coal Strike Ends

TOKYO (Reuters) — Japanese coal miners returned to work today after the government invoked an emergency law to end their 61-day-long strike. The miners central struggle committee accepted a government mediation offer giving the men a seven-per-cent wage increase, an incentive allowance and a temporary allowance of 5,000 yen ($14).

Property Change In Three Years Totals $17,016,642

Total value of realty transfers in Peterborough during the last three years was $17,016,642. And the bulk of that amount was for residential properties.

The figures for each year as obtained from the Assessment Commissioner J. E. Davis were:

1950	$4,758,299
1951	$6,519,203
1952	$5,739,140
Total	$17,016,642

The report for 1952 should not be confused with the calendar year. The assessment year begins with October 1, and runs for 12 months.

Mr. Davis said today the sales returns were obtained from the registry office at the Court House and were actual values of property as determined by transfer from one owner to another. It is altogether likely that a few properties find their values posted several times a year, when they come into the hands of people who like to collect the quick dollar—in multiples.

Red Air Officer Dies

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow newspapers today reported the death of Soviet Air Force Maj.-Gen. Alexei Patrovich Dergunov. The papers said he occupied responsible positions in the Red Air Force. The accounts said he died after a long illness.

Officials Place Bonus In Salary Of Teachers

TORONTO—Board of Education officials recommended yesterday that the $200 cost-of-living bonus granted teachers and other employees for 1952 be incorporated into the regular salary schedules, beginning in January.

The recommendation will be considered at the inaugural meeting of the new board early next month. It is not likely to meet opposition from trustees.

Incorporation of the bonus into the schedules would mean a teacher just out of Normal School would start at $2,200 a year. A teacher with a pass B.A. and one year at training school would start at $2,800 and could work up to $5,400 in 13 years an honers graduate with one year's training would start at $3,000 and go up to $5,800.

If the recommendation is adopted it will end the salary question for 1953 in relatively simple fashion, in contrast with the past few years when controversy and wrangling have featured discussions.

The committee of top officials which made the recommendation had several other comments to make on the salary schedule and answered questions and suggestions made about it.

Several weeks ago Trustee Percy Might suggested that teachers should be paid extra for outstanding ability and extra-curricular service. The officials replied that pay-by-merit systems have not proved satisfactory wherever they have been tried.

"Our schedule is objective and measurable in terms of qualification and experience," they said. "To introduce a pay-by-merit scheme . . . would be to introduce a factor which is not objective."

No action was taken on a request from the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation that salaries of secondary school vice-principals be increased. And the secondary school teachers were given little hope that their plea for a separate salary schedule will be effective.

On the question of a common schedule for the metropolitan area, the officials agreed with suggestions made by representatives of the various boards a few weeks ago. Many are in effect already in Toronto.

"It is gratifying to note that many suburban boards have developed salary schedules which conform to a large degree with the Toronto schedule," they said. "As time goes on and the Toronto schedule becomes more firmly established, it is felt a measure of uniformity will follow in the metropolitan area."

Drew Declares No PC Slur On Karsh, P.E.I.

OTTAWA (CP)— Yousuf Karsh and cooking in Prince Edward Island both are excellent, George Drew said Tuesday.

The Progressive Conservative leader divorced his party from any slur on he name of Mr. Karsh and called him a distinguished Canadian who has refused repeated and attractive offers to go elsewhere.

He told the Commons he hopes his statement of the party's position will end the affair that was started when W. Chester S. McClure (PC, Queens) took offence at comments by the noted Ottawa photographer about Prince Edward Island cooking.

Mr. McClure had called Mr. Karsh a "doubtful Canadian." Mr. Karsh had said in a magazine article that he had the worst meal he ever ate on the island.

Mr. Drew said the pride of the Prince Edward Island people would naturally object in anger to any suggestion that their cooking isn't of the best. From personal experience, he could testify that his big problem when he visits the island is to stop eating too much of the excellent food.

NOT FOREIGNER

Cooking just didn't come any better than P.E.I. cooking and he hoped some day he could take Mr. Karsh back there and show him for himself.

It was an island habit to refer to any non-islander as a foreigner. But as far as his party was concerned, no Canadian, born here or naturalised, is a foreigner.

From years of knowing Mr. Karsh, Mr. Drew said he knows "he is a distinguished Canadian and has been one for many years." He had brought honor to his adopted country — Mr. Karsh was born in Armenia—and had turned down many attractive offers to go to the United States.

"Mr. Karsh stayed here because he cherishes his Canadian citizenship," said Mr. Drew.

Say Man Had 6 Wives

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Justice of the Peace Jack Hunsaker Tuesday dismissed charges of open and notorious cohabitation against George M. Dutson, 47, who had been alleged to have six wives. Hunsaker said the state had failed to prove adultery had been committed.

Former Minister In Gas Works

CHELTENHAM, England (AP) — A former minister now is a clerk in a gas works because he became a part-time baker.

The Rev. Wesley Himing, 39, said today he had to resign his post of minister of the Chedworth and North Leach churches recently because the Congregational Union informed him he could not be both a parson and a cake-and-bread maker.

Himing explained he was unable to live on a clergyman's pay and took up baking part-time to make enough extra money to support his wife. They were expecting a baby.

He gave up baking when he resigned his church posts and took the clerk's job.

Fishing Schooner Sinks After Fire

ROCKLAND, Me. (AP) — Ravaged by fire and explosion, the 82-foot Portland fishing schooner Evzone capsized and sank Tuesday despite a daring fight by Coast Guardsmen to save her.

The Evzone's crew were picked up from dories by another fishing craft, the Flo.

Euchre, Poultry Draw Held At Mt. Pleasant

MOUNT PLEASANT (ENS) — A successful euchre and draw for a turkey, goose and chicken was held Friday evening in the WI hall. A large crowd attended, with 22 tables of euchre being played.

High score for euchre was won by Mrs. Crowe, for ladies; Bruce Scott, for gentlemen; low prizes went to Earl Windrem and Mrs. Robert Ruth door prizes went to Mrs. Reg. Dooley and Mrs. Robert Carr.

Lloyd Hooton and Bruce Scott were called forward and Mrs. H. Tully asked them to draw the lucky tickets for the fowl. The winners were: Turkey, J. Nelson of Fraserville; goose, Mrs. H. Freemantle of Cavan; chicken, Mary Little of Beaverton.

Mrs. H. Tully, Mrs. A. Bland and Mrs. G. Ruth were the committee responsible.

Mrs. S. Tully was lunch convener and games were looked after by Mrs. A. Bland and helpers. Music was supplied by Robert Carr and A. Lawson and dancing was enjoyed.

Place An International Flavor On Your Christmas Dinner

In every discussion and memory of Christmas, important stress is usually placed on Christmas dinners and all its attendant treats!

And, from 'round the world come a host of exciting foodstuffs to charm the most jadad palettes.

You'll find the following recipes well worth trying for YOUR next Christmas feast!

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING

½ lb. seedless raisins chopped fine
½ lb. finely-chopped candied peel of citron, orange and lemon
¼ lb. chopped figs
½ lb. beef suet (chopped)
4 cups dried bread crumbs (almost powdery)
½ cup flour
½ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. cloves
½ tsp. salt
½ cup brown sugar
1 cup fruit juice (your favorite flavor)
sherry flavoring (to taste)
6 eggs, beaten

Mix fruits together; combine with suet, crumbs and flour which has been sifted together with spices and salt. Add sugar, fruit juice, flavoring and beaten eggs. Fill pudding mold two-thirds full. Tie tightly over the top with oiled paper. Steam for five to six hours. Serve with your favorite sauce.

GERMAN CHRISTMAS COOKIES

2 eggs
Juice of 1 lemon
2 cups honey
4 cups flour
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 cup brown sugar
½ tsp. salt
¼ lb. sliced candied citron
¼ lb. almonds

Add the beaten eggs and lemon juice to the honey. Sift the flour with soda, cloves, nutmeg, cinnamon, sugar and salt. Add the citron and almonds Combine the two mixtures. Add more flour if needed to make a very stiff dough. Roll and cut into fancy shapes. Bake in hot oven—(425 degrees) for 15 minutes.

Store in tightly covered box.

For variety you may top these cookies with blanched almonds . . . marachino cherries . . . add a bit of food coloring to your dough . . . sprinkle with crushed nuts or frost with your favorite topping.

ROAST A LA FRANCE

Clean and singe duck; truss to hold legs and wings close to the body. Season with salt. Roast in hot oven (425 degrees) for about 15 minutes, or until golden brown.

Remove duck from pan; pour off all but 1 tablespoon of fat; add 1 tablespoon butter and stir in 1 tablespoon flour. Cook, stirring constantly until flour is golden brown. Add gradually 1 cup stock; ¼ cup white wine and cook, stirring, until mixture is slightly thickened.

Return duck to pan and cover. Return to roast in oven at 350 deg. Baste regularly. Roast for 1 to 1½ hours or until duck is done.

✧ ✧ ✧

HAWAIIAN COLE SLAW

Mix one small head of cabbage, finely shredded, with 1 cup of diced pineapple (fresh, if available). Make a sharp French dressing by blending 4 parts olive oil (or salad oil, if you prefer) with 1 part wine-vinegar and flavor to taste with salt, pepper and dry mustard. Pour this over slaw; serve well-chilled.

✧ ✧ ✧

OTHER CHRISTMAS RECIPES

A delicious sauce with a continental flavor, to be served with fowl, on pudding or on fruit or cake is this . . . . . .

BRANDy FLAVORED ORANGE SAUCE:

¼ cup shortening.
1 lb. confectioners' sugar.
1—6oz. can orange juice concentrate.
½ cup whipping cream.
2 tablespoons brandy.

Cream fat; blend in 1 cup sugar gradually and alternately; stirring until smooth. Whip the cream 'til stiff; fold in with juice mixture. Add brandy. Chill for at least an hour before serving.

✧ ✧ ✧

Give beauty and charm to your holiday table setting with a CORNUCOPIA (horn of plenty) FRUIT SALAD.

You'll need grapes, orange slices, banana slices, red apples, shelled nuts and lettuce.

Saw off side of gourd or Hubbard squash. Clean out seeds and membranes. Line and edge with lettuce leaves. Arrange the bunch of chilled grapes, lap over rows of orange slices, apples, bananas, and nuts. Add a generous portion of rich, creamy mayonnaise; set in centre of table for all to enjoy!

✧ ✧ ✧

For a rare and zestful dessert combine the traditional PUMPKIN with the traditional MINCEMEAT, and you'll have a real taste treat.

1 cup strained pumpkin (cooked or canned)
½ cup brown sugar (packed firmly)
1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spices
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs slightly beaten
¾ cup evaporated milk.

Into a nine-inch unbaked pastry shell, put 2½ cups of prepared mincemeat and then carefully ladle the pumpkin mixture over the mincemeat. Bake for 15 minutes in hot oven (450 degrees); then for 20 to 25 minutes more (or until custard is set) at 325 degrees.

Cool before serving.

Exeter Editor Wins Campaign Award

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Anna M. Sutherland of Newmarket believed the oldest woman in York county, died in hospital Tuesday at the age of 104.

Until last month, Mrs. Sutherland enjoyed excellent health and took an interest in both community and world affairs. Up to a year ago, her main occupation was knitting.

Born in Inverness, Scotland, Mrs. Sutherland came to Canada as a child. After living at Dundas, she moved to Newmarket.

Give Your Gifts Distinction With Easy-To-Make Wrappings

Half the fun of giving Christmas gifts is making them eye-catching and holiday-bright in resplendent wrapping! It's so thrilling to pile them under the Christmas tree or tuck small gifts in the ranches; picturing the delight these gaily-wrapped packages will evoke.

And it's true that even a small remembrance takes on added importance when your gifts wrapping shows that you have put a lot of thought, time, and imagination into it.

It seems that each year the selection of colorful wrapping paper, stickers, and ribbons becomes more varied. Now you can buy matched Christmas paper, stickers, and ribbon all in the same imaginative design and color scheme. These are obtainable in unusual color combinations that create striking effects.

It seems, however, that nothing will ever replace the well-loved holiday wrappings in the traditional mood. Bright gift papers aglow with poinsettias, holly, Santas, Christmas trees and other Yuletide designs are year-in, year-out favorites.

CREATE A THEME

Many imaginative people like to create a gift-wrapping theme for their packages each year and wrap them all in one distinctive manner.

You can achieve this theme through the color scheme of your paper and ribbons or with some unusual trimming touch.

Try tucking a sprig of holly in the red bow atop each of your packages. Or let every gift carry a gay little greeting by fastening tiny golden bells to the ribbons of each package.

A candy cane tied crosswise through a red ribbon bow will bring back wonderful memories of childhood Christmas to everyone. Clever cut-outs pasted on your packages will give them added holiday sparkle.

It's fun to disguise the contents of your gift box with unusual wrapping. If you're giving hankies, wrap them in cardboard tubes and spiral glittering tinsel down the package. Camouflage the easily-recognized tie and socks boxes with large cardboard Christmas tree cut-outs glued to the top of the box. Cut a hole in the tree cut-out near the top to slip ribbon or tinsel through for easy tying.

Make your Christmas a merrier one by giving gifts so cleverly wrapped they're doubly exciting! Plan your wrapping theme early and allow plenty of time to achieve your imaginative effects. Let every package sing out with your cheery holiday wishes.

Christmas Trees Initiated Old Germanic Custom

The Christmas tree, now such an important part of the Christmas celebration in Canada, is not enjoyed universally.

Historically speaking, records indicate that the first Christmas tree observance was in Strassburg, Germany, in 1604, and for centuries was a traditional German celebration.

The tree custom was first introduced into England in the Victorian era, when the Queen married the German Prince, Albert.

However, in the earliest days of man, the use of evergreens for indoor decor symbolized the ever-green, evergrowing spirit of Nature, and was observed with reverence.

It is thought that the use of ornaments as decor on evergreen boughs and garlands, dates back to celebrations in Roman days.

It was not until the sixteenth century that the use of evergreens for Christmas time decor was openly sanctioned by the church.

Norwood Church Guild Holds Turkey Supper

NORWOOD (ENS)—Thirty-five members and friends of Christ Church Norwood Guild sat down to a Christmas turkey supper on Friday evening in the parish room.

The dinner was convened by Mrs. Harry Rogers, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Dickinson, Mrs. C. J. Coleman and Mrs. Drummond.

Following the supper Mr. William Goodswan showed films. The balance of the evening was enjoyably spent in games and songs.

Guild President Mrs. Harold Mainland presented a gift on behalf of the Guild to the rector, Rev. H. E. Peasgood and Mrs. Peasgood, in appreciation of their assistance during the year.

Ottawa Offering

Senator Fraser wrote that the Federal government was willing either to build a swing bridge or provide the "grant as mentioned for the project." The Department of Transport is ready to proceed at once.

"They are not telling you what they want—it is strictly up to you to decide what you want. Trusting you will bring this letter to the attention of the proper authorities, and that the matter will be decided on without further delay."

County Engineer Kean said that the only confirmation in writing from federal authorities dates back to March 21, 1952. At that time the county received a copy of a letter exchanged between the Hon. Lionel Chevrier, Minister of Transport, and Senator Fraser. A copy was sent along to Peterborough.

CONDITIONAL OFFER

It made the $99,000 conditional on the building of two high-level spans, each 100 feet long and "providing a clear width of channel in each case of not less than 87 feet with vertical clearance of 22 feet above high-water level to provide for navigation . . ."

A couple of months ago a small committee of the county council met with C. W. West, director of canal services for the department.

"Mr. West said he was definitely in favor of the high-level bridge," said Mr. Kean. "And he said he would recommend that construction to the minister."

Mr. Kean recalled that Mr. West said if a swing-span was built it would be on the Harvey township side of the Narrows where the water is only about 10 feet deep. This would mean the county would have to build a small two-span bridge, with six-feet clearance, to permit the passage of water.

RE-CHECK ESTIMATES

Mr. Kean said that when Mr. West left he said the Department of Transport would re-check its estimates. And Mr. West was of the opinion that there should be a joint meeting of District Engineer Ewart Marston, Chief Bridge Engineer Arthur Sedgwick and Chief Municipal Engineer Jack MacInnes of the Department of Highways; County Engineer Kean; County Roads Committee; and himself, Mr. West. They could then make final decisions on the project.

Since then there has been no word from Mr. West or the Department of Transport.

Estimated cost of a swing-span type of causeway, as drawn up by Mr. West, was $328,000—$99,000 for the causeway, $99,000 for the swing-span, and $13,000 for the two low-level fixed spans that would permit the passage of water.

He favored the alternative plan: The high-level bridge, 22 feet above the water with concrete abutments, with a total cost of $356,000. The breakdown: $143,000 for the causeway (additional fill would be required if a high-level bridge is built), and $213,000 for the fixed span.

During flood season the Trent Canal authorities estimate that 20,000 cubic feet of water a second passes down the Narrows; this must be allowed for in constructing a causeway and is the unexpectedly expensive item.)

Referring to the Department of Transport's responsibility in paying construction costs to take care of this extra flow, Mr. Kean said: 'It's their flow, not ours."

And Warden Stewart reiterated that $99,000 was not a sufficient contribution from the Department of Transport.

(The role of the provincial government consists largely in meeting the cost of the fill. On the Chemong Causeway the subsidy was 80 per cent and provincial uthorities have intimated they will do the same again.)

Preliminary

similar. He had seen Knott playing with a knife at the home of Mrs. Susie Knott, sticking the blade into the front door of the house. The knife Knott had, he said, was a jack-knife with one blade out, and with a grey handle. The blade was about four inches long. This also described the knife entered as an exhibit.

FAIRLY COMMON

Cross-examined by Mr. Fair, the boy said he had seen a lot of knives like it, that it was a fairly common sort of knife.

Dr. Waite testified that the instrument that killed Taylor had made a wound about three inches long, two inches deep and one that gaped more than an inch wide at its widest point.

The blade of the weapon had cut the right ventricle of the heart, and about two quarts of blood were found in the right lung cavity. Dr. Waite described the wound as a "peculiar" one; the deepest part of it was at the lower end, as though the weapon had been straightened and pulled out at that point.

Death was due to the stab wound in the heart. A very sharp weapon with a curved blade "like a hunting knife" had made the wound, the doctor believed.

Shown the knife the Crown had entered, Dr. Waite said it is possible "that type of blade caused the wound, but I had in mind a broader blade."

John Taylor, brother of Wesley Taylor, testified he came home with his brother about 2 p.m. the day of the stabbing and said his brother hadn't been drinking then, but did later.

"I gave Knott a couple of shots of whiskey at his mother's home," Taylor said. Knott seemed sober at the time. Taylor saw his brother later at the general store in the village and said, "He was feeling pretty good then." Asked if he meant his brother had been drinking, he said "Yes."

"I got home about 10 o'clock from the store and went right to bed. When I'd been in bed about an hour I heard somebody calling, but couldn't tell what they said. I went to the front door, and looked around, but didn't see anything.

"Later on (15 or 20 minutes later), Taylor said) I heard somebody calling. It wasn't very distinct, and I didn't recognize the voice. I put my clothes on, went outside and looked around.

"I went around to the back of the house and that's how I found him. He was lying on his side, sort of curled up," Taylor testified.

"It was my brother Wesley. I asked him what had happened, but he never said a word. He was alive then, and I noticed a cut on his chest. I took him inside, changed his clothes and phoned a taxi to take him to a doctor.

"I phoned Mr. Anderson in Lakefield, but he wouldn't come out, so I phoned a cab in Peterborough. Then I thought it would take too long for the cab to get there. I got Orville Taylor to drive my brother to the doctor."

Under cross-examination, Taylor said the call he heard sounded like a call for help. Mr. Fair suggested that Wesley Taylor couldn't have called, owing to his condition, and the witness said it was possible. He didn't know whether it was someone else who called.

The hearing continued this afternoon.

Round Of Parties Will Keep Santa Hopping

Santa's waistline will be several inches less after he runs from one factory children's Christmas party to another in Peterborough this year. His schedule begins Thursday night and continues at bewildering pace. In fact, one can hardly believe that he could be at so many places at the same time. During a five-day period he will visit with more than 7,000 children of factory workers.

Old St. Nick makes the first of his pre-Christmas visits Thursday night at the Western Clock Company's cafeteria. There he will give out candies, nuts, oranges and gifts to 90 children at a party sponsored by the Westclox Veterans' Association.

His next industrial party stop will be Friday night at the collegiate where 270 children of employees of the DeLaval Company will be assembled. After films and carol singing Santa will give out gifts of clothing including jumpers, scarfs, mitts and sweaters.

SATURDAY SCHEDULE

The very thought of Saturday's parties probably makes Santa tired. For then he will visit no less than seven industrial parties, not to mention innumerable others, and speak to at least 5,700 youngsters.

The largest of these is the CGE's Social and Athletic Association party at the collegiate where there will be 4,100 children. To accommodate all these children the association has arranged five different parties beginning at 9:30 a.m. and ending at 4 p.m. This party alone is enough to make Santa weary.

But between shows there he has to visit the other parties.

The Peterborough Canoe Company's party will be held at the YMCA assembly room. There after a musical program by the Sargent brothers and children's films, Santa will make a brief appearance for the 165 children.

From there he will move to the Western Clock company cafeteria where the company and the social and athletic committee will hold a children's party for 300. After giving out gifts there, he will move to the Capitol theatre where about 350 children of employees of the They will receive stockings filled with toys and goodies from Santa. Canada Packers will be partying.

The Quaker Oats Company Fellowship Association will entertain about 500 children Saturday afternoon at Queen Mary school auditorium with singing, movies and a magician before a visit from Santa.

Then later in the evening the children of Dominion Woollen and Worsted company employees will see Santa there. Special guests of the Employee's Works Council and the Social and Athletic Club will be the children from the shelter and orphanage.

After entertainment by magician Bob MacDougall, Santa will visit the party sponsored by the Brinton - Peterborough Carpet Employees' Club. Held Saturday afternoon in St. John's school about 125 children are expected to attend. Each will receive a gift suitable for the various age group.

After a day's layoff Santa will resume action Monday night when he visits the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing company's children's party at the collegiate. More than 850 children will receive toys and candies from Santa.

NEW COMMANDER FOR CANADA'S NATO FORMATION — Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, CBE, DSO, recently signed over his command of the 27th Canadian Infantry Brigade Group in Germany to Brig. J. E. C. Pangman, DSO, ED, during handover ceremonies held at London Barracks in Hanover. Brig. Old-Time Favorites and New Delights Are Ready to Pop Right Out of Santa's Toy Bag

Here are eight good reasons why Christmas is for children—right out of Santa's 1952 toy pack. In big photo, above, a young doll mother feeds her "baby" with the aid of a doll feeding set. Next to her (left to right) are crayons that make a circus zoo; a scale model dump truck, and a cowgirl with cap rifle that makes smoke (she's riding sidewalk bike with outrigger wheels). Across the page at bottom (left to right) are a scale tractor-bulldozer, a seven-way pull toy for toddlers, a glamor doll with fur coat, and an inflated plastic rocket about to be launched by a space-suited lad.

Wave Of Riots Follows Death

MADRAS, India (AP) — Three persons were reported killed and 10 others were injured Tuesday night in a wave of riots and demonstrations that swept the Madras area after the death by fasting of Potti Sriramulu, a 51-year-old disciple of the late Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Sriramulu died Monday after going without food for 58 days in protest against the Indian government's refusal to create a new state, to be called Andhra, out of 11 districts in Madras state whose 22,000,000 people speak the Telegu language.

Communists, who have scored major victories in recent Madras state elections, seized on the incident to make political capital.

Reports from the town of Nellore said three persons, including one student, were killed there when police fired on a mob that refused to disperse after setting fire to a railroad car and a police jeep.

In Vijayawada, police said that a mob seized the railroad station Tuesday and caused damage estimated at 20,000,000 rupees ($4,210,000).

Freezing Weather Hits Sunny South

MIAMI (AP) — Freezing weather hit the sunny south again today for the third day in a row but forecasters said warmer weather was on the way.

Temperatures dropped to near freezing in some parts of Florida as the season's coldest spell hit wide areas of Dixie.

The coldest areas were in the northern sections of Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi, with readings in the 20s.

5 Delegates Go To Washington

OTTAWA (CP) — A five-man Canadian delegation of fisheries officials will leave for Washington this week for talks on a proposed international treaty for commercial fisheries of the Great Lakes.

The Great Lakes, which provide a livelihood for several thousand fishermen in Ontario and the United States, have never been under fishery control. The two governments will explore the possibility of setting up regulations necessary for carrying out conservation measures.

"Following the Washington talks, the delegation will bring back some proposals for discussions with the federal and provincial governments and with the fishing industry," the fisheries department announcement said.

The delegation will be composed of Stewart Bates, deputy fisheries minister, and two officials of his department, Dr. W. M. Sprules and S. V. Ozere, and two provincial fisheries experts of the Ontario lands and forests department, Dr. W. J. K. Harkness and R. N. Johnston.

Here And There In Sports

BOB GRAY LOW MAN

TORONTO (CP)—Pete Finlayson, secretary of the Ontario branch of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association, announced Tuesday night that Bob Gray of Toronto Scarboro has won the A. T. Hunt Trophy for the best low average during the last season.

Gray had a mark of 71.2. Gordon Brydson of Toronto Mississauga finished one-fifth of a stroke behind with 71.4. The average was obtained from various prescribed tournaments, including the Canadian open, the CPGA, Ontario Open, Millar Trophy qualifying round and a number of club invitation competitions.

SWIM COACH DIES

TORONTO (CP)—Alex R. Duff, organizer and coach of the Dolphinets Swimming Club, died suddenly Tuesday night. He specialzed in swimming instruction for girls and more than 30 years ago founded the Dolphinets. Many of the thousands of girls he trained in swimming and diving won Dominion titles.

✦ ✦ ✦

ACES DROP FOUR MEN

QUEBEC (CP)—Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League announced Tuesday that Leon Bouchard, Walter Pawlyshyn, Pierre Brillant and Copper Leyte have been released. Bouchard was sent to Halifax and Pawlyshyn to Charlottetown of the Maritime Major Hockey League. Both are forwards. Winger Brillant and defenceman Leyte were sent to Lower St. Lawrence League teams.

✦ ✦ ✦

ENOS SLAUGHTER SIGNS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Enos Slaughter, the old warhorse of St. Louis Cardinals, has signed his 1953 contract, the club announced Tuesday night. It was the 13th Cardinal contract for the 36-year-old outfielder who is reported to have signed for $25,000, an increase of about $5,000 over his 1952 salary.

✦ ✦ ✦

SHUBA RECOVERING

BROOKLYN (AP)—George Shuba Brooklyn Dodger outfielder, Tuesday was found to be making satisfactory recovery from an operation for removal of a cartilage from his left knee. Dr. Herbert Feet examined Shuba at the Long Island College Hospital. The operation was performed in early November.

Find 2 Children Have Meningitis

BLIND RIVER (CP) — Two children, thought earlier to have contracted poliomyelitis, have been found to be suffering from a throat infection and meningitis.

Schools were closed and public meeting curtailed in this community about 65 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie when Yvonne Corbeil, 10, and six-year-old Rona Leech of nearby Parkinson were first thought to have polio.

Vanishes In Bucharest

VIENNA (Reuters) — Joseph Popper, Austria's commercial attache in Communist Romania, vanished in Bucharest two months ago, it war disclosed today.

Repeated requests made to the Communist authorities by the Austrian embassy there have yielded no clue.

Movie Column

Deanna Back But No Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The film town can't believe it. Winnipeg-born Deanna Durbin is back in Hollywood, but she says she's not interested in doing movies.

She wants no career but her family. It consists of her husband, writer-director Charles David, their son, Peter, 1½, and her daughter by a previous marriage, Jessica, 7.

"I can't seem to make people believe that I don't care about doing any more pictures," she said. "Mr. Pasternak is a fellow who won't take no for an answer."

Joe Pasternak, who produced her successful films at Universal, now is a big man at MGM. He has long been after her for a return to films. It would possibly be for a co-starring opus with Mario Lanza, who has expressed an eagerness to appear with Miss Durbin.

NEGATIVE REPLY

But she greets such reports with a smile and a negative reply.

"I'm not a ham," she commented. "I never have been, although I could never get people to believe it. Some people love to perform; it's their life.

"But not me. I started when I was 12, doing a short at MGM with Judy Garland. I did "Three Smart Girls" when I was 13.

"I was caught in the whirl until I quit three years ago. That's a big chunk out of my life.

"Sure, I had a lot of fun and I enjoyed things I otherwise wouldn't have had. But I also missed out on a lot of the joys of girls who lead normal lives."

Deanna indicated that her young son has a great deal to do with her decision.

"I can see how much it means to Peter to have a mother who is always there when he needs her."

She mentioned that he still keeps her singing voice in training, but strictly for her own amusement.

Start To Changeover Generating Stations

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario hydro commission is preparing to change over its generating stations to produce 60-cycle power instead of 25-cycle.

Hydro chairman Robert Saunders said today in a statement initial steps are already under way. The change is part of the project of bringing a large area of southern Ontario, including Toronto, into the 60-cycle service.

The first hydro station affected will be the newest of the commission's two plants at DeCew falls near St. Catharines. One of the two units at that plant will be changed over in 1954.

Limbless Vet Is Papa

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Fred Hensel, quadruple amputee of the Second World War, became a father Tuesday. A six-pound, 15½-ounce girl was born to Mrs. Hensel at Birmingham hospital. It is their first child. Hensel lost both arms and both legs in fighting on Okinawa in 1945.

Quebec Gov't Plans To Protect Farmer

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Duplessis today told delegates of the Catholic Farmers' Union the Quebec government plans to take steps to prevent public utilities companies from obtaining rights to build transmission power lines and towers on farm lands "under unfair arrangements."

Mr. Duplessis also said the government would act to stop lumber-buying concerns from buying wood from farmers and settlers at low prices.

Farmers complained existing practices are working out to their disadvantage in an 18-page memorandum submitted to the government today. Abel Marion, president of the 40,000-member group, headed the delegation.

Red Peace Delegate Makes Germ Charges

VIENNA (AP) — A Chinese delegate to the Communist-sponsored world peace congress charged today that United States planes dropped "poisoned oysters" on North Korea.

Dr. Chen Wen-kuei said the oysters were meant to harm the Korean population. He gave no further details.

He was one of a series of speakers who devoted this morning's session to charges of American germ-warfare in Korea.

Lack of interest among delegates, which marked a major part of Tuesday's deliberations, became even more evident today. Only about 50 per cent of the available seats were filled.

Endicott Supports Mau Mau Society

VIENNA (Reuters)—Rev James Endicott, president of the Canadian peace council, today told the Communist-sponsored Vienna peace congress that Mau Mau terrorists in Kenya colony have more right to be there than Britons.

"I don't see why we consider the Mau Mau with their butcher knives to be terrorists and the English with their tommy guns not," he said.

"Anyway, the Mau Mau have more right to be in Kenya than any English lord or duke."

Get Sneak Preview After Accident

TORONTO (CP) — A traffic accident gave passersby a sneak preview of some 1953-model automobiles Tuesday night.

Malcolm Bird, an automobile transport driver, was bringing his laden vehicle from Oshawa when he suddenly was confronted by two cars which had collided at an intersection. Bird turned quickly and his transport overturned, spilling the new cars and breaking their canvas coverings.

The 1953 models have not yet been introduced to showrooms for public inspection.

Don't Recommend Lifting Of Ban

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Salter Hayden (L—Ontario) told the Senate Tuesday night that a committee studying a revision of the Criminal Code did not recommend lifting the ban on pari-mutuel betting on dog races.

Senator Hayden, chairman of the Senate banking and commerce committee, said representations were made to the committe earlier to put dog racing on the same basis as horse racing.

He was referring to a brief from greyhound breeding and racing groups asking that pari-mutuel betting on greyhound racing be permitted.

The brief came from the Tillsonburg Greyhound Kennel Club, Toronto and District Greyhound Club, Western Greyhound Racing Association of Saskatchewan and Canadian Greyhound Racing and Breeders Association.

P of W Boys Win

Wilton James paced the Prince of Wales juniors to a 4-0 victory over May's Tuesday in the Junior Public School Hockey League. James performed the hat trick while leading his team to victory.

Greg Marchen opened the scoring for Prince of Wales, assisted by Jeff Andrews and Joe Todd. Then James went on his scoring spree, netting three in a row, Todd assisting on the second goal for his second assist.

Lineups:

Prince of Wales—Goal, Patterson; defence, Owen, Trotter; centre, Andrews; wings, Marchen, Todd alt., Curvin, Beavis, Reid, James, Parker.

May's—Goal, J. Park defence, Grant, W. Hamilton; centre, Bell; wings, J. Armour, G. Park; alt., B. Armour, Hopkins, Snelgrove, R. Hamilton.

Mrs. Myrtle Crawford

MARMORA (ENS). — Dean H. J. Farrell of Perth officiated at the requiem mass for Mrs. Myrtle Crawford at the Sacred Heart Church, Marmora, on Monday morning. She had been his housekeeper for a period of 27 years. Also in the sanctuary were the Rev. J. O. O'Neill, the Rev. G. Scanlon, and the Rev. J. Feeney (cousin of the deceased) of Erinsville. The latter said prayers at the graveside in the Sacred Heart Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Charles Crawford, Vincent Lynch, James Crawford, Donald Cook, Donald Moloney, and Laughlin Hughes.

Blast Kills Worker

CLEVELAND (AP) — An electrical explosion in the basement of the Hotel Hollenden killed a workman early today and severely burned two others. The blast occurred in the subterranean vaults where the transformers of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company are stored. The explosion apparently occurred when a switch was pulled on a line carrying 4,600 volts.

Britons Want To Know Why Prisoners Allowed To Gather

LONDON (AP)—Three leading British newspapers express misgivings today over the riotous Communist prisoners in Korea and demand a fuller explanation.

The Liberal Manchester Guardian and the Conservative London Daily Mail warn that the shootings may weaken the whole UN position on the prisoner-of-war issue.

The pro-Labor London Daily Herald calls the latest shooting episode at Pongam, where 82 Red prisoners were killed and 120 were wounded "disturbing" and demands "let's have the facts."

"It does the United Nations no good to have to admit that some of the prisoners in its hands are still out of control," the Guardian says in an editorial.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

The Guardian concedes that it is "extremely difficult to keep order in a crowd of fanatical Communists" but it asks "has everything possible been done in this and other camps to make them secure and to ensure that the prisoners are not incited to revolt by surreptitious messages from North Korea as they have been in the past?"

"After so many outbreaks," it adds, "this question still needs to be answered."

In a front-page editorial, the Daily Mail cautions against playing into Communist hands by calling the Americans "trigger happy."

"The question to be asked is not why the Americans fired but why 3,600 prisoners were allowed to concentrate in such a fashion."

ALL FOR NOTHING

The Mail asks whether all the experience at Koje has gone for nothing. "The Americans have a responsibility not only to themselves but to the whole Free world in this matter for the Korean war is being continued over this very question of the prisoners of war.

"The United Nations refuse to return captives who would almost certainly be shot when they got home. But the effect of this humanitarian policy will be weakened by continued shooting of prisoners, even in self-defence."

The Daily Herald refers to a statement in the House of Commons Wednesday that the British government has been pressing the U. S. government for full reports on earlier Korean prison incidents but the reports have not yet been received.

"This is not the way to establish confidence between allies who have a joint responsibility in Korea under the UN," the Herald says. "We trust that urgent efforts will be made to restore that confidence by supplying the detailed information to which the public is entitled."

UN Planes Blast Red Troop Centre

SEOUL (AP) — Allied warplanes smashed a big Red troop-massing area near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang today while the Communists boasted they would be in Seoul by Christmas

Allied planes in waves rained high explosives on the troop concentration area, which sprawls 20 miles south of Pyongyang.

The air force said more than 70 buildings were destroyed and 30 more were damaged.

While Allied officers considered the Christmas broadcasts one more phase of the Reds' psychogical warfare, one officer said the news had spread through Seoul "causing quite a commotion."

Health Commission Offers Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman's commission on the health needs of the United States came up today with a middle - ground proposal for solving one of the hottest issues in the U.S. — how to pay the doctor's bill.

The commission proposed a $1,500,000,000 annual outlay of federal and state funds to bolster voluntary insurance plans covering the costs of hospital and medical care for all persons lacking full ability to pay.

The program would be administered chiefly by the states, which would match federal money.

One of the commission's main findings was that "despite superior medical service and low death rates, Americans are not enjoying as good health as might be expected in this country."

ONTARIO CONSERVATION ASSOCIATION held their annual meeting today with representatives attending from all over eastern-central Ontario. Man 28 Hours In Water, Rescued Alive

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A 38-year-old man, given up for lost after falling from a tugboat 20 miles south of Miami Tuesday, was found clinging to mangrove bushes in Angel Fish creek Wednesday.

Fred Tyzzer Jr., had been in the water more than 28 hours through one of the season's coldest nights. He was stripped to his shorts and blue with cold.

He was reported in "satisfactory" condition in hospital today.

Tyzzer watched while a Coast Guard PBY and a helicopter flew overhead. But he couldn't attract their attention. Finally, the Coast Guard abandoned the search and said he presumably had drowned.

LOST BALANCE

Tyzzer lost his balance and fell from the tugboat Logan about 11 a.m. EST Tuesday between Cape Florida and Cutter bank. He was rescued late Wednesday by Capt. Cleveland Knowles aboard his fishing vessel.

Tyzzer watched the tug until it moved out of sight, then shed his clothing and swam three or four miles to the mangrove swamp. All night he buried his face in the mangrove roots to ward off the chill northwest wind.

Knowles was headed for port when he saw Tyzzer, waving a mangrove branch.

Dairy Plant Fails Use Train Engine

TORONTO (CP)—A railway locomotive is pinch-hitting for a steam plant at a local dairy.

When the steam generator at a central Toronto dairy broke down Wednesday it appeared as if the plant would have to close

However a telephone call brought a locomotive to the plant siding. With an engineer and a fireman keeping up a full steam, pasteurization and other processes went on as usual.

Ask France, Tunisia Negotiate Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The UN general assembly agreed overwhelmingly Wednesday night to urge France and Tunisia to negotiate a settlement of their differences on Tunisian demands for self-rule. The full 60-nation assembly, meeting in special night session, formally adopted by a vote of 44-3, with eight abstentions, a mildly worded Latin-American resolution calling for French-Tunisian negotiations. Canada voted for the resolution.

This resolution was adopted previously by the assembly's political committee instead of one from 13 Arab and Asian nations who had proposed a UN commission to supervise the dealings.

The Arab-Asian bloc voted for the 11-nation Latin American resolution after its own plan was rejected.

THINK STAND WEAK

But spokesmen for the group expressed disappointment that the UN did not take a stronger stand in demanding that France lift martial law in Tunisia and accept UN good offices.

The Soviet bloc abstained with its five votes on the ground that the resolution was too weak and did not assure independence for the Tunisians.

France boycotted the Tunisian debate on the ground that the UN is not competent to intervene in what she claims is a pure domestic issue.

Britain, Australia and Belgium supported France in this stand, claiming such interference threatened the very foundations of the UN.

The political committee earlier Wednesday passed a similarly mild resolution, over U.S. opposition, calling on France to open urgent talks with her other North African protectorate, Morocco, on self-government.

Rescue 3 Men On Ice Floe

EDMONTON (CP)—Three fishermen marooned on an ice floe on Great Slave lake, 650 miles north of Edmonton, have been rescued by a pilot who put his ski-equipped aircraft down on a five-inch-thick ice surface.

Associated Airways Ltd. reported Wednesday night that pilot R. A. Gray of Edmonton had spotted the three fishermen Wednesday setting their nets. The fishermen were marooned when a chunk of ice about 600 yards long and 300 yards wide cracked off and drifted out into the lake.

Gray put his plane down on the ice floe but because of the danger of crashing through, he kept the plane in motion while the fishermen scrambled aboard.

Associated Airways reported it was believed the fishermen were flown to Hay River, N.W.T., 50 miles away.

Car Throws Woman 50 Feet, Speeds Away

TORONTO (CP) — Annie Ostapiuk, about 55, was killed by an automobile on her way to work today and police immediately launched a hunt for the car that hit her.

Witnesses said a 1948 model cream convertible struck the woman as she crossed the west-central intersection of Bathurst and Queen streets on her way to her job at a clothing factory. They said it tossed her 20 feet in the air and that she landed on the pavement 50 feet from the point of impact.

Police said they were told the driver raced through a red light and continued west on Queen street. They broadcast a description of the car and asked all garages to report any cars brought to them with damaged radiators or fenders.

Pinto Wants Pension

OTTAWA (CP) — Horses were put on the payroll at Petawawa army camp, according to the Currie report, and today Stanley Knowles (CCF - Winnipeg North Centre) got this wire from Dauphin, Man.: "Understand that horses now eligible for regular army pay in Canadian Army. On behalf local nags, all category E and not fit for service, I appeal to the government for old age pensions. Please hurry. Christmas just around corner. As alternative, appointments to Senate will be considered. Please send cheques airmail. Hear railroad tracks torn up. Regards to our local MP." It was signed "Pinto."

Nootka Returns After Second Tour Of Duty

HALIFAX (CP)—The destroyer Nootka came home from her second tour of Korean duty Wednesday but her skipper, Cmdr. Richard Steele of Rothesay, N.B., said many of the most exciting exploits are still cloaked in naval secrecy. Seven Peterborough men are in the ship's crew.

Two harbor ferries and a tug, the only craft active in the harbor at the time, and navy planes overhead gave a welcome as the destroyer steamed into port. She is headed for the reserve fleet and an overhaul.

Nootka, which sailed from Halifax Dec. 30 last year, came home by way of the Indian ocean and the Mediterranean, more than 400 miles shorter than the route through the Panama Canal.

The destroyer sailed 48,700 miles in Korean waters during the tour and sent 6,000 rounds of ammunition into enemy targets. On 17 occasions she fought and defeated enemy batteries and on 20 other occasions she counter attacked guns which were firing on United Nations-held islands.

Most exciting engagement Cmdr. Steele talked about occurred at Chongjin when Nootka was covering the United States destroyer John Thomason.

Both destroyers were caught close to shore and subjected to heavy enemy fire but escaped damage in a hasty retreat.

Chooses Jail For Christmas

COVENTRY, England (AP) — Dereck Pickering is a man of principle — he is going to spend Christmas in jail rather than pay a £2 parking fine.

The 47-year-old motorcycle engineer received a ticket for parking his car — as he's done for 12 years — outside his home without lights. He thinks a police warning would have been in order, especially since he lives on a dead-end street.

Pickering instructed the court not to accept payment in his behalf from friends either.

"Some people would pay up, but not me," he said. "It's a matter of principle. I'd sooner go to the cooler."

He must pay by next Tuesday or serve 14 days. Monday he and his wife, who supports his crusade, plan a pre-jail Christmas party for friends and will invite the chief constable of Coventry.

The determined Pickering is no novice to principle. Twenty - five years ago he refused to pay a £25 fine for a motoring offence and went to jail for two months.

Western Fowl Cause Lower Turkey Prices

MEAFORD (CP)—Forty tons of turkeys were auctioned here at prices less than 50 cents a pound Wednesday at the 29th annual Meaford turkey market. Ducks and geese sold as low as 35 cents a pound, with capons selling at 50 cents.

Officials at the auction said it was highly unusual for turkeys to be selling at a lower price than chicken. They said large numbers of turkeys being shipped into Ontario from the West were responsible.

Seek Cigarettes Not Gold

Modern Pirates Ram Ship Use Guns, Not Cutlasses

TANGIER, Morocco (AP) — An international procession of unshaven sailors, Dutch skippers and hard-ridden adventurers thronged a court today to continue the recital of a strange tale of modern piracy on the high seas.

This time, however, machine-guns were the weapons instead of cutlasses. Cigarettes were the booty not gold from the Spanish Main.

Two Americans living in Morocco Elliott Burt Forrest and Sidney Paley, a Tangier nylon manufacturer, are alleged to have played key roles in the hijacking of $100,000 worth of smokes from the 300-ton Dutch motorship Combinatie on Oct. 4.

Testimony is being heard by consular Judge Milton J. Helmick and two civilian assessors.

DREW UP ATTACK PLAN

Paley is charged with aiding in drawing up the plans for the attack on the Combinatie and of aiding and abetting in the piracy. He is not charged with participating in the actual attack.

Testimony Wednesday named Forrest, a nightclub operator and cigarette trader, as the leader of the attack. He is a fugitive, last reported in Corisca, and no formal charges have been lodged against him.

Edward J. Engelsman, Dutch captain of the pirate vessel, the 60-ton Esme, came to testify from a Tangiers jail, where he is awaiting trial before an international court for complicity in the piracy. In matter-of-fact tones, with an occasional sardonic smile, he told this story:

Forrest and Paley chartered the Esme from her owner, accountant Rue Wright, for $8,000 purportedly for a salvage job off Malta. Forrest brought along his own crew to help Engelsman. After they sailed, the crew produced three of four machine-guns and some pistols.

RAMMED SHIP

Forrest ordered the Esme to shadow the Combinatie. At 1 a.m. Oct. 4 the Esme rammed the larger ship and the attackers leaped aboard, "all except Forrest, he stayed with me on the bridge."

"The men had masks like the Ku Klux Klan and carried machine guns."

The attack occurred 16 miles off the east coast of Spain. The pirates sailed both ships to Corsica and unloaded the cigarets—2,700 cases—then sailed beyond land and released the Combinatie Oct. 15.

The Combinatie's Dutch captain, Johannes van Delft, 50, testified he was handcuffed and held in the blacked-out hold of his ship the entire 12 days.

Will Begin Work On Airports

In Time of War Mountbatten Mediterranean Boss

PARIS (AP)—The North Atlantic treaty countries agreed today to spend $239,600,000 in 1953 for airports and other solid decencies against possible Soviet aggression. This is just a shade more than one-half of the $428,000,000 which Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander in Europe, had outlined as the "minimum" to provide security.

Rene Pleven, French defence minister, said the reduced figure was agreed upon by the NATO council after a four-day debate. The money voted will provide enough to begin work on airports and other long-term projects as soon as weather permits.

Decision on the final figure was taken a few hours before the projected conclusion of the meeting, called to get the 14 members to vote all the money they could afford without going broke.

TO BE BOSS

Field Marshal Earl Alexander of Britain, meanwhile, announced that "in time of war" Admiral Earl Mountbatten will be boss of NATO's Mediterranean naval and air forces.

Alexander, Britain's minister of defence, told a press conference: "While the United States Sixth fleet is not now under the new Mediterranean command, the new commander-in-chief will be responsible for co-ordinating the activities in time of war of the American fleet with those of other naval and air units operating in the Mediterranean."

This was the first public announcement on just how much authority the new Mediterranean naval commander - in - chief will have. The ministers of the 14 North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries last Tuesday approved both the setting up of the new naval command and the appointment by Britain of Lord Mountbatten.

The NATO communique had distinguished between the responsibilities of Mountbatten and U. S. Admiral Robert B. Carney, who commands both NATO's southern command and the U. S. Sixth fleet in the Mediterranean.

Hot U.S. Ace Gets 9th MiG

SEOUL (AP) — The United States' hottest Sabre jet ace shot down another Communist MiG fighter and a second MiG was damaged in swirling air battles high over North Korea today, the U.S. Fifth Air Force reported.

Lieut. James F. Low of Sausalito, Calif., credited with his ninth MiG jet, said it was the roughest dogfight he has had in two tours in Korea.

Ten Sabres clashed with 22 MiGs high above the Suiho reservoir, almost directly over the Yalu river boundary of Manchuria.

Low praised the flying ability of the pilot whose MiG he shot down.

"We went through everything in the book and that pilot really knew his stuff," he said. "it was the roughest fight I ever had."

Petty Pilfering Blown Up Ottawa Charges

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA (CP)—Round one of the torrid parliamentary battle of the Currie report is over. It ended Wednesday night in a final blaze of accusations and counter-accusations and then abruptly in adjournment of the embattled Commons until Jan. 12. But there was no doubt that the fight will revive after the Christmas recess, both in the House itself and in the defence expenditures committee that will be set up to study the report that described a general breakdown in one branch of the Army and a general haste-before-cost attitude in the defence department.

It will probably go on through the recess itself, over the radio and on public platforms. Both the government and opposition consider this a potentially major issue for a possible election in 1953.

The first round ended with all three parties in opposition demanding a cabinet transfer for Defence Minister Claxton for "serious" and "disgraceful" conditions in the Army.

The government's stand is that the opposition has tried to bloat "petty pilfering" into a major issue for political advantage and that there is no reason to lose confidence either in Mr. Claxton or the head of the Army.

DOMINATED DEBATE

The battle largely dominated the general throne speech debate from the time the report was tabled Monday. But a majority of members found time Wednesday to express confidence in the government, rejecting two opposition motions of want-of-confidence and then approving the message to the governor-general thanking him for the speech from the throne enunciating government policy when the session started Nov. 20.

At 10:50 p.m. EST, the House adjourned.

In the first vote, Liberal members beat down the three opposition parties in rejecting a CCF amendment to the throne speech by a vote of 127 to 57. The amendment proposed paying farmers for wheat stored on farms up to 75 per cent of the initial price they would get for their wheat in a crop year.

Then the Liberals rejected by a vote of 114 to 47 a Progressive Conservative amendment charging the government with imposing "excessive and unjust taxation" and being responsible for "waste and extravagance." The three opposition groups again voted together.

The main motion for adoption of the reply to the throne speech went through without a formal vote but with opposition members signifying vocal disapproval.

EXCHANGE CHANGES

The Currie fight was climaxed in a speech by acting Defence Minister Campney which ended with him and George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, throwing charges of irresponsibility at one another.

The day saw these statements:

1. Mr. Campney accused the opposition of playing politics by

Swiss Climbers Only 200 Feet From Peak

KATHMANDU, Nepal (Reuters) —The team of Swiss mountain climbers that tried and only just failed to reach the peak of Mount Everest last month drove into town today and prepared to head home.

The seven climbers were cheerful and in good health, though disappointed at their near miss.

The expedition got to within 200 feet of the summit, probably the highest point yet reached.

But there the rarified air of 29,000-foot Everest turned them back. Their oxygen equipment had not stood Everest's test.

The Swiss will make another attempt on the peak in 1955. Two British teams of climbers will try next year.

Civil Defence Workers Have Compensation

OTTAWA (CP) — Benefits of the provincial Workmen's Compensation Act are to be extended to Ontario's civil defence workers, with the costs shared equally by the federal and provincial governments, the federal health department announced today.

The agreement is the first such joint undertaking arising from the federal government's offer to share costs of compensation which the provinces might agree to pay to anyone killed or injured while serving in official civil defence organizations.

The announcement said it is expected other provinces will take advantage of the cost-sharing plan and that such agreements will aid in recruiting civil defence workers.

The Ontario agreement covers persons training for, as well as actually engaged in, civil defence work.

CAN SUBMIT CLAIMS

Under the agreement, if a civil defence worker is killed or injured by an accident related to such service, either inside or outside Ontario, claims may be submitted to the workmen's compensation board on the same basis as for other employment covered by the act.

Provisions of the agreement do not apply to federal, provincial or municipal employees already entitled to compensation by virtue of their regular employment or to other civil defence workers normally covered by the Workmen's Compensation Act.

The agreement may be ended by 36 days notice by either party, and it automatically expires if "any attack on or invasion of Canadian territory has been made by the armed forces of any foreign country."

Reports Differ On Results

QUEBEC (CP) — The amount of progress made towards settlement of the Louiseville textile strike was a matter of conjecture today.

Conflicting statements were given Wednesday night by Labor Minister Barrette and Gerard Picard, president of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor, following a meeting here. Representatives of the Associated Textiles Ltd., also attended.

After the meeting, called by Mr. Barrette, the labor minister said "considerable progress" had been made. He said he was satisfied and both sides had made sincere efforts at settlement. The statement was made with company and union officials present.

Later, Mr. Picard, who attended for the union and was present when Mr. Barrette gave his version, said "no progress" had been made. He said no agreement had been reached on any points and the situation was the same as it was before the meeting.

A second meeting of Mr. Barrette, company and union officials will be held Friday.

Massey Makes Suggestion:

Hold International Art Festival In Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — An international festival of the arts, to be held in Ottawa, was suggested today by Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canada's governor-general

The festival might be attempted —at least once as an experiment— "to stimulate and encourage that active participation in music and drama and the other arts which are becoming increasingly characteristic of life in this city and in Canada as a whole," he said.

The proposal by Mr. Massey, who headed the royal commission which produced a monumental report on Canadian culture in 1951, was made in a speech prepared for the Canadian Club here.

Mr. Massey said the festival could find a pattern in the annual festival of music and arts held in Edinburgh.

"There would be all sorts of difficulties in the way, of course," he said. But throughout this country's history "unimagineable things have been done."

"They still can be done," he added.

It would be foolish to attemt a close imitation of any other celebration — "we must always do things in our own way."

INTERNATIONAL TOUCH

"Such an occasion, I would suggest, should be international, but with a special emphasis on Canadian cultural achievement, which is not as well known as it ought to be — to ourselves or to those from abroad."

Mr. Massey said the festival would encurage active participation in the arts and "suggest to visitors from abroad that Canada is not just a dollar country."

The festival would need a "peg" to hang on. Ottawa's history might provide such a peg — in 1854 it became a city and in 1858 it became Canada's capital — but one centenary comes too early and the other is far away.

This was just one of the difficulties. But Canada had done remarkable things and an arts festival could be one of them.

Big Farm Crops In West Set New Peak Records

OTTAWA (CP)—High yields from Canada's 1952 field crops—with a record wheat crop in the van—may bring their value to a peak $2,400,000,000, the Bureau of Statistics estimates. The big harvests in the West, the Bureau said Wednesday, would more than offset lower prices for most crops. Higher prices for Prairie wheat, oats and barley helped swell the forecast figure to almost $300,000,000 over the previous record of $2,123,000,000 in 1951.

The picture was darkest in Ontario and Quebec, where lower output and declining prices brought a combined value of $487,764,000 — more than $45,000,000 below the 1951 figure for the central provinces.

The bureau's production value estimate is based on the assumption that farmers participating in Prairie grain pools may get another $500,000,000 or so in instalments during the crop year, which ends next summer.

UP 43 PER CENT

To date, preliminary figures based on initial payments made by the Canadian wheat board on deliveries of wheat, oats and barley showed an estimate of $1,940,000 for all 1952 field crops. This is 13 per cent higher than last year's preliminary forecast of $1,716,000,000.

The bureau's figures are not final, and will be affected by any changes in prices received by farmers during the balance of the crop year.

Preliminary value of all crops by provinces, without taking further instalment payments on grain into account includes: (last year's figures in brackets)

Saskatchewan $716,343,000 ($534,553,000); Manitoba $200,261,000 ($169,391,000); Alberta $409,314,000 ($376,387,000); British Columbia $36,174,000 ($30,379,000).

Hog Market Good Producers Told

ST. THOMAS (CP)—The director of the Ontario hog marketing board said Wednesday he does not think producers need to be too concerned about the threat of overproduction.

Clayton Frey of Sarnia told the Elgin Hog Producers' Association that the Canadian appetite for pork has increased since the Second World War and Canadians are consuming about 900,000,000 pounds a year.

He said the producers' chief concern is to produce at costs which would enable them to stay solvent at the current price for pork.

Hint Cabinet Shuffle To Recover Prestige

OTTAWA (CP)—The Ottawa Evening Citizen said Wednesday that Prime Minister St. Laurent is expected to make a "spectacular cabinet shuffle" as a first move "to recoup some of the loss of public prestige" from the Currie report on the Army works services.

It predicted the transfer of Defence Minister Claxton to another department and his replacement by either Production Minister Howe or Hon. C. G. Power, former air minister. Other shifts would follow.

"The change may also involve a change in the defence deputy ministership," the paper said. The deputy now is C. M. Drury, a wartime army brigadier.

Father Of Six Killed On Shopping Trip

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The father of six small children, returning from a Christmas shopping trip with toys and candy, was killed Tuesday night when his car was struck by a stolen auto.

The victim was Charles P. Nichols, 30. His wife suffered fractures of both collarbones.

The children, ranging up to seven years of age and including four-year-old twins, were not with them.

The stolen machine was abandoned. Police said a witness told them three occupants of it fled on foot after the accident.

11 Of Opposition Arrested By Peron

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Eleven members of the opposition Radical party were arrested today in San Luis province in central Argentina. A police communique said they were plotting an "imminent" revolt against the government of President Peron.

Police also arrested Emir Mercader, a former Radical party member of Congress, and Ruben Ayala Torales, editor of a party newspaper. There was no apparent connection.

Police said they found a number of firearms, dynamite and propaganda leaflets in the homes of the 11 party members.

making "wild and irresponsible" propaganda to blow up a "relatively small matter" into a big issue. He regretted attacks on Mr. Claxton when the latter was away on Atlantic Pact business and lauded the minister's record.

2. Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) rapped Prime Minister St. Laurent for tabling a memo from Lt.-Gen. G.G. Simonds, army chief, taking exception to parts of the report. "Who is running this country anyway?" he asked. He also criticized Gen. Simonds for requesting that the memo be made public.

3. Mr. St. Laurent said neither Gen. Simonds nor his predecessor, Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, could be blamed for the situation disclosed in the report. Gen. Simonds had not been chief when "all this" occurred. Gen. Foulkes had had to devote most of his time to international matters.

DEMANDS CLEANUP

4. Howard Green (PC — Vancouver-Quadra) joined other opposition members in calling for Mr. Claxton's scalp and said he is incapable of cleaning up "the serious situation" in the army.

5. The prime minister suggested that the Commons defence expenditures committee might call both Mr. Currie and Gen. Simonds as witnesses in considering both the report and the Simonds memo.

6. Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver-East) joined others in calling for an independent commission to study the whole defence department and said only a naive minister could expect the opposition to let such an opportunity as the Currie report pass without making political use of it.

CALLS IT HYSTERIA

In the government's main reply, Mr. Campney accused the opposition of working themselves into a state of political hysteria which they were trying to pass on to the people. "They are trying to play politics with the Currie report."

They were trying to throw the cloud that came from a small gang of crooks over the whole defence department. At Petawawa, those few crooks had conspired to steal. The government had taken action against them, had convicted 11 soldiers and civilians.

Although the Currie report said the first tip on the irregularities came from an anonymous letter, Mr. Campney contended that they already were under investigation by the provost corps.

No one condoned pilfering, but the Currie report itself said that nowhere were the losses large and that it was simply thievery on a large scale.

Mr. Claxton could well have treated the Currie report as his own confidential document but, with courage, had made it public so the House and people could know the facts.

Mr. Campney described the army works service as a relatively unimportant branch until Korea forced it to expand many times, to multiply its spending 10 times. It had not been able to keep up with this expansion.

NOT DONE YET

The basic reason was that the Army was seeking skilled men to handle the expansion just when a booming civilian economy offered them better jobs. It had had to start training them itself while the work piled up. Under the sometimes fantastic overload of work, it would take some time yet to get the service on its feet.

Mr. Currie had said the whole works service should not be indicted for the acts of a few crooks. The opposition should remember this.

Mr. Currie had made interim suggestions and they had been carried out by the administrative staff. To suggest, as the opposition did, that Mr. Claxton knew about them when he said there had been no interim reports was "not true."

A large part of the report's 44 recommendations had been carried out. But only two of the 11 on security had been implemented because security was the major problem and it was under active study.

Mr. Knowles, in calling for Mr. Claxton's removal, described the Currie findings as "shocking and disgraceful" and said any man at the head of a department where that sort of thing went on should be fired.

The report also attached blame to army higher-ups and those responsible in the army should get severe and drastic treatment. The action should be taken quickly, too, because the situation was urgent.

ADVANCE COPY CRITICIZED

Mr. Knowles was critical of the fact that an advance copy of the Currie report had gone to the defence department 10 days early for suggested changes and said this indicates that the department thinks it is top dog even when it is under investigation.

(Rejecting a suggestion by Mr. St. Laurent, Mr. Knowles said the CCF could not disclose how it came into possession of a copy of the report before it was tabled in the House. That was the copy which prompted Mr. Knowles to charge Monday that changes were made before the final report was tabled.

(Later, outside the House, CCF leader M. J. Coldwell said a friend unconnected with the government service gave him the report Dec. 9.)

Mr. St. Laurent confirmed that changes were made at the suggestion of Deputy Minister C. M. Drury after the Currie firm asked a final check on the facts in a draft document. Mr. Claxton had allowed Mr. Drury to look over the draft copy with instructions to stick closely to facts.

NOT ALL ACCEPTED

The draft was received Nov. 27 and some of Mr. Drury's suggestions were accepted, some weren't. Mr. St. Laurent said he had been surprised to learn that the draft had been handed into the department.

The House rose without getting a final reply to questions about whether Gen. Simonds made any suggestions for changes, particularly on a page which referred to indifference to administration among defence "higher-ups." The CCF claimed their copy used the term "people at or near the top."

Mr. Green called for immediate steps to improve efficiency in the defence department but Mr. Claxton wasn't the man to direct them. He wasn't practical enough.

(Mr. Claxton is due home Saturday from Paris.)

The people were entitled to a full statement by Mr. St. Laurent.

FIGHTING LADY COMES OUT OF MOTHBALLS — The 27,000-ton aircraft carrier Yorktown moves out of Puget Sound in Washington on her way to rejoin the active fleet. The famed "Fighting Lady" of the Second World War has been undergoing a face-lifting to accommodate bigger and faster airplanes. During the last war she downed 2,000 Japanese aircraft and sank the battleship Yamato.

Companies' Act Revised

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario legislature's select committee set up to revise the 40-year-old Companies' Act has completed its task after nine months of work. Chairman Kelso Roberts, Progressive Conservative member for Toronto-St. David, is to announce today that the 312-section bill received unanimous support of the committee which represented all parties in the House. One major feature of the proposed bill is that companies will have to make a fuller disclosure of their financial position and operations in annual reports to shareholders. Shareholders of public companies will be entitled to these statements at least 10 days before the annual meetings and shareholders of private companies on request.

The bill also contains provisions for investigations and audits by the courts on application of shareholders. The courts will have power to order any director, officer or employer of a corporation who refuses or neglects to comply with the act to do so. Shareholders will also have the right to obtain information concerning transactions of directors in the shares of the company at the annual meeting.

OTHER FEATURES

Other features of the proposed bill:

1. Cumulative voting will be permitted for the first time in Canada. By a complicated system cumulative voting would enable minority shareholders to place one or more nominees on the board of directors.

2. Methods of reserving a name for a limited time before incorporation and protecting the names of unincorporated companies are provided. A company must produce clear evidence of its real entity when using a name other than its corporate name for any of its undertakings.

3. Procedure for organization and incorporation is simplified.

4. The bill provides a deterrent to indiscriminate voting of shares now owned or controlled by the apparent holder without complicating the question of ownership on the records of the corporation.

PROTECTION GIVEN

5. Protection is afforded the dissenting minority shareholder in a private company along the lines of British legislation when such shareholder opposes a sale of assets or conversion of the company into a public company. The new law requires the purchase of the shareholder's interest in such cases.

6. It will no longer be necessary for mining companies to pass discount by-laws and file them with the provincial secretary. The directors will be empowered to fix rates of discount from time to time. Mining companies will have the general powers of corporation to have preference shares.

The Ontario Chamber of Commerce suggested postponement of legislative action on the bill until recommendations are forthcoming from the Dominion-provincial committee on uniform company law.

The chamber criticizes sections of the proposed bill that deal with cumulative voting for company directors and the introduction of a law enabling a shareholder dissatisfied with the conduct of a company's affairs to apply to the courts.

Produce, Livestock Markets

TORONTO FRUIT

TORONTO (CP)—Wholesale fruit and vegetable prices were unchanged here today.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter print prices were unchanged here today.

Prices were steady at the egg market. Quotations for graded eggs in fibre cases were: A large 43; A medium 37; A small 30-31; grade B 28-29; grade C 28-29.

Wholesale to retail: A large 48-49; A medium 41-42; A small 35-36; grade B 37-38; grade C 33-34.

Butter solids: first grade 62½c; no price established on second, third, or Western butter.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP) — Cattle trade was dull today at the Ontario stockyards and sales were too few to establish a market trend. Receipts: cattle 70; calves 40; hogs 300; sheep and lambs 40. The holdover from Wednesday was 400 cattle.

Choice weighty steers sold at $25.75 with common to medium stockers at 16-20 and good cows at 12.50-13.50.

Choice veal calves were steady at 26-29 and medium at 20-25.

Grade A hogs were at 26 and dressed sows at 17.

Good lambs brought 25.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices moved narrowly but showed a fairly steady undertone in early trade today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

There was some improvement in commercial demand in oats. Trade was light and routine in barley. Flax moved up on modest industrial support. Rye was inactive.

11 a. m. grain prices:

Oats: Dec. ⅛ higher 81¼; May ⅛ lower 81⅜A; July unch 77⅝.

Barley: Dec. ⅛ lower 1.21⅛; May ⅜ lower 1.20⅝; July ⅜ lower 1.15⅝B.

Rye: Dec. ¾ lower 1.72½A; May ⅝ lower 1.78⅝; July ½ lower 1.80B.

Flax: Dec. ⅝ higher 3.27A; May ¼ higher 3.34½; July, not open.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains were weak at the opening on the board of trade today with wheat and soybeans bearing the brunt of the selling. Dealings were quite active.

Corn acted better than other cereals. Traders said the boost in the government's corn crop estimate, contained in Wednesday's agriculture department crop report, had not been as great as expected.

In other cereals liquidation by speculative holders seemed to be the main reason for the slump.

Wheat started unchanged to ⅞ cent lower, December $2.29½-2.29; corn was ⅜ lower to ¼ higher, December $1.61½, and oats were unchanged to ¼ lower, December 85. Soybeans were ½ to one cent lower, January 2.99-2.99.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — New arrivals include one fresh load of steers; holdover rail cattle from Wednesday 272. Steer and heifer market not established on early rounds; demand good for dairy-type slaughter cows and bulls, market steady; medium to good cows 14.00-14.50; canners and cutters 10.00-14.00; good dairy type slaughter heifers 16.00-18.00; common 13.00-15.50; heavy sausage bulls 18.50-20.00.

Calves 100; market about steady; choice calves 36.00-37.00; good 30.-35.; mediums 22.-29.; heavy bobs 15.-21.; boners and light bobs 10.-14.

Hogs 400: two decks of rail hogs here; demand slow, market opened here; demand slow, market opened 25 to 50 cents lower; good to choice state hogs 16.75-17.50.

Sheep and lambs 100; early market not established.

Have Four Names On Casualty List

OTTAWA (CP) — A Korean casualty list today included one man killed and three wounded in action. The last list was issued Dec. 10.

The list brought to 1,264 total casualties so far suffered by Canadian troops in Korea. They include 237 dead, 913 wounded, 28 missing, 85 injured and one captured.

In addition the navy has reported three dead and three injured in action, and the RCAF has reported one missing.

Today's list included two Saskatchewan men and two from New Brunswick.

Vincent Reaffirms Loyalty To U.S.

TANGIER, Morocco (AP)—John Carter Vincent, U.S. consular agent in this international city, said today there was no doubt in his own mind "about my absolute and constant loyalty to the United States."

The minister and former head of the state department Far Eastern policy section has been called home after a loyalty review board found "there is reasonable doubt as to his loyalty."

The diplomat said he did not wish to make any formal statement about the board's action because it was on a government level and the facts must be objectively sifted by it.

Arrest Four Brothers After Street Fight

INGERSOLL (CP)—A wild street brawl raged for half an hour near the main intersection here before it ended with the arrest of four Ingersoll brothers.

When calm was restored, provincial police laid these charges:

Keith Bruce, 25, charged with driving while his ability was impaired; Gordon Bruce, 26, charged with assaulting a police officer; Harvey 22, and Douglas Bruce, 24, charged with obstructing an officer.

The fight started when police investigated a three-vehicle accident on Thames street.

The communiqué had defined Mountbatten's command as mainly a defensive job, at least in peace time, while Carney, who commands a striking force, was to have the offensive assignment.

TO BE OUTLINED

Mountbatten's and Carney's jobs will be outlined to them by the man who is boss over both of them — U. S. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander in Europe. Ridgway called Mountbatten and Carney to a conference this afternoon at NATO headquarters in Paris.

Mountbatten was supreme commander in Southeast Asia during the Second World War, commanding Chinese, Indian, Burmese, British and U. S. land, sea and air forces.

Besides the British fleet, Mountbatten will now command the French, Italian, Turkish and Greek fleets in the Mediterranean.

Alexander also told reporters Britain has no present plans to increase her Mediterranean fleet, but he added, "in time of war, it would be increased."

Besides answering to Ridgway, Alexander said Mountbatten would be "responsible to the British chiefs of staff for Britain's other commitments in the Middle East."

Western Oils Gain Other Stocks Slow

TORONTO (CP) — Western oils continued to push ahead in early afternoon stock market trading today as the rest of the market settled backward.

Western oils gains outnumbered losses about three to one although Britalta, a recent rapid riser, dropped 15 cents in active trading. Mid-Continent, Roxana, Scurry and Sweet Grass added pennies in turnovers ranging to 53,000 shares while Bailey Selburn, Cal. and Ed., Central Explorers and Del Rio gained larger amounts.

Base metals showed a majority of losses led by Noranda, Cons. Smelters and Osisko. Dominion Asbestos gained.

Papers were weakest in the mixed industrials list but manufacturing companies also slipped. Utilities and refining oils gained.

Snioe golds slipped but secondary issues held firm in light trading. Among the juniors, Campbell and Sullivan gained. Conwest led the prospects' gains and Hoyle the losses.

Reds Bombard Allies With Seoul Threats

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Chinese Communists are bombarding Allied lines with threats that they are going to spend Christmas in Seoul.

The Communists have hauled loudspeakers up to front to broadcast Christmas carols, surrender appeals and threats. Red planes have circled overhead for two days, dropping pamphlets urging United Nations troops to "go home."

KIWANIS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Santa Claus will pay an early visit to the children of Peterborough Kiwanians this year. The annual Christmas party will be 5:30 p.m. in the YWCA. Besides eats there will be musical entertainment and movies; and the big and final event will be the visit of Santa.

CPA Planning New Non-Stop Arctic Route

VANCOUVER (CP)—Grant McConachie, president of Canadian Pacific Air Lines, said Wednesday CPA is planning a non-stop air service between Vancouver and London over the arctic route.

He said this service would connect with CPA's present non-stop service from Tokyo to Vancouver to provide the fastest transportation between Asia and Europe.

Mr. McConachie did not elaborate.

Addressing the Transportation and Customs Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade, he said the planned route over the Arctic would also provide the fastest air service between Australia and Britain. CPA now operates a service between Vancouver and Australia and soon will start service to South America.

KEEN COMPETITION

"These are gigantic undertakings and will be met by terrific competition by all nations of the world. . . With the development of proper airport facilities, I do not believe we can be driven from the skies in aviation as we have been driven from the seas by seafaring nations. We are potentially one of the great airfaring nations of the world."

Turning to helicopter developments, he said:

"By the end of this decade, we can expect to see 50-passenger helicopters in the air. . . they will be a promising solution to the problem of the tedious journey from city centre to airport. They also offer exciting prospects for the residential commuter."

Generals Silent After Meeting

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower cloaked in deep secrecy today the Korean war and world peace views outlined to him by Gen. MacArthur.

Aides said Eisenhower was studying ideas MacArthur set forth at their conference Wednesday, but they added that no detailed public account of what was discussed can be expected.

After Wednesday's Eisenhower-MacArthur conference at the home of John Foster Dulles, secretary of state-designate, the two generals told reporters they had discussed the problem of winning peace in Korea and the rest of the world.

The get-together resulted from a MacArthur speech here Dec. 5. He said then there is "a clear and definite solution to the Korean conflict."

After the meeting, neither Eisenhower nor MacArthur said in their brief statements whether they were in agreement on a course to follow in Korea.

An Eisenhower aide said privately there was no doubt that MacArthur had set forth a plan at the two hour, 15 minute conference. Dulles sat in on it.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP) — The American dollar was at a discount of 3 1-16 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Wednesday's noon rate was 97¼ cents. The pound sterling was $2.72, against $2.73 Wednesday.

MAY BE CLEARED—A sworn statement by a convicted murderer before his death may help to clear Anthony Brunet, 29, of Toronto, now serving 15 years on a charge of bank robbery. A lawyer for Brunet said Leonard Jackson, hanged for the murder of a Toronto detective, made a sworn statement clearing Brunet of complicity in a $9,000 bank robbery in Toronto January 22, 1951. Brunet's case is under review by the Justice Department.

Tito's Papal Break Rouses New Fears

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Tito's break with the Vatican aroused fresh worry here today over the weakest link in the chain of anti-Soviet countries in Europe—relations between Communist Yugoslavia and Roman Catholic Italy.

The U. S. government's concern with the situation arises from its desire, as a matter of major policy, to establish close political and military co-operation among all the European countries, in and out of the North Atlantic alliance, in the interest of checking Soviet power.

The diplomatic break probably will make it more difficult to achieve this aim in two regards: tying Yugoslavia closer to West Europe, and trying to solve the Italian-Yugoslav dispute over Trieste.

CONGRESS CAREFUL

Some officials think there may be difficulties with Congress, where the anti-Soviet Communist government of Yugoslavia has always been regarded with skepticism by many members.

Tito broke with Russia in mid-1948. Since that time the U. S. has tightened its relations with him. During the fiscal year which ended last June 30, Britain, the U. S. and France together provided Tito with $120,000,000; this year their help totals $99,000,000. In both years the U. S. share has been $78,000,000.

The Truman administration has regarded Yugoslavia as a great asset to the West because (1) it is a living example of the ability of a satellite state to break with Moscow and survive, and (2) Tito's 30-odd divisions, though they have been badly in need of modernization, are a valuable addition to anti-Soviet strength.

Tito has made clear he is a doctrinaire Communist with no interest in adopting democratic ways or policies. Moreover he has had a long feud with the Roman Catholic Church, culminated Wednesday by the diplomatic break.

A particularly thorny problem is posed by the rival claims of Yugoslavia and Italy to Trieste, lying between them at the head of the Adriatic sea.

Life In Spanish

NEW YORK (AP) — The publishers of Life magazine next week will issue their first foreign-language magazine, Life en Espanol, a Spanish publication to be sold in Latin America. Roy E. Larsen, president of Time, Inc., announced today the start of the new magazine and said it would be a fortnightly published every other Monday.

Nautical Yo-Yo Travels 6,000 Miles On Short Macau-Hong Kong Ferryboat Run

HONG KONG (AP)—Michael Patrick O'Brien, who became a nautical yo-yo for lack of a passport, today started his fourth month of ferry boat rides between Hong Kong and Macau.

He began his 74th round trip, thankful that "anyhow, I've got a roof over my head."

Since he boarded the ferry Lee Hong at Macau Sept. 18 he has logged nearly 6,000 miles and spent 19 days in drydock.

He can't get off at either end of the 40-mile run because immigration authorities refuse to recognize him. He entered Macau from Red China and was given permission only to pass through.

O'Brien, 57, says he was born in the U.S. The state department says he is Hungarian.

So he seems doomed, like the legendary Flying Dutchman, to sail the seas forever.

Jet Faster Than MiGs

WOOD-RIDGE, N. J. (AP) — Roy T. Hurley, president of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation, said Wednesday the Republic F-84-F Thunderstreak, powered with a Curtiss-Wright Sapphire turbojet engine, is vastly superior to the Russian MiG-15. "It outperforms any airplane of its class anywhere in the world," Hurley said in a statement. The speed of the plane, while above 600 miles an hour, is secret.

Lily Lake WA Hears Report On Fire Aid

LILY LAKE (ENS)—The annual Christmas meeting of Lily Lake WA was held at the home of Mrs. George Middleton recently, with many attending.

The members sat down to a Christmas dinner which was convened by Mrs. William Steinkraus and Mrs. Everett Tully.

The meeting in the afternoon was in charge of the president, Mrs. Arthur Hancock, and opened with the singing of Christmas carols. The scripture reading was given by Mrs. M. Dunford, and prayer by Mrs. Steinkrauss.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Everett Tully and the treasurer, Mrs. Achison, reported a balance of over $15.00.

A Christmas story, "The Meaning of Christmas," was given by Mrs. Harry Fowler.

Mrs. Steinkrauss gave a report on the collecting of food and clothing for the Dew family who recently lost their possessions in a fire.

Cards of thanks were received from Mrs. Hatherly, who was hurt in the fire, and from Mrs. J. A. Middleton.

Returns From Tour

BOSTON (AP) — Senator-elect John F. Kennedy (Dem.-Mass.) says the attitude of Europeans is that the Russians will not attempt a military invasion of Western Europe. He returned Wednesday night from a three-week tour of Western Europe and also told reporters that Europeans seem to feel there will be no major change in American foreign policy under Eisenhower.

While Mr. Claxton Is In Paris

The Currie report on the scandalous plundering, laxity and mismanagement at Petawawa calls for more than placating words from the Prime Minister and Olympian disengagement from the mess by other Ministers and the military authorities. They cannot calmly stand on Olympus while horses—actual horses—rampage on the pay-roll of Petawawa. Nor can the affair be narrowed down to a few incidents in one section of one camp. From the bottom up and the top down there is responsibility which must be assumed or thrust upon the caboodle; and Petawawa is only one of many major Defence Department establishments.

* * *

We read reports, for instance, that, after the investigation at Petawawa got under way, there was a remarkable house-cleaning in Halifax naval bases. If so, and if it took an investigation into another defence establishment to get the decks at Halifax swabbed, there must have been some dirty stuff there, too. Even now, an investigation into Halifax should be made, to see what mess is still lying in dark corners, and to inquire what corruption there was before officials in Halifax got the wind up from Petawawa. There are some pretty strong winds in air force bases, too, on the Prairies and elsewhere. We must not forget that it is the Air Force that has been doing the bulk of the so-called Defence spending.

* * *

There has been a general breakdown in the system of administration, supervision and accounting, the Currie report on Petawawa states. Where there has been a breakdown in one place there can be in another. The fact that the internal auditor of the Department of Defence had repeatedly called attention to these shortcomings at Petawawa without anything being done about them, makes one ask what other shortcoming exist elsewhere, about which nothing has been done?

* * *

The responsible elected official at the top of the whole mess is the Minister of National Defence, Mr. Claxton. No person should expect that he personally should supervise everybody and everything in his vast department. But a rigid chain of responsibility exists in the military world, and that chain leads to Mr. Claxton, to whom the Chiefs of Staff are responsible. Where is Mr. Claxton? Mr. Claxton is in Paris. He is there attending to defence matters of national importance (the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meetings). But there are times when matters of national and political importance transcend matters of national defensive importance. Mr. Claxton should be in Ottawa, in Parliament, to answer for his Department. Let him face the music there. It is that music and not the more harmonious tunes of Paris, which should be in his ears right now.

Sales And Assessment In Peterborough

In the City Assessor's annual report there is this information: 1,055 transfers of property were made in the year ending September 30th and the total sale value of this real estate was $5,739,140. These very same properties were assessed during the same period for a total of $1,912,835. Thus the assessed value of the real property was precisely a third of the sales value.

The gap between the market value and assessed value is large. It can mean several things: that property assessments are too low in relation to the real value of the real estate; that the land and buildings are fetching far more than their real worth; or that the Assessment Department is consciously and deliberately keeping the gap open—assessing at only a third of the market prices.

In any community and at all times, civic officials and assessors try to keep assessments lower than real values. This allows for fluctuation in market values. Now market values are three times higher than assessed values. In Depression years property became unsalable at good prices, and often the assessed and market values were very close indeed. In fact, some assessments had to be adjusted downward because the property-owner could claim in a court of Revision that the actual sale value was less than the assessed value.

The large present disparity between assessed and market values is perhaps a convenience to assessors facing questions in a Court of Revision. A property-owner objecting to an increase in assessment can always be asked: "Would you sell your place to me for its assessed value? No? Then what are you complaining about?" The large gap makes it pretty hard to win an appeal against an assessment; for the assessing authorities can sit secure over the dollar sign. It gives them a latitude denied a property-owner in a Court of Revision. However, we note that 92 appeals were made to the Court of Revision and 59 of them resulted in assessment reductions. But in relation to the total assessment (land, buildings, business) of almost fifty million dollars, and an increase in assessments during the year of $2,268,874, the total reductions allowed by the Court of Revision were insignificant—only $20,680.

These figures seem to show (through the very few appeals made against assessments, and the small dollar amount of the reductions allowed by the Court) that it and the citizens generally are satisfied with the accuracy of the estimates made by the City Assessor and his department. On the other hand, they could mean that there is no use in appealing an assessment, since no matter how many increases have been made, it is still far below the market value of the property.

A Practical World High Court

One of the most practical international plans, and one which looks as if it may avoid the doldrums and disintegration of most high-minded international projects designed to make the ideal real, is the Schuman Plan for pooling coal and iron resources in western Europe. In the past these resources (and industries based on them) have been the furnaces of international squabbles and war in Europe. Under the Schuman Plan Italy, France, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and West Germany are federating their iron and steel, with the output subject to a "high authority". This "high authority" is really an international executive directing the industry on behalf of all countries signatory to the French statesman's plan.

Last week in Luxembourg, Western Europe swore in its first universal "supreme court"—seven judges who will arbitrate disputed rulings of the High Authority of the Schuman Plan. Six nations are party to the Plan for pooling the iron and coal resources; there are seven judges, one from each except Holland, which has two. The choice of a Dutchman as the supernumerary judge reflects on Holland's reputation for judicature (the International Court is situated in The Hague), and is also due to the relatively minor iron and steel resources The Netherlands have: this tends to make Holland impartial in disputes about the Pool.

Joseph Bech, longtime foreign minister of Luxembourg, said at the time of the swearing-in of the new court:

"Today is a turning point in the world's legal history because a new obligatory common rule, freely accepted by six sovereign European states, will henceforth supersede national antagonists and harmonize divergent interests."

The ideal of the Schuman Plan has a good chance of being realized.

Strange Ambition Of A Talking Horse

Like everybody else, we have read with amazement about Lady Wonder, the celebrated talking horse of Virginia, who has been answering questions as to the whereabouts of a lost child, and who has answered several questions put to her by newspaper reporters in a manner which convinced them that she was a creature of exceptional gifts. However, we are not going to suggest that Lady Wonder be taken into Mr. Eisenhower's cabinet; we suggest, on the contrary, that she be allowed to slip back into private life with as little delay and fuss as possible.

Whatever the means which permit Lady Wonder to express opinions, we do not think that those opinions are of much value. When asked how she did her tricks, she spelled out the word "Mind" with the horse-typewriter which she uses. We don't believe it. Such mind as Lady Wonder possesses is of a very inferior sort.

When she was asked if she would like to be a human being, she said Yes. This convinces us that Lady Wonder is simple-minded, even for a talking horse. If she were a human being, and kept on with her pretensions to foresee the future, and find lost articles, and decide whether mines and oil wells were profitable or not, Lady Wonder would quickly find herself in jail. There are laws against such activities on the part of human beings.

Even if she were able to prove that her prophecies were true, her situation would be no better. She might even find herself burned at the stake. It is so long since humanity got its hands on a genuine, Grade A prophet that we cannot tell how it would behave.

If Lady Wonder had any brains she would know that she is safe and lucky to be a horse. It is much harder to be a human being and even those who are born to it do not always make a success of it.

A Soviet paper says that a new sport in the U.S.A. is "wrestling in a pit filled with rotten fish." Our sports editor knows nothing of any such development, but if it should ever become popular we hope that we shall not miss it.

The Rok Army

By PATRICK O'DONOVAN

THE ARMY of the Republic of Korea is probably the best equipped and best trained of all the Asian armies. Alone it would have little difficulty in overwhelming the North Koreans, but the North Koreans have now a very minor role to play in the huge Communist armies in Korea; most of their activities seem confined now to coolie work and to defending a section of the front near the east coast.

The Rok (South Korean) Army is 450,000 strong and organised into some 14 divisions, some of them still very new. It was created two years ago out of the Republic's beaten and panicky troops who were overwhelmed by the first Chinese attacks. To-day they provide some of the best infantry on the front; Western commanders no longer fidget because Korean forces are on their flank and the short rude words that were once used to describe them are dying out.

The American achievement in raising this army is probably unique in Asia. There have been other great native armies raised by foreigners, but this is not a colonial army. At least divisional level, the Roks are commanded by their own nationals; only a few Americans are attached in an advisory capacity, and their advice is now frequently ignored.

FOR ONCE the transplanting of Western ideas in the East seems to have borne sound fruit. The Rok Army is virtually non-political to-day. It has certainly little admiration for President Syngman Rhee; it is moved by a simple patriotism that seems to have bypassed the more unhappy forms of nationalism. It seems sincerely to admire Western, and particularly American, ideals without caring much for their details, and it does not envy the unattainable wealth that has soured these ideals for other Asians.

Of course, there are weaknesses. The most important is probably implicit in the feeble and unexciting state of Korean politics. They are slow to co-ordinate among themselves and not always willing to trust strange units or officers in the same army. For a long time a few foreign officers and units will have to be visible on their soil to reassure them, to represent the certainties that their own Government cannot offer.

IT IS A CONSCRIPT army and each soldier receives 16 weeks' basic training. There is an officers' school with a four-year course that has not yet started to graduate its students. The present officers are startlingly young—brigadiers in their twenties and a Chief of Staff of 34. A few were in the Japanese Army, a number have done courses in the United States, most of them have learnt their trade in the course of victory and defeat.

Their fighting equipment is virtually that of American infantry divisions, though they are short on supply echelons and transport. Rok artillery and tank units are now in action and are being increased. A private soldier draws 3,000 won a month, which is the price of a haircut, and a captain gets under $5 a month. They wear American clothing, though some have padded suits made in Japan.

THEY EAT rice three times a day with soup and pickles. They sleep on straw and build their own permanent camps that look like rows of crofters' huts. They are ruthless, tough, dour little men and, because of the nature of their diet, which would be prison-camp fare to Europeans, a high percentage suffer from worms and see inadequately in the dark.

A Korean battalion in action is a fearsome sight. These soldiers are economical neither of their equipment nor their lives. Whey they start shooting they like to use everything they have. At night they insist on constellations of star shells and parachute flares, and use their artillery to lay down long, extravagant defensive barrages. They are sometimes weak on the more intricate infantry operations, like clearing defended dug-outs, but this is from lack of training, not cowardice. These are weaknesses that are not exclusively South Korean.

THE AMERICAN OFFICERS with them sincerely believe that, man for man, they are better than the Chinese, with whom they share the same costly weakness for the Banzai charge. They are ruled by a soldierly pride that makes them take more casualties than necessary. South Korea could not be defended without them.

Perhaps the chief weakness of the United Nations forces in Korea is their lack of manpower. Some senior American officers would like to involve Chinese Nationalists from Formosa in the fight, though there is fortunately little likelihood of this happening. All of them would like an increase in Rok forces and believe that within two years their numbers could be doubled and left as good an army as any in existence. An increase of two divisions is expected in the near future.

TOO GREAT a significance must not be seen in the success of this force. Its effectiveness and discipline are exotic in Korea to-day. In a ruined agricultural country with a population of 21,000,000, to increasing numbers of young men taken away from the rice-fields represent a crushing cost.

However swollen their numbers, they could never resist the Chinese alone and they will always be wholly dependent on the West for their finance, arms and ammunition. Since their loyalty to the civilian central authority is so tenuous, strange things might occur if the civilian Government broke down or became too eccentric, and they might seek other loyalties if the influence of America were too suddenly withdrawn or proved futile.

These are inevitable tasks. If the West had been as successful in assisting and influencing the Government here, the achievements of the United Nations would shine more brightly in Asia.

Letters To The Editor

A CHRISTMAS CHALLENGE

Sir: Permit me to invite, through the courtesy of your newspaper, the correspondent who signs himself, "One Citizen" to share some activities with me.

First, I invite him to come to room 217 at P.C.V.S. on Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock. I'd like him to come in a helpful attitude, that we may together work out better costumes for our Christmas carollers. The two teachers and committee of students in charge are not averse to suggestions for improving costumes. In addition, he may observe at that time the type of student taking part in this activity, and judge for himself the choristers' character and background.

I should like him also to join our group in walking down George St. and singing, both in the stores and on the sidewalk. He need not be in costume. I would have him listen to our voices to find out if we are singing the proper soprano, alto, tenor or bass parts, and would suggest that he, himself, sing a part as his ability permits.

From the kind things people say to us and from their evident enjoyment of our efforts, we carollers are convinced that they wish us well wherever we go. It would please me to have your correspondent watch this for himself during our two-hour tour of the downtown area. He could not join in the singing and have the company of these lively young people for two hours without realizing that the high spirits he may have observed spring naturally from youthful attitudes and from their enjoyment of the carol-singing itself.

Then, when he is tired from his downtown wanderings and returns to rest his legs, I should enjoy a serious conversation with him on the significance of carols, their way of showing to all who listen the true spirit of Christmas, and our real desire to sing acceptably this traditional music in the joyous spirit in which it was created.

Would your correspondent be kind enough to phone his acceptance of this invitation at his earliest opportunity?

Yours very truly,
MELVIN J. CURTIS
Director, P.C.V.S. Mixed Choir

ROLE OF INDUSTRIAL COMMISSIONER

Thank you very much for publishing my letter re: "Peterborough and Industry". I also wish to thank Mr. William Burnie for his very frank answer to my question through your column of December 12th.

May I assure Mr. Burnie that my question was not meant to be critical of his individual efforts on behalf of new industry. I believe that he is doing everything possible under the circumstances of his position. For reasons of personal identity I wish to state the following facts.

My wife, three sons and I live at 177 London Street and we own and operate a retail store at 141 Hunter Street W. My father and mother (deceased) settled in Peterborough County in 1914 where they raised and educated seven children. All but three have lived here ever since. My father, Thomas Metcalfe, recently retired from the Peterborough Parks Department after 18 years of faithful service to and in beautifying our city. For the past five years I have headed my own business in Toronto, but due to other interests close to this city and because this is my home-town we decided, my wife and I, and family to return here.

We moved to Peterborough in October of this year. For the past four years, although not a resident, I have been a member of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce and in this way have kept in touch with local affairs. This brief resume is not meant to direct publicity to myself or my family, but, rather to correct any impression that, except for a period of absence I am not a "Johnny-Come-Lately" to this city. Like ourselves the majority of local residents are proud of their city and of its municipal improvements, but are alarmed at its lack of industrial growth which is so important to maintain a well-balanced community.

Peterborough industry, cannot stand still. It must either go forward or fall behind. Neither should we have industry that will fill our city with boarding-house bachelors, but rather, of families who will build homes, educational and religious facilities and thus contribute to the welfare of all.

If our incoming Council wants to bring new industry here of worthwhile importance they must engage a full-time industrial commissioner, either Mr. Burnie or some other competent man and pay him an adequate salary plus expenses for travel, secretarial work, stationery, literature, etc. and give him their whole-hearted co-operation. Part-time work on part-time pay is never conducive to satisfactory results in any endeavour regardless of individual integrity or desire.

The commissioner to be directly responsible to the mayor and council should submit progress reports to that body at regular periods.

A great deal of local interest will be attached to Mr. Burnie's forthcoming report. Let us hope it contains something really worthwhile. Thank you, Mr. Editor.

Sincerely,
A. METCALFE

ENCOURAGES THE CAROLLERS

Sir: There have been many letters on the pros and cons of strong subjects in the "Examiner" but never have I read one like that of "One Disgusted Citizen". Has this person any Christmas spirit? Is not Christmas time a season of festivity and happiness? What could be more indicative of the festive season than carol singing in the streets and what could better bring in the religious aspect than carol singing? I happened to be a tired shopper too, and when these energetic carollers entered the store in which I was, clerks and customers alike ceased their business long enough to listen and appreciate it enough to heartily applaud them—a pleasant interlude during the hustle and bustle.

As for people laughing at them, are you sure people were not laughing in pure gaiety and enjoyment and admiring the spunk of these youngsters?

Now to take the poor quality of the music referred to. This person is probably not interested enough in community affairs to know that every musical organization at P.C.V.S. has received high marks and honours in various competitions. It is very difficult to sing without any accompaniment amidst noisy crowds of people. I am in a position to know how much time is spent on practising both by these singers and by their most competent instructor, Mr. Curtis, who, by the way, accompanies the carollers on their Saturday journeys.

It is extremely generous of both students and teacher to give so freely of their time, for Saturday afternoons are valuable to these participants. Don't let people such as this poor-hearted creature frighten you away. For every one like him or her, there are a hundred more applauding you and hoping you will continue this merry gesture not only this year but next. The merchants have gone all out for appearances but the sound effects just top it off—good luck to you all.

Sincerely,
ANOTHER CITIZEN

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Joshua said unto all the people, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Your fathers dwelt on the other side of the flood in old time, even Terah, the father of Abraham, and the father of Nachor: and they served other gods. And I took your father Abraham from the other side of the flood, and led him throughout all the land of Canaan, and multiplied his seed, and gave him Isaac . . . And I brought your fathers out of Egypt . . .

Now therefore fear the Lord, and serve him in sincerity and in truth: and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt; and serve ye the Lord. And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.

And the people answered and said, God forbid that we should forsake the Lord, to serve other gods; for the Lord our God, he it is that brought us up and our fathers out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and which did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went, and among all the people through whom we passed. (Josh. 24: 2, 3, 6, 14-17).

✧ ✧ ✧

I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust . . . He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler. (Ps. 91: 2, 4.)

Farmers and World Food

(L'Action Catholique, Quebec)

In spite of the constant decrease in the number of cultivated farms, a decrease that amounted to 20,000 in the province of Quebec alone between the two most recent censuses, the volume of agricultural production continues to increase, thanks to the modernization of equipment and of methods of cultivation. There is nevertheless a shadow on the picture, which is that the cost of production does not cease to increase, which prices have a tendency to decrease in revenue somewhat. The result is a decrease in revenue for the farmer, which will inevitably have the fatal effect in increasing the desertion of the countryside unless governments hasten to put a vigorous agricultural policy into effect. One of its principal objectives should be precisely that of lowering net costs by improving techniques . . . In a world which becomes smaller every day, competition becomes pitiless. Our own markets belong to us no more. They must be recaptured by ceaseless hard fighting. The modern economy tends towards the gradual elimination of the weak, the drowsy and the backward. But these are very little problems if they are to be compared with those that present themselves in other parts of the world. We complain willingly without stopping to think that half the world's population has not enough to eat.

Moore Beats Maxim In First Title Bid

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Archie Moore reached the rainbow's end Wednesday night as he smashed his way to a clear-cut 15-round decision over Joey Maxim that brought him the light-heavyweight boxing title.

The able, 36-year-old St. Louis Negro, successful in his first bid for the title that eluded him for years, promptly tossed a challenge to all comers:

"I'm going to put some life into the division. Any contender who deserves a chance will get it from me."

That was one of the first statements made by Moore after disposing of Maxim — a thoroughly beaten but astoundingly game ex-champion.

MAULED CHAMP

There wasn't much doubt about who would be wearing the crown at fight's end by the time the battering fists of Moore had mauled Joey for seven rounds.

Moore, who weighed 172½ to Maxim's 174½, was an 8-to-5 favorite, with the odds shifting to 12 to 5 at fight time.

Judge Fred Connell gave it to Moore 87-63, and Judge Howard Hess saw it 82-68. Referee Harry Kessler alone had it surprisingly close. Repeatedly warning Moore to keep his punches up, but penalizing him only once, Kessler scored the fight 76-74.

The Associated Press press card had it 87-63 for Moore, giving the New champion 12 rounds, Maxim two and calling one even. The fourth round was taken from Moore for a low blow.

RECORD GATE

The crowd of 12,610 fans that flocked to the Arena and paid a gross gate of $89,487 for a St. Louis record also shouted approval of the decision. After the seventh Moore just went through the formality of fighting the prescribed 15 rounds.

The 30-year-old Maxim was hurt in every round after the seventh.

In the eighth Moore opened a cut under Maxim's left eye. In the ninth blood spilled from a deep gash on Maxim's left cheek. He finished the 10th with a matching cut on the right cheek.

Time and again Moore unleashed the full fury of almost a decade of frustration as the "uncrowned champion," only to find Maxim still on his feet. Maxim shuffled into clinches, took left hooks and jabs and tried unsuccessfully to avoid Moore's jarring, sneaky right hand.

At the end Maxim was bloody but unbowed.

REMATCH SOON

The fight was telecast across the country, with only the St. Louis area blacked out, and broadcast.

Maxim, who said "you don't defend your title for nothing," collected a $100,000 purse through a guarantee provision in the contract.

That, of course, leaves Moore little more than the title. But that, says Archie, is enough.

He'll give Maxim a rematch—within 90 days, Maxim hopes. "This six-month layoff between fights gives me too much weight and I lose too much strength getting it off."

Seven AL Clubs Share Honors, Sox Top Fielders

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicago White Sox were the team fielding leaders during 1952 but seven clubs shared individual honors, official American League statistics disclosed today.

The White Sox, who made 123 errors, the least in the circuit, compiled a .980 average. The world champion New York Yankees were next at .979 followed by Washington with .978. The Yankees made the most double plays, 199.

In the individual races First baseman Mickey Vernon of Washington and outfielder Gene Woodling of New York were the only ones to repeat. The veteran Senator made only 10 errors in 1,416 chances for a .993 mark while Woodling made only one miscue out of 254 for .996.

Others on the league's honor list were: Nelson Fox, Chicago, second base .985; Fred Hatfield, Boston-Detroit, third base, .971; Johnny Lipon, Detroit-Boston, shortstop, .981; Clint Courtney, St. Louis, catcher, .996 and Bobby Shantz, Philadelphia, pitcher, 1.000.

Shantz handled 78 chances without an error.

Ease Steel Curbs More New Cars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Makers of automobiles and other civilian goods raised their production goals for the second quarter of 1953 today, on the basis of government assurance they will have more steel than at any time since the Korean war began.

The defence production administration authorized them Wednesday to use steel up to 70 per cent of their pre-Korean rate. This is about 16 per cent more than for the third quarter of 1952. The previous high since the government began rationing scarce materials to assure adequate supplies for defence.

Aluminum producers weighed, meanwhile, a conditional government offer for a ceiling price increase of ½-cent a pound on primary aluminum pig and ingot and four per cent on fabricated aluminum products.

SCAN PRODUCTS

Defence Mobilizer Henry Fowler tied the proposed increase to a provision that the big three producers agree to certain changes in their contracts with the government, among them deletion of the right of the government or the companies to cancel contracts for aluminum before they run their full five years.

Fowler's proposal was made in identical letters to the Aluminum Co. of America, the Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corporation and the Reynolds Metals Company. He asked immediate replies.

The companies got a bigger increase last August, but they said it wasn't enough to meet their expansion programs and asked Fowler for another raise.

SCARCE METALS

The DPA allotments of controlled materials for the April-May-June quarter of 1953 made no change in the rate of use of copper and aluminum. The agency said these metals still are scarce. Copper use will continue at 50 per cent of pre-Korea levels and aluminum at 55 per cent.

The acting DPA chief, Ralph Trigg, said the steel provided should allow production of 1,250,000 passenger automobiles and 315,000 trucks. This compares with steel provided to build only 700,000 cars in the first quarter of the new year.

Settle Power Strike

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's bone-chilled, candle-burning millions perked up today when the national electric strike was settled only 24 hours after the country's coal miners went back to work. For more than two months the twin strikes cut Japan's heat and light to a minimum. Electric workers accepted a government compromise giving the workers an average raise in pay from the old $46.50 to $55.50 a month.

This demand also is the crux of the Canadian situation. There has been no indication that Switzerland would be willing to meet these expenses.

Oddfellows Strike Back To Defeat Lindsay In Hot Junior Puck Fray

Civic Arena was the scene of a tremendous junior hockey struggle Wednesday night, as Oddfellows struck hard to defeat Lindsay Kinsmen 6-4, and avenge Tuesday's 6-3 setback on Scugog ice. Though not altogether a spiteful battle, Referee Louis Lecompte handed out 21 penalties, 11 to the visitors, mostly for minor offences, as the players reeled off three lightning periods of spicy, two-way action. The victory enables the colorful Triple Links to remain in the thick of the junior derby two points ahead of Lindsay, in third place. They engage Belleville here Friday. A hot burst of energy in a torrid third frame, after two fairly even periods, that found the teams deadlocked at 2-2, enabled Links to bring joy to their supporters as led by Red Robinson, Roger Smith, "Smoky" Gardner, Ken Floyd and Leo Sullivan, with the entire pack following hard, the homesters rattled in four counters to ensure victory. Despite Kins' determined efforts, Bob Delahaye foiled all rival marksmen, save on two thrusts (the last scored accidentally by a Link defender) to gain a well-merited victory.

STRUCK FIRST

Oddfellows opened the scoring at the three-quarter mark in the first as the Robinson, Smith, Floyd line, leading attacking unit of the night, clicked for their first of four tallies with the red-head the potter in each case. The clever Roger Smith, whose teamwork in recent games has been noteworthy, passed quickly across the goalmouth in the midst of a wild scramble where Robinson sped deftly to whisk the disc in off the left goal post.

Jerry Frizzelle, who turned in an able defense chore, whaled a sizzling blue-line drive past Truax two minutes later, on an open chance to catch the nimble custodian off the beam. Eight penalties marred the session, but no tallies came shorthanded and the visitors were unable to dent Delahay's armour.

HAD THE EDGE

Kinsmen flew back in the second to overshadow their rivals partly by dint of some fine work by Truax, and powerful fore and back checking. Led by Art Truax up front, the visitors scored a brace of markers in the frame; the first from short right wing, a low shot in the midst of a wild melee; and the second similiar at 12.29 over the prostrate form of Delahay, who stopped rubber from all angles in the hectic period. Lindsay had the better of the action as Links looked slightly under par on attack as well as defence, this session.

Coming back with a blaze that knew no dimming in the final period, Doug Mortimer's boys opened up a withering offensive—coupled with a defence that gladdened their supporters—and held a wide teritorial edge on their game, but tired rivals. Red Robinson scored early on a lovely passing play with Ken Floyd, who is regaining his last year's form, prior to injury, as he closed in to blaze one to the corner. Art Truax came back midway in the stanza to equalize from Don Crawford and Tom Hutton when he plunked in a loose puck 10 feet in front of the cage.

MADE IT SAFE

Oddfellows continued to surge and a few seconds later, Gardner scored a beauty from Sullivan near the right side of the mesh with McGill in the cooler. At the three-quarter mark, Robinson and Smith combined for two great insurance markers within one minute of play as the wily Indian star set up neat passes and the sorrel-top polished them off. Then came the accidental Kin tally. All Links gave their best.

Lindsay: Goal, R. Truax; defence, Williams, O'Neill; centre, Hutton; wings, Packer, A. Truax; alts., Cochrane, Gibson, Williams, McGill, Crawford, Handley, Graham.

IOOF: Goal, Delahaye; defence, Wilson, Snape; centre, Twist; wings, McDougall, Ferguson; alts., Robinson, Floyd, Smith, McCracken, Doris, Gardner, Frizzelle, Sullivan.

Referee—Louis LeCompte; linesman, Sun Kingdon.

First Period

IOOF—Robinson (Smith) 15:45
IOOF—Frizzelle 17:45
Penalties—A. Truax 2, Snape, Hutton, Twist 2, A. Williams, Wilson.

Second Period

Lindsay—A. Truax 7:10
Lindsay—Hutton (Packer, A. Truax) 12:29
Penalties—Twist, Williams, Sullivan.

Third Period

IOOF—Robinson (Floyd) 2:48
Lindsay—Truax (Crawford, Hutton) 10:06
IOOF—Gardner (Sullivan) 11:35
IOOF—Robinson (Smith) 14:13
IOOF—Robinson (Smith) 14:53
Lindsay—Cochrane 16:55
Penalties—Twist 2, McGill, William, Packer 2, Wilson 2, Hutton.

Flanagan And Brazil Draw With Terrible Texans In Main Pro Grapple Bout

Pat Flanagan and Bobo Brazil drew with Lou Plummer and Dick Raines, Canadian tag team pro grapple champions, in the main mat bout at the Brock last night. Each won a fall and the bout went to the one-hour time limit, with the combatants tangling briefly after the gong. Referee Joe Golab called it a draw, though Flanagan and Brazil were having much the better of it toward the finish against the rough Texan pair. Pat weighed 231 and Bobo 250 for a total of 481 pounds, while Lou scaled 249 and Dick 251 for an aggregate poundage of 500. Hi Lee won the semi-final over Johnny Barend, as Man Mountain Dean Jr. took the prelim from Jim Coffield. It was the last wrestling show here till out in January.

COCOA TREATMENT

In the main bout, Brazil gave Plummer the cocoa treatment and the Texan couldn't stand the noggin conks, being counted out in 26 minutes. However, Plummer evened it for the tying fall in 21 minutes when he threw Bobo with his Texan bulldogging hold as the rougher pair worked in relays on the tall Negro to set him up for the fall. After a short intermission they resumed, but time ran out on them and they were hit hot and heavy when the gong sounded, with Flan and Bobo having a big margin on their rivals as the so-so crowd applauded heartily.

It was a typical team match with a lot of illegal stuff pulled in the corner, a bewildered ref trying vainly to keep up with it, and the Texans getting away with plenty of rough tactics. Pat and Bobo were fast and clever to hold their own, despite ropes, eye rasps, kicks and a general going-over by the others, who teamed up well in their onslaught. Bobo used his head a lot. At times, four were flying about the ring at a time, and again one or two were going outside the hempen strands as the fans yelled encouragement at furious action. The champs retained their title by holding Pat and Bobo to a draw.

LOW HI LEE

Towering Hi Lee, banging the beam at 292 pounds, hadn't too much trouble in the semi-windup against 231-pound Johnny Barend, who looked short beside him. At that, the popular Johnny got in some good licks to gain applause, but the shaggy-maned Lee from Arkansas—with a roar like a lion—gave him the works and finished him off with a pile-driver or back-breaking hold. Hi was as mean as ever, after a long absence from here, but much too strong, big and rough for Barend in this bout, though it lasted 26 minutes.

Man Mountain Dean Jr. jarred the hay scales at 351 pounds, including his beard, and he was more than 100 pounds too hefty for Jim Coffield, at 227, in the opening tussle. He won it in 15 minutes by crawling back into the ring, when both were out, in time to beat the referee's count. Jim being unable to get back. Coffield got in some punches, but that was about his contribution to fair action, as his flying tackles off the ropes wound up with Jim bouncing off the big guy's hairy chest and hitting the boards hard. Dean tossed his lighter rival out of the ring several times and finally and ponderously went out after him to give him a few more lumps. As the count tolled off, the mountainous man meandered back into the ring to get the victory and also the boos of the crowd.

Sports Rivalry Rips Hole In Iron Curtain

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—German sportsmen have ripped a hole in the Iron Curtain and agree to resume competition between the Soviet zone and West Germany.

Relations were broken off last September because Eastern authorities refused to guarantee sports contests with West Germans would not be used for political purposes.

Last week-end sports officials from both sections got together and after long negotiations issued a statement saying:

"Sports relations will be resumed. All interzonal sports meets will be held in the true Olympic spirit. There will be no political speeches at the contests. No political banners or slogans will be displayed."

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

At a meeting early last summer in the late Bill Ovens' office, the executive of the Petes' senior ball club went on record saying they would really re-organize in the middle of the coming winter. They knew there would be lots to do to arrange a strong 1953 club. We trust they remember this during January. The '52 executive was a good one, consisting of: President, Max Swanston; vice-prexies, Dr. Cliff McKee and Bill Edger; secretary, Jack McNamara; treasurer, Lloyd Grose; committee, Tommy Holyman, Bill Ovens, Clare Collins, Hugh Campbell, Cliff Cadd, Dr. Ralph Clark and Cy Whatley. Also, recreation director Alex Sinclair is an ex-officio member.

Switching to the more seasonable subject of hockey, we note in the latest NHL bulletin out that Toronto Leafs continue to lead the penalty parade by a hefty margin. They have served 409 minutes in 30 games played. Next high is Chicago Hawks with 354, Canadiens having 341. Then, it's Detroit with 294, Boston 264 and Rangers 259. Conny Smythe is a scrappy manager and likes his Leafian players rugged. He once remarked: "If you can't lick 'em in an alley you can't lick 'em on the ice". And certainly the Toronto record in winning Stanley Cups seems to back him up. However, there is a happy medium in rugged play, and Detroit Wings seem to do okay by following it. Local clubs, please note.

Concerning the Boys

An item re the young puck-chasers here, bless their ambitious hearts! They have five fixtures tonight at Civic, commencing at six, and one on the morrow. Their half-dozen games next week will be run off at Civic Arena on Monday e'en, owing to Santa Claus coming Thursday, their regular night for puck action. PMHA managers are to return their OMHA insurance forms right away to Secretary Bill Dawson so he can forward them to the provincial body for quick protection. Also, there's an OMHA school here this Friday p.m. at 7:45 in Confederation School for managers, coaches, referees and others interested in organized hockey for the youngsters. There it is.

Our OHA junior "B" Oddfellows are having a busy week ere laying off for a week or more for Christmas festivities and whatnot. A right rugged scrap in Lindsay on Tuesday, following a game out of town last Saturday, their tussle last eve with Lindsay here, and then a postponed loop fixture with Belleville Hawklets here this Friday. The Quinte crew have the pick of the pack, so far, and are well out in front, so Doug Mortimer's young men will really have to roll in the Friday fray if they want to keep up there in the hunt. Some of 'em are overdoing it somewhat in shop play and TVL drills plus their stiff OHA schedule and practises. Even strong young fellows can go stale from overwork, you know.

Links Down Lindsay

It was 6-4 for Oddfellows here last night o'er Lindsay to avenge that recent 6-3 junior setback. Doug's squad turned in a solid effort, finishing strong to earn the duke against Sixty Coombs' scrappy aggregation from the banks of the Scugog. Louis Lecompte handed out 21 penalties, 11 to the visitors, in the rather chippy contest. Red Robinson, Rog Smith, Bob Gardner, Ken Floyd and Leo Sullivan all looked good for the winners, as well as Goalie Bob Delahaye. Kingston recently beat Cobourg twice by 11-3 and 7-2 scores, while Belleville downed Oshawa 4-2 last gloaming. Latest standing we have received—but it will be checked with other teams—puts Hawklets out in front with 18 points, with Oddfellows having 12 now to put 'em in second slot, a point up on Kingston. Oshawa has seven, Lindsay six, and Cobourg two.

* * * * * *

Sharp shenanigans along the Rue Brock last e'en as those terrible Texans, Lou Plummer and Dick Raines, gained a main bout draw against popular Pat Flanagan and beanbumper Bobo Brazil. Ref Joe Golab was there, and yet he wasn't—so 'twas quite a tussle. Hi Lee, a low character who goes about six-five and jars the beam at 292, tossed Johnny Barend (a runt of 231 pounds) around in the semi-final and won it handily. Lee is just back from a European tour where he no doubt set U.S. friendly relations in that continent back some 20 years. A 351-pound mass known as Man Mountain Dean Jr. won the prelim over Jim Coffield. Wonder what M. M. Dean Sr. Weighs? No more mat bouts here till out in January.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

Today we have the fifth and final main point of stone delivery:

THE SLIDING DELIVERY

This type of delivery is not necessary when delivering a rock. It has its advantages and its disadvantages. According to its exponents, the chief advantage is that a sliding curler obtains a follow through when delivering a stone. But many a young curler has ruined his game by attempting a slide with his delivery, the reason being that he takes a long slide by pushing off from the hack, then when he is out on the slippery ice, sliding along with his rock under him, he pushes the stone towrads the broom. In the true sliding delivery, the rock is swung towards the broom from the hack. Be that as it may, slide or no slide, the important thing is to get that rock away cleanly and easy.

Dancer Unbeaten Needs To Step To Top Citation

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Native Dancer is the undefeated two-year-old champion, but he's got to be one whale of a racehorse to earn more money in one year than Citation, which set the record with $709,470 in 1948.

Alfred Vanderbilt's grey juvenile star not only has to be mighty good, but he must remain sound and have a lot of racing luck.

Native Dancer, in winning nine races this year, earned $230,495, most ever stacked up by a two-year-old. Citation won eight of nine in his 1947 juvenile year, and $155,680.

Trainer Bill Winfrey has Native Dancer in California, taking it easy with others in the Vanderbilt stable. Native Dancer probably won't begin his three-year-old campaign until April in New York. He wasn't nominated for the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby.

BIGGEST YEAR

In Citation's biggest year, as a three-year-old, Ben Jones and son Jimmy of the Calumet farm started their star at Hialeah Park Feb. 2. Citation raced six times before heading into Kentucky and the Derby.

He earned, in those six races, $84,225, including victories in the Flamingo and Chesapeake Stakes.

Guessing that Native Dancer's schedule calls for the $25,000 Experimental Handicap and the $100,000 Wood Memorial at Jamaica before the Derby, the Vanderbilt colt could go into the Louisville classic on about even terms with Citation in the bankroll battle.

But Citation won 19 of 20 races in 1948 and in all-time winnings, is tops with $1,085,760.

Bantam Basketeers Edge Midgets, 25-22

Norm Erskine's Kenner Collegiate bantams edged Jack Cullis' midgets 25-22 Wednesday night in an inter-squad exhibition basketball game in the new collegiate's gym.

With the exception of the third quarter the bantams held a slim edge in the game, leading 10-5 at the first quarter and 15-13 at the half. The midgets rallied in the third to take the lead 21-17, but relinquished it again in the fourth.

Fouls and foul shots made the difference. The bantams, fouled 21 times by the midgets, scored on 15 while the midgets recorded eight good out of 15. The teams were fairly even on field shooting, the midgets scoring on seven out of 44 shots and the bantams scoring on five of 42.

Both coaches tried to use all the players, Cullis working 15 into the game and Erskine 10. Only two midgets have had previous basketball experience while most of the bantams played last season at PCVS.

The lineups:

Midgets (22) — Ward 2, McKinney 11, Floyd 1, Lindsey, Malby 4, Allan, Hancock 2, Pearl, Frise, Fee, Lawrence 2, Dixon, Burns, Ball, Howden.

Bantams (25) — Hollingsworth 5, Montgomery 3, Reid 1, Chesney 1, Scharf 4, Druery 8, Stevens 1, Bullied, Ballantyne, Hotston 2, Parnell, Faulkner.

HARNESS HOLIDAY

TORONTO (CP)—There will be no harness racing at Dufferin Park from Dec. 20 until after Christmas Day. This will enable horsemen to spend the Christmas holidays with their families. The track will reopen for sulky racing Dec. 26.

Comets Wallop Lindsay 11-1

COBOURG. — Cobourg Comets walloped the leading Lindsay Muskies 11-1 here Tuesday night and advanced into sole possession of second place in the OHA Intermediate A Lakeshore League.

The visitors were never in the hunt after Doug Fisher scored the first Comet goal at 1:52 of the first period. Jack Reeves added another a minute later and Dave Casey picked up two more before the first session ended. The Muskies held in the second and were outscored by only two to one, but in the third stanza Cobourg sank five more goals.

Casey with three goals and three assists was the Comet star and close behind was Jack Reeves with three goals and two assists. Jerry Lawless picked up two markers and single tallies went to Cliff Maundrell, Jim Munroe, and Fisher.

Only Lindsay goal came at 11:10 of the second period from the stick of Wimpy Crawford.

Lindsay lost right winger O'Donoghue with a collarbone fracture early in the third period after he collided with Maundrel, Cobourg defenceman.

TURPIN DROPS TITLE

LONDON (AP)—Randy Turpin abdicated as European lightheavyweight boxing champion Wednesday, apparently in hopes of clearing the way for a world middleweight bout with reluctant Sugar Ray Robinson. Robinson, the New York dandy who holds the world title, now is engaged in a night club act and may not fight again. The two have broken even in two previous title meetings. Turpin, however, still wears the British, British Empire and European middleweight crowns.

Boros Crowned Top 1952 Money Winner

CHICAGO (AP)—Julius Boros, golf's cinderella man, Wednesday officially was crowned 1952 money-winning champion and sharp-shooting Jack Burke, Jr., certified as Vardon Trophy winner for the best scoring average

Final Professional Golfers Association tabulation of cash-collecting along the tournament trail credited Boros with $37,032 against a paltry $4,697 in 1951 when he finished 34th money-winner in his first full year of pro tournament play.

Boros, from Mid Pines, N.C., finished ahead of runner-up Cary Middlecoff, who earned $30,884.

Burke, whose 7.54-stroke average for 78 rounds won the coveted Vardon award, was third in money-winning with $21,003. The handsome pro from Houston, Tex., also leads in Ryder Cup points as of Dec. 15 with 519 7-12, about 17 ahead of Sammy Snead's 502 2-3.

Snead was fourth in earnings with $19,908.

Although Boros reached his artistic height of the year with his United States open triumph, he struck his real pot of gold in George S. May's "world championship of golf" at Chicago by winning a playoff from Middlecoff for the $25,000 first prize.

Central Triumphs

Central seniors took a 5-3 school hockey win over Queen Alex yesterday at Civic Arena. It was a clean, fast tilt with but one penalty handed out. Stewart, Tucker, Johnson, and Macklin stood out for Queen Alex; while Grills, Lustic, Barclay and Hayman were best for the winners. Both goalies made many fine saves. Grills scored twice for Central, Lustic and Armstrong each had a goal and an assist. Dinsdale tallied one and Aulbrook had an assist. For Queen Alex, Stewart scored a pair and helped on another, as Johnston got a goal, an assist each going to Tucker, Hamilton and Druce. Teams:

Queen Alex—Macklin, Druce, Madigan, Stewart, Johnston, Hamilton, Calhoun, Tucker, Druce, McFadyen, Moore; MacFarland.

Central — Hayman, Gray, Tetlock, Lustic, McInroy, Dinsdale, Robbins, Armstrong, Grills, Simpson, Robinson, Downer, Aulbrook, Barclay, Sorrie.

Blue Shirts Blank Boston Winning Over Bruins 5-0, Retiring Laprade Scores Goal

By CRAIG ARMSTRONG, Canadian Press Staff Writer

New York Rangers said goodbye Wednesday night to one of the most popular competitors ever to please Gotham hockey fans, and in the way he would like it best. The Blue Shirts won their first game in nine starts by blanking Boston 5-0 in the last game for Edgar Laprade before he leaves for home.

And the popular 33-year-old centre, veteran of eight seasons of National Hockey League play, scored one Ranger goal. Early in the season, when they were already well-established in the league cellar, the Rangers persuaded Edgar to come out of retirement to help the sagging club.

Edgar reluctantly agreed to the request of New York's affable manager, Frank Boucher, because, as he explained, "how could you refuse a guy like that?" He planned to quit in time to spend Christmas with his family in Port Arthur, where he runs a sporting goods store.

STILL IN CELLAR

Although New York still is at the bottom of the league, Laprade has been a big help in the 11 games he has played. He has filled in for injured players and as a penalty killer, and perhaps most important, he has helped keep the Rangers' morale up. His record for the 11 games is two goals and one assist.

The smallest New York crowd of the season, 4,551 persons saw the Rangers turn in their best performance. They kept fourth-place Boston from jumping into second place above Chicago and Montreal.

It was the first shutout of the season for goalie Chuck Rayner. He had 18 shots to stop, few of them difficult, compared to 45 for Boston's Sugar Jim Henry

ROOKIE PLAYS

A rookie brought up from Vancouver of the Western Hockey League, Ian Mackintosh, made his NHL debut with the Rangers. He appeared nervous the first few times out but looked at home by the final period. He had a few good shots on goal but didn't click. He played on a line with Dean Prentice at left wing and Don Raleigh at centre.

Paul Ronty and Ed Slowinski, who scored his first goal of the season, put New York ahead 2-0 in the first period. After a scoreless second period, Wally Hergesheimer, New York's top goal-getter, assisted on three in the third session. Rookie Neil Strain notched a pair with Laprade scoring the other.

All six teams in the league play tonight. Fifth-place Toronto meets the league-leading Red Wings in Detroit; New York travels to Montreal and Boston meets the Black Hawks in Chicago.

Want To Start Annual Bowling Tourney

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Bowling Association is promoting an annual East-West five-pin bowling championship in which every one of Canada's thousands of bowlers could compete.

President Charles Hill of Toronto, just returned from a Western Canada tour, said in an interview Wednesday that bowling associations everywhere are favorable to the idea.

The big obstacle to an East-West competition is the different scoring systems in use in the East and West. Before the all-Canada championship can become a reality the two factions must agree on a uniform scoring system.

The situation is reminiscent of Canadian fooball a decade ago. Both methods have been in use a long time, both have certain merits and both are popular with their respective followers.

Hill said league officials in Western Canada were receptive to a revised system incorporating the best points of the current ones. He said action may be forthcoming next spring.

The West started to adopt a different scoring system in 1930. For three years prior to that the CBA rules still used in the East applied to Western leagues. Today all cities from the Lakehead to the Pacific coast use Western rules.

The chief variation is the scoring value placed on the pins. In Eastern Canada, the headpin or centre pin is worth one point; in the West it's five. The kingpin or counting pin in the left corner is worth one point in the West and four in the East.

West: 1-4-5-3-2
East: 4-2-1-3-5
Revised: 1-4-5-4-1
Revised: 2-3-5-3-2

Remember When —

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ottawa Roughriders were declared Dominion football champions 12 years ago today after defeating Toronto Balmy Beach 12-5 Dec. 7 to take a two-game, total-point series 20-7. The game was ruled a Dominion championship contest when the Canadian Rugby Union denied the Western champions the right to challenge because they did not play under CRU rules during the regular season.

Maroons Down Stratford 5-4 In Overtime

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Chatham Maroons aren't carrying any excess player weight these days and the streamlined form is paying off.

Coach Black Jack Stewart dropped three men from his roster Tuesday. Earl Towers and Paul Sironen went into the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A League player pool while Guy Cellotto was farmed to Wallaceburg-Chatham Combines in Junior B competition.

As replacements Coach Stewart signed Billy Cupolo, bought from Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, and Paul Emms, formerly with Toledo of the International League. Emms made his name in Ontario playing hockey with Barrie Flyers of the OHA Junior A series under his dad, Coach Hap Emms.

Although Emms wasn't with them, the Maroons were impressive Wednesday night downing the league-leading Stratford Indians 5-4 in overtime.

In the Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior A southern group, Sault Ste. Marie (Mich.) Indians also gained an overtime win as they dropped their neighbors, Sault Ste. Marie (Ont.) Greyhounds 4-3. Timmins-Schumacher Flyers of the Porcupine Mines senior league edged Abitibi Eskimos 2-1 to step back into second place.

TWO GOALS

Joe Carveth and George Edwards each accounted for two Chatham goals. Ernie Dick sank the other. Herve Dejordy, Jack White, Dinny Flanagan and George Aitken were Stratford marksmen.

In their first game under Roy Heximer after Coach Don Grosso was fired by the executive for "lack of confidence," the Greyhounds had poor luck. They scored three times in the first four minutes but failed to blink the light again.

Terry Biocchi, Hec Pozzo and Doug Towers scored for the losers. Johnny Lumley scored two for the Indians. Jimmy Farelli scored one and Vip Palladino notched the winner.

Defenceman Claver Eckart gave the Flyers a 1-0 lead but Paul Godin tied it up for Abitibi in the second and Jil St. Pierre blasted the winner from the blue line in the same period.

Cleveland Clips Hornets 1-0

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Cleveland Barons strengthened their hold on top spot in the American Hockey League by blanking the third-place defending champions, Pittsburgh Hornets 1-0 Wednesday night.

St. Louis routed the cellar-dwelling Buffalo Bisons 3-2 in overtime and moved into a fourth-place tie with the idle Syracuse Warriors. Buddy Boone scored all the Flyers' goals.

At Pittsburgh, Glen Sonmor's second-period goal gave the Barons their third victory in four games. It was goalie Johnny Bowers' fifth shutout of the season. He made 29 stops.

The St. Louis victory snapped the Bisons' three-game winning streak.

Vern Kaiser and Ken Davies tallied as the Bisons went ahead after two scoreless periods. Ed Stankiewicz, who had earned assists on each of Boone's first two goals, set him up for the winner in overtime.

Barrie Clips Biltmores In 8-4 Tilt

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hard work and travel combined seem to agree with Orv Tessier of the Barrie Flyers.

Tessier arrived in Barrie only last week as part of a deal which brought him and goalie Bill Harrington from Kitchener-Waterloo Greenshirts in exchange for three players and a bundle of cash.

News of the trade caused manager Staff Smyth... Toronto Marlboros, current league-leaders in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, to send bellows of rage echoing through Maple Leaf Gardens.

The reason for Smythe's concern is becoming apparent. Barrie hasn't lost a game with Harrington in the nets and Tessier has scored eight goals in the last three games.

Barrie downed the Memorial Cup champion Guelph Biltmores 8-4 Wednesday night. Tessier notched three markers for the winners.

TRIPS IRISH

Marlboros paced the second-place Flyers by downing Toronto St. Michael's 6-1 to maintain their six-point lead. The Irish gave the high-flying Dukes little trouble.

While Ontario games ran according to the book, there was an upset in Quebec. The third-place Three Rivers Reds bounced the first-place Montreal Canadiens 6-3 on Three Rivers ice and hardly raised a sweat in the process.

Tony Poeta scored twice for Barrie. Doug Mohns, Jim Robertson and Bob White tallied singles. Jimmy Connelly notched two for the Bilts and Chuck Henderson and Johnny Gillis scored the others.

EVENLY SPREAD

The Marlboro scoring was evenly spread as Dave Reid, Charlie Burns, Eric Nesterenko, Louis Bendo, Wally Maxwell and Jerry James each scored one. Bill Lee deprived John Henderson of a shutout.

Jean Leclerc and Ray St. Cyr each scored two as Three Rivers coasted to a comparatively easy win. Others were by Jean-Guy Gendron and Michelin. Phil Goyette, Guy Rousseau and Les Lilley split Montreal's scoring.

Court Reserves Judgment On Witnesses

OTTAWA (CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada Wednesday reserved judgment on a request by Jehovah's Witnesses for recognition as a religious denomination, entitled to the same freedom as other denominations.

The case, argued before the court for seven days, was based on a Quebec City bylaw prohibiting distribution of pamphlets without a permit from the chief of police.

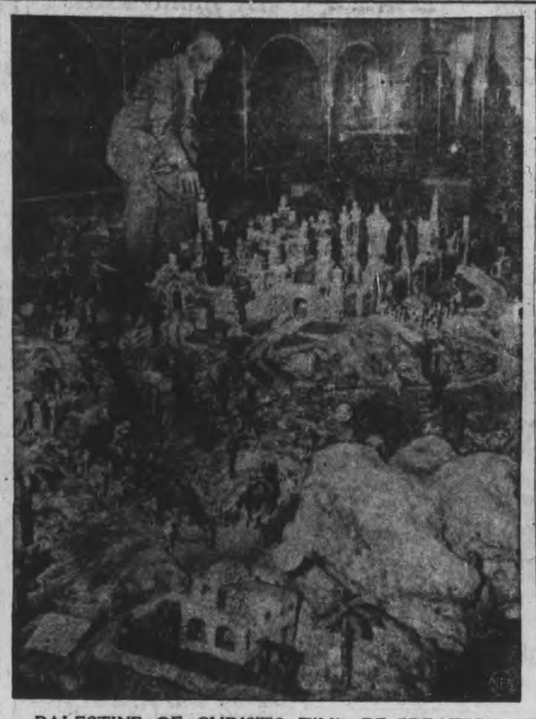
Many Witnesses have been arrested and prosecuted for distributing Bible tracts in the streets without a permit.

W. Glen How of Toronto, counsel for the Witnesses, told the court that approximately 800 cases in Quebec hinge on the court's decision. He asked the court to declare the bylaw invalid on the grounds that it interferes with freedom of religion.

Ernest Godbout, counsel for Quebec City, and Emery Beaulieu, counsel for the Quebec attorney-general's department, argued that the bylaw was valid. They said a municipality had the right to ban distribution of anything on its streets.

Mr. Godbout said the Witnesses asked to be classed as a religion and yet in their own literature they stated they were not a religion.

Mr. How was questioned by the bench on that point. He said the Witnesses consider themselves Christians. They placed a different interpretation on religion than the ordinary dictionary meaning. In a narrow sense, they took religion to mean a false belief.



PALESTINE OF CHRIST'S TIME RE-CREATED — Salvatore Gauci points to features of his re-creation in miniature of Palestine as it is believed to have looked at the time of the Nativity. Gauci and his brother built the huge model, which weighs 7½ tons, and measures 18 x 48 feet. In addition to the re-creation of the scene in the stable at Bethlehem on the first Christmas night, there are several other presentations, with a total of 740 animated and 1,200 stationary figures. The model is on display in New York.

Collision Probe Ends

DETROIT (CP)—An investigation into the two-ship collision on nearby Rouge River last Saturday, which spilled 84,000 gallons of gasoline over the river and threatened shipping, ended Wednesday. Judgment as to cause of the collision between the tanker Blue Comet and the freighter Carl W. Myers will be handed down later. No one was injured in the collision but both ships were damaged.

Extra Sentences For 3 In Jail

STRATFORD (CP)—Three Listowel young men were given reformatory terms Wednesday, consecutive to terms they were already serving.

Perth County Judge H. D. Lang sentenced Lyle Gowing, 22, to six months definite; Floyd Kesso, 19, to three months definite, and Orvis Fletcher, 17, to two months.

The trio was convicted of stealing flax seed valued at about $225 last October from the farm of Duncan Tindall of Britton in Mornington township.

The three were brought to Stratford from Guelph where they are serving reformatory terms for cattle theft in Huron county.

Meat Big Factor In Lowering 1952 Cost-Of-Living Index

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The daily battle with living costs became less arduous in 1952 as prices slipped from their peaks, but the era of inflation was by no means at an end.

Monthly cost-of-living indexes showed slight declines, but price averages for the year actually were higher in 1952 than in 1951 when consumer and bank credit controls and other government steps were taken to brake the advance.

Prices eased, but they did not come down as fast as they went up in 1951. And as the year 1952 drew to an end, there were many commodities and services, such as rents and medical costs, still reaching for higher ground.

OPINION DIVIDED

In the first 10 months of 1952, the old cost-of-living index dropped by less than one-half the total jump it made in 1951. The decline in the new consumer price index was less than one-quarter of the 1951 boost.

And federal economists didn't see eye to eye as to what will take place in 1953. Some suggested that prices may continue to weaken. Others considered that heavy defence spending in both Canada and the United States will continue to keep prices firm.

In 1951, the old prices yardstick, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, jumped 16 points from 175.2 in January to an all-time high of 191.5 in December.

It dropped less than seven points in the first 10 months of 1952—to 184.8 in October.

1952 DROP SLIGHT

The new consumer price index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, showed a nine-point gain during 1951 to a peak of 118.2 from 109.1. It dropped only two points in the 10-month period of 1952—to 116.1.

The bureau of statistics plans to continue publication of the two indexes simultaneously for at least another few months. Then the old index will be discarded.

While many a housewife could argue that prices, generally, still were high in 1952, the same could be said of prices in other Western countries—the United States and Britain.

One of the factors in the 1952 price drop stemmed not from government anti-inflation measures, but from a near-catastrophe—the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in south Saskatchewan.

GOVERNMENT SUPPORT

With meat surpluses mounting and the American market shut, meat prices in Canada began to drop from their 1951 peak. Government price props helped to prevent a runaway meat price decline, but prices still were a lot lower than they were in the previous year.

Meat is a big item in the average kitchen and in cost-of-living indexes. Food prices generally provided the main power to propel the cost-of-living index to its 1951 peak. They also forced living costs to lower ground in 1952.

While foods declined, rents, the second most important column in prices yardstick, climbed, following removal of governmental controls.

Tow Battered Tanker Into Port Dalhousie

PORT DALHOUSIE (CP)—The tanker Imperial Midland was towed into harbor here Wednesday after wallowing three days in wind-whipped Lake Ontario.

The ship, with 15 dockworkers aboard broke loose Sunday while being towed here from Port Weller, normally a 90-minute run. Ten men were taken off Monday after spending Sunday night without food or heat. High winds Tuesday prevented towing.

The tanker will be converted into a packet freighter.

Drop Traffic Charge

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Lawrence H. Bottom, 29, of Dorchester district was freed Wednesday of a manslaughter charge arising from the traffic death of Mrs. Ellen Britton on Hamilton road Nov. 21. A charge of dangerous driving was withdrawn.

Quebec Council Passes Oleo Bill

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec government bill imposing severe penalties against violators of the margarine ban squeezed through the Liberal-dominated provincial upper house Wednesday by a 10 to 8 vote.

It was the first time since May, 1947, that the legislative council was the scene of a recorded vote.

The Union Nationale minority in the upper house received the support of one Liberal. Another Liberal remained seated when the vote was called.

The legislative assembly is expected to adopt before Friday supplementary estimates for the current fiscal year totalling $14,-913,300 tabled by Finance Minister Gagnon Wednesday.

First session of the 24th legislature which opened Nov 12 will then be adjourned until mid-January.

Young People's Group Holds Fireside Service

MILLBROOK (ENS)—The interdenominational Young People's group sponsored a fireside service Sunday evening in St. Andrew's United Church hall. Members of all three congregations of the village had been asked to attend. Paul Sanders, CYUC president, was in the chair for the opening and carol singing with Miss Beverley Patton at the piano. In the devotional period Donald Spicer gave the scripture reading and offered prayer. Miss Jean Smith gave an article on "Are we leaving Christ out of Christmas?"

St. Andrew's Sunday School orchestra, comprising Beverley Patton (leader), Ada Olan, Mac Ingham and Eldon Hunter in the violin section, Helen Ingham and George Patton playing wind instruments and Laureen Guthrie at the piano played two selections. Miss Carol Challice and Donald Thompson sang and accompanied themselves on guitars and Miss Margaret Aiken gave a reading.

Matthew J. McCauley

MARMORA (ENS)—The funeral of Matthew J. McGarvey was held Wednesday afternoon under auspices of Marmora Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion. Leaving the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Wesley Cuddy, the cortege proceeded to St. Andrew's United Church for service.

The Rev. W. C. Stevenson of Renfrew, assisted by the Rev. D. Routly of Marmora, both of the Pentecostal Assembly, conducted the service, the former giving the address.

Burial was in Marmora Protestant cemetery, the prayers of the Legion being taken by its chaplain, W. J. Cottrell. Pallbearers were Robert Gray, William Forsyth, Herbert Wright, Merle Gordon, Lloyd Williams and George Gordenier.

Convict 4 of Murder

PONTIAC, Mich. (CP) — Four youths were convicted Wednesday of murder in the bludgeon-stabbing death of Alfred Jones, 27, a filling station attendant. The all-woman jury found the four guilty of the March 21 slaying. A life sentence is mandatory. The four are: Robert Hearn, 17, Peter Imbimbo, 23, Frank O. Baker, 23, and Basil Dupas, 21.

Guilty of Forgery

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—An 18-year-old youth Wednesday pleaded guilty to cashing under an assumed name four cheques from a firm operated by his brothers. Lyle Bradshaw was sentenced to two years less a day on four charges of forgery and uttering and one of car theft. The amount of the cheques involved was $424.

BATTERED BY STORM—A blinding snowstorm and heavy winds harry the steamer Cadillac, owned by the Hamilton Harbor Commission. The storm slowed the ship's passage through the Welland Canal locks. Standing by the winch engine are Henry Tupper (left), mate, and Warren Dean, almost obscured by the snow. The rough trip from Detroit was made without the aid of radio or radar.

Says Red Religious Persecution Reaches Nazi Level Of Frenzy

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Health Minister Paul Martin of Canada told the United Nations Wednesday that religious persecution in Soviet-bloc countries has reached a level of frenzy comparable with the worst times under the Nazis.

The leaders of the Canadian delegation said before the social committee of the general assembly that efforts in Iron Curtain countries aim at putting the Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths under complete subservience to the state.

Martin spoke during discussion of he economic and social council's report on prevention of discrimination and protection of minorities.

SUGGESTS PROTEST

The Canadian called in particular on diplomatic representatives in Bulgaria to forward to Bulgarian authorities protests against the recent conviction of a group in which Dr. Evgen Bossilkov, senior Roman Catholic bishop of the church of Bulgaria, was a principal defendant against charges of attempting to overthrow the government.

The Bulgarian trial of 40 persons "in which the guilt of all the defendants was assumed" in the indictment, was only one example of a ruthless attack on freedom of conscience, Martin said.

He recalled that Canada, as far back as 1948, protested against the violation of human rights in Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria—bound to observe these rights under terms of the peace treaty with which Canada is associated.

Minesweeper Aground

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Swedish Navy minesweeper Orskar was reported leaking badly early today after running aground off the southeast coast of Sweden and the plight of her 50 crewmen was described as "very critical." Heavy seas prevented the crewmen from taking to lifeboats and the engine room of the 330-ton vessel was reported underwater.

U.S. Reports Good Corn Crop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. agriculture department, in its final report of the year Wednesday, estimated this year's corn crop at 3,306,735,000 bushels and the wheat crop at 1,291,447,000 bushels.

This is 3,860,000 bushels more than the 3,302,875,000 forecast for corn a month ago. It also is 7,470,000 bushels less than the 1,298,921,000 forecast for wheat last month.

The corn figure compares with a revised production report of 2,899,169,000 bushels for corn last year and with 3,011,652,000 for the 10-year (1941-50) average. The wheat estimate compares with a revised 1951 figure of 980,810,000 bushels and the 10-year average of 1,084,664,000.

MOBILE BANK—Splashing through a stream in rural Puerto Rico, a 20th Century "Pony Express" rider brings banking services to communities too small to support a bank of their own. Designed by officials of Puerto Rico's Banco Popular, the unit is the first of 20 banks-on-wheels which will be put into service upon approval of the system by United States government banking authorities. Millions of dollars which are kept in home-made "vaults," such as the one used by the Puerto Rican woman, below, left, are expected to be brought from hiding for deposit in the rolling bank, right. Complete banking services will be offered by the mobile offices, which will make regular rounds of their territories.

Immigrant Convicted On Two Visa Counts

DETROIT (CP)—The first of 15 United States immigrants who pleaded innocent to charges laid following investigation last summer of a visa ring operating in nearby Windsor, Ont., was convicted Wednesday on two counts. He will be sentenced later.

Joseph Maria Grech, 41, a native of Malta, was convicted of presenting false documents to obtain a visa and of using a visa he knew to be fraudulently obtained to enter the U.S. from Canada.

Seventy others who were similarly charged pleaded guilty and were given five years suspended sentence and deported to Canada.

Assistant U.S. attorney J. Conner Austin said Grech's trial probably will set a pattern for the other 14 trials to be heard.

Honeymoons Seldom Taken 50 Years Ago

BETHANY (ENS) — Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Bethany quietly observed their golden wedding anniversary, receiving congratulations and good wishes from their large circle of relatives and friends.

The wedding ceremony of 50 years ago took place in St. Paul's Anglican Church with the Rev. Henry F. Burgess officiating. Their attendants were Herb. Kennedy of Bethany and Miss Olive Lamb, who is now Mrs. Wellington McGee of Cavan. Mrs. Alice McGrath played the wedding music. Mr. Smith says, "We planned a very quiet wedding, but the news somehow got around and I remember coming out of the church to be met with a shower of rice. Jim McKinnon was responsible for that." (Mr. McKinnon recently celebrated his 80th birthday.)

Mr. Smith, now 78 years of age, is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Smith Sr. and his wife, who is seven years his junior, was the former Lila Gillis, a daughter of the late Mr .and Mrs. Thomas Gillis.

Following a wedding supper at the home of the bride's parents, the bride and groom went immediately to their first home on Lot 22 of the 9th concession of Manvers township. "Fifty years ago people rarely went on honeymoons," Mr. Smith observes.

He has been a farmer all his lifetime, ably assisted by his wife. Seven years after their marriage they moved into Cavan township and for some years lived on a farm now woned by Cecil Ward, later moving to the farm now owned by their son Mervyn on Highway 7A about two miles east of Bethany. It is 10 years since they retired and moved into the village.

JOINED COUNCIL

In 1935 Mr. Smith became interested in municipal affairs and was elected as a member of Cavan council, representing the township for seven years as councillor, one year as deputy-reeve and two years as reeve. During this time he was also active in several capacities in the council of the United Counties of Durham and Northumberland.

Mr. Smith has always been a faithful member of St. Paul's Anglican Church in Bethany and was one of the wardens of the church for many years. His wife has also been very active in the work of the church and in the Woman's Auxiliary.

They have a family of seven, the sons also all being progressive farmers, Charles and Mervyn both owning farms on Highway 7A in Cavan township, Emory, on the Cavan-Manvers boundary. Their four daughters are Mrs. Carl Porteous (Iva) of R.R. 1 Cavan; Mrs. Norman Braithwaite (Mildred) of Cavan; Mrs. Gordon Moffatt (Olive) of Bowmanville; Mrs. Kenneth Braithwaite (Helen of Peterborough. There are eleven grandchildren: John and Allan Moffatt of Bowmanville; Ross, Leora, Glen, Barrie and Murray Smith of Cavan; Leon Braithwaite, Cavan; Faye and Catharine Braithwaite, Peterborough and Ray Porteous, Cavan.

The immediate family presented them with a clock on this wedding aniversary, which was held very quietly, due to the poor health of the bride and groom. Mr. Smith had recently undergone an operation and is just convalescing. Mrs. Smith who suffered a broken hip gets around with difficulty. "Yet, we have a lot to be thankful for," says Mr. Smith. "Our family are all close to us, we see some of them every day."

Jobs Open In Cobourg At Ordnance Depot

COBOURG (ENS)—Interviews are being held today by the civil service of Canada in connection with applications for jobs at the new ordnance depot here. The interviews were scheduled to take place at the Cobourg Armouries. There is still a great deal to be done before the 15 million dollar ordnance depot is completed, but one building is expected to be ready for occupancy by next spring.

Male employment advertised includes cleaners and helpers, clerks grade one to three, draftsmen, packers and helpers, stationary engineers, storemen and female help including stenographers and clerks. The positions are open only to residents of Northumberland and Durham Counties.

Bible College Closes School For Christmas

Final classes and examinations of the fall semester are being held at Eastern Pentecostal Bible College today.

The 115 students and faculty attended the last chapel service before Chrismas, in the Pentecostal Church on Dublin St. The Lord's Supper was observed.

Tonight, there will be a Christmas party in the college, sponsored by the students' council, and Friday most of the students will be leaving for their homes. The students come from various parts of Ontario and as far west as Winnipeg and east to the Maritimes.

Today marks the end of a busy semester for the Bible students. As well as their lectures and classroom work, they have completed about 60 out of town assignments which include 26 speaking engagements at churches throughout Ontario and 30 engagements by musical groups and singers.

Some of the students have regular preaching appointments.

Other activities include: assistance at services here in Peterborough, conducting Sunday morning hospital services and organizing a number of home Bible clubs for children.

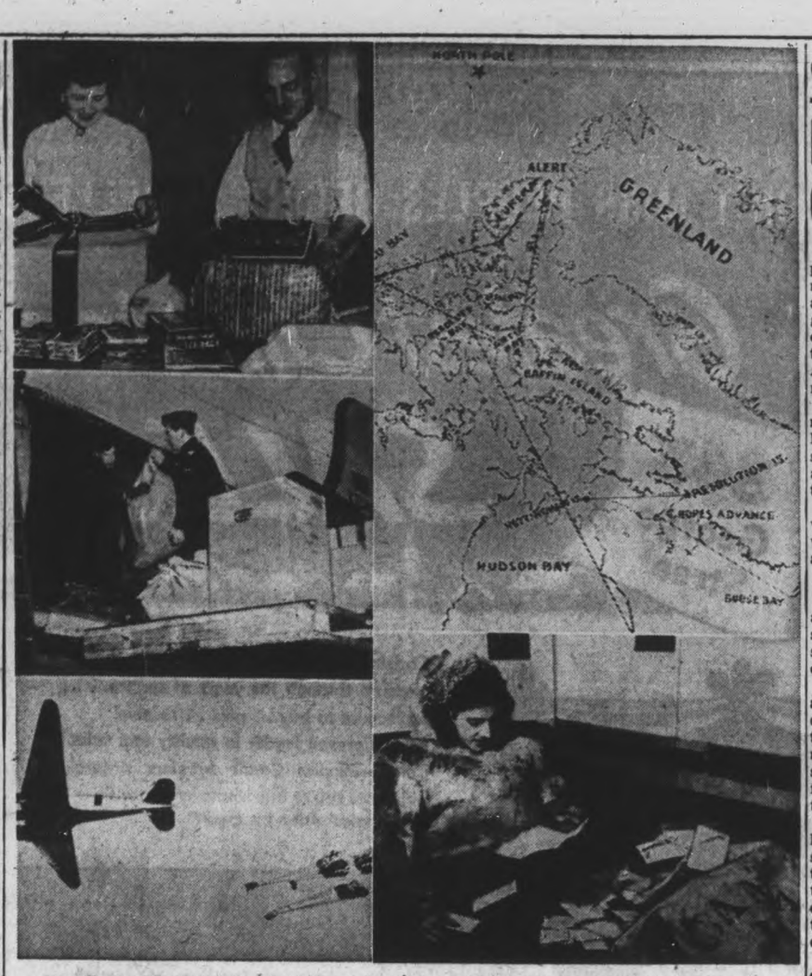
Tonight, the college begins a series of half-hour weekly broadcasts over station CHEX at 8 p.m. The Rev. W. H. Found, college president, will direct the broadcast.

Seek An Alliance To Fight Lamprey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of Canada and the United States met today to form an alliance against the destructive sea lamprey, which is destroying vast quantities of fish in the Great Lakes.

The state department said the aim of the meeting would be to write an agreement for joint action to wipe out the parasite. The lamprey is an eel-like creature which lives by attaching itself to a fish and subsisting upon the fish's blood.

"It is estimated" a state department announcement said, "that some $5,000,000 in lake trout alone have been lost to this parasite since 1949. The lamprey is now invading Lake Superior and threatens to destroy the lake trout fisheries there, as it has already destroyed those of Lakes Huron and Michigan."



RCAF PLAYS SANTA CLAUS — To most people Christmas symbolizes renewal of friendships, the exchange of gifts, parties, and the warmth and intimacy of the family group around the fireside. For the men who staff the isolated Departments of Transport weather stations in the Canadian Arctic, however, there can be no family reunion, but the RCAF lends what aid it can to mitigate the rigours of the men doing a responsible job far away from home. Two RCAF Transport Squadrons, 426 based at Dorval, P.Q., and 412 at Rockcliffe, Ont., will take over from St. Nicholas this year to deliver 3,000 pounds of parcels and mail to the weathermen in widely scattered areas of the far north. In top left, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gee, of London, Ont., are seen busily packing gifts for their son Bill who has been stationed at Arctic Bay for two years. Left centre shows RCAF ground crew loading the bags of mail and parcels aboard a North Star aircraft at Dorval. Bottom left: After carefully surveying the intended area, the parcels are parachuted out where they are eagerly awaited by the men below who wave their thanks. U.S. Agencies Said Wasting Efforts Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer, back from a 10-country study in Europe, Wednesday criticized American agencies abroad for "confusion and wasted effort. . .too many people doing too many things in Western Europe."

The time has come, Sawyer said in a report to President Truman, to take the emphasis off foreign economic aid and place it on trade, within the framework of long-term economic thinking. He said Europeans agree.

Sawyer reported there has been tremendous recovery in countries aided by the United States, and Europe can go on to prosperity if it keeps faith in itself.

The U. S. must avoid dictating or even guiding European policies, the secretary wrote, but should stand by "to give the encouragement which comes from having an understanding and helpful friend at hand."

He added emphatically that nothing the U. S. does to help Europe, such as cutting tariffs, should undermine the American economy because "a prosperous America is necessary not only for us (but for) the rest of the free world. . ."

Cavan Pays $292 For Sheep Killed

BETHANY (ENS). — Cavan Township farmers are having trouble with dogs killing their sheep.

When Cavan council met in Millbrook, payment of a total of $292 in compensation for sheep killed by dogs and bounty for two dogs killed while molesting sheep was approved.

Three farmers reported losing a total of seven sheep.

Walter Bowles lost the largest number of animals, having five sheep killed, and five injured. He appeared before council and said he had had to salvage what he could by selling seven injured lambs to a Peterborough meat packing firm.

Mr. Bowles said he had caught two dogs worrying his sheep and had killed two, but a third escaped. He was awarded $225 for the damage done to his sheep and $20 for killing the two dogs.

Two other farmers who had had one sheep each killed by dogs were also paid for their loss. David Armstrong will receive $25 and Wilfred Reynolds will get $22.

Garbutt D. Mann

Funeral service for the late Garbutt D. (Sam) Mann of Bridgenorth, who died at his home on Monday following a prolonged illness, was held on Wednesday at the Kaye funeral home. The Rev. D. P. Morris of Bridgenorth United Church officiated, and pallbearers were Harry Gravelle, Allan Mann, Samuel Bell, Everitt Cockburn, Clarke Garbutt and Fred King. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Cavan Council Buys Snow Plow And Wing

MILLBROOK —(ENS)—At its December meeting, Cavan township council approved the purchase of a new snow plow and wing, costing $4,052.

In approving the purchase, council stipulated that the equipment must meet with the approval of District Engineer E. F. Marston.

Reg. I. Fallis, was appointed as a trustee of the Durham County District High School Board.

The appointment of Mr. Fallis fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dick Hutchison, Mr. Hutchison told the council that while he enjoyed the work and found it interesting, he could not spare the time required for board meetings.

William Seymour was re-appointed trustee on the Peterborough District High School Board.

Blue Bloods Divorce

EDINBURGH (Reuters) — Lady Clodagh Douglas-Hamilton, cousin of the Queen mother, Wednesday was granted an uncontested divorce from Lord Malcolm Douglas-Hamilton on grounds of adultery. Lady Douglas-Hamilton, 42, is the daughter of Lt.-Col. Malcolm Bowes-Lyon. She married Lord Douglas-Hamilton in 1931.

Youth Convicted Of Fraud, Fined $100

Nineteen-year-old Joseph Traynor of Nogies Creek was today fined $100 and $14.30 costs by Magistrate Philp when he was convicted on a charge of fraud.

The crown alleged Traynor had obtained $90 from Mrs. Jean Hansman, 483 Sheridan St., on the pretext he would buy her singles for a new roof. Traynor cashed the cheque Mrs. Hansman gave him, but did not buy the shingles.

Mrs. Rene Rose, a city bank employee, testified she cashed the $90 cheque for Traynor, and identified the cheque in court.

Traynor offered no explanation when asked for one by the magistrate. As for restitution, he said he would be able to make it if he could go to see his father. Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw referred to Traynor's cocky attitude and said that he felt a fine larger than usual or jail sentence should be imposed.

Magistrate Philp gave Traynor the option of serving two months in county jail.

School Official Resents Speech Of PC Senator

OTTAWA — "Education is a provincial matter and certainly not the business of the Senate or any other member of the federal government," Dr. Ernest C. Desormeaux, of Ottawa, president of the French-Canadian Educational Association of Ontario, said Wednesday.

He was referring to a statement made in the Senate by Senator R. B. Horner (PC-Sask.), who suggested the abolition of Separate schools as a means of lowering taxation.

Such a move, the senator said, would also "demonstrate to the world an example of unity in Canada."

"SCURRILOUS ATTACKS"

Dr. Desormeaux said the senator's address was one of the most scurrilous attacks against French-speaking and Catholic citizens ever to come out of the Senate."

Moreover, the senator's remarks are an encroachment on the jurisdiction of the provinces in matters of education, and are one more reason why the provinces should resist all attempts by the federal government to intrude in this field," he said.

As for the senator's plan for lower taxation, Mr. Desormeaux said it would "boomerang," in Ontario at least. Statistics will show that if all Separate school children went to Public schools, the tax rate in the province would be doubled.

"If the senator had any knowledge of school business, he would know that the administration of Catholic schools costs much less than that of Public schools."

LOWER SALARIES

This was due to the fact that Separate school teachers were working for "far lower salaries" than their fellow teachers in other schools and hundreds of religious teachers have made teaching "a non-paying vocation" rather than a career, he said.

LONDON (Reuters)—A new type of flashing light marker buoy, which comes to the surface when a submarine fails to surface from a dive, is being fitted in British submarines, the admiralty announced today. The light can be seen for two miles.

Trying To Detect Smells In Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Science is trying to find out what smells in Toronto.

The University of Toronto is selecting a team of sniffers to tour the city, noting the location and intensity of odors they encounter.

Plotting smell zones will enable workers to find the cause and work for a solution.

UK Clergyman Defies Red Domination

VIENNA (AP)—A British clergyman today defied Communist domination of the world peace congress and attacked Russia for several of its present-day international policies

Canon C. F. Harman, a vicar of Swindon, Wiltshire, describing himself as a Christian pacifist, told the congress he wished to refer to several methods "causing great disquiet among a large section of public opinion in the West." He said they were:

1. "The cavalier dismissal by Mr. Vishinsky of the Indian proposals for a truce in Korea has caused bewilderment and a sense of hopelessness. Would it be possible for this congress to urge certain concessions on these crucial issues in order to bring this frightful war to an end?"

KEEPING GERMAN POWs

2. "The retention of German prisoners taken in the Second World War. This is not calculated to foster friendly relations between Germany and Russia."

3. "My Christian conception of the sacredness of human life revolts against the savage sentences imposed on political offenders in any country. A more peaceful approach to political and racial minorities would do much to ally bitterness and bring about reconciliation.

Canon Harman's attack on Soviet policies was the most bitter heard during the five-day congress. So far only three other persons among scores of speakers, have in any way criticized Russian or Communist policy.

Hits Two Cars Damages Cell Man Fined $93

Nothing to say and nothing to pay.

That, said Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, summed up the situation 23-year-old Milton Martin of Indian River found himself in at magistrate's court today.

Martin, whose uninsured car hit two other autos Wednesday night, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol. One of the cars belonged to OPP Constable Bob Lamb, who was the key witness.

Martin also pleaded guilty to a charge of wilfully damaging public property—the light fixture and the mattress cover in his jail cell in the city building. Superintendent Earl Hope told the court the estimated cost of repairs was about $41.

Constable Lamb said he was driving his car south on George St. when he saw another car coming north by the barricade just north of Brock St., where road work is going on. The car veered to the west side, hit a new car parked by the curb, swung back and still in the west lane, crashed head-on into the constable's car.

Damage amounted to about $250, said Constable Lamb. He said Martin told him of drinking a couple of beers, and his own opinion was that Martin had had about that much.

Asked by Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC, what he had to say for himself, Martin said "I've nothing to say." Mr. Bradshaw said he felt the sentence given Martin should serve as a warning to other drivers at this time of year.

The magistrate fined Martin a total of $93, giving him the option of a month and 20 days in jail, the jail sentences to be consecutive if the fines are not paid. Fifty dollars was the fine on the impaired charge, $35 for the wilful damage; costs totalled $8.

Catching Diseases

COBOURG (ENS)—Sixty cases of communicable diseases were recorded for the week ending Dec. 13 by the Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit, the largest number for one week in some time. Chicken pox led the list with 34 cases, the majority of them in rural parts. Ten new cases of infectious jaundice were reported, all in rural areas. The rest were red and German measles, mumps and scarlet fever.

Four Remanded On Robbery

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Four men charged in connection with the attempted robbery of the Walkerville branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, appeared in city court today and were remanded to Dec. 19 for setting of preliminary hearing dates.

Robert Woods, alias Sidney Clewes, of Toronto; Arthur McKay, Windsor, and William Buckley, of Toronto, pleaded not guilty on Dec. 5 to an assault with intent to rob charge.

The fourth man, Norman Quinlan of Windsor, pleaded not guilty to a conspiracy charge. The charge read to the effect the Quinlan conspired "with others yet unknown" to rob the Bank of Commerce.

Quinlan was also charged with the unlawful possession of three revolvers. He was remanded to Dec. 23 for setting of preliminary hearing date and was freed on $5,000 bail.

prizewinning raisin pie — winner of 1st prize for raisin pie at this year's C.N.E. tells how she won with—

VELVET pastry FLOUR

Mrs. Casper Malinsky of Yongehurst, Ontario, winner of 1st prize for raisin pie at Canadian National Exhibition.

Mrs. Malinsky's prizewinning Recipe complete details — tips — secrets

"It was a great thrill to win the first prize for raisin pie at the 'Ex' last September. And now it's just as much of a thrill to share the secret of my success with you.

"For I know how much Velvet Pastry Flour helped me to win. In all my years of pie baking I've never found a flour to equal it. It handles so beautifully, gives my pastry just the right tenderness and flakiness.

"Of course, like all women who love to bake, I have my own little tricks. Here's how I make my pastry.

"The night before I make up this recipe:

2¼ cups Velvet Pastry Flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ lb. lard (or vegetable shortening)
cold water (about ½ cup)

Sift Velvet Pastry Flour and salt together. Cut half the shortening into the flour until fine and mealy, using a pastry blender or two knives. Cut in remaining shortening until mixture is about the size of small peas.

Add cold water very gradually and mix pastry lightly until it can be pressed together.

"Then I let my pastry 'rest' — that is I put it in a cool place (not in the refrigerator) and leave it overnight.

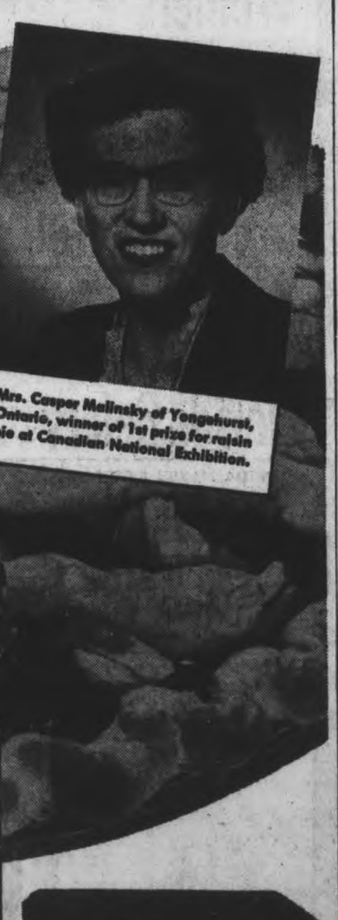
"Next morning I prepare the filling:

1 lb. raisins
2 cups water
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons Velvet Pastry Flour
½ cup corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon butter

Heat water to boiling point, add raisins and boil 10 minutes. Combine sugar and flour and add to hot mixture. Add corn syrup and allow to simmer 10 minutes or until mixture thickens. Remove from heat, add vanilla and butter. Cool.

"While filling cools I roll out my pastry and line a 9-inch pie plate. Then I pour in the filling and cover it with a lattice top.

"I bake this pie in a hot oven (about 450°F.) for 10 minutes, reduce the heat to moderate (about 375°F.) and bake for about 30 minutes longer, or until pastry is just slightly browned."



For flakier, tenderer pies and pastries, always use VELVET — the prize winning flour

Old-Fashioned Bean Suppers have been a tradition since Grandma's day...

SATURDAY NIGHT IS HEINZ NIGHT

Grandmothers are not as old-fashioned as they used to be. You'll find a lot of them on the badminton courts or the bowling alleys, instead of sweating over a huge old range. But many of them still have those old-fashioned bean suppers. They simply empty a can or two of Heinz Beans in a casserole, flip a switch, and in no time the family has that regular old Saturday night treat. The oven-baking has been done for them by the Heinz chefs.

Of course, Saturday night is not the only Heinz night in the week. There are now five kinds of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans, two of Spaghetti and two of Macaroni. If there were nine days in the week, you could have one of Heinz thrifty main-course meals for lunch, dinner or late supper each day, and still get plenty of variety. Stock up for rushed meals during these busy shopping days.

Your Best Course Is To Limit Boy's Participation In Sports

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Although fathers frequently think that their sons can and should take part in any and all kinds of competitive sports, the mothers often have their doubts.

The best course to follow is usually to steer somewhere between the over-ambition of most fathers for the athletic prowess of their sons, and the sometimes unreasonable fears of the mothers.

This question of taking part in competitive athletics has not gone wholly unstudied. Suggestions aimed at helping to make participation in such sports safe and healthful were adopted by the Nation Joint Committee on Standards for Boys' Athletics some time ago and endorsed by other prominent organizations. These points are so important that they are reproduced here:

1. A health examination should be required previous to participation, preferably on a seasonal basis, with annual examination a minimum requirement.

2. A physician should be present at all contests involving activities where the injury hazard is pronounced.

3. A contestant who has been ill or injured should be re-admitted to participation only on the written recommendation of a physician.

4. A contestant upon returning to participation after illness or injury should be carefully observed, and if there is any doubt as to his condition he should immediately be referred to a physician.

5. The coach, (faculty member in charge) should be competent in first aid and thoroughly versed in sports conditioning and training. It is also strongly recommended that all players be given basic instruction in first aid.

6. In case of head, neck or spine injury, or suspicion thereof, the player should be removed from play, placed at rest, and be given the immediate attention of a physician.

7. Every school should have a written policy regarding the responsibility for injury incurred in athletics, and this policy should be known to all participants, their parents, and other responsible adults. Arrangements should be made for obtaining and paying for medical and hospital care of injured participants in accord with local policy.

8. The best obtainable protective equipment should be provided for all participants, and special attention should be given to proper fitting of such equipment.

9. Competition should take place only between teams of comparable ability, and playing seasons should be limited to reasonable duration.

10. No pre-season games should be played until players are well drilled in fundamentals and have had a minimum of two weeks of physical conditioning.

11. Playfields should meet standard requirements for size of area, playing surfaces, and facilities for safety, and all reasonable precautions should be taken to prevent accidents.

12. Contests should be selected, and rules and lengths of playing periods should be such that they will not overtax the physical abilities of the student concerned.

Think District Shaken Meteorite Or Tremor

FORT FRANCES (CP)—Residents of the international border area think the district may have been shaken by a meteorite or earth tremor.

Two distinct sounds were heard Monday and Tuesday over a wide-spread area. Residents reported what sounded like an explosion Monday night and a rumbling noise at midnight Tuesday.

No cause has been found for the disturbance. It was reported as far away as 50 miles from Fort Frances.

Landslide Buries 19 African Miners

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters) — Nineteen African miners were entombed Wednesday 4,500 feet underground by a subterranean landslide. Two other Africans and a European were killed by the landslide.

A pressure-burst in the Nourse gold mine caused a fall of rock. Six Africans, all of them injured, were saved.

Surgery Frees Siamese Twins Joined At Heads

CHICAGO (AP)—In a history-making operation, surgeons Wednesday completed the separation of 15-month-old Siamese twin boys who were joined at the heads.

The twins, several hours after the 12-hour and 40-minute operation, were reported in critical condition. This was regarded as natural for such dangerous and lengthy surgery.

The separation was the first successful one of its kind in medical history. In two previous attempts to cut apart babies joined at the heads, the patients died.

No member of the medical team which participated in the operation would predict if the infant twins will recover. Earlier, doctors said the odds were against the twins' survival from the start but that the boys were "unbelievably hearty."

RESULTS IN DOUBT

"The ultimate outcome of the operation is as yet unknown," said a spokesman for the Research and Edducation Hospitals of the University of Illinois where the operation was performed.

Stanley Olson, dean of the university's college of medicine, said the twins still had a "long way to go" before their survival is assured.

Expert post - operative and nursing care will be needed, Olson said, as the babies had been subjected to intense shock and had lost considerable blood.

The twins were placed under oxygen tents. A university spokesman said doctors plan to resume surgery today on the tiny patients, Roger Lee and Rodney Lee Brodie of Moline, Ill.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie, were in the hospital during the operation.

"It sure looks good to see them apart," said Brodie. Earlier he said he realized the great risk involved in the operation but "we wanted them to have a normal life."

After the main operation the actual severing, surgeons worked for another two hours and four minutes to tie off blood vessels and stop bleeding.

The operation was the ninth of a series performed on the twins since their birth. Previous operations were designed to prepare the twins for the main ordeal.

The twins appeared to have had their heads joined wholly to each other at the top. Tests, however, showed the babies had separate brains and separate brain coverings, at least in part.

AFTER HALF CENTURY — Mrs. A. E. Mathewson is retiring after 50 years on the staff of the Fredericton Gleaner. Starting on the mechanical staff of The Gleaner when it was a tri-weekly, she became one of Canada's few women city editors. A few years ago the Fredericton city council, recognizing her interest in the city and its people, made her a freeman and gave her the keys to the city. In 1944 she was awarded the MBE for her "outstanding welfare work during two world wars."

Lindsay Plans Clothing Drive

LINDSAY (ENS)—A drive for clothing for children in Korea was opened in Lindsay this week at a meeting of representatives of several church, civic and service club officials.

The drive will be made during January with three service clubs, the Kiwanis, Rotary and Business and Professional Women's Club, participating, and endeavoring to enlist the support of all the churches and schools in the town. In addition other service groups will be invited to participate. The objective of the drive will be five tons of good clothing and $1,000 in cash to be forwarded to the general fund, with headquarters in Toronto.

School children will be asked to contribute a small amount of money each, and the clothing will be picked up at specified depots around the town. Chairman of the campaign will be Harold Pollock, secretary-manager of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce, assisted by Dr. W. Schwartz as secretary, and Stuart Bryson as treasurer. Chairman and members of special committees will be appointed from the various clubs and organizations taking part.

Bensfort Girls' Club Chooses New Home

BAILIEBORO (ENS)—December meeting of the Girls' Sunbeam Club of Bensfort was held at the home of Miss Doris Reid. The president, Sandra Wilson, was in the chair.

Doreen Larmer read the scripture. The "Sunbeams" of Bensfort was chosen as a suitable name for the club.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Allen Dawson, who gave several interesting suggestions on Christmas gift wrapping.

The program consisted of piano solo by Wauneta Dawson; readings by Doris Reid, Margaret Rose Lackey, Marlene Adams; trio by Doris Reid, Marlene Adams and Marlene Crews.

CNR Gives Denial To Currie Report

MONTREAL — The following statement was issued today by S. F. Dingle, vice-president of operation Canadian National Railways:

"In the Currie report investigation of army works services tabled in the House of Commons this week the statement occurred that rail from a spur line of the Canadian National running into the ordnance depot at Petawawa was taken up and used to replace the Canadian Pacific track which had been removed and sold.

"The Canadian National has no lines serving the Petawawa military camp and we have confirmed by an examination of the rails referred to that they have never been owned by us."

ATTENTION EMPLOYERS

Workmen's Compensation Act Amendment

EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1 1953

Under Ontario Regulations 191/52, effective January 1, 1953, the following industries where formerly number limits excluded firms having less than a certain number of employees, will come within the scope of The Workmen's Compensation Act if one or more full or part time workman is employed.

- Employers with one or more employees operating in the following fields are required to file their payrolls with the Board not later than January 1, 1953: Bark-peeling by hand. . . Blacksmithing shop or blacksmithing-and-woodworking shop . . . Butchering . . . Construction of a house or any part of it by an employer who, within three years before the commencement of the house, has completed or has completed for him the building of another house . . . Conveying passengers by automobile or trolley-coach . . . Cutting, hewing, piling or hauling logs, wood or bark . . . Cutting or splitting of firewood . . . Land-clearing and stumping . . . Logging . . . Manufacturing artificial flowers, cheese, feathers, rubber stamps, pads or stencils . . . Mining, including prospecting and development work, except in producing mines where the workmen are employed by the owner, lessee or recorded holder thereof . . . Operation and maintenance of a building or buildings rented wholly or partly for manufacturing, or an office building or buildings, whether operated and maintained as a business or by the operator for his own use . . . Operation of thrashing machines, clover mills and ensilage cutters . . . Picture framing . . . Power laundries, dyeing, cleaning or bleaching establishments . . . Repair shops . . . Restaurant business . . . Upholstering . . . Window cleaning.
- Write at once to the Assessment Department of The Workmen's Compensation Board, 330 University Avenue, Toronto 1, for complete details and instructions regarding your participation in the Workmen's Compensation Act. It is in your interest as an employer to register for all compensation benefits for you and your employees.
- Please be assured of the complete co-operation of the Board and its staff in assisting you to comply with this new legislation.

Alberta's Rabies Epidemic Spreads Toward Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—Northern Alberta's rabies epidemic among wildlife has spread to within 175 miles of Edmonton, Dr. E. E. Ballantyne, provincial director of veterinary services, indicated Wednesday.

Dr. Ballantyne said the situation is "[illegible]" with the disease spreading close to the main settled areas of Alberta." The highly-infectious disease, carried by wild animals such as foxes and wolves, causes madness and death. Humans are not immune to it.

The veterinary director said a fox with rabies was killed at Margie, 174 miles north of Edmonton, in the first week of December and a rabies-infected coyote was found at Fort McMurray in northeastern Alberta last month.

Fort McMurray is only about 60 miles across the border from La Loche, Sask., where another rabies outbreak was reported Wednesday among dogs. A federal veterinarian, Dr. George Rankin of Regina, flew to the area, 250 miles northwest of Prince Albert, to start a vaccination program.

Dr. Ballantyne reported the spread of the disease in confirming a communication from a pioneer northern Alberta medical practitioner that the rabies epidemic was not over. Last October, Dr. Rankin returned from Fort Vermilion, 350 miles northwest of Edmonton, and announced the epidemic had been stamped out.

Dr. Mary Percy Jackson of Keg River, 125 miles southwest of Fort Vermilion, said eight hogs and two steers had died of rabies there in the last few weeks.

TAKING ADVANTAGE of their friendship, this cat forgets its table manners and digs into the lunch of Hula, a four-year-old chimpanzee in the Nuernberg, Germany, zoo. The cat, a zoo hanger-on, senses Hula's good nature and shares her food with impunity.

Partly Remove Earth Dam

PRESCOTT (CP)—Great Lakes water has been flowing through the St. Lawrence river channel once plugged by Gut Dam, the superintendent of the company removing the dam said Wednesday.

The flow began with the partial removal of an earth dam thrown acros the river below Gut Dam, said Aubrey McMaster of Toronto Dredge and Dock Ltd. The earth dam was installed to insure what McMaster called "quiet water" for his firm's operations

McMaster said the next step would be to finish removing the earth dam. Then, he said, a short remaining section of Gut Dam will be knocked out.

Gut Dam, itself an earthen structure, was installed 50 years ago by Canada to divert water into the Galoup Canal, which enables river shipping to pass the international rapids.

Lake Ontario shore residents had claimed it was a partial cause of high water in the lake.

Actress Withdraws Daughter From School

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shirley Temple angrily withdrew her daughter from a private school Wednesday, saying it had tried to commercialize on the child's performance in a Christmas play.

Linda Susan, 4, was a fairy in "Cinderella" Tuesday at Honeywell School.

What irked her mother, now Mrs. Charles Black, was a newspaper story that this was Susan's stage debut and that she would repeat her performance tonight at the American University gymnasium. Shirley said she had been told the Thursday show would be a benefit, with admissions charged

Susan is just one year older than her mother was when she began her famous career as a child movie star. She is the daughter of John Agar, Shirley's first husband.

Effective Interviewing Subject Of Talk

Two Toronto men, Mel Holmes and J. F. Hammett of the Department of Employees Relations of Imperial Oil Co., spoke to members of the Personnel Association of Peterbrough in the board room of the Quaker Oats Co.

Jim Dutton introduced the speakers who took as their topic, Effective Interviewing. Ivan McGowan thanked the speakers. President Al Heideman was president of the meeting.

Labor Board Delays Judgment

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario labor relations board Wednesday reserved judgment for three or four weeks on an application by Toronto local 87 of the American Newspaper Guild (CIO-CCL) for certification as bargaining agent for editorial employees of the Telegram Publishing Company

The Guild claimed 155 persons are eligible for membership and John Osler, Guild counsel, said the 119 membership cards on file represent 70 per cent of employees He urged certification without a vote.

The company held the bargaining unit should be 127, excluding office boys and messengers.

Eight members of the editorial department intervened to oppose certification because: any contract would have to be approved by Guild officers who are employees of the Toronto Star; messengers would have equal voting rights with senior employees membership in a union which supported any political party would destroy newspaper men's reputation for objectivity.

Dad will probably enjoy his 1952 Christmas turkey as he hasn't for years. It'll cost him less.

Across Canada birds are plentiful and selling at prices five to 12 cents a pound below those of last December with a 14-cent drop at M[illegible]al.

A[illegible] Press survey today shows most families buy turkeys in the 10- to 15-pound range. For these birds they'll probably pay prices ranging from a high of 65 cents a pound for the best hen turkeys in Newfoundland and parts of Ontario and a low of 49 cents in Saskatchewan.

LOWEST IN [illegible] YEARS

The wheat province, with a large supply of birds, reports prices will probably be lower than in six or seven years. Last year's high prices and big demand persuaded farmers in most parts of the country to go in for turkeys last spring in a bigger way.

Winnipeg reports the birds being shipped to Ontario and Quebec by the boxcar but officials expect to have plenty left for local demand

A heavy movement of the birds from the Prairie provinces over the rails to the East is giving Eastern farmers cause for alarm. Turkeys are raised cheaply on the Prairies. The climate is good and there are large stretches of land in which they can forage for food.

SUPPLIES POUR IN

Western birds are expected to retail in Toronto at 63 cents a pound. On Dec. 12 poultry officials reported them coming into that city at 100 boxcars daily. Ottawa reports receiving large quantities of 15- to 35-pound birds from the Prairies.

The ducks, geese and chickens on many Christmas dinner tables will cost about 10 cents a pound less than last year.

Ducks and geese are in fair demand in Alberta at prices considerably lower than last year There's less demand for these birds in the

FINGER AMPUTATED

Ayden C. Moore, 66, of 681 Frank St., had his right index finger badly smashed Wednesday afternoon and later it was amputated at Civic Hospital. An oil tube toppled and smashed the finger.

TO PLAY AT HOSPITAL

The Salvation Army Band is planning to bring Christmas music to patients at the Civic Hospital on Sunday morning at 10.00 a.m. and at the St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday afternoon at 2.00 p.m.

VON VISITS

Peterborough VON nurses made 399 visits during November. Miss Harriet McGeary, nurse-in-charge reported that 53 patients had been admitted, at the board of directors' meeting Wednesday afternoon. During the month, 13 undergraduate students of Peterborough hospitals made 92 visits with VON nurses.

OFFERING BONDS HERE

John Livingstone of Cochran, Murray and Co., Toronto, whose highest bid for the city's $80,000 debentures was accepted by the council Monday, is at the Empress Hotel for several days. He said today that he expected to sell the entire issue to Peterborough investors, and has already listed quite a number of prospects. These debentures are 20-year serials paying 4½%.

BIGGER EGG

Eggs are getting bigger as chickens in the district try to outdo each other. A nine-month-old hybrid Hampshire and Barred Rock, owned by Edwin Eagleson, RR 2, Millbrook, laid an egg that measured nearly 10¼ inches around the long end and weighed five and a half ounces. Inspection by strong light showed it had three yolks.

FIREMEN BUSY

City firemen had several calls on Wednesday night. A handpump was used to douse a chimney fire at the Paris Beauty Salon, 386 Stewart St., where Rosina Reid is tenant. Ammonia fumes were reported in the apartment building at 212½ Charlotte St. but nothing was used. Overheated pipes at the home of Mrs. Margaret Young, 380 Queen St., caused another call. And a Weller St. woman required the assistance of firemen to get into her house; she had been accidentally locked out.

SAFETY PATROLS from eight city schools were banqueted Wednesday night at Kenner Collegiate. Highlight of the banquet was the presentation of merit awards for 1952. Ald Douglas Miller (centre, top) shows Jack Pulkinghorn of Confederation and Suzanne Martyn, of Sacred Heart a plaque which will be presented for the first time next June to the school which makes the best showing. Mayor Hugh Waddell (left photo) presents the merit award to Bill Moore, captain of the King George School patrol. The awards went to King George, Queen Mary, Sacred Heart, King Edward, Confederation, St. John's, Prince of Wales and Immaculate Conception schools.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Recount

A recount of the ballots cast in the Campbellford election for reeve will be held Friday, beginning at 10:30 a.m., under the supervision of Judge A. M. Miller. First results of the counting on election day showed Oscar Mason won over W. R. Nichols by a majority of three votes. Last year when the two men ran for deputy-reeve, the voting was then so close that a recount was asked for. In that recount Mason increased his majority by one or two votes.

Merit Awards Presented At Dinner For School Patrols

Eight merit awards were presented to the city schools with organized safety patrols Wednesday night when the 204 children forming the safety patrols were banqueted at a turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, at Kenner Collegiate's cafeteria. The awards, presented by Police News, a publication of the Police Association of Ontario, are for the high standard of work in street safety by the children in providing the community service in Peterborough.

Police Chief John Thompson, on behalf of Mayor Hugh Waddell who was unable to stay for the dinner, presented the awards. He praised the work that the boys and girls are doing on their patrols, mentioning several incidents he has noticed while driving throughout the city.

He also commended Constable Donald Mackay who is in charge of the safety patrols and the organization in other schools.

With each merit award were the school colors and a seal of merit for 1952. Other seals will be added to the awards annually if the standard of efficiency is maintained by the patrol.

ANNUAL COMPETITION

Another highlight was the presentation of a safety plaque for annual competition by Ald. Douglas Miller to Constable Mackay.

A walnut plaque with the international safety crest in bronze, the Miller Trophy will be up for competition in the schools for an over-all safety record. The decision by judges will depend on the efficiency of the patrol, the safety attitude of the children and the number of accidents at each school.

Three judges (no one has been appointed yet) will make the final decision and the plaque will be awarded annually in June at the school patrols' picnic by the mayor.

A third presentation was made by the school patrol from Prince of Wales School to Constable Mackay. For recognition of his work at the school in organizing and helping the patrol, Donald Spearin, patrol captain, presented Constable Mackay with gold cuff links, tie clip and watch chain on behalf of the patrol.

Another banquet highlight was the singing of the safety song, the words written by William (Bud) Clarke, Inspector of Detectives, to the tune of Jingle Bells. The children then took the safety pledge.

The evening ended with movies and games in the Collegiate gym under the direction of William MacFarlane, YMCA boys' work secretary. Each boy and girl was presented treats when leaving.

Steel Production Sets U.K. Record

LONDON (AP) — Britain's steel production hit a record last month as the industry's multi-billion-pound modernization program neared completion.

During November Britain was producing steel at an annual rate of nearly 18,000,000 tons compared with a rate of 17,044,000 tons in October. The November output makes it easier for Britain to reach its 1952 target of 16,000,000 tons of steel by the end of this month. The country began the year with an acute shortage, producing at a rate little more than 15,000,000 tons.

Last month's output beat the previous monthly record — November, 1950 — when steel was turned out at an annual rate of 17,472,000 tons. The improved output was achieved by building big new blast furnaces to make more pig-iron and the erection of many new coking ovens.

The program of new installations, now nearing completion, began in 1946.

35 Stores Ignore Agreement Remain Open

More than 35 stores in the downtown area disregarded the Chamber of Commerce retail section's agreement on half-day closing Wednesday afternoon and remained open until regular day closing times. On Tuesday six of the larger variety, ladies clothing and department stores announced that they planned to remain open all day Wednesday, contrary to the retail section's decision on October 1 to observe the half holiday as usual. Other stores, following the announcement, changed their closing plans also.

One large departmental store manager said his store decided to stay open to "give the people an apportunity to shop a little longer at this time of the year." He added that his employees, in most cases, were satisfied to work, desiring the extra money for their Christmas purchases.

BUSINESS FAIR

Practically all the store managers agreed "that we didn't expect too much" in sales but as several added "every little bit counts".

Most stores found business comparable to an average day not in the Christmas season. Business picked up about 3 p.m. after a slow start and in most stores was "fair" until 4:30 p.m.

The stores found that most of their customers came downtown for a specific purchase and generally bought it, rather than window shopping.

The jewellery stores, ladies' clothing shops, shoe stores, electric appliance stores, and men's clothing shops, variety and departmental stores stayed open. There were exceptions. Particularly the smaller shops, and most noticeably two large department stores. All the grocery and hardware stores were closed.

Christmas store hours were first discussed by the retail section in June, and in October the stores decided to close December 17 (Wednesday afternoon) and remain open during the evenings of December 19, 20, 22 and 23 until 9 p.m.

When the six stores decided to stay open on Tuesday, James Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said that there was no legal factor involved in store hour agreements for December but that it was merely a co-operation priniciple.

Child Struck By Car Scraped, Bruised

A six-year-old girl was knocked to the pavement and slightly injured Wednesday afternoon when she ran into the path of a car on George St. near McDonnel St.

She is Linda Trew, 260 Armour Rd. Hospital authorities said today she suffered a lacerated forehead, a bruised right knee and thigh, and is in good condition.

Driver of the car, John L. Hamilton, Sperling, Man., said the girl ran out from the east curb without looking, directly into the path of the car. She was struck by the front bumper.

GOES TO OSHAWA

The Rev. A. E. Irwin of Minden and formerly of St. Catharines will assume duties as rector of Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Oshawa, on the first Sunday in January it was announced in Toronto today. The Rev. E. H. McLellan rector of the Oshawa church for the past 12 years is going to Trinity Church, Aurora.

Mother, Two Sons Sue For Damages In Man's Death

An action for damages has been entered in Supreme Court by Mrs. Charlotte Barker, 31, of Hastings, and her two school-age boys against John S. Kidd of RR 1, Warsaw. The case is being heard at the non-jury sittings, Mr. Justice Danis presiding. Kidd was one of the drivers in a two-car accident on Oct. 28, 1949, on Highway 7, a little more than 10 miles east of Peterborough. The other driver was Thaine Barker, 47, Mrs. Barker's husband. He was killed when his panel truck veered off the highway and crashed head-on into a tree.

PASSING ON HILL

Kidd was also going east at the time and evidence indicated that he started to pass Barker's truck at the bottom of a long hill. For a distance they went more or less parallel and as an oncoming car approached the Kidd car edged back toward the north lane of traffic.

Both vehicles veered south off the highway. Barker hit a tree headon, and Kidd sideswiped a tree.

Mrs. Barker and her two boys—Wayne 9, and Larry 6—are suing for damages under a provision in the Fatal Accidents Act.

J. C. N. Currelly and R. N. Starr of Toronto are counsel for the plaintiffs and T. J. Carley, QC, is counsel for the defendant, Kidd.

The case is continuing.

Two-A-Day Mail 'Under Consideration'

OTTAWA (CP) — Postmaster General Cote said today the possibility of restoration of two-a-day mail deliveries is "still under consideration" by the government.

The minister made the statement in reply to a question by G. K. Fraser (PC—Peterborough West).

Mail deliveries were reduced to one a day by the government as an economy measure at the last session of Parliament.

Tomorrow's Dairy Cow May Kill Insects

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tomorrow's dairy cow may do her own insect killing. So may other farm animals.

The agriculture department reported today it is testing a method of injecting farm animals with insecticides.

Once injected under the skin of the animal, the insecticide is carried through the bloodstream to all parts of the animal's body.

A fly or mosquito that pierces the animal's skin in an attempt to feed on its blood is dosed with insecticide, and dies.

Wilfred Langan Elected To Head Recreation Com.

A four-year member of the recreation commission, Wilfred Langan, has been elected chairman of the commission to succeed R. J. Bolton. Mr. Langan is also chairman of the East Central Recreation zone.

Mr. Bolton told commission members this week that after four years as chairman he felt that he should step down. A commission veteran, Mr. Bolton has still another year to serve.

Mr. Langan for the past year has been the commission vice-chairman and at the same time chairman of the policy committee. He served previously as chairman of the music and drama committee.

G. B. (Bev) Goulding was elected vice-chairman while R. E. Macdonald and Alex Sinclair were acclaimed as treasurer and secretary respectively. Committee chairmen will be selected at the January meeting.

SEAL SALES

The Peterborough County Tuberculosis Association has received $4,800 to date from the sale of Christmas seals. The 1952 objective is $9,000.

20-Day Blackout Began In B.C., Ends In Ont.

TORONTO (CP)—Albert Thomas Hetherington was walking down the street at Kitchener the other day when a buzzing started in his mind and he began looking for the harbor at Victoria.

"This isn't Victoria, this is Kitchener," an astonished stranger replied to his question and Mr. Hetherington of Victoria and Alberni, B. C., began the long road back from a 20-day memory lapse.

The last thing the 47-year-old janitor remembers before the blackout was making a $2 Grey Cup bet on Argos in the streets of Nanaimo, B. C. Since then baffled RCMP officers have sought him along the West coast. Most of this time he was working as an orderly in Kitchener hospital.

GREW UP IN EAST

Mr. Hetherington has no idea how he got from Nanaimo to Kitchener or why he made the trip. Psychiatrists said they believe his unwitting return to central Ontario may in some way be connected with an unhappy childhood spent in virtual servitude to a farmer in Kitchener district. The 12 days as a hospital orderly they link with a period in 1939 when he was in hospital while serving with the Calgary Highlanders. While convalescing he assisted in the wards of Belcher military hospital, Calgary.

Mr. Hetherington told his story here yesterday. Friendless and bewildered, he passed a city newspaper building and recognized the name because he subscribed to the paper in Port Alberni. He entered the building and told his story.

Mr. Hetherington went to the telegraph office to let his wife know he was all right. He still remembered he had been working in the hospital and returned to get the address of the boarding - house where he had lived.

HEART ATTACK

Mr. and Mrs. Hetherington moved from Victoria to Alberni one month before the blackout. The move was made necessary after Mr. Hetherington suffered a heart attack and had to give up his painting and decorating business. It was then he obtained a caretaking job.

Just before that he lost all his life savings trying to build his own home near Cranbrook. He went broke before the house was completed.

Court Delays Decision On Stabbing

To Announce Tuesday If Knott Will Face Trial For Murder

Decision was reserved Wednesday in the preliminary hearing of a murder charge against 21-year-old Gale Knott, Curve Lake Indian charged with the murder of Wesley Taylor, 26.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC, said he would give his decision Tuesday as to whether Knott would be committed for trial.

A statement, partly oral and partly written, was admitted by the magistrate over objections from defence counsel W. J. Arthur Fair, QC. OPP Corporal Jack Munroe testified that the oral portion of the statement was taken before Knott was warned.

LAWYER PROTESTS

Mr. Fair also protested what he called "brutality" by the police in taking Knott to view the body of Taylor. Corp. Munroe said the purpose of this was to further identify Taylor, who had already been identified by his brother, Austin.

The corporal said he was first notified in connection with the case about 2:25 a.m. Nov. 22, the morning after the stabbing. He and Constable Gordon Grey drove to the home of Mrs. Susie Knott, near which Taylor's body was found.

They spoke to John Taylor, a brother of the dead man, who gave them the clothing he had taken from his brother's body. Taylor testified in the morning hearing that he had changed his brother's rain-soaked clothes for dry ones.

On a brown jersey taken from the dead man, there was a reddish stain on the front close to the neck; there was no blood on any other article of clothing, Corp. Munroe testified.

BROUGHT HERE

At the home of Donald Taylor, they met Knott, whom they spoke with and later took to Lakefield for the purpose of "further identifying the deceased". Later they took the accused to OPP headquarters in Peterborough where they questioned him, then warned him and took a written statement.

Trustees Council Seeking Organize Like Teachers

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Trustees' Council is seeking the same legislative power to organize that was granted to teachers eight years ago. If granted, the trustees could meet teachers on such matters as salaries on a more equal footing.

The council at a meeting here drew up a draft of legislation needed to incorporate itself as the official co-ordinating body of the seven trustee groups in Ontario. The draft has been sent to the provincial government and member school boards.

It is hoped action will be taken at the next session of the legislature.

Until three years ago, each of the seven trustee organizations acted completely independent of the others and there were no correlation of activities or discussion of common problems. Then the groups decided to form the council, made up of two members of each organization, to unify their activities. The provincial legislation sought would give the council legal status.

GROUPS INVOLVED

The seven groups involved are the Urban and Rural Trustees' Association, the Ontario Public School Trustees' Association, the Associated High School Boards of Ontario, the Northern Ontario Public and Secondary School Trustees' Association, the Ontario Separate School Trustees' Association, the Ontario Trustees' and Ratepayers' Association, and the Bilingual Trustees' Association.

Slightly more than half the 4,000 school boards in the province belong to one or more of the groups. The jurisdiction of some of the groups overlap.

The situation is somewhat parallel to the teachers' organizations. In 1944, under the Teachers' Professional Act, the Ontario Teachers' Federation was formed to speak for all teachers in the province. The OTF was made up of the five member groups covering all branches of the teaching profession and was given certain powers by the legislature, including the right to blacklist a school board. While the OTF spoke with one voice for the teachers, the trustees' reply was often a dissonant chorus.

A spokesman for the trustees' council said it is hoped a permanent organization will be formed with a full-time secretary. It is anticipated that advice will be given to any board in the province which asks for it.

At its meeting here, the trustees' council also decided to ask each school board in the province to establish committees comprised of trustees and teachers to discuss mutual problems. Such a committee has been operating in Toronto for several years now and discusses such things as salary proposals.

President of the council is Charles Hulse of Ottawa.

Build Bailey Bridge

TORONTO (CP)—A wash-out on a road crossing at the forest tree nursery, Orono, provided army engineers with some bridge-building practice recently. Floods had taken o utpaortionoftheappro to ach out a portion of the approach to the dam and attached bridge on this road which crosses lands and forests department property at Orono, 50 miles from Toronto. The engineers from Toronto and Hamilton erected a bailey bridge to restore local traffic.

Down Payment Remains Same

OTTAWA (CP)—Value of cigarettes released for consumption in Canada last year was about $315,000,000, State Secretary Bradley said in a reply tabled Wednesday in the Commons for Rev E. G. Hansell (SC—Macleod). He said the excise tax on the cigarettes was $79,812,000 and the excise duty $94,193,000 but was unable to give the sales tax figure.

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada imported 9,900 tons of refined sugar from Cuba in the first nine months of this year, State Secretary Bradley informed C. D. Coyle (PC—Elgin). In reply to a series of questions, he said this sugar is subject to a duty of $1.89 per 100 pounds. He added Canada has no agreement to buy Cuban refined sugar.

OTTAWA (CP)—The government is not planning to reduce the 20-per-cent down-payment provision for home loans under the National Housing Act, Resources Minister Winters said in the Commons Wednesday. The minister, in charge of housing, was replying to a question from P. T. Hellyer (L—Davenport) who said there were newspaper reports that steps were being taken to reduce the down payment on government-guaranteed loans.

Object To Students Smoking In Bus

OAKVILLE (CP)—Members of the high school board in this town midway between Toronto and Hamilton are all heated up—but it's the pupils that are smoking.

Board members objected to the high school students smoking on the school bus. The principal ordered the bus driver to put off any student who smokes.

The trouble is, says a board member, the driver is smoking too.

Most Viruses Hit Once Then You May Be Immune

BY RISHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The key to present and future virus research is an observation made 163 years ago. The English scientist, Edward Jenner, noted that milkmaids who had recovered from cowpox never got smallpox.

That was the beginning of studies that may some day conquer those dread virus diseases, like polio. Jenner's observation was the first recognition of the phenomenon of immunity — if you recover from the most virus diseases the chances are you won't get them again.

When a virus invades your system, your body goes to work and manufactures antibodies. Those particles in your blood fight the virus. In some diseases, such as measles, the antibodies stay in your blood the rest of your life, and you are permanently immune. In others, such as the common cold, the immunity is very short, or possibly non-existent.

This is natural immunity. Many of us have become naturally immune to polio, through extremely mild attacks in childhood. In Egypt, where sanitary conditions are poor, nearly all children have been discovered to have polio antibodies in their bloodstreams by the time they're two.

IMMUNITY SLOWER

But in our sanitary-conscious world, immunity is slower. Our children are guarded against contamination. As sanitation improves, natural immunity declines.

So science has turned to artificial immunity as the best way to conquer the virus. You can be made artificially immune to some diseases in different ways.

You can be injected with antibodies (serum) made in someone else's body. You can be vaccinated with live viruses, and thus contract a controlled, mild case of the disease and roll your own antibodies.

You can be vaccinated with "killed" viruses, which induce antibodies to form without creating the disease. You can be vaccinated with modified live viruses, which are ordinary viruses that science has tamed so that they produce antibodies but not the disease.

Theoretically, all these sound fine. But serum immunity may not last long. Live virus vaccinations may be too strong and produce too virulent an attack. Killed virus vaccinations may be too mild. And some viruses just refuse to be tamed for modified vaccine.

But some diseases have been controlled in these ways. Measles has been licked by an injection of a concentrate of antibodies taken from a cured individual's bloodstream. Smallpox and yellow fever immunity can be conferred by live virus vaccines. The latest in the long series is a vaccine against mumps, made from a killed virus.

As an example of research in the works, consider polio. So far, obviously, polio vaccines have been unsuccessful. Today, research into two types is progressing.

In the field of polio serum, 54,000 children were inoculated in Provo, Utah; Sioux City, Ia., and Houston Tex., in tests conducted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. It was during a polio epidemic. Half of the youngsters received a useless substance, half got gamma globulin, the part of the blood containing antibodies.

Nobody knew which child got which. The vials were numbered, and the Foundation kept records. Of the 27,000 who got GG, only 26 contracted paralyzing polio. Of the 27,000 in the control group, 64 were attacked, and these were generally more severe than the GG group.

This is looked on as an encouraging statistical result, nothing more. GG immunity is only temporary, perhaps lasting a month. Its future use would probably be during the height of a severe epidemic, not for the inoculation of the child population as a whole. It is too short in supply, too expensive and not nearly potent enough to be anything more than a stop-gap protection in emergencies.

Other experiments are going forward with a modified live virus. Taming the virus is a lengthy process, and sometimes unsuccessful. It is done by breeding (passing) generation after generation of viruses in a host that is not natural to the virus. Like succeeding human generations, the characteristics sometimes change radically over many passes. Where Grandpa Virus may be a wildman, grandson may be mild.

Recently, the first successful modification of a polio virus was announced by Dr. Harold R. Cox, of Lederle Laboratories. He said that a Lansing-strain polio virus—one of three types that produce the disease—had been modified. This strain accounts for about 15 per cent of polio cases, but they are probably the most severe.

NO DISEASE SYMPTOMS

Cox said tests with this modified virus, inoculated into monkeys, produced no disease symptoms at all. It has not been tried on humans.

Two other advances are speeding work on polio. Both are aimed at supplying scientists with supplies of the virus for research. Hitherto, growing polio viruses has been complicated, slow and costly. They were harvested from monkeys infected with the disease.

Lately, three scientists at Children's Hospital in Boston succeeded in growing polio viruses in test tubes, using human and monkey tissue as a culture medium. And Cox at Lederle, simultaneously with his modified virus announcement, revealed that he had successfully grown viruses in the embryo of a chick.

Research into other phases of virus control continues. Since vaccines are relatively expensive, the search continues for a wonder drug—a new sulfa or antibiotic—which would offer a blanket control of virus diseases. There is no present indication that success is near.

Vaccines against other virus diseases are being studied. Scientists in Holland are currently testing a new influenza vaccine. A rabies vaccine now seems a definite possibility. So are vaccines for certain animal diseases which are now as baffling as some of the human virus diseases.

The future seems to be bright with healthy hope. But it will take time, patience and plenty of cash to conquer the virus completely.

ANTIBIOTIC VS VIRUS is object of this test in virology laboratory where a technician is injecting a new antibiotic, magnamycin, into chick embryos which have first been infected with a typical large virus.

Retired Editor J. H. Cranston Dies In Midland

MIDLAND, Ont. (CP)—J. Herbert Cranston, 72, retired editor and publisher of the weekly Midland Free Press Herald, died today after a month's illness. He had spent 56 years in the newspaper field and was the author of several books.

Mr. Cranston started newspaper work in 1896 as a printer's devil on the old Galt Reformer. He moved to the Galt Reporter, where his first salary was $3 a week. In 1898 he joined the staff of the Woodstock Sentinel - Review, of which he became sports editor.

He entered McMaster University in 1901 after completing his matriculation at Woodstock Collegiate. After graduation in 1904 he joined the staff of the Toronto Daily Star.

In 1907-08 he represented the Star in Ottawa as a member of the parliamentary press gallery. In 1909 he was made assistant managing editor of the paper.

His next appointment was editor of the Toronto Star Weekly, a position he held until 1933. He went from there to the Toronto Globe, then bought the weekly Midland Free Press, a paper he later combined with the Penetanguishene Herald and the Midland Argus.

Under his guidance, the Midland Free Press Herald won the Mitson trophy for the best all-around Canadians weekly newspaper of more than 2,000 circulation. Later the paper was awarded the Williams Cup for the best editorial page of any weekly in Canada.

Mr. Cranston retired July 1, 1947, as editor and publisher of the Free Press Herald, handing over his duties to his son, W. H. Cranston. However, he continued to write a regular column for the paper's editorial page.

He published two books on the history of the Midland area. One is used as a history textbook in public and high schools in the Georgian Bay region.

EXPLAINS BIOGRAPHY

He also was the author of "Etienne Brule, Immortal Scoundrel," a biography of the early French explorer of the Upper Lakes region who was the first white man to discover four and possibly all five of the Great Lakes. Mr. Cranston also wrote "Peeps at Many Lands."

His work as a newspaperman was recognized by McMaster University which awarded him an honorary degree of doctor of laws in October, 1949. As Mr. Cranston, in cap and gown, came forward to receive the red hood of a McMaster doctor of laws, Chancellor George Gilmour told him:

"You have carried in your heart for long years the work of your alma mater and the advancement of the Christian faith in your own community and beyond. You have adorned the calling of the journalist by your high standard of literary style, public information and moral integrity."

Dr. Gilmour said Mr. Cranston had served on newspaper large and small, displaying at all times an anxiety that news "be clearly and accurately reported and whole public opinion encouraged." He had worked to build the Midland Free Press Herald into an outstanding weekly newspaper, meanwhile maintaining keen interest in delving into the history of the Midland region."

OBITUARIES

MICHAEJ L. SULLIVAN

A lifetime farmer of Ennismore township, Michael M. Sullivan died on Wednesday in hospital following a prolonged illness. He was born 78 years ago, son of the late Bartholomew Sullivan and Margaret Moore, and lived all his life in the district.

He leaves one sister, Mrs. John Esper in Michigan and one brother John Sullivan in North Dakota and a niece, Mrs. Joe Corkery, at home.

Funeral will be held from the Lane funeral home on Saturday to St. Martin's Church. Requiem mass will be said at 10 a.m. and burial will be at St. Martin's cemetery.

EDWARD JOSEPH COLLINS

A Peterborough veteran of the First World War, Edward Joseph Collins, 417½ Water St., died at Sunnybrook Military Hospital, Toronto, Wednesday. He had been ill many months.

Mr. Collins was born in Ashburnham, son of the late William J. Collins and his wife, Bridget Clancy. He was educated here and had been employed here as a motor salesman with Brewer Motor Sales, J. K. Hughes, Duffus Motors, Hood and Cummings, and latterly with Dunn's Tailors.

He enlisted in July, 1915, and served overseas until May, 1919. He leaves his wife, the former Eva May Lawless, and daughter, Mrs. A. B. Harle (Nancy) of Peterborough; two sisters, Mrs. J. J. McVay (Katherine) of Holly, N.Y., and Miss Helen Collins of Montreal; and brother, Charles, of this city.

Mr. Collins was a member of the Knights of Columbus. The body is resting at the Nisbett funeral home, Charlotte St., until Saturday morning, when the funeral will take place to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem high mass at 9 a.m. Burial will be at St. Peter's Cemetery.

Arrest Jobless Tailor

NEW YORK (AP) — An unemployed tailor was arrested Wednesday night and accused of possessing $120,000 worth of marijuana. Police said they picked up Homer Jackson, 38-year-old Negro, as he walked down a Brooklyn street carrying a canvas bag containing 10 pounds of the weed. They said they found 70 more pounds at his home.

Senate Approves Criminal Code Amendments

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate Wednesday approved amendments to the Criminal Code suggested by its banking and commerce committee and sent to the Commons for action the voluminous revision of the code.

The amendments, incorporated into the proposed new code prompted only brief discussion before the upper chamber adjourned for the Christmas recess until Tuesday, Feb. 3.

Senator Arthur Roebuck (L—Ontario) suggested that as a result of the discussion in the committee on the section dealing with treason the government should consider a further revision of the code.

One proposed section which would have widened the definition of treason was inserted in another part of the code by the committee. If it had remained under treason, the penalty would have been death or life imprisonment. In the section where it was inserted the maximum penalty was 14 years.

Find Body In Well

BELLEVILLE (CP)—The body of Thomas W. Dunwoody, 74, was found Wednesday in a well on his farm north of Deseronto. He is believed to have fallen through rotted planks which covered the top of the well.

It's the 'KNOW HOW' that Counts!

HANDBALL: THE FULL-ARM UNDERHAND STROKE

1 Feet about eighteen inches apart, knees slightly bent. Body leans forward and is turned to the right as right arm swings back into position. Hitting arm is bent at the elbow and weight is on right leg. Head is set squarely and faces side wall.

2 Arm swings in front of body on the swing. Left foot takes short step forward as ball is hit. Elbow straightens slightly and ball is hit near knee height. As left foot moves, the body weight shifts forward. Eye must never leave ball.

3 Follow-through is important for control of the shot. Shoulders and arm swing about naturally with upper body rotation. Extra speed and control on this stroke comes when wrist is flexible. Ball may be hit with either cupped or flat hand.

Yes, it's "know-how" that counts in handball as in every sport—"know-how" that sets one performer above another. Learn the correct form — the "know-how" — then practise until you have mastered it and you'll get more fun and enjoyment out of your sports and game.

CLEARED OF RADIATION — Decontamination squad at the Chalk River atomic plant explores the area with geiger probes and a radiation survey meter checking for excessive radiation which leaked through a pin-point hole in the big atomic pile and forced evacuation of the 350 workers. They moved back early this week. Left to right are: Campbell Tait, head of the radiation hazard control branch; Dr. A. L. Cipriani, director of the division of biology and radiation hazard control, and Charles Gleland, radiation supervisor.

Say Simonds Recommended Retirement Of Connelly

OTTAWA (CP)—The government said Wednesday night Brig. A. B. Connelly of Calgary was retired by the Army in the interests both of the public and the Army.

Acting Defence Minister Campney, reading a statement prepared by Defence Minister Claxton, said the retirement of the 44-year-old former head of Canada's military mission in Tokyo was recommended by Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds, chief of the general staff. It was "purely a military matter."

Mr. Campney did not say why Brig. Connelly was retired other than that Gen. Simonds had recommended it and that Mr Claxton, after discussing it with the general, agreed.

ANSWER TO CHARGES

The statement was a reply to opposition charges that the brigadier, retired 11 years early, was fired as a scapegoat to cover up government embarrassment over a backfiring protest to Washington about dispatch of Canadian troops to guard Communist prisoners on Korea's Koje Island.

The Progressive Conservatives said they believe Brig. Connelly's one mistake in a brilliant career was writing instead of cabling the information that the use of the Canadians was under consideration in Tokyo.

Mr. Campney quoted Mr. Claxton, now overseas, as saying such matters as the retirement of officers are a confidential matter between himself and the head of the particular service. This was purely a military matter

Fortune In House?

TORONTO (CP)—Reports that a woman killed in a traffic accident Tuesday night had between $10,000 and $50,000 hidden in her tiny home have led to the placing of a 'round-the-clock police guard at the dwelling in suburban Lakeview. Mrs. Julia Curnew, 68, was fatally injured when struck by a car. Reports got around that the woman, a recluse, had a huge amount of cash hidden in her cottage. Neighbors said she lived frugally and didn't believe in banks.

Youth 15, Gets George Medal

LONDON (AP)—John Bamford, a 15-year-old Newthorpe coal mine worker who helped save his mother and three other children from their blazing home, Tuesday was awarded the George Cross, Britain's highest honor for bravery outside military combat. He is the youngest person ever to receive the award.

John and his father rescued the rest of the family from the fire Oct. 19. The boy crawled through flames to a bedroom and seized two younger brothers from their beds. He dropped one through a window to safety but the other became hysterical and ran back into the flames. John chased the screaming child, caught him and threw him out the window.

The young hero now is in a hospital suffering from bad burns.

"I think its a bit daft," he said. "I didn't really do anything."

APPROXIMATELY 1,900 married army personnel from Canada's sc NATO formation in Germany will have returned home to loved ones by Christmas. The greater number of them are loaded down with a variety of toys constructed by master craftsmen of Europe. Among recent arrivals were the above group, testing their gifts aboard ship.

Japanese Girls Who Tempt Canadians Blamed For Causing 'Reign Of Terror'

(The Japanese press has reported a "reign of terror" by Commonwealth troops in Kure. Bill Boss, Canadian Press staff writer with the Canadian forces in Korea, was sent to Japan to investigate. In this story one of a series, he describes conditions in the city and the temptations in the way of servicemen there.)

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

KURE, Japan (CP)—Col. Willis Moogk of Ottawa, colonel in charge of administration for the 25th Canadian brigade, says Kure "caters to the soldier's baser instincts."

The only part of Kure the soldier sees does, anyway.

An indication of the atmosphere in this city of sin is a Canadian army order telling troops what to do if they are molested by Japanese prostitutes. It explains soliciting for prostitution is illegal in Japan, but the police can't lay a charge unless the accosted person complains.

"Service personnel who have been accosted and wish to make a complaint should go the nearest police box, or to any M.P. (military police) patrol or civilian policeman," says the order.

Two nights before it was published, I saw two Canada-bound Canadians—members of the 1st battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry literally hauled off their feet by three girls keen on detaining them.

FEWER OFFENCES

Canadian military and civil offences in Kure have fallen from an August peak of 18 a day to six a day in October. Another eight offences weekly by Canadians against Japanese are settled by Canadian Army legal officers before they reach the civil police.

But even at the peak, the "reign of terror" reported by the Japanese press was created by the Japanese themselves. Of more than 3,000 serious crimes in Kure from April 28 to Nov. 15, only 239 were committed by Commonwealth troops including 97 Ly Canadians.

Kure, which has headquarters and base installations of British Commonwealth Forces in Korea, has a population of 193,000 counting its satellite city of Hiromachi. It was heavily bombed during the war. Since then its huge arsenals and naval base have been outlawed. New industries can't come in until factory buildings, used for Korean war purposes by the Australians, are released.

Some 10,000 to 12,000 Kure men and women are employed by the Commonwealth forces. As many more probably are employed by firms supplying the forces.

Most of the rest of the city lives off the spending of troops stationed here and those in transit to and from Korea.

Many of the troops are relaxing after front-line tension. They are interested in amusement and souvenirs. Kure abounds in trinket shops supporting entire families, their cousins and their aunts.

"And the shopping districts of Kure and Hiromachi—a 20-minute drive from downtown Kure—are full of pin-ball dives, cabarets, beer halls and "tea shops" staffed by hostesses who are available for other purposes than serving tea.

There also is an extensive red-light district. There are almost 3,000 recognized—although not licensed—prostitutes. There are 115 licensed prostitute brokers. Registered with the public health department are 54 beer halls and cabarets employing 284 waitresses; 119 hotels with 357 room maids; 640 "tea shops" licensed to serve beer and spirits. There are 24 high-class geisha houses. Other meeting places include six licensed dance halls and five "dance-training schools."

"These people will do anything for food—and I mean anything," said one Canadian officer.

These are the only Japanese the visiting soldier meets. Turn loose into that atmosphere a soldier just out of the line and on the way home, and trouble often follows.

Chief Matsuo Kirihara of the Kure municipal police told me his force is more worried about the Japanese crime to which Commonwealth soldiers contribute than the amount of crime Commonwealth troops themselves commit.

Japanese who committed 1,948 armed robberies and 214 assaults between April and November mostly used Canadian and Australian service pistols and revolvers.

"Your men use the weapons to pay prostitutes," he said.

"The girls sell them to Japanese. Since May we've recovered 24 such weapons and suspect there are many more in circulation. One of my men was killed in September with one of the guns. The man later arrested said he got it from a prostitute."

Chief Kirihara said he wants to prevent crime rather than punish criminals. He wants more Japanese in military police patrols.

Col. Moogk and other Commonwealth officers said they agree there should be close liaison between military and civil authorities. Moogk said an increase in the number of Canadians in the base military police company has "the sole object of keeping our chaps out of trouble."

LADDER TO SAFETY—A crew member (arrow) of the U.S. Navy supply ship Grommet Reefer clambers down a ladder to a rescue boat as the broken stern of the vessel wallows in the Leghorn, Italy, harbor. The Grommet Reefer was split in two after hitting a reef about 200 yards offshore during a storm. Winds of gale force hampered rescuers, but all 39 survivors were hauled to safety by breeches buoy and launches after an all-night ordeal.

St. Michael's Choir Heard In Recital In Lindsay

LINDSAY (ENS) — A good crowd attended last night's choral concert of the St. Michael's Choir School and Boys' Choir, directed by Msgr. J. E. Ronan, and were well rewarded for their attendance.

Singing a program of Christmas numbers both popular and spiritual and some solos from secular music, the members of the choir demonstrated both in solo work and their group numbers the efficiency and control experienced by Msgr. Ronan in training and directing them, and which has made the choir one of the best known and loved in Ontario religious circles.

Ranging from the youngest boy sopranos to the older graduates of the school singing in the tenor and bass section, the boys went through a program of difficult and inspiring Christmas music that lifted the spirits of all who heard them. It was the choir's first appearance in Lindsay. The amazing clarity of tone and enunciation of the lead sopranos was demonstrated in the solo numbers, which were a feature of the program.

The outstanding singer of the group, both in the minds of the audience and in the program planning, was young Michael Parlaplatti, with a wonderful soprano voice and a real stage manner.

Msgr. Ronan, has, in fact, trained the boys to great showmanship in some of their numbers, and this training was especially evident in some of the solo selections. Parlaplatti thrilled the audience with his "Ave Maria," and encored with a brilliant "Virgin's Slumber Song." Other soprano soloists who impressed the audience were John Adams, singing an aria from "The Marriage of Figaro," and also taking a solo part in "Adeste Fidelis," the program's finale.

John Coopmans, an angelic-like soprano, started with the simple "Road to Bethlehem," and then, at Msgr. Ronan's urging, showed his brilliance in "Russian Nightingale," a most difficult piece for a coloratural voice. The tenor singing of Donald Young, in an aria from "Manon" and soprano solo, "Il Est Ne Le Devine Enfant," concluded the solo works.

The bass and tenor section of choir sounded through in every number, adding power and depth to the high clear singing of the sopranos and altos, with just the right blending of old and young voices in each number. Two classical numbers, "In the Cathedral," a Russian carol, put to the tune of "Andante Cantabile," by Tchaikovsky, and "Sing Praise to the Lord," an arrangement of the 150th Psalm, by Cesar Franck, were outstanding examples of the work that has gone into the molding of this choir and the training absorbed by every member, from the oldest down.

But it was the familiar Christmas songs that caught the fancy of the crowd most, and there was a good selection, all showing the versatility of the group.

Trade With Dollar Area Key To Economic Crisis

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The North American continent is so well off that other countries find it difficult to move in the same circles.

This fact, in various wording, pops into about every discussion of world trade problems.

For instance, the recent Commonwealth economic conference in London, noting that various countries have felt it necessary to restrict their buying of American goods, phrases it as follows:

"The rate of progress in removing discrimination will depend upon the advance toward equilibrium between the United States and the rest of the world."

MUST SELL

This is another way of saying that other countries can't buy from the United States (or Canada) unless they can sell there, and until their prosperity more nearly approaches America's.

Canada took part in the conference and its decisions are of great importance to her, but in a commercial way her interest is similar to that of the United States.

The communique outlining the conference decisions, some say, is a constructive document. Others call it a meaningless recital of good intentions.

It can be argued, however, that even as a statement of good intentions it has unusual significance at this time.

NO RESTRICTIONS

It is rather a relief to find that the good intentions are not accompanied, as they have so often been, by a list of new emergency restrictions. The intentions are immediate, rather than deferred.

More important, the document seems to set the stage for possible developments on a broader international scale by declaring an intention to deal with certain internal matters that have been the subject of outside criticism. It would curb rising prices; promote higher production; provide more goods that may be sold abroad; encourage investment in sound developments.

In all, one can get the impression that the document, aside from its merits within the Commonwealth, is aimed at the next step in an international way — probably a conference with the United States.

U.S. OBJECTIVE

One can get the impression that all the objections which the United States might raise have been considered, and an effort made to answer them in advance.

One might interpret the document as saying, in effect, particularly to the United States:

"Our situation has been bad, but it is better. At the same time, it is not good enough. In our mutual interest, what should be done about it?"

Like all expressions of good intentions, the ultimate result will depend upon the determination and ability of all concerned to make them effective.

Study Ways To Educate Mentally-Retarded

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario government will study ways to educate mentally - retarded children, Health Minister Phillips said Wednesday.

"The departments of education, health and welfare will study this project and try to find out the line of demarcation between children educable and ineducable," Dr. Phillips said.

Form Chamber In Haliburton

LINDSAY (ENS) — Haliburton County will set up a Chamber of Commerce in an effort to build up the tourist attraction of the county and its centres.

An organizational meeting, under the auspices of the Haliburton County Tourist Association, was attended by about 30 business men from the county. The meeting was in charge of Harold Proctor, president of the Tourist Association.

Mr. Proctor told the group that the association had, in several recent meetings, talked over the possibility of establishing a Chamber of Commerce in the county. The association members had worked out some of the details of the working of a Chamber of Commerce, and he presented them to the meeting.

Two members of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce, Dave Thomson, president, and Harold Pollock, secretary-manager, were on hand and both described the advantages of such an organization, outlining the type of work done by their Chamber. A general meeting of the county tourist associations will be held in the near future, to decide whether the members of that body will resign en masse to give the new organization more strength.

Two Newsmen Given Awards

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alton L. Blakeslee, a science reporter for The Associated Press, and Morton M. Hunt, a freelance writer, won $1,000 awards Wednesday for science writing.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science named the writers, both New Yorkers, to receive the annual AAS-George Westinghouse awards.

Blakeslee, son of the late Howard W. Blakeslee, long-time science editor of The AP, was the winner in the field of newspaper science writing. His prize-winning project was a series of four articles based on a visit to the Jackson memorial laboratory at Bar Harbor, Me.

Hunt won his prize for an article "Neurosis Factory," in the July issue of Esquire Magazine.

Misused $56,000 Priest Surrenders

ZURICH, Switzerland (Reuters)—A Roman Catholic priest denounced himself to authorities here for misusing 224,000 Swiss francs (nearly $56,000) to play the role of benefactor to poor families, it was disclosed today.

The priest, Rev. M. Eggler of Dietikon, about 10 miles east of here, is alleged to have obtained loans for charity from banks and individuals by giving false declarations.

He confessed to the Zurich canton council of state and was relieved of his duties and arrested.

NATO Council Plans To Meet In Spring

PARIS (AP) — The NATO council of ministers decided today to meet here again next spring. No date was fixed.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting expected to be held after a projected meeting of President-elect Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill in Washington.

Governor Resigns

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Douglas McKay, who will become secretary of interior in the Eisenhower cabinet next month, resigned as governor of Oregon Wednesday. Paul Patterson, 52, who as president of the state senate was first in line under Oregon law to succeed McKay, was sworn into office as governor. He will serve until January, 1955.

Mine Executive Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Joseph C. Rovensky, 66, international banker and head of large mining interests in Canada and Bolivia, died Wednesday. Rovensky was board chairman of Patino Mines and Enterprises Consolidated, Inc., outstanding tin producer operating in Bolivia, and president of Patican Company, Ltd., which mines gold and nickel in Canada.

City's Progress Amazes Former Resident

"Although I keep posted through the Examiner on the progress of Peterborough, I was really amazed on my recent visit to the old home town," writes Ernest Hensley of Flint, Mich.

"I particularly wanted to see the new City Hall, and when I called there I met my old friend Art Metheral. He arranged to take me on a drive through new sections, and it was a revelation. There appeared to be thousands of new houses, and they looked to me to be the symbols of good homes.

"I was delighted to see the large factory extensions, new Civic Hospital and large improvement to St. Joseph's.

"I was greatly impressed by the new Collegiate Institute which bears the name of Mr. Kenner. New schools and the postal-customs house, new churches, all denoted a thriving and prosperous city. I told some of my old friends that they had to get away from Peterborough to see what a smart looking city it is.

"Speaking of churches, I was invited to a musicale given by the Salvation Army Temple Band and chorus. The hall was packed. The band and chorus must rate among the best in Canada. The band is always ready to help in public affairs. It is very advanced in ability and the quality of its music, and with so many young men whom I notice I am sure the band has great possibilities.

"I thought the City Hall was superb. It was a pleasure to meet the officials, some of whom I know well. I thought the lobby with its map in the floor was very distinctive. So, I discovered the new Peterborough, and I hope to return next summer to see the parks and playgrounds, as thousands do from here, to enjoy the scenic beauty of your lakes and river."

Jewel Cache Found

NEW YORK (AP) — An anonymous telephone tip today led to between $10,000 and $15,000 in stolen jewelry hidden in a subway station locker. The gems were part of a $25,000 haul in a robbery Tuesday of a Broadway jewelry store. The tip was made to the Daily Mirror. The newspaper called police.

6-Foot, 280-Lb. Queen Picks Wardrobe For Coronation

AUCKLAND (Reuters) — Queen Salote of Tonga, six-foot-three, 280-pound monarch of the idyllic "Islands of Love," arrived here recently to choose a new wardrobe for the Coronation of Elizabeth in London next June 2.

The only Commonwealth queen outside Britain, Salote will attend the Coronation as a state guest. She is expected to spend about three months here preparing for the trip.

The 52-year-old handsome ruler has always followed the fashion styles of Britain's Queen Mary and will probably choose long stately dresses and robes for her first western visit in 21 years.

She will bring to Elizabeth the greetings of one of the world's happiest and friendliest peoples, who have adhered to the Commonwealth in peace and loyalty for the last 51 years.

The Tonga, a group of about 150 islands 600 miles east of Australia in the southwest Pacific, fight no wars, pay no taxes, have no national debt, no housing shortage, and no economic worries.

They were first named the Friendly Islands after the reception Capt. Cook received when he landed there 180 years ago.

A giant tortoise, presented by Cook to the islands' chief, still strolls benignly about the palace gardens, the symbol of Tonga's friendship with Britain.

In 1901, Salote's grandfather sought protection from native wars and asked for incorporation as a self-governing member of the Commonwealth. Tonga has been run by a Parliament on the British system ever since.

Salote was educated in New Zealand and speaks perfect English. Before the war she played a powerful game of golf, but is less active today. Her name is a localized version of "Charlotte."

Her reputation as one of the world's best hostesses grows yearly. A wedding feast for the double marriage of her two sons three years ago took 10 days.

She carries her 280 pounds with grace and dignity, and her copper skin and grey hair add to her regal appearance. She is a pure Maori—the tribe which originally peopled New Zealand—and can trace her regal ancestry back 900 years.

Her husband, Prince Tuni, whom she married in 1917, died in 1942. They had two sons, the eldest of whom, also called Prince Tugi, is Crown Prince.

French Fashions Come To London

By ALISON SETTLE

The eve of Coronation Year sees an upsurge of activity in London's business world of fashion and women's requirements. Decorators are devising delicate color schemes in pale greys, pinks and blues. New and elaborate beauty-treatment premises are opening. Embroiderers and fur workers are being actively advertised for: skilled millinery hands of the first rank are no longer to be got because the milliners' workrooms are already overflowing with business.

In the fashion field, the "wholesale couture" collections designed and made in London to be sold by two of England's leading dress-manufacturing firms by the Paris designers Christian Dior and Pierre Balmain are symptomatic of this liveliness. Pierre Balmain's London-created collection, shown by Rembrandt in their wholesale showrooms, was small, beginning with featherweight Yorkshire worsteds and flannels, continuing first with white summertime dresses and jackets, and ending with a series of brilliant cocktail and garden-party clothes in British silks. They are to be sold in leading stores at prices set modestly at between fifteen and twenty-five guineas.

Christian Dior's London-made collection, shown at the Savoy Hotel, was, on the contrary, dramatically important, including just over ninety garments whose selling prices may range from thirty up to a hundred guineas when sold in the big stores, partly owing to the richness of the fabrics (ninety per cent. British) which he has used, but chiefly owning to the lavishness of the embroidery. Mr. Dior is delighted to find that the leading art schools here with dress design departments taught excellent embroidery methods to their pupils, who are now working admirably with experienced older women brought back to the workrooms after years in which only a minimum of such fine work has been ordered.

Among the British textiles used, Christian Dior (London) is using polished flannels for suits, often in navy-blue, also in a blend of grey and primrose, made with slim skirts and jackets whose peplums are built out cage-wise over the front hip-bones, as in the manner which he used for elaborate dresses in his collection of last July. Revers are few, replaced by collars some three inches wide and, like the hems of many of his clothes, left softly unpressed. Peplums of jackets and skirts of suits are cut to incline very slightly backwards, skirt-lines and jacket hems being an inch to two inches longer at the back, but so quietly done as to be almost unnoticeable to the eye. His skirts, although pencil slim in front, either fold back behind the hips or have (his day-time signature effect of this winter) three long pleats at the back, and the centre one shorter and inverted, the outer ones long and folding backwards.

Accessory details include the wearing of small organza neckerchiefs in white, knotted at the throat into rabbit-ear ends or twisted into beads at the throat-line; also double-headed, jewelled pins thrust into the fabric at left shoulder and hipline.

Face-cloth coats for town wear are closely fitted, unbelted, very slim, with deep vents at centre-back of skirts for easy movement, and slim sleeves seamed on the outer-arm; they have wide, smooth revers and may be in navy, black or a rose-red shade.

Christian Dior was charmed with the London silks and organdies offered him and chose several of those which have an all-over pattern, richly colored, of flower-heads, some in blues and greens combined, others in rose to scarlet tones. The little scribbled pattern on white which he used in earlier collections continues, but not so frequently. Most of these dresses, though deep cut in front, are modestly covered on the shoulders, even when provided with waist-length matching jackets.

The covering of shoulders marks the difference between day-time dresses of this kind and evening clothes, whether short length (between ten and seven inches from ground) or long. The majority of Dior's evening clothes in his London collection are ground length, many of the skirts trailing on the ground behind. In delicate pale tones of silvery white, of cloud blue, palest pink, they are lavishly spattered with gleaming embroideries of silver and gold thread and worked with diamante beads like frost.

A collection hardly less beautiful than this was that of Frederick Starke, who is reckoned leader of London's wholesale couture. He, too, uses "romantic" British silks, some crisp as parchment, others gentle; he likes silks (woollens also) woven with a blend of nylon, also a blend of Manchester cotton with nylon. His morning dresses are often, like Christian Dior's, in featherweight flannels. His elegant suits, cut in the manner of the "Corinthian bucks", the elegant young men of the Regency period at the opening of the nineteenth century, are usually in worsted.

The majority of evening dresses are now embroidered, as Arthur Banks makes them in his new collection, down the front of the dress only, in the correct manner for Coronation robes, since peeresses do not wish to spend hours on end sitting on beadwork embroideries which in any case would be hidden by the crimson robes of ceremony.

(OFNS)

WITH THE HOLIDAY SEASON just aroused the corner, shoes for evening wear make their bow to the festive season in a flutter of feminine loveliness. Luxurious kid in silver and gold, rich velvet and delicate satins have made their contribution to this season's glamor footwear. Here is a preview of the shoe picture for those important occasions ahead. Top left, a truly feminine evening shoe is this silver or gold kid, or a combination of both. Made up of narrow kid straps twirled into a rosette design over the vamp. Right, for dancing and dreaming at the Christmas ball, delicate white satin sandals with medium high heel. Vamp a-glitter for sheer prettiness. Lower left, a shoe to be seen in is this rich crimson velvet pump, luxuriously lined with gold kid. Hoops of rhinestones trim coronet of velvet across the throat of the vamp. Right, gossamer light silver or gold kid mesh makes this sling-back pump a definite party shoe. Interesting cut-out design at side and wide open toe adds to the festive mood.

Rundown, Nerves On Edge "Would Lie Awake Till All Hours Of The Night"

Also Suffered From Stomach Troubles For Years, Says This Woman. Gratefully Tells How Syntona Helped Her. Now Nerves Relaxed, Sleep Sound and Restful.

"For years before I found out about Syntona I suffered with stomach troubles and was terribly nervous and rundown. But, thanks to this grand medicine, I am now like a different person," said Mrs. Edith Jacklin, 10 Munn Avenue, Hamilton, Ontario, in a recent report.

"Awful gas and burning distress in my stomach was so bad I was often afraid to eat. I would belch up hot, sour liquids and get dark spots floating before my eyes. Constipation and dizzy feelings were daily worries to me. I always felt tired and my nerves were so on edge I could not sleep, but would lie awake even until 5 o'clock in the mornings.

"But all that was some weeks ago before I started taking Syntona and in the meantime the change has been wonderful. I now enjoy my meals without gas, sourness or burning distress afterwards and constipation and dizzy spells do not trouble me. Best of all, my nerves are relaxed so that I am once again enjoying sound, refreshing sleep and as a result I have more strength and energy."

Syntona has been the means of helping thousands of men and women who formerly suffered from common disorders of the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels, rheumatic pains, nervousness and tired, rundown condition. It is made only from the purest herbal ingredients, is pleasant to take and results are quickly felt.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. (Advt.)

Kennel Club Tries Stop Shooting War

OSHAWA (CP)—Ontario County Kennel Club Wednesday night started a drive to end this city's shooting war on dogs.

Branches of the club across the country will be asked to join in protesting what it terms extreme cruelty to animals.

Club members were told that city council, in spite of a by-law prohibiting the firing of weapons within city limits, had authorized farmers to shoot at all dogs seen running with herds. The action was taken after a farmer claimed dogs had killed a cow and a sheep on his land.

Second Tub Victim

TORONTO (CP)—The second death of a woman in a bathtub in two days was reported here Wednesday. Police said both victims died from hear attacks as they prepared to bathe. Wednesday Mrs. Elizabeth McKellar, 78, was found dead by her daughter. Tuesday firemen broke down a bathroom door to reach Mrs. Irene Mitchell, 45.

Bankers Claim Canadian Banks Provide Service

OTTAWA (CP)—Two Canadian bankers said Wednesday that Canada's 10 chartered banks now provide a service in international trade equal to any planned by a Netherlands-controlled bank seeking incorporation by parliament.

B. C. Gardner, chairman of the Bank of Montreal, and T. H. Atkinson, general manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, also made these points before the Senate banking and commerce committee which is studying the application for incorporation:

1. More foreign banks will seek incorporation if Parliament approves the application of the Mercantile Bank of Canada, controlled by Nationale Handelsbank, N.V. of Holland.

2. The parent bank will control the new bank's operations which may include holding of deposits made by Canadians.

3. Nationale Handelsbank also operates commercial enterprises which Canadian banks do not feel they should engage in under their charters.

AJOURN HEARING

The committee adjourned study on the bill until after Christmas.

The plans of the new bank were outlined by C. S. Richardson, Montreal lawyer, and H. E. Moquette, managing director of Nationale Handelsbank. They said total capitalization would be $3,000,000 of which the Netherlands bank would put up $1,000,000 as soon as the new bank is incorporated.

Mr. Moquette said the bank aimed at operating mainly in international trade, "particularly in the Far East. The parent organization had gained considerable experience in that area.

NO COMPLAINTS

In reply to Senator W. Rupert Davies (L—Ontario), Mr. Gardner said Canadian banks handle Far Eastern business satisfactorily. He said he knows of no complaints from Canadian business men of the manner in which correspondents of Canadian banks handle affairs in the east.

Mr. Gardner and Mr. Atkinson both said no feature of the service offered by the new bank is not handled by Canadian banks.

Cruiser Voyage Ends

VICTORIA (CP)—The 3½-month cruise of HMCS Ontario which ended here Wednesday was a "tremendous success from the standpoint of good will," Capt. E. H. Tisdall, her commanding officer, reported. The 9,000-ton cruiser circumnavigated South America on this voyage intended to cement Canadian relations with the four principal countries of that continent. "The sailors did very well as Canadian ambassadors," said Capt. Tisdall.

THIS "CLOSE-UP" PICTURE of the Moon is one of the several made in October with the huge 200-inch Hale Telescope on Palomar Mountain in Southern California. In eight by ten size, this reproduction is the same size as the original plate. The large crater at lower right is Copernicus, one of the Moon's best-known features. The Sun is lighting the Moon from the left as the picture was taken.

SKATING AT 78

GODERICH, Ont. (CP)—Daniel Wiggins donned his skates again when roller-skating was revived this season at the Goderich Memorial Arena. Now 78, he showed some of the dexterity that won him the Canadian roller skating championship in 1908.

Trash Can No Place For Pretty Jars Salvage Empties For Creative Hobby

This housewife turns used glass containers into vases, sewing shelf. She also makes lamps, hanging ivy planters, ash trays and other useful articles as gifts for her friends. Pressed into service are shampoo bottles, jelly glasses, syrup bottles, pickle jars and other bottles of common household use. She works at her hobby in odd moments, finding it both pleasant and a definite aid to trimming her budget.

What do you do with the glass bottles and jars that accumulate in your household in the course of a week? Put them out in a basket for the trash collection, most likely.

These discards can be turned into hours of fun and profit. Not direct profit, perhaps, but certainly an aid in trimming down the sum you allow for gifts of all kinds during the year. These bottles can become ashtrays, vases, sewing shelves, lamps, planters. As gifts, they'll be both useful and smart.

You'd probably like to start with a fairly easy project, one that you can do with little fear of mistakes. In that case, try making a vase. The shape of the bottle is up to you, but you might use a coffee jar, a wine or vinegar bottle or even a mayonnaise jar.

As tools, you'll need some small tubes of unmixed oil paints, a couple of small brushes and some turpentine to clean them, soft cloths and your own fingers.

Start by covering the bottle with a solid-color oil paint, spreading the paint with your fingers. Use a toothpick to scribble curly marks in the wet paint, reversing the motion now and then. This will create a lacy, delicate design in the paint.

To make a handy sewing shelf, begin by cutting a three-quarter-inch wood board to the length wanted. Attach this to a piece of plywood the same length, which will serve as the back.

Next, you'll need two pieces of dowel (one-fourth inch cut two inches long), two pieces three-and-one-half inches long and one piece one-and-one-fourth inches long. These are for the thread and thimble holders.

Drill holes and insert the pieces of dowel after application of furniture glue. Glue a pin cushion to the back. Fasten the lids of three cheese jars underneath the shelf by drilling holes in each lid and fastening them to the shelf with short screws. These handy containers for sewing odds and ends are then screwed to the lids. Finish with paint or enamel.

Another method for vases produces a textured effect, using both flat and raised oil paint designs. First, completely cover a glass container with pale green oil paint. Use a toothpick to make tiny swirl marks over the surface.

To form the rosebuds and leaves down the centre of the bottle, use a fine, pointed brush and a toothpick. You'll need a brush for the branches and leaves, their thickness making a texture raised somewhat higher than the swirl background.

A bit of red paint is mixed with white to make the pink for small rosebuds. Pick up little blobs of this paint with a toothpick and set it among the green leaves. Now, dip a toothpick into red paint and swirl it through each rosebud several times to give the buds a realistic appearance. This will raise them higher than the leaves and stems.

There are many other ideas for making glass bottles and jars into bird houses, candle sconces and holders, beverage holders, salt and pepper shakers, storm lamps, toy banks and humidors.

Instructions for making them are to be found in a booklet issued by the Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, 12 South 12th Street, Philadelphia, Pa. A charge of 15 cents is made to cover mailing and production costs.

EXTRA SPECIAL — For the season's biggest party, a dramatic black and white winter formal of pure silk organza. Rows of black velvet ribbon alternate with black lace. Strapless white taffeta slip beneath. White is being promoted as "smartest" for the holiday season.

DOROTHY DIX

Facts Of Life Can Be Told At Too Early Age To Child

DEAR MISS DIX: We have many small children in our neighborhood, boys and girls, and we parents have recently been presented with quite a problem. A doctor and his wife have moved to our block. They have small children, the oldest a girl of four. The mother has taught the child the facts of life, and the youngster seems to get quite a kick from imparting this knowledge to other children. Most of us parents feel that our youngsters are too young to be as fully aware of sex as this child is.—B. D. G.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: From some of the facts outlined in your letter, which I have shortened, I most certainly agree that the new little neighbor has been too well informed. This is a trend that many overly conscientious parents take. They are so afraid that their children will acquire information elsewhere that they hasten to impart knowledge much too soon.

FOUR IS TOO YOUNG

Of course, since children differ widely, each parent must make the decision of time for himself, but four is an absurdly young age to be entrusted with detailed information. Surely a watchful mother, especially one who has earned the confidence of her children, will realize the proper time to instruct her young, and will be able to give just the amount of information necessary without becoming too factual. Sex is one of the great mysteries of life; such of its revelations as pass between parents and children should be delicately and tenderly handled. Never, never should a parent attempt to cram the entire story of life's origin into a single session, which is apparently what Mrs. Doctor has done with her child. From simple beginnings, evoked usually from a pertinent question of the child, the imparting of sex knowledge should span several years and even then some aura of mystery should still be left around the subject.

Of course, Mrs. G., the fact that your children and those of other neighbors have already been exposed to the precocious knowledge of the newcomer doesn't give you much alternative but to carry on with your own offspring. I do think the doctor's wife should be told to just what lengths her little girl is going to exhibit her learning, and I think she will be quite surprised when she learns the effect her teachings have had on the child.

If you think a little reading will help you set your own children on the right road, I can recommend some fine booklets and books to you. The list is yours for a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: For some time I have been keeping company with a widower. He has two teen-age daughters who are, it seems to me, telling their father what he can or cannot do. Now they are telling him he is not to see me any more and apparently he is following instructions. This has left me broken-hearted, as I am very much in love with him and he seemed to think a lot of me. The girls' only objection to me is that they don't want to see another woman in their mother's place.

H. I. K.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If you care enough for the man, I advise you to play a waiting game. There's nothing you can do to force his hand, but a little time should resolve the difficulty. At the moment, he is right in feeling that his children should come first, but wrong in giving in to their selfish possessiveness which is thinly disguised as devotion to their mother.

He could ask the girls if they intend to spend the rest of their lives in single blessedness caring for him. The attitude of the girls is really not unusual for adolescents It's difficult for youngsters that age to see beyond their own immediate circles, but time has a fine habit of adjusting them to reality

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 40 years old, getting my divorce decree at present, and plan to marry a man 10 years younger than I. As the time comes closer to the wedding, however, I am becoming apprehensive, since I see so many faults in him I never noticed before. Would it be wise to carry out my plans for marriage

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: No. If you can find so much fault with a man before you marry him, the difficulties will increase a hundredfold later. You've waited a long time for happiness; don't gamble with it again.

RAISE FOR TEACHERS

WATERLOO (CP)—Salary increases of $100 to $200 a year were granted Wednesday night to Waterloo public school teachers. First and second year teachers will receive the $100 increase while others will be given a $200 increase. The pay boosts will amount to $7,200.

The sun CLOTHES that come out of California bear the hallmark of people who are used to living in the sun, by the sea, in flowered patios, by pools and on beaches.

This year, California designers tell a story in black and white. This is a story prevalent in resort fashions, its sharp contrasts flattering to the skin, particularly the skin that's been turned a lovely golden tan. Equal parts of black and white are used for separates, thus allowing for the mixing and matching to which American women are accustomed.

Halter dress (left) by Addie Masters has high and close-fitting neck and no shoulders. This top is in rayon linen, is wrapped with a cummerbund and ends in a full skirt or hand-screened ribbed pique in a floral pattern.

The T-shirt has been brought up to date. A version of the new type is the sleek, black jersey (right) worn with chalk-white pique shorts. Beach coat in white pique has loose belt at the back and big collar fastened at the throat by a single large button.

Home and School Association News

QUEEN MARY SCHOOL

The Christmas Party of the Queen Mary School Home and School Association was held in the school auditorium Monday night and a varied program was presented.

Receiving in the rotunda with Mr. O. M. Steer, principal, was Mrs. R. C. Honey, president, Mrs. F. A. Hucks and Mrs. E. Malcolm.

The program opened with a Christmas carol and the Christmas story from Luke 2 was given by Patsy Cowan.

A brief business meeting was held and Mr. Steer gave an opening address. The program was then taken over by students of Grades 6, 7 and 8.

More than 100 students presented plays, folk dancing, carol singing, and tumbling acts. Both performers and the teachers, who directed the numbers, are to be congratulated on the quality of the performance.

Excellent acting was done by John Whyte and Miranda Davies as leads in the play, The Bookworm, and by Arthur Mandell and Robert Perry as lawyers for the prosecution and defence in, Santa Claus on Trial.

The Virginia Reel was presented by students of Miss Agnes Chalk's room and French carols were sung by students of Mr. V. Northcott's room.

Outstanding perhaps in the whole performance were the 10 tumbling and pyramiding acts done by students of Mr. W. L. McNeill's room. Three young acrobats stood out in the group of tumblers. Theye were Neil Reynolds, Billy Dorrington, and Bill Hendrie.

Mr. Northcott and the 50 Christmast Waifes who presented a street scene in Dickensonian tradition are also to be particularly congratulated, for their carol singing.

In his closing remarks, Mr. Steer mentioned a departure from custom in the school. He explained that there would be no Christmas tree and gifts this year. Instead decorated envelopes will be given to the students and contributions taken for children's charities such as the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, the Red Cross and other organizations.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Steer and the teachers and students of Queen Mary School was given by Mrs. J. G. Wharry.

Refreshments were served for the student performers in their classrooms while guests gathered in the upper hall for a social hour over a cup of tea.

St. Alban's Guild Tea And Bazaar

A Christmas tree and seasonal decorations provided the setting Wednesday afternoon for the tea and bazaar of the St. Alban's Guild.

Christmas tablecloths covered each of the tea tables which were centred with small Christmas trees.

Mrs. Cyril Barnes was tea convener and Mrs. Walter Thompson and Mrs. H. J. Scuse received. The servers were Mrs. Grant Foster, Mrs. J. F. Chase, Mrs. Cecil Hunter and Mrs. Edward Simmons.

Mrs. James McCormick and Mrs. E. Stephenson were in charge of the homebaking table and Mrs. S. M. Mallard was in charge of the embroidery and apron table

Th pretty feminine LOOK of resort cottons forecasts the future of summer dresses. The ladylike look, with delicate shoes, ruffled parasols and flattering hats, is back.

It's much easier to maintain this poised and lovely look now than it once was. The new cottons are up to all sort of delightful tricks. They keep a finish, resist wrinkles heroically, are slow to wilt and fast to recover in a tub of suds. All this means that the days of wearing a dress in the hot sun for an hour, only to have it crumple, are gone.

The sleeveless, scooped-neck cotton (left) is by Larry Aldrich. It has a gentle, ladylike skirt pleated in tiers. It's a skirt that's infinitely flattering and easy to wear. This is in a disciplined cotton by Bates and in wonderful delicate pinks, blues and yellows.

The pretty look is developed by Adele Simpson in a cotton (right) that has little shirred sleeves, a scooped-out sweetheart neckline and very full, soft skirt with tiny ball-fringed peplum. The pastel color range is used here with navy and black included, too.

EDITH CARLETON CHAPTER

The December meeting of the Edith Carleton Chapter of the IODE was held Wednesday night at the home of Miss J. McMeekin, Sherbrooke St. W., with 11 members and three guests present.

Miss Mary McRae, regent, presided for the business meeting. Mrs. G. Donaldson read the secretary's report, Miss McRae gave the treasurer's report.

Flowers were sent to Mrs. Gordon Stalker who has recently returned from the hospital. A parcel is to be sent to the Alm House, England.

Miss June Dellar and Miss Edith Miller were made official members of the chapter.

Layettes and diapers are to be made by the chapter in the new year.

Miss Adele Miller gave a report of the last municipal meeting concerning women juries. Miss Wilma Deyell gave a report on the meeting of the Cancer Society.

Money grants were drawn up for the year.

Christmas gifts were exchanged and an enjoyable social hour. The hostesses served refreshments.

Mrs. B. McFadden Named President Of Trinity WMS

The Christmas meeting of Trinity WMS was held in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting opened with a call to worship, conducted by Mrs. N. D. Seaton. Background music was played by Mrs. H. A. Mitchell. Hymn, "Christ Is Born Today," was sung. Mrs. A. Wade led in prayers. Scripture readings were given by Mrs. T. Sargent, Mrs. B. McFadden and Mrs. N. Andrews. Hymn, "Infant Holy," was sung, followed by a prayer by Mrs. N. D. Seaton, which concluded the devotional period. Mrs. B. McFadden gave the dedication prayer.

Mrs. C. Carson sang two lovely solos, "No Candle Was There and No Fire," a Bohemian carol, and a Russian children's Christmas carol, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. H. Baker.

Mrs. P. Kingdon was guest speaker and gave a timely and thought-provoking talk. Her subject, "What Do We Get Out of Christmas? What Do We Give to Christmas?" She said if we feel Christmas is too commercialized it is not the fault of the businesses or advertising—the fault is in ourselves. We should reflect and readjust our sense of values which may have become distorted. The value we derive from Christmas is what we ourselves put into Christmas.

The guests for the afternoon were thanked by Mrs. B. McFadden.

Mrs. J. N. Perry reported Christmas cards were to be sent to all shut-ins.

Mrs. McFadden thanked the executive and all members for their co-operation during the past year, and invited Mrs. A. Legon, immediate past president, to conduct the election and installation of the new 1953 executive.

Mrs. N. Elliott presented the slate of officers, which was accepted by the meeting, as follows: Past president, Mrs. A. Legon; president, Mrs. B. McFadden; 1st vice-president, Mrs. A. Wade; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. N. Elliott; secretary, Mrs. A. B. Cunningham treasurer, Mrs. C. Spearin; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. Powell; Christian stewardship, Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy; community friendship, Mrs. A. Hastie; associate members, Mrs. H. Kearns; supply secretary, Mrs. J. N. Perry; literature and missionary monthly secretary, Mrs. H. Rehill; Christian citizenship secretary, Mrs. A. Legon; press secretary, Mrs. G. Cornell; pianist, Mrs. H. A. Mitchell; assistant pianist, Mrs. N. Moncrief; superintendent of CGIT, Miss Anna Edmondson; Baby Band mothers, Mrs. William Taylor; advisory president Mission Circle, Mrs. G. Hill; assisted by Miss Catherine Hodgens.

All the incoming officers were called forward and a very impressive candle-lighting ceremony was conducted. Hymn, "Take My Life and Let It Be," was sung.

The next executive meeting to be held January 7. Closing hymn, "We Would See Jesus," was sung, followed by dainty seasonal refreshments served by Mrs. Spearin's group.

Smith School Presents Concert In Lakefield

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—A capacity audience attended the Ray's School SS 6, Smith township Christmas concert in Lakefield Memorial Hall Tuesday night.

The concert was under the direction of Principal Gregory Knox, assisted by Mrs. Hazel Hill, Miss Fern Chesney and Mrs. J. Kilborne, teachers.

Mr. Ross Wiles, chairman of the Board of School Trustees acted as master of ceremonies.

The program opened with three popular Christmas songs, Santa Claus is Coming to Town, Rudolph the Red-nosed Reindeer, and Frosty the Snowman, by the older pupils. The boys from Grades 1 and 2 pantomimed, Away in a Manger, with Joan Myers as Mary, the mother.

Girls from Grades 1 and 2 told their dolly troubles to the tune, Jingle Bells.

The Potters, a clever skit was presented by Francis Edwards, Beverly Blackstock, Susan Quackenbush, Pauline Head, David Butterworth, Newton Young and Murray Redpath.

The true meaning of Christmas was portrayed in the play, In Quest of Christmas. The members of the cast were: Cymbalia, Vera Northey; the Spirit of the Flute, Anne Gariepy; the spirit of the Jack-in-the-box, Arlene Dubar; Prince Igor, Bill Mitchell; Prince Igor's subjects, Barbara Charlton, Irene Edwards, Joan Heard, Shirley Tripp, Ronnie Farrell, Stewart Mitchell, Raymond Clancy and Bob Welbourne; Cymbalia's pixies, Carolyn Loucks, Gail Forsythe, Betty Slater, Marilyn Peacock, Betty Preston, Gaele Porter and Laurene Edwards.

A pretty basket drill by girls of Grades 3 and 4 was followed by the carol, A Story that Never Grows Old.

A number of boys turned a large scroll with scenes painted by Mrs. Hill as they recited the Christmas story.

A hilarious shadow play was presented. A restaurant proprietor (Jack Lacey) served his customers (Allen and Bill Slater and Doug McConkey) with a cat pie. Dr. I. Killem (Tom Pratt) appeared to remove a cat (Blackie) from his patient's interior.

The ladies of the Elm Corners' Home and School Association sold home-made candy during the evening.

The pupils presented their principal, Mr. Knox, with a gift in honor of his approaching marriage. An address was read by Bill Mitchell. His bride-to-be was also called to the platform to receive the gift, a silver tea service. The presentation was made by Jimmie Sargent, Hugh Kidd and Murray Redpath.

The evening closed with the arrival of Santa Claus and the distribution of gifts.

Mrs. W. Tupper Head Of WA

MARMORA (ENS)—The following slate of officers for 1953 was presented by Mrs. J. Sproul at the December meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Association held in the church parlor on Tuesday afternoon:

President, Mrs. W. F. Tupper; first vice president, Mrs. T. J. Bateman; second vice president, Mrs. K. J. Crawford; recording and press secretary, Mrs. E. C. Prentice; treasurer, Mrs. W. J. Park; christian stewardship secretary, Mrs. W. J. Pack; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Merle Wells; literature secretary, Mrs. F. E. Trennum; community and friendship secretary, Mrs. F. Sweet; associate members secretary, Mrs. G. Jarvis; supply secretary, Mrs. E. Post; temperance secretary, Mrs. J. Appleton; Missionary Monthly and World Friends, Mrs. J. Sproul; pianist, Mrs. H. C. Barlow.

Mrs. E. C. Prentice, retiring president, presided.

The worship service had the theme: Christmas, the season of birth and rebirth. Taking part in this were Mrs. W. F. Tupper, Mrs. J. Appleton with Mrs. Vaughan Glover representing the Mission Circle.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Your Christmas Dinner Menu Planned

Is the silverware gleaming? Is your biggest and best tablecloth pristine clean and ironed? Did you remember to buy new candles?

Have you decided what your table centre will be? (Ours is going to be glazed grapes and red Christmas tree balls and silvered pine cones.)

If you are tired and in need of an understanding ear, sit down with this paper and read over the menu for Christmas dinner. During this month I have tried to anticipate your wants and likes and dislikes and the food prejudices that some of your crowd may have. For that reason I have given some alternatives in the menu.

You will remember the chestnut stuffing recipe I gave you last week. I have included potatoes on this menu because I love them so with giblet gravy. I have led up lightly to the turkey. (I wanted to include oyster bisque but it is a meal in itself and what we want room for is turkey.)

CHRISTMAS DINNER IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD 1952

Fruit Cocktail, Mint-flavored, but unsweetened
Or Consomme with Toasted Shredded Almonds
Roast Turkey (see below)
Chestnut Stuffing Giblet Gravy
Cranberry Orange Relish
Riced Parsley Potatoes
Buttered Fresh or Frozen Peas
Onions au Gratin
Tossed Green Salad with Pomegranate Seed Garnish
Celery Curls
Plum Pudding
Foamy Sauce (last week) Pecans
Milk for Children Coffee

Comments: Those who do not know how to dress a turkey may have the butcher do it. But it still requires singeing, that is the hairs must be singed off over an open flame. Wash skin well with scrubbing brush and baking soda. Wash inside well, dry inside and out, and sprinkle inside with salt. Fill with Chestnut Stuffing, recipe for which I gave you last week, but do not pack too tightly. The bird should just have a plump appearance. Close openings by sewing or skewering. Truss bird into a snug shape.

TIME TABLE FOR ROASTING TURKEY

Brush skin lightly with unsalted fat such as lard, cover with double cheesecloth or moistened parchmenth paper, dipped in melted fat. Remove cloth or paper during last half hour of roasting to brown bird. Oven temperature at 300 deg. Fahr.

Dressed weight—6½ to 8 lb., 3½ to 4 hours; 8 to 11 lb., 4 to 5 hours; 11 to 14½ lb., 5 to 6 hours; 14½ to 17½ lb., 6 to 7½ hours.

If larger turkeys are roasted to test for doneness: Run metal skewer into thick part of thigh. When done, meat is tender and juice does not show red tinge. Do not over roast—you do not want the thighs to fall away.

CRANBERRY ORANGE RELISH

Put through coarse knife of grinder all together 1 lb. washed and dried cranberries and 1 large seedless orange, rind included. Stir in 2 cups sugar. Let this ripen in refrigerator, covered for a day or two before Christmas. This relish is very popular.

ONIONS AU GRATIN

Two lbs. small onions, 2 cups medium white sauce (4 tablespoons each butter and flour blended together; stir in 2 cups hot milk until thick; add salt and pepper to taste.) 1 cup buttered breadcrumbs, 1 cup grated old cheddar cheese, paprika. Peel and cook small onions in salted water until nearly tender. Drain and place half of them in large casserole. Cover with half white sauce, buttered crumbs, cheese and paprika. Repeat. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. until sauce bubbles and crumbs are brown.

For the salad use plenty of head lettuce, wafer thin slices cucumber, tomato, celery, plenty of parsley and toss with French Dressing. Sprinkle with about ¼ cup of those red little pomegranate juice cells.

Merry Eating and Merry Christmas from Mary Moore. God Keep you and Bless you.

TOP your Christmas dinner with fragrant steamed fig pudding and spicy sauce.

6—In Memoriam

DAVIS—In loving memory of a dear son, Cecil Lloyd, who passed away Dec. 18, 1947.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
—Ever remembered by his mother.

DUNFORD—In loving memory of our sister, Ida, who passed away Dec. 19, 1951.
She is not dead, this friend, not dead,
But on the road which mortals tread,
Got some few trifling steps ahead
And nearer to the end;
So that we too, once past the bend,
Shall meet again, as face to face this friend
We fancy dead.
—Always remembered by Wellie and Annie.

DUNFORD—In loving memory of my dear wife, Ida, who passed away Dec. 19, 1951.
I cannot say, and I will not say
That she is dead. She is just away.
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
She has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since she lingers there.
—Lovingly remembered by her husband, Galvin.

LONG—In loving memory of our dear father, Mr. Rowland G. Long, who passed away 12 years ago today, Dec. 18, 1940.
—Ever remembered by his family.

7—Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and floral tributes received from relatives, friends and neighbors in our loss of a dear son.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Huggins.

Air Marshal Has Second Operation

LONDON (CP) — Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, chief of air staff for the RCAF, underwent a further abdominal operation today in London's Westminster hospital.

His condition after the operation was described as "quite satisfactory."

The air marshal came to Britain last week for an RCAF ceremony at Gros Tenquin, France, but was taken ill. After an emergency abdominal operation, he was transferred to Westminster hospital.

Find Stolen Safe Thieves' Loot Small

BRESLAU (CP)—Thieves stole the office safe from the branch mill of Waterloo county Supplies Co - operative Wednesday night. However they were too late for any big haul.

Manager Norman Brunk said today that the safe contained between $60 and $70. A few hours earlier he had removed $1,000 to the head office at Kitchener, six miles away.

Eire Annoved At Queen's Royal Title

DUBLIN (AP) —Foreign minister Frank Aiken said Wednesday night the people of the Republican of Ireland deeply resent the listing of Northern Ireland as a part of the United Kingdom in the royal title of the Queen.

Parliamentary approval of this phrasing will "but steel their determination that the counties cut off will sooner or later be restored" to the rest of Ireland, he declared in a statement.

Only the six northeastern counties of Ireland — Ulster — still maintain allegiance to the crown. The island's other 26 counties, the independent Republic of Ireland, refuses to recognize this "partition" and continues to demand that Ulster be made part of the republic.

"These six northeastern counties are in an inalienable part of the Irish national territory," Aiken said. "It is too bad the British government should be induced to link the British crown and the royal family so directly with the the last remnant of British aggression in Ireland."

PROPOSED TITLE

The title proposed for the young monarch's Coronation was announced Dec. 12. It would proclaim her "Elizabeth the Second, by the grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and of her other realms and territories, Queen, head of the Commonwealth, defender of the faith."

This the form suggested for use in Britain, itself. The wording will vary slightly in other parts of the Commonwealth.

Elizabeth's father, King George VI, was crowned King of Great Britain and Ireland in 1937 but at that time southern Ireland was still part of the Commonwealth. It gained complete independence in 1949.

Proposes New Seaway Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public Power and Water Corp., Trenton, N. J., urged the power commission today to license it to join with Canada in building a big St. Lawrence river power project.

The private concern's counsel, Frederick P. Benedict, explained at a commission hearing the company's proposal is similar to that of the power authority of New York state, a public agency.

The commission now has the New York proposal under advisement.

Public Power's proposal differs, Benedict said, in that the company would build a toll-free seaway on the American side of the river. Canada has announced plans to build one on its side of the river despite repeated refusals by the U. S Congress to vote its approval of the project as one to be undertaken jointly by the two countries.

The lawyer said Public Power also offers to construct a dike and intake works to permit the Aluminum Company of America to generate St. Lawrence power during the period of project construction.

The New York application contains neither of these features.

Willard Gatchell, counsel for the commission, said the commission's legal staff takes no stand at present on Public Power's application. He added, however, that the application contains "serious deficiencies."

Bailieboro WI Gives Aid Society Presents

BAILIEBORO (ENS) — The Bailieboro Women's Institute met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Alex Watt. Gifts were given by each member for the Children's Aid Society of Port Hope. Miss Goldring of the staff in Port Hope gave an address and thanked all for the gifts.

Members were urged to sell tickets on the Christmas cake, the draw to be made Dec. 19 at Centreville.

Mrs. H. C. Howson had charge of the program, which consisted of the singing of Christmas carols. Mrs. Howson gave a splendid Christmas reading and conducted a contest.

City Protests Tax Rebate During Strike

HAMILTON (CP) — A. J. Polson, QC, city solicitor, said today he would recommend that the city appeal to the county judge a court of revision judgment given Wednesday, directing the city to rebate $13,000 in business tax to the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Ltd., because its plant was closed for 118 days this year due to a strike.

Mr. Polson said he believed such a judgment would establish a principle, which he thought was wrong, of "saddling" taxpayers in general with more taxes because of an industrial dispute, to make up the deficit in the city's tax revenue budget.

Evidence given the court Wednesday was that no material had left the plant from June 3 to Sept. 22 because of the strike.

Alfred Champaigne, chairman, said there had been no similar case in his 18 years experience on courts of revision.

RULING CITED

Court based its rebate allowance particularly on the case of the Algoma Steel Company in Sault Ste. Marie, cited by John Marshall, solicitor for Firestone, where the Ontario Court of Appeal had allowed a rebate.

A factor in the court's ruling also was that the company had been prepared to accept the findings of a conciliation board, but the union took a strike vote and rejected it, so the shutdown was not the responsibility of the company.

Court Delays

(In accordance with recent practice, the statement will not be published, although both the oral and written portions of it were given in court. The purpose of this is that in case the accused should be committed for trial by a higher court, and that higher court refuses to admit the statement as evidence, there will be no prior prejudice formed by jury members.)

At the Donald Taylor home, Corp. Munroe said, Knott's answers were slow and vague, and he drank large quantites of water. He seemed to be suffering from the effects of a drinking party, the officer said, and smelled strongly of alcohol.

In the morning's testimony, the two men were shown to have been together as late as 8 p.m. The stabbing is believed to have taken place about 11 p.m.

SEEN AT 8 P.M.

Mrs. Stella Johnston, who lives on the reserve, said she and her two daughters met the two men walking down the road, singing, and apparently under the influence of alcohol to some degree. This was at 8 p.m.

John Taylor said he had seen the two about 5 p.m., in separate houses on the reserve. He had seen them together about 2 p.m., but not together after that.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, QC, entered as an exhibit a knife similar to one that Knott had in his possession that afternoon before the stabbing. District provincial pathologist Dr. C. B. Waite examined the knife blade and said he had formed the opinion that a broader blade with a more pronounced curve to the cutting edge had caused the wound that caused Taylor's death.

In argument, Mr. Fair said that the statement contained nothing incriminating. No witnesses had testified of any hard feeling between the two men, and what evidence there was, was flimsy.

He declared there was "nothing here to commit this man on this charge".

Mr. Bradshaw cited portions of Knott's oral and written statement and said that they were the basis of his request for committal to a higher court.

Drunk Fined

John Whaley, 40, of 272 Westcott St., was today fined $50 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to his second offence of drunkenness before Magistrate Philp.

Industrial Forces In West Pause To Regroup In 1952

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia's industrial forces paused to regroup during 1952.

That is, generally speaking. A few spearheads, notably oil and electric power, kept thrusting ahead. There were also some retreats.

There was not the same broad, full expansion that the coast province experienced in 1951. Business men were still talking in millions but they were keeping a sharp eye on the thousands. In short, quiet optimism replaced the blatant optimism of 1951.

LABOR TROUBLES

The year was one of labor upheaval. Management fought as it hadn't since before the war against wage increases. The result was one strike or lockout after another.

Biggest advances were made in the fields of oil and electric power.

By the time snow started to fall in the interior, Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company had completed half its 711-mile, $86,000,000 Edmonton-Vancouver oil line. Oil companies are spending about $50,000,000 to expand refineries here. As the year ended, plans were announced for a new $3,000,000 refinery at Kamloops, along the Trans Mountain route.

Companies were spending $1,000,000 a month looking for oil and natural gas in northeastern B.C., where oil was first found Nov. 1, 1951. Westcoast Transmission Company awaited approval from the U.S. federal power commission to start construction of a $111,000,000 gas pipe line from Peace River to Portland, Ore. More than 30,000,000 acres were under permit for oil and gas exploration.

BOOST HYDRO OUTPUT

In the last five years, B.C. Electric Company has increased hydro output from 253,000 horsepower to 605,000. It says the increase is a yardstick to measure expansion and development during that time in the southwestern corner of the province, the main population area.

At Waneta, near Trail, work progressed smoothly on Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's new $30,000,000 power dam. Initial output will be 205,000 horsepower.

In north-central B.C., the Kenney dam, third-largest rock-fill barrier in the world, was completed across the Nechako river. It will store water behind it which will be driven through the coast range by a 10-mile tunnel to create power for an aluminum plant at Tidewater. This $550,000,000 project will eventually turn out 1,500,000 h.p.

There were gains and losses in transportation. The Pacific Great Eastern Railway, province-owned, completed its $13,000,000, 82-mile link from Quesnel to Prince George in the interior, connecting the PGE with Canadian National's transcontinental line. British Columbians began to grouse about the coastal steamship service and this was aggravated by the sinking of Canadian Pacific's Princess Kathleen. It was estimated it will take two to five years beyond the original 1956 target date to complete B.C.'s portion of the trans-Canada highway.

LOSES GROUND

The province's major industry—lumbering—lost ground. World markets tightened as Scandinavia underbid B.C. for the United Kingdom lumber trade.

During the summer a 5-day strike paralyzed the industry and crippled the province's entire economy. (Fifty-four cents of every dollar made in B.C. comes directly or indirectly from the forest industry). The Vancouver Board of Trade estimated the strike cost B.C. a staggering $170,000,000. The strike was followed by a 20-day closure of the woods because of forest fires.

A bright spot was the opening of the first unit of a $40,000,000 newsprint mill at Duncan Bay on Vancouver Island. It was the first wholly newsprint mill for B.C. in 35 years. But production of sulphate and sulphate pulp was cut 20 per cent because of narrower markets.

The construction industry in seven coast cities was hamstrung for 87 days by strikes and lockouts.

At one time during the summer, 40,000 workers were on strike on various trades and industries.

FISH PRICES DROP

The fishing industry was hard hit by falling markets and a dispute over salmon prices, which tied up the fleet for 41 days. Near year's end, the herring fishery was still not operating although the season was more than half gone. The reasons were the same. The one bright spot on the fishing front was a post-war record catch of whales—451.

The tourist industry was up 10 per cent to about $65,000,000. Western Canada Steel Co. Ltd. announced construction of a $4,000,000 electric furnace to produce steel—first inroad into repeated demands for a steel industry in B.C.

The mining industry, one of the big four in B.C. (forestry, agriculture, fishing and mining) fell back during 1952, though not far. Production was estimated at $163,900,000 for 1952 compared to $175,659,591 in 1951.

Toronto Tax Plan Backfires On Board

TORONTO (CP)—When Toronto's board of control approved a plan early this year to tax government property, it expected the move would net the city $750,000 from the Ontario government. But the plan backfired Wednesday.

Suburban Scarborough township decided the water Toronto sells through Scarborough mains and the Toronto-owned R. C. Harris water purification plant just inside township boundaries, constituted a business and submitted a bill for $161,381 in taxes.

The city decided it had to pay the bill—under protest. It still isn't sure it will collect the $750,000 from the province.

FAREWELL SERVICE — A combined church service is held by members of the "Baker" Squadron of the Lord Strathcona Horse and Fifth Royal Inniskilling Dragoon Guards of the Birtish Army. This was a farewell service for the British unit, which has been replaced and is leaving Korea after completing its tour of duty.

France Requires Americans Serve In Army

PARIS (Reuters)—The French National Assembly Wednesday night passed a law requiring young Americans living in France for a year or more to serve in the French Army for 18 months.

The law, described by one deputy as a "measure of retaliation," was passed without discussion by an overwhelming show of hands.

The law calls for conscription of foreigners between 18½ and 25 years old who come from a country which drafts Frenchmen residing there. This means that the law will apply to Americans, for the United States government ruled June 19, 1951, that foreigners staying in America for a year or more would be liable for military service, including overseas duty, in the U.S. Army.

Jean Triboulet, secretary of the assembly's defence commission, said the law is "the worst kind of retaliation." But it had to be passed, he said, because negotiations with the U.S. government over drafting of Frenchmen had failed.

Fake Police Conduct Phony Extortion Racket

SAD-EYED AT THE LOSS of his auto body shop, Des Cranley, RR 11, Peterborough, watches fire as it completes the destruction of the single-storey frame building at Downer's Corners. With him is his wife, who said with her husband that they would start again in business as soon as they could. In the upper photo, a group of bystanders watch the last remnants of the fire, which did $6,000 damage, only partly covered by insurance. The fire started at 7 p.m. and the shop was burned to the ground by 8 p.m.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Defence Effort By NATO Under Fire

West Still Top Target Of Reds Ridgway Says No Time To Slacken

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Matthew Ridgway today criticized members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization for slowing down their defence effort.

"I reject as unjustified the dangerous view that the potential aggressors don't want war and won't precipitate war," he told the graduating class of NATO's Defence College. "We don't know how long we shall be the Kremlin's target, marked for war."

His criticism came less than 24 hours after ministers of the 14 NATO nations wound up a meeting in Paris at which they reduced by almost half—to $224,000,000—the amount to be spent for top-priority defence works. In so doing, they ignored Ridgway's own recommendations. They also did not approve a military recommendation for a boost in the size of NATO's forces.

"There can be no excuse for any slackening in our efforts to attain the minimum military requirements," Ridgway said today. Those minimum requirements for the defence of Western Europe, he continued, have not yet been met.

He hinted he had told the ministers what the consequences might be if they did not provide the military with sufficient manpower and weapons.

"Our job," he told the graduates, "is to point out to our civilian superiors what we think will be the military consequences."

Ridgway blamed the "slowdown in action" on wishful thinking, the hope that "we are no longer open to attack and we don't need to make so great an effort to defend ourselves.

In explanation of Thursday's cuts for 1953, Danish Finance Minister Thorkil Kristensen, chairman of NATO's building committee, said Thursday night one of the reasons was the big backlog of authorized but unfinished construction. Of $1,002,400,000 appropriated for defence installations in West Europe since NATO was established, he said, only $210,000,000 has actually been spent.

Saves Three Children

TRENTON —(CP)— Mrs. Joseph Cannon, 35, groped, her way through dense smoke Thursday night to rescue three of her five children from the upstairs of a burning house. No one was injured. Firemen managed to confine the blaze to the upper floor of the house.

Act On Report More Jail Heads To New Posts

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Frost and Reform Institutions Minister Foote made a clean sweep of the Don Jail executive Thursday afternoon, at the same time saying they were not demoting anyone. Their actions, they said, were taken in full sympathy with the Royal Commission report on the Don, and the remainder of the report was sent to a special committee of cabinet to consider legislation necessary to implement it.

Governor Brand and Deputy Governors Alex Noble and George Jacobs have been offered other posts, and H. R. Paterson, now assistant superintendent at Burwash Industrial Farm, will become the new Don governor. He will be given a free hand to select his deputies from the present staff. All guards now on suspension were re-instated Thursday.

Mr. Brand will go to Burwash as assistant superintendent; Mr. Noble to Mimico Reformatory, and Mr. Jacobs to a new post of chief inspectors of jails. In this job he will have inspectoral control over all city, county and district jails.

At Burwash Mr. Brand will serve under the present head, Charles Sanderson, once a governor of the Don. Mr. Sanderson was reprimanded over the escape of the Boyd gang in November, 1951. In January, 1952, he was posted to Burwash as superintendent.

Major Foote paid special tribute to both Mr. Brand and Mr. Jacobs, concurring completely with Judge Macdonnell's assessment of the ex-governor.

The committee of cabinet, made up of Attorney-General Porter, Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar, Works Minister Thomas and chaired by Major Foote, will study provincial contribution to extension of the Don Jail recommended in the report, and the division of authority between Sheriff and jail governor.

The province is prepared to pay up to 50 per cent of cost of construction of the new maximum security wing for the jail.

Burwash has three assistant superintendents, one of whom will be the newly elevated Capt. George Gauthier, chief custodial officer. Capt. Gauthier's rapid rise was cited by Major Foote as an example of how a man willing to work could get ahead within the department.

Trick Victims With False Arrest Plot

Toronto Man Paid $800 'Bond' In Realistic Scheme

TORONTO (CP)—One man is under arrest today in what police say is an extortion racket. George Lumsden, 32, of Toronto was charged on Thursday night with extorting about $800 from John Knowles of Toronto. Police said Knowles was "arrested" in a downtown hotel last October by two men impersonating police officers.

They added that Knowles was released on payment of $50 and later paid out $750 which the men told him was a bond they had to put up because authorities had discovered Knowles' release.

Police said victims in the racket were taken into city hall and made to stand outside court rooms by the fake policemen.

Knowles reported he was in the hotel when a note was handed to him by an accomplice of the "detectives." It made an improper suggestion. Just after he got the note two men showing badges came up, grabbed the note and accused him of improper conduct.

Hit-Run Suspect Walks 12 Hours Then Surrenders

TORONTO (CP)—A 23-year-old immigrant mechanic early today ended a hectic police search by giving himself up in connection with the traffic death of a Toronto woman. Police said Zdravko Vrzal, from Yugoslavia was footsore and near exhaustion after walking the streets for 12 hours. He was charged with manslaughter and failing to remain at the scene of an accident in the death of Mrs. Annie Ostapiuk, 54. Vrzal was remanded to Dec. 24 with bail set at $3,000 when he appeared in court today.

The woman's body was tossed 20 feet in the air by a speeding motorist early Thursday. Vrzal gave himself up 6½ hours after police seized a cream-colored convertible found on a suburban parking lot with a dented hood and grill.

While Vrzal was walking the streets police had a guard posted at his rooming house awaiting his return. He is employed here at a cement plant.

Donald Fegan, one of the few witnesses to the accident, said the car that struck Mrs. Ostapiuk appeared to be trying to beat the traffic light.

Chief Constable John Chisholm announced Thursday a reward of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the driver.

Advance 'Obit' Not Retiring Says Kennedy

TORONTO (CP) — Agriculture Minister Kennedy today denied a report that he is going to resign.

The 73-year-old veteran of Ontario politics said his retiring "obit" was premature and he could not have been more surprised to hear it.

"They've been saying I'm going to resign my job for the past 10 years," he said, "but I've yet to tell the prime minister that I'm going to resign."

Premier Frost commented: "I can only say I have not received any resignation from Tom Kennedy . . .he has not given me any inhe will hand over the reins of January, as the newspaper report says."

However, Mr. Kennedy himself said the day "is not far off" when he will hand over the reigns of office to a younger man.

REPORT WRONG

It was reported Thursday night that Mr. Kennedy will resign in January and be replaced by Works Minister Thomas. Mr. Kennedy was first appointed agriculture minister in 1930. He went out of office during the Liberal regime four years later and regained the portfolio in 1943 when George Drew became premier.

Locate Source Of Chalk River Radiation Leak

OTTAWA (CP)—The Army's 12-man radiation detection team has found the exact location and intensity of radiation contamination at the atomic energy plant at Chalk River, Army headquarters announced Thursday.

The team, only one of its kind in Canada, Britain or the United States, has been working since Monday at the Chalk River plant where a burst of radiation occurred a week ago. Most of the plant was evacuated for a short time as a precaution.

Capt. R. H. Neame of Timmins, officer commanding the team which is based at Barriefield, said monitoring instruments used to protect the plant are so sensitive the luminous dial of a wrist watch is sufficient to set off an alarm.

Capt. Neame and his men, wearing special protective helmets and over-garments and rubber footwear, are working in the snow-covered area outside the plant.

AREA MAPPED

The team was called in to map radiation in an area from 1,000 to 2,000 feet long and averaging 200 feet wide, downwind from the stack of the reactor, where the radiation escaped last Friday from a pin-sized hole within the pile.

Downer's Corners Shop Lost In Fire

Fire Thursday night destroyed the auto body shop owned by Des Cranley at Downer's Corners. Cause is not known. Mr. Cranley, dazed a little by the loss of his shop, said he could only get part insurance on the building as there is no fire protection in Otonabee township. City fire department was called, but would not respond to the blaze. Value of the building and equipment he estimated at about $6,000. Only a few minor pieces of equipment, an electric drill and several smaller articles were saved. A $700 air compressor was destroyed, besides several spray guns and air sanders.

Two cars in the shop at the time the fire started—about 7 p.m.—were driven out by Cranley's assistant, 35-year-old Jack Allen of Hurley St. One car was left at the east of the building, and since the wind was from the west the paint on it was badly blistered in several places.

By 8 p.m., only the main timbers of the building and acetylene gas in a tank were burning. The tank of acetylene did not explode, but burned most of the night.

The fire made a bright glow in the sky and its flames could be seen clearly from the liftlock and other vantage points in the city.

The 33-year-old owner, tears streaming down his face from the acrid smoke, said his shop was only partly covered by insurance. "There's no fire protection out here, you see," he said, "and I couldn't get full coverage if I wanted it."

(Otonabee township council has called several ratepayers' meetings to discuss fire protection, but only handfuls of interested people have shown up.)

Cranley has been in business only two-and-a-half years, and was discouraged by the loss of his shop. Both he and his wife said, however, that they would start in business again as soon as possible.

Former Mayor Injured In Crash

Former mayor James Hamilton was injured today in a three-car collision at Princess and Aylmer Sts. shortly after 2 p.m.

Mrs. Howard Reynolds, a passenger in one of the cars, suffered a cut near her left eye. Three children, two of them Mrs. Reynolds', were in one car and were not hurt.

Drivers of the other two cars were Mrs. Mae Killingbeck, 89 Princess St., unhurt, and Mrs. Jean L. Boote, 553 Steele Ave., also unhurt. Mrs. Reynolds was a passenger in the Boote car, and the third child was Mrs. Boote's.

Mrs. Boote was driving north on Aylmer, Mrs. Killingbeck was westbound on Princess, and it is believed Mr. Hamilton was driving east on Princess St. and was partway across the intersection when the collision occurred.

The Hamilton car struck the Boote car in passing, glanced off and met in a head-on collision with the Killingbeck auto.

Mr. Hamilton's injuries are not yet known, but he and Mrs. Reynolds were taken to hospital for treatment.

Put Kidnapper In Hospital

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Thomas Blower, a 24-year-old Toronto mother charged with kidnapping a seven-weeks-old baby was committed today to a mental hospital. A similar charge against her husband, Thomas Blower, 32, was dropped.

Mrs. Blower was certified mentally ill by two psychiatrists.

The baby, Linda Charmaine Bond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bond, was taken from her carriage outside a chain store in east-central Toronto Dec. 11 while her mother was shopping.

Police recovered the infant soon after.

Coronation Coin Has Queen On Horseback

LONDON (AP) — The Queen, whose profile appears on all Commonwealth coins minted from next year on, also will be depicted on horseback on a special one-crown (70-cent) piece commemorating her coronation.

The portrayal of the Queen as a colonel-in-chief of the Grenadier guards will mark the first time since the reign of Charles I in the early 17th century that a British monarch on a horse has appeared on a coin.

Claxton Flying To Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — A plane bearing Canada's top delegates to the Paris Atlantic Pact meeting is due back in Ottawa at 8 a. m., Est, Saturday, the defence department said today.

Aboard are Defence Minister Claxton, Finance Minister Abbott, Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, chairman of the chiefs of staff, and others. They left Paris today.

Soon after his arrival Mr. Claxton is expected to pitch into the ramifications of the Currie report on the army works services which provoked a parliamentary storm during his absence and brought calls for his resignation from all three parties in opposition.

Plan To Make New Approach

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain and the United States are preparing to make another approach to Iran for settlement of the long-drawn oil dispute, it was learned today.

Their emissary will be Loy Henderson, U. S. ambassador in Tehran, who will go to Washington for instructions within the next few days.

Observers here are not optimistic about his mission. Britain and Iran so far have been unable to come to terms on compensation for the properties of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company which Iran nationalized last year, and Britain is not expected to modify its demands.

State Secretary Dean Acheson discussed the problem with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in Paris where both were attending the NATO conference which ended Thursday. For a while it looked as though the project would be dropped in the face of British objections, but a compromise was worked out.

It is understood that the chief change from former proposals is that other oil companies besides Anglo-Iranian would share in the marketing of Iranian oil once compensation has been agreed.

Reds Bombard Allies With Seoul Threats

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Chinese Communists are bombarding Allied lines with threats that they are going to spend Christmas in Seoul.

The Communists have hauled loudspeakers up to front to broadcast Christmas carols, surrender appeals and threats. Red planes have circled overhead for two days, dropping pamphlets urging United Nations troops to "go home."

Troops Take Emergency Duty

TOKYO (AP) — More than 600 British Commonwealth soldiers were called for emergency duty today as about 13,000 Japanese workers went on a 72-hour strike at Commonwealth bases in Japan.

British, Canadian and Australian units were called.

The strike halted administration, construction, repair and transportation services at naval and military bases in Kure, Iwakuni and Tokyo.

The soldiers took over jobs in transportation, security, mess hall and other posts.

The strikers are demanding an average pay of 22,000 yen (about $61) a month and a year-end bonus of two months' pay at the new rate.

Most of the striking workers are at Kure, the headquarters for Commonwealth forces in Korea. About 11,000 workers went on strike there. Another 1,000 were out in Iwakini, southwestern Honshu, and 900 at Ebisu camp in Tokyo.

Crashes In Flames On Way To Britain

CROSSHIL, Scotland (Reuters)—A Canadian Sabre jet fighter, on the last stage of its flight to Britain from Canada, broke up in mid-air and crashed in flames here today.

The plane was one of 12 Sabres being flown across the Atlantic as a Canadian aid contribution to the RAF.

An RAF ferry pilot was at the controls.

The plane was completing the last leg from Iceland to Prestwick Airport, Scotland. It was passing over a hill when it broke up and crashed in a field. There was heavy rain at the time, making visibility difficult.

The 12 planes were the first of 300 to 400 to be delivered to the RAF from Canada under the mutual defence assistance program. The engines were made in the U.S. and the bodies in Canada. They are flying the Atlantic in flights of four.

Europe Faces New Floods

PARIS (Reuters) — Heavy rain caused widespread floods in four European countries today—France, Italy, Britain and Belgium.

In France, people living near rivers around the southwestern city of Bordeaux were warned that the worst floods in 12 years threaten to devastate large areas.

They were told to take all precautions to safeguard themselves, their cattle and personal property because the swollen streams have risen over the danger peak. Flood waters have already invaded lowlying suburbs of Bordeaux. Two children have already been drowned by rising waters.

In Italy, one woman was drowned as southern Italian rivers flooded factories, fields and homes. The Calore river burst its banks and Benevento, 37 miles north of Naples, was flooded. The Volturno river also spilled over at Capu, about 20 miles north of Naples.

Expect Wide Changes In Israeli Policy

TEL AVIV, Israel (Reuters)—Premier David Ben-Gurion handed in the resignation of his government today and set about forming a new one based on a new line-up of the two major parties.

Inclusion of several right-wing General Zionist party members, ardent backers of free enterprise, is considered a certainty and will probably result in wide changes in government policy. The major force will remain the premier's moderate Labor party (Mapai).

The Knesset is expected to hear the new cabinet proposals Monday. The resignation notice was handed to President Yitzhak Ben-Zvi today.

Trapped By Slide Rescue 9 Miners

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters) — The last nine of a gang of entombed gold miners were brought to the surface today, safe after more than two days trapped behind a rock fall.

Nineteen men were trapped in the cave-in Wednesday morning.

Five clambered out Thursday unhurt. They had climbed 4,500 feet to the surface. They led back a rescue party which brought out another five.

The original cave-in, along a 400-foot tunnel at the Nourse gold mine near here, killed three and seriously injured two more.

Identified In Affidavit

FBI Names Boston Gunman As One Of Brink's Robbers

BOSTON (AP) — Joseph J. (Specs) O'Keefe, 44-year-old Boston gunman, is named by the federal bureau of investigation as one of the masked men who robbed the Brink's Boston headquarters of $1,219,000 on the night of Jan. 17, 1950.

O'Keefe was named in affidavits filed by the FBI with the Federal Court in Boston.

The affidavits became available to reporters Thursday as O'Keefe fought a contempt-of-court charge resulting from his refusal to answer pertinent questions before a grand jury hearing evidence in the fabulous stickup.

One of the affidavits, signed by John B. Greene, a special agent of the FBI who heads the Brink's investigation, says that he "has reason to believe that Joseph J. O'Keefe was one of the participants in the robbery at Brink's, Inc., 165 Prince St., Boston."

A second affidavit says that $60,000 in Brink's loot was hidden on April 27, 1950 in a house at 771 Veterans of Foreign Wars Parkway, Boston, then occupied by O'Keefe's sister, Mrs. Mary A. Hooley, 37.

A third affidavit sets forth that July 19, 1950, the $60,000 had been transferred to the home of a Mary O'Keefe, identified as Joseph O'Keefe's wife.

A fourth affidavit tells of an alleged telephone conversation between O'Keefe, then serving 90 days in jail, and Mary O'Keefe.

Agent Greene says in the paper: "He (O'Keefe) asked his wife whether or not she had been interviewed by federal enforcement officials and she said she had.

"He asked whether or not anything was found, and she answered: 'No,' and later he told her: 'Just take good care of the baby. You know what I mean.'"

Federal authorities said there is no O'Keefe baby.

Were Horses On Army Pay Tax Dodgers? Lady MP Asks If Any Were Married

OTTAWA (CP)—The government will be asked by the opposition if horses on the payroll at the Petawawa army camp paid income tax.

The Currie report, tabled Monday in the Commons, disclosed that horses got on the army's payroll as "non-existent laborers."

Thursday, Mrs. Ellen Fairclough (PC-Hamilton West) sent seven questions about the horses to Leon Raymond, clerk of the Commons, for printing on the chamber's order paper when it resumes Jan. 12.

They were:

1. Were any names of persons listed on Petawawa payrolls which did not represent living human beings?
2. If so, how many?
3. At what rate of pay were they listed?
4. Was remuneration in cash or by cheque?
5. If the latter, who cashed the cheques?
6. Were deductions made for income tax purposes at source?
7. If so, what claims, if any, were made for exemptions because of (a) married status; (b) other dependents.

50 Men Aboard

Canadian Ship Crippled, Battered In Pacific Storm

VANCOUVER (CP)—The elements assaulted the Canadian freighter Maplecove today as she rolled helplessly in mid-Pacific with a useless rudder.

The Vancouver tug Island Sovereign was racing to her aid, but it would be Monday night at the earliest before she could reach the crippled 10,000-ton merchantman. The Maplecove is carrying a crew of 50.

The Canadian weather ships St. Catharines and Stonetown, in the process of changing guard at station "Papa," 1,000 miles west of here, reported gales of 50 miles an hour and snow.

The Maplecove, bound for Vancouver from Yokohama, was some 1,260 miles due west of here. Nearest ship to her—about 200 miles away—was the Tacoma, Wash., freighter Charles E. Dant, an 8,000-tonner. The Dant also reported a shrieking, snow-laden gale.

The Maplecove radioed for a tow late Thursday after her rudder was damaged. Capt. R. A. Leicester of Vancouver signalled at that time that his ship was "lying comfortably" and he did not request aid from any other vessel except the tug.

The weather bureau here said four or five ships were in the vicinity. They could be diverted to the Maplecove if her position became critical.

Capt. Leicester did not say how the rudder was damaged. He radioed that the crew could not control the ship, but that she was in no immediate danger.

The St. Catharines arrived at the weather station to relieve the Stonetown after her six-week tour of duty. Heavy seas carried away the sounding machine, damaged a lifeboat and sprung the bulkheads of the Stonetown during her patrol.

Controversy Continued By Letter

Stress On Inefficiency Played Up In Drew Epistle

OTTAWA (CP)—The heated debate over the Currie report on the Army works services continued Wednesday night in an exchange of letters between George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, and Prime Minister St. Laurent.

The exchange—two letters by Mr. Drew and one by Mr. St. Laurent—picked up where the Commons left off Wednesday night when it adjourned until Jan. 12. All letters were issued to the press.

In a 1,200-word letter, Mr. Drew reiterated a request for a general investigation into the "almost unbelievable inefficiency" in the defence department he said was disclosed in the report by George S. Currie, Montreal chartered accountant and wartime deputy minister of national defence.

It was "neither necessary nor desirable" for the report to be dealt with by the Commons defence expenditures committee.

FIRST ITEM OF BUSINESS

In a 200-word reply, Mr. St. Laurent said the report will be "the first item of government business" when the House reconvenes.

A spokesman in the prime minister's office said this referred to Mr. St. Laurent's motion, now on the order paper, to establish the defence expenditures committee.

Mr. St. Laurent said he "of course" did not accept Mr. Drew's interpretation of the report

Mr. Drew asked that Mr. Currie be assigned to conduct a general inquiry.

Mr. St. Laurent said he had no intention of following Mr. Drew's example "and transferring to the columns of the newspapers, where orderly debate is impossible, the discussion and disposition of this very important matter without further reference to Parliament."

HAD PRESS IN MIND

In his second letter, Mr. Drew replied that the government had "very much in mind" the interest of the press when the statement of acting Defence Minister Campney was prepared.

Mr. Campney outlined the government stand on the Currie report during the closing stages of the debate Wednesday night

The three letters also carried on a running argument on whether the Progressive Conservative leader could have spoken, under House rules, in reply to Mr. Campney.

Mr. Drew said he had exhausted his allotted time in speaking on the last motion before the House prior to Mr. Campney's speech.

Mr. St. Laurent said he could have spoken again simply by asking a Progressive Conservative member to move another motion in the debate.

Mr. Drew replied sharply that such a motion was "out of the question." The motion would have been an amendment to the Progressive Conservatives' own motion and Mr. St. Laurent was "well aware" of the fact.

Sells $50 Neckties

NEW YORK (AP) — Christmas business is so good, says a Charlotte, N. C., merchant, that he even has a brisk demand for $50 neckties. They are made of velvet, woven with pure gold.

The Weather

°—Below zero.

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office in Toronto at 9:30 a.m.:

Synopsis:

Overnight temperatures throughout southern Ontario were somewhat higher than expected as cloud rolled in off Lake Huron and blanketed these sections. Most of the cloud will tend to break up today but cloud will once more move in late tonight and early Saturday in advance of a disturbance currently situated over Arkansas, and which is expected to move south of the Great Lakes Saturday.

There is a strong likelihood that most of the precipitation associated with this storm will remain south of Lake Erie, but along the north shore of this lake one to two inches of snow may be deposited overnight, with a somewhat less amount along Lake Ontario Saturday.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Saturday:

Lake Ontario; Toronto city: Cloudy, clearing about noon today, clouding over again about midnight. Intermittent snow beginning during the morning Saturday, ending by evening. Little change in temperature. Winds light tonight and high Saturday at Trenton and Toronto 25 and 35. Summary for Saturday: Intermittent light snow.

Northern Lake Huron, Georgian Bay, Haliburton regions: Cloudy, clearing about noon today, clouding over again about dawn Saturday. A few light snowflurries Saturday. Little change in temperature. Winds light. Low tonight and high Saturday at Wingham 20 and 32, Muskoka 10 and 30, Killaloe zero and 32 above. Summary for Saturday: Cloudy.

Severed Twins Cling To Life

CHICAGO (AP)—The tiny Brodie Siamese twins, medical history's first survivors of a head-to-head surgical separation, clung to life today by the slenderest of threads.

Condition of one of the infant boys was reported "very precarious."

His brother has shown some improvement.

Doctors said the 15-month-old twins will remain on the critical list for five to seven days, if they survive. The fate of one, they said, may be decided within hours.

Roger is in critical condition. His brain circulation was impaired by the 12-hour and 40-minute operation.

Rodney regained consciousness Thursday alternately crying and smiling.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP) — The American dollar was at a discount of 3⅛ per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Thursday's noon rate was 96 15-16 cents. The pound sterling was $2.71⅞, against $2.72 Thursday.

Name Civilians To Head Armed Services

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower today announced his selections of the civilians who will head the armed services under Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defence-designate.

They are:

Deputy secretary of defence — Roger M. Kyes, 46, of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., a vice-president of General Motors.

Secretary of the army — Robert Ten Broeck Stevens, 53, of South Plainfield, N. J., a director of the General Electric Corp., General Foods and Jackson Mills, and chairman of the board of J. P. Stevens and Co., textile manufacturers.

Secretary of the navy — Robert Bernard Anderson, 42, of Vernon, Tex., a director and deputy chairman of the board of directors of the federal Reserve Bank at Dallas Tex.

Secretary of the air force—Harold L. Talbott, 44, of New York, chairman of the board of the North American Aviation Co., and a member of the Chrysler Corp. finance committee.

ACTIVE AS ADVISER

Talbott was active as an adviser and fund-raiser during Eisenhower's presidential campaign. The others selected today had not figured in the campaign limelight on a national scale. All the designations must be approved by the Senate.

Hagerty's office said Anderson is a democrat who described himself during the campaign as a "Democrat for Eisenhower." The other three men designated today are Republicans.

Anderson is the third Democrat chosen by Eisenhower for a key position in the Republican administration that will take office Jan. 20.

The others are Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Houston, Tex., editor and publisher, who will be federal security administrator, and Martin P. Durkin of Chicago and Washington, AFL plumbing union president, who was chosen as secretary of labor.

Like Anderson, Mrs. Hobby supported Eisenhower in the campaign. Durkin supported Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic presidential candidate.

Cheese, Produce And Livestock

TORONTO FRUIT

TORONTO (CP) — Wholesale fruit and vegetable prices were unchanged here today.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain prices generally were higher at the opening today. The trade was awaiting a government crop report, due after the close, on the condition of 1953 wheat and rye.

Wheat started unchanged to ¼ cent higher, December $2.29½; corn was ¼ to one cent higher, December $1.62, and oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, January $3.00⅛-⅛.

Had Stolen Guns Girl 20, Arrested

LONDON (Reuters) — A woman who tried to hawk around London's underworld a suitcase full of automatics stolen from the U.S. Air Force was sentenced to six months in prison today.

She told the court the 10 pistols had been given to her by a U.S. airman with whom she had been living in Margate, Kent, near the Manston air base.

Frederick F. Lenzen, 24, will be tried by a court martial later in connection with the theft of the weapons.

She was arrested by a detective while trying to sell the guns to a street merchant in central London's Soho district. She had asked $600 for all 10.

Christmas Inspires 2 Boys To Write Poem

Christmas inspires children to do many things—mostly to be on their good behavior. But two young boys of Queen Alexandra School were inspired to write a poem about it all.

Angus McFadgen, 11-year-old son of Mrs. K. M. McFadgen, 5 Dennistoun Ave., with the help of his friend Richard Ward, also 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Ward, 19 Dennistoun Ave., wrote a two verse poem about Christmas. It has no title, but it goes like this:

Santa Claus is coming soon
To every girl and boy.

Santa will use the light of the moon
To bring them many a toy.

He fills a stocking every room
And when the children wake up,
Then little Nancy finds a broom
And Peter finds a pup.

WA Appoints Group Leaders

ROSENEATH (ENS)—With a membership of 35 and every member present, with the exception of Mrs. Alvin Rosebush, who was confined to her home with a fractured leg, the WA of the United Church held their Christmas meeting in the township hall on Wednesday afternoon.

The hall was gaily decorated with poinsettias, holly and Christmas decoration.

President Mrs. Earl Waldie presided with Mrs. Ella Brown pianist. Included in the correspondence read by the secretary, Mrs. Charles Sandercock was Christmas greetings from the Rev. and Mrs. R. C. White, Bobcaygeon, a former pastor.

The Rev. J. R. Wheeler presented the topic "Keeping Christ in Christmas" during the worship service and Christmas carols were sung.

Treasurer Mrs. Fred Norris reported a balance on hand of $436. Extra money was raised by the society through the group system in 1952. The three groups reported having raised a total of $361 during the year.

On motion it was decided to give the following donations: $10 to the United Church M and M fund; $10 to the Institute for the Blind; $10 to the Salvation Army in Cobourg.

The members divided into groups and appointed their leaders for the new year: Group 1—Mrs. James Thompson, leader, Mrs. Lorne Thackeray, secretary. Group 2—Mrs. Fred Norris, leader, Mrs. Charles Sandercock, secretary. Group 3—Mrs. Mervin Smith, leader, Mrs. C. W. Varcoe, secretary.

The programs for the year were also planned at this meeting.

Plans were made for the annual congregational church meeting to be held in January when the members of the WA will cater to a pot luck dinner.

The names of the secret pals were also drawn for 1953.

Boxes were packed for the ill, the aged and the shut-in of the community at the meeting.

Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite, on behalf of the Rice Lake Tourists Association presented an electric tea kettle to the society, to show their appreciation for the use of the WA utensils at their meetings.

Mrs. Harold Taylor, recently returned from England, thanked the members for their box of rationed food sent to her while in England.

Mrs. Isabel Brown, program convener, announced the following numbers on the program: Christmas carols were sung; Mrs. Bart Thackeray read "What I Want For Christmas"; Mrs. Fred Norris conducted a Christmas gift contest won by Mrs. Isabel Brown; Merla Derry, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Derry carried off the prize for the youngest child present donated by Mrs. Herman Blodgett.

The members then sat down at a long table for a pot luck supper. The table covered with gaily colored Christmas tablecloths centred with a Christmas cake, decorated and donated by Mrs. Earl Waldie and Mrs. Isabel Brown. Candles and poinsettias completed the table decorations.

Western Oils Falter On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP) — Western oils faltered slightly in early afternoon stock market trading today after recent sharp rises. Industrials continued to gain.

Western oils gains outnumbered losses more than two to one and ranged to about 50 cents. Anglo-Canadian, Rio Tinto and Fargo turned downward after noon but Federated, General A, Husky, Britalta and Calvan gained.

Utilities and miscellaneous issues headed the industrials gains and steels, refining oils, manufacturing companies and papers also gained. Foods and banks weakened

Senior golds were mixed while juniors traded lightly for small losses. Powell Rouyn drew firm support but MacLeod and O'Brien slipped. Conwest led losses in prospects. Holding companies traded lower.

Eastern Metals traded most actively in base metals, moving 53,000 shares for a gain of pennies. Most higher-priced issues gained and Dominion Asbestos, Coldstream Nesbitt-Labine and Ontario Pyrites rose.

8 Die In Explosion

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) A news agency dispatch from Recife today said eight men were killed and 10 were severely injured in a powder factory explosion.

Manvers' Reeve In Race Counties Warden

COBOURG—The year 1953 will be the county of Durham's turn to have one of its representatives warden of the council of the United Counties. This year it was Northumberland's turn and Reeve Harry Campbell of South Monaghan has ably filled the warden's chair.

Several names are already being mentioned but it is expected that the contest will finally be between Reeve Allan Beers of Manvers township and Reeve J. H. Lowery, veteran councillor who is reeve of Clarke township. However the name of Reeve R. W. Nichols of Darlington township is also being mentioned.

In "Ontario's Little Legislature" when it assembles early in January the candidates will have then pretty well sized up the field.

Marmora Gives School Concert

MARMORA (ENS)—A well filled house greeted the presentation of the Christmas pageant, "The Christmas Story," which was enacted in Marmora Town Hall, Wednesday evening, by pupils of Marmora Public School, under the direction of Miss Olga Wurm, the school's music teacher.

It was sponsored by Marmora Home and School Association. Stage settings made a fine background for the presentation of the various scenes. Pupils took the parts of the holy family, angels, shepherds, Herod and his wise men, the priests and scribes, and the three kings of the Orient. A robed choir of seventy-two young voices sang the hymns and carols in the pageant with harmony and clarity that was outstanding for so youthful a group.

Ronald Wells read portions of the gospel narrative between the choral numbers with excellent diction. The accompanist was Mrs. H. Rennie.

Mrs. Roy Frost, president of the Home and School Association, thanked the audience for turning out in such numbers. Shortly before the end of the pageant, Donald Marett, chairman of Marmora Public School Board, expressed thanks to all participating in the production. A silver collection was taken to defray expenses.

More Pilfering In Army Stores

OTTAWA (CP)—A new case of pilfering from army stores was disclosed by the RCMP Thursday.

It involved the huge Plouffe Park ordnance depot in Ottawa which was cited by Acting Defence Minister Campney Wednesday night in the government's main defence against opposition attacks as result of the Currie report.

The RCMP said approximately $250 worth of clothing stolen during a period of a year by a civilian employee of the depot has been recovered. The man has made a statement but has not yet been detained, the police said, because the matter still is under investigation.

In the Commons Wednesday night Mr. Campney accused the opposition of trying to throw the shadow arising from the Camp Petawawa thefts over the whole army. He cited Plouffe Park as a place which contains stock worth nearly $100,000,000.

Have No Indication When Talks Resume

MONTREAL (CP) — There was no indication today when talks will be resumed between the unions and railways in the dispute involving 144,000 non-operating personnel.

Frank Hall, chief union spokesman and chairman of the negotiating committee for the 15 international and two national brotherhoods involved, said after a meeting Thursday with Donald Gordon, president of the Canadian National Railways, and W. A. Mather, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway company: "We've had an amicable discussion."

Mr. Gordon said later: "We've had a very friendly meeting."

Both gave similar answers when asked about progress made during the meeting.

Mr. Mather met with Mr. Gordon privately shortly before joining the union men. The meeting with the union representatives lasted 40 minutes, but the railway heads did not leave the conference room until 40 minutes after the meeting ended.

Third Baby Smothers In Bed With Parents

PELSALL, Stafford, England, (Reuters) — Within six years three children have been suffocated while sleeping with William Locke and his wife, a coroner's inquest was told Thursday.

Official verdict for the death of three - month - old Malcolm Locke was "death from asphyxia due to being accidentally suffocated by bedclothes."

Coroner Frank Cooper was told other Locke children had died in the same way in 1946 and 1948.

He said: "I do beg you not to have children in bed with you. You ought to know the risks you are running."

Locke, a truck driver, said he, his wife and three other children have one bedroom in a house holding 13 persons.

He said: "When the baby woke at four in the morning we took him into our bed." Three hours later he found the baby dead.

Woodvale Gives Varied Concert

ROSENEATH (ENS) — A folk dance by the junior pupils was the outstanding number on the program at the annual Christmas concert at Woodvale School, three miles west of Roseneath, Tuesday evening. The teacher is Mrs. Reginald Crego.

Chairman was Harold Davidson, and the pianist, Mr. Donald Pollock of Havelock, music supervisor in the schools of this district. Welcome recitations were given by Lorraine Linton and Maurice Davidson, followed by a chorus by the school, "It's Beginning to Look Like Christmas." Christmas recitations were given by Junior Smith, Edward Lean and Brian Smith. A chorus by the juniors, "Pumpkin Head." Vocal duets were sung by Shirley Woodruff and Eugene Hope, Jean Davidson and Helen Sandercock. An instrumental by the Rhythm Band; a piano duet by Donald Pollock and Barbara Pollock; Miss Pollock also played an accordion solo and responded to an encore. Two plays were presented by the school pupils, "Practical Test" and "The Princess Who Wanted to be a Fairy." A two-act play, "The Dummy," was presented by the young people of the community. The cast of characters were: Misses Joyce and Linda Arthur, Perry Lean, Reginald Timlin and Bruce Davidson. Billy Smith told the Christmas Story. It was interspersed by the singing of Christmas carols by the pupils and audience. The entertainment concluded by a school chorus, "Christmas Polka."

Santa Claus arrived, and with his helpers distributed the gifts off the well-laden Christmas tree.

City Fathers Kept Busy Attending Meetings

Ald. Harold Rehill's attention to his own business must have been sketchy these last two days. Wednesday he was off to Napanee helping with other directors to promote the Central Ontario Spring Show (to be held in Peterborough next March). Thursday he sat in at the annual meeting of Zone 4 of the Ontario Conservation Association, leaving after three o'clock for a meeting of the sanitation committee of the city council. It is all effort in the public good, but it takes a lot of the time of men who are not content with merely nominal service when they find themselves in these positions. Mayor Waddell was another Conservationist Thursday. His worship says he learns something new every time he attends a meeting of farmers.

Obituary

IRVIN HENRY JOHNSON

OMEMEE (ENS)—Irvin Henry Johnston, 55, died suddenly Thursday morning at the home of his son Charles in Omemee.

He was born in Mariposa township near Cresswell, a son of the late Irvin Johnston and Hannah Stevens. He farmed in that township until his retirement in Little Britain where his wife died in 1948. Since that time he has made his home with his son in Omemee.

Mr. Johnston was a member of the United Church. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Wm. Watts of Sunderland. Besides his son Charles of Omemee, he leaves three daughters, Mrs. Carl White (Eleanor) of Viking, Alberta, Mrs. Jack Young (Emma) of Port Perry, and Mrs. Robert Bunkall (Carrie) of Toronto. There are 14 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

The body is resting at the Pinkham funeral home, Sunderland, where the funeral will be held Saturday at 2:30 p.m., the Rev. J. R. Trumpour officiating. Burial will be in Little Britain Christian cemetery.

Family Saved By Boy Seven

TORONTO (CP)—Jimmy Birch, 7, Thursday saved the lives of his mother, two brothers and sister. Jimmy was unable to get in when he came home for lunch. He smelled gas, knocked in the front door and found Larry, 2, sprawled on the floor; Gloria, 5, dazed, and his mother, who works nights, and brother Gordon asleep upstairs.

Firemen used inhalators for 30 minutes to revive two of the children overcome by gas in their Hastings Ave. home. They believe Larry Birch, 2, turned on a gas jet while his mother and 15-year-old brother, Gordon, were sleeping.

Jimmy broke a catch on the rear door when he could not attract anyone's attention by rapping on the window. Mrs. Birch awoke to find Jimmy helping the two younger children into a bedroom.

Squeezed Heart Doctor's Hand Ached For Week

TORONTO (CP)—A Toronto doctor whose hand ached for a week afterward told Thursday how he kept a patient alive by squeezing the heart when it stopped during an operation.

For 40 minutes Dr. David Pratt used his hand for a heart, the blood continued circulating and 74-year-old James Taylor remained alive.

Mr. Taylor, a retired lawyer, was injured in an automobile accident in October. A clot formed on his brain Dec. 6 and Dr. Pratt ordered an emergency operation.

While attendants were administering the anaesthetic Mr. Taylor's heart stopped beating.

"The patient is dead," the anaesthetist, Dr. Joseph Jackson, told Dr. Pratt.

"I slashed open his chest between the fourth and fifth ribs and shoved my hand in," Dr. Pratt said. "I took hold of the heart and began squeezing. For 40 minutes my hand was his heart."

Dr. Pratt said the patient's heart actually stopped for 1½ minutes but it was 40 minutes before the normal beat was restored.

Liquor Controller?

TORONTO (CP)—A Toronto paper says in a newspage story that Hon. W. E. Hamilton, Ontario minister without portfolio soon will be appointed liquor controller for the province.

The paper says Mr. Hamilton, whose home is in Guelph, will be in charge of both the liquor control board and the liquor licence board.

Will Sue Says Marilyn If Trays Bear Nude Photo

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If a plastic manufacturer carries out his plans to market bar trays showing actress Marilyn Monroe in the altogether, the young movie actress swears she'll sue him.

The trays would bear the nude calendar photo for which Marilyn says she posed when she was hungry and behind in her rent. The manufacturer claims she gave full consent for use of her name, portraits and pictures "for advertising and trade purposes."

He says he would sell the trays for about $15 each, thus restricting them to places "with a lot of class and dignity. . .such as bars on bachelors and lovers of art." He'd also use the photos on bar glasses.

Marilyn's studio said Thursday its lawyers are planning to institute legal action "against companies and individuals engaged in unauthorized commercial exploitation of the Marilyn Monroe calendar photographs."

The action would be based on the contention that reproductions of the photographs are being used for commercial purposes "in an unethical and indiscriminate manner."

The manufacturer prefers to remain anonymous but says his firm is "M and M Sales." According to him it's only coincidental the initials are the same as Marilyn's and they actually stand for Moskovitch and Murphy, partners of his.

He says he has an agreement with the photographer who took the Monroe pictures and a release signed by the actress at the time she posed. He quoted it as saying: "I consent to the use of my name, portraits and pictures. . for advertising and trade purposes. . ."

Discussed Plan With Saunders Lawyer Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New Jersey applicant for a licence to build the American half of the St. Lawrence river power project admitted under cross examination Thursday some parts of his plan were copied from army engineers' recommendations. Ontario is the Canadian partner in the project.

Hugo A. Spalinski, president of the Public Power and Water Corp., Trenton, N.J., said permission to "make notes" from the engineers' recommendations for the project came from James Forrestal, late secretary of defence.

The power commission hearing on Public Power's application to join with Ontario in constructing the big project, will reach a temporary end today with Spalinski continuing under cross examination.

The hearing will then adjourn to Feb. 2. The commission has already taken testimony on a similar application by the power authority of New York state.

MORE QUESTIONS

In another sequence of questioning under cross - examination, Spalinski said he had discussed the proposed development with Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario hydro - electric power commission, in New York city.

Spalinski said that he and Saunders came to no conclusions at the New York meeting nor were any commitments made.

Saunders, estifying last week during the commission's consideration of the New York application, said that "no useful purpose" would be served in further conferring with Spalinski.

Saunders also was present at today's hearing as a spectator.

No Decision Reached In PUC-Union Talks

COBOURG (ENS)—New wage demands by the union of the Public Utilities Commission employees were discussed at a meeting of the commission last night, but no decision was reached. At a meeting scheduled for Monday night the commission, however, will present its counter proposals.

The union seeks wage increases varying from 13 to 27 cents an hour. They also want the present cost of living bonus made part of the basic wage rate and the new cost of living escalator clause incorporated into the new contract.

Vicar Plus Seance Too Much For Ghost

IPSWICH, Eng. (Reuters) — The ghost has finally vacated Cecil Wilson's home.

Exorcism by Vicar F. Tucker-Harvey seemed to have turned the trick.

Mr. Tucker-Harvey was called in Monday night when the Wilsons claimed a poltergeist had been throwing things around their rooms and producing weird noises and lights.

The Church of England vicar prayed Monday night and again Tuesday in an effort to get rid of the "evil spirit."

Wednesday night he said the ghost was weakening and so he stayed the night to finish the job.

Spiritualists held a midnight seance and said Thursday the ghost had been "laid."

Said Wilson: "The house feels quite different and we sleep soundly."

Many Attend Funeral Mrs. H. H. Ryley

BETHANY (ENS)—The funeral service for the late Mrs. H. H. Ryley, aged 81 years, who died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, on Sunday, was held on Wednesday and was one of the largest ever witnessed in this village, as the many friends and relatives gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to one who had lived her entire lifetime in the district. The United Church was filled beyond seating capacity and the procession of cars to the cemetery was over a mile in length.

Mrs. Ryley, the former Mary Alice McGill was born just two miles north of the village and was the last surviving member of the family of her parents, the late Joseph McGill and Eliza Pritchard, who were among the very early settlers of Manvers township.

As a young woman she taught school. Following her marriage she became an able partner in her husband's business (Ryley & Sons General Store has been established here continuously for over 92 years.)

Mrs. Ryley took a keen interest in all the Women's organizations of the former Presbyterian Church and later in the United Church. For many years she was a teacher in the Sunday schools of both churches and is especially remembered for her leadership of the Young Men's Bible Class. She was a talented artist, as well as a musician and was a former organist of St. Paul's Anglican Church and Bethany Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. James Hampson had charge of the service, assisted by the Rev. T. S. Gault of St. Paul's. Mrs. Clarence Rowan presided at the organ.

Immediately surviving are her son Bruce are home; her daughter, Mrs. James Turnbull (Alice) of Peterborough; three grandsons, Harry and Robert Ryley of Bethany and James Ryley Turnbull of Toronto. Her husband Harry Heaton Ryley predeceased her 26 years ago.

Palbearers were Roy McGill, Lloyd Ashton, Harvey McGill, Stewart McGill, Louis McGill and Gibson Lowery.

Flower bearers were Harold Rowan, Harold Tate, Cecil McGill, Charles Staples, Kenneth Mason, Earl McGill, Leslie Pritchard, Cavan and Bruce McGill, Lawrence Staples, Thomas Staples, Offa Staples, Vincent Jackson, Leslie Challice, Laverne McKinley, Harry O'Brian, Clarence Neals, Walter Rowan, Clarence Rowan, J. C. Cummiskey, Wiliam Rowan, William Hannah, Calvin Reynolds, Otto Spencer and Lloyd Kennedy.

Burial was in the family plot at St. Mary's cemetery.

The Delights Of Georgia

For the past year scores of foreign delegations, approved by Moscow though not entirely or even in the main made up of Communists, have been touring show-places in Russia. One of them has been Tiflis, the capital of the legendary Caucasian republic of Georgia. The visiting delegates have not seen everything.

* * *

Georgia, between the Black Sea and the Caspian Sea, has many physiological points of interest to visitors, a generally equable climate, and the distinction of having produced both Stalin and Beria, Russia's chief policeman. Georgia is therefore one of the Russian republics to excite both delight and interest in admiring visitors. And since Stalin is himself a Georgian, it has long been given preferential treatment. Here, one is assured, the Soviet Government has solved all its problems of bending the people to the will of the State, and transforming it into a model of a Socialist state.

* * *

Some aspects of Georgia have not been apparent to travellers. From Moscow itself have come, during the last twelve months, indications that the dear Georgians are not the models of Communist virtue one should expect. Important ministers, and even the Public Prosecutor, have been dismissed for corruption, that is for "extending protection to certain officials who had committed crimes and shielding them in every possible way" (conniving at bribery, conniving at embezzlement, conniving at speculation). That was in November, 1951.

* * *

Last April and in the presence of Beria as Stalin's representative, the dictator of Georgia, and for thirteen years a confidant of Stalin, was dismissed. But the purge in Georgia was not even then complete. The Georgia hydro-electric building trust has been putting up a five-storey house in the city for five years, and it is still not completed. The Tiflis building trust is said in Moscow to have "embezzled and overspent more than ten million rubles in 1950."

* * *

The visitors to Tiflis are not aware of this, nor do they see the new buildings with crooked doors, cracked walls, faulty water and electric fittings.

* * *

They do not see as part of the wonders of the Georgian capital, the sanitary arrangements in many parts of the city. Nor do they scent the state of political affairs, with local party leaders trying to turn themselves into "chieftains," an accusation of Mgledaze, the new first secretary of the party in Georgia: "Those who are seeking to divide Georgia and exercise chieftainship over separate provinces or to set one province against another, will be crushed in Stalin's manner," he said this Fall.

* * *

Travellers to Georgia are delighted with the state. We who have never been to Georgia, are delighted with this state of affairs. It proves that even in the very home state of Stalin where the Russian experiment and rule should have had its best results (because most cultivated by the U.S.S.R. authorities), no heaven on the Communist earth has been made, or angels created. Apparently the sugar-daddy has been pampering gold-diggers.

While The Currie Report Steamed

The last days of Parliament before the Christmas recess were almost completely consumed by debate on the report of the Petawawa irregularities, in so far as the public eye and the interest of the parliamentarians was concerned. Actually, several important things were said and registered in the House, but they got little attention.

Prime Minister St. Laurent returned from the Commonwealth Conference and reported on it.

There was an important small debate on Canadian trade and trade policies. Government spokesmen contended, on the whole with success, that its conduct of trade matters had resulted in a marked improvement and advance.

There was a parliamentary spat among some Quebec members over Dominion-Provincial relations.

There was further information (given by the Minister of Transport) about the re-location of a Winnipeg hotel manager, following the Prime Minister's stay in the Winnipeg hotel—a shift allegedly due to the manager's lack of consideration for the St. Laurent party.

There was an appeal by an Ontario back-bencher that no TV license fee be imposed in areas lacking Canadian TV stations.

There was talk on tax reduction and about the denunciation by a P.E.I. Conservative of Karsh, the photographer.

None of these things raised a stir in the House or among the public. At another time some of them would have made headlines, and all the front pages. But even in Parliament very little attention was paid speakers who digressed from Petawawa; everybody was talking in the lobbies, and as often as he could get a word, in the House, about the Currie report and the questions arising out of it. (Why was there an unofficial copy? How did a C.C.F. member get hold of it? Why did the Chief of General Staff have access to the report before Parliament? etc.)

And in the world outside, significant things were happening, for instance, serious discussion on financing and manning the NATO forces; the Council of NATO has been meeting in Paris (its sessions ended yesterday) and Mr. Claxton headed the Canadian group.

Undoubtedly in the long story, other matters, both inside and outside Parliament, were more important this week than the Currie Report on Petawawa; but politics is not a matter of logistics. For Canada and good government and sound defence, the more trivial matter of irregularities, involving far less money than Canada is spending in one day as a NATO partner, was the most important issue of the week. It is the trivialities which engage the day to day life of government and people, and it is the trivialities which mark a person and a country for what they are. So the small things become very important and often are decisive in matters of great weight and urgency.

Let The Parliamentary Committee Look Into It

Parliament has now recessed for the Christmas holidays, and so the noise and wind from the Petawawa report will subside. More will be heard of it when the Members get back to their desks. What is to be done, other than pounding parliamentary desks or crying for scalps? Parliament has a special committee of all parties set up to review defence spending. It is this committee which should specially study the Currie report and, as it sees necessary, scrutinize carefully the accounts in other military, naval and air force establishments.

Unless there are further alarming disclosures of widespread pilfering, shortcomings and breakdowns, no Royal Commission is needed. Petawawa has already been investigated and reported on. Let the Parliamentary Committee get busy, examine the Currie report to determine its validity and importance, and Departments of Defence books and accounts, and then make its report to Parliament.

The Minister of National Defence should be there to answer for his department, and to assure parliament and people that he will not condone what offences are revealed, nor exculpate anybody, no matter how high in military rank or in the Department, whose laxity, negligence and incapacity has resulted in such a mess as has been revealed in Petawawa. If crowns have to topple, let them fall. Some persons somewhere under Mr. Claxton's political authority have not been properly responsible. The Government must not suffer irresponsibility to go unchecked and unpunished, otherwise it is itself irresponsible.

Peterborough, Ont., Canada, U.S.A

Indirectly we hear that a loan company has received an application from an Englishman who wants to borrow some money with which to come to Canada; he read about the loan company in a copy of this paper which he received from a source unknown to us; perhaps he is a regular subscriber.

We are glad that our advertisers are getting such wide coverage from their use of the Examiner's columns.

What chiefly interests us in this matter, however, is that the man who wants a loan addresses his letter to "Peterborough, Ontario, Canada, U.S.A." We are not at all sure that a man who thinks Canada is part of the U.S.A. would make a good citizen. Certainly he is not a man to whom we would be prepared to lend money; seeing the monarch's head on the bills he might become suspicious of them.

NOTES AND COMMENT

The Calgary Herald bitterly defines a bachelor as "a man who has a whole clothes closet to himself."

Two lads on the west coast have built a boat which gets its power from a washing-machine motor. Inevitably it will be referred to as "the old tub."

In Western Germany, we hear, there are two new dictionary definitions, thus: "Optimist—a man who is learning English"; "Pessimist—a man who is learning Russian."

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

DEAR ALPHA: On the Church notices page there is a little square entitled BAHA'I with a quotation from Abdu'l Baha. Could you enlighten me about this movement? All I can find about it is as follows: "1850 in Persia—Execution of Sayyrd Ali' Mohammed the Bab (Gateway) a founder of Babism, a new mystic movement in Islam. In the succeeding years the numerous followers of the Bab were persecuted in the 1864 expulsion, most of them finding refuge in Turkey. The Bab's successor, Baha Ulla (The Splendour of God), gave the movement a new turn and founded Bahaism—a less strictly Islamic version of the new doctrine." And: "Bahaism is: The Doctrine of the Baha's, emphasising the spiritual unity of mankind, advocating universal peace, and imbued with mild oriental mysticism, succeeding the Persian religious sect of Babism."

ANSWER: Thanks for the information with a question. I might add that in Persia today there are two million of the Bahai faith and several other millions in India, Turkey, southern Russia, north Africa and other Mohammedan states. Bahaism has its converts, societies and missionaries in almost every civilized country—even in Canada. In the United States there are more than forty centres of propaganda, and in Chicago a large and posh building.

Mirza Ali Mohamet (1819-1850), the founder of the cult, preached that the Mohammedan religion had become corrupt and needed reformation, that the clergy were ignorant and vicious, that the Koran was not the final revelation, but that a new prophet was to come in the near future.

Ali Mahomet ("Bab") foretold his own death at the hands of the authorities—not a difficult thing for him to do, considering his subversive teaching. At the same time he comforted his followers with the assurance that another and greater than he would soon appear to carry on his work. He was condemned at a mock trial and shot on the public square of Tabriz in July, 1850.

According to Bahaism there is no essential virtue in poverty nor essential evil in great wealth. The believers in Bahaism are enjoined not to withdraw from their present religious organizations but to stay in their midst and try to reform them in the light of social evolution, and to promote social unity.

There are several books on Bahaism, and any large encyclopaedia will outline the doctrines and practices of the cult.

CHRISTMAS CARDS AIR MAIL: A reader of this column has complained that lightweight Christmas cards especially designed for sending by air mail cannot be had. This seems to Alpha to be a chance for an enterprising card manufacturer to make a mint of money.

Two kinds of Christmas card senders would be helped; those who send cards to distant points like Australia and dislike dispatching them in the middle of October with the chance of their arriving any time between November and January; and those who are inveterate late-senders of cards, whose procrastination forces them to send by air, so that the greeting will arrive at least before the New Year. I know several people who are only now getting their cards to Britain addressed. At present the only methods are (a) to send the usual full weight card, and damn the expense (b) to buy the lightest of the ordinary ones, snip off the inside pages of the folder, trim the edges and hope to get it down to a quarter-ounce. There is no such thing as an air-mail Christmas card envelope.

✣ ✣ ✣

OLD COINS: An interesting bag-full of old coins in the possession of Mr. Fred Tuggey was brought under my eyes this week. The oldest is a George III half-penny, dated 1771, and interestingly, the reverse side of it shows Britannia with her usual trident in one hand, but in the other an olive branch. There is also an 1806 George III, and 1826 George IV (George with a laurel wreath on his head); and an Edward VIII farthing. I know of nothing now which a farthing will buy, and it is likely that the coin will go out of existence.

Mr. Tuggey's collection includes an 1856 Victoria farthing, showing the head and neck of the young Queen. Those who criticize the new designs for stamps and coins for giving Queen Elizabeth too long a neck, should look to her great-great grandmother's image; Victoria had a long neck, too. The long Victorian neck is apparent also in an 1880 Newfoundland one-cent piece in Mr. Tuggey's collection.

Mr. Tuggey, who was long engaged in house building and reconstruction picked up these coins in old buildings between walls and floors, both in Peterborough and in his native England.

DEAR ALPHA: How do wassail songs happen to be connected with Christmas? What has drinking punch or something stronger to do with this religious festivals?

ANSWER: Are you wanting me to exhort on the good slogan (which should be better observed at Christmas and New Year's); "if you drive, don't drink; if you drink, don't drive"?

From very old times and continuing to the present day (with the exception of the Puritan interruption or interregnum in England) Christmas has been celebrated both as a religious feast and as a time of merrymaking. The two are interrelated: it is a joyous thing for mankind that Christ was born. The punch bowl is an instrument of merrymaking, and the toast Waes Hael—be hale (or healthy or whole) is as traditional as wishing each other "Merry Christmas".

Perhaps you know King Arthur's Wassail?—

Waes-hael for the knight and dame!
O merry be their dole;
Drink-hael; in Jesu's name
We fill the tawny bowl;
But cover down the curving crest,
Mould of the Orient Lady's breast.

Waes-hael! yet lift no lid:
Drain ye the reeds for wine!
Drink hael: the milk was hid
That soothed that Babe divine;
Hushed, as this hollow channel flows,
He drew the balsam from the Rose.

These are the first two verses.

Accompanying an old print of King Arthur's Waes-Hael is this interesting Rubric—or explanation: "When the brown bowl is filled for yule, let the dome or upper half be set on; then let the waes-haelers kneel one by one and draw up the wine with their reeds through the two bosses at the rim. Let one breath only be drawn by each of the morice (i.e. Morris, or Morris dancers) for his waes-hael.

"The rounded shape of the bowl for waes-hael was intended to recall the image of a mother's breast; and thus it was meant, with touching simplicity, to blend the thought of our Christmas gladness with the earliest nurture of the child Jesus".

FOR THE RECORD: There were 1,883 dogs and 218 bitches in Peterborough this year, according to the assessor's count. He was not required to do the impossible and count the cats. Incidentally, dogs are taxed at $3 each, and female dogs at $4. Whether this suggests that females are more highly prized at the City Hall, or merely confirms a tradition that any female costs more to keep than a male, Alpha is not catty enough to say.

THE OLD ARTILLERYMAN'S LAST SALUTE

Letters To The Editor

NOT MOCKING RELIGION

Sir: In response to the letter from a "disgusted citizen" to the Examiner, I would like to say:

(1) Do you really think you are a citizen? Any true citizen would not condemn people for trying to keep up the Christmas spirit in their city.

(2) The carollers were not mocking religion. When has singing carols become a mockery to religion? You will sing them next Sunday in Church, if you go to Church.

(3) They were not bawling out carols as any person who knows anything about music could tell. They have been asked to sing carols in several churches so they must be better than you make out.

(4) Carol singing is not only supervised by competent teachers at P.C.V.S., but is sponsored by a group of well known business men of Peterborough.

(5) If you think these attempts to keep up Christmas spirit are so bad, why don't you get out and do something better?

MARYBETH DARLING
(An Irate Caroller)

THOROUGHLY, DECENTLY CLOTHED

Sir: This is in regard to the letter concerning carollers in Tuesday night's paper. I should think that anyone who has as little Christmas spirit as the person that wrote that would even be disgusted in receiving a Christmas card. Because the rest of the customers were laughing doesn't mean they were making fun; they could have been enjoying it.

I saw the carollers myself, and they were thoroughly, decently clothed, and I think it helps to bring good will and the feeling of Christmas. Although the person that wrote Tuesday's letter may say that we don't need things like that to give us the feeling or remind us of the true meaning of Christmas. We all know the true meaning, that's why we are still celebrating it. I can't possibly see how it is a mockery to any religion; they were singing about Our Lord being born. Couldn't that help to remind us?

I am truly sorry that there is 'one citizen' in town that can't get the Christmas spirit. I hope the carollers keep on 'bawling out carols'. I like it.

ANOTHER CITIZEN

NOT BAWLING CAROLS

Sir: In response to the disgusting letter from "disgusted citizen"—

What is more decent than singing praises of the Lord with young people of all religions? I am sure that they attend their own church and Sunday School more regularly than any disgusted citizen who should return to the Collegiate to learn how to live in accordance with fellow citizens.

They are simply a group of modern youths attempting to recapture the former spirit of Christmas which people such as "citizen" have managed to help us lose.

They were not bawling out carols unless that disgusting word means gaining high recommendation for themselves from innumerable citizens. These same carollers have sung in churches and have been highly commended.

I dare say that if "citizen" when young, sang carols (if they did then), they were not done in the manner which modern youth (who are suuposedly so wild and void of religion) are doing so reverently and with such good Christmas spirit.

There were a few ignorant beings who laughed but many others like myself fully appreciated their efforts and wished we could sing with them.

Thank you,
A CITIZEN who is "disgusted"
with "DISGUSTED CITIZEN"

A SINCERE EFFORT

Sir: I am a student at P.C.V.S., and I would like the writer of that most ill-mannered letter to think twice about what he or she has said.

We students know the sincere hard work Mr. Curtis has put into the Choral Club and the Mixed Choir. We also know that he would never permit them to sing in public if they were as despicable as your reader seems to think they are.

Perhaps the writer could take stock of her own words. For if she knew as much about the glad tidings of Christmas as she claims to, she could not, and would not, begrudge a sincere effort to revive that wonderful, old sight of choristers, singing carols on street-corners.

Sincerely,
A STUDENT

IN MANTLE OF JUNIOR CHAMBER

Sir: In regard to the Disgusted Citizen's letter of December 16, I would like to enlighten the public to a few facts about the carol singers.

We (the Peterborough Collegiate Mixed Choir) are sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who suggested we dress up, not in old clothes, but in clothes portraying 15th century waits or carol singers. In this costume we were to sing at stores and on street corners the well known songs of Christmas. This was to heighten Christmas spirit and not as the writer says "to mock religion".

If some people are dissatisfied with this we are truly sorry as we have tried our best to please everyone.

Yours truly,
PAN NEALE
P.C.I. Mixed Choir Member

A PUPIL SPEAKS

Sir: I am writing in regard to the letter in the paper to-day, complaining about the carol singers down-town on Saturday.

This fine group of young people have been practising at noon hours for some weeks under an excellent leader, to make Christmas Shoppers think of the real meaning of Christmas.

Those "old clothes" and "painted faces" were supposed to represent old English costumes, but it seems some people don't have any imagination at all!

Are carols not an important part of the true meaning of Christmas?

As to people laughing out loud at them it seems highly improbable but if they were they must have been a very ignorant group of people.

Yours Disgustedly,
A COLLEGIATE PUPIL

DISGUSTED WITH ONE CITIZEN

Sir: Disgust sums up fairly accurately my candid opinion of a recent correspondent of this column. It was somewhat gratifying, however, to observe that it was signed "One Citizen" as surely only one person would possess such mean audacity to condemn so prejudicially the sincere actions of a group of carol singers from the Collegiate. These singers, I am certain, wished to cause no offence; they were merely endeavouring to stir up the spirit of Christmas and bring the true meaning of Christmas back into the hearts of people.

To achieve this they employed carols as their medium. There is a just reason, I feel, for their attire; they were not dressed in old clothes, but clothes of the 18th century as they wished to create that era of carol singing. The make up, I presume, was merely used to help achieve the appearance of 18th century folk. If Mr. One Citizen regards this as a mockery of religion, how do you justify the appearances of people in church choirs? Do they not wear gowns and have painted faces (cosmetics)? Would you say that they mock religion?

I, too, was present when these carol singers entered a local store where I am employed and I can quote the names of customers who expressed their highest praise towards this group. It was even said that they wished more people would participate in such activities. Incidentally, there was no loud laughter in this store!

How utterly ridiculous when you say that they bawled out their carols. Such nonsense! Why anyone with half an ear for music would realize that these carols were being sung in three and four part harmony. An extremely difficult task to achieve. In being able to train such youthful voices, Mr. Curtis, you merit sincere praise. Anyone who has even a little knowledge of music would realize the number of long hours of practising required to produce such splendid and beautiful harmony. If only more people would take an interest in youths instead of sitting back and criticizing their activities, there would be fewer juvenile delinquents.

If you wish to hear the mention of the true reason for Christmas, I suggest that you attend a few church services. Only this week I have attended three different church candlelight services and the real meaning of Christmas was evident. A few days ago the undergraduates of the University of Toronto presented a splendid play over radio station CJBC entitled "No Room in the Inn".

There is good and bad in, everything whether it be radio, press or people. If you hunt for the bad you will find it, and if you search for the good you will find it too.

If you felt just in your explosion of rude and unnecessary criticism, Mr. One Citizen, why did you not offer a suggestion as to how you would have done it? Many people are too eager to find fault with the actions of others, but they are not prone to offer suggestions, or have the initiative to try things themselves.

I, as one citizen, am proud of your attempts, Mr. Curtis, to instil in people the Christmas spirit. There is no need for me to disguise my opinions under a nom de plume as I sincerely enjoyed the carol singers. Do keep it up!

Yours sincerely,
W. K. BORLAND

By Candlelight

(Letter in the Ottawa Journal)

Sirs,—I am definitely against all commercial activity on Sunday.

I do not use street cars, buses, trains or taxicabs on this day. I do not attend sporting events, paid or not, on the Sabbath, nor do I use the radio or telephone. I do not buy bakery products or newspapers on Monday (bakers and news services work on Sunday to provide these things on Monday).

At 12 p.m. Saturday I turn off the electricity at the main switch; of course this cuts off the oil furnace. So I sit at home, clad in overshoes and overcoat, reading my Bible by the light of a candle, with a clear conscience, serene in the knowledge that for me at least no man labors on his day of rest.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour. And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple; who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple asked an alms . . .

Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength. And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God . . .

And as the lame man which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering. And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk? The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go . . . And his name through faith in his name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all the people. (Act 3: 12.)

Unconsidered Trifles

"Is this the speedometer?" asked the pretty girl, tapping the glass with her finger.

"Yes, dear," he replied.

"And that's the clutch?"

"That's the clutch, darling," he said, slamming on his brakes to avoid a fast-approaching lorry.

"But what on earth is this?" she inquired, at the same time giving the accelerator a vigorous push with her foot.

"This, dear," he said in a soft, celestial voice, "is Heaven," and picking up a harp he flew away.

A widow who kept a confectioner's shop was being courted by an eligible bachelor. He came to her shop every night as closing time, and she gave him her bag with the day's takings to carry home. The bag was usually heavy, and this prompted her lover to remark: "You surely do a big trade, seeing you always have such a heavy bag."

"Oh, yes," was the modest reply. "I have a pretty good business."

After they were married he discovered she had been giving him the shop weights to carry home every night.

Cartoon Figure Ruled Advertising

LONDON (AP)—Mr. Cube, a cartoon figure who denounced government nationalization from the side of British sugar boxes, was advertising and not politicking, Judge Charles Harman ruled Thursday.

Harman dismissed the government's appeal against allowing Tate and Lyle, Ltd., Mr. Cube's employers, to deduct £15,339 spent on the Mr. Cube campaign from their taxable profits.

The government contended the campaign was not legitimate advertising but an attempt to influence public opinion against the former Labor government's plans to nationalize the sugar industry.

Tate and Lyle, Britain's biggest sugar retailers, conducted the campaign in 1950-51, when Labor members were demanding nationalization of the sugar industry. The Conservatives took over the government in late 1951 before Labor could start the planned nationalization.

Mr. Cube, a lump of sugar with arms and legs, paraded about on the side of sugar boxes with such slogans as "Tate not State," "Keep the 'S' out of 'State'," and "Sugar may be Nationalized—Oh Dear, Dear, Dearer."

A CANADIAN PIPE BAND parades on the Gros-Tenquin Airfield, France, as Hon. Brooke Claxton, Canadian Minister of Defence, turned over No. 2 fighter wing of the RCAF to the Allied Supreme Command. Composed of about 1,000 airmen, the wing is the only Allied base in Europe equipped with F-86 Sabre jets. During the ceremony, Rene Pleven, French Defence Minister, welcomed the Canadian airmen who first reached France by air on October 11.

1952 Both Good And Bad For Farmers; F-M Disease Heavy Blow

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA (CP).— Canada produced more food in 1952 than at any time in her history, but a tiny virus threatened to topple that food mountain across Canada's economic back.

It was a good year and a bad year for Canadian farmers; a year of crisis and prosperity; of peak wheat production and the foot-and-mouth plague; of near record incomes and declining prices.

But at the end most farmers were able to squeeze through on the upper side, with total cash income for the year slightly below the peak $2,200,000,000 reached in 1951.

GROSS VALUE HIGH

And despite declining food prices caused by the closure of traditional markets and increased world production, the gross value of Canadian farm production 1952 almost duplicated the record 1951 total of $3,500,000,000.

Cash income is derived from the sale of farm products, but not all of a farmer's production is usually sold. Some is kept to feed livestock, as well as the farmer's family and hired help.

Farm operating costs climbed slightly, but volume of production reached a peak, with the index, based on 1935-39 equalling 100, rising to about 187, up from 157.1 in 1951 and the previous high of 164.2 in 1942.

Canadian farmers turned out a peak 688,000,000-bushel wheat crop, created records in other field crop production, increased production of pork, milk, butter and eggs.

The time appeared ripe for a big killing in food sales at high prices when foot-and-mouth disease struck in south Saskatchewan. Canada's biggest meat market—the United States—promptly shut its doors last February.

PROVINCIAL EMBARGOES

Provincial governments, fearing spread of the disease, ordered provincial embargoes which threatened to cripple livestock production in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Meat prices dropped and threatened to pull other agricultural prices down. A big political and economic storm swept right to the feet of the federal government.

Federal price props were hastily erected. A big pork canning program received federal support, and an extraordinary barter deal was concluded to ship surplus beef to Britain.

The loss was heavy. Price support for beef and pork was expected to cost the federal treasury about $30,000,000—about triple the total cost of all federal farm support programs since they were first started six years ago.

RAPID CLEAN-UP

The disease was eradicated in record time. As the year ended the U.S. announced it would reopen the market March 1, 1953. The big crisis appeared to be at an end with most of the credit for averting economic disaster belonging to the farmers themselves.

They had lots of cattle to sell. But they held back sales on the advice of federal officials. The 23-cent-a-pound cattle price support will end when the U.S. market reopens, but the 23-cent-a-pound pork support will continue.

The U.S. market, however, was no longer as attractive as it had been in the past. It likely would absorb all of Canada's beef surplus, but prices were down from the peak levels of 1951.

With one battle over, the farmer faced others. His income has been relatively high all through most post-war years, but 1953 could be a turning point.

A lot will depend on what happens when representatives from 46 countries meet in Washington Jan. 30 in a final attempt to negotiate a new international wheat agreement.

PACT ENDS IN JULY

The current four-year pact ends July 31, 1953. Federal officials say if the countries don't come to an agreement in Washington then Canada will have to find other channels for selling her wheat.

Canada and other exporters want more for their wheat, more than the maximum $1.80 (U.S.) per bushel they received in 1952, and the importing countries are resisting every price advance.

There is even some doubt whether the U.S. congress would ratify any new agreement, if one is negotiated. There are tremendous wheat surpluses both in Canada and the U.S.

Both Drowned, Rule. Husband Died First

TORONTO (CP)—The estate of Mrs. Malcolm Felker became heir to the effects of the late Malcolm Felker of Hamilton Thursday when the Ontario Supreme Court ruled that Felker predeceased his wife.

Both were drowned in 1949 with their four-year-old nephew Murray Weekly when they were thrown from a boat which struck a submerged rock in Kenogamisis Lake, 125 miles northeast of Port Arthur.

Justice Rodolphe Chevrier said he was satisfied Mrs. Felker lived for some time after her husband died.

Two Delivery Men Robbed Of $538

TORONTO (CP)—Two department store truck drivers, making Christmas deliveries, were robbed Thursday night of $538—bringing to five the number of store drivers held up recently.

It is believed the same three men took part in both the latest robberies.

A third driver grappled with two men who tried to rob him earlier in the evening.

Raid Yule Tree Plot

TILLSONBURG (CP) — Thieves invaded a Christmas-tree plantation five miles southeast of here Wednesday night and chopped or broke down between 300 and 400 trees. The plot, belonging to Joe Eppel, contained 3,000 evergreens which would have been ready for market next Christmas.

To Stand Trial

TILLSONBURG (CP)—Fred C. Clarke of Tillsonburg district Thursday was committed to stand trial on a charge of manslaughter after a preliminary hearing before Magistrate R. G. Groom. Clarke was arrested and charged Oct. 25 two days after 10-year-old Horst Holler was killed on a bicycle by a car that failed to stop.

See Saucers Aloft

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—Hundreds of persons here gawked skyward Thursday and many claimed afterwards they had seen four to 10 "flying saucers" flying in formation. The objects were reported extremely high and moving in a northeasterly direction.

Dr. Crutchfield Educationist Dies

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que. (CP)—Dr. Charles Nelson Crutchfield, 69, one of Canada's best known educationists, died Thursday after a short illness.

He was known to teachers across the country through a long association with the Canadian Teachers Federation, of which he was a former president and secretary-treasurer and an honorary life member.

A native of Huntingdon, Que., Dr. Crutchfield had been principal of the Shawinigan Falls Technical Institute for the last 23 years. Before that, he was superintendent of Protestant schools in Verdun, Que.

Dr. Crutchfield also was a former president of the Quebec Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers.

Orfuns And Timbermen Honored At Dinner For Capturing Crowns

Peterborough Timbermen, Canadian senior lacrosse champions of 1952, and Peterborough Orfuns, Eastern Canada intermediate football champions and Dominion finalists this year, were honored last night at a banquet in Club Aragon, put on by Brading's, through Wally Farr, local company representative. Mayor Hugh Waddell, various guests, officials of both championship clubs, and the players attended the enjoyable affair. All players received silvery steins with appropriate lettering as individual trophies.

Mayor Waddell, after being introduced by chairman Frank Devine of Toronto, company sales manager, praised the performance of both the Timbermen and the Orfuns, saying he was proud of these Peterborough athletic clubs, and he hoped they would both capture Canadian crowns next year.

PRAISE EACH OTHER

Dr. Don Aitken, president of Orfuns, and Paul Irwin, vice-president of the Timbermen, each in their speeches congratulated the other club. Other speakers were D. A. McGillis, Dr. J. R. Epping, Wally Farr, some of the Brading officials present, and Bob (Rabbit) White of the Orillia contingent of Orfuns' gridders. The latter also put on a skit later.

The evening's entertainment included music, songs, jokes and football films, with most of the 80 guests staying till the end. This was the first joint celebration for the two Peterborough teams which made Canadian sports finals the past autumn.

U.S. Pair Wins Davis Cup Final From Italians

By GAYLE TALBOT

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Playing together for the first time, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati today crushed the veteran Italian pair of Gianni Cucelli and Marcello Del Bello to clinch victory for the United States in the Davis Cup interzone tennis final.

As the scores of 6-4, 6-3, 6-2 indicate, the green American team got progressively sharper as the match went on.

Such a knowing Australian critic as Jack Crawford, once one of the world's greatest doubles stars, commented afterwards that the new American combination looked good enough to give the Aussies plenty of trouble in the challenge round at Adelaide 10 days hence.

Seixas played on a sore, slightly swollen right ankle which he hurt when he fell in Thursday's singles match against Fausto Gardini.

The two Italians, who proved themselves mighty trenchermen during their visit to Australia, put considerable fire into their play in the first set and had the crowd cheering them as they broke Seixas' delivery to square it at 4-4.

But at that point they began to run out of gas whereas their tall, young rivals stepped up the pace and it rapidly became no contest.

With the interzone final already decided, Seixas, the U.S. team captain, said he would stay out of Saturday's concluding singles and let Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., take his place against Del Bello, who will substitute for Cucelli.

Kingston Vics Belt Cobourg Juniors 7-2

COBOURG — Kingston Vics were too good for Cobourg Jays in all but one period here Wednesday night and took a 7-2 win in an OHA Junior B district game.

The first period was the best from the losers' angle as they held the powerful visitors to a 1-1 tie. The Vics scored four times in the second to wrap it up and added two more in the last period.

A fight broke out with about three minutes left in the third period. Stewart of Cobourg and Reynolds of Kingston took majors, while the instigators, Cane of Cobourg and Maracle of the winners escaped with minors.

Belleville Hawks Edge Buzzers 4-2

BELLEVILLE — The pace-setting Belleville Hawks gained their seventh consecutive victory here Wednesday night, edging Oshawa Buzzers 4-2 in an OHA Junior B fixture in the Belleville Memorial Arena. The win marked the ninth in 11 outings for the league leaders.

Henri Therrien and Jerry Goyer each claimed a goal and an assist for the winners while Tom Paranuik and Dave Jones scored the others. Johnny Lowe accounted for both Oshawa markers. The rival netminders, Don Barclay of the winners and Mike Chirka of Oshawa, turned in outstanding performances.

M. Flaherty Leads

Mary Flaherty rolled high three of 717 and Dorothy Woods led in singles with 304 this week in the YMCA senior lasses' bowling league. Aces and Hurricanes made clean sweeps over Bombers and Corvettes, as Tigers and Commandos took four points from Lucky Strikes and Glengarrys. Aces now lead with 46 points, Glens having 42, Lucky Strikes also 42, Commandos 40, Tigers 36, Hurricanes 36, Bombers 30 and Corvettes 16. High three to date is Mary Gimblett with 820 and high single is held by N. Hepburn with 359.

Good high threes this week were: Ethel Stanbury 704, Betty Pogue 693, Lil Crocker 683, D. Woods 650, Dot Martin 637, Winnie McCarrell 625, Olive Scott 624, and Ollie Searles 621. Good singles were: M. Flaherty 285, E. Stanbury and L. Crocker with 281, L. Bonney and B. Pogue 268, S. Marshall 259, D. Beatty 240 and J. Kelcey 237.

Wilson President Of Indians; Greenberg Wins

CLEVELAND (AP)—Myron H. Wilson, an "average fan" with a few shares of baseball stock but no management experience in professional sports, took over today as president of Cleveland Indians.

Ellis Ryan quit the job under fire Thursday and Wilson's first act as new chief was to strengthen the hand of Hank Greenberg, team general manager.

Wilson, saying he would continue his insurance business, indicated a freer hand for Greenberg by pointing out he would not make the presidency a fulltime job

"I don't know much about pick ing ball players or even trading them," he added. "That's Hank's department."

FACTOR IN DISPUTE

Greenberg's differences with Ryan on operational policies had been a factor in the dispute leading to Ryan's departure, although the former home run slugger never took part in the front office squabble.

Although among the anti-Ryan group in the present controversy, Wilson, 65, was a friend of Ryan and was in the syndicate fronted by Ryan which bought the club from Bill Veeck three years ago.

The dispute leading to Wilson's election broke into the open two weeks ago at the major league meeting at Phoenix, Ariz Details never have been made public, but Ryan was criticized for advocating purchase of the Indianapolis team in the American Association. Indianapolis lost money last year.

Ryan issued a statement saying "an understanding was reached calling for the purchase by six principal stockholders of the stock (about 1,300 shares) owned by the socalled Ryan group."

It was estimated Ryan would gain about $250,000 by selling.

CHAMPS GET WATCHES

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Coach Al Newman and 33 members of Windsor AKO Football squad, first Windsor team to win a Dominion championship, Thursday night were presented with wrist watches at a dinner in their honor. AKO won the Canadian junior football championship in November when they defeated Edmonton Wildcats 15-12 in a sudden death game here. The party was sponsored by AKO and the watches were gifts of the city.

Latest American Hockey League bulletin lists the scorers and, as we mentioned the other day, George (Red) Sullivan is tied for top honors with 31 points, while Ike Hildebrand is fourth with 28. Ike served but eight penalty minutes in 23 games while Red sat it out for 16 in two dozen contests. Sullivan leads the whole loop in assists and Hildebrand is tops for goals scored. Don Ashbee is back on left wing with Syracuse in this strong circuit, just a step below NHL calibre. No mention made of Nip O'Hearn, who returned to the Ed Shore interests. Bob Thorpe, of course, has quit the AHL. Bulletin also says: "Lloyd (Red) Doran, former star of Indianapolis, St. Louis and Cleveland in the AHL, is now coaching the Belleville senior 'B' OHA team. He is also recreation director at that Ontario City."

Taking a dim view of mild and snowless December, up to now, are not only the skiers around these parts but hockeyists in the rural centres. They have to depend on natural ice and so far there hasn't been enough in evidence to chill a highball. However, it's getting colder and a sharp dip in temperature would see plenty of ice-making action in a hurry. Trent Valley League schedules can't be drawn up yet until weather okays an opening date. It may get going around New Year's Day. Artificial ice is the only answer for hockey clubs, but it's too expensive for the smaller spots.

Hawklets Play IOOF

Top two teams in our OHA junior "B" group tangle here tonight Belleville Hawklets and the local Oddfellows. The Quinte crew have a sizeable lead on the field, but a win for the Mortimer pack could shorten that somewhat and pull the IOOF-ers further ahead of the third-place Kingston Vics. Latter are breathing hungrily down the necks of the Triple Links in the keen scramble ere Christmas. This is the only junior joust listed in the group tonight, but Lindsay has a fixture Monday in Oshawa, with no more play then until Dec. 27. Oddfellows haven't a match listed until Jan. 2. Tonight's tilt should be a streamlined struggle and well worth a look. Petes won't show here in senior action again until Dec. 29.

Jim Foskett gives us a rundown on recent injuries and present casualties in the camp of the junior Oddfellows. Brian (Red) Robinson is out with a bad bruise on the hip and is not likely to play this evening. Get it against Lindsay the other eve here, but still managed to score a goal ere collapsing. Gord Coyle is an absentee, too, with an injured hand—though it is not believed there is a bone broken. Don Clapper has been nursing two cracked ribs lately and will be lost for some time to the club, since he goes to the States for a month's course in January. But the big chap —who bears a strong resemblance to his dad, Dit Clapper —should be available again in February.

The Minor Hockeyists

Results of the Peterborough Minor Hockey Association set of games last night at Civic are in elsewhere. These boys step fast in lively league competition every week, and they deserve more fan support. Owing to Christmas falling on Thursday next week, the six tilts slated will be staged Monday, commencing at six: Swartz vs. bantam Aces, Norwood vs. midget Aces, Marines vs. juvenile Aces, bantam Shamrocks vs. Trojans, midget Shamrocks vs. Otonabee Wolves, and Havelock vs. the juvenile Shamrocks. Haven't heard yet what the following week's schedule will be, New Year's Day falling on a Thursday as well. These minor schedules finish the end of January with loop playoffs following, the victors then proceeding into provincial playdowns.

A pleasant gathering at the Aragon last evening as our grid Orfuns and lacrosse Timbermen, with other guests, were entertained by Brading's, through Wally Farr. Dinner, gifts, music, films and so on, and the two championship clubs enjoyed it thoroughly. Timbermen won the Mann Cup again this year, it being emblematic of the Canadian senior "A" lacrosse title. Orfuns captured the Eastern Canada intermediate "A" football championship and lost out in Winnipeg in the Canadian final. Congratulatory speeches were made at the "do" by Mayor Hugh Waddell, Frank Devine (chairman), Dr. Don Aitken, Paul Irwin, D. A. McGillis and Dr. J. R. Epping, with a few others also having a bit to say. Yes, a pleasant get-together.

Sugar Ray Retires Starts New Jobs

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson positively retired from the ring Thursday to devote his time to his business and dancing career. He made the announcement through Abe Greene, commissioner of the National Boxing Association in a backhanded punch at the New York state athletic commission.

As New York stripped Robinson of his title Dec. 4 for not defending within six months, the 32-year-old Harlem dandy made his formal retirement through Greene in a mimeographed release.

Sugar Ray, one of boxing's all time greats with only three defeats in a brilliant career of 137 pro fights, said he picked the NBA because it represented the majority of the boxing commissions of the world and because it had been extremely helpful to him.

"At this stage of my career I don't feel I can give my followers the best I have," said Robinson in a telephone interview. "I don't want to let them down.

MUCH PROMISE

"But a lot of very big people, and I mean very big people, in boxing put a lot of pressure on me to go through with a Randy Turpin match.

"But I felt I should have made this announcement long before so I made up my mind all of a sudden.

"I don't want to be like a lot of others who didn't retire in time."

Robinson won't have to worry. He has a bar and grill, a beer and ale distributing agency, a lingerie shop, a barbershop, a cleaning establishment and a real estate office in Harlem. He started a new career as a night club entertainer Nov. 8 and is booked for a long tour.

The Robinson announcement hardly was a bombshell. There had been rumors of his retirement ever since his collapse in the intense heat after 13 rounds with Joey Maxim last June 25.

WON FIRST 40

Robinson won his first 40 fights as a pro after a sensational start as an amateur. His first loss was to Jake La Motta in 1943. Draws with Jose Basora in 1945 and Henry Brimm in 1949 were the only other blots until he was beaten by Turpin in a tremendous upset at London in July, 1951. Robinson evened the matter with a 10th round TKO over the British champion to recapture his title in September, 1951.

He was winning easily from Maxim in June when he collapsed from the heat and was unable to come out for the 14th.

Coaches Find Grey Cup Jinx In West

By DON MATHESON

EDMONTON (CP)—Getting into the Grey Cup final and losing a coaching job seem to be synonymous in the Western Football Conference.

Edmonton Eskimos, the Western Interprovincial Football Union champions and Grey Cup finalists, Thursday offered flingin' Frank Filchock a contract for the 1953 season that starts "around" $13,000 and can reach $16,000.

But flingin' Frank threw it right back, saying the Eskimos had changed the terms agreed upon before Filchock took his team to the Grey Cup game this fall.

Filchock's present contract expires Dec. 31. If a new contract is not signed, Filchock becomes the third western coach in three years to leave his team after winning the conference title and then losing the Grey Cup final

Frank Larson of Winnipeg Blue Bombers was bounced for George Trafton after the 1950 Grey Cup final and Harry Smith was cut loose by Regina Roughriders in favor of Glenn Dobbs after the 1951 Grey Cup.

JINX WORKING

Of course, Filchock, if he leaves, leaves on his own hook. But the three-year-long jinx that says a new coach comes along when you lose the Grey Cup seems to be working.

Filchock says he and team President Ken Montgomery "agreed on the money" before the Eskimos' Grey Cup trip, "but when I got back they drew up a draft and began putting in clauses."

He said he objects to a clause that says "any money I make from radio jobs, newspapers, magazine articles, and any other revenue has to be turned back to the club."

The "two-year" contract also contained a clause that "they could fire you without notice" if the Eskimos fail to make the conference playoffs next year, a clause to which Filchock says he doesn't object too strongly.

An official source who declined to be named explained club feelings about the contract.

"We feel that it's quite fair . . . The contract will undoubtedly make him one of the highest paid coaches in Canada. . .

"We hired the man as you would a movie star. And when you hire out a movie star, you receive financial returns when you loan him out."

The source said the executive discussed the contract for 11 hours Wednesday and "that was our offer."

Randy Must Get Shot At Sugar Ray's Title

LONDON (AP)—The chairman of the British Boxing Board of Control said Thursday night Britain would not recognize any bout for the world's middleweight championship unless England's Randy Turpin takes part.

"The news of Sugar Ray Robinson's retirement comes as no surprise," said J. Onslow Fane, who added:

"I speak personally, but I'm sure my colleagues on the board will support me when I say we will not recognize any world middleweight title fight as such unless Turpin is in one corner."

Says Organized Sports Harmful To Young

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Education Association Thursday struck out at what it called high-pressure sports competition among youngsters of elementary or junior high-school age

A committee completing a three-year study condemned such things as little league baseball, "little" bowl games, midget football and "biddy" basketball for youngsters 12 years old or younger. (For real mites, by the way, there's even "iddy biddy" basketball)

The committee said highly-organized competition gives youngsters an exaggerated idea of the importance of sports and may even be harmful to them.

The views of the committee were summed up in a 46-page booklet entitled: "Desirable Athletic Competition for Children."

Queen Mary Wins

Queen Mary juniors downed Confederaton 2-0 yesterday at Civic Arena in a Public School Hockey League contest. Leslie Mann scored the first one unassisted, with Morley counting the other goal from W. Drury. Best for the losers in a neat number were Maclellan and D. Stephenson. Teams:

Queen Mary: Ferguson, Dunn, Krug, Nichols, Tickle, Drury, Gemmell, Morley, Mann, Ponton, Malcolm, D. Stewart, Morley, Nisbett Black, Brady.

Confederation: Brook, D. Stephenson, Smith, Maclellan, Kokesh, Mountford, Sutton, Hewie, Walker, B. Stephenson, Cullen, Chambo.

Referee: A. Hill.

Last Night's Stars

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Jean Beliveau and Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal, who scored three goals apiece Thursday night as the Canadiens defeated New York Rangers 6-2.

Sid Abel of Chicago, whose third-period goal gave the Black Hawks a 3-3 National Hockey League tie with Boston Bruins.

Metro Prystal who also scored in the third period as Detroit Red Wings played to a 1-1 tie with Toronto Maple Leafs.

Dabs Of Whitewash Seen In Juvenile Action As PMHA Stages Five Tilts

Outboard Marines blanked Havelock 2-0 while Aces whitewashed Shamrocks 11-0 in juvenile PMHA contests at Civic Arena on Thursday evening. In midget play, Aces edged Otonabee Wolves 4-3, as the Shamrocks trounced Norwood 19-1. The bantam Shamrocks racked up a 15-1 decision over Aces in the other game played.

PMHA action next week will take place on Monday night. Despite some one-sided scores last evening, there was plenty of entertaining hockey and most of the melees were quite clean.

A GOOD GAME

The Outboards had to hustle in their juvenile joust to gain the 2-0 win over Havelock. Cupoli counted both goals, one in the middle frame and the other in the third period. The winners drew three of the four penalties handed out. Aces juves took a 2-0 lead early on goals by Allen and Brooks. They made it 7-0 in the second heat as Smith counted twice, with singles going to Jones, Strickland and Brooks. Four more scored in the third, Strickland hitting the hemp twice, and Allen and Stewart once each. There were six penalties on each side.

Aces and Wolves staged a stirring midget duel. Wolves led in the first stanza on J. Heron's marker. Aces counted three next period, Kane, Godfrey and Heffernan being marksmen, an assist going to Doris. But Wolves got two the same chukker, Garvey unassisted and Revoy from B. Heron. A goal by Doris, aided by Godfrey, gave Aces the win in the last chapter. Aces drew four of the five penalties in this scrap.

ONE-SIDED TILT

The midget Shamrocks ran roughshod over Norwood in their tilt. Only Hannon counted for the losers. Towns tallied three in the first period, with Blodgett, Garvey and Ferren clicking for singles. Orr, Garvey and Goldie did it in the next period. In the third, Beaubiah and Blodgett got two each, singles being scored by Brown, McGinness, Goldie, Orr, Ferren and Townsend. The winners took four penalties and the losers three.

Shamrock bantams had no trouble with the Aces, only Kelly sinking one for the losers. Baker scored three and Darling, Pace and Stewart one each in the first for the victors. Pace and Stewart added goals next chapter. In the third, Lonsberry rapped in four, as Darling, Stewart and Maloney got the others. It was a clean fray. The referees for the night were W. Romhanyi, E. Woodcock, A. Menzies and W. Post.

Name Surprise Starter To Davis Cup Team

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Australia's Davis Cup selectors sprang a surprise today by naming 18-year-old Lewis Hoad as the fourth member of their tennis team that will defend the Davis Cup against the United States at Adelaide 10 days from now.

The other three players are the same as last year, Frank Sedgman, Ken McGregor and Mervyn Rose.

Dugan's Goal Helps Redmen Edge Tigers 4-3

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Johnny Horeck, fiery coach of Sault Ste. Marie (Mich.) Indians has released his last blast at the referees of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association senior southern group.

Horeck, who was a constant critic of the officials, has signed as playing coach with Sydney Millionaires of the Maritime Major Hockey League and will take over in a few days.

The other team that lost its coach this week dropped its second game in a row Thursday night and slipped out of first place. Sault Ste. Marie (Ont.) Greyhounds, who fired Coach Don Grosso a few days ago, were defeated 6-3 by Sudbury Wolves who moved into first place.

EDGE TIGERS

In the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series Brantford Redmen moved two steps up the ladder by defeating Hamilton Tigers 4-3. Brantford now is in fourth place, one point ahead of Sarnia Sailors and Chatham Maroons. It was Hamilton's 22nd loss.

Sudbury scoring was spread among Mauno Kauppi, Yacker Flynn, Rolly McLenahan, Nick Tomiuk, Johnny Mestan and Tatter McClellan. Johnny Offidani, Chuck Johnston and Joe Bumbacco scored for the Greyhounds.

Hamilton came close as they lost the decision on Bud Kemp's goal in the last two minutes of play while Tigers were a man short. Other Brantford goals were by Arn Dugan, Jack Taylor and Don Oberholtzer. Hamilton scoring was by Don Peebles, Hugh Bolzon and Pete Pidsodny.

Canadian Golfers Win In Florida Tourney

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (CP)—The oldest golfer in the international four-ball tournament, Willie Klein, 51, teamed with 'Al' Brosch Thursday to oust Sam Snead and Jim Ferrier, 3 and 2, in a first-round surprise.

The only Canadian team entered —Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon—defeated Art Doering of Cincinnati and Bob Gajda of Birmingham, Mich., 4 and 2.

The defending champions, Pete Cooper, White Plains, N. Y., and Claude Harmon, Mamaroneck, N.Y., were eliminated in the day's first match over the scenic 6,657-yard Normandy Isle course. Herman Barron, White Plains, and Glen Teal, Buffalo, downed them one-up.

A LETTER TO ALL PARENTS

Dear Parents: .....

Owing to the interest shown by your many inquiries, the Civic Arena has made available a "Special Season's Ticket" for "Children's Skating on Saturday Afternoon" at a considerable saving to YOU.

This Season's Ticket would make an ideal Christmas Gift, and one which would provide your children with pleasant, healthy, supervised exercise.

Special consideration has been given to Tiny Tots and beginners by having an area roped off for their protection.

Music is also provided for these Saturday afternoon skating parties.

Normally 16 periods, on Saturday afternoons, would cost you $4.00. This Season's Ticket may be procured for only $2.50.

Secure your child's ticket as soon as possible so that you may take advantage of this saving. You can purchase them either at the "Civic Arena" or Tem Ticket Agency on George Street.

Yours very truly,

Orfuns And Timbermen Honored At Dinner For Capturing Crowns

Peterborough Timbermen, Canadian senior lacrosse champions of 1952, and Peterborough Orfuns, Eastern Canada intermediate football champions and Dominion finalists this year, were honored last night at a banquet in Club Aragon, put on by Brading's, through Wally Farr, local company representative. Mayor Hugh Waddell, various guests, officials of both championship clubs, and the players attended the enjoyable affair. All players received silvery steins with appropriate lettering as individual trophies.

Mayor Waddell, after being introduced by chairman Frank Devine of Toronto, company sales manager, praised the performance of both the Timbermen and the Orfuns, saying he was proud of these Peterborough athletic clubs, and he hoped they would both capture Canadian crowns next year.

PRAISE EACH OTHER

Dr. Don Aitken, president of Orfuns, and Paul Irwin, vice-president of the Timbermen, each in their speeches congratulated the other club. Other speakers were D. A. McGillis, Dr. J. R. Epping, Wally Farr, some of the Brading officials present, and Bob (Rabbit) White of the Orillia contingent of Orfuns' gridders. The latter also put on a skit later.

The evening's entertainment included music, songs, jokes and football films, with most of the 80 guests staying till the end. This was the first joint celebration for the two Peterborough teams which made Canadian sports finals the past autumn.

U.S. Pair Wins Davis Cup Final From Italians

By GAYLE TALBOT

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Playing together for the first time, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati today crushed the veteran Italian pair of Gianni Cucelli and Marcello Del Bello to clinch victory for the United States in the Davis Cup interzone tennis final.

As the scores of 6-4, 6-3, 6-2 indicate, the green American team got progressively sharper as the match went on.

Such a knowing Australian critic as Jack Crawford, once one of the world's greatest doubles stars, commented afterwards that the new American combination looked good enough to give the Aussies plenty of trouble in the challenge round at Adelaide 10 days hence.

Seixas played on a sore, slightly swollen right ankle which he hurt when he fell in Thursday's singles match against Fausto Gardini.

The two Italians, who proved themselves mighty trenchermen during their visit to Australia, put considerable fire into their play in the first set and had the crowd cheering them as they broke Seixas' delivery to square it at 4-4.

But at that point they began to run out of gas whereas their tall, young rivals stepped up the pace and it rapidly became no contest.

With the interzone final already decided, Seixas, the U.S. team captain, said he would stay out of Saturday's concluding singles and let Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., take his place against Del Bello, who will substitute for Cucelli.

Wilson President Of Indians; Greenberg Wins

CLEVELAND (AP)—Myron H. Wilson, an "average fan" with a few shares of baseball stock but no management experience in professional sports, took over today as president of Cleveland Indians.

Ellis Ryan quit the job under fire Thursday and Wilson's first act as new chief was to strengthen the hand of Hank Greenberg, team general manager.

Wilson, saying he would continue his insurance business, indicated a freer hand for Greenberg by pointing out he would not make the presidency a fulltime job

"I don't know much about picking ball players or even trading them," he added. "That's Hank's department."

FACTOR IN DISPUTE

Greenberg's differences with Ryan on operational policies had been a factor in the dispute leading to Ryan's departure, although the former home run slugger never took part in the front office squabble.

Although among the anti-Ryan group in the present controversy, Wilson, 65, was a friend of Ryan and was in the syndicate fronted by Ryan which bought the club from Bill Veeck three years ago.

The dispute leading to Wilson's election broke into the open two weeks ago at the major league meeting at Phoenix, Ariz Details never have been made public, but Ryan was criticized for advocating purchase of the Indianapolis team in the American Association. Indianapolis lost money last year.

Ryan issued a statement saying "an understanding was reached calling for the purchase by six principal stockholders of the stock (about 1,300 shares) owned by the socalled Ryan group."

It was estimated Ryan would gain about $250,000 by selling.

Kingston Vics Belt Cobourg Juniors 7-2

COBOURG — Kingston Vics were too good for Cobourg Jays in all but one period here Wednesday night and took a 7-2 win in an OHA Junior B district game.

The first period was the best from the losers' angle as they held the powerful visitors to a 1-1 tie. The Vics scored four times in the second to wrap it up and added two more in the last period.

A fight broke out with about three minutes left in the third period. Stewart of Cobourg and Reynolds of Kingston took majors, while the instigators, Cane of Cobourg and Maracle of the winners escaped with minors.

Belleville Hawks Edge Buzzers 4-2

BELLEVILLE — The pace-setting Belleville Hawks gained their seventh consecutive victory here Wednesday night, edging Oshawa Buzzers 4-2 in an OHA Junior B fixture in the Belleville Memorial Arena. The win marked the ninth in 11 outings for the league leaders.

Henri Therrien and Jerry Goyer each claimed a goal and an assist for the winners while Tom Paranuik and Dave Jones scored the others. Johnny Lowe accounted for both Oshawa markers. The rival netminders, Don Barclay of the winners and Mike Chirka of Oshawa, turned in outstanding performances.

M. Flaherty Leads

Mary Flaherty rolled high three of 717 and Dorothy Woods led in singles with 304 this week in the YMCA senior lasses' bowling league. Aces and Hurricanes made clean sweeps over Bombers and Corvettes, as Tigers and Commandos took four points from Lucky Strikes and Glengarrys. Aces now lead with 46 points, Glens having 42, Lucky Strikes also 42, Commandos 40, Tigers 36, Hurricanes 36, Bombers 30 and Corvettes 16. High three to date is Mary Gimblett with 820 and high single is held by N. Hepburn with 359.

Good high threes this week were: Ethel Stanbury 704, Betty Pogue 693, Lil Crocker 683, D. Woods 680, Dot Martin 637, Winnie McCarrell 625, Olive Scott 624, and Ollie Searles 621. Good singles were: M. Flaherty 285, E. Stanbury and L. Crocker with 281, L. Bonney and B. Pogue 268, S. Marshall 259, D. Beatty 240 and J. Kelcey 237.

Jr. Canadiens Lead Four-Team League

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens lead the Quebec Junior Amateur Hockey Association today but are only two points ahead of Quebec Citadelles.

The Citadelles have 38 points and a game in hand over the league-leading Canadiens who have 40. Third are Three Rivers Reds with 21 while Montreal Royals languish in the cellar with only seven points in the 26 games they have played.

CHAMPS GET WATCHES

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Coach Al Newman and 33 members of Windsor AKO Football squad, first Windsor team to win a Dominion championship, Thursday night were presented with wrist watches at a dinner in their honor. AKO won the Canadian junior football championship in November when they defeated Edmonton Wildcats 15-12 in a sudden death game here. The party was sponsored by AKO and the watches were gifts of the city.

Latest American Hockey League bulletin lists the scorers and, as we mentioned the other day, George (Red) Sullivan is tied for top honors with 31 points, while Ike Hildebrand is fourth with 28. Ike served but eight penalty minutes in 23 games while Red sat it out for 16 in two dozen contests. Sullivan leads the whole loop in assists and Hildebrand is tops for goals scored. Don Ashbee is back on left wing with Syracuse in this strong circuit, just a step below NHL calibre. No mention made of Nip O'Hearn, who returned to the Ed Shore interests. Bob Thorpe, of course, has quit the AHL. Bulletin also says: "Lloyd (Red) Doran, former star of Indianapolis, St. Louis and Cleveland in the AHL, is now coaching the Belleville senior 'B' OHA team. He is also recreation director at that Ontario City."

Taking a dim view of mild and snowless December, up to now, are not only the skiers around these parts but hockeyists in the rural centres. They have to depend on natural ice and so far there hasn't been enough in evidence to chill a highball. However, it's getting colder and a sharp dip in temperature would see plenty of ice-making action in a hurry. Trent Valley League schedules can't be drawn up yet until weather okays an opening date. It may get going around New Year's Day. Artificial ice is the only answer for hockey clubs, but it's too expensive for the smaller spots.

Hawklets Play IOOF

Top two teams in our OHA junior "B" group tangle here tonight Belleville Hawklets and the local Oddfellows. The Quinte crew have a sizeable lead on the field, but a win for the Mortimer pack could shorten that somewhat and pull the IOOF-ers further ahead of the third-place Kingston Vics. Latter are breathing hungrily down the necks of the Triple Links in the keen scramble ere Christmas. This is the only junior joust listed in the group tonight, but Lindsay has a fixture Monday in Oshawa, with no more play then until Dec. 27. Oddfellows haven't a match listed until Jan. 2. Tonight's tilt should be a streamlined struggle and well worth a look. Petes won't show here in senior action again until Dec. 29.

Jim Foskett gives us a rundown on recent injuries and present casualties in the camp of the junior Oddfellows. Brian (Red) Robinson is out with a bad bruise on the hip and is not likely to play this evening. Got it against Lindsay the other eve here, but still managed to score a goal ere collapsing. Gord Coyle is an absentee, too, with an injured hand—though it is not believed there is a bone broken. Don Clapper has been nursing two cracked ribs lately and will be lost for some time to the club, since he goes to the States for a month's course in January. But the big chap—who bears a strong resemblance to his dad, Dit Clapper—should be available again in February.

The Minor Hockeyists

Results of the Peterborough Minor Hockey Association set of games last night at Civic are in elsewhere. These boys step fast in lively league competition every week, and they deserve more fan support. Owing to Christmas falling on Thursday next week, the six tilts slated will be staged Monday, commencing at six: Swartz vs. bantam Aces, Norwood vs. midget Aces, Marines vs. juvenile Aces, bantam Shamrocks vs. Trojans, midget Shamrocks vs. Otonabee Wolves, and Havelock vs. the juvenile Shamrocks. Haven't heard yet what the following week's schedule will be, New Year's Day falling on a Thursday as well. These minor schedules finish the end of January with loop playoffs following, the victors then proceeding into provincial playdowns.

A pleasant gathering at the Aragon last evening as our grid Orfuns and lacrosse Timbermen, with other guests, were entertained by Brading's, through Wally Farr. Dinner, gifts, music, films and so on, and the two championship clubs enjoyed it thoroughly. Timbermen won the Mann Cup again this year, it being emblematic of the Canadian senior "A" lacrosse title. Orfuns captured the Eastern Canada intermediate "A" football championship and lost out in Winnipeg in the Canadian final. Congratulatory speeches were made at the "do" by Mayor Hugh Waddell, Frank Devine (chairman), Dr. Don Aitken, Paul Irwin, D. A. McGillis and Dr. J. R. Epping, with a few others also having a bit to say. Yes, a pleasant get-together.

Sugar Ray Retires Starts New Jobs

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson positively retired from the ring Thursday to devote his time to his business and dancing career. He made the announcement through Abe Greene, commissioner of the National Boxing Association in a backhanded punch at the New York state athletic commission.

As New York stripped Robinson of his title Dec. 4 for not defending within six months, the 32-year-old Harlem dandy made his formal retirement through Greene in a mimeographed release.

Sugar Ray, one of boxing's all time greats with only three defeats in a brilliant career of 137 pro fights, said he picked the NBA because it represented the majority of the boxing commissions of the world and because it had been extremely helpful to him.

"At this stage of my career I don't feel I can give my followers the best I have," said Robinson in a telephone interview. "I don't want to let them down.

MUCH PROMISE

"But a lot of very big people, and I mean very big people, in boxing put a lot of pressure on me to go through with a Randy Turpin match.

"But I felt I should have made this announcement long before so I made up my mind all of a sudden.

"I don't want to be like a lot of others who didn't retire in time."

Robinson won't have to worry. He has a bar and grill, a beer and ale distributing agency, a lingerie shop, a barbershop, a cleaning establishment and a real estate office in Harlem. He started a new career as a night club entertainer Nov. 8 and is booked for a long tour.

The Robinson announcement hardly was a bombshell. There had been rumors of his retirement ever since his collapse in the intense heat after 13 rounds with Joey Maxim last June 25.

WON FIRST 40

Robinson won his first 40 fights as a pro after a sensational start as an amateur. His first loss was to Jake La Motta in 1943. Coaches Find Grey Cup Jinx In West

By DON MATHESON

EDMONTON (CP)—Getting into the Grey Cup final and losing a coaching job seem to be synonymous in the Western Football Conference.

Edmonton Eskimos, the Western Interprovincial Football Union champions and Grey Cup finalists, Thursday offered flingin' Frank Filchock a contract for the 1953 season that starts "around" $13,000 and can reach $16,000.

But flingin' Frank threw it right back, saying the Eskimos had changed the terms agreed upon before Filchock took his team to the Grey Cup game this fall.

Filchock's present contract expires Dec. 31. If a new contract is not signed, Filchock becomes the third western coach in three years to leave his team after winning the conference title and then losing the Grey Cup final

Frank Larson of Winnipeg Blue Bombers was bounced for George Trafton after the 1950 Grey Cup final and Harry Smith was cut loose by Regina Roughriders in favor of Glenn Dobbs after the 1951 Grey Cup.

JINX WORKING

Of course, Filchock, if he leaves, leaves on his own hook. But the three-year-long jinx that says a new coach comes along when you lose the Grey Cup seems to be working.

Filchock says he and team President Ken Montgomery "agreed on the money" before the Eskimos' Grey Cup trip, "but when I got back they drew up a draft and began putting in clauses."

He said he objects to a clause that says "any money I make from radio jobs, newspapers, magazine articles, and any other revenue has to be turned back to the club."

The "two-year" contract also contained a clause that "they could fire you without notice" if the Eskimos fail to make the conference playoffs next year, a clause to which Filchock says he doesn't object too strongly.

An official source who declined to be named explained club feelings about the contract.

"We feel that it's quite fair . . . The contract will undoubtedly make him one of the highest paid coaches in Canada. . .

"We hired the man as you would a movie star. And when you hire out a movie star, you receive financial returns when you loan him out."

The source said the executive discussed the contract for 11 hours Wednesday and "that was our offer."

Randy Must Get Shot At Sugar Ray's Title

LONDON (AP)—The chairman of the British Boxing Board of Control said Thursday night Britain would not recognize any bout for the world's middleweight championship unless England's Randy Turpin takes part.

"The news of Sugar Ray Robinson's retirement comes as no surprise," said J. Onslow Fane, who added:

"I speak personally, but I'm sure my colleagues on the board will support me when I say we will not recognize any world middleweight title fight as such unless Turpin is in one corner."

Says Organized Sports Harmful To Young

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Education Association Thursday struck out at what it called high-pressure sports competition among youngsters of elementary or junior high-school age

A committee completing a three-year study condemned such things as little league baseball, "little" bowl games, midget football and "biddy" basketball for youngsters 12 years old or younger. (For real mites, by the way, there's even "iddy biddy" basketball)

The committee said highly-organized competition gives youngsters an exaggerated idea of the importance of sports and may even be harmful to them.

The views of the committee were summed up in a 46-page booklet entitled: "Desirable Athletic Competition for Children."

Queen Mary Wins

Queen Mary juniors downed Confederaton 2-0 yesterday at Civic Arena in a Public School Hockey League contest. Leslie Mann scored the first one unassisted, with Morley counting the other goal from W. Drury. Best for the losers in a neat number were Maclellan and D. Stephenson. Teams:

Queen Mary: Ferguson, Dunn, Krug, Nichols, Stickle, Drury, Gemmell, Morley, Mann, Ponton, Malcolm, D. Stewart, Morley, Nisbett Black, Brady.

Confederation: Brook, D. Stephenson, Smith, Maclellan, Kokesh, Mountford, Sutton, Hewie, Walker, B. Stephenson, Cullen, Chambo.

Referee: A. Hill.

Last Night's Stars

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Jean Beliveau and Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal, who scored three goals apiece Thursday night as the Canadiens defeated New York Rangers 6-2.

Sid Abel of Chicago, whose third-period goal gave the Black Hawks a 3-3 National Hockey League tie with Boston Bruins.

Metro Prystai who also scored in the third period as Detroit Red Wings played to a 1-1 tie with Toronto Maple Leafs.

Dabs Of Whitewash Seen In Juvenile Action As PMHA Stages Five Tilts

Outboard Marines blanked Havelock 2-0 while Aces whitewashed Shamrocks 11-0 in juvenile PMHA contests at Civic Arena on Thursday evening. In midget play, Aces edged Otonabee Wolves 4-3, as the Shamrocks trounced Norwood 19-1. The bantam Shamrocks racked up a 15-1 decision over Aces in the other game played.

PMHA action next week will take place on Monday night. Despite some one-sided scores last evening, there was plenty of entertaining hockey and most of the melees were quite clean.

A GOOD GAME

The Outboards had to hustle in their juvenile joust to gain the 2-0 win over Havelock. Cupoli counted both goals, one in the middle frame and the other in the third period. The winners drew three of the four penalties handed out. Aces juves took a 2-0 lead early on goals by Allen and Brooks. They made it 7-0 in the second heat as Smith counted twice, with singles going to Jones, Strickland and Brooks. Four more scored in the third, Strickland hitting the hemp twice, and Allen and Stewart once each. There were six penalties on each side.

Aces and Wolves staged a stirring midget duel. Wolves led in the first stanza on J. Heron's marker. Aces counted three next period, Kane, Godfrey and Heffernan being marksmen, an assist going to Doris. But Wolves got two the same chukker, Garvey unassisted and Revoy from B. Heron. A goal by Doris, aided by Godfrey, gave Aces the win in the last chapter. Aces drew four of the five penalties in this scrap.

ONE-SIDED TILT

The midget Shamrocks ran roughshod over Norwood in their tilt. Only Hannon counted for the losers. Towns tallied three in the first period, with Blodgett, Garvey and Ferren clicking for singles. Orr, Garvey and Goldie did it in the next period. In the third, Beaubiah and Blodgett got two each, singles being scored by Brown, McGinness, Goldie, Orr, Ferren and Townsend. The winners took four penalties and the losers three.

Shamrock bantams had no trouble with the Aces, only Kelly sinking one for the losers. Baker scored three and Darling, Pace and Stewart one each in the first for the victors. Pace and Stewart added goals next chapter. In the third, Lonsberry rapped in four, as Darling, Stewart and Maloney got the others. It was a clean fray. The referees for the night were W. Romhanyi, E. Woodcock, A. Menzies and W. Post.

Name Surprise Starter To Davis Cup Team

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Australia's Davis Cup selectors sprang a surprise today by naming 18-year-old Lewis Hoad as the fourth member of their tennis team that will defend the Davis Cup against the United States at Adelaide 10 days from now.

The other three players are the same as last year, Frank Sedgman, Ken McGregor and Mervyn Rose.

Dugan's Goal Helps Redmen Edge Tigers 4-3

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Johnny Horeck, fiery coach of Sault Ste. Marie (Mich.) Indians has released his last blast at the referees of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association senior southern group.

Horeck, who was a constant critic of the officials, has signed as playing coach with Sydney Millionaires of the Maritime Major Hockey League and will take over in a few days.

The other team that lost its coach this week dropped its second game in a row Thursday night and slipped out of first place. Sault Ste. Marie (Ont.) Greyhounds, who fired Coach Don Grosso a few days ago, were defeated 6-3 by Sudbury Wolves who moved into first place.

EDGE TIGERS

In the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series Brantford Redmen moved two steps up the ladder by defeating Hamilton Tigers 4-3. Brantford now is in fourth place, one point ahead of Sarnia Sailors and Chatham Maroons. It was Hamilton's 22nd loss.

Sudbury scoring was spread among Mauno Kauppi, Yacker Flynn, Rolly McLenahan, Nick Tomiuk, Johnny Mestan and Tatter McClellan. Johnny Offidani, Chuck Johnston and Joe Bumbacco scored for the Greyhounds.

Hamilton came close as they lost the decision on Bud Kemp's goal in the last two minutes of play while Tigers were a man short. Other Brantford goals were by Arn Dugan, Jack Taylor and Don Oberholtzer. Hamilton scoring was by Don Peebles, Hugh Bolzon and Pete Pidsodny.

Canadian Golfers Win In Florida Tourney

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (CP)—The oldest golfer in the international four-ball tournament, Willie Klein, 51, teamed with 'Al' Brosch Thursday to oust Sam Snead and Jim Ferrier, 3 and 2, in a first-round surprise.

The only Canadian team entered —Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon—defeated Art Doering of Cincinnati and Bob Gajda of Birmingham, Mich., 4 and 2.

The defending champions, Pete Cooper, White Plains, N. Y., and Claude Harmon, Mamaroneck, N.Y., were eliminated in the day's first match over the scenic 6,657-yard Normandy Isle course. Herman Barron, White Plains, and Glen Teal, Buffalo, downed them one-up.

A LETTER TO ALL PARENTS

Dear Parents: .....

Owing to the interest shown by your many inquiries, the Civic Arena has made available a "Special Season's Ticket" for "Children's Skating on Saturday Afternoon" at a considerable saving to YOU.

This Season's Ticket would make an ideal Christmas Gift, and one which would provide your children with pleasant, healthy, supervised exercise.

Special consideration has been given to Tiny Tots and beginners by having an area roped off for their protection.

Music is also provided for these Saturday afternoon skating parties.

Normally 16 periods, on Saturday afternoons, would cost you $4.00. This Season's Ticket may be procured for only $2.50.

Secure your child's ticket as soon as possible so that you may take advantage of this saving. You can purchase them either at the "Civic Arena" or Tom Ticket Agency on George Street.

Yours very truly,

Beliveau Up On Loan Scores 3 Goals As Habs Club Rangers

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two hard-fought tie games in one of the closest races the National Hockey League has seen became routine Thursday night when a sensational double hat-trick was pulled at Montreal and the most sought-after rookie of all time helped himself to one of the triples. Jean Beliveau, towering young scoring whiz with Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League came up to give Montreal Canadiens a lift. He did, and he lifted 14,841 Montreal fans right out of their seats with his spectacular three-goal display.

It was almost an anti-climax when Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, NHL rookie of the year last season, came roaring along with his own triple. The two 21-year-olds accounted for all of Canadiens goals in the 6-3 victory over New York Rangers.

The record-searchers were still thumbing through the books to find out when one team last scored two hat tricks for all the winning team's goals.

THE LEAFS

On another NHL front Metro Prystai scored for Detroit Red Wings in the final period to give the Wings a 1-1 tie with the Toronto Maple Leafs, matching the goal Harry Watson had scored in the middle period.

The tie left the Red Wings on top in the mad race, three points ahead of the Canadiens, who broke a second-place tie with Chicago Black Hawks.

At Chicago Real Chevrefils and Pentti Lund gave Boston Bruins a lead in the opening period before George Gee halved it. The teams sawed off in the second period on goals by Jack McIntyre of Boston and lanky George Gee of the Hawks.

With little more than five minutes left, veteran Sid Abel, Hawk coach, teamed with Gee to avert defeat and salvage a 3-3 tie and keep the Hawks one point ahead of the Bruins.

The Leafs remained in fifth place, two points behind the Bruins while the lowly Rangers were still buried in the cellar.

BATTLED FURIOUSLY

The hapless Rangers battled furiously enough in Montreal, but their defence couldn't cope with Beliveau, Geoffrion and company. Nick Mickoski scored the Rangers' first goal and in the second period Paul Ronty's goal gave the Rangers a short-lived 2-2 tie.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard had a hand in all three goals by Beliveau. Billy Reay and Paul Meger assisted Geoffrion on each of his goals.

Beliveau supporters flocked to the Canadiens' dressing room after the game.

"It wasn't so much different from the Quebec Senior League," said big Jean, six-feet-two tall and 210 pounds minus uniform.

"Of course I had no idea before the game I'd get three goals."

LITTLE STRANGE

Then he added:

"Yes, it was a little strange at first working on the line with Richard. It will be different Saturday night."

All the Rocket did was feed him three passes for three goals.

Beliveau is up with the Canadiens for a three-game lend-lease stretch. For two seasons the Canadiens have tried to sign him. He has consistently refused, preferring to stay in Quebec where his friends —and a fat salary and suddenly-acquired business interests—are.

Bright Economic Picture Marred By Dollar Lack Where Canada Could Trade

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Scarcity of dollars in countries that buy from Canada is seen as a shadow on an otherwise bright economic picture by Greenshields and Company, Montreal investment house.

Greenshields, in its current monthly letter, notes that to the end of October, Canada's sales to other countries this year were well ahead of sales in the same period last year. However, "small deficits were reported in September and October," and the dollar problems of the Commonwealth, Western Europe and Latin-America "assume paramount importance for Canada."

In September and October there was "a significant drop in shipments to Britain, and with import restrictions adopted in many other parts of the world, this trend represents the one disquieting aspect of our economic picture."

TRADE SURPLUS

In 10 months of this year Canada had a trade surplus with Britain of nearly $333,000,000, compared with $144,000,000 in 10 months of 1951. The similar 10-month surplus with other countries, other than the United States, was $440,000,000, compared with $21,000,000.

The deficit from trade with the United States grew from a 10-month deficit of $457,000,000 in 1951, to a 10-month deficit of $538,000,000 this year.

Greenshields made these other points:

1. There is ample evidence of increasing activity in many sectors of the Canadian economy.
2. The index of industrial production moved up from 208.6 in August to 218.8 in September, the fourth consecutive monthly increase over the same month of 1951.

MUCH PROGRESS

3. Progress in the petroleum and motor vehicle industries was outstanding.
4. Production of textile goods, which had lagged behind the 1951 figures, showed a significant recovery in September.
5. Employment has continued to rise.
6. Construction of new dwellings advanced in September for the fourth month in contrast to declines earlier in the year.
7. Retail trade remained high, department store sales show in an increase of nearly 20 per cent in October over the same month a year ago.
8. While the cost-of-living index has shown remarkable stability for some time now, the wholesale price index continued to decline, touching 221 in October against 239.6 in October, 1951.

Truman Defends 7 Years As President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman stoutly defended today the foreign policies of his seven years in the White House and said they have produced "a situation in which it should be clear to the Soviet leaders that they cannot gain their objectives by the use of force."

"We have demonstrated to the Communists that their expansionist efforts will be checked," the President said.

"They know this nation is becoming strong. They know the strength and unity of the free nations is mounting. They can gain nothing from war but catastrophe."

SOME MISTAKES

Truman conceded there have been in his administration some mistakes and a few failures in international relations, but he said those who criticize such losses as the fall of China to the Reds rarely look at the whole balance sheet.

This appraisal of foreign accomplishments since 1945 was in a speech prepared for ceremonies at the National War College, training school for U. S. armed services staff officers.

Truman acknowledged that many serious perils lie ahead, but said these should not be exaggerated any more than they should be underestimated.

"We need not be panicky today about the state of the world," he said. "We are not on the losing side. The world is not about to collapse around us."

MEN ON NOOTKA DECORATED — Two naval officers and chief petty officer have won decorations for outstanding service on HMCS Nootka during a year in Korean waters. Cmdr. Richard M. Steele (centre), of Rothesay, N.S., has been given the Distinguished Service Cross; Lt.-Cmdr. Donald R. Saxon (right), Yorkton and Saskatoon, Sask., and Victoria, B.C., has been awarded the Distinguished Cross for devotion to duty while acting as naval liaison officer in the islands off the west coast of Korea. CPO Albert L. Bonner, BEM (left), of Saint John, N.B., has been given the Distinguished Service Medal for his leadership and initiative under heavy fire.

50 Men In Crew

Canadian Ship Helpless In Mid-Pacific Storm

OTTAWA (CP)—Two naval officers and a chief petty officer have won decorations for leadership and outstanding service on the destroyer Nootka during a year in Korean waters, naval headquarters announced today.

Cmdr. Richard M. Steele, 37, of Rothesay, N.B., and Lt.-Cmdr. Donald R. Saxon, 32, of Yorkton, Saskatoon and Victoria, won the fifth and sixth Distinguished Service Crosses awarded naval personnel during the Korean war.

Chief Petty Officer Albert L. Bonner, 35, of Saint John, N.B., won the first Distinguished Service Medal awarded a navy man for Korean service.

The Navy also announced that mentions in dispatches, marked by a bronze oak leaf of the campaign ribbon, were won by seven others for Korean operations. They went to:

Lieut. Paul L. S. McCulloch, 25, Victoria; Lt.-Cmdr. Frank P. R. Saunders, 32, Saskatoon; CPO Harry E. Brown, 30, Cochrane, Ont. and Victoria; CPO William D. Moves, 31, Rumsey, Alta., and Digby, N. S.; CPO Joseph E. Leary, 31, Abbotsford, B. C., and Halifax; CPO Henry C. Morgan, 32, Vancouver and Victoria; and CPO George E. Vanthaaff 32, Outlook, Sask., and Victoria.

AWARDS SINCE '50

Since the Korean war started in 1950, naval personnel have won one DSO, one award of officer of the Order of the British Empire, a bar to a DSC, four DSCs, three British Empire Medals and 13 mentions in dispatches in addition to the awards announced today.

The Navy has suffered casualties of three dead and three missing in Korean action. Canada has kept three destroyers in Korean waters under a rotation system since the summer of 1950.

Cmdr. Steele, commanding officer of the Nootka which has just returned to Halifax after a year's Far East service, was cited for "great devotion to duty during long patrols off both coasts of Korea. . ."

Lt.-Cmdr. Saxon was a member of Nootka's crew during the period for which his decoration was awarded. He now is executive officer of the destroyer Sioux

His DSO was awarded for devotion to duty and "for steadiness under fire whilst landing on islands and on Republic of Korea naval ships and for leadership under all circumstances."

The DSM was awarded to CPO. Bonner for consistent leadership and initiative.

NOTABLE FEATS

The two officers awarded mentions in dispatches performed notable feats. Lieut. McCulloch of the destroyer Athabaskan navigated his ship during 10 months' operations in the Korean theatre although he was not a qualified navigating officer.

"His skilful application of the techniques of blind pilotage and his sound judgment on the many occasions the ship has carried out night operations in narrow and shoal waters off the enemy coast has enabled the ship to achieve her object in every instance."

Lt.-Cmdr. Saunders of the Nootka led a number of inshore operations in ship's boats. "On one occasion when over 100 miles behind the enemy front line he pressed to within 25 yards of the waterfront of an enemy town in order to take prisoners for intelligence purposes."

Claxton Says NATO Quotas Largely Met

PARIS (Reuters)—Defence Minister Brooke Claxton of Canada said Thursday night the "firm commitments on which each Atlantic Pact country agreed for 1952 have been largely fulfilled."

Claxton, who has been attending the four-day NATO conference here said:

"We have established the machinery as well as the will and habit to work together. This is a tremendous achievement since never before in history have 14 nations agreed on such close alliance in peacetime and in the name of peace.

"NATO works as a team. This applies not only to its permanent staffers but to ministers and generals as well."

"Some people say this week's conference was only a partial meeting on account of the forthcoming government switch-over in the United States," he said. "But the fact is that the ministerial council dealt with everything which was ready to be dealt with at this time."

Referring to his week-end visit to the RCAF wing stationed in France, Claxton said: "The morale of our men is splendid. They are as happy as one can be some 3,000 miles away from home."

Jaywalker Disease

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Warning came today against a frequently fatal seasonal disease — "pedestricide." The Auto Club of Southern California defines it as a disease confined almost entirely to jaywalkers and folks who cross the street against red lights.

Doesn't Like Banks

DETROIT (AP) — Knocked down by a truck, Mrs. Minnie Cohen, 75, was taken to hospital Thursday. She was treated for bruises. Nurses found a cloth sugar bag containing $2,330 hidden under her skirt. "I don't believe in banks," Mrs. Cohen explained.

Kidnapped By Bandits

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Two bandits kidnapped at gunpoint an American Airlines messenger who was on his way to make a $100,000 bank deposit but handed the money bag back when they discovered it contained only cheques.

Avoids Publicity Glare Currie Shuns Comment

MONTREAL (CP) — The man whose name suddenly figures in headlines from one end of the country to the other apparently accepts it all as a matter of circumstance.

Since publication of the Currie report and the political storm it stirred up, George S. Currie, Montreal chartered accountant, has remained aloof from the fuss.

He listens personally to newspaper queries telephoned to his office in Montreal's financial district, but that's as far as it goes.

He replies to all question with a polite "no comment."

How long did his investigation of army stores handling last? Just how was it conducted? How long was his report in preparation?

The pleasant reply is still a definite "no comment."

QUIET MAN

Mr. Currie, described by close friends as a "quiet and friendly" man, has seen political trouble before, though never so close at hand.

He was deputy minister of defence for the Army at the time of the conscription crisis of late 1944 and the resignation of his chief, the late Hon. James Ralston.

Some say it was the Ralston resignation that led soon to his own after four years' service in the busy department.

But today, aware that anything Mr. Currie might say or have said about him could get him into the boiling political kettle, friends are discreet.

One Montrealer declared Mr. Currie is a "man of the highest integrity," but only chuckled at further questions.

Mr. Currie, born in Glencoe, Ont., is 63. He was educated at Perth, Ont., before entering McGill University. He joined McGill officers training corps during the First World War and served overseas.

After he returned home to the accounting business, he served six years as alderman for the city of Westmount, Montreal suburb, where he still lives.

When the Second World War broke out, Ralston called Mr. Currie to Ottawa as his executive assistant.

Mr. Currie was credited in the early months of the Second World War with doing a "great deal" to help overcome shortages in many military lines.

He was appointed deputy minister in 1942 and was described as a man who "worked like hell" but seldom was in the public eye.

Mr. Currie, back in chartered accounting since the war, was appointed earlier this year to carry out the army stores investigation.

With that job done, he once more is at work in his office.

Attacks News Pirate

LORAIN, O. (AP) — Don Miller, 33, news editor of the Lorain Journal, was fined $125 Thursday after being convicted in court of beating up a radio announcer. The assault-and-battery charge was placed against Miller after he attacked James Cochran, 24, of Elyria-Lorain radio station WEOL Nov. 20. Miller accused the announcer of "pirating" news from the newspaper.

Works 75 Years

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Edgar W. Scofield, 91, is retiring Jan. 1 after 75 years with the same railroad. He is a traffic representative of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway. He started his career as a freight clerk.

Finding Quebec Tour Tough Oshawa Gens Downed 5-3

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Oshawa Generals are finding their tour of interlocking schedule games with Quebec junior teams just as tough as other Ontario Hockey Association junior teams.

None of the OHA teams, with the exception of Toronto Marlboros who won three out of four, have found the Quebec tours to their liking.

Quebec Citadelles, currently running second in the Quebec series, downed the Generals 5-3 Thursday night. Michel Labadie notched three goals for the Cits.

Camille Henri and Jacques Pichette scored the other Quebec goals as the home-towners took an early lead and never lost it. The victory moved the Citadelles within two points of Montreal Canadiens who now lead the league.

Harry Sindin, Fred Etcher and Roger Maisonneuve were Oshawa sharpshooters. The Generals are fourth in the OHA series.

The Marlboros travel to Barrie tonight for a game that could be a play-off preview. Marlies are in first place, six points ahead of Barrie. It will be the first meeting of the two clubs since Barrie acquired high-scoring Orv Tessier and goalie Bill Harrington from Kitchener - Waterloo Greenshirts. Kitchener visits Guelph in the other OHA game.

SAVOIE WHIPS McCRAY

OTTAWA (CP)—Armand Savoie, Canadian welterweight champion, Thursday night defeated Cleveland's Shamus McCray by a unanimous decision, building up an early lead which withstood a closing rush by McCray in the last round.

Savoie, of Montreal, weighed 142 pounds and McCray 143.

Savoie used a two-fisted attack in the early rounds and his opponent made little use of a right-hand punch until near the end of the 10-round match. There were no knockdowns.

Robert A. Dutton

The funeral for Robert Austin Dutton, 502 Water St., who died Tuesday, was held Thursday from the Comstock funeral home.

Archdeacon W. P. Robertson of St. John's Anglican Church conducted the service.

Honorary pallbearers were Bruce Mills, Albert Francis, Fred Hardwick, James Patterson, Joseph Haskell, Louis Martin. Active pallbearers were Charles Huffman, Robert Huffman, John Turner, Frank H. Patterson, Frank Patterson, William Henry. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Mrs. Ernest Knights

The funeral for Mrs. Ernest Knights, the former Evelyn Baker, 52 McDonnel St., who died Monday, was held Thursday from the Kaye funeral home.

Archdeacon W. P. Robertson, of St. John's Anglican Church, conducted the service.

Pallbearers were Fred Walker, Robert Ross, Frank Travis, Leslie Davis, Felix Counaya, Richard Cooper. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Albert Elliott

The funeral for Albert Elliott, 574 Fagan Ave., who died Monday, was held Thursday from the Kaye funeral home.

The Rev. E. W. Rowland, of George St. United Church, conducted the service.

Pallbearers were Wallace Huston, Ray Johnston, Alfred Johnston, Joseph Gibbs, Harold Taylor, Arnold Smith. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Naguib May Visit U.S.

CAIRO (Reuters) — Gen. Mohammed Naguib, Egyptian prime minister, may visit the United States soon, the newspaper Al Akhbar reported today.

It said it learned that "a visit by the premier to the United States is being seriously considered in view of the results it would achieve and the publicity it would obtain for Egyptian and Arab causes."

"It is not unlikely that the visit will take place very soon," it added.

THE Ranger PROTECTS THE FORESTS FOR THE BENEFIT OF EVERYONE.

Be your own Fire Ranger this Christmas!

A whole forest of evergreens moves into homes and schools and churches at Christmas time! And while they contribute so much happiness and pleasure to our celebrations, they also become a fire hazard that should receive all normal precautions. Never decorate them with candles. Keep open flames and lamps away from them. And warn the children to be particularly careful. As a tree dries out its danger increases. If set in a bucket of coal and water, and kept watered, a Christmas tree will stay green and hold its needles longer, and be slightly less of a fire hazard.

Won't Testify Convict Gets 3 More Years

MONTREAL (CP) — Raoul Provost, the convict whose daily sentences for contempt of court have been coming as sure as sunrise, got another three years Thursday.

Provost, called as a witness at Montreal's vice inquiry, has stubbornly refused to testify

When he first balked on Tuesday, Mr. Justice Francois Caron slapped two years on the 15-year penitentiary term Provost is already serving.

Wednesday Provost was mum again. Another two years. Today it was the same story, and then came the three-year jolt.

MAY COME AGAIN

Mr. Justice Caron ordered an adjournment until Jan. 12 and sent Provost back to penitentiary, telling him he may be brought back again for questioning next month.

The judicial inquiry is into alleged vice conditions said to have flourished openly in the city from 1941 to 1950. Provost, sentenced to his 15-year term for armed robberies, was first sent to St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary, just outside Montreal. After testifying for the crown in other cases he was transferred to Stony Mountain penitentiary in Manitoba. From there he was brought to Montreal to testify at the vice inquiry.

One question was put to him today: whether he had ever known a Georges Godin. He refused to answer.

2 Developments Dominate British Political Year

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—Two developments dominated the British political year in 1952—continuing conflict within the opposition Labor party and an improvement in the position of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's Conservative government.

What may prove to be a landmark occurred in November when the Conservatives won a by-election in the Wycombe division of Buckinghamshire. This was a tricky marginal seat, sought by a strong Labor candidate. The government victory, in a riding which the young Conservative Disraeli three times failed to capture in Queen Victoria's day, was the first clear sign of a growing Conservative popularity.

Legislatively, the year was almost featureless. Parliament ground out 68 acts on matters ranging from increased housing subsidies to a bill to revive the wartime home guard, but none was of major political significance.

PROTRACTED DEBATE

Among the more interesting was a bill to revise and clarify the British law of libel and slander, previously considered one of the world's toughest. The bill, once within four minutes of being "talked out," went on the statute books after a bitter struggle.

Of three major measures promised by the Conservatives when they took office after the autumn election of 1951, none was near fulfilment at the end of 1952. A proposal to strengthen restraints on monopolies appeared to have been shelved. The other two proposals, involving denationalization of the iron and steel industry and of road transport, aroused powerful opposition and will likely face a battle before becoming law.

It was on balance a good year for the ruling party. In mid-1951, political prophets loudly forecast that Labor would be swept back to power in any new election. But the Conservatives apparently overcame an early unpopularity, perhaps caused by disappointment that the promised land had not been reached, and by the end of the year some optimistic supporters talked of staying in the saddle for a decade.

MAJORITY ADEQUATE

Although their majority in the House of Commons wavered between 10 and 20, depending on illness and other factors, the Conservatives easily won all parliamentary tests of strength. Talk of a financial crisis, brought to a head by summoning of Commonwealth finance ministers to a London conference in January, faded to a whisper in early autumn as import restrictions by sterling-area countries improved the balance-of-payments position.

Another factor in the improved Conservative position may have been the open warfare among the government's opponents. A long-developing conflict between a so-called right wing of the Labor party, led by former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, and a group led by left-winger Aneurin (Nye) Bevan, reached a new pitch of bitterness at the party's annual conference at Morecambe, Lancashire, in October.

In elections to the national executive, two supporters of Bevan, Harold Wilson and Richard Crossman, were chosen to the exclusion of Herbert Morrison and Hugh Dalton. Finally, the Attlee group temporarily gained the upper hand by forcing a majority vote for what amounted to a ban on the Bevanite "party within a party." This forced Bevan and his followers to stop holding organized private meetings as a group.

REBUFF FOR BEVAN

In November balloting for places on the parliamentary Labor party committee, all Bevan supporters were defeated and Bevan himself barely squeezed into 12th and last place. This gave him a place in the opposition's "shadow cabinet" and probably set the stage for a truce in party warfare.

An important event in November was the state opening of the new Parliament by the Queen. In a brilliant setting of pageantry, the Queen drove to the House of Lords and read the speech from the throne to her assembled peers and commoners, diplomats and officers of state. It was the first time Parliament had been formally addressed by an uncrowned Queen since Victoria did so in 1837.

Announce Two More Cancer Bank Centres

TORONTO (CP)—Immediate installation of cobalt bombs at Port Arthur and Toronto was announced Thursday at a meeting of the Ontario Cancer Foundation.

The bomb, a new weapon against cancer, uses cobalt 60, the "poor man's radium," which is ordinary cobalt made radioactive. The cobalt remains a year in the "pile" at Chalk River until it becomes completely radioactive. It then is ready for its tissue-killing job.

The bomb to be installed at Port Arthur is the gift of Senator Norman Paterson of Fort William who offered approximately $55,000 toward the project.

The foundation decided that five or six bombs eventually will cover the province. Three of these will be at London, Port Arthur and Toronto. Sites for the others will be chosen from Ottawa, Kingston, Hamilton and Windsor. Each bomb costs $50,000 plus $30,000 installation costs. Each should serve a minimum of 100,000 persons.

$395 Taxi Ride Pays Off In B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 700-mile, $395 taxi ride paid off Thursday for Chief Daniel Leon.

When the chief was ordered to produce his three grandchildren in court here in a custody suit, he brought them to Vancouver in a taxi from Topley Landing, 700 miles north of here.

The children's white father had sought custody of the children by his Indian wife.

Mr. Justice H. S. Wood in a judgment awarded the children to the grandfather.

Now, Chief Leon plans another taxi ride, a return trip to his ranch home.

U.S. Gov't Deports Race Track Suspect

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Harry Swartz, 36, of Toronto, who figured in the investigation of race fixes at the Fort Erie, Ont., track in 1951, was deported Thursday.

Immigration authorities here ordered the deporation after Swartz had appeared in Federal Court and pleaded innocent to failing to disclose a criminal record when he entered the United States from Canada Nov. 12. He then posted bail.

Swartz was convicted in Welland, Ont., June 12 and sentenced to three months in a reformatory. The conviction grew out of the race-fix investigation.

S. Monaghan Reeve Honored On Retiring

BAILIEBORO (ENS) — South Monaghan council held their last meeting for 1952 in the Community Hall on Monday afternoon with Warden Harry Campbell (reeve) in the chair. As Mr. Campbell is retiring after four years as reeve and eight before that as councillor, his associates in the council presented him with a fountain pen, the presentation being made by Reginald Atcheson. All the members expressed their regret at losing such an efficient worker from their council.

Reginal Perrin, tax collector reported that there were still a large amount of taxes not collected.

James Gainer, assesor, was also present and discussed with the council several matters pertaining to the assessment roll.

Harland Seens, representing the south-western corner of land bordering on South Monaghan, spoke of annexation of that property to South Monaghan from Hamilton township.

It was decided that local council take up the matter with Hamilton township in January.

Road Superintendent Clare Libbey presented his report leaving a low financial balance.

Township Clerk O. B. Johnston who has served 39 years in that position also voiced his regret in losing Reeve Campbell from the council.

Ray Bothwell, new reeve, will preside at the January 12 meeting. Norman Willan is the new member of the council.

American Forces In Japan Given Right To Punish Own Offenders Of Jap Law

The Japanese press recently printed exaggerated reports of a "reign of terror" by Commonwealth troops in Kure, Japan. The reports may have been inspired—part of Japan's effort to obtain jurisdiction over all Commonwealth servicemen in the country. In this story, last of a series, Bill Boss, Canadian Press Staff Writer with the Canadian forces, describes the international negotiations.

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

KURE, Japan (CP)—The conduct of Canadian and other Commonwealth troops in Kure is prejudicing efforts to retain the same privileges in Japan as U.S. service men.

U.S. troops who break Japanese law have the right to be tried and punished by American military authorities instead of Japanese civil courts.

But the Japanese want the right to arrest, try and punish Commonwealth offenders against Japanese law.

RIGHTS OF TRIAL

The United Nations, whose arguing is being done by Commonwealth diplomats, contend that jurisdiction must be with the offending soldier's army. They concede the right of arrest but not of trial and punishment.

The Japanese reply that the UN will not deal severely enough with wrong-doers and that the situation in Kure proves it. Most Commonwealth troops in Japan are stationed there — with headquarters and base installations of British Commonwealth forces in Korea.

Commonwealth authorities have said they agree with the Japanese that the military crime rate is high and have promised to bear down on prevention. Recently there has been a sharp decline in the military crime rate.

However, a study by The Canadian Press discloses that Japanese, not Commonwealth troops, are responsible for the Kure "reign of terror" reported in the Japanese press. Between April 28 when Japan's sovereignty was restored and Nov. 15, Commonwealth offences in the Japanese official records accounted for only 7.81 per cent of Kure's 3,061 serious offences.

While Commonwealth crime is embarrassingly high—and for several months Canadians were involved in more offences than all other Commonwealth troops combined—it now is a minute fraction of Kure's own.

JAPANESE VIEW

Five factors are evident in the Japanese position:

1. They are jealous of their sovereignty and want no return of 19th century extraterritorial privileges for foreigners.
2. They are smarting from offences committed by occupation troops before last April 28—many of them unreported and unpunished.
3. They have noted that UN countries have agreed tentatively to surrender jurisdiction over NATO troops in Europe.
4. They say Japanese crime is influenced by Commonwealth misconduct.
5. Japanese officials and the press are annoyed at poor liaison with, and public relations facilities in, the Commonwealth set-up.

The Commonwealth counter-arguments voiced in Tokyo are:

1. Under a separate agreement, the United States has been granted jurisdiction over U.S. troops in Japan. The UN wants all its forces in the theatre on the same footing.
2. Extra-territorial privilege is not involved. Japan has jurisdiction over civilians from UN countries, but not over troops.
3. The NATO agreement is not yet in force. When it is, the same formula will be applied in Japan.
4. The Commonwealth crime record is better now.

DIPLOMATIC EFFORTS

An effort is being made by Commonwealth diplomatic missions to win the confidence of the Japanese. Arthur Menzies, Canadian charge d'affaires in Tokyo, is in daily touch with Japanese officials. Canada enjoys perhaps the best relations of any Commonwealth country, despite the high crime figures for her troops in Kure.

A result is that without exception Canadian soldiers arrested by Japanese police have been turned over to Canadian authorities for trial in Canadian Army courts.

"But we are holding this position by a thread in the absence of an agreement," one Canadian official said.

Japanese law enforcement officers in Kure accuse Commonwealth officers of failure to tell them what happens to troops accused of offences. Police Chief Matsuo Kirihara told me the Canadian Army has reported disposition of only one case since last May. I heard similar complaints from the chief procurator and the public prosecutor.

Chief Kirihara said he knows Canadian Army courts-martial are public but that he has never been told when or where they are to be held.

MILITARY DIFFICULTIES

Maj. Roy Brown of Moncton, N.B., Canada's assistant judge-advocate-general in Kure, says the Japanese authorities will not accept written statements in English. He says he has no staff to make translations and so he tells the Japanese officials orally. Apparently this is not considered satisfactory.

The Canadian Army has no public relations officer in Kure and I found no evidence of any effort to win support of the Japanese press or keep it informed.

A more delicate problem in public relations is that the Japanese know they are excluded from army messes. No Canadian officer may introduce a Japanese into his own mess or the Kure Officers' Club. The same rule applies to Commonwealth officers generally. There are no such restrictions in U.S. army units.

The ban on Japanese restricts the Commonwealth troops' entree into Japanese circles. Good families will not welcome men who cannot treat them as equals.

As a result, only fly-by-night personal relationships are formed between Canadians and Japanese. The only women most soldiers meet, for instance, are waitresses, professional hostesses, some saleswomen and prostitutes.

SOLDIERS OF THE FAMED Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry reach Seattle aboard a U.S. troopship after the long journey from Korea where they served with United Nations forces for more than a year. The Canadians left by special train for their homes across Canada and military authorities say that all will be home in time for Christmas festivities.

3 Children Rescued

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Christine Helwig, three months, and Paul, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Helwig, were rescued Thursday from a smoke-filled apartment on Barker Street. When fire broke out in the walls of the four-apartment building, James Sears ran up the outside stairs and carried the Helwig children to safety. Mrs. Sears, who cares for the Helwig pair during the day, rescued her daughter, Brenda, 2.

Church Groups Hold Christmas Meetings

SPRINGVILLE (ENS) — The Young People's Union were guests at the home of Lois and Lorraine Paddock for their meeting on Sunday evening. The early part of the meeting was spent in carol singing. Then Doreen Bowles had charge of the worship program. She gave a talk on the attitude toward giving and taking at Christmas time, and Margaret Hooten read a poem.

Mark Lowes of Mt. Pleasant, a member of the YPU, gave a very interesting account of his recent trip to Champion, Alberta, at harvest time, and later, with friends, he had a holiday in California and recently arrived home by bus via Detroit.

Eleanore Bowles was in charge of games, and the lunch committee was Howard Johnston, George Bedford and Lois Paddock.

The Young Adult Group held their monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Johnston. Christmas carol singing was a special feature of the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnston were in charge of the worship service—the scripture, prayer and a talk on "Peace in Bible Times, Peace After World War I and Peace Today."

Mrs. M. H. Johnston gave an enjoyable talk on "Ants—the Workers and the Drones." Santa Claus made his appearance and each received a small gift. Mrs. A. E. Larke arranged several contests and Mrs. Bert Visee and Mrs. Manson Cathcart served refreshments.

The Farm Forum group met this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dunford.

Firemen Ask Raise

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto firemen have asked city council for wage increases ranging from $5.50 to $22 a week. The claims have been filed by the Toronto Firefighters' Association. Total wage increase for its 890 members would be $286,000. The association seeks $5.50 for about 700 firemen, $9.50 for 160 captains, $16.50 for 24 district chiefs and $22 a week more for the two platoon captains.

Big Railway Robbery

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—Radio station CJDC reported in a news broadcast Thursday that the office of the White Pass and Yukon Railway at Whitehorse has been robbed of $100,000 in cheques, bonds and cash. The White Pass and Yukon operates from Whitehorse to Alaska. Whitehorse is on the Alaska Highway 900 miles northwest of Dawson Creek.

Say New Device Cuts Out Smoke

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A simple device for the control of smoke was demonstrated Thursday.

The idea was picked up in Chicago by R. E. Nicholls, chief inspector for Windsor's air pollution control committee.

Members of the committee watched its operation when it was applied to the 100-foot smoke stack at Metropolitan General Hospital.

The device consists of a water pipe which enters the stack about 25 feet from the base of the stack. Equipped with a special nozzle, it sprays water downward in the stack.

The "water curtain" filters out the soot and carries it to the base of the stack.

DIES AFTER FALL

CORNWALL (CP)—John Dewar, 55-year-old construction worker, died in hospital Thursday 24 hours after he fell 20 feet from a steel girder to the concrete floor of a factory under construction here. He suffered multiple fractures and did not regain consciousness.

Jury Says Death By Explosion Accidental

LINDSAY (ENS) — The death of Willian D. McLaughlin, 48, 104 Elgin St., who died Dec. 11 after an explosion in a Lindsay foundry was termed accidental by a coroner's jury at an inquest Wednesday.

The jury found that McLaughlin died of shock "induced by severe injuries" in the abdomen when a furnace piston he was repairing at a forge exploded and shot out the moving rod that hit him.

Reason for the explosion was believed to be that water had seeped into the piston casing and had been trapped there. The heat of the forge produced steam that finally built up to such a pressure that it exploded.

The jury recommended that in future before they are heated steel vessels such as the piston McLaughlin was working on should have vents drilled in them to allow any vapor to escape. No blame was attached to the Mc-Crae Machine and Foundry Co. Ltd. where McLaughlin was working.

Greatest Shopping Spree For Christmas In Years

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The jingle of Santa's sleigh bells is all but drowned out by ringing cash registers these days in what is shaping up as Canada's greatest Christmas shopping spree.

A Canadian Press survey shows the country's Christmas pocketbook bulging. But it's being emptied faster than ever before and likely will be cleaned out when Dec. 25 rolls around.

Department stores from coast to coast report business up from 10 to 30 per cent over last year. A high level of prosperity and relaxed credit restrictions are given as chief reasons for booming sales.

Full lines of almost every commodity are available across the country. Prices are about the same as last year.

FIORE EXPENSIVE GIFTS

There is a marked trend everywhere toward buying more expensive gifts, such as radio consoles and electrical appliances. But the old standby, wearing apparel, still is far ahead of any other single item.

The womenfolk most often choose shirts, socks, dressing gowns and ties for the men. Chances are good the missus will find lingerie, perfume or slippers for her under the tree christmas morning.

Men shoppers go for extravagant gifts, including luggage, jewelry and expensive perfumes.

Britain's bid for more dollars shows in increased sale and supply of English imports. A popular item in Saint John, N. B., is a china cup and saucer selling for $1.

Prosperous Western farmers are keeping stores in Prairie provinces going full blast. Edmonton reports sales well up, as high as 30 per cent in some lines. The buyers also are asking for "quality" products.

Jewellers are sharing in the holiday buying bonanza. One manager of a large Canadian chain said china and silver are doing unusually well. Glassware and living-room lamps are other luxury gifts in demand.

WESTERN CONCERT

CALGARY (CP) — Sir Ernest MacMillan, conductor of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, has accepted an invitation to conduct the Calgary Symphony Orchestra for its Jan. 26 concert.

Lots Of Food, But Sleeping On Counter Top Problem For 3 Men Locked In Restaurant

WOODSTOCK (CP). — A squabble over a lease and a landlord who locked the front door caused three restaurateurs to spend 36 hours in their restaurant this week. The men didn't go hungry, though. There was plenty of food in the restaurant and two of them were cooks.

"The only trouble was we had to sleep on the counter and we were afraid of rolling off," said Henry John O'Neill.

Mr. O'Neill, his partner William A. Fodey, and a helper Harry Gould, decided to "stick it out" in the restaurant when the landlord locked the front door. The back door was open but the men said they were afraid to leave until Thursday when Mr. O'Neill's lawyer telephoned him. After checking terms of the lease, he agreed that the lock of the front door could be sawed off.

Landlord W. F. Craig claims the men broke their lease when the previous holder of the lease sold business and lease to the two partners without his knowledge. He said he is taking court action to have them evicted.

TO VISIT CANADA—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, deputy supreme commander at Supreme Allied Headquarters in Paris, will vist Canada next spring. The famed wartime leader will be in Canada from April 15-24 after arriving in New York March 25.

Windows Crack As CF-100 Bests Speed Of Sound

MALTON (CP)—A CF-100 jetplane Thursday power dived through the sonic barrier for the first time at a speed "considerably greater than the speed of sound."

An A. V. Roe official said the aircraft, an RCAF all-weather fighter, had approached the speed of sound, about 750 miles an hour, before but had never passed through with the loud accompanying thunderclap.

Piloted by Jan Zurakowski, chief test pilot for the company, the craft produced a thunderclap that cracked windows, rattled dishes and rocked homes in this village near Toronto.

Discover Spoons Gone

KITCHENER (CP)—Three weeks ago the Kitchener Chamber of Commerce and the Waterloo Federation of Agriculture sponsored a town-and-country dinner. About 450 persons attended. Today they discovered 55 spoons, valued at about $20, were missing. "We hate to think they were stolen," said a county representative.

Toronto Cattle Prices Steady

TORONTO (CP)—Cattle prices were strong on choice weighty steers and steady on other killers this week at the Ontario stockyard Calves, hogs, sheep and lambs were unchanged. The holdover at the close was 300 cattle.

Cattle receipts were 2,693. Choice weighty steers sold at $25.50-26.50 with good at $24-25 and medium at $22-23.50. Good light steers were at $23-24 with common to medium light steers and heifers at $12-21 and good heifers $21-22. Choice fed yearlings ranged from $24.50-26 with mediums downward to $18 and common to medium stockers from $15-21. Good cows were at $12.50-13.50 with canners downward to $8. Good heavy bulls brought $13.50-15 and common $11-13.

Calf receipts totalled 1,466 head. Choice veal calves were steady at $26-29 with common to medium at $14-25, grassers at $12-13.50 and stock calves at $22-23.

Hog receipts were 4,448. Grade A hogs were at $26 and dressed sows at $17.

Sheep and lambs totalled 1,227 head. Good lambs sold at $25 with bucks and heavies at $23 and culls downward to $15. Choice southdowns brought $29. Good light sheep were at $10-12 with culls as low as $5.

Busy Line To Santa

ST. THOMAS (CP)—Telephone users in nearby Shedden and Southwold township have a direct line to Santa Claus' headquarters at the north pole. The wires were cleared of all other calls between 5 and 6 p.m. Thursday so children could carry on uninterrupted conversatio with Santa. Business boomed and the performance is to be repeated today.

ARE YOU GETTING WHAT YOU PAY FOR IN COFFEE?

Read these facts: MAXWELL HOUSE buys more "Prime Flavor" coffees than any other brand—more than twice as much as the next largest buyer!

What are "Prime Flavor" coffees? They're the choice coffees that contribute most of the rich flavor to a good blend—and flavor is what you pay for in coffee. Only three of the world's coffee-growing regions produce substantial amounts of these premium-priced coffees. Maxwell House not only buys more of these coffees than anyone else . . . but . . .

Maxwell House buys twice as much "Prime Flavor" coffee as the next largest buyer! Naturally Maxwell House Coffee tastes far richer—it is far richer in these wonderful coffees. Many brands contain just a "pinch" . . . some contain none! Maxwell House, on the other hand, is predominantly made from "Prime Flavor" coffees. Furthermore . . .

The traditional Maxwell House skill is added to these fine coffees. They're blended by master craftsmen, expert coffee-tasters. Then they're "Radiant Roasted" to the flavor-peak . . . vacuum-packed roaster-fresh to protect that flavor. No wonder Maxwell House is the one and only coffee that's Good to the Last Drop. No wonder . . .

It's Canada's favorite coffee. People know a good thing when they taste it. That's why more people buy and enjoy Maxwell House than any other brand of coffee in the world at any price! If you feel you're not getting your money's worth with your present coffee, try Maxwell House—taste that wonderful difference!

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CV. No. 144 — FRIDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1952 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

MAIN STREET TOPICS

NEW KIWANIAN

Earl Armstrong, recently appointed as a Peterborough bank manager, on Thursday became a member of the Kiwanis Club. Former President Dick Raine performed the induction ceremony.

EXAMINATIONS AT NORMAL

Students of the Normal School were finishing their term examinations this afternoon after four o'clock. They were then dispersing to their homes for the Christmas holiday period until Jan. 5.

HOLD CHRISTMAS STAG

The Sergeants' Mess at the armouries will hold its annual Christmas party there tonight. Highlights of the night will be a shoot for fowl, darts for fowl and draws.

HAND PUMPS ONLY

Firemen made two runs Thursday. In the afternoon they put out a grass fire at the rear of 116 Hilliard St. A hand pump was used. Later a chimney fire broke out at the home of Dr. G. S. Cameron. Again a hand pump was sufficient to put out the blaze.

TYROS ENTERTAIN

New members of the Kiwanis Club provided the entertainment Thursday at the weekly luncheon meeting held in the Empress Hotel. Chairman of the meeting, which was given over to gags and drollery, was Dr. Harry Dunham. A total of 11 new members have been inducted during the year.

ANNOUNCE HOLIDAY FESTIVITIES

Officers of the 50th HAA Regiment will hold their annual New Year's Eve dance again this year, the regiment announced today. On New Year's Day the colonel's reception will be held in the officers' mess.

PROMOTED

Sgt. of Detectives Adolphus Payne, one of two Toronto detectives who played a very important part in police action against the Boyd gang, has been promoted to detectives inspector. A veteran of more than 20 years on the Toronto force, Payne opened the front door of bank robber Edwin Boyd's home, and with Detective Kenneth Craven, surprised and arrested Boyd, his wife and brother. Payne is a brother of Stanley Payne of the Western Clock Co.

School's Out

School's out today for the longest Christmas holiday students of the city have had in many a year. They don't return to their books until Jan. 5. Today also marks the end of examinations at least for the time being for the city's secondary schools. Examinations are over at St. Peter's High School and temporarily through at Kenner Collegiate and PCVS. Students of the two collegiates conclude their exams during the last week of January.

Rail Post Clerk Retires After 40 Years

For 40 years Charles A. Moore has had four hours' sleep nightly and during that time sorted 40,000,000 letters, parcels and cards for delivery at Belleville, Lindsay, Peterborough and Toronto. Wednesday, the day before his 65th birthday, he retired from his job as post-office railway clerk.

Since he was 25 Mr. Moore has gone to bed an hour before midnight every day of the year and has risen a few minutes before 3 a.m. to board a train at his hometown of Belleville for the 156-mile work trip to Toronto.

"That's all the sleep I ever get, even when I'm not working," he said.

He began his job in 1912 from Belleville to Toronto and return by sorting an average of 5,000 letters daily. In recent years he has sorted between 6,000 and 10,000 pieces of mail on each run.

Otonabee Building Totals $228,800

Building permits to the value of $228,800 were issued by Otonabee Township during 1952, the building inspector reported at the December meeting of the township council.

Residential permits accounted for $221,800, commercial permits for the remaining $7,000.

Council approved payment of county rates, and school grants and rates amounting to $106,718.90, and other general accounts totalling $866.

December's meeting was the last meeting for Councillor Peter J. Mather, onetime county warden and reeve of Otonabee. A vote of thanks to him for his service and assistance was moved by council. Mr. Mather said he was still interested in the affairs of the township and was still ready to assist wherever possible.

Council voted to have a three-wire electrical service placed in the township hall. A plan of the Keene Athletic Field was approved.

A by-law was passed authorizing the borrowing of $25,500 to pay current accounts.

A MAN HAS TO TALK TURKEY these days, especially butcher Joe Flynn, who has to sell 600 birds to the Christmas trade. Products of Ennismore township, the current retail prices are 49 cents a pounds for toms and 59 cents for smaller birds. Business is brisk, Mr. Flynn says, which seems to be the opinion of all poultry handlers in the city. —(Examiner Staff Photo)

Court Dismisses Driving Charge After Accident

LINDSAY (ENS) — Magistrate E. A. Gee today dismissed a charge of careless driving against Frank Sims, 39, of West Guilford.

Sims was charged following an accident on the Rosedale bridge on Highway 35. The accident took place 51 feet from the north end of the 240-foot bridge.

Sims' wife suffered a fractured nose and facial cuts, as did Mrs. Russell Clark, wife of the other driver. Mrs. Clark has since undergone a three-hour plastic surgery operation to make less visible the 75 stitches that were taken in her face. Several cheek muscles were severed in Mrs. Clark's face.

Sims' daughter, five-year-old Karen, also suffered a fractured nose, in addition to concussion.

ENTERED BRIDGE

Clark told the court he was driving north on the highway, saw no traffic and entered the bridge. When he was near the north end, the Sims car entered, and skidded into the Clark car.

Sims said he entered the north end of the bridge after seeing no northbound traffic. He saw the Clark car, applied his brakes, and skidded on the wooden planking, hitting Clark's car more or less head-on.

Mrs. Sims appeared in court, apparently still weak and with her face covered with bandages.

Christmas Splurge

People Buy More This Year

Christmas business is a joy to merchants this year, a survey of main street storekeepers indicates. One men's wear retailer estimated his sales were better than last year, and said this was in line with the whole year, which showed for him a 10 per cent increase in sales. Appliance dealers say sales of their wares have jumped up during December, and show a marked increase over 1951's Christmas. Factors that make it easier for shoppers in appliance stores are the removal of tax and easier payment schemes.

Although electrical appliance sales have increased across the board, the most noticeable boost has come in the larger pieces of equipment — refrigerators, washing machines, TV sets and the like.

Other merchants — in ladies' wear, china, jewellery, luggage and luxury items—all report an improved Christmas situation.

ASK FOR QUALITY

Following a tendency noticed mostly in recent years, shoppers this Christmas are asking quality for their money. But another tendency—to look for a long time before buying—is disappearing.

Said one merchant: "They don't dilly dally. They see what they want and buy it, if it's good. There's not all this looking that went on last year."

Luxury items have been given big play. One florist, who deals as well in some chinaware, reported she was completely sold out of a quantity of imitation Chinese antique vases. The largest ones cost $35 and the whole shipment sold in a week.

Otherwise, say the retailers, Christmas is much the same. The same crowds arrive at the same times, and use the same money; they just spend more of it.

Conservation Groups Lag Government Says Report

In the broad work of conservation, county councils and voluntary organizations are "dragging their feet," said Watson H. Porter of London, Ont., at the annual meeting of zone 4 of the Ontario Conservation Association Thursday at the Kawartha Country Club.

Once positionally secondary in enthusiasm and practical planning of conservation programs, the Ontario government has moved out into leadership with which citizen organizations have failed to keep pace.

Mr. Porter declared that even in the matter of grants and financing of projects, the Department of Planning and Development has been volunteering assistance in conservation enterprise which has not been accepted and used. "Some of our most active conservation authorities are dragging their feet because they are not doing as good a job as they could."

Introduced by Melville H. Johnston, president of the Ontario Conservation Association, Mr. Porter "raked up the past" to indicate "where we are going, why, and where we should be going." From the outset he has been one of the realistic leaders in the conservation and reforestation movement in this province.

BEGAN WITH ENERGY

He recalled the meeting at Bowmanville in 1937, third of a series which set up the provincial organization. The first was at London and the second at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. The year 1936 had been a dry one, and there was an uneasy feeling that things were not going right, that the land had been too far exploited and denuded.

The conservation project in the beginning was greeted in the spirit that "it should have been started 25 years ago, but let's get started now." For two or three years there was great activity as the conservation idea took hold. It became something of a crusade across the province until 1939 when the was broke out.

Up to that time, interest and enthusiasm was not manifested higher up, such as in government circles, no legislation and no large grants to promote the plans which had been springing up from the grass roots. Reforestation was most generally mooted because it was something tangible and concrete.

Mr. Watson recalled that finally as the war was passing "we were able to convince both the provincial and federal governments that a survey should be made of some areas to see what could be done practically to halt the loss and destruction."

NURSERIES REVIVE

That proposal contemplated the return to civilian life of men of the armed services for whom wholesome outdoor employment would be provided. During the war, tree nurseries necessarily slowed down, and since then it had not been possible to get all the trees for which there was a demand, Mr. Porter said.

The supply for the coming spring is 30,000,000, "and we've got to get geared up again to put those roots into the ground." In the meantime the Department of Planning and Development has been active from the conservation angle. The Conservation Authorities Act came into being. Fifteen conservation authorities have been set up in as many river valleys. There is also the Trees Conservation Act. Fifteen counties have passed enabling by-laws, but some of them think this legislation should be enforced by the province. In the western section of the province three tree commissions have been instituted,

Grant $200 Increase For School Teachers

KITCHENER (CP) — Kitchener public school trustees Thursday night agreed to increase all instructors' maximum salaries $200 a year retroactive to Jan. 1, 1952. It was also decided to give the teachers a special payment of $65 for this year, in addition to the $335 cost-of-living bonus so far received.

The trustees also raised the principal's minimum salary $200 effective Jan. 1, 1952.

Earlier this year the teachers requested a $600 increase in maximum salaries. The board's decision grants the increase but incorporates only $200 in the maximum salary.

ADDRESS ON REQUEST

A woe-begone male shopper was skulking around a furniture store on Thursday afternoon.

"Christmas shopping, I see?"

Then he went into the woes of shopping for a bachelor brother. The brother had everything, it seemed, and the shopper was not adverse to some suggestions. Nothing that was mentioned would be acceptable.

"How about a crock, then?"

"A crock! He's got a whole case in his cellar."

He admitted that things were tough all over and that Christmas should be strictly for the kids.

Widow, Two Sons Awarded $16,950 Damages For Death Of Husband

Thaine Barker Killed In Car-Truck Crash
John Kidd Found 75 Per Cent Negligent For Passing On Hill On Highway 7

In a Supreme Court judgment given today Mrs. Charlotte Barker, 31-year-old Hastings widow, and her two school-age sons were awarded a total of $16,950 damages. The award was made by Mr. Justice Danis who is presiding at the non-jury sittings. The damage action, entered under a provision of the Fatal Accidents Act, was a result of a two-car accident on Oct. 28, 1949, in which 47-year-old Thaine Barker, husband of Mrs. Barker and father of the two boys, was killed.

The fatal accident occurred on Highway 7, just over 10 miles east of Peterborough.

Mr. Justice Danis found the defendant, John Kidd of RR 1 Warsaw, 75 per cent negligent; and Barker was judged 25 per cent negligent.

GOING UP GRADE

Evidence indicated that Barker's panel truck and Kidd's car were going east up a grade approximately 700 feet long. Kidd pulled to the left to pass the truck and for a while they drove along parallel to each other. Witnesses next noticed that the two vehicles (the car slightly ahead) veered sharply to the south.

Barker's truck smashed headon into an elm tree by the south side of the highway and he died shortly after. Kidd's car sideswiped another tree further on but Kidd was not injured.

The two vehicles had somehow collided on the highway and the greatest part of the court case was taken up in determining what caused the collision and what was the degree of responsibility on each side.

A Toronto electrical contractor, Edward Roxborough, testified that when he drove to the top of the slope and began to descend he saw the truck and the car approaching side by side.

"The little car then veered to the right to give me clearance," he said. And he heard the sound of the crash behind him.

Mr. Justice Danis found Kidd 75 per cent negligent in that he did not blow his horn when coming up to pass Barker; he passed on a hill though he was aware that Barker was "weaving"; and he did not see the westbound Roxborough car approaching in time.

CAUSED CRASH

Mr. Justice Danis also found that the accident was caused by Kidd cutting back into the right laneway to prevent a collision with Roxborough's car. By swerving in front of the truck he caused a collision between the two eastbound vehicles.

Barker was 25 per cent negligent in that he didn't see the Roxborough car approaching and make allowances to prevent the accident. Medical evidence was that there were 1.7 parts per thousand of alcohol in his blood, "making him respond slower."

Eight bottles of beer were found in the wrecked Barker truck by OPP Constable George Henderson.

A witness for the plaintiffs, George Nurse, said he saw Barker about 5:10 p.m. in Peterborough, more than an hour before the accident. He swore that Barker seemed sober; in fact he didn't smell any alcohol on his breath.

The action was to recover damages for the pecuniary loss suffered by the members of the family because of the death of the breadwinner. At the time Barker was doing electrical contracting work in Hastings and district.

$22,600 DAMAGES

Total damages were assessed at $22,600 but because Barker was found 25 per cent negligent the judgment against Kidd, a Peterborough county employee, was scaled down to $16,950.

Of this amount $2,500 was awarded six-year-old Larry Barker, the younger son; and $1,700 to nine-year-old Wayne. The $4,200 will be paid into court and, under ordinary circumstances, will go to the boys when they reach 21 years.

The remainder, or $12,750, will go to Mrs. Barker.

High commendation for T. J. Carley, QC, defence counsel, was given by Mr. Justice Danis.

"He (Mr. Carley) brought out everything a counsel could do in favor of the defendant. He went into every detail."

Counsel for the Barkers were R. N. Starr of Toronto and J. C. N. Currelly.

Mr. Carley said he will appeal the judgment.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

New Year's At Guelph In Study Course For Four Peterborough Leaders....Stimulating Meeting At Napanee, An Early Promise For Spring Show.... Seventy Farmers Hear Dr. H. Worton....To Readers: A Happy and Merry Christmas.

Welington Sutton and Harold Lewis will spend New Year's studying farm economics at OAC. This short course extends from December 29 to January 2.

The program of the economics short course comprises such subjects as "The Canadian Farm Economy Today," "Western Grain and Eastern Feeders," "Farm Bookkeeping," market outlook, and so on. One branch of the course is concerned with farm organizations and co-operatives.

It was reported that Stewart Nelson and Harold Millen were going from Peterborough Co-op Services.

Kenneth Robbins, district field supervisor of the Ohio Farm Bureau, will present a series of talks on the way in which problems of farm organizations have been met in that state. Others assisting in the course are: Dr. F. M. Schraeder, economist, Dominion Department of Agriculture; Dr. E. C. Hope, economist, Canadian Federation of Agriculture; W. Watson, Ontario Livestock Commissioner; R. Jardine, secretary of the Dairy Coordinating Committee; Dr. H. P. Patterson, farm economics branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Apparently four of Peterborough's farm leaders will celebrate New Year's concentrating on the elements of economics, especially in the rural sphere.

Merry Christmas

The season of farm meetings is suspended next week and through the Christmas period. The Forum has a Fourth Night feature December 22, and then comes Santa Claus. Farmers wish that he could do something to improve the markets for their produce, and that means prices and income, especially in the staple products of poultry, eggs, pork, beef. The new year is approaching with bristling problems.

Meanwhile, Christmas is close at hand after a long open fall, and rural homes will assume the spirit of Dingley Dell. The first week of January presents the annual meeting of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture in Toronto, but those sessions are nearly three weeks away.

Here's a wish for Christmas happiness along the concession lines. In some farm homes, Yule logs, not of the length of the old English manor hearths or of the fireplaces of the settlers of this district, but still sound hardwood cut from the home woodlot, will blaze brightly and merrily. Automatic heating has transformed that domestic heritage, but the thermostat acknowledges in many a house that planning must include the hearth.

The last page of the 1952 calendar is running out of days and hours, and the almanac bodes change of weather, long overdue, with frost and snow, the stars brilliant in a sky clear of mistiness, and the moon waxing out of its first quarter.

And so, the festive lights and colors of the Christmas tree, the browned turkey and the plum pudding, happy hearts and the benison of Tiny Tim: "God Bless Us All."

Spring Show Support

Plans for the Central Ontario Spring Show at Peterborough in March were discussed at meeting Wednesday, morning and afternoon, at Napanee.

On this trip, President Robert Armstrong was accompanied by Frank C. Paterson, Stuart Bowman, W. W. Dawson, Ald. Harold Rehill, LeRoy Brown, Lindsay, agricultural representative in Victoria, and Ken Best.

"This was a very encouraging meeting," Mr. Paterson reports. "The large attendance provided evidence that there is great deal of interest over in Lennox-Addington. J. R. Henderson of Portsmouth was over from Frontenac. Garnet Rickard, who is in charge of a phase of the seed show, was present from Durham. Altogether we had quite an area represented, and it was a profitable trip." Forty farmers attended.

Warns Shorthorn Men Against "Pony" Sires

Alberta Shorthorn breeders were warned last week by E. R. Henderson, Canadian Shorthorn Association fieldman, that they must get away from the "pony" type of sires, and back to the breeding of bulls which would sire steers of quality, weight and substance.

He was also critical of the lack of attention pure-bred Shorthorn breeders were giving to their own affairs. Of the 600 members of the Association, fewer than 50 were in attendance at their annual meeting in Calgary. Mr. Henderson said far more than that number should have been present.

Mr. Henderson expressed disagreement with show judges who evidently preferred smaller types of sires, and said that if the breeders did not do something to correct that trend, the time was coming when a standard type of animal would be necessary. He said some of the animals in present day shows were designed to catch the "hobby suckers" rather than for the general improvement of the breed.

Another Henderson comment was that there were a lot of good Canadian Shorthorns, and breeders should be careful to accept only the best when they imported animals from Scotland. They should not be ready to buy anything the cattle dealers tried to dispose of.

Members of the Alberta Shorthorn Association objected that there were too many "bid takers" in the ring during the spring bull sales. They said the auctioneers should be left to do the job themselves with a minimum assistance from the "takers." They felt that too much noise resulted, and the procedure savored of "high pressure" selling.

Louada Manor Females In Renfrew Herd

In the foundation of a new Shorthorn herd under the joint ownership of Leslie Gibbons and Bert Beattie of Renfrew, five females were bought from Louis Cadesky's Louada Manor Farm herd, in Harvey Township, Peterborough. A bull from this herd was bought last year by Mervin Miller & Son of Glasgow Station.

The Gibbons-Beattie purchase included two heifers in calf to the imported dam bull, Louada Diplomat. Another heifer carries the service of the imported in dam, Louada Developer, grand champion at the regional show near Oshawa. The two other females are in calf to Cairnsie Armada, the 7,000-guinea bull bought by Mr. Cadesky from the last Perth sale, Scotland, and one of the highest priced bulls ever to come to Canada.

Milburn And Butler Unique Dairy Group Leaders Long With Milk Producers

It is no longer news when the members of the Peterborough Whole Milk Producers' Association annually elect their president and secretary-treasurer — respectively, Eddie Butler of Peterborough and V. S. Milburn of Toronto.

That done, usually around December 1st, they wind up any other remaining business and take off for home, in the assurance that their affairs are in good hands, including the other officers and directors.

For a long time, right up to today, their confidence has been sustained. There's a story that Jack Walsh of Otonabee once remarked: "We've had Butler and Milburn so long we ought to have a pension fund for them." Of course, without a quip now and then, life would be unsatisfactory and dull for the proprietor of Skibbereen Farm.

Actually, it may be close to 25 years since Mr. Butler and Mr. Milburn were first elected principal officers of the Whole Milk Producers. Mr. Butler is an independent grocer on Hunter St. in Ashburnham, although he was a dairyman with his own milk route back in the early stage of the depression decade when he was elected president. Mr. Milburn is secretary of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, a director of the Ontario Whole Milk Producers, one of the outstanding farm leaders of this province, and widely known, too, throughout Canada.

NOT PRODUCING MEMBERS

What other county commodity groups in the country elect year after year as president and secretary two men who are not actually of their producing membership? Apparently there is no answer to that question other than a blank silence. And such an executive combination must be unique in Ontario.

Neither is there another commodity group whose business and public relations have been more harmonious than that of the Peterborough Milk Producers, the dairy farmers who supply milk to the processing and distributing dairy firms.

In the election of officers at the annual meeting the other night, Mr. Milburn suggested that he should resign as secretary-treasurer because of the pressure of other duties. His explanation was understood by the members, but they made no move to let him go. Henry Batten, assistant secretary-treasurer, said that if extra work cropped up during the coming year he would be happy to pitch in and take a share of it.

FIRST STEPPING STONE

"I have no wish to retire from this association," Mr. Milburn said. "Peterborough Milk Producers gave me my first start, and I say to you in all sincerity I am never happier than when I am back here with you at your meetings. This is home. And I can't imagine that anybody could be happier in his work than I am, here and in Toronto."

Some day, Viv Milburn may enlarge upon that reference to his start in life. His Peterborough friends are aware of it, and especially the Milk Producers, but time has dimmed the details of that beginning—the story of his advance virtually from an inexperienced youth just out of Junior Farmer rank into the councils of farm organizations of Ontario and Canada. That is too long a diversion for this reference.

ADOPTED QUOTA SYSTEM

Mr. Milburn recalled briefly that period of the association when the quota system of milk delivery from the farms was put forward. To some it looked like trespass on their freedom, but they gradually came around to it.

The Peterborough market was one of the first in the province to accept the quota plan, and Mr. Milburn's memory was that the first agreement in that direction here was made with the late Carl Campbell of Campbell's Dairy. It was an auspicious beginning.

Of course, since the outset, there has been a quota committee, and the other officers of the Milk Producers, but much of the negotiating and discussions with the distributors have been carried on by Mr. Butler and Mr. Milburn, through the years. Their guiding principle was the fair deal, plus the reasonable attitude, fulfilling agreements that called for a sustained milk supply, and generally to recognize the problems of the dairy plants, while presenting a case for their own producers.

Apart from that sound practice, Mr. Milburn particularly has been in a position to keep his Peterborough association informed on latest trends throughout the province, on milk board affairs, government and federation thinking, and so on. His reports have been so informative and authentic that the meetings of the producers have been invariably rich in interest, off-the-record news and sensible, practical ideas. To them he brought information from the centre of policy-making by government and producer associations out to the rural fringe he calls home.

RECIPROCAL REGARD

The county association isn't given to sentiment. Henry Batten came as near to that spirit as anyone has ever done in expressions of appreciation of the work of Butler and Milburn. The long sequence of re-elections provides the evidence of the members' regard for their two top officers. And, if Mr. Milburn is grateful to the Peterborough association as the first stepping-stone in his career, they in turn are proud to claim him as their gift to the rural leadership of Ontario, and the high reputation he has acquired in a difficult field where only ability and a sterling, amiable character endure.

Peterborough Rural Unity Broadly Extended In 1953 Federation Executive

Officers of Peterborough Federation of Agriculture, elected by the directors for 1953, are:

President, Henry Sharpe.

First vice-president, George Shoniker.

Second vice-president, R. R. Stewart.

Secretary - fieldman, Harold Lewis.

Treasurer, John Kitney.

Executive directors: Mrs. Lorne Reynolds, Ross Legge, W. W. Dawson, Gardiner Gauley, Bert Armstrong, W. G. Barrie.

County director, Henry Sharpe.

The most encouraging aspect of the 1953 body of officers is its broader representation of the county. Four members of the administration are from what used to be regarded as East Peterborough. They are William Barrie, Mr. Gauley, Mr. Legge, and Mr. Shoniker

The increased activity in Farm Forums in that area last winter is significantly reflected in the Federation officers, indicating a Peterborough County unity which musters greater numerical and executive strength than ever. Apparently this is the substitute for some proposals of organizing an East Peterborough branch. It concentrates interest and effort from all parts of the county, and if the wish develops, there is always the auxiliary means of forming township groups, as some of the county Federations in western Ontario have done.

FORUMS IMPORTANT

Probably that extension of organization is not necessary, for the simple reason that the Forums are doing effective work in their local communities. It recalls a statement of V. S. Milburn at an Ontario Federation convention some years ago when he said that wherever he found energetic Forums their effectiveness and expression reached out into strong county branches of the Federation. Mr. Milburn said that the Forums were the right arm of the parent body.

Not mentioned in the above list of officers is Reeve Willard Waterman of North Monaghan, who is the director nominated from the county council. Possibly Harold Lewis might object that his name has been mentioned often enough in the expansion which has been accomplished since his appointment as Federation fieldman. However, he has done a fine job, and he won't be content to coast along on his present record.

Henry Sharpe as county director means that he is Peterborough's representative to the Ontario Federation.

A change in the list of officers transfers the secretarial duties to Fieldman Lewis, which appears to be "a move in the right direction" because affairs of the secretary and fieldman are in most instances closely related. That leaves the treasury to Mr. Kitney.

The only chill note at the recent county convention was the treasurer's statement of a new bank overdraft at November 30, of $475.20. Peterborough county council's grant will correct that adverse condition.

FINANCIAL DETAILS

Receipts reported by Mr. Kitney for the eleven months ending November 30 were:

Kawartha Co-op Medical Services contribution to Fieldman's salary $425, affiliation fees from other organizations $155.03, insurance advertising refund $118.65; total, $698.65.

Disbursements amounted to $3,617.81, leaving an excess of expenditure over receipts of $2,919.16.

Balance January 1, 1952, $2,443.96

Less excess disbursements $2,919.16

Showing deficit November 30 ..... $ 475.20

Some of the items of expenditure during the year, in addition to the Fieldman's salary were:

Ontario Federation of Agriculture, affiliation fees, $686.86.

Poultry marketing scheme voting, $170.15.

Federation exhibits at Peterborough Exhibition and Spring Show, $98.57.

Junior Farmers, $320, for bus trip and girls' dinner.

Spring Show, $200.

Federation also granted $100 to the Holstein Championship Show and $100 to the Shorthorn Breeders for their feature at Lakefield Fair.

Another item of expenditure was $45.65 to the Kiwanis Musical Festival.

Mr. Kitney's report was adopted at the annual meeting. The disbursements were all in the cause of the agricultural community. Even the Kiwanis Music Festival attracts rural talent of Peterborough county and its neighbors.

Just a reminder to Federation members, the Ontario convention in Toronto is booked for the first week in January.

Morrow Park Opportunity To Aid Agriculture Becomes More Pressing

Many of Peterborough district farmers are more interested in the building of the Memorial Community Centre at Morrow Park than when many of them were contributing to the fund for its financing.

While the centre as a public project has been dormant, rural affairs have been on the march. Decision of the promoters of the Ontario Spring Show makes Peterborough its permanent place of exhibition for three or four days in March. Its first success this year inspired the officers and directors to enlarge their plans to the extent that they are already looking for increased space which the Peterborough Exhibition board, it is said, is willing to provide in the existing and available buildings.

If the centre were constructed in Morrow Park, it would be doubt be almost ideal accommodation for the Spring Show in which ten or eleven counties are now engaged in preparing for the week of March 17.

Briefly, this agricultural show has a promising future, although probably not to the extent of the corresponding show at London for a large area of western Ontario. Present facilities are satisfactory, but Peterborough is actually capable of improving them if seemingly simple terms of agreement between trustees of the Park and representatives of the city can be harmonized and effected.

NO EASY SOLUTION

"But, it is not so simple as it appears," Mayor Waddell commented to the Examiner yesterday after the latest conversation this week in Toronto on this question. "I hesitate to say anything except I am greatly interested in trying to determine once and for all what can be done."

For instance, Peterborough is required to provide the land or site for the Memorial Centre. But the city does not own Morrow Park. Expropriation, as suggested from time to time, is a course which city officials are reluctant about considering because they are then dealing with a deed of trust, and that brings them up against the responsibility of trustees who are personally not ill-disposed.

Apparently all that Mayor Waddell wished to convey was that further discussion took place in Toronto this week, at which he and City Clerk Outram were present as representatives of the city, and that prospect of securing use of a corner of the Park for the Centre is not so readily accomplished as the man on the street and on the concession lines imagines.

However, the Peterborough Exhibition, the Central Ontario Spring Show, the East-Central Ontario Holstein Championship Show in October, the 4-H Club Achievement Day, possibly the local and regional cattle shows, all point the way to the broadening realization of the late Harold Morrow's object.

USE IS INCREASING

It was the declared wish of Mr. Morow to grant the Park for improvement and advantage of agriculture in this district. It is conceivable that such agricultural affairs will be even more broadly expanded in future than Mr. Morrow could have perceived when he was making a public gift in the name of his father, R. A. Morrow. Already there has been a great deal of progress.

These aspects of the seeming obstructions to fulfilling the general purpose and wish of Mr. Morrow are here and now in the present. Peterborough is the industrial and geographical centre of those counties from Frontenac to Ontario. The directors associated with Robert Armstrong, president, of Cavan Township, wish to make impressions of the Spring Show in March as immediately favorable and lasting as possible.

Present main accommodation at Morrow Park is the temporary and shabby building inherited from the military occupation of the Park during the war. The consideration of actual and useful occupation for agricultural purposes is not something vague and conjectural and potential. It is a real circumstance which is becoming pressing from the agricultural standpoint. Even the Peterborough Exhibition Board is being crimped by the inadequacy of its main building. And the Morrows, father and son, displayed a personal and substantial interest in the well-being of the Exhibition for more than half a century. That spirit of help and dedication continues posthumously in Mr. Harold Morow's deed of trust.

URGENCY APPEARS

The opportunity of projecting the intention of Mr. Morrow, to encourage the agricultural industry of this part of the province, is becoming perceptibly urgent. The proposed Community Centre affords a means to that end. But, if that building cannot be placed on Morrow Park ground, if there are invincible impediments preventing that development, it might as well be decided and settled before much further delay.

Outcome of discussion such as those of Tuesday may bring reality to public hopes. It would certainly open a new period of activity at Morrow Park. For the present, it can be said only that these discussions took place this week, and that inherent difficulties evidently remain in the path of the various parties to the conversations, all of whom are no doubt sympathetic but restricted by circumstances in which they are bound.

John Edmison has been appointed Junior Farmers' representative on the Central Ontario Spring Show board of directors.

Leo Copp And W. L. Graff Farm Forum Guests, U.N. And Peace Discussed

On the Forum subject this week discussing the possibility of mankind achieving world peace and also world government, Springville group, reporting from their meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Dunford, quotes Robert Burns:

"It's coming yet for a' that
That man to man, the world o'er,
Shall brothers be for a' that."

Forum members probably appreciate the decision of their season's programming committee to include this subject of "Building for Peace" in the 1952-3 series of broadcasts. It took them to the level of the United Nations and NATO, Northern Atlantic Treaty Organization, and generally recognized Communism's threat to the institutions of democracy, to the freedom of the human intellect, and to the way of life which the western world, and particularly English-speaking people, have developed through the centuries.

The Rev. A. E. Larke was discussion leader at the Dunford home. Twenty-one members were present. The Springville Forum summary follows: "Nations, like individuals must learn to trust one another. UN has its limitations, but we must suport it. It offers a basis for united discussion and united action." The group was practically unanimous that "world government is the solution of world peace."

One of the topical suggestions was: "Should we not seriously consider the diverting of some of the millions spent on armaments to the distribution of food surpluses to the hungry and needy? We should give support to the World Council of Churches, encourage the interchange of students, and stimulate the promotion of immigration. Free trade between nations should be supported."

Mrs. George Whitfield reports: "We had one of our best discussions of the season, second only to the "New Outlets To Farm Women."

SHOULD BAN VETO

Thirty members of the Donegal Forum near Norwood met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stevenson where Evelyn Davidson was discussion leader. Briefly they said: "United Nations offers some hope for world peace, but would offer more if they would ban the veto, or at least not allow it to be used so much. The majority thought that world government was not necessary before lasting peace is assured, because of the strong opposition to the plan in the countries."

PROBLEM OF SOVEREIGNTY

William Mood was chairman of Westwood Forum at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warner. William L. Graff, chief librarian in Peterborough, was guest of the Forum. He said peace and government would depend on the willingness of nations to yield their sovereignty. Fourteen nations have gone part of the way by setting up NATO.

Chairman of the UN organization in Peterborough, Mr. Graff said Canadians could help bring peace to the world by taking a long range view of lasting peace, and applying our Christian principles in everyday life. UN as a new organization has met with failure in some things, but has succeeded in getting co-operation of its members on others—education, science, food and agriculture. Thirty-two were present.

16 AT COLDSPRINGS

Leo Copp, principal of the Normal School, and an executive member of Peterborough UNO, was Coldsprings Forum guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rose. Forum opinion was that world government may probably come in the distant future, but that nations today are not ready for it yet. "Through failures of UN have come NATO and such like organizations. When an overall idea fails, some smaller good grows."

AT CENTRAL SMITH

Fifteen members attended at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Telford with the Rev. William Leaton discussion leader. Ferd Rowland, secretary of the meeting, reports: "UN offers hope for world peace by advancing the idea of world government. We think Communism will eventually defeat itself. UN is a sounding board for the free opinion of the world. Canadian citizens can bring peace to the world by supporting UN and by teaching our children to sand up for the right, being peace-loving, and making use of the rights our forefathers fought for and handed down to us, such as freedom of speech, religion, the right to vote, etc. We think the evangelical doctrine with Christ as our head for all people is our answer."

24 AT PINE GROVE 6

Chester Hamilton was discussion leader at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dunford. Summary of discussion: "We thought UN does offer hope for world peace. One means to that end is to feed the hungry; send our surplus food to the needy people; world government would not be any good at the present time."

HUNGER CAUSES UNREST

Mrs. George Geisel, reporting for Beaver Forum at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McConkey (12 present): "We think a world government is the answer, if every nations is a member and ably represented. We believe hunger is the great cause of world unrest. Canada has a great surplus of food that could be distributed. We feel some of the money spent on armaments should be diverted to feed the hungry people of the world, and our surplus could feed many."

UN HAS HELPED

Thirteen Lily Lake Forum members met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Tully where A. Hancock was leader. Summary of their opinions: "UN has strengthened the chances for world peace through its different organizations but we feel that it is strangled by the veto. UN is as yet relatively young, and needs more time. Our best hope in helping towards peace lies in the strengthening of Christianity throughout the world. We would like to see some of our surplus food distributed among the 'have-not' nations. World government appears to be difficult of achievement. We would need an organization without the veto."

The series of discussions will be resumed January 5 with the broadcast on "The Cost of Marketing."

Farmers Respond

F. C. Paterson expressed yesterday his appreciation of the response of the seventy farmers who attended the meetings this week at Norwood and Keene. Dr. Harold Worton, provincial veterinarian, discussed health of cattle and the prevention of disease. Films on the same subject were shown.

Canadian tobacco crops in 1952 totalled 153,792,000 pounds nearly 28 per cent more than in 1950.

Would Like To See Canada Give More Manpower

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States officials said Thursday they would like to see Canada contribute more manpower, money and arms to back up the West's fight against communism in Korea and Western Europe.

In the view of these officials, who cannot be quoted by name, wealthy Canada is one of the few Western countries which can afford to do this without straining its financial resources.

They made it plain they are no more critical of Canada in respect to sending more troops to Korea than they are of Australia, New Zealand and the Netherlands. The U.S. believes, they said, that all can send more troops to Korea to aid the United Nations' fight against Communist aggression.

These officials, who follow Canadian affairs closely, emphasized they fully appreciate all Canada has contributed thus far, both militarily and economically, to bolster the Western democracies

But, they also made it clear that they agree with criticism of Canada's role in Korea voiced recently by two American senators.

NEED MORE TROOPS

Senators Richard Russell (Dem.-Ga.) and Paul Douglas (Dem.-Ill.), speaking separately, called on Canada, Australia and New Zealand to send more troops to Korea.

At a press conference at Sea Island, Ga, Russell said:

"On the basis of wealth and population, I don't think Canada is contributing as much as we are."

Canada has sent a brigade group of about 6,000 men to Korea, they said, and has assigned three destroyers and an air transport squadron to the United Nations command.

Speaking specifically of Canada, informed U.S. officials expressed the opinion privately that the Canadian government can increase the size of this contingent without jeopardizing Canada's home defences.

Further, they told a reporter, many American officials believe Canada can easily afford to increase military and economic aid to Atlantic Pact countries without upsetting its economy.

The Canadian government has appropriated about $325,000,000 during this fiscal year for military and economic aid to the North Atlantic nations, they said

Talking about Canada's role in Western Europe, these officials said many American defence strategists believe Canada should think about increasing the number of troops it now has stationed in Western Germany.

Favorite Quotes For 1952 From Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's to start ushering the old year out with a list of quotable quotes from Hollywood in 1952.

Some of the favorites:

Roberto Rossellini, announcing that he and Ingrid Bergman were having their second family addition: "We both hope our marriage will now be taken for the sacred, serious thing it is."

Gracie Fields, 53, singing about her engagement to a 48-year-old radio repairman: "I'm an old goat, but I'm so in love with him."

Arlene Dahl, testifying on one of the reasons why she was divorcing Lex Barker; "He called me a hick from Minnesota because I wouldn't drink a martini before dinner."

Vanessa Brown, former quiz kid: "Brains are no handicap to a girl—if she keeps them well hidden behind a plunging neckline."

LAZY WAY

Jane Russell: "Sweaters are a lazy girl's way to romance."

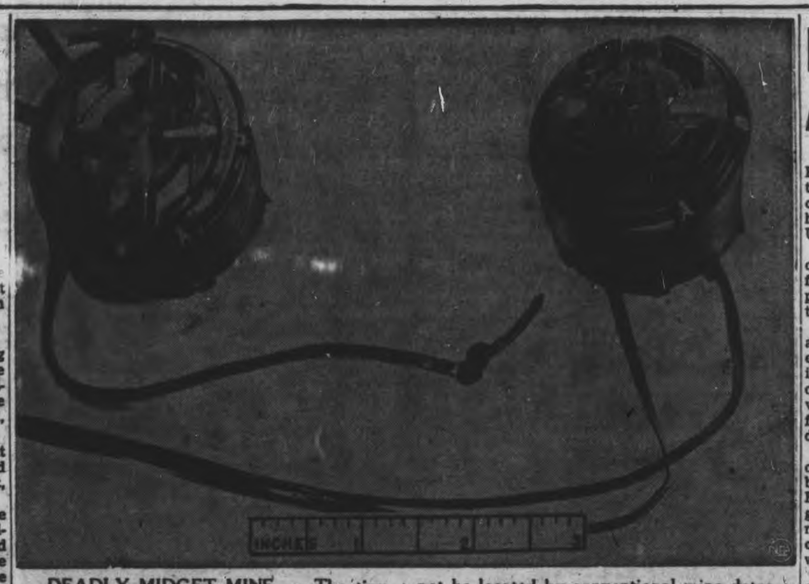
Joan Fontaine: "I'll never marry again until I quit my acting career. You can't do both at once." (note: She married Collier Young a few months after this statement.)

Fred Allen: "When I appear on TV, the audience rushes to the movies. When I'm in the movies, they rush home to TV. I keep the audience in perpetual motion."

Don Hartman, Paramount boss speaking of the film industry's troubles: "Why should people go out to see bad movies when they can stay home and see bad movies on TV?"

Terry Moore, divorcing Glenn Davis: "He made a wreck out of me. He asked my friends if they thought I could really act and when they said yes, he called them frauds."

Betty Grable, citing a trend: "The eyes of the film fan world have switched up the feminine form. . .and I just can't compete. I've always been able to stand on my own legs, but there are lots of women with bust lines Nature didn't provide."



DEADLY MIDGET MINE — The tiny midget mines, shown above, will soon be supplied to United States forces fighting in Korea. Weighing only 4½ ounces apiece, the tiny mines are made of plastic and cannot be located by conventional mine detectors. Powerful enough to cripple or kill anyone stepping on it, the mine costs about $2.50 to produce, as compared to the $13-per-unit cost of the 9-pound World War II anti-personnel mine.

Mrs. G. McIlmoyle Selwyn WA President

SELWYN (ENS). — Mrs. Irvin Tully was hostess to the Women's Association of Selwyn United Church when they held their December meeting at her home. The Scripture lesson was the Christmas story taken from St. Luke's Gospel, and was read by Mrs. Orr Sage. The Rev. D. P. Morris gave an interesting topic entitled "Christmas Tradition." The meeting voted $15 to be given to the Missionary and Maintenance fund of the church.

Mrs. Chalmer Sweeting gave a report on the executive meeting which was held at Fairview. Mr. Morris moved a vote of thanks to all the former officers, and the new ones were appointed as follows: President, Mrs. George McIlmoyle; vice-president, Mrs. James McConkey; secretary, Mrs. Elton Miles; treasurer, Mrs. Evans Blewett; pianist, Mrs. Orr Sage; flower committee, Mrs. E. Preston and Mrs. G. Mathieson; visiting committee, Mrs. W. Nichols, Mrs. C. McIlmoyl, Mrs. I. Tully; north group leaders, Mrs. R. Bell and Mrs. M. Crapp; South group leaders, Mrs. Clifford McIlmoyl and Mrs. M. Elliott; auditors, Mrs. E. Preston and Mrs. Charles McIlmoyl.

Douks Halt Train For Bomb Warning

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Doukhobors halted a train near the settlement of Gilpin to warn the crew of a plot to bomb the Great Northern Railway line, it was reported here Thursday.

The Doukhobors, members of the radical Sons of Freedom blamed for many acts of terrorism in the Kootenays, stood on the track waving flags and banners

When engineer Harry Simpson of Spokane, Wash., stopped the train a spokesman told him of a planned bombing raid by another Doukhobor group. However, no reports of bombing were received here.

Suspend Judgment

OTTAWA (CP)—Judgment was reserved Thursday in the trial of a truck driver whose oil tank-truck crashed thrpugh the front of a bank here last Feb. 13 and fatally injured bank manager Ernest Fitzgerald. The trucker, Wilfred Conlin, 33, of Hull, Que., is charged with dangerous driving. Judge A.G. McDougall said he will give judgment Jan. 7.

Bus Drops Into River

LICHFIELD, England (AP)—A double-deck bus plunged through an iron bridge rail into the River Trent Thursday night and one woman was killed and eight persons injured. The bus landed upright. It collided with a seven-ton truck drawing an anti-aircraft gun, skidded through the rail and took a 30-foot plunge.

Man Arrested Cashing Cheque

LINDSAY (ENS) —Returning to the scene of what was charged as an earlier crime resulted in the arrest of Arthur M. Doughty, 61, Peterborough.

He was remanded in magistrate's court Thursday on a charge of vagrancy, but other charges of fraud in connection with passing bad cheques, both in Lindsay and Peterborough will be laid, said police.

Doughty was arrested after a clerk in a men's wear shop spotted him and said he was the same man who had passed a worthless cheque earlier this year. Doughty was trying to cash a cheque on this occasion.

Chief John Hunter today warned Lindsay merchants that this was the time of year that sharpers and cheque artists from the big cities visited small towns.

Return Indictment Against 3 Canadians

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A grand jury Thursday returned an indictment charging three Canadians with the holdup-murder of jeweller Donald F. Hurd.

The assistant Erie county district attorney, John F. Dwyer, said the indictment was technically secret because none of the persons named in it is in the custody of New York state authorities.

The indictment charged first-degree murder and first-degree robbery, Dwyer said.

Two of the men accused of taking part in the Dec. 9 slaying in Hurd's downtown Buffalo store are in custody in Hamilton, awaiting extradition proceedings. A third still is at large.

Held in Hamilton are Maurice (Digger) O'Dell, 27, and Walter F. Griffen, 26, both of Hamilton. Police in 13 states and Ontario are seeking Ralph J. Grubisch, 28, of Kitchener, Ont.

Hurd, 45, was shot and killed as holdup men robbed his store of jewelry and gems valued at $41,000.

Boy 14 Doesn't Know Meaning Of Oath

GODERICH (CP)—"It is almost incredible to me that a boy in first form collegiate has no idea what it means to take an oath in court," Magistrate D. E. Holmes said Thursday when Lloyd Fuller, 14, said he did not know what an oath meant.

"When I think of all the money that has been spent on Goderich Collegiate some inquiry should be made of the teaching fraternity. Someone has failed in the educational system lamentably if the boy's story is to be believed."

The boy was a witness in a charge against his father, Austen Fuller, Goderich township, of allowing a person under 18 to operate a tractor which was involved in an accident with a car. Fuller was convicted and fined $5 and costs.

On Spending Spree

LONDON (AP)—Britons now are on their biggest Christmas spending spree in history, Bank of England figures showed Thursday. The bank's weekly statement said banknotes in public circulation have hit a record high of £1,539,246,865. Financial circles said the big Christmas spree is on despite the government's save, not spend policy.

Quad Calves Die

SOMERSET, O. (AP)—Quadruplets bred by artificial insemination were delivered from a Holstein cow here Thursday, but all four died shortly after birth. Dr. George Simms, veterinarian who performed the delivery, said he did not know of any previous quadruple birth through the artificial insemination process.

Hamilton Lawyer Dies

HAMILTON (CP) — John A. Munro, 53, prominent Hamilton lawyer and former member of the West Hamilton Liberal Association was killed Thursday night when his car crashed into the rear end of a truck. Police said the truck driver, a Mr. Echlin of Castorville, was uninjured. It was Hamilton's 26th traffic fatality this year.

Pickersgill Claimed Only $98 In Expenses

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament learned Thursday that Jack Pickersgill, former chief assistant to two prime ministers, claimed only $98.84 this year in expenses to the government on trips with Prime Minister St. Laurent to Quebec, the West coast and the United Kingdom.

Mr. Pickersgill, 47, has been the $15,000-a-year clerk of the Privy Council—the cabinet—since last June 1. Opposition members have voiced suspicion that he was attempting to combine civil service and political activities.

He was chief secretary and adviser to former Prime Minister Mackenzie King during the war years and after.

Mr. Pickersgill's expenses, detailed in a return printed in Thursday's Commons record: $29.10 for a visit to the Lake St. John district of Quebec; $30.35 for a visit to British Columbia, and $39.39 for a visit to Britain.

Martin Back Home In Ottawa After Hectic 2 Months At UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Health Minister Paul Martin returned to Ottawa Thursday after completing a hectic two months as head of Canada's delegation to the United Nations assembly.

The session was drawing to a close when Martin boarded a plane for home, weary from the grind of public and private conferences on the world's toughest problems.

Since Oct. 14 when the seventh assembly opened, Martin has emerged as a seasoned negotiator in international affairs. He took over as head of the delegation when L. B. Pearson, external affairs minister, was elected president of the assembly.

From the beginning, the 49-year-old Martin plunged into efforts behind the scenes to shape a Korean peace plan which would gain the widest support from the non-Communist world and be acceptable to the Communists as well.

The Ottawa-born MP from the Ontario riding of Essex East conferred day and night with India's Krishna Menon in building a Korean proposal which would get around the deadlocked issue of repatriating war prisoners.

Pearson also worked on this problem.

After weeks of negotiation, which saw a brief-lived split in western ranks, the assembly approved it with only the Communist bloc in opposition.

Fear Commission To Break Saskatchewan Dam Dream

OTTAWA (CP)—A royal commission report may break the dream of seeing one of the world's biggest dams springing out of the dust bowls of Saskatchewan.

Reports are current that the commission, which sat for about a year, may advise the federal government against proceeding with construction of the South Saskatchewan irrigation and power project.

The commission, expected to make its findings public next week, is believed to be particularly critical of the project because of its expense—probably about $250,000,000—and its location—about 18 miles upriver from Outlook, Sask.

OLD PROJECT

For years Saskatchewan has been pressing for the development which would create an artificial lake about 138 miles long, holding enough of the big South Saskatchewan to cover almost 7,000,000 acres of farmland with a foot of water.

Proponents considered that it would provide sufficient irrigation for some 450,000 to 500,000 acres of land and open up about another 3,000 farms in southern Saskatchewan. Fears of drought in that area would be at an end.

It also would provide about 435,000 kilowatt hours of hydro power a year—about 1½ times the power Saskatchewan now has available mostly through high-cost steam and diesel production.

The project would have taken about 10 years to build.

The South Saskatchewan cuts across the three Prairie provinces. It has its headwaters in the Rocky mountains and empties into Lake Winnipeg in Manitoba.

Protest Recent Order

MONTREAL (CP) — The executive council of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce has protested the effect of a recent government order rescinding deferred depreciation regulations, it was announced today.

The council, in telegrams to Ottawa, "strongly urged" that a new order-in-council be passed providing that no deferment of depreciation be operative after Dec. 31.

The council said it can see no "compelling administrative or accounting reason" why the deferred depreciation regulations have been rescinded on a basis relating to the fiscal year of a corporation

"GENERAL'S DAM"—This is the Petawawa Camp dam, nicknamed the "General's Dam," which was mentioned in the Currie Report tabled in the House of Commons. The report said the dam was not authorized by defence headquarters, that it was built on a stream in the camp at a cost of $3,000 to $4,000 and that its purpose was not clear. Percy Wright, CCF member for Melfort, charged it was used by officers as a fishing spot.

Fire Razes Block Housed 4 Families

PORT DALHOUSIE (CP)—Four families were made homeless Thursday night when fire damaged a three-storey apartment block here. No one was injured.

The fire was confined to the top floor, but water damaged apartments on the first and second floors and in the basement.

Four other families on lower floors were also evacuated but were able to move back in later. The blaze is believed to have been caused by hot ashes setting fire to a cardboard container

Czech Premier Warns Worst Yet To Come

VIENNA (AP) — Czechoslovak Premier Antonin Zapotocky reiterated today that "discontent and rebellion" over food and coal shortages are destroying Communist discipline. He forecast a grim picture for the future.

The Prague radio quoted him as telling a party congress "the worst is yet to come."

Dolls And Trains Still Favourites Rivalled By Oil Rigs, Space Ships

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It's still trains for the boys and dolls for the girls when it comes to buying this year's Christmas toys.

A Canadian Press survey amid the hectic bustle of toy counters across the land today shows those two old stand-bys holding their own in popularity among shoppers for the 4,300,000 Canadians under 14 despite the distractions of new-fangled playthings of the atomic age.

Old type or new, toys are plentiful. But meeting all the demands of the younger generation can put a strain on the pocketbook of even a well-heeled grownup. Some of the prices seem to have beaten the model space ships to the take-off.

It's hard to buy a doll that would catch the eye of a little girl for less than about $3.98. For $5 you can take your choice of a Scottish doll, a skating doll, a walking doll, a baby doll, a deb doll or a mammy doll.

SLINKY DOLL

A glamor doll in black negligee will make the old wallet $25 lighter. A fancy doll from France, lavishly dressed and with real hair and miniature drop earrings, is priced at $95.

A $30 doll available in Edmonton and elsewhere talks, sings, laughs and recites "Mary had a Little Lamb."

Electric train prices run from about $14.95 to as much as dad can stand without mortgaging the homestead, depending on how many switches, stations, signals and other accessories are included.

A new gimmick for the train enthusiasts is a plastic railway station that shouts out train departure calls for points from Montreal to Vancouver.

SPACE SHIPS

And those space ships! For $8.98 there's a miniature rocket site complete with little men, a laboratory, an observatory and the space ship itself ready to take off for the moon. For young would-be space explorers the stores offer goggle sets, space suits with helmets of simulated glass, space guns that shoot fire and rocket ships that spit and crackle.

Edmonton stores are featuring a toy that fits in with that city's big oil boom. It is a $14.50 drilling rig that pumps real oil.

Some toys are tied in with preparations for the Coronation next June. Coronation dolls in royal robes have been selling fast in Vancouver. Toronto store counters display the 1952 version of the old-time lead toy soldiers, the Coronation procession depicted in miniature coaches, horses and costumed marchers in red and gold.

Hint May Form 2 Firms Of CIL

MONTREAL (CP) — Shareholders of Canadian Industries Limited were advised today that CIL may be divided into two separate companies, as a result of an anti-trust action by the United States justice department against two firms that jointly control CIL.

E. I. Du Pont de Nemours and Company of the U. S. and Imperial Chemical Industries Limited of the United Kingdom were ordered in a U. S. Federal District Court judgment July 30 last to end their joint interest in CIL.

The court decree provided that this could be done either by sale of stock or by physical division of plants and properties. Both firms are considering a plan for submission to a U. S. court by Jan. 30.

At present, Du Pont and ICI each own about 42 per cent of CIL common stock.

A CIL statement said that as both firms desire to continue to do business actively in Canad, the tentative plan provides that two new companies would be formed, with Du Pont the principal common shareholder in one and ICI in the other.

Renew Bing Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — The contract of Rudolf Bing as general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Association has been renewed for another three years. Bing succeeded Edward Johnson of Guelph, Ont., as manager in 1950.

Mrs. P. H. Darling Elected WA President

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—Mrs. P. H. Darling was named president of the Women's Association of the United Church at their Christmas meeting, held Tuesday afternoon in the church. Other officers who were later installed by the Rev. W. H. Tonge were: Past president, Mrs. Sherman Northey; vice-president, Mrs. Earl Edwards; secretary, Mrs. Elwood Dunford; treasurer, Mrs. Elmer Northey; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frank Darling; roll call secretary, Mrs. Clare Chittick pianist, Mrs. G. Warren Payne.

Mrs. Sherman Northey presided for the meeting, and a solo was sung by Mrs. J. R. Hull, "In Bethlehem." She was accompanied by Mrs. T. E. Rath.

Speaking on "The Spirit of Christmas," Mr. Tonge delivered an inspiring address. He touched on conditions in Africa, China, Japan, Korea and other countries, and warned that the rise of communism could only be controlled through loyalty to the church and its teachings.

Mrs. Ivan Madill, Mrs. Wilbert Frankish and Mrs. Charles Tanner were tea hostesses.

Mother Goes On Strike Till Son Released

DETROIT (CP) — The 24-hour "sit-down strike" staged by a 42-year-old mother in the lobby of Oakland county children's home ended Wednesday night where her son was released.

The boy, Richard Crowley, 16, was freed after he apologized to policeman Dolphus Christenbery for "cussing" at him during a telephone conversation.

Mrs. Maxine Crowley took up her vigil in the home lobby soon after her son was detained. She remained there for 24 hours without food or drink.

Police said the "cussing" was in violation of the parole on which Richard had been placed in 1949 for stealing a car.

Clear Belfast Harbor

BELFAST (AP) — Exits and entrances to Belfast harbor were clear today after tugs pulled the 15,000-ton tanker Caltex Wellington off a mudbank. The oiler blocked passage in and out of the port when it ran aground Thursday. It was refloated at high tide Thursday night.

Honor UN Drivers

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie presented safety awards Thursday to 27 UN chauffeurs who operated their vehicles for more than 5,500,000 miles and transported more than 400,000 official passengers without injury.

Unhappy Bachelor Resents Girls Trying To Catch Him

DEAR MISS DIX: Why is it that bachelors are not "tolerated" in this so-called free nation of ours? In European countries a bachelor can live to a ripe old age and he isn't regarded as a misfit as he is in America. Wherever I go, people seem to be looking down at me as much as to say, "Where's your girl?" WISHFUL

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Never have I seen a sign of a bachelor being regarded as a "misfit," as you put it. You sign yourself "wishful." Well, "wishful" for what? Personally, I think your trouble is you would like to rid yourself of bachelor status and just don't know how to go about it. True it is that you are natural prey for single women but, if you think being in Europe would change that, you're very wrong. There, men are so scarce I doubt if you'd continue your single blessedness very long. In this country, I'm sure the only attention you attract from wishful young ladies who would like to enroll you in domesticity. Trouble is, you just like being conspicuous.

✧ ✧ ✧

DATE RULES FOR BOYS

DEAR MISS DIX: Why don't you give date rules for boys? We need them more than girls do. It's a fact that a boy dates a girl and wants to know how to be polite. One thing I'd like to know, when I'm baby sitting (and boys do baby sit), should I have my girl over or not? N. B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are well on your way to learning "The Way to a Girl's Heart," which is the title of a leaflet to help you. A stamped, self-addressed envelope is all I need, and you'll have the info. I can also give you the names of a few small inexpensive books to help you acquire dating lore. Better not have a girl over when you baby sit; too much chance for idle gossip!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I've been living with a man for three years. He keeps promising to marry me but hasn't gotten around to it. Do you think he loves me, or has he lost all respect for me? E. D.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your wedding ring is about as far away as the moon; don't count on ever acquiring it. If you didn't have enough respect for yourself to insist on a marriage ceremony, be sure your man will be equally lacking in respect.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have two daughters-in-law whom I love very much and I'm sure they love me. We often go shopping together, or to the movies or for lunch. Many times I've asked them to call me mother or mom, but they just smile. At first I thought they were teasing me but, after being married to my sons for nine years, they still call me Mrs. B. MRS. B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: For the life of me, I can't see why they continue this formality when they have so much personal regard for you. They certainly should have dropped it by now.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: There is a very important social event coming up in school. I have my eye on this boy and think he likes me. I can't ask him to this particular event because in this case it's the boy's place to ask a girl. How can I make him ask me? J. K. G.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: By being very pleasant and sweet when you talk with the boy you might coax an invitation from him.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: We are two girls 14 and 15 who wear make-up, smoke and drink occasionally with our boy friends, who are 20. Our problem is we have two girl friends who do not think we are doing the right thing. How can we prove to them we are only being mature and sophisticated? We can't be children all our lives. J. R.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your behaviour in aping the manners of elders stamps you as being most infantile and stupid. There's an ocean of difference between being mature and pretending to be grown-up. Your boy friends and girl friends alike must find you nauseatingly ridiculous. Better get off your sophisticated high horse and act like teen-agers.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband was married before. He has two children by his first marriage and we have two. Recently we have come back to his home town, where his former wife and children live. He has visited the youngsters, and their mother suggested that we all go for an outing sometime. I don't want to go but my husband thinks it would be nice if we were sociable. What is your advice? HAZEL R.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: No matter how broadminded one claims to be, or how much one tries to avoid it, there is bound to be strained feelings between wife No. 1 and wife No. 2 over any husband. Human emotions being what they are, one or the other, or both, is sure to be a little jealous or resentful of the other. To aggravate this feeling by such association as your husband suggests is unfair to both women. Ask him if he'd like to make a foursome, including an old sweetheart of yours. The tune will change at that suggestion.

The YWCA Gym Auxiliary was responsible for a Christmas party Thursday evening at the Y which entertained about 35 adults from the Thursday night gym class, swimming class and others. They sang carols, played games and ended the evening with square dancing. Gifts were exchanged. Mrs. Jean Innes arranged the games and Miss Agnes Lynch convened refreshments.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Worboy, Sherbrooke St., are Mrs. Cuthbert McLean and Mrs. G. Motack, of Niagara Falls, N.Y.

✧ ✧ ✧

A Christmas party for the choir of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was held Thursday evening in the Sunday school hall. Mrs. Christopher Gledhill and her social committee served a delightful supper to 50 members and guests at tables bright with seasonal decorations. The choir members exchanged small gifts. President Mrs. L. R. Mitchell asked organist and choir leader Mr. Christopher Gledhill and Mrs. Gledhill, to accept a coffee table as the choir's gift and it was presented by Mr. George Coleman. Following the party, the choir held a rehearsal.

Sing Carols In Bridgenorth

About 20 girls of the Junior Explorer Group at Bridgenorth began handing out Christmas cheer in the form of gaily decorated fruit baskets for shut-ins of the community Thursday evening. They also sang carols in front of the homes and were rewarded with messages of appreciation of the music, as well as for the gifts. The group is under leadership of Mrs. Ken Hook. They enjoyed a Christmas party afterward, in the United Church basement.

✧ ✧ ✧

Lady Bowlers' Party

St. George's Church Ladies Bowling Club had a Christmas party Thursday afternoon with Santa Claus on hand to give out gifts. They had a guessing contest on the real name of Santa and it was won by Mrs. F. Dorrell with "Mrs. D. McKinnon." The prize in a "mystery box" contest went to Mrs. E. C. Stevenson. Another contest was to make a Christmas tree by tearing the shape from paper while blindfolded. Results were quite surprising and the prizes went to Mrs. Betty McGregor, Mrs. S. Siddall and Mrs. A. Green. Special guests at the party were Mrs. A. Howarth, Mrs. J. Wood and Mrs. Siddall. Lunch was served by Mrs. I. Harrison, Mrs. E. McIwain and Mrs. L. Jones.

Party For Children

There was a very pretty Christmas party in the Brock Ballroom Thursday afternoon for the babies and junors of Miss Caroline Littlefield's dancing classes. Decorated Christmas trees on the stage provided a background for the short program with which more than 100 mothers and children were entertained. Prince and princess Diana Zakos and Erline Bellinger and fairy dolls Diane Mulcahey and Marina Zakos danced and there was a Mexican dance number by Patricia Tobin, Linda Anderson, Kathleen Hutton, Dorothy Quinlan, Linda Hayden, Joan Mahoney. Carol singing, games and impromptu Christmas recitations followed. Pianist Irene Quinlan added to the success of the party. Several mothers made candy and fancy cookies to be served with ice cream to the children. A committee of mothers in charge included Mrs. E. Edmonson, Mrs. A. Legon, Mrs. Adam Sands, Mrs. James Laidlaw, Miss Edna Rule and Mrs. Allan B. Collis.

Roseneath WA Entertains Sunday School

ROSENEATH (ENS)—The pupils of St. James' Anglican Sunday School were guests of the members of the WA at their Christmas meeting held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hector Winkworth.

The president, Mrs. Ray McCracken presided with Mrs. Earl Braithwaite secretary.

The treasurer, Mrs. James Brown, reported that the WA had paid for redecorating interior of the church and renovating the chancel of the church, leaving a balance on hand of $45.40. The church had been closed for the past month while the work was being done and re-opened on Sunday, December 14.

On motion it was decided to donate $5 toward Caravan mission work in Western Canada.

A Christmas greeting card was received by the society from Mrs. Ernest Timlin, Cobourg, a former president

During the worship service Mrs. J. Robins gave the scripture reading pertaining to the first Christmas and Christmas carols were sung.

Mrs. Jack Webb, vice-president was in charge of the Christmas program. Rev. A. J. Patstone told the children the Christmas Story; recitations were given by the following pupils: Gayle Winkworth, Jim Webb, Ronald McCracken, Paul Winkworth, Judy McCracken and Sharron Webb.

Mrs. A. J. Patstone read "The Black Madonna"; Dale Braithwaite gave a humorous reading "Poor Father"; Mrs. Jack Webb gave a reading; Christmas carols were sung; Mrs. Jas. Robins conducted a quiz on Christmas carols; Mrs. James Timlin was in charge of a Christmas contest; Mrs. Robert Winkworth carried off the birthday prize donated by Mrs. Earl Braithwaite.

Santa Claus arrived and distributed gifts to all the children and there was an exchange of Christmas gifts among the WA members.

The singing of "Silent Night" and prayer by the rector, Rev. A. J. Patstone closed the meeting.

The hostess served afternoon tea.

Sanders-Record

A quiet wedding took place in St. Luke's Anglican Church on Saturday of Annabelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Sanders, Peterborough, to Robert A. Record, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Record, R.R. 1, Peterborough. Canon W. J. Gilling officiated and the music was played by organist Mr. Clarke Armstrong.

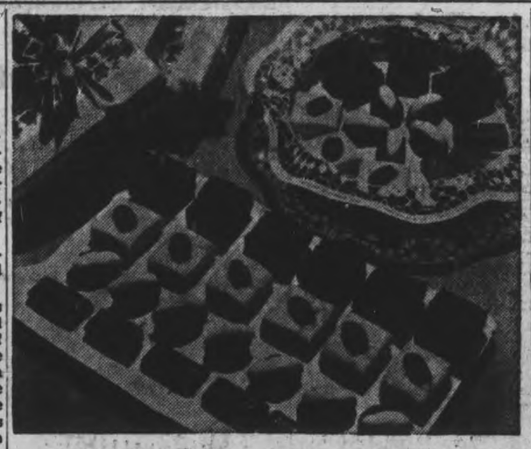
The church was decorated with pink, white and mauve 'mums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of navy taffeta trimmed with navy sequins. Her hat was of blue taffeta, caught up in the crown with navy feathers and her corsage was of red roses.

Bridal attendant Miss Eva Moffatt was in beige crepe and wore matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Groomsman was Donald Sanders, brother of the bride, and James Record, brother of the groom, ushered.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, her mother receiving in a navy ensemble and corsage of baby pink 'mums. The groom's mother also wore navy and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Leaving on a motor trip to Waterford, N.Y., the bride wore a grey fur-trimmed coat and matching suit and had grey accessories. They will live at 583 Erskine Ave. on return.



A "SWEET" WAY to say "Merry Christmas" is homemade candy for the "specials" on your list, such as the assortment above.

Christmas Candy Recipes With Some Success Secrets

You'll gladden a lot of hearts (maybe sweeten 'em some too) when you plan to give the "specials" on your Christmas list some homemade candy from your own kitchen. Homemade gifts are always doubly acceptable, and we know now that the "something you make" doesn't have to be in the realm of knitting, sewing and crocheting.

Candy making is not difficult when you're provided with a few success secrets—and what delightful and informal holiday gifts they are, peering out 'neath their gay Yuletide wrappings in ribbons. And don't forget — if there's a birthday coming up, or if you suddenly need a "just because" gift—homemade candies will fill that bill nicely too.

SUCCESS SECRETS

And now the success secrets for all candymakers who aim for perfection. Be sure to use a pan that's large enough — and the heavier the better so the hot syrup won't stick. Use a wooden spoon, and get out that candy thermometer—if you're lucky enough to have one. When you're cooking the candy, mix the ingredients and cook over low heat, stirring frequently until the sugar dissolves. Then cook it over medium heat, stirring constantly till the candy is done. If you haven't a thermometer you'll need to test for "doneness" in cold water. Just let a few small drops of candy fall from the spoon into a small bowl of cold water. Use the guide (soft ball, hard ball, etc.) in your cook book to help you decide when you have reached the "stage" your recipe indicates.

Crystalline candy (such as fudge) needs to be cooled thoroughly before beating. Cool it to near lukewarm and then beat vigorously till the rather stiff and shiny mass loses its gloss (because of the fine crystals being formed) —and suddenly softens. Then quickly turn it into a buttered pan and mark it in squares. If it hardens before it's turned out, knead it till it's smooth, and press into the pan. Non-crystalline candies, of course—such as caramels and toffees—require no beating, and are poured into buttered pans just as soon as they stop bubbling after removal from heat.

So get out the needed ingredients—butter, sugars, milk, flavorings, corn syrup, cream of tartar—and enjoy yourself as a combination candy and gift maker. It's a foregone conclusion that your recipients will enjoy themselves. (And you might surprise and treat your own family too. Give them a happy time by making an extra batch for them.)

ORANGE CREAM FUDGE

(Makes about 1½ dozen medium sized pieces).

1 tablespoon butter
2 cups sugar
¾ cup evaporated milk
1 tablespoon orange juice
½ teaspoon grated orange rind

Melt butter in saucepan. Combine sugar, and evaporated milk, then add to butter in saucepan. Cook over medium heat to the soft ball stage (238°F.) stirring constantly. Cool. Then add orange juice and rind. Beat until it begins to harden, then turn into a buttered pan. This is a soft fudge and may be cut into squares or rolled into balls.

Note: Soft ball stage is reached when syrup dropped into cold water can be gathered together in a ball that will just hold its shape, but which flattens on removal from the water.

Variations: 1. Press a pecan half in top of each square.

2. After candy is cooled, add ½ cup shredded cocoanut with orange juice and rind, then proceed as above.

3. After candy is cooled, add ½ cup chopped pecans.

QUICK CHOCOLATE FUDGE

(Makes about 1½ dozen medium sized pieces).

1 (4-ounce) package cream cheese
2 cups sifted icing sugar
2 (1-ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate
½ teaspoon vanilla
dash of salt
1 cup chopped walnuts

Cream the cheese until soft and smooth in a mixing bowl. Gradually add the icing sugar, blend thoroughly. Melt chocolate and then add to cheese mixture. Add remaining ingredients and mix until well blended. Press into a well buttered shallow pan. Place in refrigerator until firm. Cut into squares.

BUTTER TOFFEE

(Makes 40 to 50 pieces).

1¾ cups granulated sugar
⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 cup cream
½ cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix sugar and cream of tartar together in deep saucepan. Gradually add milk. Place pan over medium heat. Stir and boil for 2 minutes. Then add butter. Stirring constantly, boil the syrup until it is thick and toffee colored (hard crack stage or 290°F. on the candy thermometer). Quickly remove from the heat, add vanilla, and pour into a well buttered 8 x 8 inch pan. Let partially cool, then cut into squares or rectangles.

Note: Hard crack stage is the point when the syrup dropped in cold water forms threads that are brittle.

STUFFED DATES OR PRUNES

1 tablespoon butter
2 cups sifted icing sugar
1 to 2 tablespoons orange juice
moist dates or soaked prunes

Cream butter until soft in mixing bowl. Add 1 cup icing sugar, then 1 tablespoon of orange juice and blend. Add remaining icing sugar and mix thoroughly. If needed, add more orange juice until the right consistency is reached for stuffing.

Cut dates or prunes lengthwise and remove pits. Stuff with fondant mixture. If desired, each date or prune may be topped with a pecan or maraschino cherry slice.

Note: Soak the prunes in cold water for several hours, or until puffy and soft, then dry with a towel.

What's Right?

You want your school age son to have good manners.

WRONG: Stress manners only when you are expecting guests.

RIGHT: See that he performs for you the small courtesies you want him to do naturally, such as holding doors for you, seating you at the table, etc.

BRIDGENORTH SCHOOL

The annual Christmas party and concert for the children of Bridgenorth school was held on Thursday afternoon. The program was under direction of the three teachers and was in the junior room, and refreshments were served in the new school by the Home and School Association, with Mrs. K. Thomson convener of refreshments, assisted by Mrs. E. Whitehill and several others.

The program included a short skit by the teachers, Mr. Ray Brownsell, Miss Ellen Murphy and Mrs. Andrews. Two songs were sung by children of the junior room and a Christmas story by pupils of intermediate and senior rooms. There were then four films to entertain the more than 100 children and their parents The films were "Three Little Bruins," "Merry Christmas," "Through the Yukon" and "Snow Man in July."

Jingle of bells announced the arrival of Santa Claus who handed out the pupils' exchange gifts and gave each a large bag of candies with favor attached supplied by the Home and School Association.

COLDSPRINGS OTONABEE

The Home and School Association of Coldsprings, Otonabee, School, met Wednesday evening. President Mrs. D. Deyell presided and opened with the singing of "Joy to the World."

The treasurers' report showed a return of $18.55 from the "fun night" which was held to raise money to help furnish the teachers' room. Business included discussion of buying a tea kettle for the refreshment committee.

Attendance trophy went to Mr. McKnight's room.

In keeping with the season, the Christmas story was presented in scripture, song and pictures. Mrs. G. Lowes read the scripture, everyone joined in the carols and pictures were shown by Mrs. D. Rose and Mrs. J. Tully.

Edna and Patricia Doughty entertained with a duet. A play, "A Visit of Inspection," was put on by Grades 6, 7 and 8. Mrs. B. McNeill led in games, and afterward lunch was served by Mrs. T. McQuaig and committee.

Series Of Parties At St. Paul's S.S.

There have been a series of Christmas parties in St. Paul's Sunday School the past few days. The first was for the nursery and beginners' departments and was attended by 104 children between the ages of two and a half and five years. They were entertained with films and were led in carol singing by Mr. Christopher Gledhill at the piano. Santa Clause distributed candy and toys for each boy and girl. The party convener was Mrs. Russell Huggins, with helpers from the MA Club. Mrs. Robert McIlmoyle also assisted at the piano.

Junior and senior classes enjoyed a supper party with the supper served by Mrs. Howard Perry and a committee of mothers. Guests of honor were the Rev. and Mrs. C. G. Boyd, Mr. A. Watkins, representing the session, and Mrs. Watkins. Films were shown and later the childern provided a program of music, readings and skits for an audience of their parents. Vocal selections were rendered by Phyllis Tolton, Eleanor Tolton, Norma Simpson, Anne Reid, Lois Findlay, Barbara McIlmoyle and Mr. Clifford Robertson. Piano numbers were by Eleanor Tolton, Norma Simpson, Norma Perry, David Clark, Freda Estabrooke, Sharon Thompson and George Jenkinson. Readings were given by Sandra awson and Terry Spencley.

Mrs. C. Law's class of girls presented a number titled "Christmas Bells" and the girls of Mrs. Mercer's class and boys of Mr. Robertson's class gave recitations. Two short skits were by girls of Mrs. Robertson's class and a candle-lighting ceremony was performed by Miss. Nesbitt's class. A young adult group closed the program with a play "Christmas Eve in the Desert," directed by Bert Ross.

Mrs. G. Wilson Craw accompanied the singers and played Christmas carols. After the program, gifts were distributed by the superintendent James Davidson, assisted by J. Miller and Edgar Kee.

A party for the primary department began with the showing of a film "Santa Claus and the Fairy Queen." This was followed with refreshments and 67 children were served. Miss Betty Warner was the capable convener, assisted by the teacher and members of the MA Club. Santa Claus passed out candy and books to each with the help of Douglas Blue and superintendent Davidson.

Readers' Friday Column By Mary Moore

QUESTION: .....My husband has developed a diverticulis (small blister on intestine) and has been put on a diet free of all raw fruit and vegetables, pickles, no peas, corn, cabbage or brussels sprouts. In other words nothing rough....Have you any suggestions to make meals more interesting? He is fond of vegetables, but is cut down to mashed squash, carrots, parsnips, turnips.....He is to cut down on his weight too—Mrs. B. C.

✦ ✦ ✦

ANSWER: You did not mention potatoes or sweet potatoes, but since they are not vegetables I believe they would be included in what he can have. None of these are weight-reducing vegetables, so his meals will have to be made interesting by the meat you serve and the way you serve vegetables.

By serving him perfectly broiled steaks (slightly rare), lamb chops, chicken liver omelettes, baked chicken, broiled lake trout and salmon fillets, lobster, etc., to keep his interest whetted. I am giving you vegetable recipes that are quite unusual and that I think he may have.

BAKED LIMA BEANS IN SOUR CREAM

These quantities make 6 to 8 servings, but this improves when served a second time. You will like it too.

Twelve oz. dried limas, 1 teaspoon each dry mustard and soda, salt to taste, 1 tablespoon dark molasses, 1 pint sour cream. Wash beans, cover with cold water and soak overnight. Add mustard, salt, and soda and boil 30 minutes gently, in water in which beans were soaked. Add molasses and sour cream. Mix, then pour into buttered baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 2½ hours or until beans are tender. Stir down top crust as it forms, but do not stir during last 45 minutes of baking.

CARROTS: JAZZED UP

Grate or shred or grind carrots until you have 3 cups. Place in saucepan with tight cover with ¼ cup hot water, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon grated onion, 2 teaspoons sugar and ¾ to 1 teaspoon salt. Cover tightly and cook 5 to 8 minutes, stirring once or twice. For your husband's condition maybe these should be cooked 12 minutes.

CHICKEN AND SQUASH CASSEROLE

To serve four people order four pieces of chicken of broiling quality (or split a broiler in four), season pieces well with salt and pepper and dip in half-and-half mixture of flour and grated Parmesan cheese. Brown chicken in just enough shortening to prevent sticking. Cut 1 small yellow crookneck squash into thick chunks. Place chicken and squash in casserole, tucking squash in and around chicken. Sprinkle extremely finely chopped garlic over —½ clove OR garlic salt. Sprinkle squash with salt and pepper. Add ½ cup heavy cream to pan in which chicken was browned, stir around to mix in brown bits and heat. Pour it over squash and chicken. Sprinkle with a little more grated Parmesan. Cover and bake at 350 degrees Fahr. until chicken and squash are tender — about 30 to 45 minutes.

✦ ✦ ✦

QUESTION: ....I find your recipes both tantalizing and delicious. I tried your brine cucumber for pickling. Well, they were quite firm and olive green, however when I processed them into "Sweet Cucumber Pickles" they were not sweet but very salty... They are still firm though. What have I done wrong? How can I remove the salt? Can they be put in a freshly spiced syrup?—A Faithful Reader.

✦ ✦ ✦

ANSWER: At this distance I cannot understand why the pickles are not sweet — unless there are too many pickles for the amount of syrup you made. In any event if they are too salty, remove them from the syrup and soak them in cold clear water for 24 hours. Dry them. Cover with a syrup made of 6 cups vinegar, 2 cups sugar and 1 tablespoon each whole mace, cloves, stick cinnamon, boiled 15 minutes. Pour over just enough dried pickles to cover. Next day drain off syrup, boil for 10 minutes, and again pour over pickles. Let stand 2 hours. Boil the pickles in the syrup for 10 minutes until they become clear. Cool quickly, covered, pack in sterile jars, cover with spiced syrup, seal. Ready in 4 weeks.

Canadian Women In 1952 Win Recognition In Arts

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Canadian women stepped into the limelight individually and in groups in 1952, winning national and international recognition in many activities from welfare work and politics to the arts.

In the background devoted groups worked tirelessly to better social conditions and advance the country's cultural programs. Efforts of behind-the-scenes workers played no small part in the success of national welfare drives.

Lois Marshall, Toronto soprano, won the wholehearted praise of critics when she made her debut at New York's Town Hall. At year's end the dark-haired singer signed a three-year contract to take her on a concert tour of Canada, the United States and South America.

RISING STAR

Meanwhile Ottawa-born Suzanne Cloutier was becoming internationally known as a stage and screen star while Canada's two professional ballet troupes, the National Ballet and the Winnipeg Ballet, undertook extensive tours in Eastern and Western Canada.

In September the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation took further note of its vast daytime listening audience. Time for women's afternoon programs was tripled and a series started known as trans-Canada matinee. On the 45-minute program, produced five days a week, home-making ideas and music are presented.

WOMAN OF YEAR

A Toronto lawyer, Margaret Hyndman, was named woman of the year by the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs about the same time as Kate Aitken announced her retirement after 29 years as director of women's activities for the Canadian National Exhibition. The new director, Elsa Jenkins, was first woman television announcer for the CBC and a one-time newspaper reporter.

On the political scene Ottawa's Charlotte Whitton, having made good as acting mayor, successfully campaigned and won her first two-year term as mayor of the Canadian capital.

B.C. MILESTONE

Another political milestone was chalked up in British Columbia when the Social Credit party chose 65-year-old Mrs. Tilly Rolston as provincial minister of education. She became Canada's first woman cabinet minister to hold a portfolio.

Among those occupied with welfare on the international level was Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova, hard-working director of the Unitarian service committee of Canada. Sponsored by the United Nations Dr. Hitschmanova visited Korea, saw the need of civilians. Back in Canada she organized a milk drive which resulted in shipments of thousands of pounds of powdered milk to undernourished Korean children.

On the lighter side Marilyn Reddick, 18-year-old Toronto blonde, was crowned Miss Canada at Burlington, Ont., and a couple of Ontario misses returned from a trip around the world.

The girls, Lenny Burton of Burgessville and Johnny Cochrane, of Midland, both 21, came home after a hitch-hiking jaunt which lasted 20 months and took them 21,000 miles. In that time they visited 10 countries.

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. 53

Of Interest to Women

BATWING SWEATER—Made in black and white cashmere, this fully-fashioned model sweater has wide batwing sleeves and roulette collar. Popular in London this season, the sweater comes in many different shades. British women are following the North American desire for knitted fashions and business is brisk in London shops.

TURTLE-NECK POPULAR — A deep wide turnover collar is the chief feature of this fully-fashioned cashmere sweater with cap sleeves, popular this season in London. Comfortable and warm, it is ideal for a dinner-at-home and comes in many shades.

British Women Following Craze For Knitted Fashions

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadia Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—In shop windows beckoning with the most lavish Christmas displays in recent years, cupids and cherubs point to fascinating presents in dress for women.

In the forefront is a wide selection of woollies making news in fashion articles this winter. British women are following the North American craze for knitted fashions, and as men feel reasonably safe buying pretty jumpers, lacy stoles and knitted accessories, business is brisk.

A Scottish firm famed for cashmere sweaters has manufactured 10 dressmaker styles for early spring in shades of crab-apple green, petal pink, pistache and topaz. The new designs will also be sold on Canadian and United States markets.

WARM AND ELEGANT

Smart for dinner-at-home is the high-necked batwing cashmere in white, or a turtle-necked design with deep turnover collar. Both come in many shades. Teamed with long woollen or velvet skirts over rustling petticoats, or worn with tapered ocelot slacks, they combine warmth with elegance.

In Paris and London, sweater styles are creeping upwards to the ears with victorian modesty. Gone are the plunge necklines that gave rise to specially-designed bras. Fashionable women expose only a modest oval of shoulderline in evening sweaters, elaborately embroidered.

Drawing the eyes of Christmas shoppers are lacy knitted stoles sparkling with sequins for evening wear. For daytime are heavily-fringed jersey numbers, with jumpers or "separates" to match.

WIDE VARIETY

The knitted influence in this year's fashions can be seen in many ways. Jester, jellybag, pigtail and pirate hats in hand-knit and jersey wools are displayed in every department store. Suede jackets in gleaming reds and emerald greens have rib-knit sleeves.

Even jersey dresses from leading knit-wear firms have ribbed sleeves and waistlines that give a hand-knit touch to factory-made designs. The knitted touch stretches to rainwear—coats are collared and cuffed in wool.

FIRST PENDULUM IN CLOCK

Galileo, the Italian astronomer who died in 1642, was the first to apply the pendulum principle to clock construction.

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Tourtiere French-Canadian Dish

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Tourtiere-making is as important to French-Canadians at Christmas as haggis is to the Scots on St. Andrew's Day.

From Montreal comes a recipe for this spicy dish, soon to be browning in many ovens in old Quebec province. First however comes the story of the tourtiere.

The tourte, or passenger pigeon, a bird similar to the turtle dove, became extinct about 1914. In previous years they were numerous enough to darken the skies in their flights.

Wholesale killing of the birds for their meat resulted in their disappearance from Eastern Canada about 1880. Some unknown disease is believed to have wiped out the remainder.

While the original ingredient of the tourtiere is gone, the basic dish remains an annual treat in Quebec, generally using pork or beef.

MONTREAL VERSION

Pie-crust (for two pies): Three cups flour; three teaspoons baking-powder; one egg; one-half cup cold water; one-half dessert-spoon of sugar; one-half cup butter; one-half cup shortening.

Blend sugar, egg and water. Mix butter and shortening and divide into four parts. Sift 1½ cups flour, salt, and baking-powder and with two knives cut in gradually part of the butter and shortening.

Add sugar, egg and water mixture. Stir into flour with knife and flake dough on lightly-floured board.

Roll flaked dough to form rectangle and cover with part of butter-shortening mixture broken into small dabs. Fold dough into an envelope shape. Reverse and roll out. Repeat twice, each time incorporating part of butter-shortening mixture.

Meat: One pound chopped pork (shoulder); one small diced onion; one small clove garlic (Chopped); one-half teaspoon salt; one-quarter teaspoon pepper; one-quarter teaspoon cloves and cinnamon; one-half cup water; one dessert-spoon butter.

Put all ingredients into saucepan. Heat to boiling and simmer uncovered. Stir constantly to reduce surplus of water and add more water until cooking is complete (about 30 minutes). Let cool and pour between two layers of pie-crust dough. Bake at 400 degrees Fahrenheit and serve hot. This is enough for two pies.

For a pork-and-beef tourtiere substitute for one pound of pork, a half-pound chopped beefsteak and one-half pound chopped pork.

7—Card of Thanks

I sincerely wish to thank all kind friends who sent cards and enquired and especially "the neighbors" for their lovely flowers and gifts and Peter Rose for the use of his radio, the staff and nurses of Civic Hospital, attending doctors and Rev. Mr. Cotton, during my recent stay there. —Claude Ballantyne.

I wish to thank the Sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital, also Mrs. Gibson and nurses for their valuable assistance and kindness. Attending doctors of the Clinic, especially the attending doctor for his timely visit, when Mrs. Evelyn Knights was in great distress. The visits of Archdeacon W. P. Robertson of St. John's Church were very very much appreciated, also visits from her many friends, cards and gifts. Thanks to the management and staff of the Kaye's Funeral Home where reverence, devotion and service are paramount.—Ernest Knights.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Order and family wish to extend their deepest appreciation to the nurses and staff of Civic Hospital and attending doctors, Evangelists Ernest Tatham, Toronto and Samuel Taylor of Peterborough, kind relatives, friends and neighbours who sent cards, flowers and gifts to their son Keith during his illness, for the many floral tributes and those who helped in any way during their recent sad bereavement in the loss of a dear son and brother.

Report Trade Up With U.S.

OTTAWA (CP) — Despite a decline during September, travel between Canada and the United States increased during the first nine months compared with a year ago, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Entries of visitors from the United States totalled 115,139 during September, down from 130,125 in September, 1951, but for the nine month period climbed to 1,152,022 from 1,119,331.

A total of 129,297 Canadians returned from the U. S. during September, a slight increase from 129,090 last year, with the total for the nine months increasing to 1,105,232 from 1,035,013.

HOSPITAL DIRECTOR

D. A. McGillis Sr. has been appointed to the board of directors of St. Joseph's Hospital, succeeding the late J. E. Sullivan.

HOLD PAY PARADES

Members of Peterborough's reserve units received some extra money for Christmas spending Thursday when the 50th HAA Regiment and the 28th Technical Squadron held pay parades. Other pays will be received in February and next summer.

CHRISTMAS TREE

Peterborough's lighted Christmas tree welcome at the traffic islands, Charlotte St. W., was made possible by the Retail Section of the Chamber of Commerce and the Parks Department. The Chamber provided the tree and lights and the parks department put it up.

SANTA VISITS

Among the many children's parties Santa Claus will visit Saturday will be the officers' and sergeants' messes' annual Christmas parties for their kiddies. The parties are expected to attract about 200 children for Santas visit, gifts and candy. There will be films and a magician providing entertainment.

POSSIBLE WARDENS

Names of six county councillors are being mentioned for the 1953 wardenship of Hastings county. They are Reeves Jack Kincaid, of Madoc, Theodore Tryon, of Bancroft, Tracey Adams, of Dungannon, James Sprackett, of Tudor and Cashel, T. C. Graham, of Tweed, and Verney Heath, of Rawdon.

REGIMENT SHOOTS FOR FOWL

The 50th HAA Regiment held its annual Christmas shoot for turkeys and chickens Thursday night in the armouries' rifle range. Winners were: turkeys, Lieut. Alex McLeod, Sgt. John Watson, Bdr. V. W. Newton; chickens, Lieut.-Col. M. E. Clarke, Officer Cadet D. A. Butcher, Sgt. R. S. Bonneville, Gunner R. W. Nicholls, Bdrs. L. J. Baswick and W. E. Webster.

TWO CARS DAMAGED

Two cars were damaged early Thursday evening when they collided at Water and Simcoe Sts. Nobody was injured. Arthur E. Knott, 103 Maria St., was driving west on Simcoe St., stopped at Water and started to cross when he saw a southbound car driven by Mrs. Marguerite Starr, 217 Woodbine Ave. Mrs. Starr's car hit the right front door of the Knott auto. Constable Wilfred Perry investigated.

PERFECT HAND

Crib players had bang-up night recording one perfect hand and two 28 hands at a Christmas cribbage party sponsored by the DeLaval Social and Athletic Association Thursday night. Nine chickens, two turkeys and three flat-50s of cigarettes were won. Henry Smith, 324 Euclid Ave., playing with Cec. Cowey, 2 Bruce St., was dealt three fives and the Jack of hearts. The five of hearts was cut to make a perfect 29 score.

$100 CAR DAMAGE

A collision between two cars on the Chemong Rd. caused $100 damage to the vehicles Thursday night. Harry L. Jopling, 61, of Bridgenorth was backing out of a laneway in an easterly direction when he came into collision with a southbound car driven by Albert Morrow of Gibbons St., Oshawa. Morrow was coming to Peterborough at the time. Neither man was injured and the damage was to the left front fender of Morrow's car and to the rear left fender of Jopling's. The accident was investigated by OPP Constable F. E. Lunn.

Fire Leaves Three Homeless

MAGNETAWAN (CP) — Three persons were driven into the cold Thursday night when fire destroyed a large frame structure in this northern Ontario hamlet 70 miles south of North Bay.

An undetermined quantity of mail was burned when the flames raced through the building which contained the post-office, telephone exchange and living-quarters of mrs. Hattie McAllister and her sisters, Misses Emma and Rose McMillan.

The blaze cut off telephone communications in the area, which remained out today. No one was injured.

The building was heated by stoves. Cause of the blaze is not known.

Say Cost-of-Living Creeps Up In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living in the United States crept up two-tenths of a point last month to equal the record high reached last August.

The bureau of labor statistics said today that higher some rents were mainly responsible for the increase in its index.

The new consumer's price index, measuring Nov. 15 prices of food, clothing, rent, medical care, entertainment and a host of other things, stood at 191.1 per cent of the 1935-39 base period. The record high, reached last August, was also 191.1.

Dr. John Robins College Teacher Dies In Toronto

TORONTO—Dr. John D. Robins of Victoria College died peacefully in his sleep early Thursday at his home in Toronto. The previous evening he had attended a dinner at Burwash Hall, the Victoria University men's residence. Dr. Robins, who was 63, was head of the Department of English at the college, and was one of Canada's foremost humorous writers.

Author of The Incomplete Anglers, a humorous book which won the Governor-General's annual award for creative non-fiction in 1943, he also wrote Cottage Cheese, edited A Pocketful of Canada, and recently published A Book of Canadian Humor, with Margaret V. Ray.

Born in Windsor, he attended Albert College at Belleville, and the Universities of Toronto, Marburg and Chicago. In 1914, he joined the staff of Victoria College as an instructor in German.

During the First World War he served as a musketry instructor, later rejoining the staff of the German department at Victoria. He became professor of English in 1925.

ORDINARY HUMOR

Dr. Robins once said: "The best type of humor is that which arises out of ordinary incidents of human life. Humor arises originally from something that every normal person possesses, the ability to recognize happiness and harmony, or still more common, the ability to recognize the unharmonious."

Dr. E. J. Pratt, who joined the staff of Victoria College 31 years ago, at the same time as Dr. Robins, said Thursday that his death came as a terrible shock to the staff of Victoria.

"He was an invaluable teacher," said Dr. Pratt, "and I don't suppose there was anyone more interested in students as students than Dr. Robins." Dr. Robin's special field was old English and Chaucer, of which Dr. Pratt said he had a remarkable gift for interpreting.

Dr. Pratt said that the words Dr. Robins wrote upon the death of Professor Joseph Fisher two months ago could equally well apply to Dr. Robins: "He was a splendid teacher, of that rare type who can meet the needs alike of the brilliant student and the less gifted. He was an administrator with vision, who based his plans on profoundedly apprehended principles of education and life, and was incapable of hand-to-mouth opportunism. As a member of the University community, he is irreplaceable."

He leaves his wife, the former Leila Douglas of Strathroy, four sisters in Detroit, a brother, and a son, Peter.

Lattimore Pleads Not Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Owen Lattimore pleaded "not guilty" today to a seven-count perjury indictment based on his sworn denial of Communist sympathies.

The two words were all Lattimore said during a brief court proceeding. Judge James Kirkland said the trial of the Far East expert probably will begin next March.

The indictment accuses Lattimore of lying when he denied to senators he had been a Communist sympathizer or promoter of Communist interests. Bond was fixed at $2,000.

Kills Woman Tries Suicide

NEW YORK (AP) — A 39-year-old restaurant counterman told police he choked a woman companion to death and then turned on the gas in an attempt to kill himself. He was found unconscious today in a basement apartment.

Police said the dead woman was Virginia Toland, 42. She was found nude on a bed in the apartment.

The counterman, Francis R. Noble, was quoted by police as saying: "I choked her Wednesday night. I loved her so much. She was my baby."

Noble, also nude, was found on the kitchenette floor. Gas fumes were flowing from a small stove.

Naguib May Visit U.S. Report Says

CAIRO (Reuters) — Gen. Mohammed Naguib, Egyptian prime minister, may visit the United States soon, the newspaper Al Akhbar reported today.

It said it learned that a visit by Naguib to the United States is being seriously considered in view of the results it would achieve and the publicity it would obtain for Egyptian and Arab causes.

"It is not unlikely that the visit will take place very soon," it added.

Proof For McCarthy

CAMP GROHN, Germany —(AP)— The loudspeaker boomed out "Pete. J. Stalin" and everybody gaped. Then a young Polish soldier who is in the U.S. Army explained: "You pronounce it that way. But it's really Jan Stalun. No relation to that other guy."

Conservation

and there has been no serious violation of the act. "It is there for the use of the counties which have still something to save, but strangely enough they are the most reluctant to pass the by-law."

Mr. Porter mentioned the initiative of the soils department of OAC for the planning of farms for conservation practice, saving top soil and moisture, and for the yielding of bigger crops. District and zone foresters have developed a service for farmers which compares in a general way with that of the agricultural representatives in extension work of the Department of Agriculture, although not so well developed. Any farmer can secure the guidance of a zone forester in that branch of farm planning to tell him what to do and show him how to do it.

Anglers and hunters have always recognized that the improvement of streams has as much to do as restocking in the maintenance of fish supply.

To bring all these groups and interests together, Mr. Porter said, the Conservation Council of Ontario was set up a year ago. It includes farm organizations, such as the Federation, Crop Improvement, Junior Farmers. In that respect it realizes that conservation is not to be done so much by county councils and government as by the men who own the land, the men on the farms. "Conservation projects must be carried out by the people who own the land."

DEPENDS ON FARMERS

Mr. Porter said it was all very well for conservation authority to spend a million dollars on building a dam in a designated river. That was just a beginning and beyond the dam were all the people in the watershed of that river, chiefly the farmers on that land. The dam was only a part of the conservation project. The main part was beyond it.

Of the investigation by the select committee of the Legislature, Mr. Porter said it was pleasing to see "that the good doctrine of conservation which had been preached for ten years was reflected back in the Thomas report from all parts of the province."

The nub of Mr. Porter's message to the zone assembly was to the effect that government had now outstripped county councils, conservation authorities and citizen groups. "Let us all take a New Year's resolution to stop dragging our feet."

OFFICERS ELECTED

Ed. Youngman of Pontypool, zone chairman, presided at the morning and afternoon sessions, and also at lunch. He was re-elected chairman, with Frank Weldon of Lindsay as 1st vice-chairman, Percy Gooding of Brighton, 2nd vice-chairman.

Mayor Waddell welcomed the forty or more zone representatives. "I congratulate you on the valuable work you are doing. I think Peterborough is unique in Ontario. In our Trent Valley systems of dams and control we have a most effective conservation establishment. It is something which I don't think our people realize, especially those with cottages on our lakes and rivers. Our people, I think, should have that brought home to them, because it is a great asset."

Practical details of conservation were discussed and stressed at the morning and afternoon sessions.

Frank C. Paterson explained the Ontario Department of Agriculture's comparatively new service of farm planning, as exemplified on the Harry Blewett farm in Smith, and the John Nurse and Roy Sanderson farms in South Monaghan. This was practical land use help that was available to farmers if they were sincerely interested.

Dr. Hrozny Dies In Prague

LONDON (AP) — Prague radio today announced the death of Dr. Bedrich Hrozny, Czech linguistic expert who nearly 40 years ago found the key to the history of the Hittite people — one of the great civilizations of King Solomon's time.

Hrozny was 73. The broadcast said he died in Prague.

As a professor at the University of Vienna in 1915, Hrozny startled the world by deciphering the Hittite language, a puzzle that baffled scholars for years.

The only previous knowledge of this people who ruled much of Asia Minor — present-day Turkey — some 2,000 years before Christ had come from records of neighboring states of that ancient time.

Turn Down Appeal In Rifle Slaying

HAMILTON (CP) — The appeal of Harry Lee, scheduled to be hanged Dec. 30 for murder, was turned down today by the Ontario court of appeal.

The 37-year-old caretaker was convicted Oct. 5 of the rifle slaying last summer of Mrs. Mary Rosenblatt, 37, of Hamilton.

The murder was discovered when Lee drove up to a garage at Sheffield, west of Galt, with Mrs. Rosenblatt dead in the front seat. She had been shot twice. Lee was wounded in the chest.

The last hanging in Hamilton took place 22 years ago when Michael Smith, 29, of Hamilton, went to the gallows for shooting a Winona farmer in a holdup.

Golf Club Trees Fit Conservation

"I think Bob MacMorran wants to make a speech," was Frank C. Paterson's humorous interruption of his talk on farm planning at the Conservation meeting at Kawartha Country Club Thursday afternoon.

The supervisor of maintenance at CGE was simply passing through the central room at the Club as inconspicuously as possible.

"I certainly don't", Mr. MacMorran replied to that unscheduled introduction. "However, now that I am in the company of Conservationists of this district, I might mention that out here we have done something in that line ourselves, and we feel rather proud of it. You can all see for yourselves the result of the tree planting we did on our property fifteen years ago. Our trees have made vigorous growth, and should commend us in a practical way to this meeting."

There was applause for Mr. MacMorran, and visual evidence of what time and nature can do in reforestation. Not that the Kawartha Club conifers are a forestry project. They fit into conservation in their effect of holding moisture, and they have added beauty to the grounds.

Impromptu as the MacMorran speech was, it did fit appropriately into the ideals of the Conservationists from seven or eight counties.

New Red Protest

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — Communist liaison officers at Panmunjom today charged that United Nations planes flew over the truce conference site Thursday and that "slanderous leaflets" were found inside the boundary on the same day.

1 Killed As Fire Razes Boarding School

STOUGHTON, Mass. (AP) — A 15-year-old girl perished and three other persons were seriously burned today when fire destroyed a boarding school for 28 Negro orphans and underprivileged children.

Josephine Crawford, 70, owner and house mother of Whispering Willow School, suffered face and arm burns. She made her way through smoke and flames to arouse the sleeping children and lead many of them outside into sub-freezing weather.

Damage was estimated at $25,000. Police said the fire may have started from spontaneous combustion in a newly-decorated room next to the kitchen.

Give Decision On January 9

ADEN (Reuters) — A court decision on Britain's test case against the owners and charters of an Italian tanker carrying Iranian oil will be given Jan. 9, Judge Ralph Campbell ruled today.

The announcement followed a long summary of the British case by Sir Hartley Shawcross, former Labor attorney - general, who is representing the Anglo - Iranian Oil Company. The company claims to be the owner of the oil carried in the tanker Rose Mary.

Britain's case is against Giuseppe Yafrate, former skipper of the Rose Mary, Compania De Navigacion Teresita of Apanama, her owners, and the Swiss Bubenberg Company, which chartered her. The tanker was impounded here last June when she put into this south Arabian port for repairs after picking up a load of Iranian oil.

Partial Victory Won By State

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — The ancient Andhra people of Madras, whose 40-year struggle for a separate state was climaxed in violence and death this week today won a partial victory from the government.

Prime Minister Nehru formally announced in Parliament that his government will draft a constitution for "Andhra state," to be chopped and carved out of those districts of Madras where Telegu —the Andhra language—is spoken.

It will not include the city of Madras, one of the major claims laid by the Andhras.

Potti Sriramulu, Indian social worker, died last Sunday after a 58-day fast to bring attention to demands for the establishment of an Andhra state. His death was followed by violent demonstrations in which two persons were killed and seven injured.

Telegu is spoken by about 20,000,000 Indians in the eastern central sections of the country, with the largest concentrations in Madras province.

Indian Lower House Approves 5-Year Plan

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—India's first five-year development plan was approved by the House of the People (lower house) today by a vote of 286 to 62, after a 4½-day debate.

The plan will cost $4,300,000,000 and aims to raise the national income by 11 per cent by 1956.

The upper house of Parliament gave its approval to the plan Thursday.

Currie Report Surprise Claxton Says On Return

YOU'D BETTER BE GOOD—These words are repeated over and over these days as Santa Claus makes his rounds at downtown stores and at various children's parties. In most cases the little boy or girl musters up a faint "Yes." The white-bearded gent makes most children happy but there are a few who break into tears when sitting on his lap. But for Sandra Sutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sutton, 580 Howden Ave., Santa is a jolly, kind red-faced fellow who "makes me laugh." Sandra (above) visited her friend this week in a downtown store to give him her Christmas list.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Rail Unions Accept Offer Of 16 Cents

Check-Off Won For Employees Plus Retroactive Clause

MONTREAL — (CP) — Any threat of a strike on Canada's main railway lines has been removed by a wage settlement which gives an extra 16 cents an hour, retroactive to Sept. 1, to 144,000 non-operating employees.

The agreement, which also provides for a check-off of union dues, for all in the bargaining unit to whom the agreement applies, was announced late Friday by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways and the 17 railway brotherhoods which represented the employees in five months of negotiations.

The new contract, replacing one which expired Sept. 1, becomes effective Dec. 1 for one year.

The brief announcement said the check-off arrangements are being worked out.

The settlement was along the lines of the majority report of a federal conciliation board which recommended an average increase of 16 cents and the check-off of dues. The majority report did not indicate specifically when the raise should become effective.

However, the fact the increase is retroactive to Sept. 1 indicated the unions had won a concession from the railroads, which had announced earlier that they were putting the 16-cent raise into effect as of Dec. 1. There was no indication when the employees would receive the back pay.

ALL BENEFIT

Railway sources estimated the increase will amount to $25 to $30 a month for the individual employee, depending on his wage classification.

The railways have indicated the boost also will be extended to non-union employees.

The unions originally asked for 45 cents an hour and rejected the majority finding when it was announced last month. They indicated they favored the minority report, signed by union representative David Lewis of Toronto and recommending a 26-cent-an-hour increase.

Their original demands also included a union shop and a cost-of-living bonus, both turned down by the majority report.

Frank Hall, chief spokesman for the 15 international and two national brotherhoods, told reporters he regarded the settlement as a "very good" agreement.

RATE INCREASE

The railways already have applied to the board of transport commissioners for a freight rate increase of nine per cent to recoup the major portion of the increased cost to their wage bills. The board has said it will grant the increase, amounting to $42,100,000, if it finds the amount covers the money needed.

Before the boost wages ranged anywhere from about $1.15 an hour for laborers to $300 a month for highly-skilled help.

A 7% wage increase plus a rise of seven cents an hour retroactive to Sept. 1 has been approved by the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway and the non-operating unions.

General Manager W. S. Salter said the agreement will be effective for one year from Dec. 1.

The agreement also provides for a checkoff arrangement for the collection of union dues.

Thieves Return Loot

PITTSBURGH — (AP)— Somebody scaled a fire escape, walked across the roof, smashed a pane out of a skylight and dropped a stone into Smoody's bakery Friday night. Attached to the stone were $15 and a note reading: "I can't take it." It was the loot from a robbery of the store the night before.

Approve Rail Freight Boost Of 9 Per Cent

OTTAWA (CP) — A nine-per-cent general increase in freight rates was authorized today by the board of transport commissioners.

The increase, to gross the carriers an estimated $43,350,000 a year, was awarded to compensate them for the 16-cents-an-hour wage increase they recently gave non-operating employees.

The application for higher rates was filed after the railways' decision this month to grant the increase effective Dec. 1, but while they and the non-operating unions were still in wage negotiation. Friday, a settlement was reached on the 16-cent figure retroactive to Sept. 1.

The added September - October - November pay disbursements resulting from the new date will come to roughly $10,000,000 on the companies' rail operations.

Today's formal board order implemented an announcement Dec. 16 that the house would be granted if the board satisfied itself as to the accuracy of the railways' cost figures on the higher wages, which were submitted earlier this week.

At a hearing on Monday, the two big companies said the higher wages will cost them $52,700,000 a year in all. For employees directly engaged in rail freight and passenger operations, the cost would be $42,100,000.

A railway witness indicated the companies might try to make up some of the balance by increasing express rates. There also may be a boost in telegraph rates.

In today's decision, the board did not give its customary "reasons for judgment" explaining its decision. It merely issued an order telling the railways they may put the increases into effect Jan. 1 provided they get out their new rate schedules before Dec 31.

One exception in the general percentage increase order is that—as has been customary—coal and coke rates are boosted on a cents-per-ton basis. The increases range between 10 and 20 cents per ton, as asked by the railways.

The men asked originally for a 45-cents-an-hour boost, which would have cost the equivalent of the take from a freight jump of perhaps 25 per cent.

The new rate boost will bring to 85 per cent the cumulative total of increases awarded by the transport board since early 1948. Other increases were of 21, 20 and 16 per cent.

Army Branch Changes To Be Pushed

Don't Expect PM Will Request Minister's Resignation

OTTAWA —(CP)— Defence Minister Claxton, arriving from Paris, told reporters today that in some respects the Currie report surprises him.

He declined to elaborate on that point, but said the report will hasten a reorganization of the army works services which was started in 1949 but held up by the post-Korean expansion.

Mr. Claxton, returning with Finance Minister Abbott, from the Atlantic Pact meetings was asked by reporters for comment on the call by opposition parties in the Commons for his transfer from the defence ministry.

He said that is a matter for the Prime Minister.

RESIGNATION UNLIKELY

Authoritative quarters have said there is little likelihood Mr. St. Laurent will ask for his resignation.

Mr. Claxton said he will be conferring with the cabinet and officials of his department about the report, which described "a general breakdown" in the army works services. He also said:

1. In reply to criticisms of Canada's defence effort by two United States senators, he said, "we think we are pulling our weight."

2. The question of further Canadian aid for NATO in Western Europe did not come up at Paris.

3. Canadian defence production will reach its peak in 1953 and the supply of new weapons and arms will be much larger than in 1952.

4. There are quite a few things that can be done to change "arrangements" for Canadian troops overseas.

The RCAF C-5 plane bringing Mr. Claxton, Mr. Abbott and Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, chairman of the chiefs of staff, touched down at Rockcliffe airport on schedule at 8 a. m. EST.

Mr. Claxton, absent from Ottawa since Dec. 5, missed a turbulent three-day Commons debate on the Currie report which brought a call for his removal by all three opposition parties.

Between now and the reconvening of the House Jan. 12 after the Christmas recess, he is expected to prepare a statement on the report and see what more can be done to implement its 44 recommendations.

The report describes a "general breakdown" in control of the army's works services and an indifference to administration and a "haste-before-cost" attitude among those "higher-up" in the defence department.

Mr. Claxton has had a copy of the report for roughly a week and was in regular contact with Ottawa by cable and telephone after it was tabled Monday.

No One Blamed By Jury In Death Of Barrie Girl

BARRIE (CP)—A coroner's jury ruled Friday that Mary Taylor, 19-year-old diabetic, died because she stopped taking insulin of her own free will. Its verdict, delivered after an hour's deliberation, attached no blame to any one. Crown Attorney William Thompson brought 10 witnesses to the stand. But the key figure in the attempt at prayer and faith healing three weeks ago, Pastor Rufus W. Holmes of Tulsa, Okla., did not appear although he had been requested to attend.

A sworn statement he made to Ontario provincial police officers in New York state the day after the girl's death was admitted as evidence, together with a second statement from the evangelist, made through a representative, Pastor Maxwell Whyte of Toronto. Chief coroner Smirle Lawson of Ontario presided.

Pastor Holmes' statement to police said he was an ordained minister with the Assemblies of God and that Mary Taylor had sought information about the healing of the sick. Her mother asked whether Mary should give up her medicine and he told them "that was a decision I would not make."

READ LETTER

Pastor Whyte read a letter from Pastor Holmes written at North Tonawanda, N.Y., Dec. 14 in which he said that he could see no wrong that he had done.

"Surely we have a right to preach and pray as we like," the letter said. "I told her I was not a doctor and did not give any advice regarding medicine. I do not claim to be a healer. I pray for the sick and Christ is the healer."

Dr. Lawson, summing up the evidence for the five-man jury, said:

"I think I can understand this poor girl a little. If you have been taking medicine for 15 years and anything promised as a possibility of relief you would be inclined to say, 'I would almost be disposed to risk it.'"

Dr. Lawson said he felt that no blame should be attached to the preacher.

"I do not suppose I should agree entirely with him but he may be a very sincere man and he may have desired to exercise a helpful ministry. Notwithstanding, there is no doubt a very serious error has been made and we should all agree that if there is any possibility of preventing the repetition of such a fatal mistake it would be well to employ such means."

Feel U.S. Law Will Tie Up Ships Too Long

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain is urgently considering what action to take over the new U. S. immigration law which demands that foreign seamen in ships visiting American ports should be screened before landing, a foreign office spokesman said today.

He declined to say whether Britain would make a formal protest like that submitted Friday by France.

Sir Christopher Steel, British charge d'affaires in Washington, made informal representations to the U. S. government Dec. 10.

He pointed out the enormous delay that the McCarran Act—which comes into force next Wednesday—would impose on large liners which need a quick "turn-around" to show a profit.

The new regulations would interfere with the schedules of the Cunard liners Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth.

U. S. authorities showed understanding of the British viewpoint at Washington, the foreign office spokesman said, but made it clear that immigration authorities had no alternative but to carry out the act's provisions.

Court Admits Tax Returns

VANCOUVER (CP)—In a precedent setting move, the British Columbia Court of Appeal Friday ruled that income tax returns are admissible as evidence in criminal trials.

The question of admissibility was submitted to the court by the lieutenant-governor under the constitutional questions act. It arose out of Vancouver's bookmaking conspiracy trial earlier this year.

At that time, Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker ordered production of the personal income tax returns of some of the accused after strong objections were made by Walter S. Owen, counsel for the minister of national revenue.

Mr. Owen contended before the court that it is against the public interest for income tax returns to be made available at criminal proceedings.

Hold Teen Agers For $30,000 Extortion Try

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Agents of the federal bureau of investigation have arrested two 'teen-age girls—one 14, the other 15—and charged them with attempting to extort a total of $30,000 from H. J. Heinz, president of the food firm bearing his name, and Arthur Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

Fred Hallford, special agent in charge of the FBI office here, said his men had waited in vain six times for writers of extortion notes to the two prominent men to pick up the money they demanded.

The two young girls walked into the darkness of a northside Pittsburgh park and picked up a package lying on a bench that allegedly contained $12,000. Instead it held a bundle of paper, worthless.

Hallford disclosed the two girls had been arrested Thursday night. He declined to identify them, except to give their ages. He said both girls admitting writing the notes—10 in all—to Heinz, president of the H. J. Heinz Co., demanding $20,000 and to Rooney, demanding $10,000.

Hallford said the girls threatened to harm the Rooney's 13-year-old twin sons and the 11-year-old son of Heinz.

Both were released in custody of their parents pending disposition of their cases by juvenile court.

Makes His Own Money But Only For Expenses

PARIS (AP) — Police arrested Justin Paulet today for making his own money for the last 10 years—but just enough to cover his expenses.

The officers said Paulet readily confessed that he had been making 5,000-franc (about $14) notes on his own presses, but only about 15 a month, ample to keep his household running. He has done no work in the last decade and told police his real interest is in music.

Police Link Arms Cache With Planned Cuban Revolt

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP)—Police raided an abandoned gasoline station in this New York suburb Friday and seized a large cache of munitions which authorities linked to a planned Cuban revolution. The descent on the boarded-up station uncovered about two truckloads of napalm grenades, rifle grenades, bazooka shells, rifle clips, gunpowder, parachute flares and a drum of napalm powder.

After the raid police arrested three men, including 29-year-old munitions dealer Alfred Manheim. Sheriff John E. Hoy and assistant district attorney M. Morton Edmiston said Manheim told them he was collecting the arsenal on behalf of ex-President Carlos Prio Socarras of Cuba.

Later, however, Manheim denied to reporters that he mentioned Cuba and said he was getting the munitions for an unidentified customer.

OUSTED BY COUP

Prio Socarras was ousted by a military coup last March and Cuban strong man Gen. Fulgencio Batista, a former President, took over. Batista since has been named President of Cuba.

Prio Socarras fled to Mexico, then to Miami, from where he and his followers have been taking political potshots at the Batista regime.

The raid was staged after police became suspicious of unusual activity around the supposedly deserted gas station.

Italian Quadruplets Born, 3 Babies Die

ROME (AP) — Mrs. Fernanda Ferrante d'Abruzzo, 33, gave birth to premature quadruplets in hospital Friday, but three of the four tiny boys died about 18 hours later.

The seven-month babies weighed a total of eight pounds.

Mrs. d'Abruzzo and her husband, a 36-year-old factory worker, have two daughters, three and five years old.

Bey Of Tunis Signs Decree

TUNIS, North Africa (Reuters)—The Bey of Tunis today signed two reform decrees proposed by the French, soon after receiving an ultimatum from the French government.

His concession to the French averts a crisis in the protectorate and possibly prevented drastic changes in his own palace.

Count Jean de Hauteclocque, French resident-general, flew back to Tunis early today after conferring all week with French cabinet officials over the Bey's non-co-operation. The ultimatum he had delivered to the Bey on his arrival was drafted by ministers in Paris late Friday night.

Hauteclocque said he had persuaded the Bey to sign the two decrees last Monday but that the Bey reneged that night. He did not go to the palace himself, but sent his deputy, Robert de Boissesson, to deliver the note.

Terms of the ultimatum were not made known, but experts here said the Bey would probably either sign or renounce his throne. The residency was reported ready to set up a regency council to handle the royal affairs of the protectorate.

Reds Swindlers Ex-Nazis Cry

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's former Nazis complained today that they have been swindled by the Communists.

The National Zeitung, organ of former Nazis banded together into the National Democratic party, lashed out with an editorial in which it claimed the Communist-led government's promises of "equal rights" were hollow.

Dr. Erich Back, author of the editorial, asserted that ex-Nazis who tried to enlist in the regular police or the criminal investigation division have been rejected.

The Communist-controlled Parliament recently adopted an "equal right" law for all Nazis who were not war criminals and the Red government made capital out of it by trying to picture a "united front" of all elements in the Soviet zone.

Jet Crashes; 3 Die

STEEPLE MORDEN, England (Reuters)—A blazing Canberra jet bomber skimmed over the rooftops of this Cambridgeshire village Friday, scattering red-hot debris in the streets, and crashed in a nearby field. The three crew members of the twin engined jet were killed.

Confirm Safe Stolen From Yukon Station

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—The RCMP confirmed Friday that a safe containing about $100,000 in cash and cheques was stolen at a railway station here Nov. 30.

They said the safe was taken from an office of the White Pass and Yukon Railway and contained $2,500 in cash and $95,000 in cheques.

In Ottawa, RCMP headquarters said it had received word that the safe held about $3,300 in cash and $125,000 in cheques and was carted away from the British Yukon Navigation Company Limited. The cheques were said to have been payable to the company.

First word of the robbery came Thursday from a Dawson Creek radio station.

RCMP here said they had no details about the robbery.

NATO To Cost Canada Less

OTTAWA (CP) — The North Atlantic treaty organization's decision to trim spending on European airfields and other installations by half in 1953 will mean a big cut in Canada's contributions.

Finance Minister Abbott, returning from the Paris North Atlantic ministers' conference, estimated today that Canada may contribute about $12,000,000 towards 1953 construction.

Had the original demands been accepted, he said, the cost to Canada might have been about $20,000,000.

He said that while the cut in construction — technically called "infrastructure"—may mean a reduction in Canada's share of costs, this will have little effect on Canada's total defence effort.

Jailers Play Santa To Prisoner's Family

ST. THOMAS (CP)—The wife and eight children of a prisoner in the pokey will have a more or less merry Christmas—thanks to the jailers of the head of the house.

The man is serving a term for a breach of the Liquor Control Act. He won't be out until after Jan. 1 and his jailers felt sorry for the family.

They bought toys for the kids and a tree. There also will be a turkey. The Children's Aid Society and the Red Cross are going to play Santa Claus too.

Rationing Costly Error

Say Eisenhower Worried About Ammunition Supply

TOKYO (AP) — The ammunition supply problem in Korea believed to be of concern to President-elect Eisenhower had a noticeable effect in the recent bloody battle for the Kumhwa ridges.

At one point, at the crux of the infantry fight, a hold-down order reported by front - line officers put a strict lid on the amount of artillery ammunition that could be fired in one day.

Responsible U.S. officers engaged in the battle called this "one of the few real boners" of the UN command in the Kumhwa action.

In Washington, Friday, Maj.-Gen. William O. Reeder, one of the U.S. Army's deputy supply chiefs, said Eisenhower was doubtless talking about ammunition when he spoke of "certain problems of supply" that needed correcting in Korea. Reeder said there has been and still is ammunition rationing in Korea.

The hold - down order in the Kumhwa battle, in effect for several days at the end of October, resulted in the Communists outshooting the Allies by a devastating 2½-to-1 for a time. Then the high command threw economy to the winds and poured guns and shells into the sector in the greatest artillery concentration since the Second World War.

The UN artillery quickly dominated the situation, but proved unable to suppress the Red guns and mortars.

The temporary shortage came at the crisis of the battle when the South Koreans had been thrown off Triangle hill and were trying to regain it. They never were able to withstand the Red shell fire long enough to consolidate their gains.

Many Republic of Korea leaders, fearing the day when UN troops may pull out, frequently try to obtain and hoard great quantities of rifle, mortar and artillery ammunition.

Other RoK commanders, with no experience in supply problems, since all ammunition comes from the United States, have often been unrealistic and uneconomical in pumping it out.

Princess Refused Seat At Film Opening

STOCKHOLM (AP) — A Swedish Princess was refused a seat at the opening of the movie "The Greatest Show on Earth" Friday.

Princess Desiree, 14, was invited to the opening together with her two elder sisters.

At the last moment, someone pointed out that the picture was forbidden to children under 15.

The film company tried unsuccessfully to get a special permit from police for the Princess before a red-faced film official had to call the royal castle and explain the situation.

The other two princesses went anyway.

Those Soaring Saucers Seen In Skies Are Merely Spots Before Your Eyes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Flying saucers may be only "spots before the eyes" that all of us can have, a Los Angeles doctor said Friday.

Dr. Edgar F. Mauer said the oft-reported discs may well be "muscae volitantes" or possibly "scintillating scotoma"—the technical monickers of "spots" before the peepers.

In a communique to the technical magazine, Science, he said muscae volitantes are caused by the shadows cast upon the retina by certain tissue cells of the eye itself. They may show up before anyone's eyes under certain conditions, "such as exposure to a uniform bright surface, or when looking through a microscope."

People who are near-sighted frequently see them, and a digestive disorder can contribute to their appearance.

Another good bet as a possible saucer explanation, he said, is scintillating scotoma—spots frequently seen by persons suffering from migraine headaches.

UN Approves 6 New Members

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Non-Communist countries gave overwhelming committee approval Friday night to UN membership for Japan, Libya, Jordan and three Indo-Chinese states. But there was little hope the applicants would escape a final Soviet veto.

The votes were a victory for the Western powers who also managed to beat down a Soviet bloc attempt to give membership to five Communist satellites in a package horse-swapping along with nine Western-backed applicants.

Want More Efficiency

Canadian Army Reorganizes Its Set-Up In Far East

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

KURE, Japan (CP)—The Canadian Army is reorganizing its administrative set-up in the Far East, The Canadian Press has learned.

The reorganization involves the responsibilities of Brig. M. P. Bogert of Ottawa, Brig. R. E. A. Morton of Winnipeg and Col. Willis Moogk of Ottawa.

The object is to increase the efficiency of army elements in Korea and in Japan. Previously the top responsibility for them has not been clearly defined.

Bogert, commander of the 25th Canadian infantry brigade, also is senior Canadian officer in the Far East.

While Brig. J. M. Rockingham of Vancouver held the post the policy was that the commander in Korea would have over-all authority over all units in Korea and Kure, Japan, where administration, training and reinforcement units for the Canadian force are located.

That wasn't satisfactory, since with operational matters. When the commander was preoccupied Bogert assumed command last April Army headquarters in Ottawa placed under the military mission in Tokyo all units in Japan and Korea which were not an integral part of the brigade.

That didn't work either Tokyo, in travelling time, was even farther from Kure than brigade headquarters in Korea were.

During the recent visit to the theatre of Maj.-Gen. H. A. Sparling, vice-chief of the Canadian general staff, Bogert suggested the policy shortly to go into effect.

Kure and all base area and lines-of-communication units are to revert to Bogert's over-all command. Those not in the brigade area will be placed under Moogk, who will acquire the additional titles of commander, Canadian section, British Commonwealth Forces in Korea, and commander, Canadian lines-of-communications units, Far East.

Morton's functions will be fourfold:

1. Representative at Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters of the Canadian joint chiefs of staff whose liaison officer he is in effect.
2. Representative at Clark's headquarters of Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds, chief of the Canadian general staff.
3. Military advisor to Arthur Menzies, charge d'affaires of the Canadian embassy in Tokyo.
4. Bogert's representative at Clark's headquarters.

NATO Plans Giant Arc Against Reds

New Strategy Secret Two New Members Reason For Change

PARIS (AP) — Members of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance have accepted a new basic strategy outline radically altering Western defence concepts as a result of the admission of Greece and Turkey into the pact, high military sources disclosed today.

The sources said the new strategy drew attention to the fact that, with the admission of Turkey, Allied forces have been brought virtually face-to-face with Russia's Caucasian forces.

Details of the outline have been secret. But broadly, it sets the frontiers of Western freedom along the line of a giant transcontinental arc.

This arc stretches from Norway's arctic tip southward through Denmark, along the line of Germany's Elbe river, then southeastward through Denmark, along the line of Germany's Elbe river, then southeastward through Greece to the Turkish-Russian border in the Caucasus, between the Black and Caspian seas.

NEW LINE

The previous Allied land line ran south from Germany to the toe of the Italian boot.

Despite the fact that there are about 15 Turkish divisions in the field, the strategy paper apparently did not suggest that the admission of Turkey added any immediate strength to Allied defences.

In fact, the addition of the two new countries has given NATO new territories to defend and imposed on pact members the task of protecting the extra 1,000-mile loop of sea supply lines from Italy to Turkish ports.

Broadcast Papal Talk

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Pope's Christmas message to the world will be broadcast in 24 languages—including those spoken in most countries behind the Iron Curtain. The message, in reply to Christmas greetings offered him by the College of Cardinals, will be given Dec. 24 for the 14th consecutive year since Pius XII became pope in 1939.

Cow Kills Farmer

OTTAWA, Ohio (AP) — A cow killed her farmer-owner Friday with one kick in the face. The coroner said the kick broke the neck of Ralph C. Claybaugh, 34. Claybaugh's 18-year-old son, Fred, said the cow struck out with her hooves only a few seconds after his father drew his milking stool up beside her.

Case Adjourned To Check Story Of Witness

COBOURG (ENS) — Trial of John McIntyre of Hamilton, charged with breaking into an oil depot here on November 30 where an attempt was made to break into the safe, got underway Friday in police court, but adjournment was made in order to check on the story of McIntyre's girl friend, Edith Frewing of Toronto.

The crown's case depended on the weight given by the court on the finding of a wallet belonging to McIntyre at the scene of the break-in. Miss Frewing testified that she lost the wallet which had been given to her for safekeeping by the accused on the night of November 29. She told of phoning the lost and found department at Union Station, and also of arranging to have her loss broadcast over a Toronto radio station.

Constable Homer Zale told the court that at 4.30 a.m. on Nov. 30 he was on patrol and found a door open in the Sunoco Oil depot. A heavy wrecking bar was found outside and inside the office the safe had been tipped over and battered with some object. However, it was not opened, although the door was damaged. Also inside the office were another wrecking bar, a pick and an axe.

Constable T. Shaw found a wallet near the corner of the building outside with the name of John McIntyre in it. Clayton G. Carroll, office manager of the oil company, said that the tools found at the scene did not belong to the company. Miss Frewing testified that the accused was her fiance. On November 29 she had been with McIntyre and when she left him at the Union Station he gave her his wallet containing $200 for safekeeping.

The following day she discovered that she had lost it. She said that she telephoned the Union Station's lost and found department the morning of November 30th. She also reported her loss to a local radio station.

Constable E. Butler said that he checked the records at the Union Station and that there were no names of either Miss Frewing or the accused in the lost and found book. In order that this could be re-checked and also so that her story regarding the radio broadcast could be verified the case was laid over until next Wednesday.

20 Per Cent Vote Fills School Bd.

LAKEFIELD (ENS).—Dr. Reginald H. Campbell and Mrs. Harold Wilford on Friday were elected to the Lakefield School Board in a vote that drew only 20 per cent of the eligible voters.

The separate balloting for the School Board was necessary because at the original nomination meeting only one trustee — Mrs. Jessie Doubt—qualified. She was elected by acclamation.

FOUR CANDIDATES

Four candidates contested the two vacancies in Tuesday's election. Dr. Campbell headed the polls with 177 votes. Mrs. Wilford got 117. And the two defeated candidates—Stanley Millage and Fred A. Dainton—got 74 and 13 votes, respectively.

Here is the count by polls:

Poll No. 1—Dr. Campbell 93, Mrs. Wilford 62, Mr. Millage 32, and Mr. Dainton 8.

Poll No. 2—Dr. Campbell 84, Mrs. Wilford 55, Millage 42, and Mr. Dainton 5.

Both Dr. Campbell and Mrs. Wilford are former trustees. They are now completing a two-year term. Albert Buchanan, the third member of the 1951-1952 board, whose term expires at the end of the year, did not qualify.

Messrs. Millage and Dainton are newcomers.

The other three members of the Lakefield School Board are Ralph Millage, Ralph Jackman, and the Rev. W. B. Walker.

Last Day of Autumn

NEW YORK (AP) — Today is autumn's last full 1952 day before bowing out until next year. Winter officially takes over at 4:44 p.m. EST Sunday.

OBITUARIES

MRS. JOHN GABEL

The oldest surviving member of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Listowel, Mrs. John Gabel, died on Friday in hospital in Peterborough following a short illness.

She was born in Kitchener 90 years ago, Elizabeth, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hess, and has lived nearly all her life in either Kitchener or Listowel. She came to this city about one and one-half years ago. Her husband, John Gabel, predeceased her in 1943.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. J. H. Schmidt (Wilhelmina) of Kitchener, and three sons, George J. Hess of Peterborough, John L. of Portage la Prairie, and Leonard H. of Hartney, Man. There are ten grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

The body is resting at the Comstock funeral home until Sunday evening when it will be sent to Listowel where funeral service will be held on Monday or Tuesday. Burial will be at Fairview cemetery.

WILLIAM JAMES LEAHY

William James Leahy, 161 Clifton St., died Friday in hospital following an illness of two weeks.

Mr. Leahy was born in Douro township, son of the late Patrick Leahy and Mary Dwyer and has lived in Peterborough for the past 25 years. Formerly he lived in Otonabee and Douro townships.

He was employed in the structural steel department of the CGE for the past 23 years. A member of Immaculate Conception Roman Catholic Church, he was also a member of the Holy Name Society of that church.

He leaves his wife, the former Rose Fitzgerald; four daughters, Anne, Joan, Isabel and Mary, all at home; four sons, Leo, William Jr., and John, all of Peterborough, and Harry, Toronto; two sisters, Miss Elizabeth Leahy, Peterborough and Mrs. William Wallace (Genevieve), Toronto; four brothers, the Rev. Bro. Marsellus, Christian Brothers, Toronto; Frank and Bert, Douro; Martin, Lindsay and four grandhildren.

The funeral will be held Monday from his late residence to Immaculate Conception Church for requiem mass at 9 a.m. Burial will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Douro.

MRS. C. L. HORSMAN

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS. — A resident of this district her entire lifetime, Mrs. Sarah Ann Smith, widow of the late Charles L. Horsman, was buried here on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Horsman died Wednesday morning at Beaver Hall Convalescent Home in Campbellford, after being in declining health for some time. Born in 1877 in Campbellford, she was 75 at the time of her death.

She was the daughter of the late Joseph Smith and Ellen Morrison of Campbellford. Her husband, Charles L. Horsman, died in 1941.

Surviving are a son, Charles Morley Horsman of Campbellford, and a daughter, Mrs. C. L. Moran (Helen Ethel) of Wooler. There is also a brother, James H. Smith of Campbellford.

Mrs. Horsman was a member of the United Church, but had not attended regularly during the past few years, due to her poor health.

Funeral services were conducted on Friday afternoon from Bennett's Funeral Home on Frank Street, with the Rev. Dr. D. N. Smith of St. John's United Church officiating. Burial was in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Grant Clarke, Morley Tanner, Alex MacDonald, Donald Watters, Theodore Hardy, and Leon Guerin.

Flower bearers were Paul and David Moran, grandsons of the deceased, Ronald Clarke, Donald Clarke, Laurie Nesbitt, and Wesley Hardy.

PORT DALHOUSIE (CP)—Mayor R. M. Johnston, Reeve Neil Christie, deputy reeve Paul Manning, all six councillors and the two members of the public utilities commission were returned to office by acclamation here Thursday night.

Costly Penny

UNIONTOWN, Ky. (AP) — It cost Mrs. Con Greenwell, post-mistress, $35 to retrieve a penny she dropped accidentally in the combination of the postoffice safe. The penny jammed the lock and she couldn't open the safe Friday until the coin was removed.

Russia Boosting Naval Strength Swedes Claim

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Russia, according to official Swedish estimates, has at least 165 submarines in Baltic and Arctic waters —an[illegible] least 72 of them are oce[illegible] going.

Many of these Russian subs have a range which would enable them to make two trips from the Baltic straits to New York and back without refuelling.

These estimates are included in Sweden's 1953 Naval Calendar, a Swedish counterpart of "Jane's Fighting Ships." It is compiled by Swedish Navy experts and sometimes carries more detailed information than Jane's about Russian warships in waters close to Sweden.

It gave the total number of known Soviet submarines as 340 while Jane's put the number at "no fewer than" 370 in its 1952-53 edition. For the first time ever, the staid Swedish publication went out of its way to report what it called "a rumor that Russia is to increase her submarine strength to 750 by 1955."

The calendar says Russia has at present 48 submarines in Arctic waters, 18 of which are ocean-going. There are at least 117 Soviet submarines in the Baltic, 54 of them ocean - going. Figures do not include midget submarines with a crew of two, of which Russia has several.

Russian ocean-going submarines in Baltic and Arctic waters for the moment include at least 35 with a range of 15,000 - 20,000 nautical miles without refuelling. The nautical mile is about 6,080 feet, against 5,280 feet for a land mile.

The distance between New York and the Baltic straits is about 3,800 nautical miles.

The best of these Soviet subs have a top surface speed of 22.5 knots and carry up to 10 21-inch torpedo tubes in addition to mines.

The Swedes estimated the numbers of ocean - going Russian submarines in the Far East at 35 in addition to about 90 coastal submarines.

The Swedish Naval Calendar reported for the first time that the Russians are at present constructing five 10,000 - ton cruisers of the "Sverdlov" class for their Arctic fleet.

Siamese Twins Still Alive

CHICAGO (AP)—The Brodie Siamese twins remained alive today but still in critical condition.

The 15-month-old boys, who were born joined at the heads, were separated in a 12-hour and 40-minute operation Wednesday which is regarded as the only successful one of its kind recorded in medical history.

Roger Lee Brodie has remained unconscious since the operation. His condition was termed "very precarious."

A spokesman at the University of Illinois said the other twin, Rodney Dee, was "doing better than his brother." But his condition also was critical.

Man Convicted Tried To Steal Car

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Percy Crummey of Trent River was convicted of attempted car theft here Thursday by Magistrate R. B. Baxter. Crummey had already served the nine days, awaiting trial, in the county gaol in Cobourg.

The charge arose out of an incident about 10 days ago when Crummey attempted to steal a car owned by Thornton Watters of Campbellford, and which had been parked on Bridge Street near the Legion Hall. Crummey was apprehended in the car by Constable D. M. Duncalfe.

A second charge of joyriding against Crummey was dismissed. The second charge was a result of a car reported stolen a few days earlier, but recovered again in the town a few hours after it was reported stolen. The police could offer no evidence in the second case.

Recount Upsets Result Of Election, Nicholas Wins

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — An upset in the contest for reeve of the town of Campbellford occurred here on Friday, when Judge M. A. Millar presided at a recounting of the ballots cast in the election of December 1.

Oscar Mason, at present deputy-reeve, who ran for reeve this year and won the seat on the original ballot count, lost his seat today to Wm. R. Nicholas. Nicholas, a former councillor, wound up with a nine-vote majority.

PICKED UP 12 VOTES

In the poll-by-poll recount, Mr. Nicholas picked up 12 votes. In polling subdivision 1A, Mr. Mason lost one vote. He picked it up by gaining one in ward 2B.

Mr. Nicholas gained three votes in ward 2B, and each man gained one vote in the ward 3A poll. Mr. Nicholas gained one vote in ward 3B. The biggest difference was in ward 4, where there is only one polling subdivision. Mr. Mason lost four votes in the recount in that ward and Mr. Nicholas gained three.

In the original ballot count on December 1, Mr. Mason was declared elected by a majority of three votes.

Following is the result of the poll-by-poll recount:

Mason— 1A 89, 1B 82, 2A 60, 2B 85, 3A 71, 3B 51, 4 150—total 588.

Nicholas—1A 75, 1B 69, 2A 72, 2B 54, 3A 106, 3B 57, 4 124—total 597.

Majority for Nicholas—9.

Polling subdivisions 1B and 2A were the only two subdivisions of the seven in the town, in which the original recount was correct according to the recount.

Gunboat Escorts Ship After Mutiny Report

HONG KONG (Reuters) — A Nationalist China gunboat escorted the 1,315-ton British-owned freighter Nidar into Formosa today after reports that there had been a mutiny aboard her.

The Nidar, registered by Panama was alleged by the Nationalist China news agency to be trading in Communist Chinese ports.

The ship's British owners, Wallem and Co., of Hong Kong, today denied the charge. They said they had lost contact with the ship.

Reports from Taipeh said the Nationalists would investigate the allegations and would confiscate the Nidar if they were true.

Claxton Defends Korean Share

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton, in a year-end message to the forces, said Friday that Canada's contributions in Korea and Europe are proof of the determination to resist aggression and build up Western military strength.

The minister's message said in part:

"Christmas 1952 finds our Canadian forces serving at home and abroad in many lands.

"Our soldiers in Korea, our seamen in Far Eastern waters and our airmen winging their way across the Pacific on the airlift are evidence of the United Nations' determination to repel aggression wherever it may occur.

"Our brigade in Germany and our increasing air squadrons in the United Kingdom and France are Canada's proof of her faith and determination to play her part in upholding her share of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. . . .

"To the Navy, Army, Air Force, defence research board and all civilian members of the department I extend my very best wishes for a merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year."

New Hogs Have Two Extra Ribs

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—Washington State College said Friday its farm scientists have developed a hog with two extra ribs that will mean more pork chops and longer bacon.

It took seven years of breeding to develop the pair of "spare ribs" in the animal, known in the laboratory as WSC No. 61.

No. 61 is the result of cross breeding with three Landrace boars shipped in from Denmark and 18 Chester white sows. Since 1945, some 240 litters have been raised in the experiment.

Dr. R. E. Christian of the WSC animal husbandry department said he hopes No. 61 will be officially recognized as a "new breed" in 1953.

Canadian Red Cross Girls Get Welcome From Troops

WINNIPEG (CP) — Back home after an 8½ month stint as a Red Cross welfare group chief in the Far East, Ruth Doern of Winnipeg said Friday the troops' response to her presence behind the front lines was "tremendous."

In an interview Miss Doern said: "I was never so conscious of being a woman. Driving by jeep behind the lines, the men would stop us and say: 'My gosh, a Canadian girl; what's that perfume you're wearing? How are things back home?' "

Miss Doern headed the first group of eight Red Cross girls who flew to Japan last April to set up a program of recreation and welfare service for both wounded and soldiers on leave in Japan.

She spent a total of eight days in Korea, four last April and four in November, organizing welfare work to be carried out futurely by Red Cross girls at the 25th brigade field dressing station, 20 miles behind the battle lines.

ON LOAN

A supervisor of social welfare service for the department of veterans' affairs, Miss Doern was on loan to the Red Cross.

Most of her work was done in Japan, where she helped to set up the Maple Leaf Club in Tokyo, a haven for Canadian soldiers on leave from the battle zone. The club opened last September.

The remainder of the 16 Red Cross girls now in Japan work at the Commonwealth troops' hospital at Kure, the Canadian convalescent depot or the Canadian reinforcement group, also at Kure.

The girls' work at hospitals includes writing letters, assisting in therapeutical occupations and just plain visiting.

DAILY VISIT

"We made it a point to visit every Canadian patient once a day," said Miss Doern, "and sometimes there were 150 men in the Kure hospital at one time."

She said the Canadian concept of welfare is "much larger" than that of the Australians and British.

"We believe that personal contact is a very important part of our work. The other groups in Japan seem to play down that part of it."

Miss Doern, associated with welfare work since 1935, will return to her DVA post after a holiday.

The Birth In Bethlehem

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, DD

There are three accounts in the New Testament of the Christmas story.

In Matthew 2 is the story of the coming to Judea of the Wise Men from the East, who had seen the star and came seeking the newborn Babe.

In Luke's Gospel is a very vivid portrayal of the time and the scene. We sense the expectation on the part of the people (Luke 3:15); the Messianic hope in devout souls like Simeon and Anna the Prophetess; the background of preparation in John the Baptist.

The worthiness of Mary to be the mother of the divine child, with her son of rejoicing is told.

Following the birth, Luke describes the wonderful story of the announcement of the shepherds, and their coming to offer homage to the Babe in the manger.

The third account is in John I, for through that chapter gives no details regarding the birth it tells of the Incarnation and the coming into earthly life of the Eternal Word.

The Gospel of Mark, probably the earliest of the four Gospels, makes no reference at all to the details of the birth of Jesus, but after a brief account of the preparation by John the Baptist launches at once into the details of the ministry of Jesus.

If we had nothing but Mark's Gospel, we should still have the clear, swiftly moving portrayal of the Master, with all the reality of His teaching, and the revelation of the gospel of grace in the Savior of the world. In one sense it would be enough.

But how much we would lack if we had not the Christmas story as in Matthew and Luke! And this applies not only to the stories of the birth, but also to such incidents as Luke's records of the boy Jesus on His journey with His parents to Jerusalem, and His disputing with the doctors in the Temple.

Some accept the accounts literally, while others see in them wonder stories, more wonderful and beautiful, of the sort that have become legends of great men, heroes, and saints. Still others may see in them a blending of historic truth and beautiful legend.

The Christmas stories lose all the meaning they ought to have unless they lead to the meaning of the coming of the Christ into the world, and unless to the birth and the life there is the sincere response of faith, and devotion, and following the Master's footsteps.

So, my wish is not only that you may have a "Merry Christmas," but a Christmas of spiritual rejoicing and exaltation.

Court Dismisses Four Charges Against Driver

CAMPBELLFORD — (ENS) — Four charges against 46-year-old Lester Bell of Campbellford were thrown out of court here Thursday when Bell appeared before Magistrate R. B. Baxter following an accident on November 23.

Charges of careless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, having beer in a place other than his residence, and driving without an operator's license were read to Bell, but he pleaded 'not guilty' to all four counts.

The charges were laid by Campbellford Constable D. M. Duncalfe following a car accident on the evening of November 23 in which Bell's car careened through a fence at the public school grounds, and plunged down an embankment.

Bell told Magistrate Baxter that he was not driving the car on the night of the accident. He said the car was driven by a man whose name he did not know. All he knew about the other man was that he worked for the HEPC and Bell had met him only twice, he said. Bell admitted being in the car, and said that after the accident, he left the scene and went home.

After hearing the evidence, which lasted almost an hour and a half, the magistrate dismissed the case.

Crown Attorney Harry R. Deyman of Cobourg prosecuted the case for the Crown and Bell was defended by J. F. R. Douglas of Campbellford.

Bell said he did not own the two full pints of beer and the several empty bottles that were found in the car following the accident.

Constable Duncalfe introduced photographs in evidence and said that the driver or occupants of the car were not around when he investigated the accident, late at night. He traced the ownership of the vehicle through the license plates.

European Union New Agency Aim

PARIS (AP) — A new European executive agency to co-ordinate the Schuman plan steel-coal pool with the European army and lay foundations for eventual continental confederation is emerging from studies of a six-country constitutional committee here.

A blueprint for the executive and legislative branches of a confederation embracing France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxemburg still is in the tentative stage but rough outlines are beginning to take form.

Many of the details will not be settled for some time.

The executive arm, as now envisaged here, will be an 11- man council, including the president of the steel - coal community's high authority and the chairman of the European defence community commissariat, assuming the EDC eventually is ratified.

Under the plan as it now stands, the foreign ministers of the six participating states will designate the "European president." The intention is that he shall be an outstanding European statesman. The president, in turn, will select eight other members of the executive agency as his "cabinet." These men, joined by the Schuman plan president and EDC chairman, will comprise the executive arm.

Meet To Settle Quebec Strike

QUEBEC (CP) — Labor Minister Barrette of Quebec today began work on a four-point proposal to be considered Monday by representatives of the union and company in connection with settlement of the nine-month textile strike at Louiseville, Que.

Mr. Barrette said Friday that representatives of the Associated Textiles Ltd. plant and the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor had agreed to study a formula to end the drawn-out dispute.

Earlier, Mayor Raoul St. Jean of Louiseville said Riot Act restrictions are being lifted. The restrictions were imposed following reading of the act by provincial police Dec. 11. Violence erupted and in clashes between police and strikers one man was shot, four others were injured and a number arrested.

Purge Street Names

VIENNA (Reuters) — A new purge is under way in Czechoslovakia—this time a purge of street names. The Czech newspaper Lidove Demokracie reported that plans have been made to change the names of all streets and public squares which had been named in honor of "reactionary politicians" and "people of the pre-Munich republic."

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — A fairly steady undertone supported prices of coarse grain futures Friday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, but it appeared due more to light offerings than aggressive buying.

Some shipping purchases were reported in oats and barley. There were a few export orders and some processor buying in flax. Rye trade was mostly local. Prices of Class 2 and IWA wheat were down ⅛ cent.

Harwood School Presents Concert

HARWOOD (ENS)—Mr. Crews, principal, and Miss Robbins, junior room, and their pupils of Harwood School presented their concert in the community centre Friday evening.

Major R. E. Drope was chairman, and Mr. Ramsay pianist. Diane Staples gave the welcome. The opening chorus by the entire school was entitled "Calling Santa Claus." The exercise, "Christmas Greetings," was presented by Maurice, Carolyn, Freda, Clifford, Garry, Shirley Ann, Terry, Carol and Lorna.

The recitation entitled "Proudest Songs" was given by Fae Murney. Then the song entitled "Two Front Teeth" by Diane, Garry and Gordon.

After the chairman's remarks, Mr. Drope called on the Rev. A. Y. Robertson, Mr. Charles Burrison and the Rev. A. W. Smith, all of whom spoke briefly. Next was the play Dickens' "Christmas Carol," Scenes 1 and 2. The play included Marley's ghost, Spirit of mas Present, and Spirit of Christmas Present, and Spriti of Christmas Future. This was followed by a recitation entitled "To You, From Me, With Love," by Dorothy Gray. Then the chorus by the senior room entitled "Jolly Old Man." A beautiful "Pageant of the Bells" was then presented as follows: Rising Bells, School Bells, Dinner Bells, Church Bells, Cow Bells, Society, Belle.

Phyllis Isaac gave a monologue entitled "Giving Aunt Jane a Hint." The chorus "Jolly Old St. Nicholas" by the junior room. The Nativity scene was very beautiful. It was presented with appropriate Christmas carols. Larry Bird recited "Snow Man."

Mr. Crews and Miss Robbins were presented with gifts by their pupils, and Mr. Crews presented Mr. Ramsay and Mrs. Robertson each with gifts.

"Holy Night" was sung by Betty Isaac, Rosalind Stephens and Phyllis Isaac. The comedy followed entitled "Cousin Imogene's Dinner," the leading character ably taken by Helen Patch. The scene was "Kitchen in the Willis Home." The students taking part were all from the senior room.

Santa Claus arrived and distributed presents from the laden tree. The hall was decorated with silver stars in the ceiling, and draped red and white streamers at the side, and was filled to its capacity for this important event in the community. There were 197 tickets sold and Drian Kerr won the prize for selling the most tickets.

Saves Blind Husband

WOODSTOCK (CP)—Mrs. Dorothy Gillett, 30, of Princeton district, was driving her blind husband, Clarence, home from Christmas shopping Friday. She reached the Creditville railway crossing on No. 2 highway just as the wig-wag started. Deciding there was ample time she started to drive across but the car stalled on the tracks. Calmly, Mrs. Gillett led her husband from the vehicle seconds before it was struck and demolished by the train.

ONE OF THE WONDERS of the world, Mont St. Michael in France continues to lure tourists from many lands. The Abbey, which dominates the rock, is a magnificent piece of architecture and was founded in the 8th century. The ancient streets and alleys leading up to the abbey make a fascinating walk.

Navy Apprentices End First Training Phase

CORNWALLIS, N.S. (CP)—The Navy's first class of technical apprentices—52 of them—today ended the initial phase of a new training program that will turn them into skilled tradesmen.

The apprentices, all between 16 and 19, finished their indoctrination at HMCS Cornwallis training establishment. After a month's leave they will be posted to Halifax to begin another 39 months of training aboard a training ship.

On graduation they will be given the rank of petty officer second class and be qualified as engine-room artificers, shipwrights, electrical technicians, armorers and air artificers.

OVERCOME SHORTAGES

It was to overcome a shortage of these vital skilled branches that the Navy began the new program last August.

At Cornwallis the recruits learned about the Navy, its discipline, its drills, its history. They also learned about care of their uniforms, about seamanship and gunnery.

They made a trip to the dockyard at Halifax where they saw the ship that will become their home for many months—the 10,000-ton Flamborough Head. The former escort maintenance vessel is being fitted out as a training ship.

When completed early next year she will boast of engine shops, machine shops and shipwright's shops, and cafeteria style messing, all in the most modern style.

Veteran Engineer Dies

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A Canadian National Railways locomotive engineer in western Ontario for 39 years, Walter Lee Messer, 54, died suddenly of a heart attack Friday. He came to London 10 years ago after living for 21 years in Palmerston. Born in Morris township, Huron county, he is survived by His widow, Cora; a son, Dr. Vernon R. Messer, Windsor, Ont., and two sisters.

10 Ships For Winter

GODERICH (CP)—Ten boats with storage grain will spend the winter in Goderich harbor. It is the largest winter fleet in a number of years and will carry a total of 5,380,000 bushels of grain afloat. The Mohawk Deer arrived Friday and tied up for the season. Others are Mantadoc, Scotiadoc, Windoc, Algorail, Saskadoc, Vandoc, Algosoo, Algoway, Evereton.

Mont St. Michel In France One Of Wonders Of World

Built on a small island with a single street that climbs to one of the wonders of the world, is the 1100-year-old Mont St. Michel. Situated near the borders of Brittany and Normandy in France, Mont St. Michel is an abbey which is one of the most astounding pieces of architecture in the country.

Dominating an immense bay, and isolated at low tide by moving sands, this sanctuary fortified in the 15th century is connected at the ground by a stone dyke from which you can watch the waves hurl themselves across the sand as the tide rises. The Mont is a veritable challenge hurled at the ocean by the builders who raised the abbey on the stark granite rock.

Normandy is a most interesting province and, in some parts, the excellent farm lands and cattle are reminders of Ontario. There are wonderful old cathedral cities such as Rouen; there are the battlefields of World War II; the sea coast; and colorful and quaint costumes farther from the larger centres.

Mont St. Michel has lured visitors for many years to view it with awe and wonder. How such a magnificent piece of work was built so long ago, gives the tourist food for thought.

The abbey dates back to the eighth century when St. Aubert is said to have seen St. Michael in a vision. So he founded the great abbey on a rocky islet off the shores of Normandy.

SPIRIT OF THE MIDDLE AGES

The Abbey of Mont St. Michel-au-Peril-de-la-Mer—to give it its full name—was rebuilt in the 11th and 12th centuries. It was during the 13th century that it was much added to and beautified through the French kings Philip Augustus and St. Louis (1180-1233 and 1226-1270).

The edifice called "The Marvel" contains the principal halls and apartments of the abbey. It presents the visitor with an assemblage that is unique in the revelation of the art and spirit of the Middle Ages. From the cloister with its slender columns of rosy granite, through the harmonious Romanesque and Flamboyant church, down to ancient streets and alleys, the gates and ramparts, everything on the Mount is worthy of admiration. The Mount has had its bad days too. During Napoleon's time, it served as a prison.

As Normans are known for their good humor and zest for life, so Normandy is noted for its good food. The province is famous for its Calvados cider and such things as Coquille St. Jacques.

In contrast to the massive abbey, Mont St Michel is also famous for its delicious, fluffy omelettes. As you walk along the cobbled street lined with shops and restaurants, you find most of them feature these omelettes made on an open fire while you watch. The official name for this delicacy is "the omelette of Mme. Poulard."

ECONOMICAL HOLIDAY

For a tourist with a limited budget, Normandy has much to offer. Excellent trips to Mont St. Michel can be made from Paris or Caen on French National Railroad buses for a very reasonable sum. If you want to stop over and enjoy the countryside, there is a good choice of accommodation. You can generally get food and room for a total of $4-$5 a day. The best months to plan such a visit are May, July and September.

The famous old city of Rouen, although damaged by bombing in World War II is still a museum city. It is the place where Joan of Arc was burned at the stake and there is much to interest tourists

Caen, now in the process of rebuilding, is an excellent headquarters for visiting the battle areas and military cemetery at Reny-sur-Mer where many Peterborough boys are buried. The people of Caen are very anxious to have Canadians come. Those who prefer to plan their own trips will find Mr P. Duquesnne of the commissariat General du Tourisme there very helpful about making arrangements.

Canadians are well received in Normandy Their fine war record and historical ties are an open sesame. Today in Quebec, there are many touches of the early Norman settlers that make you feel quite at home when you visit their birthplace.

Drowned In Creek

ALMONTE (CP) — Six-year-old Gordon Van Dusen was drowned Friday when he attempted to skate on the thin ice of a creek near here. Playmates notified police, who recovered the boy's body within 30 minutes of the accident. Attempts to revive him failed. Almonte is 30 miles southwest of Ottawa.

Oppose TV Licence Fee

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Essex county council Friday passed a resolution asking the federal government not to impose licence fees on television sets in this area until there is a Canadian TV station operating here. Reeve Barry E. Atkinson of Sandwich East said it would be "ridiculous" to pay a fee to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation when the CBC gives no television service to Windsor.

New Regime Plans Reforms In Israeli

TEL AVIV (Reuters)—Israel's shaky government resigned Friday to make way for a new two-party regime pledged to a widespread reform program.

The Socialist prime minister, David Ben-Gurion, handed his resignation to President Yitzhak Ben-Zvi and is expected to name his coalition cabinet next Monday.

The new coalition will bring the right-wing General Zionist party into partnership with Ben-Gurion's leftist Mapai (United Labor Party). The Mapai will still hold the top posts of premier, foreign affairs and defence.

The new government is pledged to wipe out unnecessary controls, slash government spending, create conditions to attract foreign investors, and balance the budget.

The coalition also plans to put through a law weeding splinter parties from Parliament to end the harassing political atmosphere of the republic's first 4½ years. The law would wipe out at least a dozen midget political groups, leaving only four or five parties in the Knesset (Parliament) after the next general election in 1955.

Wreck Victim Better

ST. THOMAS (CP)—Charles Fraser, 30, of London, severely injured Wednesday in a Wabash Railway train wreck here, was reported Friday night in "fairly good" general condition by hospital authorities. He had been on the "critical" list. Still in hospital but reported in "good" condition was Harold Clarke, 43, of St. Thomas.

Crowd Overflows Concert Hall In Norwood

NORWOOD (ENS)—More than a capacity crowd was at the Norwood Town Hall Thursday evening for the annual Christmas concert put on by the pupils of the Norwood public sch... and sponsored by the Home and School Association.

David McNiel was chairman. The program numbers included the opening chorus, "Kittens" and "Up On the House Top" by Miss Ruth Avery's room; nursery rhymes and songs by the kindergarten, Mrs. Mary Small's room; candy stick drill, Miss Avery's room; chorus, "A Jolly Old Fellow" by Mrs. Jean McMillan's room; drill, "The Christmas Tree", Miss Beatrice Borland's room; "The Star Drill", Mrs. Jean McMillen's room; chorus room 3, Miss Borland, "When I Think of Bethlehem"; chorus, "At Christmas" and "Christmas Candles", by Mrs. Reta Pakenham's rom; "Flag Drill" by the boys of Mrs. Pakenham's room; chorus, "Tipperary" and "There's Something About A Soldier", Mr. Sinclair's room; chorus, "A Joke On Santa Claus" and "Wreaths and Garlands" by Mr. Kenneth Trumpour's room; Tumbling, by Mr. Sinclair's room; "Shoemaker's Dance" by the girls of Mrs. Pakenham's room. Kenneth Trumpour's class presentation of a playlet, "Paul Ducks the Dentist", was well acted.

A well-trained group from Mr. Sinclair's room presented a play, "Wildcat Willie."

Mrs. Kenneth Pakenham called on Mr. Hazel, the pianist of the evening and the music teacher, and presented him with a gift on behalf of the teachers and the association.

Mrs. John J. Stewart, president of the Home and School Association addressed the gathering and invited more parents to attend the home and school meetings and thanked those who had helped to make the evening a success and especially the teaching staff.

"Here Comes Santa Claus" was sung as Santa arrived and distributed gifts to the children.

PARISH CALL — Father George Hart, 36-year-old Roman Catholic padre, makes his "parish calls" by helicopter. Canadian chaplain for 10 months with United Nations naval forces off Korea, Father Hart now is resting up at his home in Vancouver. He is shown being pulled back into the helicopter from the gun turret of a ship. To say mass aboard Canadian destroyers he would drop into the ships from the end of a steel cable suspended from the helicopter.

LONG DISTANCE is always "rushed" at Christmas. So many people want to greet absent friends and families that delays on many calls are simply unavoidable.

Calls reach their peak Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. Then, even though every switchboard is manned to capacity and every operator is working at top speed, delays will occur. And some calls to distant points like the far West, the Maritimes and south of the border may not get through at all.

That's why it's a good idea to call before the rush.

Please remember—that Long Distance calls will go through much faster before Christmas Eve and after Christmas Day. It always helps if you can give your Long Distance operator the out-of-town number you are calling.

A Curb On Contempt Proceedings

An amendment to the Criminal Code proposed by Senator Arthur Roebuck is of the widest interest; its purpose is to curb the unlimited powers which judges now possess in matters relating to contempt of court. As matters stand, a judge who feels that contempt has been shown to the court of which he is the principal officer may impose any penalty he pleases, and there is no appeal against it. Understandably, the judge is guided by his own good sense but it is not a good law which relies so heavily upon anyone's good sense. The law is a net of interwoven precautions, designed to keep in check any excesses, either of the officers of the law or offenders against the law.

* * *

Last year an appeal against a sentence for contempt was made before a Canadian court, and in opposing it a Crown counsel cited an instance in 1631 in which a prisoner threw a brick at the presiding judge; within fifteen minutes, at the order of the offended judge, the offender's right hand had been cut off and he had been hanged in the courtroom. Now there is no question that if a judge were to order such a punishment for contempt today, there would be widespread criticism of his action, and there might even be questions about it in Parliament. Nevertheless, there seems to be no reason why such a sentence should not be imposed, if the judge felt like it. Times have changed, and some check on the sentences imposed for contempt is needed.

* * *

The Roebuck proposal is that if the contempt is committed in court (which might mean that a witness insolently refused to answer questions put to him) there may be an appeal against the sentence imposed, but not against the conviction. After all, a judge may be expected to know better than anyone else if the behaviour of a witness is contemptuous, or merely stupid or confused. But if the contempt is outside the court (which generally means that a newspaper report has been published which the judge considers prejudicial to a fair trial) there shall be appeal against both the conviction and the sentence.

* * *

The Roebuck proposal does not curb the power of a judge to rule his court in any important way. But it does give protection against judicial wrath which may be the result of misunderstanding, ill-temper or a prideful desire to humble someone who has been annoying, but not necessarily contemptuous. The incorporation of the recommedation into the Criminal Code will not result in any sudden outbreak of contempt toward the courts of Canada, for the punishment will be still in the hands of every judge in the land. But it will not be an unlimited power, nor will it be free from appeal, and in a democracy these are necessary checks on all power. We hope that Parliament will lose no time in making Senator Roebuck's recommendation law.

Family Farming In Ontario

Often only an outsider is able to note the unusual in a familiar situation, or even to point out an important usual aspect so common in the sight of reasoning of the native people it is that they never give it a thought. In its recent survey of Ontario the London Times Weekly notes that farming in Ontario is a family affair. Of course it is; what interests us is that the English paper has thought this important enough to mention:

> Farming in Ontario is a family affair. The average size of the farms is about 125 acres. This is as much as one man can manage alone with a son driving the tractor and his wife and daughters milking the cows and feeding the hens. Children start working about the farm earlier —and, some think, harder—than British children. This may be one reason for the drift to the cities with their attraction of apparently higher wages and a five-day week.

The shorter hours and, in industry though less often in business, the five-day week, undoubtedly do attract young men and women. Another aspect is now important, which the Times does not mention. Farming is becoming less a family concern and more a business, with the farmer as manager. Young men of ability, experience on the farm, and perhaps with agricultural college training, are making it a business, and a highly profitable one. These keen and alert farmers, liking farm life and at the same time sharply assessing its business opportunities, are transforming farm life and farming methods, and often making far more money than their friends who left the land to work in business or factories.

We know of several instances in this district where in the last twenty years a farm investment of only a few thousand dollars has been transformed by able management, and a sharp eye for markets as much as by hard slogging, into hundreds of thousands of dollars. A farm enterprise worth that sort of money is not "family farming" but a specialized business, an industry in itself.

There has been a drift from the land into cities. The results have been rather good. It has been compensated for by immigrants from Europe, particularly the Dutch, who, unlike other immigrants are inclined to stay on the land. The trek of farmers and farmers sons to towns and industry has, in some cases, been a benefit to farming. Some of these men who left were not suited to farming under modern conditions and are better off the land. Sometimes the land is better off without them.

Uneconomic farming is not to be praised. Some farms were too small or poor to provide an adequate living. Farmers who remain have increased their holdings and machinery, improved their crops and herds, and done a better job for agriculture as a whole than their predecessors did.

At the beginning of this century the majority of Ontario people lived on and by the land. Now only thirteen per cent. of the population is rural. Yet farm production continues to increase. Last year Ontario's farm production was the highest on record, valued at $1,250,000,000. Family farming in Ontario continues to be good for the Province and people, but it is family farming transformed by machines, education, greater holdings, better knowledge, and alert farmers, their wives and children who live as comfortably and conveniently as the most comfortable urban people with city conveniences.

The term "city conveniences" is becoming outmoded. Most good farms today have all the so-called city conveniences, and fewer city inconveniences. An attractive slogan for city properties now seems: "all country conveniences". Another old notion should be discarded: that the farmer works harder than his city cousins. Often his work is more muscular, but even in this many farmers today are employing hired help and machines for the donkey work, as city people operating their own small businesses and industries employ manual labour and bulldozers.

Any man who runs his own business works hard, whether in city or country. Shop keepers do not have a five-day, forty-hour week. Nor do store or factory managers. The fact is that anybody in directive position who is making his way works long, hard hours on and off the job. Most farming is seasonal. There are bouts of hard overtime work in spring and summer, but working hours shorten with the days. In fact, many Ontario farmers who operate their farms as a business and consider agriculture as an industry, are able to take a month off in winter and relax in Florida or California.

It is these pleasures and profits which are attracting many able farmers' sons. To work a ten-thousand dollar farm investment into a hundred thousand dollar estate takes brains, skill, hard work, and luck. But to increase ten thousand dollars by any means but gambling, into a hundred thousand dollars requires the same sort of abilities, energies and circumstances.

A Loss To Canadian Letters

The sudden death of Dr. John D. Robins of Victoria College is a loss to Canadian letters. He was a writer of pleasing quality, and an anthologist who did much to bring Canadian writing into perspective through his taste and wide-ranging choice. He was encouraging to younger writers, and as a professor of English he moulded the taste of many Canadians who are perceptive lovers of literature today.

He was a genial man, easily approachable and delightful to talk to. In appearance somewhat reminiscent of Theodore Roosevelt, he had the enthusiasm and hearty laugh of that statesman. He was a first-rate talker and an admirable raconteur, but he was not a conversational soloist; he understood the give-and-take of conversation perfectly. As a lecturer he was gifted, for although he was known as a humorist he did not pepper his lectures with jokes, nor did he appear to strain after humorous effect. His humour was rather of the spirit; he saw life in humorous terms, and in expressing his point of view he had no need to strain after obvious effects. He was never vain or pretentious, and his manner before an audience of several hundred was exactly the same as his manner in private converation, when allowance had been made for the necessity of making himself heard.

As he was only 63 we may feel that his death came too soon. He was a man whose company the world would have enjoyed for another twenty years, without having too much of him.

NOTES AND COMMENT

Mrs. Roosevelt says that education is wasted on an empty stomach. It isn't much use to an empty head, either.

"Look up, not down, when walking" writes a posture expert, who obviously didn't have to learn that verse about Little Johnny Head-in-Air when he was a child.

The Journal of Samuel Marchbanks

SUNDAY: Because I have a chess set many of my visitors invite me to play a game with them, whereupon I declare that I cannot play, which is not strictly true. What I really mean is that I cannot play well. I am always hoping that some remarkable hiatus in my work will appear—some period of three or four months during which I shall be able to apply myself to chess for two or three hours each day, playing over championship games and working out problems; after such a course of training, I would be ready to try my skill. But for years chess has been one of my frustrations; the very thought of the game fills me with warm enthusiasm, and now and then I play a game against myself, which invariably ends in a curious muddle unknown to chess masters, called Marchbanks' Impasse. In it, no piece on either side may be moved without a general slaughter ensuing. I shrink from exposing my chess cretinism to those who really play the game.

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: Walking home in the dusk this evening I was alarmed to see a boy on a bicycle rush directly at the side of a moving car, which passed just in time to prevent an accident in which that boy would certainly have emerged in a form indistinguishable from cranberry jelly. But was he perturbed? No, he shrieked "Whyn'cha use yer head?" at the car, and whizzed dizzily in and out through a line of traffic; he had made his crossing against a red light. And yet if he had been killed, I suppose he would have been the first one to whine to the police, and the motorist would have been deemed a monster, because he had killed a Little Child. Yet this reprehensible brat was but a motorist in miniature. Put wheels under a human being, and he becomes indifferent to all ordinary rules of caution; he falls victim to the delusion that he is godlike and indestructible. Even roller skates are enough to bring on this form of madness. Now and then I hear great praise for that unknown genius who, in the dawn of Time, invented the Wheel; but he also unleashed the furious egotism of the human race.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: Was awakened during the night by a furious thunder storm, the loudest that I have heard in many years. Some people dread such storms, but I rather like them, and I lay in bed enjoying the thumps and bangs until I became conscious of indigestion gnawing at my vitals. I became so interested in this that I forgot about the storm. Why should I have indigestion in the night? True, I always eat something, or many things, before I go to bed, and I know from experience that when I have gone to sleep all my inner organs go to sleep too, and shut off their power, or perhaps turn it down to a quarter of its normal rate. My indigestion is probably caused by food which is lying inside me, waiting for morning, when my gizzard wakes up and attends to business. But does this mean that I have indigestion all night, every night, and am not conscious of it unless something wakens me? This is a solemn thought. To be the victim of a chronic illness, and not to know about it, is to be cheated. One should be conscious of one's indispositions, assessing their violence and issuing occasional bulletins about them to one's friends. I shall sleep with one eye open for a while, and see what goes on.

✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: To a concert tonight to hear a tenor. Sometimes I wish that the custom of dividing singers into sopranos, contraltos, tenors and basses (with baritones as musical odd-job men) could be abandoned. How much more satisfactory if they were just called Good Singers (male or female) and Bad Singers (m. or f.). At present every tenor tries so hard to be a tenor, and develops a kind of elegant yell on his high notes which is the trademark of his class. Similarly basses are much more solemn and menacing than is necessary (except when they unbend and sing "The Song of the Flea", when their jocosity becomes unbearable). Sopranos are not content merely to sing; they must eek-eek their way through a dreadful piece in which they imitate a bird, or other squeaky creature. And contraltos moo, like beeves at pasture. If only they would give it all up, and just sing their very best! Of course, this would be the ruin of opera, in which gaunt basses must be villains, and jolly good yellers the heroes; sopranos, however frazzled or downright malignant in appearance, are virgin heroines, and contraltos are usually poisoners or mothers to the tenor. Take sex out of singing, and give us music!

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: Some children I know gave me a meal this evening, including gingerbread men they had made themselves. Gingerbread men are stout, hippy creatures, with raisin eyes and nut-chips for waistcoat buttons, and I ate several, pondering the while on the odd cannibal symbolism of it all. My hostess asked me many questions, including this one: "Did Bell really invent the telephone in Brantford?" They had been told this in school, and having a strong strain of the heretic in them, they suspected that Bell might really have done his unforgiveable deed in Boston. I managed to avoid the question, which is like "Where did Calvin Coolidge die?". Fact names one undistinguished chamber in his dwelling, and official history another. We must take a broad view on these matters.

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: A lot of people I know are reading "A Sense of Urgency", the autobiography of Mr. C. L. Burton, the noted Canadian merchant, and so I read it myself, and was impressed by it. It is, in effect, the story of Dick Whittington without his cat. Dick, like Mr. Burton, was a serious, in strious, high-minded person who rose to eminence by attending to business. But the charm of Dick's story lies in his relations with his Cat; although Dick helped himself in every way he could, it was the Cat who brought him several quite unpredictable turns of good luck, and Dick's affection for his Cat is a delightful and irrational element in an otherwise sober character. Mr. Burton had no Cat; he was the single-handed architect of his own fortunes, and although this is admirable I do not find it of compelling interest. Every man's life ought to have a Whittington's Cat in it—something outside himself which distracts him from the strict path of duty, and which leads him into surprising and romantic escapades. I rather suspect Mr. Burton really has a Cat of some sort, but was afraid to put it in the book, because Canadians rather mistrust Whittington's Cats. If so, it was a pity, for though Whittington was a nice chap, the Cat was enchanting.

SATURDAY: I am the repository of more secrets than I can hold these days. Everybody I know is buying a Christmas present for everybody else I know, and they all tell me what it is. I am also much tormented by people who are intent upon something which they call Putting Christ Back Into Christmas; as it has never occurred to me with any force that He was absent from Christmas, and as I lack any special influence which would make me a valuable ally in this matter, I can be of no help, and this is interpreted as nullifidianism on my part. I find myself also to be the subject of many heart-rendering appeals for charity, and while I admire the work of charitable institutions I wonder why they choose to assail me and the rest of the public at a time when we have the greatest demands in all the year upon our shabby purses. The Christmas shopping I have done is not, I suppose, adequate, but anybody who dares to say so is offending against the Christmas Spirit, and is a scoundrel. And so, with the exception of those who have written offensive messages to me during the past year, I wish all my readers a Merry Christmas. I shall toast you in Malmsey on the Great Day! (Teetotallers toasted in tea by special arrangement.)

Letters To The Editor

IS "CITIZEN" A SCROOGE?

Sir: In answer to the letter criticizing he Collegiate Choir Carol Singers. Why blast the children so hard? If you don't like it you can walk away and not listen to them.

Personally, I think they have done a fairly nice job of their carol singing. These carol singers sacrifice time and energy and hope to please folk in their efforts.

As for their costumes, they are supposed to represent old time carol singers and they have to provide their own costumes. Maybe our "Citizen" can supply something more suitable.

In Canada as in other Christian countries we sing Carols at Christmas time, and in our Churches too. Did they not sing carols on that First Christmas Day?

Hope Citizen hasn't developed Scrooge's attitude toward Christmas and life in general.

Here's wishing you a Merry, Merry Christmas, "Citizen".

Yours truly,
"MOTHER OF ONE"

DON'T LISTEN TO SCROOGE

Sir: After reading the letter written by Disgusted Citizen, I am left with the opinion that Chas. Dickens' Scrooge still lives in the hearts of some people. Scrooge, not satisfied with being miserable himself, wants to spread it around.

It is rather hard to believe that anyone could be so catty as to write such a thing.

These young folks have been practising for weeks to put this carol singing over. In the first place it wasn't their idea, it was part of the city's program to liven up the Christmas shopping period.

Some of these young people had to go without lunch at noon in order to have their practice.

The old clothes you refer to are in keeping with the old tradition of carol singing in the streets at Christmas time. They represent many years ago maybe, as far back as when Chas. Dickens was writing his famous "Christmas Carol."

No, I think if this citizen was to stop and think of the real reason why these youngsters are out and the hard work they went through to put this thing over to say nothing of the time Mr. Curtis has given in teaching and working with them, she or he would not be so anxious to throw stones.

It takes good old fashioned guts to get out in the cold among so many people and sing in perfect harmony without music. Up to now the only remarks I have heard have been to their credit. Keep up the good work Mr. Curtis, and kids you are doing a fine job. Don't let one old grouch get you down.

Yours truly,
ONE OF THE MOTHERS

CHARITABLE

Visitors to the house in the daytime made so much noise that the night nurse could not get sufficient rest.

One day she mentioned this to the doctor, who wrote a large notice bearing the words: "Please remember the night nurse," and placed it on the hall table.

Next evening when she came on duty, she found, beneath the notice, a dollar and a small pile of coppers.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn for her . . . For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing stream . . . As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem. (Isa. 66: 10, 12, 13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven . . . O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day . . . Make thy face to shine upon thy servant; and teach me thy statutes. (Ps. 119: 89, 97, 135.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Many there be which say of my soul, There is no help for him in God. Selah. But thou, O Lord, art a shield for me; my glory, and the lifter up of mine head. I cried unto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill. Selah. (Ps. 3: 2-4.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars: and she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered . . . And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne. (Rev. 12; 1, 2, 5.)

O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters.

Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise. (Jer. 17: 13, 14.)

Azisullah Haid and His Gin

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

Canadians who have muttered, or spoken loudly and forthrightly, about the very heavy tax their governments place on all liquors and other potables, which are dispensed largely by government monopolies, may regard Azisullah Hadi as a lucky fellow. On the other hand, they may regard him as an unfortunate chap who has purchased a huge headache, in more ways than one. Mr. Hadi has just bought 110,448 bottle of distilled dry gin, at something less than a cent a bottle.

The liquor, 3,602 cases of Duncan Ross gin from the Virgin Islands, was abandoned in a New York warehouse eight years ago. At an auction held about two months ago, no one bid for it, and officials feared it would have to be smashed, bottle by bottle. Last week, however, at another auction, Mr. Hadi offered $1,080.60 for the lot and acquired it. He said he figured that even the empty bottles would be worth more than he had paid.

Regardless of his remark about empty bottles, Mr. Hadi was gambling on possible resale abroad—and ran into his first headache. Every case must be broken open, every stamp removed, the bottles repacked and the U.S. Internal Revenue stencil removed. Even so, he could make a profit of approximately $20,000, if he can find a customer abroad, but the idea of importing a luxury from a dollar nation will be unattractive.

As for trying to get his money's worth out of it in the manner that will occur to many people—well, that many bottles of gin represents a veritable Niagara of Collinses and Martinis. Mr. Hadi is undoubtedly wise to avoid this colossal headache by determining to abandon his penny gin if he cannot export it.

See the Blazing Yule Before Us

Something went wrong with the Christmas tree lights last year around New Year and they were just stored away. Now, they were hauled out and draped about. They wouldn't work, of course. We took out each bulb and rattled it. Those that shook we cast aside and a young runner galloped to the corner store for replacements. They all worked now, but two. Another trip to the store. Finally the tree-top ornament refused to function.

"Hand me the screwdiver, son, till I straighten this socket base . . . "

F-L-A-S-Hhhhhhhhhhhh . . . . $&%lb£$ X

So, we now have three brand new strings of lights, one melted screwdriver, first-degree burns. The children's carolling grates on my nerves as they sing:

'Good Christian men, Re-joi-oi-oice,
With heart and soul and voi-oi-oice.'

Holy smoke, I forgot to wrap my wife's present!

I hear the dog rustling about. Does she want to go ut AGAIN?

Or, do I hear mice pattering around in the living oom?

Yeah, mice—the kind that sidle around the bed and ow one of those cardboard party horns in our ears and hout:

MERRY CHRIST-MUS ! !

Love, Joy, Peace Really Chime

To call the fold to church on time,
We chime.
When joy or mirth are on the wing,
We ring.
When we lament a departed soul,
We toll.

Peterborough citizens hear Christmas carols these days, through day and night, at every tuning point of the radio dial. Their ears are insulted by tinny renditions on the streets as loud speakers blare out the familiar music. And both ears and eyes are insulted by snowy screenings of Christmas carol commercials on television.

But there is nothing quite as touching and homely as the music from the People's Chimes. The tunes float across the city from the belfry of St. John's Anglican Church, and echo back again from the rolling Otonabee River hills.

Any day now as the festival of Christ's Nativity approaches, the verger of St. John's Richard Ford—will climb the shaky ladder stairs to the first floor of the belfry.

It is cold, drafty and dirty up there, a storage room for furled flags, coils of dusty ropes, mops and brooms. Light filters into the drafty stone chamber through a dusty gothic window, sufficient for Mr. Ford to stand by the east wall at the 13 pull ropes of the People's Chimes and read the lettered patterns of Christmas carol music.

As the ropes are pulled in rhythmic time the clappers strike out their strong notes and scatter the roosting pigeons like flying chaff. The People's Chimes are packed into the top half of the church tower on a stout timber framework 20 feet deep by about 14 feet square. The Number One, or C tenor bell weighs 3,360 pounds and is set upside down at the bottom of the stack of bells. Bells D and E hang above it; bells F, F sharp and G, hang on the third tier and the seven smallest chimes—A, B flat, B natural, C, C sharp D and E—under the topmost timbers.

The first chimes' ringer, the late John Butcher, played them for 24 years.

In the tradition of all chimes, each bell has its name cast on the sides except for Number One. This bell is unnamed and replaces the original St. John's bell which was sent to All Saint's Church in 1910. The remaining twelve chimes are named as follows:

2. Love
3. Joy
4. Peace
5. Long Suffering
6. Gentleness
7. Goodness
8. Faith
9. Meekness
10. Temperance
11. In Memory of Mrs. Sarah Fitzgerald
12. Perserverance to the End.

The subscription campaign for the People's Chimes was carried on for a long period prior to 1910. The fund was finally raised and the chimes arrived from England and were installed. They were dedicated at an impressive ceremony on June 22, 1911, Coronation Day of the late George V. In a few months from now they will peal again on the occasion of the coronation of his granddaughter, Queen Elizabeth II.

Meanwhile, the chimes will play intermittently during the "Twelve days of Christmas" so that citizens may enjoy the age-old music that springs from the heart at this glad season of the year.

Your Garden:

Amaryllis Requires Little Attention

BY HENRY PREE (NEA)

The amaryllis, says the old gardener, is certain to please since little care is required to produce its spectacular and beautiful flowers. Each bulb rarely fails to produce one or more stalks bearing three to six giant blooms.

Amaryllis bulbs are offered now by seedmen and florists and may be planted at this time. After potting, place in a moderately warm spot, out of the strong light, until they show signs of growing. The only moisture necessary at this time is that applied when potting the bulb.

Many florists do not pot the bulbs until the first of the year, unless they show signs of growth in the interim. However, I suggest that the gardener pot his bulb when purchased.

The soil should retain moisture but be sandy enough to drain quickly so as to avoid sogginess. Equal parts of peat moss, good garden loam, and sharp sand with one-half teaspoonful of any good fertilizer, dry or liquod, makes a good mixture. Because drainage is so important, there should be an inch of borekn pot or pebbles in the bottom of the pot before the soil is put in.

An old rule says to use a pot one inch greater in diameter than the bulb. In any case, the bulb should be set half in and half out of the soil.

When the bulb shows signs of growth, it should then be given several hours of sunlight every day it shines As it grows, give more water and turn the pot half around each day to keep the flower stem straight as it grows toward the light Most potted plants bloom in February or March.

After the flowers fade, continue to water the plant to encourage the foliage. As soon as danger of frost is past, place outdoors, sinking the pots to their rim in a half-shaded spot.

All summer and fall the plants must be watered to keep them in active growth. Weak manure water at three-week intervals will help develop the bulb that is smooth and plump and packed with buds for next season's bloom.

As cold weather approaches, use less water, and bring indoors before heavy frosts. Set the pot in a warm basement where it needs little light and only enough water to keep from drying out completely.

After a rest of two or three months, the plant will start the cycle again.

It will be three or four years before it will be necessary to repot the bulb. It is well to scrape a little of the soil from the top of the pot each year when the bulb is brought to the light. The less disturbance to the roots, the better for the bulb.

Amaryllis bulbs may be potted now and need no care until they show signs of growth

Gardening Questions

Q—When should a straw mulch be placed on the strawberry patch? Some advise us to wait until the ground is frozen, others say now.

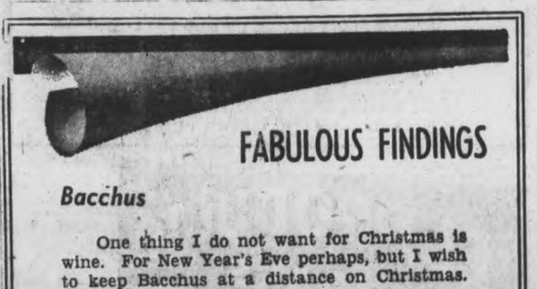
A— Old-time gardeners applied the mulch after the ground was frozen hard. Experience has taught the old gardener to mulch before the temperature drops to 20 degrees. If strawberry plants are subjected to early freezing the crown of the plant as well as many of the roots may be injured and the stored food destroyed. So mulch now.

Q—How should I cover Delphiniums to protect them over winter?

A—Delphiniums, according to the experts, winter better if they are not covered. However, the old gardener still spreads a little sand over the crown to protect the very early growth.

Q—Where does one buy seed of native wild flowers?

A—Few seedsmen offer wildflower seed because propagation is easier otherwise.



FABULOUS FINDINGS

Bacchus

One thing I do not want for Christmas is wine. For New Year's Eve perhaps, but I wish to keep Bacchus at a distance on Christmas. This Bacchus is a potent one.

The infant Bacchus in ancient times was taken by Jove and reared by the Nysaean nymphs. As he grew up he discovered the culture of the vine and how to extract its precious juice. But Juno struck him with a madness and sent him forth a wanderer. Finally the goddess Rhea cured him and taught him religious rites, so he set out through Asia teaching people the cultivation of the vine. He toured India as well and returned in triumph to Greece.

There he sought to introduce his odd worship but some princes opposed him because of the disorders and madness it brought. King Pentheus was furious when he learned that many of his subjects were welcoming this immoral immortal, the women apparently being even more enthused than the men.

One captured follower of Bacchus told the king of mutiny at sea when sailors tried to kidnap a younger Bacchus for ransom, but they were turned into fish as the god produced a chaplet of vine leaves and filled the air with the odor of fragrant wine. (It was not written which kind of fish these fellows made—and perhaps the fighting muskie of this region is a distant relation.)

But the obstinate king went forth to halt the peculiar Bacchanalian worshipping ceremony, and there he was torn asunder by the multitude, led by his frenzied mother and her aunts. No, I crave no wine this Christmas

Oddfellows Earn A Win Over Belleville, 9-5 To Climb Closer To Top

Turning in their best game so far this season, the local Oddfellows trimmed the leading Belleville Hawklets 9-5 here last night before a fair-sized crowd of fans in a fast OHA junior "B" fixture. It was only the third loss of the season for Belleville and the win gave IOOF a firmer grip on second slot in the standing ahead of Kingston Vics. They roared to a 5-0 lead in the first frame and had an 8-2 margin going into the third when the Quinte crew made their strongest bid. Play was speedy throughout and clean, Hawklets drawing four of the seven minor penalties.

COYLE LEADS

Gord Coyle returned to action with a hand in a cast and led the home lamp-lighters with three markers, singles going to Dick McCracken, Ken Floyd, Bill Twist, Clare Ferguson, Leo Sullivan and Roger Smith. Twist led in assists with three, as two each were counted by Bob Gardner, Ferguson and Sullivan. The others were by Paul Doris, Gary Kearns and Murray Byrne. It was a fine team effort, the club checking well, also. Bob Delahaye was hot in the home net.

For the losers, Henry Therrien blasted home a brace, with Dave Jones, Ray Hermiston and Pat Gilmour good for one apiece. Jones helped plenty, as well, with three assists, singles being marked to Johnny Casey, Doug Hull, Gilmour and Therrien. Goalie Don Barclay didn't have much chance on those that beat him, two being partly deflected in by home defenders.

WENT TO WORK

Coyle returned from an early cross-checking penalty and Links went to work. Smith banged in the first and they kept pressing. Sullivan bulleted a terrific drive from outside defence on Gardner's passout for No. 2. Whalen drew a finger for holding the puck and Stocco followed for hooking, leaving them shy two for a minute. It cost a goal. Coyle counting in a ganging attack. Both were back when Green got it for tripping and Doug Mortimer's men struck hard again to notch two in his absence and make it 5-0. Coyle got a neat one in close on a play with Twist and Ferguson. Less than half a minute later, Ferguson flashed fine finish to score a beauty on a thrust started down the ice by Twist and Byrne.

It was closer in the second but the Links had a margin on territorial play and shots on goal. Twist got a quickie ganging up with Ferguson and Sullivan aiding, husky Leo being prominent on the attack all evening. Jones broke the egg for Belleville on a neat dash inside with Therrien and Gilmour. Floyd got it back later on a fast bit of work on a passout, Kearns and Sullivan aiding. Floyd went over the wall for hooking but was back when McCracken—a hard worker all the way—got in with Doris and Gardner for a smart tally. Hermiston blinked the light for the second Quinte counter on a hot shot after a play was fashioned by Hull and Casey and spilled out in front of Delahaye at top speed.

COSTLY PENALTY

Frizzelle drew an early high-sticking penalty in the third and it resulted in two Belleville markers. Gilmour and Therrien tore in close to hammer the disc into the hemp, Jones assisting on both. With Frizzelle back, play was hot and even the rest of the way, and generally clean despite the odd hard check. Stocco drew a penalty for high-sticking but it did no damage A little after the halfway mark, Coyle reeled in rapidly with Twist's pass to catch a net corner for the Triple Links, but Therrien got it back within a minute on a drive inside with Jones. That ended the scoring. Teams:

Belleville: Goal, Barclay; defence, Stocco and Green; centre, Hull; wings, Casey and Hermiston; alts., Jones, Therrien, Gilmour, Perlini, Parsauik, Jacklin and Whalen.

IOOF: Goal, Delahaye; defence, Frizzelle and Wilson; centre, Twist; wings, Coyle and Ferguson; alts., Sullivan, Byrne, Kearns, Floyd, Smith, McCracken, Doris and Gardner.

Referee, M. Walsh; linesman B. Kingdon.

Petes Lose Close Tussle To Belleville 5-4 Fighting Threatens In Third

BELLEVILLE (Special)—Staving off a desperate third period rally, the Belleville Glen Roys raced through to their fifth victory in six starts in a hard fought senior "B" battle with Peterborough Petes here last night. The score was 5-4. The Glens clung to their fourth spot position in the league standing with 14 points, four behind the league leading Oshawa Truckers. They meet the Stouffville Clippers tonight in Stouffville. More than 1,000 fans saw a battle that did not produce any sensational hockey.

The third period was the best with war threatening at any minute. Seven of the game's thirteen penalties were handed out by referee Stan Scrutton in this heat, with the Petes' Hunter and Glens' Semark being banished with majors for the only fistic uprising of the game.

The Glens came from behind twice in the first period to tie the count at two-all. Paced by the playing coach Red Doran they flung home two markers from the stick of the sorrel-topped mentor in the second period in the first eight minutes, yielded a loner to the Petes after 15 minutes of play, and again grabbed a two-goal lead with seconds to go.

ROUGH IN THIRD

Play roughened in the third period as the checking got harder. The Petes drove hard in a desperate effort to cut the margin and they shaved it to one after 13 minutes of play. Red Doran whipped in close on Harding in this period, missing open net on two different occasions. Tony Parisi shared hero honors wtih Ray Harding in the respective nets with the Glen goalie coming up with another brilliant third period effort.

The Petes, driving hard for the equalizer, yanked Goalie Harding with 15 seconds to go, but the Glens hurled back the threat as time ran out.

Coach Doran and Jackie Wardhaugh shared scoring honors for the Glens, each nabbing a brace of counters. Peter Jones scored the other on a brilliant solo effort after a breakaway. Sammy Mulholland was credited with two assists.

Doug Hunter accounted for two of the Petes' markers with Ted Collins and 'Toody" Greenlaw getting singles.

A goal-mouth pass that slithered in the Glens' net off a surprised Parisi's skate opened the scoring for the Petes after eight minutes of play in the first period. Tommy Schreider was serving a penalty at the time. Five minutes later Peter Jones grabbed a loose puck after the Petes ganging and raced through to beat Harding cleanly for the tying goal.

The Petes grabbed the lead again two minutes later when Greenlaw potted a pass from mates Leonard and Fryia after a smooth passing play. Montgomery and Wasson got the gate within seconds of each other and the Glens paid off with extra manpower. Wardhaugh evened the count with Sammy Mulholland with 18 seconds to go.

SCORED IN SECOND

The Glens took over in the second period. The frame was 25 seconds old when Red Doran took Vern Goyer's pass to give the Glens the lead for the first time. Six minutes later the Belleville coach trailed Sammy Mulholland's goalward dash and banged home the puck after Harding had kicked out the winger's hot drive. Hunter cut the margin to 4-3 with five minutes to go but Wardhaugh took Schreider's pass to put the Glens two up before the period ended.

The third period saw the best hockey of the night. Both teams "laid it on". The goalies kicked out drive after drive and the Petes finally clicked with a ganging attack after Vern Goyer was given the gate. That was Hunter's second goal.

The lineups:

Belleville: Goal, Parisi; defence, V. Goyer, Schreider, Reeves, Semark; forwards, Mulvihill, Mulholland, Macdonald, Doran, Jones, Day, Green, DeGray, Wardhaugh, McKee.

Peterborough: Goal, Harding; defence, Montgomery, Leonard, Armstrong, Wasson; forwards, Collins, Spiker, Fryia, Greenlaw, Legrow, Hunter, Floyd, West.

Referee, Stan Scrutton, Kingston, linesman, Red Carson, Belleville.

The summary:

First Period
Petes—Collins (Montgomery)	8:35
Belleville—Jones	13.26
Petes—Greenlaw (Leonard, Fryia)	15.13
Belleville—Wardhaugh (Mulholland)	19:42
Penalties—Montgomery 2, Schreider, Wasson.
Second Period
Belleville—Doran (Goyer)	:25
Belleville—Doran (Mulholland)	8:47
Petes—Hunter (Floyd, Collins)	15:09
Belleville—Wardhaugh (Schreider)	16:31
Penalties—Jones, Greenlaw, Semark.
Third Period
Petes—Hunter (Floyd)	13:31
Penalties—Hunter (major, minor), Semark (major), Mulvihill, Goyer, Doran, Montgomery.

SPORTS SNOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The veteran St. Kitts' columnist sounds quite elated in this quote: "For the first time in Garden City history a Canadian championship is being contested here. Granted that it is the open classification and not strictly confined to native Canucks, but it means that St. Kitts is being recognized in another popular pro pastime, the grappling game. In the same breath we can say this city is now ranked among the top four places in Ontario where the ace wrestlers show first. Toronto with its Maple Leaf Gardens heads the list. Hamilton is second, the Falls third and then St. Catharines, but the latter may rate third almost any time."

* * * * * *

Of course the pro grapplers have been showing here each winter for years, though they don't draw as well in Peterborough as in several other centres of similar size. We note a lot of the same huskies who perform here are seen in the St. Catharines mat ring. Guys like Lou Plummer and Dick Raines, the Texan villians, Whipper Watson, Pat Flanagan, Bobo Brazil, Chief Big Heart, Johnny Barend and others. These fellows strut their stuff before crowds up to 10,000 in Maple Leaf Gardens regularly, too, so local wrestling followers can't complain of lack of talent in Brock Arena shows. The grapplers expect to return on cards here sometime in January, but are off now for Christmas holidays in homes scattered o'er the continent.

* * * * * *

No Wolf at Their Doors

They're an interesting breed, pro wrestlers. While they do a lot of strutting and acting in the ring, yet frequent injuries show that they mix it hard, too. Big fellows, ranging anywhere from 220 to more than 300 pounds, they're in great condition as they wrestle two and three times a week. The late Phil Lawson, promoter for Frank Tunney's Ontario mat interests, told us several years ago that even a mediocre heavyweight grappler averages $12,000 a year, while the topnotchers at that time did better than $30,000. Not too many pro athletes in any line of sport in the world do better than that, eh? Television has boosted the game plenty the past few years, also. Georgeous George and other colorful mat characters have millions of TV fans in the U.S.A.

* * * * * *

Speaking of TV, we note an item by Murray Kennedy in the Kingston paper where he predicts more popularity for stock car racing as races over the border are to be televised next summer. Events at Watertown, Alexandria Bay, Syracuse and so on, will be shown on screens in Ontario, where many cities go in for this lively sport—if you want to call it that. 'Twas tried briefly here at Morrow Park but neighbors naturally objected strenuously to the terrific racket as well as the clouds of dust raised by the dare-devils in their souped-up jalopies as they took big chances in thrilling drives for money prizes. So, the promoters were shouldered out of the park and took their thrills, noise and dust elsewhere.

IOOF Hot as Firecracker

Our junior Oddfellows stopped the leading Belleville Hawklets right in their tracks here, handing 'em a 9-5 jolt last night in a grand showing. The Mortimer young men were really rolling the first half to rack up an 8-2 lead with nifty two-way hockey. Checked well, skated fast and made few mistakes when in scoring position. Solid right from Goalie Bob Delahaye out. It's hardly fair to list stars in a good team effort, but one must mention leading scorers. Gord Coyle, with an injured hand in cast, scored three goals. Bill Twist got one and aided on three. Leo Sullivan got one and helped on two more. Clare Ferguson did the same for three points. Bob Gardner had two assists. Others stood out, too. The win gave IOOF a tighter grip on second place in the standing over Kingston Vics.

* * * * * *

Yes, it was a speedy, clean contest, and the winners deserved their margin. Hawklets are strong, but were outplayed most of the route last eve. The Links are idle now over Christmas. Coach Doug Mortimer is worried about the likelihood of losing three of his boys up on lend-lease from the PMHA juves, Jerry Frizzelle, Murray Byrne and Gary Kearns. Says the lads want to play junior and haven't signed juvenile cards, but can't get a PMHA release. He argues that if a midget team will release a 16-year-old like Bob Gardner to make good in junior company then a juvenile club should do likewise. We don't know any more about it than that. No doubt the juves have their side of the story, as well.

Edmonton Eskimos Fire Filchock In Contract Row

EDMONTON (CP) — Flingin' Frankie Filchock, Edmonton's sports hero of 1952, has been cut loose by Edmonton Eskimos following a two-day dispute over the now-famed "two-year" contract.

Filchock, who took over as coach from Annis Stukus at the start of the 1952 football season and guided Eskimos through two harrowing playoff series to the western title, was fired Friday night following a short-lived attempt at reconciliation.

Formal announcement of the firing was made in a club statement issued by Manager Al Anderson. The statement reviewed briefly the events leading up to the dispute and ended with this sentence: "The board now is looking for a new coach for the year 1953."

That was all for Frankie, who quarterbacked Montreal Alouettes to the Grey Cup in 1949 and gave Edmonton its first Grey Cup contender in 30 years.

JINX PERSISTS

The firing seemed to bear out a jinx that has haunted western coaches for the last three years—"win the Western Conference and lose your job."

In 1950 Frank Larson took Winnipeg Blue Bombers to the Grey Cup final and was replaced by George Trafton. In 1951 Harry Smith of Saskatchewan Roughriders went out in favor of Glenn Dobbs. This year it's Filchock.

The Filchock - Eskimo dispute boiled to the surface Thursday. It centred around certain clauses in the new contract.

One was a provision that the club could dismiss Filchock "without notice" at the end of the 1953 season if Eskimos failed to get into the Western playoffs.

Another exception was a provision that the club receive any money Filchock might make outside football. Frankie said he agreed the club should approve any radio or newspaper work but felt that he should not have to turn over all remuneration.

TRIES RECONCILIATION

Filchock, in an 11th-hour attempt at reconciliation, told Ken Montgomery, club president, that the executive could retain these provisions and he would do "outside" work during the off-season, or the clauses could be thrown out and he would do straight football coaching.

Informed of the club's announcement, Filchock said: "What can I do—I'm fired." He said he had other coaching spots where he could go but would not say whether they were in Canada.

Athletic Head Reviews Cards, Changes Verdict

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham of New York was awarded the decision over Joey Giardello of Philadelphia Friday night. Chairman Bob Christenberry of the New York state athletic commission reversed the original verdict after reviewing the judges' cards of the 10-round main event at Madison Square Garden.

The officials had split on the verdict, giving Giardello the decision at the end of the bout, and the small crowd booed the verdict and crowded around the ring howling insults.

Giardello weighed 151¾, Graham, 149.

Christenberry changed the card of Judge Joe Agnello, who had given the 10th round to Giardello by one point, and gave Graham two points. He also changed the fourth in which the judge gave Graham the edge by one point, and made it two points for Graham.

As a result, Agnello's new card read: 5-5 in rounds, with Graham a winner on points, 7 to 6.

This vote combined with that of Judge Charley Shortell gave Graham the fight.

Anthony Ferrante, Giardello's manager, said he would take the case to his lawyer and would test the legality of the commission's action.

Christenberry said his action meant "no reflection on the honesty and integrity of Mr. Agnello."

Graham stood stunned in his corner as the original decision was announced. He lost a disputed decision to the same youngster Aug. 4 at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway.

Hornets' Win Gives Goalie Second Shutout

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Pittsburgh goalie Gil Mayer achieved his second shutout of the season Friday night as the Hornets defeated Providence Reds 7-0 in an American Hockey League game.

Repeating his stunt here of last Oct. 29, when the Hornets won their first game of the season, Mayer was superlative as he had 30 saves.

Johnny McLellan and Chuck Blair each chipped in with two goals to pace the Hornets and move them within one point of second-place Hershey Bears. Bill Marshall, Earl Balfour and Mark Sullivan scored the other goals.

U.K. Ring Board Backs Turpin For Title Bid

By JIM CHAMBERS

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Boxing Board of Control lined up solidly behind Randy Turpin Friday as the logical No. 1 contender for the world middleweight crown vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson.

Teddy Waltham, secretary of the board, cabled the New York state athletic commission, the U.S. National Boxing Association and the European Boxing Union, saying the British body seeks their support and co-operation to resist any attempts to sidetrack Turpin, the British and British Empire champion who won the world title from Robinson here in 1951 only to lose it back 64 days later in New York.

George Middleton, Turpin's manager, said he and the British fighter were not surprised at Robinson's decision, but they were disappointed.

"We shall be only too willing to fight Charles Humez of France for the vacant title," Middleton added.

Plans to determine a successor to Robinson as the world middleweight champion haven't matured in the United States but an elimination tournament that would include Turpin, Humez, Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N.J., Bobo Olson of Honolulu and others has been suggested.

Robinson's retirement from the ring received a mixed reception from British sports writers.

Some of them said farewell with praises for Robinson's fighting, but others took the view he skipped out because he was scared to meet Turpin for the third time.

The most bitter criticism was written by the Daily Herald's Clifford Webb, who dubbed the Robinson retirement "the dirtiest trick in the history of boxing."

Bilts Win Two, Marlies Lose To Flyers 2-0

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Perhaps Guelph Biltmores, Memorial Cup champions last season, are pulling out of their slump.

The Biltmores, drained of some talent by the parent New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, haven't been showing top form of late.

But Friday night they registered a double victory—both at the expense of the last-place Kitchener-Waterloo Greenshirts.

In a replay of an earlier game between the neighboring clubs Guelph came out on top 4-3 while in a regularly-scheduled tussle the Bilts blanked the Greenshirts 7-0. In the only other game of the night, Toronto Marlboros, leaders of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, dropped a 2-0 verdict to second-place Barrie.

In the replay, ordered by the OHA, the game was started from 18:01 of the third period with the score tied 1-1. It started with a penalty shot by Kitchener on which Greig Hicks scored. But Guelph, playing six men up, tied the score on a shot by Ron Murphy. In the overtime session Birley Dimma and Billy McCreary scored for the Bilts.

SCORE TWO

In the scheduled game, Murphy and Jim Connelly each scored two goals for Guelph. George Whyte, Billy Graham and Billy McCreary notched the others.

At Barrie, the Flyers' win moved them to within four points of the Marlies. Larry Thibeault and Skip Teal tallied the Barrie markers.

Caccavella Hits 391

Mike Caccavella rolled a swell high single of 391 this week in the men's City Bowling League as J. Wade led in triples with 828. McGillis led teams with 3669 pinnage and 1396 single, as they took six points from Payne's. The 4-2 wins went to Empress, Shockey's, Madill & Post, and Sunocos over Monumentals, Clapper, Royal York, and IUE-CIO.

Good singles included: R. Lewis 310, Turk Walton 349, F. O'Heron 314, W. Harris 347, H. Legrow 325, M. Anthony 386, J. Wade 315, and W. Crary 317. Neat triples were: H. Legrow 807, W. Crary 710, M. Anthony 765, R. Jordon 707, J. Gaspari 723, J. Frost 716, H. Gordon 764, R. Lewis 728, F. McCormick 730, A. Caccavella 783, P. Pryde 720, W. Harris 815, T. Walton 818, J. Playford 727, M. Caccavella 760, F. O'Heron 782, V. Anthony 708, and B. Trennum.

Smythe Fears Chi-Hawks Ready To Pull Out Of Slump At Leaf Expense

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Are Chicago Black Hawks ready to pull out of their slump? Conn Smythe, Toronto Maple Leafs' managing director, says he thinks they are and has been cracking the whip around the Leaf camp preparing for two week-end games with the Hawks, known earlier this season as the wonder kids of the National Hockey League. Chicago, which finished in the league cellar for five out of the last six years, paced the league during the first part of the season. A few weeks ago they began to slip and in their last seven games have lost five and gained two draws.

HAS TWO REASONS

Smythe, who has gained a reputation as an astute hockey analyst, gives two reasons why he fears Chicago this week-end:

1. They haven't won a game in their last seven starts.
2. They have four former Leafs in their line-up.

The quarttete are goalie Al Rollins, Gus Mortson, Cal Gardner and Gus Bodnar. Once a player leaves the Leafs "they like nothing better than to come back and beat us," Smythe said.

In other games this week-end fourth-place Boston is at Montreal and tail-end New York at Detroit, now the league leader. Sunday Montreal is at Boston and Detroit at New York.

At Montreal, the talk still is about Jean Beliveau, the reluctant rookie who prefers playing in the Quebec Senior League. Jean, idol of Quebec fans, is on loan to Montreal Canadiens for three games and in his first game Thursday night scored three goals against New York.

Frank Selke, general manager of the Canadiens, was quoted as kidding before Thursday's game that if Beliveau, one of the most sought after players in all time, scored three goals, he could write his own ticket. He was startled when the big scoring ace from Quebec came through.

Long Ball Hitters Share Batting Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—Larry Doby and Al Rosen, two of Cleveland's long-distance hitters, Friday were officially crowned American League slugging and runs-batted-in champions, respectively.

Official 1952 statistics show Doby taking the slugging title, based on times at bat and total bases, with a .541 average. Larry was also the American League's home run leader last season with 32.

Final slugging averages by The Associated Press, released in October, also listed the Tribe outfielder as the circuit's leading slugger with an identical .541 mark.

Rosen, the Indians' third baseman, wound up with 105 runs batted in, only one more than the total registered by Doby and Eddie Robinson, Chicago first baseman. Gus Zernial of Philadelphia was the only other player to drive in as many as 100 runs.

Second to Doby in the slugging percentages was Mickey Mantle, brilliant New York Yankee outfielder. Mickey slugged at a .530 pace.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

FESTIVE TREE

Lights of many colors make a bright and attractive festive patch in the night down Dalhousie St., east of Aylmer.

EXHAUST FAN BLAZE

Damage was light, but all fire department equipment was called out, at a blaze in the paint shop exhaust fan at Duffus Motors Friday afternoon. The fire was out in minutes after the arrival of the department. Damage amounted to about $75.

CLIPS HYDRO POLE

Raymond Parsons of RR 2, Ennismore, was driving through Bridgenorth Friday night when his car skidded on a patch of ice, went off the south edge of the road and snapped a hydro pole. The car received minor damage and Parsons was shaken up. OPP Constable Gordon Gray investigated.

PARTING GIFT

Ray Lawson, who retired from the Lindsay detachment of the OPP a month ago, was the guest of honor at a party Friday night given by his fellow officers. OPP Constable Bob Lamb, president of the No. 8 District Athletic Association, presented him with a leather brief case on behalf of the members of the Association. Mr. Lawson is now a member of a Lindsay real estate firm.

Parked Car Hit

LINDSAY (ENS)—Lindsay police are checking the district for a blue 1940 or 1941 car that was involved in a hit-and-run accident on Lindsay St. Friday night.

The northbound car struck the front of a parked car that was facing south on Lindsay St. Both vehicles were damaged but the unknown driver immediately drove away from the accident.

He left behind a headlight rim and a hubcap.

The parked car, owned by G. E. Oake of Lindsay, received about $250 damage. Point of impact was the left front of both vehicles.

COMBINING HIS HOBBY and his profession, the Rev. Hueston D. McCormack, St. James' United Church has re-constructed the first Christmas scene for his congregation. From pictures of the manger, wise men and shepherds, Mr. McCormack has painted the birth of Jesus in life-size proportions. Biblical paintings form a large part of his hobby and are used in telling Bible stories to the children. But the paintings have also been well received by the adults. The Christmas scene (at top) has been placed in the church. Mr. McCormack (lower) stands beside another Biblical painting, also a copy, of Jesus with His sheep. He also paints landscapes and flowers as a pastime.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Christmas Story Portrayed In Paintings By Minister

By DON GRANT

The Christmas story, the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem, has been told many times in many different ways. But a Peterborough minister, with a flair for painting, is presenting the Christmas scene to his congregation, especially the young children, in a manner which is simple to understand and which brings out the beauty of that first Christmas.

Using evergreen boughs, and canvas about 10 feet by six feet, small pictures, paints and a brush, the Rev. Hueston D. McCormack, St. James' United Church, has reconstructed the manger scene in his church.

LIFE-SIZE PAINTINGS

Copying an artist's conception of Christ's birth, Mr. McCormack dipped into his colors and reproduced the scene in life-size proportions in vivid colors of that period. From other pictures of wise men and shepherds he has rounded out his Christmas project with realistic figures kneeling and worshipping the new-born Babe.

His work, the result of hours of concentration on detail and blending of colors, has been well received not by only his congregation but by visitors to the church. It has impressed the children most and that's what Mr. McCormack wanted.

Painting has been a hobby of Mr. McCormack's for a number of years. It all started when he first compared paintings in university halls and then after he was married he started painting landscapes and flowers.

With the belief that a picture sometimes helps people to grasp the point of a story, he began to paint the life-size pictures of Biblical stories.

He points out that Jesus left no personal writings and no pictures. The story of His life and work was recorded for Him by writers of the New Testament. Throughout the Christian era artists have attempted pictures of incidents in His life.

Emphasizing that "none of the work (the Biblical paintings) aspires to be creative art", Mr. McCormack said that nearly all his paintings, used for Bible teaching, have been done from prints obtained from various sources.

ESPECIALLY FOR CHILDREN

"The paintings are simply efforts to express, visibly and in color, some of the Biblical narratives and parables," he explained. "They were painted to be used especially for children's work in the church, although adults seem to have appreciated them as much as the children."

Most of the paintings were done previous to moving to Peterborough. But Mr. McCormack hopes to do some work possibly next summer.

Future work is in the planning stage. He explained that artists have attempted to produce a likeness of Jesus, always giving him an appearance of the people in their own locale. The result is that in the world of ecclesiastical art, there are oriental, occidental, racial and even national interpretations of Jesus.

With that fact in mind Mr. McCormack has been collecting materials and prints of Jesus from all over the world for a book to be entitled, "Christ in Color From Every Land". This project has inspired a desire to do a painting, already named, "One God, the Prince of Peace".

Further ambitions are: another interpretation of "Christ and The Children", a new version of the "Last Supper", an Easter picture interpreting the story of "The Empty Tomb" and a timely painting, "Christ's Challenge to Communism".

Canadians Buy More Cheese Replace Lost Market In U.K.

Ontario Cheese Producers have come through a year of reverses with a lift of heart in the discovery that the Canadian people are eating more cheese. The home market appears to be substantially replacing exports in Britain, and the cheese advertising campaign of the last year and a half is increasing sales.

The severest blow to the industry in this troubled year of 1952 was the announcement from Britain last February that she had no dollars with which to buy Canadian cheese. Several weeks later the outbreak of foot and mouth disease closed the U.S. market for dairy cattle with consequent loss of income with which dairy farmers customarily bought trucks, cars and other necessities.

Meanwhile, a U.S. embargo on dairy products resulted in the rerouting to Canada of 17,000,000 pounds of New Zealand cheese. When the producing season opened this year, the cheese industry had no export markets, no controls, no subsidy, only the conditions of supply and demand.

The industry was caught up in the worst circumstances within its long memory. At Ottawa, Hon. C. D. Howe told the New Zealand delegation to ship no more cheese. None has come in since, but by that time too much had already arrived, Mr. Arnold said.

LOANS GUARANTEED

Cheese exchanges opened last season at Belleville, Brockville and three other centres with no sales. Best price at Belleville was 23¾ cents, "but we didn't sell," Mr. Arnold recalled. By a co-operative plan of federal guarantee of loans, the price advanced to 27 cents in April, and moved up to 28 cents after that. Around that time, provincial government support provided for a price of 30 cents, "and we've been getting that ever since.

"It might not be what the cheese is worth," Mr. Arnold said, "but it was the best we could do."

Ontario producers had set up their own marketing board for the 1951 operations selling Britain so successfully that at the end of that season they were looking forward with a flush of confidence to 1952. Then the bottom fell out of the export business, and dairy farmers couldn't sell cows to the United States.

Part of the payment to factories for the April product had not yet been paid, Mr. Arnold said, "but we are hoping you'll get that money back when all the cheeses are sold. Right now there is nothing definite."

He stressed the fact that the association had handled their own affairs through all the difficulties of this year. They had no government grants, and the bank loans guaranteed by governments would have to be cleared off.

OILS NEW THREAT

Again, meanwhile, the menace of imported vegetable oils has gathered over the industry.

"At present, some manufacturers are set up to put these imported oils into ice cream, cheese, concentraed milk and dairy products generally.

"If they get away with that, we fear the time is coming when there won't be many dairy cows in our country," Mr. Arnold said. "Our farmers can't compete with countries producing cheap oils from all over the world where labor is paid 25 cents a day. One thing we can do, appeal to your members of the legislature for their support. The Dominion government say they have no control in that situation, but I think you ought to tell them, too, the seriousness of the position of our dairy industry if these oil imports are not banned.

"In some parts of the U.S., vegetable oils have taken the place of about 50 per cent of the butterfat. Some of the big companies like Bordens wouldn't use them because they always used dairy products. They lost business to the companies that didn't hesi-

OPP Inspector Offers To Help Drivers In Cups

Drivers on the highway who have been drinking and no longer feel capable of driving a car should get in touch with the Provincial Police.

District Inspector J. A. Stringer offered this co-operation today in his annual holiday appeal to the motoring public. Last year after a similar appeal there was a decrease in accidents from the previous year.

It isn't a taxi service for drunks that the Inspector is offering. But his officers will try to help drivers who feel they are incapable of getting home safely.

Inspector Stringer's statement is as follows:

"It is expected that many of our citizens will have occasion to have a few drinks and, perhaps, be called upon to drive a car. To those people I say: 'If you find yourselves in distressed circumstances, it might be well to call our office for some measure of assistance, rather than after the accident has occurred.'

"If by this method we can avoid a limited number of accidents we would feel we had accomplished something. We sincerely ask your earnest co-operation and wish you a safe journey and Yuletide."

One Million Hours Without Accident

The Peterborough Works of the CGE have achieved one million man-hours of operation without a lost-time accident.

This achievement was announced by R. T. Bogle, works manager. He explained that this was a commendable record because of the type of work done and the safety rating of the group of industries in the works' classification.

"If we can continue with an unbroken record for two million hours, we will have really accomplished something unique for our type of industry," he said.

The first million hour record was established in 1952 as a climax to No Accident Month.

VON Branches Out Into Townships To Offer Services

A proposed extension of services beyond the city limits was announced today by the Peterborough Branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses. Robert H. Carley, who has been appointed chairman of the Extension Committee of the VON Board of Directors said today that the proposed plan will affect a mile area surrounding the city limits.

"At present this project is just in the planning stage," Mr. Carley explained. "Persons living in some of the sections involved have been approached but no definite action has been taken.

FACILITIES

"The VON is taking this step because it has the facilities to take its services to these areas," he said. "In addition many of these people are employed in the city and contribute to the Red Cross and Community Fund and we would like them to have the benefits of one of the agencies."

Mr. Carley went on to say that serving an area beyond the city limits is not a new venture for the Peterborough branch. Since it was organized 11 years ago the Peterborough VON nurses have served the section of Smith township bordering the north boundary of the city.

To pay for this service, the township and the VON worked out a financial arrangement. The township each year makes the VON a grant equal to one mill collected in taxes from the people in the area served. It fluctuates each year with the tax rate, but amounts to beween $250 and $300.

VARIED SERVICES

The Peterborough branch has three public health nurses. The services include education visits, bedside nursing care and prenatal visits.

"We feel that there is a real need for VON services in these areas," Mr. Carley said. "We have had numerous calls from outside the city limits and have not been able to answer them because no arrangements have been made with the township councils involved."

Turkey Prices Down 10 Cents

Turkey prices are down from last year's 59 and 69-cent-a-pound prices. Local birds are selling here at 49 and 59 cents (for toms and hens), while turkeys brought in from western Canada sell at 45 and 53 cents.

Influx of the western birds is blamed for at least a part of the drop in price; the rest of the decrease was brought about by increased local production.

Western turkeys, said one meat dealer, are not as attractive as local birds. For one thing, he said, they are frozen and naturally aren't as fresh as turkeys raised in this district. Another thing against them is that they are not as plump.

Prices quoted by this dealer are general in the city, at chain stores and the larger meat markets. Prices elsewhere are only slightly higher.

In 1951, turkey prices for toms varied from 59 to 62 cents a pound, while hen birds sold at 69 a pound pretty well throughout the city.

Nothing New In Report Howe Tells Party Rally

KINGSTON (CP) — Production Minister Howe said here Friday night the Currie report "was a rehash in lurid language" of events that occurred at Petawawa military camp and were investigated a year ago and previously made public.

He said in an address that Canadians could be sure "there was nothing in the army, air force or naval situation they need be the least bit ashamed of." Mr. Howe spoke at the opening of a new Liberal party hall.

Of the report by George S. Currie Montreal chartered accountant and wartime deputy minister of national defence, on army works services, tabled in Parliament Monday, he said "extravagant language" had been used.

"MINOR CRISIS"

Dealing with security measures to protect public funds, Mr. Howe said it was evident that Mr. Currie's security wasn't good when a copy of the report was stolen from his office and delivered to the CCF party eight days before it was received at Defence Minister Claxton's office.

The "minor crisis" in Ottawa resulted from investigations of Petawawa camp. That situation, he said, had been "ballyhooed into the present crisis by the government's political enemies."

Charge Ottawa Man Army Camp Goods

OTTAWA (CP)—Frank Harper, 58-year-old civilian employee of the army's Plouffe Park ordnance depot, was charged Friday with theft of $250 worth of army clothing from the depot. The RCMP, who arrested him, said the thefts had been carried out during the last few weeks.

Harper was held overnight at a city police station and was to appear in court today.

The RCMP said a quantity of clothing missing from the army stores was found in Harper's home.

NOT ALL SAND

Large tracts of the Sahara desert are covered with granite and there are wide areas of stones and pebbles.

PEACE NEGOTIATORS—President-elect Dwight Eisenhower (left), greets the crowd outside the home of his new Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles (centre). The two top officials conferred with Gen. Douglas MacArthur (right) on a peace plan for Korea and the world in general, they said.

Jailers Play Santa To Prisoner's Family

WASHINGTON (AP)—Canadian and American fishing officials ended two days of conferences Friday by proposing an international commission be created to wipe out sea lampreys destroying fish in the Great Lakes.

The state department gave no details about how the commission would operate but said delegates would resume talks in late January.

The lamprey, an eel-like parasite, has recently cost the Great Lakes fishing industry upwards of $5,000,000 in lake trout alone, it was estimated.

Many Factors Behind Jump In Oil Stocks

By HARRY KINGDON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Big news on the Toronto stock exchange this week was a jump in Western oils—one of the longest and sharpest rises this year.

The rise may have been started by encouraging rumors and some news about new discoveries in the West. But many factors combined to keep it going and spreading.

One factor widely noted is that the oils have fallen a long way from their peak index mark of around 155 last April. At the first of this month, the Toronto exchange's Western oils index stood at about 114.

The drop has produced a number of "bargain prices" in oils, many believe, and investors have started to buy.

Pipelines—proposed and built—have helped the market. Production in Alberta's wells now is held below capacity because, for one reason, transportation facilities are not available to carry the oil away.

With new pipelines coming, production is likely to be raised, providing more profit for the companies involved. Up goes the price of their shares.

DEALS RUMORED

Rumors of new financial deals in a number of Western oil companies also have had a bullish effect on the market.

In Toronto, prices were mixed with oils up and industrials down Monday, and Montreal showed a similar picture.

The New York market started the week with a rise, slowed slightly Tuesday and Wednesday, and moved forward to Friday's close.

From Friday to Friday, the Toronto exchange's indexes showed industrials up .42 at 318.23, golds down 1.29 at 82.07, base metals up .91 at 173.54 and western oils up 9.61 at 124.99.

In the Montreal averages banks were up .14 at 31.70, utilities down .2 at 90.3, industrials down 1.0 at 203.9, combined down .7 at 166.1, papers down 3.20 at 705.66 and golds down .88 at 63.97.

In New York, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 90 cents at $114.80—its highest point since June 4, 1930.

Taft Clinches Leadership Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio Friday virtually clinched the post of Republican floor leader in the new Senate as possible rivals stepped aside.

Thus a post of tremendous power in Congress will go to a man who fought President-elect Eisenhower bitterly for the Republican presidential nomination. The success of the Eisenhower legislative program could depend in no small measure on how well the two can co-operate.

Doubt as to who would capture the prize faded with an announcement by Taft that he was a candidate for the job and that he had assurances from Senators Styles Bridges (Rep.N.H.) and William F. Knowland (Rep.-Calif.) that they are not seeking it.

Equerry Gets Divorce

LONDON (AP)—Group Capt. Peter Townsend, an extra equerry to the Queen, won a divorce Friday on the grounds of the misconduct of his wife, Mrs. Cecil Rosemary Townsend. An extra equerry is called to attend the Queen at big state ceremonies. Townsend formerly was deputy controller of the royal household at Buckingham Palace. John Adolphus de Laszlo, son of a portrait painter, was cited as corespondent.

HOLD-UP VICTIM—Leonard Heller, manager of the Bank of Commerce branch at Williams Lake, B.C., recuperates from a wound in the thigh, inflicted by a bandit who tried to rob the bank. The bandit later was wounded and captured in a battle with police.

Nassau Chosen For Wedding Of Nancy Oakes

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Nancy Oakes, heiress to a vast Canadian gold mine fortune, is to be married Dec. 29 in the Church of St. Mary to Baron Ernest Lyssard von Hoyningen Huene.

Lady Eunice Oakes announced the forthcoming ceremony at which the bishop of Nassau is to officiate.

Miss Oakes' father, Sir Harry Oakes, was slain at Westborne, a former family home here, on July 7, 1943. Nancy's former husband, Count Alfred de Marigny was accused of his murder. De Marigny was acquitted but ordered to leave the colony.

Miss Oakes divorced De Marigny after standing loyally beside him through the trial.

Since the divorce Nancy has lived in New York, California and Mexico City as well as in Palm Beach, Fla., and Nassau She met the baron in California. He is the son of Baron and Baroness Herman von Hoyningen Huene of Oberammergau, Germany.

His younger brother, Ture, will be best man. A reception will follow the ceremony at Jacaranda House, Lady Oakes' Nassau residence.

Catch Rare Fish Near Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—A fish unseen in Montreal district waters for 75 years has been netted at nearby Ile Perrot, Quebec biological bureau announced Friday.

The fish called "white perch" actually is a sea bass that goes under the ichthyological name of Morone Americana.

The bureau says that like the smelt, landlocked salmon — also known as ouananiche—and certain sticklebacks found inland, the white perch possibly is a relic of the time, 10,000 years ago, when the Sea of Champlain stretched as far as Niagara.

CATCH THREE

Three specimens, four to six inches long, appeared last fall among familiar kinds of fish caught at Ile Perrot, at the western tip of Montreal Island.

White perch were last reported in this district in 1865. Lakes and rivers where they were caught are fed by the Ottawa River and far enough inland to make biologists wonder how the white perch got there.

Barrister Dies

TORONTO (CP)—Maj. John Lauder Pond, 38, barrister and member of the firm of Gould and Pond, North Bay, died in hospital here Friday.

Born in Toronto, Maj. Pond was graduated from Osgoode Hall law school in 1938. For several years he was a member of the legal firm of Beaton, Bell and Pond of Toronto and in 1947 he joined Bench, Keogh, Rogers and Grass in St. Catharines. He had lived in North Bay since 1950.

Maj. Pond served overseas with the Queen's Own Rifles during the Second World War and twice was decorated.

His widow and three daughters survive.

Missionary Vessel Sinks In Pacific

BOSTON (CP)—The Morning Star VI, a sailing vessel which left Boston for missionary duty in the South Pacific in 1947, has sunk in Micronesian waters. Both men aboard, Capt. Creston D. Ketchum of Vancouver and a native crew member, were saved.

Word of the craft's loss was received Friday by the American board of commissioners for foreign missions. The board represents the Congregational Christian Churches of America.

France Plans Stiff Protest

WASHINGTON (CP) —France shortly will deliver a stiff formal protest to the United States against what it describes as interference with the internationally-recognized "rights of seamen" by new U.S. immigration regulations, it was learned Friday.

The French cabinet has taken up the question of the McCarran Immigration Act following a protest by more than 1,000 crew members of the French liner Liberte

The men object to being questioned by U.S. immigration officials about possible past connections with communism.

The McCarran Act, which goes into effect Dec. 24, bars foreign seamen from landing in U.S ports unless they have been checked and found to have no Communist affiliations.

Claim Retailers Hurt By Army Gift Shops

TORONTO (CP)—E. F. K. Nelson, manager of the Canadian Retail Federation, said Friday the organization has asked Defence Minister Claxton to close gift shops operated in armed service camps. It claims the shops are hurting Christmas trade.

Mr. Nelson said a gift shop at the RCAF station near Summerside, P.E.I., has been selling household goods, toys, clothes and electric appliances at cut rates and that some of the merchandise is reaching civilians. Canteens in other camps also were blamed.

"Armed service canteens were never meant to sell such things as electric refrigerators, toy trains or washing machines," he said. ". . . This unfair competition is hitting the merchants."

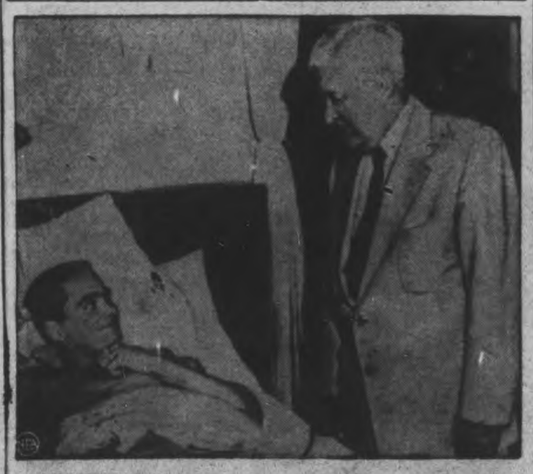
Canteens should confine their sales to such things as beverages, cigarets and shaving gifts, he said.

Kills 5, Self in Rage

MEDELLIN, Colombia (AP)—A Yuletide customer criticized the work of a pottery maker at Quirriguana Friday and the pottery maker went berserk, killing five persons, including the customer, with machete and pistol. Then he took poison and died. Police said the customer poked fun at Eladio Marzon's pots and jugs, making Marzon so violently angry that he killed two men, two women and a child.

Woman Plays Santa

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP)—An unidentified Moose Jaw woman played Santa Claus to a Santa Claus here Thursday. The woman dropped a roll of bills tied with an elastic band into a Salvation Army christmas cheer box. In the roll were four $100 bills and a $20 bill.



VISITING HOURS — Charles E. Wilson, newly named Secretary of Defence, tours Tripler Army Hospital on Hawaii. In the evacuation ward he stopped to chat with Cpl. Michael Bayly of Porland, Ore. Wilson made his tour during a break in the cabinet meetings with President-elect Dwight Eisenhower.

Truman Blasts Russians For Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman Friday accused Russia of using the United States as a target for "the most shameless, cynical and terrible campaign of vilification ever conducted against an entre people anywhere."

Addressing the National War College, Truman said Soviet leaders now apparently realize "they can gain nothing from war but catastrophe" and have turned to a policy of trying to drive a wedge between the U.S. and its Allies

"We must meet this present phase of the Communist challenge, as we have met others in the past," the President said. "We must make a real effort to overcome the things that tend to divide us from our friends and Allies."

"If this is done, if we are able to preserve unity and confidence among the free nations, we need not be panicky today about the state of the world. We are not on the losing side. The world is not about to collapse around us."

Staunchly defending the foreign policies he has pursued during his seven-year regime in the White House, the President said future historians may recognize "some mistakes," but he declared:

"On balance, I believe they will say that never in history did a great nation respond so effectively and promptly to new and unaccustomed problems as did this nation in the past seven years."

Brant County Plans New Nursing Home

BRANTFORD (CP)—Plans have been completed for a $555,000 Brant county nursing-home for bed patients, it is announced.

The 80-bed building will have 12 single rooms, eight double rooms and 13 four-bed rooms. It will be the first separate unit in the province for bed patients.

"If tenders are acceptable and no further drawbacks are encountered, the project should begin around the first of April," said Alderman John Noble.

Lay-Away Flying

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Trans-Australia Airlines has introduced a lay-away holiday flight plan. TAA offers to arrange a complete holiday in Australia for a small deposit and a few shillingseach week.

Oil Firms Close Biggest Land Deal

REGINA (CP)—Terms of the largest land deal ever completed between two companies in Saskatchewan were announced Friday in a joint statement by the Sohio Petroleum Co. group and Socony-Vacuum Exploration Co

The deal involves approximately 5,400,000 net acres of crown permit land and expenditures exceeding $10,000,000.

Under the terms of the agreement, Socony becomes the operator of Sohio-held crown acreage and will earn an undivided 50-percent interest in the permits by carrying out a "high-level program of exploration" during the next three years.

The expenditures under the terms of the agreement are for exploration only and would increase considerably in the event of an oil discovery.

Ban 'Slumber Drops'

BIRMINGHAM, England (CP)—As a result of a report from the city analyst manufacturers will stop making "slumber drops" for children. The analyst found that the drops contained "enough opium to produce alarming symptoms."

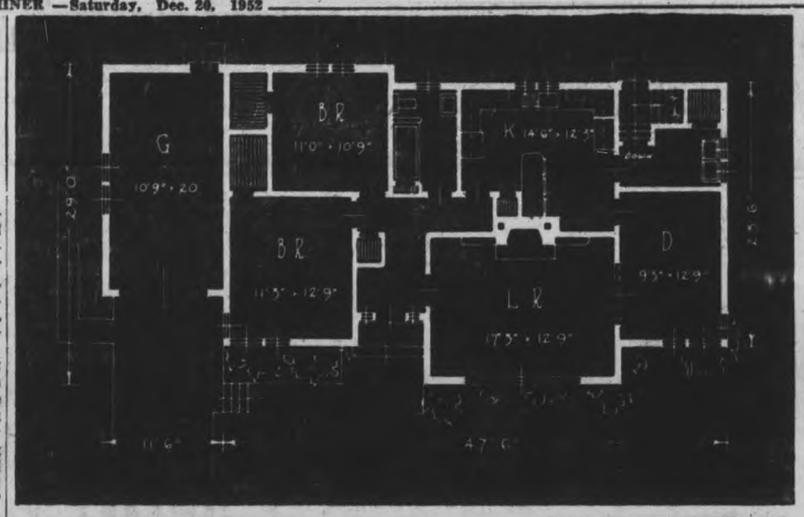
Sunday School Gives Concert At Lakefield

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—The Sunday school rooms of Lakefield United Church were filled to capacity on Wednesday evening for the annual Christmas concert, given by the pupils of the school. The superintendent, Neil Wood, was chairman and Mrs. M. Kennedy was at the piano.

The following is the program: Opening chorus, by the children of the Sunday school, "Up on the Housetops" and "The Bell Carol"; recitations and songs, by the tiny tots of the beginners' department; vocal trio, "Punkinhead," Bill Hunter, Clarence Coons and David Payton; "Christmas Gifts," recitation by boys of Mrs. Carmen Payne's class; violin solo, "O Come All Ye Faithful," Donna Farrow; dialogue, "Christmas Plots," by the boys of Mr. John Harrison's class; "Little Christmas Bells," a song, the girls of Mrs. Theo. Down's class; "The Spirit of Christmas," a recitation, by girls of Mrs. S. A. Grylls class; an action song, "The Little Snowflakes," girls of Mrs. S. Whiting's class; piano solo, Bill Hunter, "A White Christmas"; "Keep the Candles Burning," a recitation in parts, by the boys of Mrs. George Carey's class; a skit by boys of Mr. T. Payton's class; recitation, Beverley Chatten, "The Poor Dolly"; "The Christmas Breakfast," a dialogue by girls of Mrs. P. H. Darling's class; a tumbling act, by boys of Mr. G. L. Poole's class; skit, "A Helping Hand," pupils of the Rev. W. H. Tonge's class; closing chorus, "Beautiful Saviour" and "Jolly Old Santa Claus," by the school.

During the evening the presentation of certificates to the successful students who wrote the recently conducted temperance examinations were distributed by Mrs. W. W. Yale to the following: Juniors, Donna Farrow, Arlene Dunbar, Nancy Henry, Glenda Armstrong, Lynne Lichty, Margaret Richardson, Wendy Nickels, Clarence Coons, Jimmy Galvin, Brenda Andrews, Lorraine Stenner, John David Dunford; intermediate - seniors, Tom Pratt, Jim Fraser, Kenneth Darling, Jack McCracken, Marion Trethewey, Mauretta Dunford, Joan Heard, Marion Frankish, Patty Jakins and Ruth McFadden.

Santa Claus then arrived and bags of candy, nuts and oranges were distributed to the waiting children.



HOUSE No. 61-153—Truly a "dream of a home", this design boasts exceptional eye-appeal plus a host of extras in planning convenience. Exterior walls are of white stucco under a dark red roof. Cream was used for the trim, with front door and garage door painted a contrasting pink. Number one convenience feature of the plan is perhaps the placement of the laundry room alongside the kitchen. Notice too, the spacious closet over the basement stair. Adjacent to the rear door, this arrangement of kitchen and laundry saves many tiresome steps. The efficiently designed U—shaped kitchen boasts a breakfast bar and cupboards galore. Other features worth note in the plan are the huge living room window—and a sheltered entrance. Without garage, contains about 24,400 cu. ft. For working drawings write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Bethany Children Present School Concert

BETHANY (ENS). — The annual Christmas concert of the Bethany Public School was held in the Town Hall Tuesday night, and was largely attended. Carolyn Smith gave a "Welcome" recitation and the opening choruses by the entire school were "O Canada," "Merry Christmas," and "Hey, Hey Ho." A dialogue "The Christmas Lesson" was acted by Lary Lamb as the teacher with Carolyn Smith, Ross Jordan, Ronald Jackson, Bobby Edmunds, Howard Morton and Randy Longfield as the pupils. Recitations were given by Tommy Rayson, Melvin Smelt, Lary Lamb, Patricia Bigelow, Dianne Mulligan, Bobby Edmunds, Ross Jordan, Allan Smith and Howard Morton.

Several tap dancing numbers, with the children all in charming costumes, were given by Dianne Mulligan, Sally Coburn, Jane Fallis. "Uncle Joe's Will" was a humorous dialogue, with Donald Smith as the lawyer, Joan Morton, Bruce Wright, George Scott, Donald Scott, Leone Jordan, Neil Finney, and Donald Smelt as the expectant heirs; Wallace Cooper as Uncle Joe who wasn't dead after all, but was merely testing the attitude of his relatives.

Pupils of the senior room in red, white and blue costumes gave an excellent flag drill. Muriel Sheckleton and Phyllis Bristow sang a duet, "Silver Bells." The nursery story of "The Old Woman who Lived in a Shoe" was well given by Muriel Sheckleton as the old woman, with Jack Durham, Howard Morton, Tommy Rayson, Sharon Bigelow, Melvin Smelt, Randy Longfield, Dianne Mulligan, John Jackson, Allan Smith, Ronald Jackson, Allan Bristow, Jane Falis and Bobby Edmunds, all in typical story book costumes representing Little Jack Horner, Little Boy Blue, Little Bo-Peep, The Little Pig that Went to Market, The Baker's Man, Jack and Jill, King Cole and his Fiddlers Three, and Little Miss Muffett, each bringing gifts and saying a recitation for the many children who lived in the shoe who were all the pupils of the kindergarten group: Mary Rose Gault, Patricia Bigelow, Billy Smelt, Boby Smelt and Roy Scott. All joined in singing "Silent Night." Sharon Bigelow and Jane Fallis sang a duet "Frosty the Snowman." Glenn Wright and aPtricia Fallis in red and white costumes did a charming dance number.

"Christmas Surprises" was another dialogue acted by Dianne Bigelow, Margaret Lane, Leone Smith, Brenda Rowan, and Malcom Smelt. Patricia Bigelow, John Jackson, Tommy Rayson, Larry Lamb, Jane Fallis, Howard Morton and Bobby Edmunds sang "Away in a Manger." Pupils of the junior room took part in a folk dance. The senior pupils in unison sang "There's a Song in the Air." Joan Morton gave a monologue "Sally's Christmas Presents." Brenda Rowan and Joan Morton sang "Santa Claus is coming to Town." Leone Smith danced the Highland Fling in Scottish costume.

The final dialogue "Wanted, a Housekeeper" was kiven by Peter Coburn and Murray Smith as two bachelors who needed help, with Phyllis Bristow, Paul Pomeroy, Muriel Sheckleton, Colleen Durham, Donna Durham, Sally Coburn as the applicants. The closing choruses by the entire school were "Toy Land," "See the Pretty Christmas Tree" and "Here Comes Santa Claus." The "Good-bye" recitation was given by Sharon Bigelow. Mr. James Gay, music teacher of Manvers Township schools, acompanied on the piano for all the musical numbers; the dancers were all trained by Miss June Wright. Mr. Hope Rayson, trustee, was chairman for the evening, and in his remarks he thanked the afore-mentioned and the teachers, Mrs. Orloe Wright and Miss Velma Thexton for their efforts with the children and the excellent program. Santa Claus distributed the gifts from the Christmas tree.

Home Wrecker—10 Gallons Of Water Daily

By MR. FIX

Home owners who are plagued by the damaging effects of moisture condensation find themselves on the horns of a dilemma.

On the one hand, they read that by sealing up their homes tighter than a miser's fist they accomplish a great saving on fuel costs —keeping warm air in and cold air out—which is an attractive proposition, indeed.

On the other hand, they are told that unless they provide some means for warm, moist air in the home to escape, condensation damage will continue to mount—a distateful proposition, ot be sure. But when moisture is vented off in winter, precious heat goes with it.

Since home owners can't have their cake and eat it too, there seems to be no way out. However, in the long run condensation damage is harder on the pocketbook than heat loss, so the natural choice is to prevent it, regardless.

This column has dealt with the subject before, but continues to get mail from perplexed home owners who are unable to connect the damage done to paint, plaster and lumber in their homes with moisture condensation. Maybe they don't believe it exists because they can't see it.

It may surprise them to know that, in a single day, the amount of moisture vapor added to the air in a household of four members may total as much as 86 pounds—or 86 pints. This is 10¾ gallons, in other words.

If someone were to overturn a tub containing more than 10 gallons of water in a home, splashing everything in sight, the owner would rush frantically for towels and mops. Yet that much moisture can be added to one home in a day. The owners simply aren't perturbed because they can's see it.

Actually, you seldom have any clues to indicate the presence of moisture — unless steam fogs a window, or paint begins to peel on an interior or exterior wall. The great problem with this destructive humidity is not that it harms the interior furnishings of your home, but that it rots and rusts the home itself.

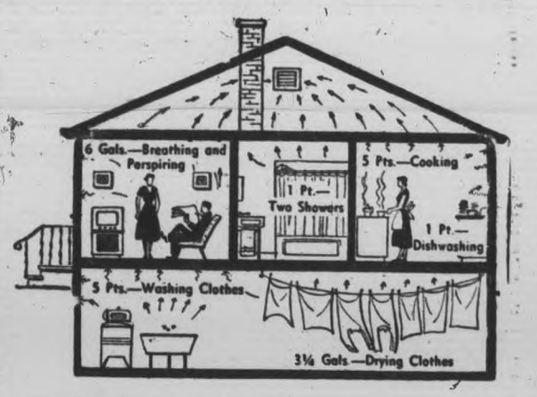
Cooking, washing or drying clothes and heating, particularly by gas appliances, generates humidity. So do shower baths and dishwashing. This moisture may freeze in the insulation in the attic, melt when warm weather comes and damage plaster as a roof leak does. Or it may be forcing its way through the siding of the house to cause paint to blister and peel.

This force is called "vapor pressure." It can quite easily force moisture through wood, plaster, brick or cement. This pressure tries to find its way to an area of lesser pressure, to drier air outside the house.

So the solution isn't hard to find You only have to cooperate, to provide adequate ventilation, and the moisture will make a graceful exit without causing harm. If you don't do this, its exit will be much less graceful.

You should use kitchen or bathroom exhaust fans, or at least open windows when cooking or bathing. Vent all gas burners to the outside. Open louvers in attic, basement or crawl space. Open fireplace damper for easier escape of moisture.

You'll be glad you did.



THE ABOVE ILLUSTRATION shows the amounts of water vapor added to the air in a day by the activities of a family of four members.

Death Took Heavy Toll Of World Leaders, In 1952

By GLADYS LENNON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The year 1952 was the one in which a beloved monarch, who had led his country through some of the darkest days of its history, laid down a burden that had grown too heavy for his failing strength. King George VI died peacefully in his sleep Feb. 6 at his country estate of Sandringham. He was 56.

It was the year that the four-year-old republic of Israel lost its first president, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, 77, scientist and long-time Zionist leader. He died Nov. 9 at his estate near Rehovoth.

In Argentina, the death July 26 of Senora Eva Peron, 30, former-actress wife of President Juan Peron idolized by thousands of her countrymen for her philanthropies, touched off an unprecedented display of public mourning.

Death struck at the ranks of labor in the United States, taking the heads of two great organizations. Philip Murray, 66, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the United Steelworkers of America, died Nov. 9 at San Francisco. William Green, 82, who had been head of the American Federation of Labor since 1924, died Nov. 21 at Coshocton, Ohio.

POLITICAL FIELD

Sir Stafford Cripps, 62, the "Mr. Austerity" of Britain's post-war economy, died April 21 in Zurich, Switzerland, after a long illness. Ill health had forced his resignation in 1950 as chancellor of the exchequer in the then Labor government.

Other deaths in the political field included Viscount Astor, U.S.-born Tory member of the House of Lords, whose wife, Lady Astor, was the first woman to sit in the British House of Commons; Harold L. Ickes, 77, former U.S. secretary of the interior; Vittorio Orlando, 92, Italian ex-premier and last survivor of the Allied "Big Four" leaders at the 1919 Versailles peace conference; Count Carlo Sforza, 78, Italy's foreign minister before and after the Fascist regime; William (Billy) Hughes, 88, prime minister of Australia during the First World War; and Clifford Hugh Douglas, 73, British engineer-economist and originator of the Social Credit theory.

Among churchmen, Michael Cardinal Faulhaber, 83, Roman Catholic archbishop of Milan and foe of Nazism, died June 12 in Munich.

For Sister Elizabeth Kenny, Australian nurse who became the centre of medical controversy over her method of treating polio patients, a long period of illness ended with her death Nov. 30 at Toowoomba, Queensland, at the age of 66.

Two figures closely associated with the beginnings of progressive education were removed by death; Dr. John Dewey, 92-year-old philosopher and author, in New York, June 1, and Dr. Maria Montessori, 81, May 6, at Noordwijk, The Netherlands.

The literary world lost such names as George Santayana, 88, Spanish-born philosopher and poet who died in Rome Sept. 26; Hungarian-born playwright Ferenc Molnar, 71, in New York April 1; Fulton Oursler, 59, writer of biblical best-sellers, in New York May 24; John Murray Gibbon, 77, Canadian novelist, historian, musician and artist, in Montreal July 2.

LEADING PUBLISHER

Deaths in the newspaper field include Henri Bourassa, 84, founder of Montreal Le Devoir; George McCullagh, 47, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail and the Telegram; Sir Keith Murdoch, 66, Australia's leading newspaper publisher; William E. Scripps, 70, publisher of the Detroit News; Howard Blakeslee, 72, science editor of the Associated Press; and Mark Sullivan, 77, long-time Washington columnist of the New York Herald Tribune.

Among artists who died during the year were American sculptor Jo Davidson, 68; illustrator Howard Chandler Christy, 79; Sir Oswald Birley, 72, British portrait artist; and cartoonist H. T. Webster, 67, creator of "The Timid Soul."

Theatrical circles were shocked at the death Sept. 6 of British-born star Gertrude Lawrence, 52, in New York in the midst of one of the outstanding successes of her career, the musical "The King and I."

Other names well-known in the entertainment world include Alison Skipworth, 88, British-born stage and screen actress; Hattie McDaniel, 57, known to radio and television audiences as "Beulah;" actors John Garfield, 39, and Canada Lee, 45; screen comedians Polly Moran, 66, team-mate of the late Marie Dressler, and Hugh Herbert, 66; operatic and radio tenor Donald Dame, 34.

Church Restored

DOVER, England (CP) — The "Hellfire Corner" church at St. Margaret's Bay near here has been restored. The church, damaged by cross-channel shelling in 1940, will be retained as a reminder of the ordeal endured by the village in the Second World War.

Ornamental Lights

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Police here don't like those ornamental traffic-light devices some motorists have in the back of their cars. The lights show red when the auto is halted, amber when it is pulling away and green when it is well in motion. One traffic sergeant said a green light on the rear is illegal.

Three Schools Present Joint Concert

COLDSPRINGS (ENS) — The Coldsprings hall was filled to capacity Wednesday night when approximately 275 gathered to hear the combined Christmas program presented by Camborne, Coldsprings, and Glourourim schools.

The Rev. V. M. Gilbert of Camborne, was chairman for the evening.

The program consisted of a welcome song by the three schools with 57 children taking part.

Camborne school presented a three part operetta, "Christmas Spelling Bee".

Coldsprings school then presented a variety program ending with a square dance with Ewart Timlin as caller.

An operetta "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" by Glourourim pupils was interspersed with solos and recitations.

Mrs. Paul Harris was accompanist. Santa then arrived and distributed the many gifts.

Victor Morrow Elected Master Of LOL 108

WARKWORTH — (ENS) — The Orange Lodge, LOL No. 108, held their annual business meeting. Bro. Harry Hutchinson presided over the election of officers which resulted as follows:

Master, Victor Morrow; deputy master, Fred Skinkle; chaplain, Harry Brownson; recording secretary, Jesse Ireland; financial secretary, Jim Vansicklen; treasurer, Douglas McVety; marshall, Charles Killingbeck.

The retiring master was Douglas McVety.

Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Peace Congress Pleas For 5-Power Pact

VIENNA (AP) — The Communist-sponsored world peace congress wound up its final session today with a plea for a five-power conference and peace pact among Britain, the United States, Russia, France and Red China.

The congress ignored occasional criticisms of Russia by half-a-dozen Western neutralists and pacifists during the week's meetings here and adopted a program in line with Soviet international policies.

Naval Conflict Paper Warns

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Navy publication Red Fleet said today that the appointment of Admiral Earl Mountbatten as commander-in-chief of NATO communications in the Mediterranean will aggravate Anglo-American conflicts in that area.

Giving the first Soviet comment on the apointment, Red fleet said Mountbatten's authority would be strictly "nominal."

"The struggle for key positions in the district of the Mediterranean sea between the imperialists of the United States and England are taking ever more sharp forms," the navy paper added.

U.S. RETAINS COMMAND

NATO headquarters in Paris said Friday that Mountbatten would not get automatic control over the U.S. Sixth fleet — largest naval force in the Mediterranean — in case war should break out. A headquarters spokesman said that Mountbatten and U. S. Admiral Robert B. Carney, Sixth fleet commander, would "operate on a co-equal command plane," with both responsible directly to U. S. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe.

Mountbatten will head the British, Italian and French fleets in the Mediterranean and will have the job of keeping open the sea lanes of communication.

Commercial Banned

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Television commercials showing announcers drinking beer were banned today by WFBM-TV in response to a protest from Methodist ministers. The Indianapolis Methodist Ministerial Association complained last week that such "dramatization" of the tastiness of beer "does our children such harm that years cannot remove."

Charles Deya Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles W. Deyo, 72, former president and chairman of the board of the F. W. Woolworth Company, died Thursday night at his home at New Canaan, Conn. Deyo, a native of New Paltz, N.Y., entered business with the S. H. Knox Company in London, Ont., in 1902. He came to New York in 1912 when the Knox firm merged with Woolworth.

Two Comedies Presented By Sodality

Two one-act comedies and the Christmas story were presented at the St. Peter's Junior Sodality Christmas concert Friday night. The concert was held at St. Peter's School auditorium. The setting of both plays was in a girls' residence—the first, And a Happy New Year, in a girls' boarding school, and the second in a sorority house.

Four students at Miss Weston's school for girls barely miss the terrible fate of being stranded at school for Christmas. But parents telephone, wire and arrive for each of the girls to have a merry Christmas in, And a Happy New Year..

The students were Margaret McTeague, Nancy Emery, Anne Ryan, and Betty Rutherford. Doreen Quinlan played the part of Miss Weston. The maid Pansy was played by Margaret Caravaggie, and Viola Lovett by Colleen Picard.

The second play, Seven to One, was full of intrigue and suspense as seven typical co-eds date the same man for a fudge party at their sorority house.

The seven co-eds were Catherine Howell, Margaret O'Keefe, Arleigh Fitzgerald, Winnifred Moloney, Joan Morton, Marie McFarlane, Pauline Minicola, and Marlene O'Neill.

The Christmas Story was narrated by Miss Shirley Minicola, with Christmas carols by the St. Peter's Junior Sodality Chorus. The accompanist was Mrs. Robert Aman.

Peter Ferren was master of ceremonies. The technical and advisory staff were: Romeo Mongraw, Albert Ryan, Miss Gloria Ridley, Miss Anne Crowley, Miss Anne Fitzgerald, and Miss Donna Loescher.

4 Airmen Receive Award From Queen

OTTAWA (CP)—Award of the Queen's commendation for brave conduct to four Canadian airmen who pulled a number of men to safety following an RCAF crash at Summerside, P.E.I., last April 25 was announced Friday night by Air Force headquarters.

The announcement said the Queen has approved the awards to Flt. Lt. J. T. Dalton, 30, Newcastle N.B.; FO C. C. Spicer, 26 Parrsboro, N.S.; FO L. D. Temple, 33, Toronto; and Flight Cadet B. G. Hatton, 19, Toronto.

The accident occurred when a Lancaster, attempting to land, crashed on the airfield at Summerside, killing four and injuring nine others of its crew.

The four officers arrived at the scene minutes after the accident. Disregarding their own safety they proceeded to pull crew members

FOR PARENTS ONLY:

Music Has Central Place In Celebrating Christmas

By NANCY CLEAVER

The first Christmas was announced in song by the angels, and all through the centuries music has had a central place in the observance of this season. Children are eager to sing the old familiar carols, and learn new Christmas hymns. If a boy or girl has sung carols in the family group, when he is grown he will have precious memories of these songs and as a commentator in the Saturday Review of Literature once pointed out, "If a family has sung carols together, no member of it, singing alone at Christmas, ever sings a solo".

Some mothers feel very much at sea when their child says wistfully, "Teach me a song, Mummy!" Other parents, who are naturally musical, sing around the home with real enjoyment whenever they feel like it. They may not be "soloists" but their youngsters like to hear this happy sound.

BORN IMITATORS

Children love repetition and they are born imitators. "Sing again!" they will plead when they hear a song they like. The little child of three or four "absorbs" a song and learns by copying his parent. Learning a new song should never be work to him! Mother wants to encourage his enjoyment in listening and his eagerness to sing himself. She knows he has a limited sense of pitch and not much control over his tone.

The best way to teach a song to a child of kindergarten age is to sing the entire song through several times. Then teach the child the first phrase, then the second phrase. Combine the first and second phrases, and so on, teaching one phrase at a time and then combine it with the part that is known until the song is complete.

No matter what the age of the child, mother must remember to use a light mellow head tone. Even if she is a contralto she can learn to produce this. Her child will copy her volume as well as her pitch and length of tone. She should also sing the melody accurately and sing the words naturally and distinctively. As an English adjudicator at one of our Canadian festivale stressed, "Get the words right and the music will come right too!"

A child's song should be short and very simple in character. The words used should be ones he understands. He loves action songs such as "Pat-a-Cake" and "Lightly Row" and he also appreciates a little story about a song.

Nursery Rhymes come under the fire of critics from time to time, but a child loves the lilt of them. Folk songs, because the melody is of a high quality and so has endured the passing of time, are enjoyed by children. A child will listen with real pleasure to songs which are brief and rhythmic and have a definite melody line.

The mother who is not very musical will find good children's records played on the gramophone a real help. Listen to the song a couple of times with the child and then sing softly with the music. If mother can play the piano, she and her child can enjoy a game of "matching tones" of the different single notes on the piano with their voices. Begin on the third space in the treble staff. Listening attentively is the first step in singing accurately!

Music, the language of tone, is the universal language of mankind. Sigmund Spaeth in his "Music for Everybody" calls it the "organization of sound toward beauty". Singing is not only the easiest music to grasp at first hearing, but it is still the most general and practical way in which the average person can take an actual part in music. Do all in your power to teach your child to sing!

Denison, Musical Accompanist, Nursery School, Institute of Child Study, University of Toronto. (W. J. Gage & Co. Ltd.), Hossis Dann's "First Year Music" (W. J. Gage & Co.) and "Songs for Little Children". (Ryerson Press).

Committee chairman John Anderson, with assistant, Allie Walkins, spoke to the boys. Mrs. Philp was accompanist for the singing of carols. Cub Montgomery thanked the auxiliary.

Student Nurses End Y Course With 'Open House'

The 39 new nursing students at Peterborough Civic Hospital have, for the first three months of their course, enjoyed a Friday afternoon break from hospital routine to swimming and exercising in the YWCA pool and gym.

But yesterday this recreational training came to an end and the girls marked the occasion with an "open house" to which they invited their staff instructors, their parents and friends. They gave them a demonstration of what they have been doing in both pool and gym. Then the girls and their guests were guests of the YWCA board for afternoon tea.

The students' program was topped with a "backward" comedy number in which they wore most horrible false faces on backward with their own faces covered with kerchiefs. They did several European folk dances, a relay race and some gym routines before taking to the water.

During the tea hour they made presentation of a bouquet of flowers to their director, Miss Beatrice Pelsis, and also had a gift for their pianist. Miss Diane Miller performed these honors. Miss Lois Bearne voiced thanks to the Y for the privileges extended and for the tea. The Y has given the girls a social membership for the balance of the year.

Y president, Mrs. H. T. Rehill, presided at the tea table and servers were members of the social committee which is headed by Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hutchinson and family and her mother, Mrs. Harold Insley, called at the home of the latter's niece, Mrs. Alvin Pratt and family, Oak Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buchanan and son of Belleville were recent guests of his father, Ben Buchanan.

An item of interest to this locality: Mrs. Fred Ward, soloist, and her piano accompanist, Miss Ferne Killingbeck, were heard on Sunday from the Belleville radio station, and will be heard every alternate Sunday for a time.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelly and family were Mr. and Mrs. Fleming of Amherst Island and Mrs. Leslie Hardy and children of Kingston.

Mrs. E. A. Doxtator of Peterborough visited for a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Pratt and family.

Mr. R. Hust of Cornwall visited this week at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. B. O'Connor.

Mr. and Mrs. John May of Toronto were recent guests of Mrs. William Ireland.

F/O Melford Gummer of Summerside, P.E.I., visited his grandmother, Mrs. M. Wilson, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Pratt and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pratt visited the Rev. and Mrs. A. B Moffatt, Marmora, formerly of Warkworth, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moffatt, Marmora, on Thursday.

CIRCULATION BANNED

RABAT, French Morocco (AP)—Circulation of the Paris Communist newspaper L'Humanite has been banned in Morocco by French colonial authorities, it was learned today. The action apparently was taken several days ago because of articles on nationalist demonstrations in Casablanca and elsewhere.

MAJORITY OWNED

At last count 46 per cent of Canada's manufacturing outfits were individually owned and 15.8 per cent were partnerships.

Black's PETERBORO

FOR SPRING '53—Designers have begun their spring showings and here are some of the results: (Top left) a beige bonnet in shiny straw tips a feather over its brim and ties a veil behind. (Top right) A pastel straw, heavy with roses, tips over a brow. (Lower left) A demure young blouse in sheer nylon is matched to a cotton taffetized skirt.

What's Right

You get a thrill out of new possessions and love to show them to your friends.

WRONG: Every time you have guests bring out or point out your newest acquisition for their admiration.

RIGHT: Realize that by doing that you may cause others to think that you are showing off.

Readers' Saturday Column Conducted By Mary Moore

QUESTION: Could you send me a recipe for salt-rising bread? Jennie C.

SALT-RISING BREAD

ANSWER: This is a very temperamental bread dough, so keep out of draughts.

Scald 1 cup milk and pour over ½ cup cornmeal — preferably white. Let this stand in a warm place until it begins to ferment—about 24 hours. It must be kept warm if you have to use a heating pad! Heat until lukewarm 3 cups milk, ¾ tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 5 tablespoons lard. Stir into these 3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour. Stir this into the corn mixture when it is ready. Place the bowl containing these ingredients in a pan of lukewarm water for about 2 hours, or until bubbles work up from the bottom (you will have to keep adding boiling hot water to the water around it to keep it warm.) Stir in 5 cups sifted all-purpose flour. Place the dough in 3 greased 5 x 10 inch pans until it has doubled in bulk. Place the loaves in a moderate oven of 350 deg. Fahr. for about 15 minutes, then increase heat gradually to 425 deg., baking the bread about 1 hour in all. You may have to try this 2 or 3 times before you recognize the stages at which steps are taken, however it is worth learning, for the loaf is fine and delicious.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Would you please give me your recipe for butter tarts which, I believe, contain a little orange or lemon rind? Mrs. H. C. A.

BUTTER OR BANBURY TARTS

ANSWER: Mix together in saucepan 1 cup each chopped raisins and sugar, 2 tablespoons fine cracker crumbs, 1 well-beaten egg, grated rind of 1 lemon or orange, 1½ tablespoons lemon juice and 2 tablespoons butter. Stir over low heat until they begin to thicken. Remove from heat and cool. Partly fill individual baked tart shells. Top tarts with whipped cream OR do not cook this filling, and place in unbaked tart shells, two-thirds full, and bake at 400 deg. Fahr. about 12 minutes.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I was delighted with your recipe for cocoanut dreams. You mentioned having a recipe for Honeymoon Bars and Matrimonial Squars. I would appreciate having these, could you publish them in time for Christmas? Have you some cookie recipes that might be different, or maybe tips for making Christmas Candy . . . Lily C.

ANSWER: I hope you saw the cookie recipes that have appeared over the past few weeks — also candy.

HONEYMOON BARS (2 variations)

Into measuring cup put brown sugar to ½ cup mark, then fill cup with white sugar; put in bowl with 1 cup soft shortening, 2 teaspoons vanilla, ½ teaspoon salt and 1 egg. Beat hard for 1 minute. Add 1 cup sifted flour and 1 cup coarse rolled oats. Mix into first mixture and spread in buttered pan 11 x 7 x 1½ inches. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. about 45 to 55 minutes. (For very thin cookies spread this batter in 2 pans.) Melt ½ lb. semi-sweet chocolate in bowl over hot water (do not let water boil). When melted spread this over baked layer, spreading evenly. Now chop one-third cup walnuts or Brazils or almonds. Cover half of cookies with wax paper and sprinkle uncovered half with the chopped nuts. Remove paper and sprinkle other half with shredded cocoanut. Thus you have 2 varieties. Cool until chocolate is set. Cut with sharp knife into 24 bars. Extremely popular and good-looking.

MATRIMONIAL SQUARES (date and oatmeal)

Cream together ¾ cup butter and 1 cup brown sugar and mix well into them 1 cup flour and 2 cups rolled oats. Spread half of this in buttered pan to depth of ½ inch. Spread over it the Filling: Simmer 1 lb. dates in ¾ cup water and ¾ cup sugar until a soft mush. Cool and spread on layer in pan. Cover with remaining crumb mixture and flatten with fork. Bake about 20 to 30 minutes at 350 deg. Fahr. Cut into squares with sharp knife when cool.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Wives Sometimes Called To Face Unfair Competition

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 28 years old and madly in love with a married man of 42. I knew he was married the first time I went with him, but it was a blind date and turned out to be love at first sight. We have lived in a world for two these last few months. He has two children in their teens, and I also have two small children, but I would give them up never to see them again in order to get my man. I have been divorced for a year.

He wants to wait until his youngest child is grown before we marry. What shall I do? I am not going to give him up. I will do anything to break up his home, I love him so much. His wife knows about our friendship, but not about our love. He says he will never love anyone else. If that is true, why doesn't he prove it?

H. J.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I've given this letter verbatim, not with the thought of helping H. J., who is just about beyond help, but to give wives an idea of the competition they are sometimes up against. Surely no wife would worry seriously over such a rival!

MAN NOT SERIOUS

Since promises of marriage in this case are vaguely and conveniently shoved ahead for an indeterminate time, the man obviously is interested solely in the thrill of a clandestine affair. Boredom will soon set in, and H. J. will join the sisterhood of disillusioned backstreet wives. It's strange indeed that a woman so devoid of the most elementary principles of decency can delude herself into believing she can attract and hold another woman's husband. The attraction may exist for a time, but it is fated to be a tenuous thing of short duration.

Here's a woman with one broken marriage behind her flagrantly intent on breaking up another woman's home and completely blind to the welfare of her own children. And some soft-hearted (or soft-headed) readers will write and tell me I'm too hard on the poor thing!

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been friends with a single woman since we were both girls together. Now we are in our late fifties, both unmarried, and have shared a lot of pleasures with each other. A few years ago she became very close-mouthed, although I have never betrayed her confidence. We are both employed, spend a good deal of time together after working hours, exxcept that she is never free on week-ends, but won't tell me why. I'm sure there's a man in the case, but why the secrecy?

SENTIMENTAL ANN

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The best way to preserve a friendship is to respect a friend's desire for privacy, both physical and mental. Don't intrude on the time she wishes for herself, and don't try to invade the privacy of her mind. The time for confidences will come, and you'll prove a true friend, indeed, by just being around when you're needed.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 14. Last week Joe asked me to go to a football game. I like him very much, and he likes me. Three days later, Dave, for whom I don't care particularly, asked me to a party. Right after he called, Joe asked me to the same party. Now, if I tell Dave I'd rather go with Joe, I've already accepted an invitation he will be hurt, but if I tell Joe to the party, he'll think I don't like him. What shall I do?

MARCIA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Life, my dear, is full of such complications as this, and it is in learning to handle them tactfully that you'll acquire the poise and grace that make a charming woman. Since you accepted Dave's invitation first, you must go with him. Tell Joe exactly what happened, and let him know you're sorry he didn't ask you first. As his lesson in growing up, he should accept the situation graciously and next time try to be first on your date list.

P.T.A. News

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL

St. John's Parent-Teacher Association met in the school auditorium on Thursday evening with president Mr. F. P. O'Connor in the chair. Highlight of business was the report by membership convener, Mr. John Quirk of 195 paid-up members, with several sections of the parish still to be heard from. He was commended for an excellent job. Mrs. Lorne Ritchie presented goalie pads and sticks on behalf of the association to the school hockey team. These were received by the principal, Sister Mary Garnier.

The Association was entertained by the school choir under direction of Mr. Heribert Michel. Their rendition of traditional Christmas carols was very well received. Mr. Michel and one of his pupils, Miss Susanne Martin played two piano duets, King of the Forest and Lustspiel. Mr. Michel was thanked by the president for his wonderful work with the school children and also for helping with the entertainment from time to time.

A delightful lunch was served by the social convener, Mr. Charles Boulter and her committee.

Young, 385 Stewart Street. Thence to Immaculate Conception Church for Requiem Mass at 9 a.m., Tuesday, December 23rd. Interment St. Martin's Cemetery, Ennismore. (Arrangements Lane Funeral Home.)

6—In Memoriam

BROWNELL—In loving memory of a very dear sister, Minnie Brownell, who went away Dec. 21st, 1951.
I cannot say and I will not say that she is dead,
She is just away.
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
She wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since she lingers there.
—Sadly missed and always remembered by sister Ethel and family.

FREEMAN—In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and sister, Mabel, who passed away two years ago today, Dec. 21, 1950.
You can only have one mother, patient, kind and true,
No other friend in all the world will be as true to you;
For all her loving kindness she asks nothing in return;
If all the world deserted you, to your mother you can turn.
So all we can do, dear mother, is to go and tend your grave
And leave behind a token of love to the best mother God ever made.
—Too dearly loved to ever be forgotten by her husband, family and sister, Mrs. Wm. Brotherstone.

KETCHESON—In loving memory of Ethel Maude Ketcheson, who passed away December 21, 1947.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Ever remembered by husband Maurice, daughter Myrtle and son-in-law John.

LINDSAY—In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. James Lindsay, who passed away December 21st, 1946.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrances keeps her near.
—Ever remembered by daughter Nettie, Laurie and family.

McWILLIAMS—In loving memory of Claude H. McWilliams, who passed away Dec. 20, 1951.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days,
Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
—Ever remembered by wife and family.

NOKES—In loving memory of Elizabeth Nokes, who passed away December 20, 1945.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we love
From memory pass away.
—Always remembered by sons Arthur, Harry and families.

7—Card of Thanks

I wish to thank the Sisters, visiting clergy, doctors and nurses of St. Joseph's Hospital; also the CWL of Douro and all those who sent cards and flowers during my recent stay in hospital.—Mary Moher, R.N.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Orde and family wish to extend their deepest appreciation to the nurses and staff of Civic Hospital and attending doctors, Evangelists Ernest Tatham, Toronto and Samuel Taylor of Peterborough, kind relatives, friends and neighbors who sent cards, flowers and gifts to their son Keith during his illness, for the many floral tributes and those who helped in any way during their recent sad bereavement in the loss of a dear son and brother.

Mere words are inadequate to express our gratitude. To each and everyone who has helped us through these days of sorrow with beautiful flowers, words of sympathy and deeds of infinite kindness, we can only say "Thank you so much."—Richard H. Walsh and family.

What We Do For You —

WHEN YOU LIST YOUR PROPERTY WITH MASON & RISHOR REAL ESTATE:
(1) We will price fairly — and at once.
(2) We will help you arrange Mortgages if you need cash (on Exclusive Listings).
(3) We guarantee to advertise adequately all exclusive listings
(4) We show your property to qualified buyers only—we eliminate the "just lookers."
(5) We do all the work—spend our time—our advertising money.
(6) All we ask is a chance to serve you. Sixty days is all the time we need to sell your home.

Scene From Play Features Concert At Millbrook

MILLBROOK (ENS)—The annual Christmas concert of Millbrook public school packed the school auditorium on Thursday.

After a welcome chorus sung by the pupils of the senior room the primary class, under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Henry Gray, presented "Rudolph's Nose Trouble." Rudolph (Larry Thompson) had bathed his nose too long in a running stream and it had turned white much to the consternation of Santa (Michael Butler) and Mrs. Santa (Betty Raper). Toy soldiers, clowns, red toy train, dolls, brownies, snowflakes all try in vain to help but are unsuccessful until the fairies with their leader (Susan Hickey) manage to turn Rudolph's nose red again just in time for Christmas eve.

Next the Christmas scene from "Little Women" was staged by senior pupils. Portraying the lovable March family were Janet Hobbs as Meg, Helen Ingham as Jo, Judy Hobbs (Beth), Patricia Peebles (Amy) and Carol Hawkins (Marmee). Dorothy Dawson was Hannah, and Carol Ridge Mrs. Hummel. This play was announced by Donna Murney.

The intermediate room program directed by their teacher, Miss Jean Burnham, consisted of two choruses, a Christmas stocking drill by boys, and two playlets. The first, "Children From Fairyland" was introduced by Alan Fowler.

In the second "A Bachelor's Lonely Christmas," Teddy Nattress played the title role. His desire to spend the day quietly reading is upset by well-meaning neighbors who insist on lending him some of their children to keep him entertained. In desperation he accepts an invitation he had formerly turned down to avoid his role of unwilling host. David Challice introduced the playlet.

The final item was the play "Puppy Love" by pupils of Mr. Hamilton's room. The Bradley family consisting of the parents (George Dawson and Laureen Gilbert and Helen Wright) and a Guthrie) and two daughters (Joan son (Jack Hickey) want to have a puppy in their apartment, and finally arrange to keep it. Mr. Bradley's boss was played by Ed Anderson and the Bradley boy's girl friend by Leone Ouellette. One of the stars of this play was a live puppy, Marlyne Chapman introduced the play.

The presentation of six cups and saucers of various designs from the pupils of the school to Mrs. Henry Gray, who leaves to teach in Port Hope after holidays, was made by Nancy Nattress. Dorothy Dawson read the address.

Choruses were directed by Miss Diann Hogaboam. There was an exchange of Christmas gifts from the tree.

Freighter Tries To Make Port

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Canadian freighter Maplecove today eased toward Vancouver with a damaged rudder, trying to bring her 62-man crew into port in time for Christmas.

In case she doesn't make it, the rescue tug Island Sovereign, speeding to her aid, is carrying a fat supply of turkeys and plum puddings.

The two ships may rendezvous Sunday 500 miles off the British Columbia coast. If the Maplecove can still keep going under her own steam, the Island Sovereign will simply act as escort.

The 10,000-ton Canadian Pacific Steamship freighter damaged her rudder Thursday 1,260 miles west of here and the crew had no control over her. However, Capt. R.A. Leicester reported Friday the ship could make 10 knots in quiet seas.

2 Trains Collide 3 Killed, 15 Injured

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP)—Three persons were killed and 15 were injured today when a passenger and freight train collided head-on in heavy fog between Seesen and Derneburg in the British zone, railroad officials reported.

Those killed were the freight engineer and fireman, and a postal clerk of the passenger train.

Several among the injured were listed as critical.

Uncle Joe 73 Unveil TV On Birthday

BERLIN (AP) — Television will be unveiled in the Russian zone tomorrow, Stalin's 73rd birthday. The timing is a clear sign that television is regarded in the East as one more tool for the propaganda machine.

Only top Communist officials will be allowed to possess the handful of sets produced in East Germany. "Peoples - owned" factories have been turning out a Russian model exclusively for shipment to the Soviet Union in the last year.

For the present, 2,000 sets will be erected in the nationalized factories, schools, "cultural centres" and party headquarters. The cost is prohibitive for any individual, even if the Communist state would allow him to buy. It is fixed at 3,500 East marks, which is only $175 on the free exchange but represents a year's wages for the average worker.

TWO HOURS DAILY

Entertainment includes a "National Forum" in which political subjects will be dealt with as the Communists view them. Room for sports, and political demonstrations and rallies is provided in the schedule.

For the present only a two-hour sending daily is contemplated.

Canadians Buy

tate to use vegetable oils. Our information is that if the manufacture of these substitutes is started in Canada, all the dairy companies will use oils from the start, because none of them is willing to lose business to the others.

"Difficult as it has been this year, it might have been worse, as with hogs, beef, eggs and poultry, if you hadn't your association to look after your business and get some government assistance. The price might" have dropped by one-third.

"At present, we have a comparatively small surplus of cheese, and it is moving out fast. Buyers are calling every day, buying by the car load. We think the surplus will be cleared out by spring. If that is so, there will be more cheese consumed in Canada than has actually been produced, when you consider those New Zealand imports. It has been the other way around with us for a long time."

ADVERTISING PAYS

Mr. Arnold said there was no doubt about the effects of the advertising campaign now in its second year, which has been financed by the June levy.

"The Ontario government has helped, too. They put on a big program in the west, and the Dominion government is starting where Ontario leaves off and will spend a like amount.

"There is no question about people eating more cheese today, just through advertising. We make the best quality Cheddar cheese, but for a long time Canadians have not been cheese-eaters. They have been overlooking cheese, but our home market demand is clearly increasing.

"One thing I'd like to stress. It is true that the governments guaranteed our loans at the banks but we've got to pay it back as the sales come in. So, neither government gave us one red nickel."

Business has continued to be handled by the association's marketing board. Cheese producers have been carrying on their own affairs, and the industry is looking for improvement in 1953. Things couldn't be much more worrisome than they were this season.

Incidentally, directors are silent on their stocks in hand, Mr. Arnold said. Whether much or little, the board is keeping that information to themselves, as a matter of business. The only hint Mr. Arnold uttered was the likelihood that present cheese would be disposed of by the time the 1953 season opens.

FRED CROWE RE-ELECTED

In the business of the annual meeting, Fred Crowe, of Warsaw, was re-elected president. Stuart Clysdale, also of Dummer, is vice-president; Frank C. Patterson, secretary-treasurer.

Directors: Harold Van Volkenburg, Ralph Garbutt, B. Dunford, Chester Hamilton, Gordon Fitzgerald, Charles Lobb.

Delegates to the Ontario convention January 7-8: Ernest Batten and R. Garbutt, H. Van Volkenburg and George Elliott.

R. Keith Orde

The funeral for Evangelist R. Keith Orde, 249 Reid Street, who died December 13, was held on Tuesday from the Comstock Funeral Home.

Evangelist Samuel Taylor of the McDonnel Street Gospel Hall and Evangelist Ernest Tatham of Toronto conducted the service.

Pallbearers were Eric Hartshorne, James Blackwood Harold Pavy, Jack Buller, Kenneth Godfrey, and Jack Orde, Jr. Burial was in Little Lake Cemetery.

Reserve Decision In Hearing For 2 Policemen

TORONTO—Decision was reserved until Monday in Willowdale court at the completion Friday of the preliminary hearing of two suspended York County policemen and another man on a charge of breaking and entering a North York supermarket last month.

The charge against George McGroarty, one of the four arrested after the breakin, was dismissed by Magistrate Hollinrake, who ruled that a verbal statement, made by McGroarty to investigators, was not sufficient evidence to commit him for trial.

McGroarty is still charged, along with Stanley Bird and Constables Keith Knowles and Garth Chappell, with breaking into the office of a Leaside construction company and the Willowdale court office.

Stanley Bird was committed for trial on a charge of carrying an offensive weapon, a revolver found in his possession on the night of the supermarket breakin.

ADMIT EVIDENCE

Over the objections of Counsel Harry Rose, a statement made by Constable Knowles to North York detectives was admitted as evidence.

In the statement, Knowles, a member of the county police for three years, said he had been drinking at several downtown hotel bars on the night of the breakin.

He said he was at the Fort York Armouries about 10:30 p.m. when he met Constable Chappell. Leaving together, Knowles said in his statement, they went to an address on Dundas St. where they met two other men.

The four men got into Chappell's auto and drove north. Knowles said he put his service revolver in the glove compartment of Chappell's auto.

Knowles said he didn't realize, until later, that his revolver was missing. A police issue revolver was found in the possession of Stanley Bird.

In his statement, Knowles said the auto stopped in a lane in North York. He got out of the back and into the front seat as the other men stepped out.

He said he noticed two police cruisers come down the street and started the auto up and drove away. Knowles was arrested by North York detectives the next day while on duty in the York County Building on Adelaide St. E.

Constable Chappell and Stanley Bird were found inside the Dominion Store supermarket by North York police officers. George McGroarty was picked up the next day as he left his city home.

Asphodel Pupils Present Concert

WESTWOOD (ENS). — Westwood Community Hall was filled to capacity on Thursday evening for the annual concert and Christmas tree of SS No. 1, Asphodel and the School Area. An outstanding program was staged by the pupils, supervised by their teacher Miss Marjorie Huffman. Musical director Donald Pollock of Havelock was accompanist for the evening, and trustee Harold Fife was chairman. Reeve James Humphries voiced the appreciation of the large audience to Miss Huffman, the pupils, and Mr. Pollock.

A clothes hamper and towel set from the pupils to their teacher were presented by W. E. Middlebrook and Barbara Russell, for which Miss Huffman expressed her thanks.

The program began with a chorus, "It's Beginning to Look Like Christmas," with a "Hello" welcome by Wayne Pacey. The school also gave the closing chorus "Christmas Polka," with "Last Christmas Wish" by Grayce Lain. Recitations were given by Ann Whitred, Melvyn Russell, Bettie Patterson, Vaughn Fife, Teddy Shaw, and Larry Simpson. Plays were "Christmas Gifts on Sticks," "Christmas Shoppers, "My Dog Rover," and "Christmas Fairy." Other items were "Merry Christmas," "Punkinhead," "Christmas Candles," and a square dance by the Juniors, and a drill by the Senior girls.

The "Nativity Scene" was presented. Barbara Russell sang a solo "'Twas the Night Before Christmas," and Isobel Wilson gave a piano solo. A duet "Sunbonnet Sally" and "Overall Jim" was sung by Sharon Cardwell and Carl Breckenridge.

After the closing chorus Santa Claus arrivedd to distribute candy and gifts from the gaily decorated tree.

Cannington Station Robbed Of Safe

Down Cannington way CNR officials are scratching their heads as they ponder what to do about the epidemic of breakins that has afflicted them. This week, for the fourth time in recent years, thieves broke into the station and scooted away with about 500 pounds of freight and express.

Oh yes, they took the 150-pound safe along, as well. It contained surplus CNR tickets and "a few dollars" in silver.

Among the loot were Christmas gifts, but as the shipping bills are also missing the officials don't know what were the contents of the parcels.

The Harricanaw River flows 250 miles through northern Quebec to Hannah Bay on James Bay.

7 East Germans Plead Guilty As Spies

BERLIN (rueters)—Seven East Germans have pleaded guilty to spying for the United States before an Erfurt court, in the Soviet zone, the East Berlin newspaper Berliner Zeitung said today.

Russian-controlled Leipzig radio said most of the accused held important positions in the East German state administration.

Manufacturer Convicted Of Hi-Jacking

TANGIERS, Morocco (AP) — Sidney H. Paley, a 32-year-old nylon panty manufacturer, was convicted today of helping to hijack a Dutch motor ship.

Consular Judge Milton Helmick sentenced Paley to three years' imprisonment.

Paley was specifically charged with conspiring with and aiding and abetting Elliot Burt Forrest in the attack.

Paley was not present when six hooded men seized the ship Combinatie at machine-gun point on the high seas off eastern Spain Oct. 4 and made off with its $100,000 cargo of American cigarettes.

Paley was sentenced to three years on each count but the judge specified that the sentence should run concurrently.

CASE APEALED

Helmick's two civilian associates in U. S. consular court — Thomas Greenish, of MacKay Radio, and Charles Lichtensteiger, a banker — dissented. This did not alter the verdict but it meant the case would be appealed automatically to the American minister here.

Under rules governing consular courts, the minister has three choices. He may uphold the sentence, call for a new trial, or retry the case himself.

Prosecutor Neal Ruge did not ask for the maximum sentence of 20 years since Paley had not been previously convicted of a crime and no one was hurt in the hijacking.

Prosecution witnesses said that Forrest actually led the sea attack on the Dutch ship. But one, an Australian sea captain, testified that Paley told him he and Forrest "sat up all night" planning the raid. Forrest vanished after the attack.

Paley swore the Australian captain's testimony was "false and malicious."

Deny PoWs To Be Put Under RoK Control

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — The UN command today denied reports carried in some Korean newspapers that negotiations are under way to transfer control of Communist prisoners of war from United Nations forces to the Republic of Korea.

Maj.-Gen. Thomas W. Herren, commander of the Korean communications zone which has immediate jurisdiction over PoWs, said he asked Gen. Shin Pae Yung, South Korean defence minister, for a statement on the published reports.

Herren said also "I am having my people investigate to see where this report originated."

Enjoy Christmas, Trees Dangerous Says Fire Chief

"Let's all enjoy our Christmas this year. Let's not mar the festive season with a fire that may cost death or injury, or at least property damage."

Acting Fire Chief Stewart Foster said this today as he called on Peterborough residents to take commonsense precautions to prevent fires during the Christmas-New Year holiday period.

Christmas trees, with their decorations and lighting are the main hazard, with large quantities of highly-inflammable wrapping paper running a close second.

"The possibilities of a disastrous fire are there in every home," said Acting Chief Foster. "But a few precautions can reduce the risk."

First of all, take your Christmas tree:

A small tree reduces the risk of a dangerous fire. Keep the butt end soaked in water and that will keep it as moist as possible under these unnatural conditions. Keep it away from sources of heat, such as fireplaces, stoves, radiators, and warm air vents. Do not put it so an exit is blocked.

If a large party is planned it would be wise to spray the tree with an inflammable preparation —just to be on the safe side.

Live candles are definitely out. And even a string of electric lights should be looked after carefully.

EXAMINE LIGHTS

Circuits should be examined for defects in plugs and fuses and for breaks or damage to the cord. Bulbs should not rest against any of the tree needles; nor against curtains.

Don't leave the Christmas tree lights on all night. Shut them off before leaving the house unoccupied.

Smoking habits are important at Christmas time because of the large amount of inflammable material about. Have extra ash trays handy.

Don't leave paper wrappings and decorations around any longer than necessary. Get them away from the tree.

When the tree begins to turn color or the needles begin to fall off take the tree down and put it outside the house.

Remember: Christmas Day is one of the big days in a child's life. Make it a happy day by keeping your home free from the fire hazard.

W. Grant Allen Elected Head Of Business Men

WARKWORTH (ENS). — The regular dinner meeting of the Warkworth Business Men's Association was held Thursday night at Carlaw's Hotel with a good attendance. Glen Hancock reported for the committee in regard to the collecting of garbage, and a discusion was held in connection with the work and a committee was appointed consisting of Howard Wilson, Robert Edgar, and Gordon Hutchinson to meet the village commissioners to make further plans.

James Scarrow requested that the business men rent the skating rink for Saturday afternoons from 2 till 4 p.m. for the benefit of all small children.

Report on plans for the Christmas dance, the proceeds of which are to be used for the new fire hall building, was given by Alan Buchanan.

The president and secretary were authorized to pay the proceeds from the turkey bingo and Christmas dance to the fund for the building of the new fire hall.

The annual Ladies' Night is to be held in January as usual.

The executive committee presented the slate of officers for 1953, and it was approved by the association. The following are the officers: President, W. Grant Allen; vice - president, William Mowat; secretary-treasurer, W. F. Buckley; representative to recreation commission, Dr. F. B. Brintnell! welfare committee, Gordon McCubbin, Gordon Hutchinson, the Rev. A. L. Sisco; hours committee, Robert Edgar, R. H. McNally, J. H. Buttars; finance committee, J. H. Buttars. J. E. Trabert Proves Star Of Series

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The Australians became fully aware today that in Tony Trabert the Americans have an extremely capable second singles tennis player for them to face in the coming Davis Cup challenge round.

Trabert pulled out all the stops in trouncing Italy's crack youngster, Falusto Gardini 6-3, 5-7, 7-5, 6-3 today.

Ahstralian experts unanimously agreed that Tony is more dangerous now than he was a year ago although he has spent time in the U.S. Navy.

Trabert trimmed Gardini in far more convincing fashion than Vic Seixas, the American captain, who was carried to five sets in whipping the lanky Gardini Thursday.

Off today's form Tony has been made the favorite over the Australian's No. 2 Davis Cup singles player, whether it's Ken McGregor or Mervyn Rose.

Gardini was a sound player but he was almost completely helpless when Trabert was getting his first service in. In all Trabert rocketed 13 clean aces past Gardini.

In the opening match of the final day's program which saw the U.S. team sweep the Italians into a 5-0 defeat, Hamilton Richardson had no difficulty defeating Rolando Del Bello 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

REPEAT TONIGHT? — Jean Beliveau, the Big Ace from Quebec known as "Le Gros Bill," who scored three goals in his first lend-lease assignment with the Canaliens Thursday night, should be on deck again tonight to try to repeat the trick. Gaye Stewart, left, who has played only briefly, has been a luck bringer after being bought on a waiver by the Canadiens from New York. The Montrealers haven't lost a game since.

ONTARIO PACERS WIN

TORONTO (CP)—Maudeen Volo, owned by Ray Poore of Parkhill, and driven by Morley MacDonald, and Frisco Meredith, owned by John R. Reid of Ailsa Craig and handled by Joe Hodgins, outpaced a good field of junior free-for-all pacers in the sixth and featured trotting race at Dufferin Park Friday. Each accounted for a heat.

In the first heat, Maudeen Volo stalled off the fast-closing Williamsburg to win in a photo finish. Handly Flash was third.

Frisco Meredith in the second heat took the decision after a rousing stretch battle in a photo over Dr. Parker. Maudeen Volo took the show end.

BARS DELAYED START

BARRIE (CP)—Stafford Smythe, coach of the league-leading Toronto Marlboros, refused to allow Barrie Flyers to delay Friday night's Ontario Hockey Association Junior A game one-half hour. Hap Emms, coach of the Flyers, had proposed the delay so fans could go ahead with their Christmas shopping before the game.

TRACKS DEBATE MERGER

NEW YORK (AP)—Three New York race tracks—Jamaica, Aqueduct and inactive Empire—are considering a proposal that they merge their interests into one giant-sized $25,000,000 plant.

John A. Morris, president of the Jamaica track, and Cyrus S. Jullien, president of Aqueduct, said Friday a survey is being made to find the proper site for the new establishment. A decision may be made in two months.

ADMITS TRACK FIRE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Police said Willie Taylor, 24-year-old exercise boy, admitted Friday he deliberately set the $250,000 Douglas Park race course fire here Oct. 26 while "full of" marijuana. The fire destroyed 68 racing thoroughbreds at the former race track, which had been converted into a training track.

Stratford Indians Win Over Dutchmen 6-5

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Stratford Indians' first-string forward line of Mickey Roth, Dinny Flanagan and Billy Flick Friday night snapped out of a five-game scoring slump, an event that is definitely bad news for the other teams trying to catch the pace-setting Indians of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A group.

The ace line collected 10 scoring points between them as the Indians edged Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen 6-5 to increase their first-place margin to five points. The runner-up Owen Sound Mercurys dropped a 5-2 decision to the fourth-place Brantford Redmen and Chatham Maroons moved into fifth place with a 5-2 win over Sarnia Sailors.

SUDBURY WINS

In the only Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior A encounter, Sudbury Wolves trounced North Bay Trappers 7-1 before a season's record crowd of 4,340 in Sudbury.

Timmins-Schumacher flyers defeated South Porcupine Porkies 6-1 in a Porcupine Mines Senior Hockey League game.

The Indians scored four goals in the third period to beat the Dutchmen. Roth counted the winning marker with 51 seconds remaining and it gave him a four-point total, having gained assists on three previous goals. Flanagan had a goal and two assists and Flick registered the same point total. Herve Dejordy counted two of the other Stratford goals and Bill Walsh connected for one.

Harry Psutka and Jack McKenzie counted for Kitchener in the second period to put the Dutchmen in front 2-1 and after the Indians took a 5-2 lead in the third period, the Dutchmen knotted the score at 5-5 on goals by Harvey Jacklin, McKenzie and Paul Oliver.

DUGAN SCORES

At Brantford, the Redmen's win moved them within a single point of the third-place Kitchener-Waterloo outfit. Bill Shill scored two of the Brantford goals with the others fired by Wally Gnatiuk, Arn Dugan and Taylor. The Owen Sound scorers were Doug Gillespie and Ralph Hosking.

QUELL RHUBARB

A free-for-all nearly broke out in the third period when Harry Kazarian and Don Oberholtzer tangled. Police had to disperse the crowd and players. Kazarian scrambled over the boards and had to be torn away from the Brantford fans.

At Chatham, the Maroons' victory broke a deadlock for fifth with Sarnia. Joe Carveth was the sparkplug of the Maroons' attack with three goals. Jimmy Campbell and Billy Cupolo were the other Chatham sharpshooters. The Sarnia goals were counted by McFarland and Horner.

Sudbury's win was their fourth straight over North Bay and boosted their lead in the NOHA senior A group. Roly McLenahan and Nick Tomiuk each scored two goals and Milne, Gord Healey and John Mestan got one apiece. Frankie Ringer fired the lone North Bay goal.

PACES ATTACK

Centre Vic Niemi paced the Flyers' attack, scoring twice and setting up winger Norm Prest for one goal. Gil St. Pierre, Brian Robinson and Tom Mounsey scored the others. Elvon Kavanagh, former New York Rovers player, saved the south enders from a blanking.

Trades Rozek For Hooper

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hank Greenberg announced his first deal of the off season for Cleveland Indians today, trading southpaw pitcher Dick Rozek for righthander Bob Hooper of Philadelphia Athletics.

The Indians' general manager said he was getting, in Hooper, who is 30, a "seasoned hurler" who might help the club immediately and giving up a promising younger pitcher. Rozek is 25.

Rozek, he indicated, does not figure to help the Indians in the foreseeable future. In three seasons with Cleveland he pitched only 52 2-3 innings and had one victory against no defeats.

Hooper won eight and lost 15 for the Athletics last year.

Hold Second Man In Brink's Robbery

BOSTON (AP) — The federal bureau of investigation today has in custody a second man identified as a participant in the $1,219,000 Brink's holdup.

FBI affidavits named the unidentified man as haying been in the group of hooded gunmen who escaped with the largest U. S. cash haul after tying up five employees in the armored car firm's vaults Jan. 17, 1950. The man is described as 37 years old and having a long record.

First sworn affidavits, made available Thursday night, named Joseph (Specs) O'Keefe, 44, of Boston as one of the Brink's robbers. But since then, all papers having connection with the holdup have been removed from files and hidden.

Douse Beacons On Lakes Long Shipping Season Ends

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The friendly beacons of the Great Lakes lighthouses are going out. Another fresh water navigation season is ending.

The shipping season officially will close tonight at midnight, one of the latest dates on record. Only a few vessels remain on the lakes, under full steam for home ports. Wintry gales will soon make the lakes impassable.

The last ships cleared Fort William Friday with good sailing weather forecast. Shipping out of neighboring Port Arthur ended Thursday when the Mohawk Deer hauled anchor. She cleared the St Mary's locks at Sault Ste. Marie at 5 p.m. Friday.

Within the next few days, lighthouse keepers will be taken from their lonely vigils on reefs and promontories through the lakes system.

At ports along the shores of the five lakes which comprise the great inland seas freighters are tying up for the winter. During the coming months they will be refitted and made shipshape for the 1953 season.

At Port Colborne on the Welland Canal at Lake Erie the locks were closed Thursday. The Sault locks will not be officially closed until midnight tonight.

The good weather prevailing during the last two months prompted shipping officials to extend the season five days beyond the Dec. 15 deadline. It gave Lakehead ports an opportunity to ship a near-record amount of grain.

Shipments this year totalled 450,000,000 bushels, far out-stripping last year's 317,000,000 bushels. But it fell short of the 1945 record of 483,700,000 bushels.

This year many of the vessels wintering in lake ports will have holds filled with grain, owing to shortage of storage space elsewhere. Nine vessels at Port Colborne are storing 2,165,000 bushels.

Navigation on the St. Lawrence river between Montreal and Quebec ended Thursday. It was one of the latest closings in years.

Canadian Golf Pair Win Again In Florida

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (CP)—Underdogs dealt another severe beating to some of golf's proudest reputations in Friday's second round of the $13,000 international four-ball tournament.

Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon paired with Stan Leonard of Vancouver to defeat Jack Burke of Houston, Tex. and Jimmy Demaret of Concord, N.Y., 1 up. Burke won last week's $10,000 Miami open.

U.S. open champion Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., and Doug Ford, Harrison, N.Y., were defeated 1 up by Miami's Buddy Godwin and Lloyd Wadkins.

Willie Klein, 51-year-old Miami pro, and Al Brosch of New York came through with a 1-up victory over Fred Haas of New Orleans and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill. Fletcher and Leonard are to meet Klein and Brosch in today's quarter-final.

Financial World Pays Homage To Canadian Dollar

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA (CP)—The financial world paid homage to the Canadian dollar in 1952.

For the first time in 18 years it had climbed from a discount to a premium, becoming the world's most powerful currency.

But pride in that achievement turned to embarrassment for the Canadian government and for a big segment of the Canadian population.

for prosperity, simply could not afford an expensive dollar.

HELPS IMPORTERS

The premium on the dollar, which rose to a 19-year high of more than four cents during August and September, gave importers the opportunity of paying less for foreign imports.

But exporters complained of "considerable hardship." The premium tended to increase the price of Canada's exports and cut into Canada's ability to compete for foreign markets.

It was a case of exporters increasing the price of their goods or absorbing the premium as an extra cost. Many exporters remained undecided. No one was certain how long the premium trend would last but some thought it would be short lived.

It wasn't. As the year drew to a close, the premium shrank to less than two cents, but then bounced back to more than three cents.

In British Columbia lumber producers complained that the high flying dollar was cutting into their ability to compete in the American market. The B.C. government demanded that the federal government do something about it.

UNABLE TO HELP

In a Vancouver speech, Finance Minister Abbott replied that there wasn't much the government could do. It would take millions and millions of Canadian dollars to buy up all the surplus American dollars apparently available in Canada.

There wasn't that kind of money available in the federal treasury. As it was the government had invested a record sum of Canadian dollars in American dollars and gold.

The official reserves at the end of September climbed to a peak of $1,855,000,000. The government said it was using these reserves to "iron out" any sharp daily fluctuations in the exchange rate of the dollar.

What it actually was doing was buying up as much surplus American currency as it could to prevent the Canadian dollar from increasing its premium.

REASONS FOR RISE

Federal experts attributed the dolarl's strength to three main developments:

1. A surplus instead of a deficit in Canada's foreign trade.
2. Heavy movement of foreign capital into Canada.
3. A "psychological" growth of confidence in the dollar in the world's money markets.

But for the wheat grower and the gold producer, particularly, the premium was just a way to lose money.

Canada sold most of her wheat through the international wheat agreement at the maximum price of $1.80 a bushel in United States funds. Every time the dollar went up a cent, that price went down almost two cents a bushel.

Gold producers sold most of their production on the official gold market with the price fixed at $35 a fine ounce in U.S. funds. Again, every time the Canadian dollar jumped, the price in Canadian funds declined.

TWO POSSIBILITIES

For those who were discouraged by the increased dollar, there were two possibilities: foreign investors might decide to pull in their horns and take profit on their Canadian investments, or the Canadian government might decide it was again time to place a fixed rate of exchange on the dollar.

There was some indication towards the end of the year that American investors were taking profit on some Canadian securities but not to any extent to push the exchange rate down sharply.

As for fixing of an exchange rate, Mr. Abbott observed in his Vancouver speech that "changes cannot be made without arbitrarily causing pain to some groups and giving financial benefits to others."

Lanza And Rita Draw Women Reporters' Ire

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This week the gals of the Hollywood press listed their pet loves and hates among the film stars in 1952.

Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis drew the bouquets as the most co-operative players. The Hollywood Women's Press Club rapped Rita Hayworth and Mario Lanza as the most unco-operative.

These annual selections are some times confusing to outsiders. The poll does not represent the entire press of Hollywood. Males are excluded from voting. The press club is composed of many women who have little or no contact with the stars.

A good section of the club consists of fan magazine writers. Thus stars who won't submit to the fan mag routine are often chosen for the most unco-operative tag.

Let's look at the "unco-op" winners of the past:

Female: Ginger Rogers, Jean Arthur, Joan Fontaine, Sonja Henie, Greer Garson, Ingrid Bergman, Jennifer Jones, Rita Hayworth, Hedy Lamarr, Olive Dehavilland, Esther Williams.

Male: Fred Astaire, George Sanders, Errol Flynn (twice), Walter Pidgeon, Fred Macmurray, Frank Sinatra (twice), Gary Cooper, Humphrey Bogart, Robert Mitchum.

Most of them are still thriving in their chosen profession; so the blast from the ladies seems not to have ruined their careers.

They are the nonconformists who give film reporters something meaty to write about, instead of the drab guff about their hobbies and favorite foods.

Believed Dead, Son Returns After 35 Years

SOUTH OHIO, N.S. (CP)—Carleton Haycock is coming home this Christmas to the mother who believed he was killed in the First World War.

Now 55, greying, and bearing the scars of bloody fight at Passchendaele, he is returning to Mrs. Lou Hayworth, 72, of Jonesport, Me.

She adopted him when he was four.

Mrs. Hayworth moved from Digby, N.S., and re-married after she learned he was killed in action. Actually he was seriously wounded and spent many months in hospital.

Mrs. Hayworth discovered her son was alive several months ago—after 35 years. Carleton's half-brother, a lobster fisherman, put into nearby Westport and inquired if anybody had ever heard of him.

A fisherman said he had. He was working on a coastal tanker.

"I thought I was a lone wolf," he said Friday. "But now I have a mother, a sister and two half-brothers. Isn't it wonderful? I have to get to Jonesport by Christmas eve."

No Cabinet Shuffles P.M. Declares

No Changes Planned St. Laurent Says After Cabinet Session

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today there will be no cabinet shuffles arising from the Currie report. Talking with reporters after a three-hour cabinet session, he was asked about reports that Defence Minister Claxton might be moved to another portfolio, making other shifts necessary. He replied:

"There have been no such suggestions made to me and if there were I wouldn't be disposed to consider them."

Mr. St. Laurent said the Currie report was not among the subjects discussed at the cabinet session today but that it is under consideration and will remain under consideration until the army conditions it portrays are corrected.

The report, pivot of a hot parliamentary controversy, describes "a general breakdown" in the army works services. All three parties on the opposition side of the Commons have demanded that Mr. Claxton be shifted out of the defence portfolio as a result of it.

Mr. Claxton himself attended the meeting today along with Finance Minister Abbott, External Affairs Minister Pearson and Health Minister Martin, all of whom have been out of Ottawa for some time.

A reporter asked Mr. St. Laurent whether he agrees with a statement by Trade Minister Howe that the Currie report is a "lurid rehash" of police reports on irregularities at Camp Petawawa. The Prime Minister said he doesn't want to make any comments on that or any other aspect of the report at this time.

He said it is expected that today's meeting will be at the last before the new year.

Executions Stayed

TORONTO (CP) — Chief Justice J. W. Pickup today announced stays of execution for two men sentenced to be hanged within the next two weeks. The delays were allowed to give them time for leave to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada. One was Harry Lee, 37, of Hamilton, sentenced to die Dec. 30 for the rifle slaying last summer of Mrs. Mary Rosenblatt of Hamilton. The other was James Alfred Kelsey, 29, convicted last September at Welland in the bludgeon slaying of Sam Delibasich, Welland taxi driver.

Liner Aground Near Beirut, 500 Passengers

BEIRUT, Lebanon (CP) — The grounded French liner Champollion pounded by breakers as it listed over on a shifting sandbank, tonight was almost broken in two. Her 500 passengers are still aboard.

Watchers lining the shore saw a giant crack in the 12,546-ton vessel's hull widening as the waves thudded into her.

Several attempts have been made to guide the ship's lifeboats through the raging surf. One boatload of sailors finally got through, hauling a line up on the beach.

But the cable snapped before any of the passengers could be brought ashore.

Most of the passengers are Christmas pilgrims to the Holy Land.

Israeli civil and naval craft were standing by in Haifa, 75 miles south of Beirut, ready to go to the liner's assistance but awaiting the outcome of diplomatic negotiations involving Lebanese and French authorities and the United Nations armistice commission.

The Champollion is in Lebanese waters. Lebanon and Israel still are technically at war, under an armistice.

The Champollion was listing at a 20 degree angle about 600 yards offshore.

The Champollion, a veteran of the Mediterranean run, was built in 1924. She is owned by the French government, but is operated by Messageries Maritime, French shipping firm.

An official of the line said the cessel carried a crew of about 100 in addition to the passengers. The vessel, which was remodelled in 1951, is 604 feet long and has a speed of 16 knots.

There are tugs around the ship, the spokesman said, adding that he thought she could be refloated.

Flees Ambush At Lindsay, Car Captured

Scarboro Police Get Bullet-Pierced Vehicle In Chase

TORONTO.—A bullet-pierced station wagon that escaped a police ambush at Lindsay Saturday night was stopped Sunday by Scarboro police after a chase on Danforth Ave.

The three occupants of the car, all Toronto men, were arrested on charges of possessing explosives after the discovery of a quantity of nitroglycerin and detonators in the vehicle.

Charged are: Albert J. Burton 35, Joseph Ross 34, and Joseph Bushman 48.

Two bullet holes were found in the back of the station wagon, one just above the gas tank. The bullets had come from the gun of Constable Ross Bailey of Lindsay police force.

Constable Bailey, waiting in ambush for a black car with two men in it, saw the station wagon pull up beside a hydro pole. The officer had been tipped off shortly before that two men had got out of a black car, put a sack on the ground, and kicked earth over it.

GAVE TIP

The tip came from John Goard of Oakwood, Frank Fitzell, and Donald Puibell, both of Lindsay.

The youths uncovered the sack and found two revolvers in it. They notified Sgt. Gordon Eberts and Constable Bailey.

The station wagon appeared by the constable's hideout. Two men got out and one approached the hydro pole. He kicked in the dirt, then yelled to his companion, "They're not here; they're gone."

Constable Bailey jumped out from behind the bush and shouted at the pair to raise their hands. One jumped into the car, the second ran down the street toward Highway 7.

FIRED WARNING SHOTS

Bailey fired two warning shots in the air, then aimed at the station wagon and pumped two bullets into it. The vehicle picked up the man running down the street, then spun on two wheels and roared west on the highway.

Lindsay Police Chief John A. Hunter sent out a radio alarm for the station wagon and OPP headquarters at Peterborough ordered road blocks set up. Police believe the vehicle and its occupants stayed under cover during the night, then proceeded toward Toronto late Sunday afternoon.

4 Others Injured In Collision On Slippery Road

By BILL REID

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 22 (ENS)—Three persons are dead and four others were injured about noon on Sunday, when two cars were in collision on Highway 7, about four miles east of Havelock. A new model car travelling east on Highway 7, bound for Montreal, and carrying two RCAF officers ploughed into the right side of a heavy car travelling in the opposite direction. The heavier car, carrying people from Belleville, was travelling west on the highway, bound for Lindsay. Suddenly, a car ahead of the westbound Belleville vehicle began to skid on the icy road surface. The driver of the Belleville car swung his vehicle to the left, into the eastbound lane, where it was struck on the right side by the car carrying the two RCAF officers.

All the dead were in the vehicle from Belleville, driven by 30-year-old John F. Turner, of 105 Yoeman Street. He was not seriously injured. Riding in the front seat with Turner were Mrs. Stella Woodley, 47, of 60 Cannifton Road, Belleville, who is reported to be a neighbor. On her knee, Mrs. Woodley carried her granddaughter Darlene Dobie, age 2. Mrs. Woodley was killed instantly, but the baby was not seriously injured, although the impact tore the shoes from her feet.

IN BACK SEAT

In the back seat of the death car were Mrs. Florence Day 74, and Mrs. Lillian Solmes 49, both of 105 Yoeman Street, Belleville. Mrs. Day died instantly and Mrs. Solmes died about two hours after the accident, in Havelock hospital.

The eastbound car was driven by William Abbott, 23, of London RCAF station. He and his passenger, H. J. King, 22, of Centralia RCAF station, received cuts and bruises and possible chest and rib injuries. Their car is a total wreck. They are now in Havelock hospital receiving treatment for shock.

The Belleville car was owned by Mrs. Florence Day, who died in the accident. She had purchased the car a short time ago for her son, by a former marriage, John Turner, in order that Turner could take her for a drive on Sundays

WARNED ABOUT ROADS

Before the group started out from Belleville, Mr. Turner was warned by a brother-in-law, Blake Frederick, to be careful as the roads were quite slippery. Turner is said to have replied that he had a heavy car and that he would not drive too fast.

Press Inquiry Into Crash After 86 Killed

MOSES LAKE, Wash. (AP).—Military experts continued today to comb wreckage and minds in an attempt to solve the riddle of why 86 men were killed last Saturday in history's worst plane crash.

Civilian officials began a concerted demand for investigations and action to reduce the number of military plane accidents.

Saturday's crash, which killed all but 30 of the men aboard the United States military's biggest plane, was the 10th in a recent series which has taken more than 300 lives.

Calls began immediately for grounding of military aircraft while safety precautions and plane checks are taken. Criticism arose from Congress, with demands voiced that the appalling toll be stopped.

DEMANDS INQUIRY

Senator Richard Russell (Dem. Ga.) called for an exhaustive investigation. He said it was possible a sub-committee of his Senate armed services committee would take action.

At Larson air force base, starting point of the ill-fated flight, the grim job of identifying the dead continued. Many were mangled and burned beyond recognition.

Meanwhile, four air force generals huddled with other officers, civilians and technical representatives of aircraft and equipment manufacturers, trying to piece together the cause of the accident.

An air force captain with years of experience flying heavy equipment said he thought the plane just couldn't develop enough power to rise from the runway Capt. George Demas' observations were made first hand—he was one of the passengers who lived through the crash.

"I had a peculiar feeling," he said from his hospital bed, "that we were staying too long on the

CCCL Threatening Que.-Wide Strike

QUEBEC (CP)—The Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor Sunday threatened Quebec with a general strike of its 90,000 members unless a long-drawn textile mill dispute at Louiseville is settled. The decision was taken at a closed session of CCCL executive members and representatives of unions represented in organization. Two hundred delegates sat for seven hours behind closed doors the general-strike plan was announced.

Later, President Gerard Picard, who heads the organization with which about one-quarter of the province's organized labor is affiliated, said:

"We do not foresee any work stoppage before New Year's Day. It all depends on how things go."

NAME COMMITTEE

A committee of eight union leaders was appointed to study the general work stoppage proposal and arrange its conditions. The committee was scheduled to meet later today.

The CCCL first announced a proposal for a general strike after clashes occurred in the town of Louiseville Dec. 11 between parading strikers and provincial police who proclaimed the riot act.

Friday while CCCL spokesmen organized workers protest meetings in various parts of the province and Labor Minister Barrette sought a plan to settle the Louiseville walkout dating back to March 10 the Riot Act was lifted from the town of 4,000.

Originally the Louiseville dispute was over wages and working conditions but during the summer the plant of Associated Textiles Limited was re-opened without a settlement.

DIFFICULTIES REMAIN

At present, settlement proposals under study by the Labor minister and company and union representatives hinge around such questions as re-engagement of all of the original 800 strikers. Wages were increased when the plant was re-opened to workers, including non-union labor, during the summer.

Resolutions also approved at the CCCL meeting here called for immediate withdrawal of provincial police from Louiseville and the arrest of special officer Paul Benoit and other officers who used revolvers and night sticks to disperse strikers Dec. 11. One worker was shot and four injured in clashes between members of Lou-

Hydrogen Blast Levels Factory

NAGOYA, Japan (AP) — A thunderous blast of exploding hydrogen levelled a chemical fertilizer plant today, killing at least 15 workers.

Police, still digging through the ruins, said five persons were missing and 370 injured, 70 critically.

Their search for bodies dropped their figures from earlier reports of 30 killed and 550 injured.

The explosion shook the city like the well-remembered B-29 raids of the Second World War. It stripped the concrete away from the steel framework of the new building and sent it hurtling through the air.

Poison fumes from the released chemicals forced police, firemen and United states Air Force volunteer workers to don gas masks.

The blast flattened a new ferro-concrete building 10,800 feet square and shattered homes and stores in a radius of several blocks

Almost 2,000,000 square feet of warehouses, factories and offices in the immediate area were badly damaged.

1 Killed, 1 Injured By Runaway Rail Car

SOUTH PASADENA, Calif. (AP) A runaway freight car Sunday night killed a woman and critically hurt her husband, police said, in a five - mile dash at speeds up to 75 miles an hour.

A locomotive chased the refrigerator car, loaded with frozen corn, for more than two miles but was unable to catch up. Engineer H. C. Weber sounded a continuous warning blast on his air horn as the careening car dashed through grade crossings in residential districts.

The car finally rammed into a string of freight cars being switched in the Los Angeles yards of the Santa Fe.

Police said Mrs. Carrie Andrews, 59, of Pasadena was killed and her husband, Owen, also 59, critically injured when the freight car crashed into their auto at a crossing.

Stalin Observes 73rd Birthday

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Josef Vissarionovich Stalin became 73 years old Sunday. Moscow papers made no mention of the event but gave top play to the Stalin international peace awards annually made public on his birthday.

I have seen the Soviet leader close-up four times this year and found his appearance little changed from when I first saw him 11 years ago.

The four occasions were on May Day, on Soviet Air Force day last summer, on the stage of the Bolshoi Theatre Nov. 6 when he sat with other Soviet leaders, and in Red Square Nov. 7 when he reviewed a parade marking the 35th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Stalin is known to have made at least four public appearances at Moscow theatres in the last year.

Seguin Captured

CORNWALL (CP) — Provincial police said today they have been notified of the capture at Williams Lake, B.C., of Henry Seguin, 27, wanted in the slaying of Leonard Hurd, Maxville, Ont., businessman.

Police here hold a warrant for Seguin's arrest on a murder charge. Hurd's body was found in his car last Aug. 16. A search for Seguin concentrated for some weeks in the Gatineau area near Ottawa.

Move $130,000,000 In Downtown Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — One of the greatest fortunes ever transported in Toronto—$130,000,000 — moved up Bay street today in $10,000,000 jaunts.

But few people knew about it, and fewer still even saw it. It was carried in five armored trucks, each with six guards.

The money, all in securities, was taken to the renovated vaults of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co. from the Bank of Nova Scotia, where it has lain for the last six months. The treasure represents the insurance firm's entire holdings on its Canadian accounts.

Planned two days in advance, the movement went off without a hitch. The trucks made a total of 13 trips, because of insurance regulations imposing a $10,000,000 load limit. Police were spotted along the route as added insurance.

Use Canadian Barley Help Hungry Koreans

SEOUL (CP) — Canadian barley will be used as a food supplement to help overcome a rice shortage in battle-torn Korea.

The United Nations Korea reconstruction agency has purchased about $2,500,000 worth of Canadian barley to reach this country in about six weeks' time, The Canadian Press learned today.

Altogether three shiploads, or about 1,500,000 bushels of the Canadian grain, are covered in the deal.

At Ottawa, it was learned that the barley will be shipped through the northern British Columbia port of Prince Rupert and likely will leave Canada in about a month.

Land Wounded At Trenton Base

TRENTON (CP)—Two Dakotas, one carrying 14 injured Korea veterans, made an emergency landing at the RCAF station here Sunday night. Because of fog, they were unable to land at Toronto and were sent here.

Both planes landed safely. The other Dakota was a Trans-Canada Air Lines craft with 15 passengers on a trip from Ottawa to Toronto. They all went on to Toronto by train.

The RCAF found transportation for the soldiers so that they might all be home for Christmas

Crisis At Palace Charles Doubts Santa

LONDON (AP)—A crisis is reported building up in Buckingham Palace: Prince Charles is beginning to have his doubts about Santa Claus.

Word from the palace is that the four-year-old heir to the throne is beginning to ask some awkward questions. His grandmother was said to have emerged from one recent question-and-answer session with the word: "This is the last Christmas Charles will believe in Santa Claus."

Nevertheless, taking no chances, Charles has sent off a full list of requests to the north pole

White Christmas Said On Way

TORONTO (CP) — A storm from Oklahoma may give the southern part of Ontario a white Christmas. The northern part of the province already has its blanket of snow.

The Oklahoma storm is expected to bring snow to the southwestern section of Ontario tonight. It may be mixed with rain or freezing rain along Lake Erie, at least at the outset. In eastern Ontario, light snow began falling today.

Meanwhile winter blew in officially and violently today on a driving storm of snow, sleet and freezing rain across the great plains of the United States.

Four to nine inches of snow fell in parts of Nebraska and Kansas, and lesser amounts through Iowa, northwestern Missouri and the Dakotas.

Outside the snow areas on the plains, icing was the hazard. East-central Iowa reported communications lines were breaking faster than they could be repaired.

Trooper Wins Military Medal

OTTAWA (CP)—A fighting soldier who saved the lives of numerous comrades in two days of almost continuous enemy shelling has been awarded the Military Medal for his braveries.

The Canada Gazette disclosed the award to Tr. Roy Charles Stevenson, 22-year-old native of Viceroy, Sask., whose wife lives in Calgary. His deeds were reported last month by Bill Boss, Canadian Press staff writer with the 25th brigade.

The citation says Tr. Stevenson, a member of the Lord Strathcona's Horse armored regiment, first exposed himself on the top of his tank to bring machine-gun fire to bear on an enemy position that had pinned down a Canadian infantry patrol at night. He did this while the tank was under intense mortar fire.

A fragment of a shell struck him and he had it removed. Another shell knocked him off the tank. But he went on firing until the patrol was saved.

Next day intense fire was taking a toll of infantry soldiers around the tank and Tr. Stevenson saw that there weren't enough stretchers. He climbed out of the tank, ran to a bunker to get a stretcher he knew was there and then went up and down the hill removing the wounded until he was ordered back into the tank.

Mother, 4 Children Die In Blazing House

CHICOPEE, Mass. (AP) — A mother and four children perished in a fire and explosion in their home early today.

The bodies of the mother and three of the children were found in beds. The body of one child was found under a bed.

The father, Charles Hoitt, 34, was seriously burned before he leaped from a second - storey window.

Fire Capt. Frank Cavanaugh said the explosion was caused by a leaking gas main.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Dorothy Hoitt, 32; her son, Walter, 13, and three daughters, Charlene, 10; Betty Ann, 7, and Rosemary, 3.

2,000 Left Homeless In Philippines Fire

MANILA (AP) — A four - hour fire roared through Laoag in northern Luzon today. The Philippines Red Cross said it caused $1,500,000 damage and left 2,000 homeless.

Laoag, with a population of 45,000, is the provincial capital of Ilocos Norte.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

3 Alone In Wilderness Will Share Yule Feast

MUSKOX LAKE, N.W.T. (CP)—Mat Murphy, the only white man in this desolate wilderness of snow and scrub, will sit down with two Eskimo friends Christmas Day for a feast of caribou, seafood, canned vegetables and cake. He's done it every Christmas for years

Mat is a 61-year-old trapper who loves life in the Muskox Lake region, 900 miles northwest of Edmonton where the temperature sometimes plummets to 70 below. He has spent some 30 Christmases in the far north.

Murphy's dinner, set out inside a snug tent and beside a crackling wood fire, will be a real treat to a man who eats dehydrated foods day in and day out.

Christmas would be lonely for Murphy but for the presence of an Eskimo couple. They camped near him this winter and spend much of the time living in his large tent-cabin — a 30-foot-long structure made of canvas stretched over poles and lined with caribou hide and banked with sod.

Besides being good company, they always have his tent warm for him when he returns from a two-week inspection of his trapline.

In addition to the caribou, a special Christmas box will be opened.

Murphy will have a Christmas cake, canned vegetables and seafoods and other delicacies. The cake was baked for him by his daughter-in-law, before he left Yellowknife, N. W. T., last August for the 275-mile northeasterly trek to Muskox Lake.

Say Kremlin Engineers 2 Big Points At Congress

VIENNA (AP)—The Communist-sponsored "Congress of the Peoples for Peace" closed Saturday. It may have looked like a flop to many in the West. But Western diplomats said they believe the Kremlin had promoted two big projects:

1. A vast new effort to break the spirit of urgency and will of Western Europe to resist the Soviet Union.

2. Development of a world-wide attempt to stir up colonial unrest, particularly in restive Africa and Asia.

The main instrument of both drives, the diplomats believe, is the "Congress of the Peoples for Peace"—a new name for the three-year-old Communist peace offensive.

Concluding a week-long session here, the congress merely reiterated demands that Soviet foreign minister Andrei Vishinsky has voiced in the United Nations. But diplomats here say that actually Russia regards the congress and the entire peace movement as a tremendous success.

Two years ago most Western Europeans feared a Russian attack at any moment. Today, most people feel more at ease, less sure of attack, in fact, doubting it.

This change of attitude, the diplomats believe, is largely due to the constant Communist talk of peace, backed in October by Prime Minister Stalin's newest statements on the possibility of "peaceful coexistence."

The lessening of suspicion already has slowed Western European defence, ratification of the Bonn and European Defence Community treaties and the deliberations of the North Atlantic council.

Now, say the diplomats, the Kremlin obviously hopes to press for further delays through the activities of the peace congress.

Yule Travel Boom Greatest Since War

TORONTO (CP) — The Christmas travel boom this year will be the biggest since the holiday seasons of the Second World War, railway, airlines and bus company officials reported today.

Sleeping car space on Canada's two trans - continental railways has been booked almost solid since October. A CNR official said only a small amount of emergency space was kept open.

Tomorrow Trans - Canada Airlines will start operating 45 extra flights, the majority to Montreal, New York and Western Canada. Hundreds of reservations have been made for overseas points, mostly to England.

Reporters' Tour Reveals Oakalla Prison Just School For Crime

VANCOUVER (CP)—Newspaper stories describing Oakalla prison farm near Vancouver as an over-crowded spawning ground of crime and perversion have been endorsed by the jail's warden and British Columbia's attorney-general. The attorney-general blamed the conditions on lack of action by previous administrations and said the government proposes to institute "a comprehensive program of penal reform" in the new year. Both the Vancouver Province and Vancouver Sun carried stories Saturday on the provincial jail, using such phrases as "mediaeval disgrace," "cesspool," and "finishing school for crime, sedition and perversion."

With its story the Province carried a statement by the attorney-general, Robert Bonner, in which he said as a result of a recent inspection of Oakalla, "I am personally acquainted with most of the conditions which are described. . ."

LOW RATING

Hugh Christie, Oakalla warden since July, said the jail is rated "in the bottom quarter of Canadian prisons" and is known nationally as "an understaffed jail dominated by prisoner thinking."

Reporters Bruce Larsen of the Province and Jim Smith and Jack Wasserman of the Sun spent some days making their surveys. They asked permission to make the tour because of persistent reports of unsatisfactory conditions, underlined by an October riot in the jail, in Burnaby municipality.

Many of the sordid goings on, they found, are the result of overcrowding—"cleaner and roomier accommodation for cattle than men."

HAVE VIRTUAL CONTROL

The Sun said that because of lack of prison staff, inmates have virtual control of some sections of the institution and occasionally beat a prisoner who does not obey orders of the prison crime bosses.

When Oakalla was built just before the First World War it handled fewer than 200 men. Today the same prison is jammed with about 840 prisoners.

The Province said "one of the ugliest of all Oakalla's lurid spots" is the way aged prostitutes in the women's jail prey on young girls. The story said girls of 15 or 16 are recruited to work for the "crones" when they are released from prison.

OTHER CONDITIONS

Reporters said other conditions include:

Narcotics smuggling on a scale surpassing anything in any Canadian institution; widespread sex perversion; a locking system that convicts can foul at will; constant fear of an epidemic from extreme insanitation, pests and rodents; fire hazards; gambling and drinking by inmates and a primitive excuse for a hospital.

Mr. Bonner said the government approved the press tour because "it is important that the people of the province learn of the prison conditions which your new Social Credit government has discovered following its taking office."

He said a step forward already has been taken with planning for immediate erection of additional facilities for housing prisoners and a substantial increase in the number of guards.

Plan Christmas For Soldiers

OTTAWA (CP) — Some 15,000 Canadian soldiers will celebrate Christmas away from Canada this year but they aren't going to miss out on the traditional turkey and plum pudding, Army headquarters announced.

In Korea, where life from day to day is precarious, welfare officers and others are launching preparations to bring Christmas cheer to men of Canada's 25th infantry brigade through special rations, gifts, decorated trees and the singing of carols.

Personnel of Canada's 27th infantry brigade in Germany also will warm to the spirit of the festival when the church bells ring out in Hannover. For 1,900 of them, it will be the first Christmas away from home, having arrived late in November as replacements for the European NATO formation.

Convicted Of Breaking Into Cottage

LINDSAY (ENS)—First case of legal aid in Victoria county came in magistrate's court today when Lindsay lawyer David Cunningham defended 18-year-old Edward Rivers of Haliburton on charges of breaking and entering, and one of auto theft.

Rivers, sought since October in connection with the entry of a cottage on Burnt River owned by a Toronto man, was convicted and sentenced to three months.

The sentence will run consecutively with two six-month sentences he received earlier for theft and breaking parole, and two months for good time lost. Total time will be 17 months. Rivers was brought to Lindsay from Don Jail in Toronto by OPP constables from Lindsay detachment.

Rivers' accomplice, Miles Emmerson, 30, of Haliburton, was given three months earlier.

½-inch snow.

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office in Toronto at 9:30 a.m.:

Synopsis:

Fog, occasional drizzle and temperatures near freezing conspired to make driving conditions treacherous over southwestern Ontario this morning. In eastern counties it was colder, and there was occasional light snow. Northern Ontario saw early morning temperatures below zero, with White River, as usual, reporting the lowest reading—8 below.

The storm centre over Oklahoma is moving northeastward toward Ontario, and snow will spread ahead of it into southwestern counties this evening, reaching Toronto about midnight. This fresh fall of snow will become mixed with rain or freezing rain along Lake Erie during the night, but now far north and east the rain will come before the weather turns colder is still in some doubt.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Tuesday:

Northern Lake Huron, Lake Ontario regions; Toronto city: Overcast with fog and occasional freezing drizzle ending this afternoon with snow beginning about midnight tonight ending late Tuesday afternoon then cloudy. Risk of occasional freezing rain Tuesday morning. Not much change in temperature. Winds east 15 increasing to east 20 this evening shifting to west 15 late Tuesday afternoon. Man Admits Passing Worthless Cheques

LINDSAY (ENS) — A Peterborough man, 62-year-old James Doughty, Hart Ave., today pleaded guilty to passing four worthless cheques purported to be pay cheques.

Three of the offences occurred in Peterborough in May, the fourth in July at a Lindsay clothing store. Last week, Doughty returned to the same clothing store and tried to pass another cheque. The store owner telephoned police, who arrested Doughty on a vagrancy charge.

All four cheques were drawn on the account of James Mackenzie, manager of a Peterborough insulation firm. Total value was $207; value of the Lindsay cheque was $63.

Magistrate E. A. Gee remanded Doughty one week for sentence.

William James Leahy

The funeral service for William James Leahy took place today from his residence, 161 Clifton St., to Immaculate Conception Church for mass at 9 a.m.

The Rev. Joseph O'Sullivan said mass. The Rev. J. Greenan, the Rev. J. Coughlin and the Rev. R. McEachern were in the sanctuary. The Rev. J. J. McCarthy said graveside prayers in St. Joseph's cemetery, Douro.

Mr. Leahy died Friday in hospital.

Pallbearers were John Kelly, James Murray, Charles Whibbs, William Shaughnessy, Alphonse Devlin and Leo Murphy

$48,327,000 Budget

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The General Assembly Sunday night approved a UN budget of $48,327,000 for 1953, slightly more than this year's figure of $48,096,780. The vote was 50 to 5 (Soviet bloc). Russia's Georgi Zarubin accused the UN secretariat of "wasteful squandering" of funds. Zarubin said at least $6,000,000 should be slashed from the budget.

Siamese Twins Die At Weekend

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A wide-eyed, terrified Siamese twin joined head-to-head with his dead brother, died here Saturday before brain surgeons could try to save his life.

Four-month-old John Edward Flowers died in an operating room while a team of surgeons clustered around preparing for the enormously complex separation operation.

That was nine hours after his brain-to-brain twin, John L., died in a Greenwood, Miss., hospital Saturday morning. Cause of death was unknown.

When John L. suddenly died, Greenwood physicians knew only drastic surgery—similar to that undergone recently by Chicago's Brodie twins—could save John Edward.

The twins, one with eyes closed in death, the other crying lustily, were placed in the back seat of a highway patrol car for the 145-mile race to Memphis.

It was the first time the Flowers twins had left the Greenwood-Leflore hospital, where they were born to Maybelle Flowers, a Negro, by cesarean operation, early last August.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Cattle 700; steer and heifer market not established. Medium to good cows 14-14.50; canners and cutters 10-14; fat yellow cows 11-13.50. Good dairy type slaughter heifers 16-18; sausage bulls 16.50-20.

Calves 350; good to choice 29-35; mediums 21-28; bobs 14-20.

Hogs 1275; good to choice state hogs 18-18.50.

Sheep and lambs 650; market not established.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter print prices quoted here today were: churning cream 63-66; butter prints 63½-64.

Trade was slow at the egg market and prices were unchanged. Quotations for graded eggs in fibre cases were: A large 43; A medium 37; A small 30-31; grade B 32-33; grade C 28-29. Wholesale to retail: A large 48-49; A medium 41-42; A small 35-36; grade B 37-38; grade C 33-34.

Butter solids: first grade 62½; no price established on second grade or Western; third grade 57.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains opened strong today in the market's first response to last Friday's government crop report.

The government had estimated a winter wheat crop of about 611,000,000 bushels. This was below trade expectations and brought aggressive buying into wheat.

All other cereals were higher in active dealings.

Wheat started 1⅝-2¼ cents higher, March 2.37¾-2.38½; corn was ¼-⅝ higher, March 1.68⅛, and oats were ¼-¾ higher, March 87⅞-88. Soybeans were 1¼-2⅛ cents higher, January 3.04-3.05.

MONTREAL LIVESTOCK

MONTREAL (CP) — Irregular prices prevailed in moderate dealings today on the Montreal livestock markets.

Receipts were 274 cattle, 420 calves, 358 sheep and lambs and 1,049 hogs.

Cattle were $1 better than last week. Medium to good steers were 23-24.50. Good cows made 13-14, some choice 15, medium 11 - 12, common 10 - 11. A few bulls of medium quality brought 18-18.50.

Vealers sold from 31-32 for good and choice with common and medium bringing 20 - 30. Grassers made 15-16.

Early sales on lambs were made at 23. Sheep ranged from 7-12.

Hogs remained steady at 26 for grade A. Sows were 18.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP) — Trade was active today at the Ontario stockyards and prices were 50 cents to $1 higher on calves and choice steers while other killers were steady. Receipts: cattle 1,520; calves 410; hogs 730; sheep 110. The holdover from last week was 200 cattle.

Choice weighty steers sold at 26-27 with good at 25-26 and medium at 23-2450. Good heifers were at 22-23 with common downward to 17 and stockers at 16-22. Good cows brought 13-1450 and good bulls 14-15

Choice veal calves ranged from 27-30 and common to medium from 19-25.

Grade A hogs were at 26 and dressed sows at 17.

Good lambs sold at 25-25.50 and bucks and heavies at 24-24.50. Good sheep brought 10-12 with common downward to 5.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices moved up for fair gains in early trade today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

General buying was influenced by sharp advances in U. S. grain prices. A factor in the upward trend was the low estimate by the U. S. agriculture department on winter wheat prospects.

Shippers were buyers in oats, while barley received support from processors. American shipper demand came out in rye. Flax attracted some industrial support.

11 a. m. grain prices:

Oats: Dec. ¼ higher 82B; May ⅜ higher 82⅝a; July ⅛ higher 79⅝.

Barley: Dec. ⅝ higher 1.23; May ⅝-½ higher 1.23⅛B; July ⅝ higher 1.17⅛B.

Fire In Closet Destroys Clothes

Fire at 8:30 a.m. today gutted a clothes closet in the home of Mrs. Marjery Dollack of 643 George St. The loss will total about $100.

Cause of the outbreak is not yet known. Nobody had been to the closet since 2 a.m., Mrs. Dollack said later, and she is at a loss to know how the blaze could have started.

Clothing of her two children Brian and Sharon was destroyed. A box of clothing was rescued by Harold Menzies who has a confectionery store at 641-643 George St. He smelled smoke and rushed to the cupboard, carrying out what clothing he could.

The occupants of the house were sleeping at the time.

Besides the loss in clothing there is considerable damage to the interior of the closet. Part of the ceiling was ripped out by firemen before the blaze was extinguished.

The firemen used a handpump on the fire. Previously Mrs. Dollack had thrown four pails of water on it.

ground. I became convinced of this when I felt the plane bounce at the end of runway and it seemed the plane had not developed enough power to complete the take-off."

TOO LATE TO REVERSE

The pilot, Demas said, apparently agreed, since he "tried to yank it into the air because it was too late to reverse the propellers and stop it."

The plane rose sharply, the captain related, then started to settle.

"Then the pilot turned sharp to the left and that suggested to me he was attempting to come back to the runway."

The pilot, identified as Lieut. William O'Connell of Portland, Me., probably changed his mind and attempted to resume normal course, Demas said. After that, the first thing Demas could recall was making his painful way from the wreckage and collapsing.

The 116 men in the giant twin-tiecked plane was not unusual, air force officials said. But Representative Edith N. Rogers (Rep. Mass.) asked the air force to ground the transports until the accident causes can be determined.

Obituary

MRS. HERBERT MERCER

A resident of Kendal for the past 15 years, Mrs. Herbert Mercer died Sunday in her 66th year in St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of three weeks. She was born in Kingston, Jamaica.

Prior to living in Kendal Mrs. Mercer lived in Toronto.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Bernard Waters (Mary) and Mrs. Eldon Downer (Juanita), and a sister, Mrs. Robert Hines, New York City.

The body will be resting at the Nisbett funeral home until Wednesday, then to Toronto for service at the Trull funeral home in the afternoon. Burial will be in Pine Hill Cemetery.

Abbott Plans Bring Budget Down Early

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians who may be wondering about the government's tax plans likely will learn their fate a few weeks earlier than usual in 1953.

Finance Minister Abbott said in an interview Sunday he plans to bring down the 1953-54 budget "as early as possible."

Indications from other sources were that the budget likely will be brought down early in March. Usually, the government's budgets are introduced to parliament about the first week in April.

By introducing an early budget, the government hopes to shorten the current turbulent session of Parliament and get ready for the Coronation ceremonies June 2.

Mr. Abbott returned to Ottawa Saturday following attendance at two important overseas meetings —the London Commonwealth prime ministers' conference and the Paris meeting of North Atlantic ministers.

Canadians Get U.S. Leftovers

IN KOREA (Reuters)—Commonwealth troops in Korea will eat a hefty turkey dinner with all the trimmings on Christmas Day.

This is the menu:

Shrimp cocktail, roast young turkey with stuffing and cranberry sauce, roast pork, vegetables, fruit cake, candy, nuts and beer or soft drinks.

The food is actually left over from the U.S. Thanksgiving rations. At that time U.S. forces passed some of their rations on to the Commonwealth forces. But since the Commonwealth troops, including the Canadians, did not celebrate the U.S. Thanksgiving, they decided to save the rations for Christmas.

Gore's Landing School Has Christmas Party

GORE'S LANDING (ENS) — Gaily decorated in red and green streamers and colored lights on a huge Christmas tree, the United Church hall was crowded to capacity on Thursday evening for the annual Christmas concert of Gore's Landing-Plainville school SS 16. Under the direction of the two teachers, Mrs. Earl Linton and Miss Lillian Barker, the students were well trained for the concert and the program was much enjoyed. The accompanist was Mrs. Ruby J. Meggs and chairman was Mr. Milton Ames.

A recitation was given by Larric McFarland; the entire cast sang and Joy Junkin recited "Just Before Christmas." The senior girls sang "O Holy Boy," the words of which were composed by Rev. A. W. Smith, rector of St. George's. This was followed by a chorus by the junior school singing "All I want for Christmas is my two front teeth." A nativity play was presented by all the pupils, with carol singing and a narrator, Miss June Lander. Christmas hymn in three part harmony was sung by senior girls, recitation was given by Brenda Harris. The junior school then put on a nursery rhyme play with a singing chorus. Six of the senior girls sang and David Buttars gave a recitation about his Dad's neckties for Christmas. Miss Evelyn Pratt played a piano solo, and, a senior play was given followed by a junior group song. Donna Brisbin and Jean Herriott sang a duet.

The second part of the program opened with a senior play, chairman's remarks, piano solo by Nancy Harris, recitation by June Lander; duet, by Bonnie and Sherry McFarland; recitation by Billie Harris; a goodnight drill by the small junior girls dressed in pyjamas and carrying candles. The entire school were on the platform for the final two songs.

Constable Attacked By Wedding Guests

LINDSAY (ENS).— Two guests at a wedding dance who attacked Provincial Constable Gordon Langton of Haliburton appeared in court today at Lindsay.

One was remanded, and the second fined $10, and $15.50, for creating a disturbance. A third guest, over whom the fight started, was fined $10, and $15.50, on a drunk charge.

The fight started when Constable Langton tried to arrest 28-year-old Garnet Maxwell of Gooderham, where the dance took place, for being drunk.

Constable Langton was attacked by a group of guests, knocked down and slugged with his own billy. He suffered cuts on the back of his head. Glenn MacDuff, 19, of Gooderham, was fined when he pleaded guilty to creating a disturbance.

Mervin Switzer, 19, of Gooderham, was remanded a week on a charge of assault. The officer testified he called Constables Al Edwards and Al Hardy from Minden OPP detachment for assistance.

Warrant Issued For Santa In Court Mix-Up; But Justice, Kids Happy

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Judge J. A. Legris issued a warrant for the arrest of Santa Claus today.

The judge didn't know it was Santa Claus he was ordering arrested. Santa for his part, didn't realize that a court subpoena was more important than 2,000 Amherstburg kids waiting for Santa.

After the Christmas snarl was untangled, Santa Claus had answered his subpoena (a bit late) and the Amherstburg kids had seen their Santa parade (a bit later).

The dreadful spectacle of Santa CLaus being hauled down from his moving throne in Amherstburg and carted off to the clink was avoided by a Christmas-time compromise which saw Santa appear in both courtroom and parade.

The fast-moving centre of the near tragedy was E. T. Laframboise, Amherstburg garage owner who was to play Santa in the annual Christmas parade in the town.

WANTED AS WITNESS

Mr. Laframboise was also wanted as a witness in an accident case before Judge Legris this morning.

The parade was due to begin at noon. The trial opened at 10 a.m. When it came time to call Mr. Laframboise to the witness box, he didn't appear.

Lawyer John Wheelton explained that Mr. Laframboise had been served with a subpoeana Friday. Deputy Sheriff Milton Rocheleau affirmed the fact.

Several telephone calls later, it appeared that the witness didn't intend to come. He was too busy this morning, the court was told. There was no mention of what kept him, however. An assistant whom he had sent in his place didn't know much about the case.

At Mr. Wheelton's request, Judge Legris issued a bench warrant for Mr. Laframboise.

PARADE DELAYED

At exactly noon, Mr. Laframboise rushed up the courthouse steps and into the courtroom, explaining as he ran that the parade had been postponed until Santa got back.

His evidence took only a few minutes. He ran for his car, and sped back to Amherstburg, where helpers were waiting to transform him into the jovial character who was to be the central figure in the parade.

In the courtroom, the trial went on, justice satisfied, the bench warrant forgotten, and the evidence of E. T. Laframboise safely written into the record.

In Amherstburg, the parade went on, the kids satisfied, the trial forgotten, and Santa Claus safely riding on his throne.

The CCCL also demanded a royal commission inquiry into circumstances of Riot Act application at Louiseville. When its provisions imposing a curfew in the little town and banning meetings of more than 12 people were applied, provincial police said they invoked the act because the mayor was not available. A decision to apply the Riot Act is usually the mayor's.

A third resolution passed by the CCCL meeting asked Mr. Barrette to insist upon the return to work of all strikers as soon as possible and to restore the bargaining rights of the CCCL's Louiseville affiliate.

Dr. D. J. Holdcroft of Havelock arrived shortly after the accident, and pronounced two of the victims dead. Mrs. Solmes was removed to Havelock hospital where she died a short time later.

No charges have yet been laid by police, but an inquest date will be set later.

Industrials Take Lead In Market

TORONTO (CP) — Western oils settled back from early sharp gains and industrials took the lead in early afternoon stock market trading today.

Afternoon support for papers and banks bolstered the industrials list and constructions and steels continued firm. Utilities weakened.

Senior golds were mixed but junior producers gained strength after noon with gains in Anglo-Rouyn and East Malartic. Macassa and Prospects continued firm as Hoyle, Conwest and Barymin added pennies. Holding companies were mixed.

Higher-priced base metals were mixed but most other issues gained. Eureka and Ontario Pyrites added pennies in active trading and Dominion Asbestos, United Keno and Sherritt-Gordon gained. Chiboug Ex and Steep Rock slipped.

Western oils showed a majority of gains, including Central Explorers, New Devon and Security Free. Stanwell traded 93,000 shares to add 19 cents.

Avalanche Kills 23

BREGENZ, Austria (Reuters)—An avalanche roared down on a bus loaded with winter tourists near the Arlberg pass today, killing 23.

Seven persons escaped as the slide of snow and rocks engulfed the bus and swept it off the road between Lagen and Stuben.

Tourist officials here reported most of the dead are Britons.

Two Lindsay Drivers Report Hit-Run Crash Discover Both Involved In Same Accident

LINDSAY (ENS) — Suspicion lurks eternal in the human breast. Lindsay town police will confirm this after an incident Saturday night.

Within 10 minutes, two drivers reported to police that they had been involved in hit-and-run accidents. As soon as the second story had been told, police knew the two were speaking of the same accident.

The first driver reported his car had been hit by another, which drove off. The second driver said his car had been hit by another auto; he had driven to the nearest corner to turn around and return to the scene only to find the other car missing.

Police decided the reason for the first driver being missing when the second one came back was that he was already on his way to the police station.

Rand Formula In Settlement

MONTREAL (CP) — A union spokesman said Sunday night the new collective agreement negotiated last week with Canada's major railways includes the Rand formula, providing compulsory check-off of union dues for all members of the bargaining unit whether or not they are members of the 17 brotherhoods involved.

The agreement also provided for an average of 16 cent-an-hour increase retroactive to Sept. 1 for the 144,000 non-operating employees—those not actually running the trains. Frank Hall, chairman of the union negotiating committee, said the check-off agreement is "pretty well" the Rand formula.

The Rand formula was evolved by Mr. Justice I. C. Rand in his arbitration of the strike in 1945 at the Ford plant in Windsor, Ont. It required all employees to pay union dues but did not require them to be actual members of the union.

Havelock Sun. School Holds Christmas Party

HAVELOCK (ENS)—The Sunday school auditorium of Havelock United Church was filled Friday evening when the pupils of the Sunday school were given a Christmas party, which commenced with a pot-luck supper. Included in the attendance were the parents of the children, their teachers and the adult Bible Class. The supper was served by the members of the Evening Auxiliary of the WMS.

A sing-song of carols followed the supper. Carols were also sung by the beginners' group and Bruce Beatty, 2, made a hit by playing "Jingle Bells" with his music-box. Paul Newman's class presented a skit with the following taking part: Kenneth Williams, Reggie Scott, Peter Clarke and Doris Newman. Santa Claus arrived at the close of the program and distributed the gifts from a gaily decorated Chrismas tree. Miss Sandra Vansickle was the pianist for the evening.

Engineer Retires After 44 Years

Canadian National Railwaymen in Lindsay stopped engineer Walter Jarmyn's train at Albert St. crossing on Saturday to hang a wreath on the engine 'Walter Jarmyn's Last Run.'

A railroader for the past 44 years and an engineer for more than 40 of them, Mr. Jarmyn ended his service on the rialroad on Saturday. During the past few years he has been engineer on the "Bug", one of the first diesel-electric trains to be operated by the CNR.

He has also been engineer on the "Holy City Line" which operates from Lindsay to Haliburton in the summer months. His regular run has been the daily from Lindsay to Midland.

Robbers Escape

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Robbers escaped with 125 pelts valued at $4,000 from a Three Tuns, Pa., mink farm Sunday, but the operator of the farm says they may turn out to be a problem. Owner Morton Gittelman said the minks had just been killed and were not completely processed. Unless the robbers have adequate facilities for treating the skins, he added, they will soon spoil.

Christmas Concert Bridgenorth School

BRIDGENORTH (ENS)—The second Christmas concert by the children of the school of the Holy Family at Bridgenorth was held Friday afternoon. The Rev. G. J. Weis of St. Peter's parish, Peterborough, was chairman for the program and on its completion conducted the exchange of gifts and bags of candy to all the children from the PTA.

The children presented a good concert under the instruction of their teacher, Mrs. L. C. Braniff, and assisted on the piano by Mrs. D. Sullivan of Peterborough. The manger scene set up with small figurines was placed on a table to create extra Christmas color and several Christmas carols were sung by Father Weis at the close of the program. In the opening exercises, the hymn, "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," and "O Litle Town of Bethlehem" was sung by the entire school.

One Big Achievement Chalked Up By UN

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Most delegates at the strife-ridden first part of the seventh United Nations general assembly agreed as they worked towards an adjournment that it marked up only one major achievement.

That was in winning Asian-Arab support for the UN's peace plan for Korea which was approved by 54 non-Communist members after six weeks of debate. It was the first time the entire Asian-Arab group backed a resolution on Korea.

Korea could be placed on the debit side also because the Communists — Chinese, North Koreans and Soviet bloc—turned the proposal down flatly and abusively.

The next UN step on Korea will come in the second part of the session resuming Feb. 24 under the continued presidency of L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister.

SPECIAL NAME

The "Asian - Arab assembly" was the name some delegates applied to this nine-week session. The group of 13 countries from Asia and the Middle East took the initiative on a variety of problems including Korea, South African racial conflict, Palestine, Tunisia, and Morocco.

India was author of the Korean peace plan after weeks of negotiation in which Canada took an important part through Pearson and Health Minister Paul Martin, leader of the Canadian delegation.

Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky of Russia bitterly denounced the proposal as an American trick. The resolution attempted to get around the deadlock over repatriation of war prisoners in proposing that all prisoners be sent to a demilitarized zone under neutral control where they could decide free from any pressure whether they wished to return home.

The Asian - Arab group showed sharp resentment towards the West on problems other than that of Korea.

The "colonial" problems, South Africa, Tunisia and Morocco, were shoved onto the assembly's agenda at Asian - Arab insistence over strong objection from the colonial powers and some of their supporters.

On South Africa, the Asian-Arab bloc gained approval of a resolution setting up a commission to investigate race conflict in the Union—but South Africa made clear it will not allow such a commission to investigate at first hand.

In the case of Tunisia and Morocco the Arab - Asian countries lost out on their own tough resolutions calling stiff terms for more self - government for the French protectorates, but they had the satisfaction of seeing a mildly-worded resolution passed urging direct negotiations between the French and Tunisian and Moroccan authorities.

Canada approved mild resolutions o allthreequ bestionn stun tions on all three questions but opposed sending an investigation commission to South Africa warning that the UN could h the very people sought to help by antagonizing the government concerned.

Would Extend North Boundaries

EDMONTON (CP) — The premiers of Alberta and British Columbia agree on the "desirability" of pushing their boundaries northward by some 350 miles.

A meeting between Premier W. A. C. Bennett of B. C. and Alberta's Premier E. C. Manning Saturday brought together for the first time the heads of Canada's two Social Credit governments.

Future extension of provincial boundaries northward to the 65th parallel was described as becoming increasingly important to northern development.

The northern line dividing federal and provincial jurisdiction now is the 60th parallel. Extension to the 65th would give B. C. most of the Yukon, including Whitehorse and Dawson, as well as a chunk of the Northwest Territories. Alberta would get the Great Slave Lake area with its important base metal deposits and the Yellowknife Mines.

Church Burned

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP) — Fire Sunday destroyed St. George's church, one of the oldest Roman Catholic edifices in the city, with a loss unofficially estimated at several hundred thousand dollars.

Kiwanians Hand Out Candy For Christmas

COBOURG (ENS).— One thousand two hundred and seventy-five bags of candies were handed out in the Town Hall Saturday afternoon by the Kiwanis Club. Several hundred children were waiting eagerly at the door of the Town Hall at 2:00 p.m. to cheer Santa's arrival. Last year the Kiwanis Club prepared 600 bags and had a few left over. This year, anticipating a larger crowd, they had 1,000 bags, but ran out of candy and a rush call was sent out for more candy, and by the time the last child had been looked after 1,275 bags had been given out.

Some of the strain on the Kiwanis Club was eased by the fact that the local CGE had their Christmas party the same afternoon at the Collegiate auditorium, where youngsters of the employees received gifts.

Oil

Canada might become an exporter of oil to the northwestern United States, an oil company officer prophesies. This puts flatly what is in fact a revolution in the Canadian economy. Two veins in that economy which tended to produce anaemia in it—very great imports of iron and oil—have now become arteries; the old pallor has become a blush of healthy colour. It is not a mere possibility that Canada will export iron to earn American dollars instead of spending them for iron imports. Export of iron in significant quantities is a certainty. As for oil, the prospect is drawn by figures of the last six years.

* * *

During that period the production of crude oil has increased from 25,000 barrels to 200,000 barrels daily. The present capacity is estimated to be 300,000 barrels a day. Crude oil reserves have increased from a hundred million barrels in 1946 to one and three quarter billion barrels now. As they have been since the Great War, iron and oil are the two most important primary resources a country can have for progress in peace-time and strength in war-time. These Canada is finding and developing and what formerly were exhausting imports will become invigorating exports, after Canada's own needs are filled.

Unsatisfied Judgement Fund: Correction And Amplification

Our comment last week on the Unsatisfied Judgement Fund seems to have caused some misapprehension. One reason for this was our statement that "the insurance company will take everything over the $100 deductible". The situation is as follows:

If a person's car, insured for collision, is damaged say to the extent of $500 by another driver who has no public liability insurance, the insurance company will pay for the damages, except for the deductible amount stated in the policy. This is usually the first $100. Therefore, the damaged car's owner can get his car back from the garage by paying the garage $100. The insurance company pays the rest—$400. The company is out of pocket $400, the insured person $100.

The company will try to collect the total sum from the person causing the accident (we are assuming that the uninsured driver has been totally liable). The company may collect without going to court, or it may have to go to court. If it goes to court to collect its $400, it takes along with it the insured person's claim for the $100 he is out of pocket. If the court awards $500 damages and court costs, and the driver who caused the accident pays up, the insured person gets his $100, the company the rest—the $400. In such a case, as we stated in our editorial, "the insurance company will take everything over the $100 deductible". (This is done through a subrogation of rights by the insured man—he surrenders to the company his rights to damages beyond the deductible amount stipulated in the insurance contract.)

The situation is different if the guilty driver has no means at all and cannot pay any of the damages. Then the insurance company loses its $400. The man whose car was damaged, through no fault of his own, may take the court judgement (of damages for $500) to the Unsatisfied Judgement Fund, through the intermediacy of a lawyer. Often the insurance company will assist in this complicated procedure. (Insurance companies are prohibited by law from acting as collectors of an insured client's damages.) The owner of the damaged car shows that the judgement has been unsatisfied by the guilty driver, but that it has been satisfied to the extent of $400 by the insurance company. The civil court may thereupon order that the other $100 be paid out of the Unsatisfied Judgement Fund. We wish now to point out that in no case can the insurance company claim recompense from the Fund. In the hypothetical instance we have given, the owner of the damaged car may get his $100 out of the Fund, but the insurance company cannot get its $400.

This is a hypothetical case. Instances are rare indeed where a car owner, insured or otherwise, goes to court and the Fund to collect $100 from a liable, impecunious car driver. The process is too involved, the uncollectable costs may be greater than the $100 and court costs that may be obtained. This brings us back to the main point of our editorial last week: that the Unsatisfied Judgement Fund is not satisfying thousands of people. It is a very good thing where damages to property or life and limb have been severe. In these cases $500, $1,000 or more may be collected from the Fund, at the same cost to the injured party as the costs of trying to collect $100.

But the majority of accidents caused by irresponsible drivers, who have no money to pay for the damage they cause or no public liability insurance, are minor. Paint is severely scraped in a collision. A fender is crumpled; a windshield broken, a door ripped off, the front grill shredded. These are small damages, but nevertheless they cost money to repair: $40, $80, $100, $200. The entirely innocent car owner is out of pocket, through absolutely no fault of his own, to the extent that his own insurance does not cover him. The likelihood of his recovering from the unsatisfied Judgement Fund is small, for the reasons we have stated. Yet to finance the Fund every driver is now paying a dollar a year extra on his license fee. It looks like compulsory protection which does not protect.

Discipline For Republican Rebel?

An interesting subject of political speculation in the United States at the moment is the manner in which the Republican Party will deal with Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon. During the recent election campaign, Senator Morse withdrew his support from the party and turned it to the Democratic national ticket. It appears, however, that he is still nominally a Republican, and will be so seated in the Senate. And his colleagues are wondering what to do about him—or with him.

No definite solution has so far been advanced, but it is reported that great interest is being shown in an incident in party history in which the seniority system was used as an instrument of discipline. Ordinarily, chairmanship and membership of committees in the U.S. Senate is settled on a strict basis of seniority, with the most prized posts going to the oldest members of the party in power. The party, however, can rule on the seniority ranking of its members.

There were Republican rebels in the election of 1924—four of them. Robert La Follette of Wisconsin had broken away and formed the Progressive Party, opposing the Republican ticket of Calvin Coolidge. He had been supported by Smith Brookhart of Iowa and Lynn Frazier and Edwin Ladd of North Dakota. When Congress convened early in the following year, the four found themselves barred by the party from new committee assignments and placed at the bottom of the seniority list on their previously assigned committees.

It will be interesting to learn whether Senator Morse will be dropped to the bottom of the one committee on which he is now seated. That is being predicted—but Senator Morse's single vote may be regarded as very important to a party with a slender majority, a fact that might avert discipline in this instance.

Christmas Reading For Our MPs

Hansard, the official verbatim report of the debates in the House of Commons, makes lively reading in its Monday issue. It was then that the Currie report was tabled. This sort of exchange:

"I have heard labourers called some names, but I have never heard them called horses before."

"Did the horses file income tax returns?"

Or this: Mr. Dickey, contradicting Mr. Pearkes: "He (Mr. Currie of the Currie Report) did not say that."

Mr. Pearkes: "I have just read that. You must have been asleep. You look up the page."

Mr. Dickey: "Read it again."

Mr. Pearkes: "If the hon. member will look up the page . . ."

Yes, look up the page. As a matter of fact, so we have been informed, only four copies of the Currie report on the Petawawa investigations were available to all the members in the Commons the first day of the debate. The debate held more heat than light, as a consequence.

The Currie report has been printed in last Monday's Hansard, and all members now have a chance to read it. It runs to 25 double-column pages and will provide reading for the Members of Parliament during their Christmas recess.

Thirty Million Illegal Cigarettes

The Minister of National Revenue tabled a return in the House of Commons recently which should have made him blush, and make the Minister of Finance (whose budget levies taxes) squirm. Seizures of American cigarettes in Canada totalled 30,367,648. More than a thousand smugglers of the weeds were brought into courts and fined a total of $126,845.

The reason the two cabinet ministers should be discomposed is that these 1,035 known and judged law-breakers and the thirty million cigarettes are factual evidence that the high tax on cigarettes is an incitement to crime. "In Canada there is a tradition that the easiest exorbitant taxes to impose are on things judged slightly wicked in the narrowest puritanical circles: betting, smoking, drinking. (Not even Canadian cabinet ministers have yet devised a way to tax sex.) Taxes on these items which pander to the flesh thus assume an air of morality. How moral is a tax which induces 1,035 Canadians to break the law, and a hundred thousand other smuggles who have not been caught?

Musical Notes

By PETER PIPER

WITH CHRISTMAS DAY almost here the mind naturally starts thinking of carols. It is a curious thing that many of our best-known carols are set to tunes that originally had nothing whatsoever to do with the words with which they are commonly associated today. One of these is "Good King Wenceslas". This tune comes from an interesting collection of hymns and carols called Piae Cantiones (Pious Songs), which appeared first in 1582. It was compiled by Theodoricus Petrus of Nyland in Finland, when he was a student at the famous old German university of Rostock, near Luebeck. The songs spread in the reformed Church of Sweden and Finland, but the book itself became very rare. In 1852 the British Minister in Stockholm acquired Peter of Nyland's own copy, which was probably the only surviving copy, and brought it over with him to England, where he presented it to Dr. J. M. Neale, the translator of many ancient hymns. Neale and others made fairly extensive use of it, and the original copy now rests in the British Museum. One of the melodies appears with the Latin words of a spring-time carol, "Tempus adest floridum", which appears in the Oxford Book of Carols in a free translation as "Spring has now unwrapped the flowers". Neale was attracted to the spontaneous charm of the melody, but rejected the original words as a basis for translation, probably because the idea of singing carols at any other season than Christmas had scarcely come into vogue. He therefore wrote a new lyric for it telling of an apocryphal incident in the life of one of the many kings of Bohemia that went by the name of Wenceslas. Most critics are agreed that this was not Neale's happiest inspiration; in fact, it might almost be called a classic example of doggerel. But critics and public do not always see eye to eye, and this effusion which Neale wrote in 1853 soon became, thanks largely to its inclusion in Stainer and Bramley's collection, one of the most popular Christmas carols of the English-speaking world.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANOTHER TUNE WITH a somewhat chequered history is the famous Greensleeves. There is strong internal evidence to show that it was originally written on one of the ground basses that were such a prominent feature in the early baroque style, and the Passamezzo Antico bass fits it perfectly with one or two minor adjustments. This bass originated in Italy, but the melody of Greensleeves may be of English origin. The words are an obscure mixture of erotic references and may contain a veiled satire on the Roman Catholic religion. In Shakespeare's day Greensleeves was popularly associated with the most disreputable places of entertainment in Elizabethan England, and as might be expected there are numerous references to it in his plays. Yet from an early date (1642) this tune was used as a New Year carol, "The old year now away is fled". In the nineteenth century these words were either forgotten or disregarded and a new set of words commencing "What child is this?" was substituted. Of more recent years Greensleeves has acquired a new lease of life in instrumental music, appearing in Holst's "St. Paul's Suite" in conjunction with a very lively jig tune and also in an orchestral version by Vaughan Williams from his opera "Sir John in Love". Vaughan Williams' arrangement, though charming, violates the spirit of the melody by flattening the leading note in the fourth bar and giving it a pseudo-folky romantic physiognomy.

✧ ✧ ✧

THERE is a beautiful French carol entitled "Quelle est cette odeur agreable". This air was used by Dr. Pepusch to the words of John Gay in the Beggars' Opera in 1728 and it was in this guise, as a drinking song ("fill ev'ry glass, for wine inspires us") that it found its way into many songbooks. Efforts have been made of recent years to reclaim it as a carol, A translation of the original French words starting "Whence is this goodly fragrance" follows the sense of the original fairly closely without going anywhere near matching its simple elegance of diction. Less successful is a poem of five stanzas of unbelievable flatness by Sir Steuart Wilson which is married to this lovely tune in the Oxford Book of Carols.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANOTHER TUNE, this time the authentic melody of an ancient and very popular English carol that goes back to at least the fifteenth century, "The Seven Joys of Mary", has been used for other purposes. Lovers of nursery rhymes may recognize it (slightly altered) as the melody of "Three little kittens they lost their mittens", and I personally remember hearing the refrain sung to the not too edifying words,

"We've got no work to do-o-o,
We've got no baccy to chew-ew-ew,
So here we are, poor working men,
We've got no baccy to chew."

✧ ✧ ✧

ONE MORE example of the use of a carol tune for a nursery rhyme is the melody of "As I sat on a sunny bank" (or according to another version "I saw three ships come sailing by"), which is used for "Here we come gathering nuts in May".

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS INTERMINGLING of sacred and secular is typical of the carol. It is in keeping with this that vestiges of pre-Christian ideas such as the Holly and the Ivy, half-forgotten legends such as the Holy Thorn of Glastonbury or the Great Dog of Lamport and other obscure references are found grafted on to the simple Christmas story. The homely touches, too, aren ot absent: "And farewell, Joseph, with thy round cap", from an old Medieval carol, is typical of the earthy realism of the true carol. It is traits such as these that serve to distinguish a real carol from those dreadful sanctimonious affairs masquerading as carols. Canon Percy Dearmer, self-opinionated and wrong-headed as he often was, hit the nail on the head when he said: "Perhaps nothing is just now of such importance as to increase the element of joy in religion; people crowd in our churches at the Christmas, Easter and Harvest Festivals, largely because the hymns for those occasions are full of a sound hilarity; if carol-books were in continual use, that most Christian and most forgotten element would be vastly increased in some of its loveliest forms, all through the year".

TRY AGAIN

"Father says will you lend him your garden roller?" said the small boy.

"Haven't you forgotten something my boy?" said the very polite old gentleman.

"Oh, yes," was the blithe reply.

"Father said, 'If the old blighter refuses, try next door'."

Christmas Lore From Britain

(U.K. Information Office)

HOLY NIGHT WEATHER: Country people in Britain still watch the sky on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day for signs of a change in the weather, for there is an ancient belief that the weather at this time is a strong portend for that to come throughout the year. "Wise and cunning masters of astrology," we are told, "have found that a man may see and mark for the weather of Holy Night how the whole year after shall be" When Christmas night was clear and starry, it was taken that the year's crop of fruit and wine would be a plentiful one. On the other hand, if Christmas night was foul and windy, the year to come would be "very scant of wine and fruit". But if the wind arose at the rising of the sun then "it betoketh great dearth of cattle and beasts this year". And if the wind arose at sunset "it signifies death to some among the kings and great lords".

✧ ✧ ✧

A-THOMASSING WE WILL GO: A saint's day formerly associated with Christmas was St. Thomas' Day, December 21st. The saint had no association with the festival, but the day itself is the Winter Solstice, and a Staffordshire rhyme calls it

St. Thomas Grey, St. Thomas Grey
Longest night and shortest day.

Until quite recently women went "a-Thomassing" or "a-gooding," going from house to house to collect wheat with which to make a Christmas batch of cakes and bread. The usual contribution from each householder was a pint or a quart of wheat, which was taken to the miller to be ground into flour without charge. In return for these gifts the donor received a sprig of holly or mistletoe. Thomassing or "curning", as it was called in Cheshire, was kept up until well within living memory.

✧ ✧ ✧

BOAR'S HEAD FEAST: Some 500 years ago, so the story goes, an Oxford University student was studying Aristotle while taking a walk, when he was attacked by a wild boar. He camly despatched the brute by thrusting the volume down its throat. His feat is commemorated annually at Queen's College by the Boar's Head Feast on Christmas Day. Although the 90-pound specimen under whose weight two attendants used to stagger is today replaced by a papier mache model, the spirit of the ceremony remains unchanged. As the choir sings the last notes of a traditional carol, the head is placed on the table of the Provost, the Principal of the College. The Provost then presents the ornaments and embellishments one by one to the choirboys and visitors, the solo singer receiving the orange.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE "MILLY-BOX": Carolling Yorkshire children still carry a "milly-box", lined with sugar and oranges and containing two small figures. This custom dates back to ancient times when figures of Our Lady and the Holy Child were carried in procession by carol-singers in the Northern Counties of England. The word "milly" is a corruption of My Lady. In some parts of Yorkshire the box is called a "bessel cup" and the children "go a-wassailling".

✧ ✧ ✧

THE DEVIL'S KNELL: Seven hundred years ago in the English town of Dewsbury, in Yorkshire, a boy was murdered and his body thrown in a nearby stream. The crime was discovered and the murderer, a rich man named Thomas de Soothill, presented as a penance a tenor bell to Dewsbury Church. The bell became known as the Devil's Knell and every Christmas eve it is tolled once for each year of the Christmas calendar.

✧ ✧ ✧

ORIGIN OF CHRISTMAS PUDDING: Christmas puddngs as we know them were not eaten until about 1670, and first appeared as a stiffened form of the earlier plum porridge. This was a concoction of meat-broth, raisins, wine, fruit-juice and spices, the whole thickened with brown bread and served in a semi-liquid state at the beginning of the meal. Mince pies were well known by the end of the sixteenth century and contained mutton or neats' tonges, chicken and eggs, as well as the usual fruit and spice. Turkey appeared on Christmas tables about 1542 and gradually superseded the more magnificent dishes of our ancestors—swans, bustards, and peacocks dressed in their feathers and with gilded beaks.

✧ ✧ ✧

SERPENTINE RACE: The 89th annual 100 yards race for the Peter Pan Swimming Cup will be held on the morning of Christmas Day in the Serpentine lake in London's Hyde Park. Should the lake be frozen, the ice will be broken to enable the swimmers to take part. The hardy competitors are all members of the Serpentine Swimming Club.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE "CAPTAIN'S ROUNDS": The Royal Navy tries to assure that as many as possible of its ships are in harbour on Christmas Day. For the unlucky ones on patrol or on passage—and there are a good many this year in Korea and elsewhere in the Far East—the best that can be expected is "Sunday routine", with work reduced to a minimum. Festivities have to wait till harbour is reached. For the Navy in harbour, the big event of the day is "Captain's Rounds", when the Commanding Officer of each ship, attended by his officers, goes the round of the whole ship, greeting his men and being offered hospitality by them on each of the gaily decorated mess decks. He is preceded by the youngest boy in the ship, dressed in the uniform of the ship's senior petty officer, the Master at Arms (or Police Chief of the ship). Men are allowed to wear improvised fancy dress on that day and may even "impersonate" the captain. The youngest boy has his hour of glory again on New Year's Eve when he "rings out the Old and rings in the New"—with 16 bells instead of the traditional eight which mark the end of a four-hour period at sea.

✧ ✧ ✧

LIGHTS GO ON AGAIN AT 'THE OLD GEORGE': Among many famous buildings in London which were destroyed or damaged by bombs in 1940 was the George Inn in the Strand. In the 18th century it was a famous coffee house, and its most illustrious patrons were Dr. Johnson, James Boswell and Oliver Goldsmith. The inn has now been restored and Christmas fare will again be served this year at "The Old George", as it is fondly called.

✧ ✧ ✧

ORCHIDS FROM BRITAIN: Christmas floral decorations in many lands will include "Bow Bells' and other famous varieties of orchids bred by Mr. Peter Black at the nursery of Black and Flory at Slough, England. The blooms will travel by air from Britain.

✧ ✧ ✧

LEGEND OF ST. FILLIAN'S STONES: At Killin, Perthshire, Scotland, the villagers pull rushes each Christmas from a nearby stream to make a resting-place for a number of stones taken from the gables of an ancient corn-mill. They are not ordinary stones, for the villagers believe that they were used centuries ago by their patron saint, St. Fillian, to cure ague, sprains, and other ailments and injuries.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE PACE-EGG PLAY: Every year in scattered villages in the North of England, shepherds, farm hands and others perform the ancient Pace-egg or Mumming Play at Christmas. With blackened faces and fancy clothes, they repeat the words handed down for centuries. Chief actors are King (or Saint) George, a quack doctor and Father Christmas. In the play, the King slays his enemies one by one, but each in turn is resurrected by the doctor. One of the oldest of the "mumming" troupes is that at Alderley Edge, bordering on Cheshire and Derbyshire.

Letters To The Editor

DEFENDS CAROLLERS

Sir: In answer to "One Citizen" I have this much to say, that in the first place if a few more people would have just a little bit of Christmas Spirit it would do a world of good instead of running down Carol Singers under the direction of a well-mannered and well taught supervisor.

This group of singers do not bawl out a song or carol but are taught to sing in the correct manner which is something more than some people would take the trouble to do.

I would like to add that these so-called old costumes were made new at the High School for this purpose only.

These age-old carols have been sung for many a year even in our churches and I have yet to hear of any complaints to them.

AN EX-CHOIR MEMBER

CHRISTMAS OPINION FROM A READER

Sir: If ever an article made me mad, it was yours in last Tuesday's paper. In your article about Suchan and Jackson you say they were gangsters and murderers. They may have been both gangsters but Jackson was no murderer. Yet he was murdered by the law for a crime he did not commit. The reason why the sob-sisters and sentimental critics, as you call them, sent their petitions and telegrams, was because there are some people in this world who like to stand up for the underdog. The way these men made a fool out of the law brought them many admirers.

A few months ago a Toronto cop shot and killed a young boy as he climbed over a fence. That cop was let off, yet he was more guilty of murder than Jackson was. There seems to be two laws in this country; one for the police and one for the public.

The way society rid itself of Suchan and Jackson was not very nice. These men were led to believe they were not to die until 8 a.m. Tuesday, yet at midnight they were taken, not allowed to make any statement like any other condemned men, then they were hanged. Their bodies were left hanging for an hour. Was this a plan of the police to make them suffer a little more for killing a policeman? The Bible says an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, but when you shoot a policeman the law demands twice the payment. Dr. Lawson should be congratulated for his statement: "they did a good job." meaning the hangman. Lawson should be working in a slaughter house.

It is too bad to make you sick, but you are not near as sick as I am when I think I am such a damn fool as to pay 35 cents a week to read such trash as you print in your daily rag. In my opinion your paper is only fit to wipe your backside with, and not too good for that.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Then came the word of the Lord by Haggai the prophet, saying, Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your cieled houses, and this house lie waste? . . .

Thus said the Lord of hosts; Consider your ways. Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord. (Hag. 1: 3, 4, 7, 8.)

Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Josedech, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and work: for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts: according to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, so my spirit remaineth among you: fear ye not.

For thus saith the Lord of hosts; Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land; and I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts . . .

The glory of this latter house shall be greater than the former, saith the Lord of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the Lord of hosts. (Hag. 2: 4-7, 9.)

✧ ✧ ✧

There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the most High. God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved; God shall help her, and that right early . . .

Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth. (Ps. 46: 4, 5, 10.)

EXPLAINED

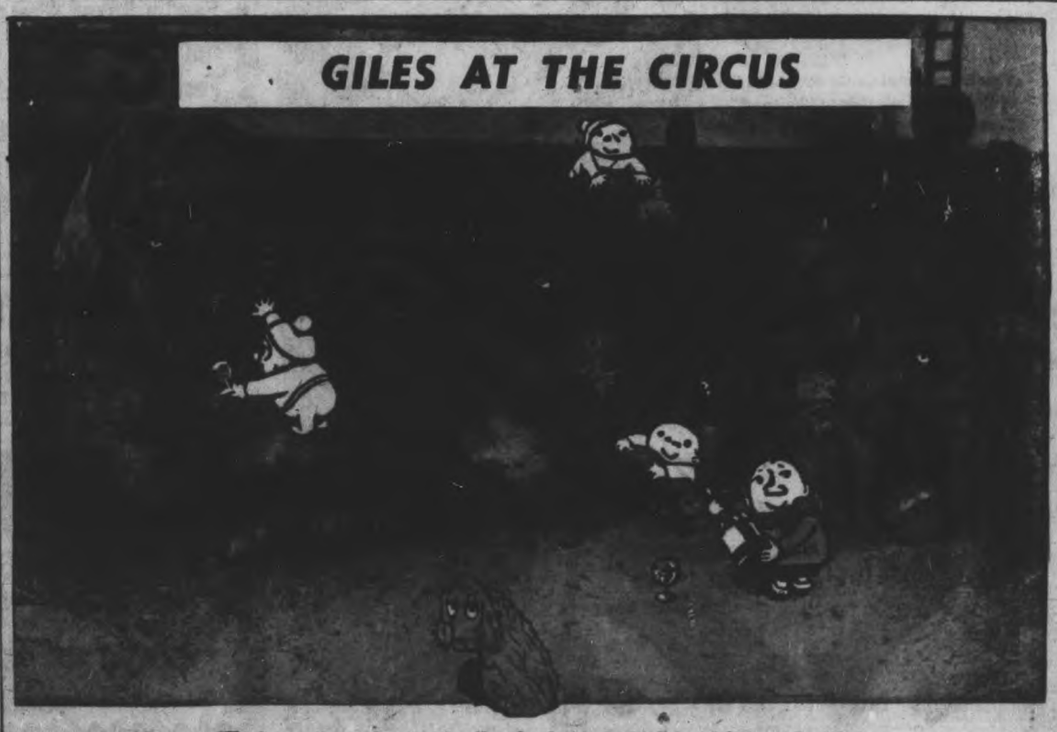
The meaning of the world "collision" was being explained by the teacher of the class of small boys and girls.

"A collision," she said, "is when two things come together unexpectedly."

Immediately a small boy jumped up and said: "Please, teacher we've had a collision at our house.

"Whatever do you mean?"

"Well, mother's just had twins."



"You're very naughty to give the elephants Daddy's last bottle of Scotch."

Surgeon Finds Fountain Of Life For Old Dogs

VIENNA (Reuters) — Dr. Freidrich Kubasta, a veterinary surgeon, claims he has found a "fountain of life" for dogs.

Kubasta said Sunday he had developed his rejuvenating serum working on the basis of the "long life" serum ACS (antireticular cytotoxic serum) for humans, discovered by the late Russian scientist Alexander Bogomoletz.

He used it on several breeds of dogs, ridding them of all signs of old age. All the dogs had been carefully watched and months after the cure there was no sign of old age returning.

In one case a 12-year-old dog, suffering from failing sight, lack of energy and bad temper, recovered after seven weeks' treatment with the serum. It regaind its sight, was lively and good tempered and lost the grey hairs around its muzzle.

Kubasta, who is in his late 30s, carried out his research work in his own dispensary or in the laboratory of a friend who has more apparatus.

The serum has been created especially for dogs. It does not matter what breed they are so long as they are dogs. The principles of which the serum is made, Kubasta said, could be applied equally well to any special race of animals. When he has perfected his work on canines he hopes to experiment on serums for other animals.

Kubasta said his treatment restored the elasticity of tissues which bind the muscles and helped the functioning of the glands. The treatment was not merely a temporary stimulation of the animals' functions, he added. He declined to give other details.

REFUSES TO TESTIFY — Raoul Provost, 40-year-old convict serving 15 years at Stony Mountain, Man., for armed robbery, has been given an additional seven-year term for contempt of ccurt in a Montreal hearing. Provost was sentenced for refusing to testify fer three consecutive days at Montreal's vice inquiry. He was returned to Stony Mountain but was told he may be called again when the inquiry resumed Jan. 12.

Closing Ranks Achievement For UN–Martin

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (CP) Health Minister Paul Martin of Canada said today the "great achievement" of the United Nations assembly this year was in "closing the ranks among the free nations and the complete isolation of Soviet Russia and its satellites" on the Korean question.

The head of Canada's delegation to the assembly's seventh session was referring in a statement released here to the vote of 54 to 5 with which the assembly approved an Indian peace plan for Korea.

Despite the East-West split, Martin said, there is some encouragement to be drawn from the fact the two sides are still "talking things out" at the UN.

STILL BEST CHANCE

"I am conviced that the UN still represents mankind's best chance of finding peace and security in a troubled world and that during the last 2½ months, very real and substantial progress has been made toward achieving the high objectives we had set."

The session had particular significance for Canada, Martin added. Throughout, Canada has spoken with a voice of its own.

The fact that L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister, was assembly president, "increased the stature of Canada's representation at the United Nations in the eyes of the world."

The Canadian delegation had endorsed the policy of "facing squarely a number of vital issues previous assemblies tended to regard as being outside the competence of the organization."

Martin referred here apparently to the question of independence in Tunisia and Morocco and racial conflict in South Africa.

"Canada has played its part in strengthening the unity of the Commonwealth nations while reserving its right to act freely within the dictates of its own conscience."

NEW STAMP — A Pacific Coast Indian house and totem pole form the design for this new $1 stamp to be issued by the post office department on February 2. The black stamp wil be printed in a vertical position, a change from the normal horizontal layout of Canada's high-denomination stamps. It was designed by Emanuel Hahn, a Toronto sculptor.

Coldsprings Native Honored For Youth Work In Boston

COLDSPRINGS (ENS).—Great honor came recently to an old boy of Coldsprings and the Cobourg Colegiate Institute, who has been making his home for many years in Boston, Massachusetts.

Archibald C. Eagleson, who marked his 80th birthday last September, was awarded a citation from the United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston for "devotion to duty that transcends community pride; for courage and determination in the face of obstacles; for steadfastness of purpose toward reaching the goal of helping others; for outstanding leadership he truly deserves, and is hereby extended the sincere thanks and highest commendation by the people of Metropolitan Boston."

Mr. Eagleson, on whom the citizens of Coldsprings can look with pride as a native son, was born on Rose Hill, a mile east of Coldsprings, on September 17, 1872, and can look back on a memorable career in the field of community service.

This octogenarian, after graduating from Cobourg Collegiate Institute, attended Springfield YM CA College, graduating in 1896. Mr. Eagleson, incidentally, is the sole survivor of the Class of 1896, and is looking forward to report at the college in 1956 to celebrate the 60th aniversary of his graduation.

He was secretary of the Boston YMCA for 35 years and was retired in May, 1946. Since 1935 he has been active in the Greater Boston Community Fund, and is still a solicitor for funds at this time. He assists in raising funds for more than 300 institutions, including numerous hospitals, settlement houses, Boy and Girl Scouts, YMCA and YWCA.

"I am inclined to think that the ranks of my contemporaries in Hamilton Township are thinning out," Mr. Eagleson stated in a recent letter, "but those who are fortunate to remain may be interested to learn that this old-timer is still alert."

Savage Storm Batters Ship

VANCOUVER (CP) — On the day she was scheduled to arrive in Vancouver, the freighter Maplecove still battles a savage storm far out in the Pacific.

Winds continuing unabated at 60 miles an hour or more slammed at the freighter today as she wallowed 1,200 miles off the coast with a broken rudder.

The weather office said the 10,000-ton Canadian Pacific Steamships freighter will be in the storm "for quite a while yet."

Last reports placed the ocean tug Island Sovereign about 500 miles from the crippled vessel. The Island Sovereign is expected to reach the Maplecove late Tuesday or early Wednesday and shortly after begin the long tow back to Vancouver.

The Maplecove's rudder broke Thursday. It snapped again Saturday after temporary repairs enabled the vessel to navigate 60 miles closer to home on her return voyage from the Orient.

Coldsprings WI Plans January Activities

COLDSPRINGS (ENS) — The Christmas meeting of the Coldsprings Women's Institute was held on Friday afternoon in the hall. The president, Mrs. K. Harper, presided, and there were 30 members present.

During the business, Mrs. N. Timlin, and Mrs. J. Gordon, were named a committee to inquire if WI can cater at the 1953 plowing match. The majority at the meeting were in favor of having another bazaar next year.

At the executive meeting in January plans will be made if card parties and dances are to be continued. Final arrangements were made for the Yultide dance being held on Monday. The teachers of Coldsprings, Camborne and Glourourim schools are to be sent greeting cards in appreciation of leaving the Christmas decorations and tree up for the WI meeting and dance.

A pot luck supper was planned for Saturday night, January 31, when the members will entertain their families, the husbands to answer the roll call. Mrs. Hilton Minifie was convener of the following program: The topic "A Christmas Meditation," was given by Mrs. M. Dines; Mrs. A. Willis sang a solo and Miss Edith Hoskin, historical research convener, gave a few thoughts on "Christmas—the Holy Day." Lunch was served by Mrs. Minifie and group.

Oilmen Swamp Marines 77-57 In Final Splurge Debben Gets 18 Points

Oilmen continued on their merry way along the victory trail Saturday night in the men's city basketball league by whipping the Marines 77-57. This was the third straight win for the Oilmen who were led by Hugh Dibben, Doug Galvin and Gord Burns to their second victory over the second-place Marines.

GETS RELEASE—Bob Thorpe has been released by Buffalo of the American Hockey League in order that he may play amateur hockey for the Petes. If no other pro club claims him, it is expected that President Clarence Campbell of the NHL will clear him through the CAHA so that his amateur status may be restored. Thorpe lives here now and last summer coached the Timbermen to the Mann Cup.

Capitalizing on foul shots, Paul Frise sank seven points in the first quarter to give the Marines the lead 14-0. But the Oilmen, sparked by Dibben, Galvin and Vern Butcher, whittled that lead away and took the lead in the second quarter.

Dibben dropped 10 points through the hoop while teammates Galvin had seven and Butcher five in the 28-point quarter for a 37-29 score, this time in the Oilmen's favor. Again Frise was the Marines' top man with five points.

FOUGHT BACK

But the Marines fought back in the third quarter to hold the Oilmen to a 11-all quarter score and a 48-40 third quarter score. Both teams passed the ball around well to distribute the scoring fairly well.

The roof caved in on the Marines in the fourth quarter. The Oilmen, led by Burns and Galvin who went on 10 and nine-point scoring sprees, continually hit the hoop for a 29-point total and the game margin. Bill Edger had his best quarter with nine points, more than half of the Marines' points in the final quarter.

Hugh Dibben topped all the scorers with 18 points. But teammates, Galvin and Burns were close behind with 17 and 16 points respectively. Terry Brown was high for the Marines with 15 points, Paul Frise and Bill Edger each had 14.

Lineups:

Oilmen (77) — Dibben 18, Butcher 12, McPherson 5, Burns 16, Galvin 17, Ryan 5.

Marines (57)—Edger 14, Cranfield 3, Kidd 10, Frise 14,, Brown 15, Gillespie 1.

A LETTER TO ALL PARENTS

Dear Parents:

Owing to the interest shown by your many inquiries, the Civic Arena has made available a "Special Season's Ticket" for "Children's Skating on Saturday Afternoon" at a considerable saving to YOU.

This Season's Ticket would make an ideal Christmas Gift, and one which would provide your children with pleasant, healthy, supervised exercise.

Special consideration has been given to Tiny Tots and beginners by having an area roped off for their protection.

Music is also provided for these Saturday afternoon skating parties.

Normally 16 periods, on Saturday afternoons, would cost you $4.00. This Season's Ticket may be procured for only $2.50.

Secure your child's ticket as soon as possible so that you may take advantage of this saving. You can purchase them either at the "Civic Arena" or Tem Ticket Agency on George Street.

Yours very truly,

2 Aged Horses Provide Heavy Betting

By JACK BEST
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX (CP)—A couple of aged harness horses carried on a running feud over three Maritimes tracks this season and provoked some of the heaviest betting in years.

When Lucky Chief from Cape Breton and Iola Henley from Truro met again at Truro after skirmishes in Charlottetown and Sydney, about $4,000 was wagered on one race. One bettor lost $250 on the first heat and won it back on the same horse in the second heat.

The figures are small compared with the big running horse tracks in Eastern Canada, but an official in the provincial secretary's department indicated that government receipts from harness tracks in Nova Scotia this year will set a record.

RACE UNDER LIGHTS

This is the first full season the 10 per cent government rake-off at the pari-mutuels has been in effect. Previously the government tax was five per cent.

Harness racing holds sway in the Maritimes and the big tracks are affiliated with the United States Trotting Association. Night racing has caught on in a big way, and four tracks have lights, at Truro, Sydney, Charlottetown and Woodstock, N. B.

L. F. Bickerton, president of the Truro Raceways, reported that $60,000 was paid out in purses at Truro, "the highest of any Maritime track."

He said wagers totalled $360,000 an increase of about $15.000 over last year, in the 34 night and five daytime meets held at this track. Crowds averaged about 1,000 per program.

BOOM AT SAINT JOHN

Saint John had one of its busiest racing seasons in years. Average attendance during 19 programs was 1,200 and the average wager per person was $10. Highest single bet was $100, highest payoff was $109.60 each on three $2 win tickets, and purses amounted to $20,382

Racing started late and will continue through the winter in Halifax, where there has been no fenced-in track since the federal government took over the exhibition grounds during th war. Racing enthusiasts wait until baseball and children's playtime activities are finished for the year before moving onto the Halifax Common.

Stewart Sent To Quebec Aces

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens announced Saturday that Gaye Stewart, acquired by waiver 10 days ago from New York Rangers, has been sent to Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League on loan.

The loan is for the remainder of the season but Stewart will be subject to immediate recall.

Stewart, 29-year-old left-winger who hails originally from Fort William has been in the NHL since the 1941-42 season and has played with all NHL clubs except Boston Bruins.

The announcement said the move is to help strengthen the Aces, currently in sixth place in the QSHL, and also to help Stewart, who has not been playing regularly this season, to regain condition, confidence and timing.

There was no hint that the move has any connection with the three-game, lend-lease stretch the Aces' star, Jean Beliveau, is serving with the Canadiens. In his first game, against Rangers Thursday night, Beliveau more than lived up to expectations by firing three goals. He tallied two more against Boston Sunday night.

Musial Leading Batter For '52

NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Musial officially is recognized as the National League's leading batter for 1952. It was the third straight year the 32-year-old St. Louis Cardinals' slugger captured the batting championship.

The official statistics released by the National League Saturday show Musial won the crown for the sixth time in his 10-year career with a .336 mark. He also paced the senior loop in 1943, '46 and '48. The Cardinals' stalwart also led in hits with 194, in doubles with 42 and with teammate Solly Hemus was tied for the most runs scored, each with 105.

Runner-up to Musial in batting was Frankie Baumholtz of Chicago with .325. Next came Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati, .320, and Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn .308.

Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, despite a disappointing season, established a National League record by coming out on top in home runs for the seventh straight year. He tied Hank Sauer of Chicago, the league's most valuable player, with 37 circuit wallops apiece. Sauer also took runs batted in honors with 121.

F. P. Callahan Dies

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—Frank P. Callahan, 47, a member of the board of governors of the United States Amateur Athletic Union, died Sunday. He had suffered a cerebral haemorrhage Saturday.

Callahan had been an AAU governor for 22 years. From 1941 to 1951, he was chairman of the group's industrial committee.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Ah, yes, Christmas week, and mighty hard to settle down to work. Winding up the annual shopping spree and beginning to breath freer at the prospect of keeping a step ahead of the bailiff once more. No sports going on here this week, the hockeyists and cagers resting over the holiday. Maybe a few turkey rolls by the bowlers and a touch of curling, but no spectator sports to worry about for a space. That's good, as there'll be plenty doing when the festivities cease. A fine feeling in the air these days, it being the one week in 52 when folks all appear carefree, happy and generous. It doesn't last long, so let's enjoy it while it lasts, eh?

* * * * * *

One should even be generous to referees at this time. We note a piece in Mike Rodden's Kingston column on refs. Says he: "Basically, hockey is a sport and should be waged fairly and scientifically. It is strenuous enough with heavy but legal bodychecking, a great leveller without having to resort to obnoxious high-sticking and interference. Illegal tactics employed to handicap the stars do the sport no worth while service and make a mockery of skillful competition. The fault for failure does not rest wholly with referees, especially those who toil in so-called amateur leagues for woefully small stipends. Arbiters in the NHL are richly rewarded and could earn part of their salaries by setting examples that others would probably follow."

* * * * * *

Alas, Poor Ref Larry

Mike adds this sly note: "Some referees of course do get few breaks, and in variance with this attitude it may be said that in commenting about Belleville's 8-6 victory over the Petes a week or so back, George Carver opined that it was 'no pink tea affair, but Referee Leo Herferman kept them well in check.' Never having heard of Referee Leo Herferman, this observer made a hurried investigation and discovered that the official in the Peterborough game was none other than Larry Heffering. This knight of the whistle is rather well known, but, unfortunately, he was saddled with an alias on one of the few occasions in which he is likely to satisfy the majority of paying customers and also the visitors. Fame is fleeting."

* * * * * *

Baz Phelan of the Petes received word Saturday from the Buffalo AHL club that the Petes could have Bob Thorpe without any charge if he is cleared through the central registry for pro puckists, presided over by President Clarence Campbell of the NHL. This paves the way for Thorpe's return to amateur ranks, provided no other club refuses to waive on him. Anyway, the machinery for his return has been set in motion and we hope to see Bob out there with the Petes ere long in OHA senior "B" competition. The locals went well in Belleville last game, despite that close one they dropped. Doug Hunter turned in his best effort so far on the attack. The club would also like to get the speedy and colorful Bill Crowley out yet, but Bill may go TVL with Norwood.

* * * * * *

Minors Still Playing

While the local junior Oddfellows are idle this week, half a dozen PMHA tussles are listed for tonight, moved ahead from Thursday. They go like this at Civic Arena, commencing at five: Bantam Shamrocks vs. Trojans, Swartz vs. bantam Aces, Norwood vs. midget Aces, Marines vs. juvenile Aces, midget Shamrocks vs. Otonabee Wolves, and Havelock vs. the juvenile Shamrocks. Next set of games in the minor organization are slated for Dec. 31, but they may be moved up since that's New Year's Eve. Schedules only have another month to go ere it's playoff time for the boys.

* * * * * *

After scoring five goals in his three-game NHL stint with Montreal Canadiens, Jean Marc Beliveau has returned to Quebec Aces where he makes $15,500 a year through his puck salary, an arena bonus and a publicity job. The big fellow pumped in three tallies for Canadiens against Rangers, was held scoreless next night by the Bruins—despite some dangerous rushes—and then fired in two goals in Boston yesterday as the Montrealers won 4-3 before the best crowd of the season there. A terrific drawing card, Beliveau will be missed in the NHL, but he keeps refusing to sign up with the Canadiens. Latter are afraid to exert too much pressure due to Beliveau's big French-Canadian following and to some powerful pro-Beliveau politicians in that province. Some fun—for Jean, huh?

* * * * * *

Down Sports' Rialto

Stouffville beat Belleville 6-3 as Orillia dumped Kingston 11-6 in recent senior "B" hockey jousts....Oshawa still leads the pack with 18 points, one more than Stouffville, and two ahead of the K's; it's Belleville, Orillia and Petes then in that order....Junior standing has Belleville, IOOF, Kingston, Oshawa, Lindsay and Cobourg ....Pat Wilson's Stratford Indians are leading the senior "A" race ....Chicago Hawks are drawing much better NHL crowds than they did a year ago, topping 16,000 one tilt at home this month....Gaye Stewart has been sent down to Quebec Aces for the time being .... No pro wrestling here this week or next, owing to the holiday season ....They have amateur wrestling classes on the sports curriculum at Western University....Doug MacPherson's cage Oilmen trimmed Marines 77-57 in a wide-open fixture at the "Y" on Saturday eve.... Haven't seen a copy yet of their winter's schedule...."Horses on the Petawawa payroll, huh?" a young veteran remarked the other day; "that's nothing—they used to work us like horses there in my time!"

Clippers Down Belleville 6-3 One Point Back

STOUFFVILLE—Stouffville Clippers moved to a position only one point behind the two league-leaders when they defeated Belleville Hawks, 6-3, in an OHA Senior B game here Saturday night. Oshawa and Kingston are tied for first place.

Belleville managed to hold Stouffville to a 2-2 tie in the first period but a 2-1 margin in the second put the Clippers ahead.

George Stark, right-winger for the Clippers, played one of his best games to count one goal and two assists. Other Stouffville goals came from the sticks of Hal Gibson, Nick Bangay, Gord Lewis, Ron Bell and Frank Stephenson.

Bob Wardhaugh, Red Jones and Jack Goyer scored for Belleville.

Goal Tony Parisi of Belleville was handed a major penalty for his part in a stick-swinging duel with Ron Bell of Stouffville, in the second period. The sentence was served by a teammate.

Kroll-Worsham Take Golt Tilt

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Ted Kroll and Lew Worsham rode Kroll's magic putter to a 3-and-1 victory over Cary Middlecoff and Skip Alexander in a tense duel Sunday for the championship of the $13,000 international four-ball golf tournament.

Kroll, the 34-year-old New Hartford, N.Y., war veteran, broke up the tough 35-hole battle with a sensational performance on the greens in the homestretch to clinch the $3,400 top prize for himself and his chunky teammate from Oakmont, Pa.

He climaxed a terrific day's work by dropping a 40-foot chip shot from the fringe of the 35th green to close the door for the hard-scrambling Middlecoff, No. 2 golf winner of 1952, and his partner from St. Petersburg, Fla.

The two Canadians participating in the tournament, Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon, were eliminated Saturday 1-up by Willie Klein and Al Brosch in the quarter-finals.

Klein and Brosch then were eliminated 5 and 4 by Middlecoff and Alexander in the semi-finals while Kroll and Worsham rode into the finals by beating Jim Turnesa and Dave Douglas 3 and 2.
